"We learn through the same source that the majority of the shares of the Ontario and St. Lawrence Navigation Company were transferred through Col. C. L. Stowell of Rochester to Mr. Duncan McIntyre and his associates of the Canadian Pacific pool, and that Col. Stowell will hereafter be identified and allied with that organization, and thus the people of Rochester and Western New York obtain what they so long desired, a south shore line of steamers. This huge deal was consummated nine months ago, when there was inaugurated the most important railway and steamship transaction of many years. Through it the control of the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg and New York, Ontario and Western railway companies passed to the Canadian Pacific pool, thereby verifying the reports made last spring.

"It gives the Canadian Pacific a New York outlet, which it has long desired, and explains certain late purchases and acts of the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg company, and may in the near future include other railway lines."

A reporter yesterday called on Mr. Henry Beatty, manager of the lake traffic business of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and showed him the above. Mr. Beatty said that as far as the Canadian Pacific Company was concerned, there was nothing in it. Mr. Beatty, however, informed the reporter that he understood that a scheme had been afoot in Montreal by several capitalists with a view of organizing a company, which would put in commission a line of first-class steamers between Montreal and Toronto, but he did not think that the company had ever been formed. He had received a letter and had also been called upon by a popular Montreal gentleman who had had extensive intercourse with summer tourists via the St. Lawrence route, and he furnished the Montrealer with information as to equipment and cost of first-class steamers on such a route.

"Do you think such a line would pay?" Mr. Beatty was asked.

"To my opinion it would, that is if the fleet were of proper construction and speed. Good time would have to be made, and two classes of boats would, in my opinion, be required. Boats running on Lake Ontario would have to be roomy and speedy. At Ogdensburg or some other point the passengers would be transferred to boats built specially for the river, the rapids and the canals. The latter part of the journey, to make it popular, would of course have to be made during daylight, so that the tourist would get the full benefit of the magnificent scenery on the St. Lawrence."

Prominent hotel men both in Montreal and Toronto would be delighted with a first-class lake and river fleet between Toronto and Montreal. The boats of the Ontario and Richelieu Company are back numbers to the summer tourists who patronize them, and with such a class of boats as described above there is no doubt the Old St. Lawrence and its rapids would be the most popular route on the American continent. To Toronto and Montreal hotel men it would be a perfect bonanza, as well as to the owners of the steamers that ply between the Queen City and Niagara.

The Rumors Investigated at Kingston.

KINGSTON, Jan. 4.—The Whig says that one of its reporters investigated the article printed in The Ogdensburg News with this result: "Several persons in this city who would be interested in the scheme were called upon, and they all laughed at the gossip. They attribute the rumors to Americans who are seeking offers for themselves."

The Smallest Rate.

There is but one efficient way
To publish "WANTS" from day to day,
And that is through the REVIEW indeed,
That finds for every want and need
A prompt return and quick reply,
That never fails to satisfy
And what is more its well to state
At very far from largest rate.

COUNTESS NARONA.

By WILKIE COLLINS.

THE FOURTH PART.

"My form sentence. The baron wastes no time in useless discussion. 'Let us by all means,' he says, 'consider the marriage as broken off.' My lord shifts his ground, and pleads for a smaller sum than the sum proposed. The baron briefly replies, 'I never bargain.' My lord is in love; the natural result follows—he gives way.

"So far, the baron has no cause to complain. But my lord's turn comes, when the marriage has been celebrated, and when the honeymoon is over. The baron has joined the married pair at a palace which they have hired in Venice. He is still bent on solving the problem of the 'Philosopher's Stone.' His laboratory is set up in the vaults beneath the palace—so that smells from chemical experiments may not incommode the countess in the higher regions of the house. The one obstacle in the way of his grand discovery is, as usual, the want of money. His position, at the present time, has become truly critical. He owes debts of honor to gentlemen in his own rank of life, which must positively be paid; and he proposes, in his own friendly manner, to borrow the money of my lord. My lord positively refuses, in the rudest terms. The baron applies to his sister to exercise her conjugal influence. She can only answer that her noble husband—being no longer distractedly in love with her—now appears in his true character, as one of the meanest men living. The sacrifice of the marriage has been made, and has already proved useless.

"Such is the state of affairs at the opening of the second act.

"The entrance of the countess suddenly disturbs the baron's reflections. She is in a state bordering on frenzy. Incoherent expressions of rage burst from her lips; it is some time before she can sufficiently control herself to speak plainly. She has been doubly insulted—first, by a menial person in her employment; secondly, by her husband. Her maid, an Englishwoman, has declared that she will serve the countess no longer. She will give up her wages and return at once to England. Being asked her reason for this strange proceeding, she insolently hints that the countess' service is no service for an honest woman, since the baron has entered the house. The countess does what any lady in her position would do; she indignantly dismisses the wretch on the spot.

"My lord, hearing his wife's voice raised in anger, leaves the study in which he is accustomed to shut himself up over his books, and asks what this disturbance means. The countess informs him of the outrageous language and conduct of her maid. My lord not only declares his entire aproval of the woman's conduct, but expresses his own abominable doubts of his wife's fidelity, in language of such horrible brutality that no lady could pollute her lips by repeating it. 'If I had been a man,' the countess says, 'and if I had had a weapon in my hand I would have struck him dead at my feet!'

"The baron, listening silently so far, now speaks. 'Permit me to finish the sentence for you,' he says. 'You would have struck your husband dead at your feet, and by that rash act you would have deprived yourself of the insurance money settled on the widow—the very money which is wanted to relieve your brother from the unendurable pecuniary position which he now occupies!'

"The countess gravely reminds the baron that this is no joking matter. After what my lord has said to her she has little doubt that he will communicate his infamous suspicions to his lawyers in England. If nothing is done to prevent it, she may be divorced and disgraced and thrown on the world with no resource but the sale of her jewels to keep her from starving.

"At this moment the courier who has been engaged to travel with my lord from England crosses the stage with a letter to take to the post. The countess stops him and asks to look at the address on the letter. She takes it from him for a moment and shows it to her brother. The handwriting is my lord's, and the letter is directed to his lawyers in London.

"The courier proceeds to the postoffice. The baron and the countess look at each other in silence. No words are needed. They thoroughly understand the position in which they are placed; they clearly see the terrible remedy for it. What is the plain alternative before them? Disgrace and ruin—or my lord's death!

"The baron walks backward and forward in great agitation, talking to himself. The countess hears fragments of what he is saying. He speaks of my lord's constitution probably weakened in India—of a cold which my lord has caught two or three days since—of the remarkable manner in which such slight things as colds sometimes end in serious illness and death.

"He observes that the countess is listening to him, and asks if she has anything to propose. She is a woman who, with many defects, has the merit of speaking out. 'Is there no such thing as a serious illness,' she asks, 'corked up in one of those bottles of yours in the vaults down stairs?'

"The baron answers by gravely shaking his head. What is he afraid of?—a possible examination of the body after death? No: he can set any post-mortem examination at defiance. It is the process of administering the poison that he dreads. A man so distinguished as my lord cannot be taken seriously ill without medical attendance. Where there is a doctor there is always danger of discovery. Then, again, there is the courier, faithful to my lord as long as my lord pays him. Even if the doctor sees nothing suspicious, the courier may discover something. The poison, to do its work with the necessary secrecy, must be repeatedly administered in graduated doses. One trifling miscalculation or mistake may rouse suspicion. The insurance office may hear of it, and may refuse to pay the money. As things are, the baron will not risk it, and will not allow his sister to risk it in his place.

"My lord himself is the next character who appears. He has repeatedly rung for the courier, and the bell has not been answered. 'What does this insolence mean?'

"The countess (speaking with quiet dignity—for why should her infamous husband have the satisfaction of knowing how deeply he has wounded her?) reminds my lord that the courier has gone to the post. My lord asks suspiciously if she has looked at the letter. The countess informs him coldly that she has no curiosity about his letters. Referring to the cold from which he is suffering, she inquires if he thinks of consulting a medical man. My lord answers roughly that he is quite old enough to be capable of doctoring himself.

"As he makes this reply, the courier appears, returning from the post. My lord gives him orders to go out again and buy some lemons. He proposes to try hot lemonade as a means of inducing perspiration in bed. In that way he has formerly cured colds, and in that way he will cure the cold from which he is suffering now.

"The courier obeys in silence. Judging by appearances, he goes very reluctantly on this second errand.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8 75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3 75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2 00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

Now don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

IRON MOLDERS IN SESSION.

The District Union of Ontario Holding Their Annual Meeting at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Jan. 4.—The annual session of the District Union of Ontario of the Iron Molders' Union of North America opened here this morning. The committee on credentials reported the following delegates present: James Ripley, Fred Walters, M. Basquil and William Torrance, Hamilton; Edward McGarigle, Brockville; Lewis Allchin, Oshawa; J. B. Murphy, London; James Brown, Brantford; Edward Perry, Kingston; Wm. Rudkins, Peterboro; Daniel Coughlin, Smith's Falls. A letter was read from the president of the district, J. Jeffrey of Toronto, who regretted that he could not attend the meeting. The only business transacted was the presentation of reports.

Edwin Jones of Chatham and Thomas Worswick of Toronto, the gentlemen who are to test the Waterworks machinery, will be in the city to-morrow preparing for the test, which will be made next week.

At the annual meeting of the Hamilton Medical and Surgical Society the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Dr. Miller, President; Dr. Philip, Vice-President; Dr. F. E. Woolverton, Secretary-Treasurer.

The case against the O'Connors and John Kelley, for assaulting the police on Stuart-street, came up in the Police Court this morning. Kelly and Patrick O'Connor were each fined $20, and Jeremiah O'Connor, senior and junior, were fined $10 each.

Daring Robbery at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Jan. 4.—One of the most daring robberies that has ever been committed in Montreal was perpetrated last evening in the wholesale store of Messrs. McArthur, Corneille & Co. About 6 o'clock the employes, having gone, Mr. McArthur was about to lock up, when three men entered and closed the door behind them. One of the men drew a revolver, and told Mr. McArthur to put up his hands. He complied, and his partner, coming forward, was confronted with two other revolvers, and he, too, put up his hands. The latter gentleman was deprived of his cap and fur-lined overcoat. Both gentlemen had their pockets rifled, and the robbers then demanded the key of the safe. Mr. McArthur had dropped it in his excitement, and it could not be found. The leader wanted to shoot him, but the others threatened to throw the job up if he did, and they contented themselves with picking up everything of value they could find around the store. An alarm was given at the Central Police Station, and the thieves were captured at the Volunteer House, where they were drinking brandy, with the stolen articles in their possession.

Musicians in Council.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The annual conference of professional musicians was held here to-day. The Lord Mayor presided. Prof. Lavalles of Boston, Mass., read a paper on "The Advance of Music in America." The American Music Teachers' Association, he said, was gradually spreading. It now has a firm hold in every State and in Canada. The conference tendered Prof. Lavalles a vote of thanks.

AUSTRIA AND RUSSIA.

THE TWO GOVERNMENTS CONTINUE TO EXCHANGE VIEWS.

Their Aim is to Arrange a Concurrent Declaration of the Pacific Policy of Both —The Forged Documents—Denials and Charges Concerning Their Authorship.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—Prince Ouroussoff, the Russian Minister at Brussels, denies the Cologne Gazette's charge that he is the author of the forged documents sent to the Czar. Prince Ouroussoff's friends say that the Czar retains his confidence in the Minister and will not remove him from his post.

Dr. Schmidt examined the Crown Prince to-day and reports favorably on his condition.

Emperor William has sent a reply to the New Year's address of the Berlin municipal authorities. In it he says that he has been deeply moved by the heartfelt sympathy manifested since the beginning of the Crown Prince's illness. The Almighty, whose decrees are inscrutable, has placed a heavy trial over him and his house. Great has been the pain of the visitation which has kept the Prince so long a time from the full execution of his official duties and from his home, but the Emperor, together with the whole of the nation, believes that God in His wisdom will order all things for the best.

The exchange of views between the Austrian and Russian Governments continues. The aim is to arrange a concurrent declaration of the pacific policy of both Governments. Official circles are more hopeful for the maintenance of peace.

The Work of a Clique.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—A despatch from Brussels says there is reliable authority for the statement that the forged documents sent to the Czar were the work of a clique of financiers who were desirous of facilitating a Bulgarian loan and that the Orleanists had nothing to do with the intrigue.

The Emperor's Dinner Party.

VIENNA, Jan. 7.—A dinner party was given at the Imperial Palace to-day. Among the guests were Cardinal Galimberti, the Papal Nuncio, and the ambassadors of Russia, France and other countries.

The Forged Documents.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Standard's Vienna correspondent credits M. de Roulede with having instigated the war party at St. Petersburg to arrange the forged documents in order to prevent a meeting between the Czar and Emperor William. The documents, says the correspondent, were used at Copenhagen by the King and Queen of Greece, who had previously given audience to M. De Roulede.

ENTHUSIASM IN ST. PETER'S.

The Pope Says Mass and the Congregation Cry "Long Live the Pope-King."

ROME, Jan. 5.—The Pope said mass at St. Peter's to-day for the benefit of the pilgrims remaining in the city. Thirty cardinals and 189 archbishops and bishops were present, while the congregation numbered 20,000 persons. The Duchess of Tuscany occupied the place of honor. The Pope looked well, but at the conclusion of the mass appeared much fatigued. After the service the Pope removed his vestments and ascending the sedia gestatoria was carried around the church amid cries of "Long live the Pope-King." The Pope was deeply moved by the enthusiasm.

The Czar's Congratulatory Telegram.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 5.—The Czar in his congratulatory telegram to the Pope said he was desirous of assuring the interests of his Catholic subjects, and concluded as follows: "I doubt not that the high wisdom of which Your Holiness gives so many proofs will enable me to harmonize the needs of the Roman Church in Russia with the fundamental principles of my Empire."

LOUIS NAPOLEON'S REMAINS.

And These of the Prince Imperial Will be Interred on Monday.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Ex-Empress Eugenie has decided that the ceremony of the removal of the remains of Napoleon III. and the Prince Imperial from Chiselhurst to Farnboro, shall take place next Monday. By private request of the ex-Empress none of the members of the royal family will be present, but the Queen will send wreaths to be placed on the coffins. After mass has been celebrated the coffins will be taken to Farnboro by special train. Only the ex-Empress and her usual suites will be present.

Ras Alcula Wants to be King.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—A despatch from Rome says advices have been received from Massowah to the effect that Ras Alcula has offered to join the Italians with 40,000 of his followers on the condition that he be created King of Abyssinia in the event of the defeat of King John.

Representation or Carleton.

MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—The Gazette of this morning says: "We are given to understand that there never was any foundation for the rumor that associated Mr. Donald McMaster's name with the Conservative candidacy in Carleton. Mr. McMaster entertains no idea of contesting the constituency."

BANKER TAYLOR REMANDED.

The Embezzlement Cases Against Him Will be Heard Next Thursday.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The preliminary examination of Henry Taylor on five charges of embezzlement was set down for to-day and an hour before the time the court-room was packed with an eagerly expectant audience. The crowd, however, were doomed to disappointment. Mr. James Magee, counsel for defendant, put in an affidavit from Jail Physician Smith, setting forth that the condition of the financier's heart was such that the excitement attending his appearance in court would be extremely prejudicial. County Crown Attorney Hutchinson contended that this plea was only another attempt to balk justice. Mr. Magee objected to the word "balk," but the Crown Attorney declined to take it back and declared that whether the preliminary examination was held or not he would lay the case before the Grand Jury next week. The final result was that the hearing was adjourned till next Thursday. As Mr. Hutchinson insisted that the adjournment should be made in the prisoner's presence, Mayor Cowan, who presided at the court, went to Taylor's cell and there adjourned the case.

The following Ontario Investment cases are on the docket of the Assize Court, which opens Monday: Ontario Investment v. J. Blackburn—To recover a call on stock; M. J. Kent et al v. Ontario Investment—To compel a transfer of stock; Ontario Investment v. J. Minhinnick—To recover a call on stock; Ontario Investment v. D. McNaughton—To recover a call on stock.

THE MONTREAL DETECTIVES.

The Application for a Writ of Habeas Corpus Dismissed.

MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—Chief Justice Dorion and Hon. Justices Church and Doherty at noon to-day dismissed the application of Messrs. Globensky and St. Jean for a writ of habeas corpus for Fahey, Naegele and Bureau, and notice of an appeal to the full bench on Jan. 16 was immediately given.

Conservative Gains in French Elections.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—The triennial elections for members of the Senate are progressing to-day. The results, as far as known, show that 42 Republicans and 19 Conservatives have been elected. Twenty-one second ballots will be necessary. The Conservatives have gained 4 Senators.

The returns so far received show the election of fifty-seven Republicans and twenty-one Conservatives. Six second ballots will probably result in the return of Republicans, making the final result a Conservative gain of two seats.

Full returns show that the Conservatives have gained three seats.

French Ministerial Appointments.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Admiral Krantz has been appointed Minister of Marine, and Admiral Gervois chief of the naval staff.

A Conservative Elected in Winchester.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—In the election in Winchester to-day Mr. Moss, Conservative, received 1364 votes and Mr. Handerbye, Gladstonian, 849. In the last election the Conservative candidate received 1119 and the Gladstonian 783.

The Daily News admits that the Winchester election is disappointing. The Standard says the result absolutely confounds the confident hopes of the Separatists.

A Deadly Explosion.

JONESBORO, Jan. 5.—A boiler at Worthie & Son's mills exploded to-day, killing Richard McIver, colored fireman, and seriously injuring Henry Dark and Peter McIver. McIver was blown through a house a distance of seventy-five feet and his body was torn into fragments.

THE IRON MOLDERS' UNION.

Proceedings at the Convention at Hamilton Yesterday—A Spot Arrested.

HAMILTON, Jan. 5.—The District Union of Ontario of the Iron Molders' Union of North America met again this morning. A bureau of statistics will be established in connection with the union for the purpose of finding out the rates of wages paid in the different centres, with the view of having the wages uniform. In the afternoon Delegates Jas. Hickey and Wm. Dodwell of Toronto, and Samuel Terrell of Guelph, arrived. Reports were presented from the different unions giving the standing of trade and the state of the union. The election of officers resulted as follows: M. Baaquil, Hamilton, President; Wm. Dodwell, Toronto, Vice-President; Fred Walter, Hamilton, Secretary; Samuel Terrell, Guelph, Treasurer. Executive Board—James Hickey (Toronto), Lewis Allchin (Oshawa), Wm. Rudkins (Peterboro), J. Brown (Brantford), James Ripley (Hamilton). A supper was given to the delegates to-night at the Central Hotel by the members of Union No. 26, Hamilton.

This afternoon Detective Reid arrested Daniel Pool, an ex-hotel keeper, well known in local sporting circles, on a warrant sworn out by Isaac Jenkins of York, charging him with having obtained certain property from him under false pretenses. The trouble arises out of the sale of an hotel in Ancaster, which Pool formerly kept, and which he disposed of to Jenkins in November last.

Mr. John Burns of the Hamilton Customs was married at Ancaster yesterday. The bride was Miss Susie Phillipo, daughter of Mr. John Phillipo.

The Nova Scotia Coal Trade.

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 4.—The shipments of coal from Nova Scotia mines last year were over 1,500,000 tons, an increase of 150,000 tons over last year. Of this increase 129,000 tons is from the Cape Breton mines. The shipments from the respective coal fields are as follows: Cumberland, 469,000 tons; Pictou, 288,000; Cape Breton, 717,000; total, 1,524,000. This is more than double the entire shipment before the National Policy. Great preparations are being made for much larger shipments this year. The Springhill shipments in 1879 were 90,000 tons; this year they reached 470,000 tons.

The Pope Will Receive Mr. Gladstone.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—A despatch from Rome to Le Paris says: "Mr. Gladstone having expressed a wish to see the Pope, the latter intimated that he would be delighted to meet the English statesman. Mr. Gladstone will be received by His Holiness with the ceremonial that is usually observed when non-Catholic visitors are admitted to an audience."

A GRATIFYING INCREASE.

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE OF THE DOMINION.

Statement for the First Six Months of the Fiscal Year—Provincial Subsidies Paid —The C.T.A. in Westmoreland—The Windmill Line.

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—A proclamation will appear in next Saturday's Canada Gazette fixing Thursday, Feb. 16, for polling on the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in the County of Westmoreland, N.B. Ex-Sheriff Chipman will be the preliminary officer.

It is rumored that Hon. John Robson, Provincial Secretary of British Columbia, will be called to the Senate to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Hon. Hugh Wilson to the Lieutenant-Governorship of the province. Mr. Robson is a native of Perth, Ont., but has resided in British Columbia for many years. He is a journalist by profession.

The Finance Department have paid the usual half-yearly provincial subsidies, amounting in all to about $2,100,000. This amount will be included in the expenditure statement for January. The subsidies are paid on July 2 and Jan. 2 in advance for the half year. All the subsidies for the current fiscal year have therefore been paid.

Prof. Saunders of the Central Experimental Farm proposes trying some experiments with a hardy variety of tea grown in Japan which, it is hoped, may prove successful in this region, as the northern part of Japan has a a climate about as cold as that of the Ottawa Valley.

Mr. C. N. Armstrong, contractor for the Baie des Chaleurs Railway, which is destined to run from Metapedia to Gaspe, a distance of 170 miles, was in the city to-day and interviewed Hon. Mr. Pope, Minister of Railways, with reference to the subsidy earned. Forty miles of the road have been built during the past summer between Metapedia and Carlton. The contract covers the disfance of 100 miles to Paspebiac.

The statement of revenue and expenditure for the month of December shows that the financial condition of the Government continues to be satisfactory, the revenue for the month being $2,750,582 and the expenditure $2,277,812. There is a decrease of $125,970 in customs, but considerable increase in other sources of revenue.

Taking the first six months of the fiscal year, the revenue and expenditure are as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Customs | $11,014,410 |
| Excise | 2,975,324 |
| Postoffice | 979,103 |
| Public Works, including railways | 1,496,511 |
| Miscellaneous | 774,784 |
| Total | 17,340,432 |
| Expenditure | 15,098,081 |
| Surplus | 2,242,351 |

The increases during these six months over the same period last year are:

| | |
|---|---|
| Excise | 236,749 |
| Postoffice | 61,816 |
| Miscellaneous | 230,415 |
| Total | $570,208 |
| Public works, including railways—decrease | 266,635 |
| Net increase | $312,633 |

This is a gratifying increase, especially as the expenditures show a decrease of $282,234.

General opinion rather favors the impression that Mr. Anderson of the Orient Line will have had his trip to Canada for nothing. The Canadian Pacific Railway people, it is believed, are only backing him with their influence because they regard fast steamers to Canada direct a sine qua non so far as the first link in the chain between London and Vancouver goes, and they are just as willing to see the contract awarded to the Allan and Dominion lines, if these companies will undertake to build vessels of the required speed: from 18 to 20 knots. Other things being equal, the Government is likely to stand by the pioneers of the St. Lawrence route, and will not throw them over for strangers. In this public opinion will be with the Ministers.

Dissatisfied With the Reduction.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—At National League meetings throughout Ireland the reductions of judicial rents announced by the Land Commission have been declared insufficient. The Mitchelltown Board of Guardians, Mr. Mandeville presiding, has adopted a resolution declaring that it has no confidence in the Land Commission. The vote reflects the opinion of other boards.

A Tribute to Sir John.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—"Macdonald at Earnscliffe," is the subject of The World's article this week on "Celebrities at Home." The writer is most appreciative of the Canadian Premier's personal qualities, as well as of his great work, the creation of a national spirit in the Dominion. He regards Sir John Macdonald as on effective exponent of enlightened Conservatism, and a really Imperial statesman.

AN ENGLISH M.P. ON C.U.

The Movement Making No Headway in Canada Despite Goldwin Smith's Opinion.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—Mr. Octavius Morgan, M.P., combats in The Times Prof. Goldwin Smith's letter on Commercial Union. He says that when he was in Montreal few people advocated the movement, which has made no headway since, but rather meets with less favor in the Dominion.

The Government publishes to-day Professor Sheldon's report on his visit to Canada last season. He declares that as regards the effects of the depression in agriculture Canadians have reason to be satisfied compared with the farmers of Great Britain and elsewhere. He is convinced that the prices of British products remain decidedly low compared with 1870-75, whereas in Canada British farmers soon prosper. The report is certain to attract much attention in farming circles where Professor Sheldon is a recognized authority.

TORONTO TOPICS.

W. J. McMaster & Co., wholesale dry goods merchants of Toronto, suspended payment yesterday. The liabilities, direct and indirect, are estimated at about $250,000.

Geo. Mann & Co.'s estate, whose suspension is announced this morning, will pay about 7 cents on the $.

Advices received early this morning from London announce the issue of the new 4 per cent. debentures of the City of Toronto has been more than twice covered.

Under the provisions of "An Act for the Protection of Infant Children" passed at the last session of the Ontario Legislature, the city authorities have arranged for a systematic supervision and licensing of "baby farms." There is no fee charged, but the license will be granted only after the most careful enquiries have been made. A person desiring a license must apply to Inspector Awde. Then the Medical Health Officer will enquire as to character and fitness of the applicant and as to the suitability of the premises. The police also make enquiries, and if the application is favorably reported upon by the Medical Health Officer and the Chief of Police, the inspector issues the license which limits the number of children to be kept in the house, furnishes the keeper with a book for the registration of every particular of the identity and with forms for the reporting of deaths to a coroner, who, if he is satisfied that all is right, issues a burial certificate.

Mr. Frank Fraser, C. E., of Bracondale, is likely to be appointed Canadian Commissioner to the Argentine Republic. Mr. Fraser has an intimate acquaintance with the South American republics, having been employed for many years in public works at Buenos Ayres and other places. He is also well informed on all manufactures and products of his Canadian home. He can speak Spanish and Portuguese, and would seem to be a very fit man for developing a new channel for international trade.

T. W. Young alias Bates, the alleged Detroit forger, was yesterday brought before Judge McDougall, who formally committed him for extradition. He has fifteen days in which to enter an appeal, but his counsel, Mr. Bigelow, cannot yet say whether a writ of habeas corpus will be applied for.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 6, 1888.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE CONVENTION.

The convention which has been in session in Peterborough this week was in the interest of the farming community, but it only considered a portion of the work in which farmers are interested, that of dairying. Without doubt, much information was disseminated by the convention that will be of benefit to the large and increasingly important dairy industry. On January 19th and 20th another series of meetings will be held here, the first under the auspices of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute. At these meetings a wider field will be covered, as the Institute is established in the interest of all branches of farming, dairying included.

Such a convention as the one to be held by the Institute cannot fail to be profitable. An interchange of ideas, the communication of the lessons of experience and the results of experiments by those engaged in the actual work of tilling the soil must draw out information that will be helpful. Besides, gentlemen will be present who have made a special study of scientific farming, aided by all the appliances that could be procured, and they will share the results of their study and labor with those who wish to receive them and will attend.

In addition to addresses by a professor from the Agricultural College, gentlemen engaged in agricultural in the district will read papers on special subjects. These subjects are practical and of importance, and they will be dealt with by practical men. Opportunity will be given for discussing the papers and for asking questions.

At a time when other countries are beginning to compete on a large scale in the great markets of the world with the farm produce sent from America, it is especially incumbent upon the yeomen of this country to acquire all the knowledge they can as to the best methods of tilling their land so as to produce the largest return at the least expense, and the more thoroughly they are thus educated the better able they will be to hold their own. Knowledge can be acquired by such gatherings as these, and the opportunity should not be missed. The amount of good done depends on the number who attend and carry into practice the knowledge imparted. As all are cordially invited to be at the sessions the attendance should be large.

UNRESTRICTED RECIPROCITY.

One of the schemes proposed in opposition to the present fiscal policy of the Dominion is that of unrestricted reciprocity with the United States. As we have before pointed out it is different from commercial union. Under this plan Canada and the United States would allow the products of both countries to cross the boundary line free of duty, while each country would retain control of its tariff as regards imports from other countries. While a majority of the Liberal press and several prominent members of that party advocate commercial union, a few—notably the Montreal Herald, the Hon. Peter Mitchell and Mr. J. D. Edgar—favor unrestricted reciprocity.

There would be many difficulties in the way of adopting this scheme. Canada could still collect duties on imports from all other countries, but if that was done the goods of Great Britain would be discriminated against in favor of those of the United States, and one of the strong arguments against commercial union would have equal force against this plan. On the other hand, if Great Britain were placed in the same position as regards Canada as the United States would be in all goods from either of these countries would come into the Dominion free, which would practically be adopting free trade. With the customs duties abolished excise taxes would have to go, else the foreign manufacturer would be given an advantage over the home producer, and with no customs or excise revenue, direct taxation would have to be resorted to almost entirely to provide the Dominion revenue. The policy of fostering home production, adopted in 1878 and maintained in the National Policy, would be thrown to the winds, and Canada would have to give up the hope of becoming a great and prosperous country, a hope which is being realized.

Again, as under unrestricted reciprocity each party to the treaty would still have control of its tariff laws, touble in another way would be sure to arise. If, for instance, the United States duty on certain would not importers bring in their goods by way of the United States and pass them into Canada? Or if the Canadian tariff was the lower, they would be brought this way and taken into the United States. Besides, while no duties were imposed on goods crossing the border, the excise duties of both countries would have to be the same, or the manufacturers paying the lower excise tax would have an advantage over the manufacturers in the other country. To prevent smuggling, unless the tariffs were identical and the idea extended so that it would be a commercial union, would be a task that would be expensive and almost impossible of performance.

Unrestricted reciprocity seems to be an impracticable plan. Canada will not discriminate against England, Ireland and Scotland in favor of the United States. Neither are the people of this country ready to adopt free trade and direct taxation. The fiscal policy which has been in force for several years—that of fostering home production, while willing to reciprocate to a judicious extent with the United States—has proved to be beneficial.

A Pleasant Time.—The young people of this neighborhood may hope that Mr. John Grant, or some other friend near by, may win the prize at the shooting match at Lakefield, providing the prize be Turkeys, and he invite his friends to supper to help dispose of them. About thirty young folk of this vicinity enjoyed a very pleasant time with Mr. and Mrs. John Grant at their home on Monday afternoon. The programme was as follows:—from two to five o'clock the professional shooters displayed their ability in shooting first at a distance of 200 yards then at 150, doing good work. They flattered themselves on the work done and some day mean to display their work in other places, by taking the silver cup and turkey again. About 5 o'clock the sun refused to bestow his light upon them, or I suppose they would have become ammunitionless. They then retired to the house to finish the evening. The goodly number of ladies present furnished much choice music, vocal and instrumental, also many smiles (possessed by that sex only), up to the time supper was complete, and it was complete, and should give Mrs. Grant much credit. After all had partaken of the many good things to satisfaction, the time was occupied by many peculiar games which men of sense and sick children can play to effect. Some time after we should have been home "God be with you till we meet again," was sung lustily and heartily. The sleigh bells soon began to ring as all were homeward bound.

Services Valued.—The pupils of this section, No. 4, presented Mr. Harry T. Lewis with a number of good and beautiful gifts as follows:—One morroco bound Bible worth $10, a photograph album and a silk handkerchief. Mr. Lewis' services are highly valued, and we all regret his absence from our locality. Mr. Anderson, of Norwood, is to be his successor.

A Pleasant Event.—On the evening of the 31st December, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rutherford celebrated their 25th anniversary by a silver wedding. A large number guests were present consisting of friends and relatives. The happy couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents. After congratulating them upon the past and wishing them many years of future prosperity and happiness the guests dispersed to their respective homes.

Tea Meeting.—The annual tea meeting of the Zion Methodist Church was held on the evening of January 2nd and proved one of the most successful ever held. An excellent repast, prepared by the ladies, was served in the Grange Hall and the rapidity with which the delicacies disappeared from the tables was sufficient proof of their excellence. Although every available spot in the church was filled, excellent order prevailed. The Rev. Mr. McFarlane, of Lakefield, gave an excellent address on the Bible. Interesting addresses were also given by the Rev. Mr. Cragg, of Hiawatha, and the Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Ashburnham. Excellent music was provided by our choir assisted by Miss Macamus and Miss Howson.

Personal.—Miss Robinson, of Peterborough, and Miss Morgan, of Ashburnham are the guests of Mr. Dickson. Mr. Rowel and wife, of Peterborough, are visiting at Mr. John Kindred's. Mr. J. W. Whittington, who has been spending his holidays in South Monaghan has opened the "Academy" again. Mr. Tom Greystock and Miss Annie Graystock are visiting friends in Warkworth.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

ABDUCTION.

Samuel Clancy Arrested by Chief Bell, of Lindsay.

On Thursday afternoon Samuel Clancy, of this town, was arrested by Chief Bell, of Lindsay, on a charge of having abducted a seven year old boy named Groves from the township of Emily, in September last. As soon as Clancy found that he was wanted he quietly gave himself up, maintaining while doing so, that he knew nothing of the abduction more than that a man had hired him to drive out to a school house in Emily. After getting the child the man ordered him to drive to Cavanville station, and he did so, being paid for the service.

The story goes that Mr. and Mrs. Groves, parents of the abducted boy, had a falling out about six years ago and that Mrs. Groves left the family shelter and went to the United States, leaving Mr. Groves as the boy's sole guardian. A year or two afterwards Mrs. Groves came back and by stealth secured the boy and took him westward. Mr. Groves followed in pursuit, overtook mother and son at Detroit and brought the latter back. No further attempt to get the boy away from his father was made till September last, when a man came to Peterborough, hired Mr. Clancy to drive him out to the school house, and there carried out his design as before said.

It is rumoured that the abductor was a relative of Mrs. Groves and that there was a special reason for getting hold of the person of the boy. Mrs. Groves had been left quite a sum of money in the old country which, had she an heir, would be doubled. It is asserted that the mother and boy are gone to England to claim their inheritance.

Tour Round the World.

There was a large attendance at St. Peter's Cathedral on Thursday evening, when Prof. Buell gave and exhibition of his famous pictures. By means of strong lights the pictures were thrown on large canvas and all the features of a scene could be seen as clearly as in a photograph—because, as a fact, they were photographic views. The tour round the world was begun at Halifax, and after paying brief visits to Cape Breton and Prince Edward Island, the route was followed through New Brunswick to Quebec, taking in interesting points on the way. A number of views of the ancient city were shown, and also pictures of buildings and other places of interest in Montreal. Portraits o Cardinal Taschereau, the late Bishop Bourget and others were exhibited. At Ottawa the Parliament buildings and other sights were visited, and rapid glances were and of lumbering scenes, views at Sault St. Marie, on Lake Superior, Port Arthur, &c., till Winnipeg was reached. Here views were had of the prairie city, and scenes connected with the rebellion were brought forward. A portrait oi the Midland Battalion was much admired, the officers and men being plainly recognizable. In the picture Capt. Brennan has a prominent position. Other views were given of troops marching, and in connection with Riel's trial, showing the only correct photograph of the rebel leader. The Rocky Mountain scenery was grand and the numerous views were highly appreciated. Passing down to the Pacific coast, a very rapid voyage took the audience to Asia. Views were given of Jerusalem, Constantinople, Rome, Paris, &c., and then scenes in England, Scotland and Ireland were thrown on the canvas, including the beautiful scenery of the Lakes of Killarney. Views were also given connected with sacred history, including the Virgin Mary and her Babe, the crucifixion, etc. The pictures were indeed magnificent and the only reason for regret is that Prof. Buell did not stay in town longer till every one saw the splendid exhibition. The choir of the Cathedral and Prof. Doucet's orchestra furnished appropriate music, and fine solos were sung in a creditable manner by Mrs. J. E. McIntyre and Miss Begley. After making a short tour through Canada and the United States Prof. Buell will go to Europe. His views of Canada will be very beneficial to this country and will give the people of the other continent knowledge of the grandeur of Canadian scenery that cannot fail to awaken much interest in this country.

DAIRYMEN IN COUNCIL.

CLOSING SESSION OF THE EASTERN ONTARIO CONVENTION.

The Points of a Good Dairy Cow—Plan for Instruction in Cheese Making—Fertilizers.

The convention assembled at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon.

Messrs. Beall, Whitton and Bissell, Instructors of different districts, read their reports.

Prof. ROBERTSON reported on behalf of the special committee, recommending: 1, Sepcial cheese makers conventions in March at Lancaster, Morrisburg, Brockville and Campbellford. 2. The employment of four instructors. 3. That each factory contribute $10 to the fund. 4. That the Association assist from its funds. 5. That each subscribing factory be entitled to three visits from instructors. 6. That the joint fund be collected and administered by the Executive Committee through the department at Guelph. 7. That meetings of patrons be held in November and December. He dwelt on the advisability of adopting these recommendations and moved the adoption of the report.

Mr. Derbyshire seconded the motion, and after remarks by Mr. McPherson, it was adopted.

Mr. J. A. RUDDICK read a paper on "Testing of Milk."

Mr. W. D. HOARD delivered an address on "Dairy Cows." He pointed out the importance of heriditary influence. In cattle they sub-divided the temperaments into two lines, the lymphatic and the nervous. The lymphatic tended to the growth of flesh and the nervous was the dairy temperament. Butter fat was largely the product of nervous energy. He condemned oleomargarine and other butter substitutes. For dairy cows they needed nerve supporting food. He contrasted the outlines of beef and dairy cattle—the one round and plump, the other of long angular form, wide nostril, fullness of eye, high from eye to pole, thin ear, good connection of spine with head, large spinal formation, lean, sharp shoulders with a retreating pitch like a race horse, strong pelvic arch (not a straight back), retreating breast, high quarters, thin flank, presence of butter gland, and an udder not long and pendant, but extending on the abdomen. A dairy cow should have strong muscular formation in the abdomen and deep lungs. He advised having one good judge at fairs and breeding heifers at a year or 14 months of age.

Mr. BARNARD eulogized Mr. Hoard's address.

Prof. ROBERTS gave a short address on "Fertilizers." Two hundred crops of wheat of 25 bushels to the acre were in the first eight inches of soil. Their fathers had sold the potash, nitrogen and phosphorous from the soil, and they must put it back. When they liberally fed an animal they got half the value back in manure. There were three ways of fertilizing—culture, seeding with deep rooted plants, and feeding animals. Fall was the proper season in which to apply manure.

Mr. DERBYSHIRE moved, seconded by Mr. J. BISSELL, a vote of thanks to Mayor Stevenson for courtesies extended.

Thanks were also tendered to the speakers, railways and the instructors, and the convention adjourned.

THE CHEESEMAKERS.

In the evening a meeting of cheesemakers was held. Mr. Reddick's paper on "Milk Testing" and Mr. Bissell's on "Milk" were discussed.

Mr. O. C. McDONALD gave an address, urging the importance of having experienced makers. Then the cheese would be so uniformly good in Canada that dealers could not tell which section it came from.

A discussion was held on Mr. Whitton's paper. Several gentlemen gave short addresses on the best means of obtaining uniformity in color and neatness in casing, and the meeting adjourned.

Racing on Sunday.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—Now that the election excitement is over, I send in the following letter in hopes that you can spare space in your valuable columns for it.

Last Sabbath, while going up George street north, in company with some friends, we observed four rigs racing—actually racing—on the public highway on the Lord's Day. Surely this thing ought not to be in a Christian community. Our Creator commanded us to "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it Holy." Therefore, those young men who so far forget themselves, not only broke the laws of God, but also the laws of Her Majesty and our Dominion, and, moreover, they endanger the lives of our little children, who must needs cross George street on their way home from Sabbath school. This performance was kept up for one hour and thirty minutes, until the north end of George street was turned into a regular race course.

Now, if our re-elected Mayor will kindly accept this intimation, and put an end to this profligacy he will not only confer a lasting favor, but he will receive the sincere and lasting gratitude of the residents of the north-end of Peterborough.

Now, dear sir, trusting that this may receive your prompt attention. I remain your obedient servant,

WM. STEVENS.

A $20,000 CRIM. CON. CASE.

THE PROCEEDINGS OF A. M. IRVING AGAINST HAROLD G. SMITH.

A Young Husband Seeks Heavy Damages From the Alleged Despoiler of His Wife—A Prologue to a Suit for Divorce —The Parties Implicated.

TORONTO, Jan. 6.

The centre room in the Court House was crowded all day yesterday with men, both young and old, and a few ladies there were in the audience also. A couple of cases commonly called "spicy" were expected to be called; hence the crowded court-room. Mr. Justice Falconbridge was the presiding judge.

The case that attracted the throng was Irving against Smith. This action is an indirect outcome of Mr. A. M. Irving's application for divorce from his wife, Maria Louise (nee Wall) on the grounds of infidelity. The divorce proceedings will be heard before a committee of the Senate, the only divorce tribunal in the Dominion, when Parliament meets next month. The printing of Mr. Irving's application, a couple of months ago, caused a great deal of commotion in Toronto, where the young man is so well and favorably known, he having been a captain in the Royal Grenadiers and having retired with the rank of lieutenant. The defendant in the present suit will also be, it is said, one of the co-respondents in the divorce proceedings. He is Harold G. Smith, the former owner of the Kentucky Stables, in King-street west, and the somewhat famous tally-ho coach, which was wont to go on various junketing tours with several of the young swells of both sexes of the town.

Smith is about 30 years of age and is married. Early in October last Mr. Irving instructed his solicitor, Mr. W. A. Foster, Q.C., to proceed against Smith, and accordingly a writ was issued against him for $20,000, for "wrongfully intending to injure the plaintiff and for depriving him of his wife's affections and assistance." The writ was issued from the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice. Smith, it is said, is comfortably off as regards this world's goods, and after the writ was served on him he quietly disposed of the Kentucky Stables and took up his residence in Buffalo, where he went into a similar business as he had carried on in Toronto. A few weeks ago he went to England, and it is said that he sailed from Liverpool for New York on Dec. 31 last on his return home.

After his departure from Toronto he placed his affairs and the custody of the Irving writ in the hands of Barrister James Lane, who has been acting for him ever since. Mrs. Irving is now living in New York city, and her last known abode was at No. 237 West Fourteenth-street.

Plaintiff Irving says in his statement of claim:

"On Aug. 31, 1885, plaintiff was duly and legally married to Maria Louise Irving, at St. James' Cathedral, Toronto, by Rev. Mr. Greene, and since said date she has been and was at the time of the committal of the wrongful acts hereafter referred to, and still is, the lawful wife of the said plaintiff.

"The only issue of the marriage is one child, born on Oct. 29, 1886, which child is still living.

"On or about July 1 last, the plaintiff, with the object of benefitting the health of his wife and child, rented and furnished a cottage in the town of Niagara for occupancy during the summer months, and thence forward until the first week in October last the plaintiff's wife and child resided there, and were visited by the plaintiff weekly, or as often as his employment in the city permitted.

"While the said Maria Louisa Irving resided in the said cottage the defendant, Harold G. Smith, wrongfully intending to injure the plaintiff and deprive the plaintiff of her affections and assistance, did, at the town of Niagara, and on divers days and times in the months of July, August, September and October, in the year 1887, and before the commencement of this action, wrongfully assault and debauch her, he, the said defendant, being well aware that she was the lawful wife of the plaintiff.

"The plaintiff did not become aware of the wrongful acts of the defendant until immediately before the commencement of this action.

"By reason of the said wrongful acts of the defendant the plaintiff has lost the society and service of his wife, and has otherwise suffered anguish of mind, disgrace and loss, and been put to expense, and is prosecuting an application to the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada for a bill of divorce from his wife, notice of which has been given.

"The plaintiff claims $20,000 damages, the cost of the action and such other relief as the court may be pleased to grant."

The defendant admits the allegations contained in the first paragraph of the plaintiff's statement of claim, but denies that he intended, or did, injure the plaintiff, and deprive him of the affections and assistance of the said Maria Louise Irving. He also denies that he did wrongfully assault and debauch her, as alleged, and says he is not guilty of the allegations made against him.

It is said that one of the difficulties in proceeding with the case at present will be in securing the attendance of witnesses, as two or three of them who are wanted are known to be out of the Dominion. One prominent young gentleman especially who has been mixed up in this scandal has made himself conspicuously scarce ever since the matter found its way into court. It is not known as yet whether Defendant Smith will put in an appearance.

COUNTESS NARONA.

BY WILKIE COLLINS.

THE FOURTH PART.

"My lord turns to the baron (who has thus far taken no part in the conversation; and asks him, in a sneering tone, how much longer he proposes to prolong his stay in Venice. The baron answers quietly, 'Let us speak plainly to one another, my lord. If you wish me to leave your house you have only to say the word, and I go.' My lord turns to his wife, and asks if she can support the calamity of her brother's absence—laying a grossly insulting emphasis on the word 'brother.' The countess preserves her impenetrable composure; nothing in her betrays the deadly hatred with which she regards the titled ruffian who has insulted her. 'You are master in this house, my lord,' is all she says. 'Do as you please.'

"My lord looks at his wife: looks at the baron—and suddenly alters his tone. Does he perceive in the composure of the countess and her brother something lurking under the surface that threatens him? This is at least certain, that he makes a clumsy apology for the language that he has used. (Abject wretch!)

"My lord's excuses are interrupted by the return of the courier with the lemons and hot water.

"The countess observes for the first time that the man looks ill. His hands tremble as he places the tray on the table. My lord orders his courier to follow him, and makes the lemonade in the bedroom. The countess remarks that the courier seems hardly capable of obeying his orders. Hearing this the man admits that he is ill. He, too, is suffering from a cold; he has been kept waiting in a draught at the shop where he bought the lemons; he feels alternately hot and cold, and he begs permission to lie down for a little while on his bed.

"Feeling her humanity appealed to, the countess volunteers to make the lemonade herself. My lord takes the courier by the arm, leads him aside and whispers these words to him: 'Watch her, and see that she puts nothing into the lemonade; then bring it to me with your own hands, and then go to bed, if you like.'

"Without a word more to his wife or to the baron my lord leaves the room.

"The countess makes the lemonade and the courier takes it to his master.

"Returning on the way to his own room he is so weak and feels, he says, so giddy, that he is obliged to support himself by the backs of the chairs as he passes them. The baron, always considerate to persons of low degree, offers his arm. 'I am afraid, my poor fellow,' he says, 'that you are really ill.' The courier makes this extraordinary answer: 'It's all over with me, sir; I have caught my death.'

"The countess is naturally startled. 'You are not an old man,' she says, trying to rouse the courier's spirits. 'At your age catching cold doesn't surely mean catching your death!' The courier fixes his eyes despairingly on the countess.

"'My lungs are weak, my lady,' he says. 'I have already had two attacks of bronchitis. The second time a great physician joined my own doctor in attendance on me. He considered my recovery almost in the light of a miracle. "Take care of yourself," he said. "If you have a third attack of bronchitis, as certainly as two and two make four you will be a dead man." I feel the same inward shivering, my lady, that I felt on those two former occasions—and I tell you again, I have caught my death in Venice.'

"Speaking some comforting words, the baron leads him to his room. The countess is left alone on the stage.

"She seats herself, and looks toward the door by which the courier has been led out. 'Ah! my poor fellow,' she says, 'if you could only change constitutions with my lord what a happy result would follow for the baron and for me! If you could only get cured of a trumpery cold with a little hot lemonade, and if he could only catch his death in your place!'

"She suddenly pauses—considers for a while—and springs to her feet with a cry of triumphant surprise: the wonderful, the unparalleled idea has crossed her mind like a flash of lightning. Make the two men change names and places, and the deed is done! Where are the obstacles? Remove my lord—by fair means or foul—from his room and keep him secretly prisoner in the palace, to live or die as future necessity may determine. Place the courier in the vacant bed and call in the doctor to see him—ill, in my lord's character, and—if he dies—dying under my lord's name."

The manuscript dropped from Henry's hands. A sickening sense of horror overpowered him. The question which had occurred at the close of the first act of the play assumed a new and terrible interest now. As far as the scene of the countess' soliloquy, the incidents of the second act had reflected the the events of his late brother's life as faithfully as the incidents of the first act. Was the monstrous plot, revealed in the lines which he had just read, the offspring of the countess' morbid imagination; or had she in this case also deluded herself with the idea that she was inventing when she was really writing under the influence of her own guilty remembrance of the past? If the latter interpretation were the true one, he had just read the narrative of the contemplated murder of his brother, planned in cold blood by a woman who was at that moment inhabiting the same house with him. While, to make the fatality complete, Agnes herself had innocently provided the conspirators with the one man who was fitted to be the passive agent of their crime.

Even the bare doubt that it might be so, was more than he could endure. He left his room; resolved to force the truth out of the countess, or to denounce her before the authorities as a murderess at large.

Arrived at her door, he was met by a person just leaving the room. The person was the manager. He was hardly recognizable; he looked and spoke like a man in a state of desperation.

"Oh, go in, if you like!" he said to Henry. "Mark this, sir! I am not a superstitious man; but I do begin to believe that crimes carry their own curse with them. This hotel is under a curse. What happens in the morning! We discover a crime committed in the old days of the palace. The night comes, and brings another dreadful event with it—a death; a sudden and shocking death, in the house. Go in, and see for yourself! I shall resign my situation, Mr. Westwick; I can't contend with the fatalities that pursue me here!"

Henry entered the room.

The countess was stretched on her bed. The doctor on one side and the chambermaid on the other, were standing looking at her. From time to time, she drew a heavy stertorous breath, like a person oppressed in sleeping. "Is she likely to die?" Henry asked.

"She is dead," the doctor answered. "Dead of the rupture of a blood vessel on the brain. Those sounds that you hear are purely mechanical—they may go on for hours."

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

Don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

SOUTH MONAGHAN.

Correspondence of the Review.

ELECTIONS.—The municipal elections passed off quietly on Monday. Mr. Willan being elected Reeve by 26 of a majority. The majority was unexpected by his staunchest supporters as there were three in the field. Some people feel very sore about it—the supporters more than the candidates. We only hope Mr. Willan will make a good Reeve and come out with honor. The Councillors elected are as follows: Robt. Fisher (now), 159; John Buckham, 110; R. Parker, 109; D. Baxter, 108. As I said in last week's issue some would be disappointed, so it's true; two would be reeves and two would-be councillors are elected to stay at home this year. Mr. Willan got in and we say so much for pluck, as he had some workers against him. All I have to say is, may the present Reeve of South Monaghan come out all right and may the M.P.P. come out all wrong and be left at home next time. He may go through the township and give the particulars of the last session but he does not change one vote in his favor, although he gives a good account of his stewardship.

MEASLES.—Measles are raging in this part at present in three or four families, but as all accounts come in patients are doing pretty well.

PERSONALS.—Mr. Souch, who has been very sick for the last three weeks, is likely to recover. Mr. Wm. Rutherford, we are sorry to say, has been sick for some time, but is now in a fair way of recovering.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Acute Perception.

An English writer observes that the sense of hearing in some birds seems as wonderful and discriminating as that of smell in dogs. A thrush has been seen to listen for worms, and very evidently to hear them, too, though within two yards of a noisy lawn mower; while robins appear to be able to distinguish the voices of their own offspring and parents from a number of others, and at a great distance. It is suggested that such cases indicate the "exclusive direction of the attention of a sense" rather than mere keenness.—Arkansaw Traveler.

FIRST-CLASS GUNNERS.

CANADIAN ARTILLERYMEN EQUAL TO ANY.

A High Tribute From General Middleton in an English Military Journal—Sir Charles Dilke's Criticisms Effectively Disposed of.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—General Middleton's paper in Colburn's United Service Magazine on the Canadian Militia is attracting attention in military circles and serves as a timely antidote to Sir Charles Dilke's criticisms in The Fortnightly Review, declaring the system to be cheap and lacking efficiency. Gen. Middleton says he will back the Canadian officers and gunners to fight their guns against any artillery in the world.

The North of Scotland Canadian Cattle Company will shortly hold a meeting to decide whether they will continue to import Canadian stock. The Company is not entirely displeased with the outcome of their shipments. Farmers continue to report stock developing well.

GLADSTONE, JR., BACKS DOWN.

The Dromore Meeting Does Not Take Place as Advertised.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Mr. Herbert Gladstone writes that a previous engagement will prevent his visit to Ireland at present, consequently the proposed series of speeches he was to make in Ulster will fall through.

The attempt of the turf dealers in County Clare to boycott the police from procuring their necessary supplies of turf has resulted rather disastrously for the former. With the English Government at their backs, the police determined not to be boycotted, and succeeded in securing all the turf they wanted.

CORK, Jan. 6.—Captain Plunkett has informed the magistrate that Canon O'Mahoney refused the police access to the three girls who it is alleged were assaulted by Mr. Roberts, the governor of the county jail. The enquiries into the case have therefore been stopped. Mr. Roberts has been advised to prosecute Canon O'Mahoney.

DUBLIN, Jan. 6.—The meeting announced to be held at Dromore, which was proclaimed by the Government, was not held. Three meetings were held outside the town, the police not interfering.

The Land Commissioners have presented to the Lord Lieutenant a report on the basis of the recent order for a reduction of judicial rents. They appointed sixteen gentlemen to scrutinize prices. The Commission tried to ascertain the staple product of each union as a basis for the reduction. Judge O'Hagan differed from the other commissioners because he considered that the Land Act gave the Commission greater powers than the other Commissioners conceived to be open to them.

Mr. Gillhooly, M.P., failed to put in an appearance when his case was called at the fourth sitting of the Schull court to-day. The case was therefore adjourned.

The Nationalist demonstration at Birr today was attended by 6000 persons. Several members of Parliament were present.

THE HONOLULU CRISIS.

The Demands of the Hawaiian Cabinet Acceded to by King Kalakaua.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—A letter from Honolulu, dated Dec. 24, says: "The Cabinet has made a demand that Judge Jonathan Austin of Honolulu, an American, shall be offered the place of Godfrey Brown, who recently resigned from the Cabinet. The Cabinet has also demanded the appointment of Sanford Dole, a prominent lawyer, born here of American parents, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Fornader of the Supreme Court. At last advices the king had decided to accede to the Cabinet's demands, knowing that the Reform League would otherwise place Mrs. Dominni, the king's sister, on the throne. Kalakaua has been advised by the English and American ministers to comply with the demands of his Cabinet, with assurances that they would not interfere in his behalf with the designs of the Reform League."

Central Bank Liquidation.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—The preliminary proceedings re Central Bank liquidation came up before the Master-in-Ordinary yesterday, and the first order made for the payment of creditors holding the notes of the bank. Under this order about $130,000 will be paid.

The Chicago Printers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—A joint committee of the Typothetae and the men in the employ of the members have been for weeks trying to prepare a new scale of prices which should be acceptable to the employers and workmen. A scale has been finally decided upon and submitted to the parties interested for confirmation.

Collision on the Nickel Plate.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 6.—A heavily loaded east bound freight train collided with a light freight west bound on the Nickel Plate road near Willoughby at 1.30 this morning. The east bound train was loaded with live stock and dressed beef. Fifteen cars were demolished and many others were badly damaged, but no one was injured except a skipper who received a trifling scalp wound.

THE POPE'S JUBILEE GIFTS.

Placed on Exhibition Yesterday—Reception of the English and American Colleges.

ROME, Jan. 6.—The Pope has announced that he will receive the presidents of the English and American Colleges in Rome and the British pilgrims on Jan. 10. Mgr. Afford will make the necessary arrangements for the reception.

The Pope's jubilee presents were placed on exhibition at the Vatican to-day for the first time. The foreign diplomats, a number of Roman aristocrats and a host of other guests were present. The Pope entered the hall where the presents had been arranged at noon. He was followed by forty-eight cardinals and the whole Pontifical Court. His arrival was greeted with great enthusiasm. He took his seat on the throne and Cardinal Schiaffino proceeded to read an address.

To this the Pope, replying, said his soul was deeply moved by the manifestations of love and veneration which were reaching him from all parts of the world. He regarded them as evidences of the power of the papacy, which the enemies of the church had vainly attempted to deny. The share taken by the sovereigns of the world in the jubilee proved that they justly appreciated the importance of the papacy. He concluded by praising the organizers of the exhibition. The Pope afterwards made a prolonged inspection of the presents in company with the cardinals.

THE CHINESE FLOODS.

At Least 3,000,000 People Homeless—Villages to the Number of 3000 Engulfed.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Late details of the Chinese floods make the story one of the most terrible in history. What was a beautiful populous district of 10,000 square miles is now a rolling sea. At least 3,000,000 people are homeless and absolutely destitute of the barest necessities of life, while it is thought that the loss of life will reach 750,000. About one-sixth of the entire area of the "Garden of China," as Ho'Nanjia styled, is now converted into a vast lake, with here and there a pagoda top or the gable of some higher wall rising over the ever-increasing waters to mark the site of what were a short time ago prosperous cities of many thousand inhabitants. The rest of the country is overrun with wretched refugees, who were fortunate enough to escape with their lives, though with naught else. In hundreds of instances men, who three moons ago were men of wealth, to-day sit gazing on the inland sea stunned and hungry, stupid and dejected, without a rag to wear or a morsel of food to eat. The inundations commenced a little distance from Kafung Fu, one of the largest cities of the province, and in one instant some four miles of solid embankment of stone, brick, sand and clay were swept away with innumerable moles and fascines.

In the districts of Chinc Chow and Chen Chow no less than 3000 large villages are stated to have been engulfed in a very few moments, and scarcely any of their ill-fated people had time to save themselves, as the breach occurred in the night. An extent of country much larger than the whole principality of Wales, and much more thickly populated, is now a raging sea and all the inhabitants are either drowned or have fled. The people so terribly visited cannot number far short of the whole population of Ireland, as the province includes about 25,000,000 inhabitants within an area of 65,000 square miles, and the waters of the river now cover between 8000 and 10,000 square miles.

A CASE OF "INTEREST."

Suit on a Peculiar Note in the Division Court at London.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—What may literally be termed a case of interest came up to-day in the Division Court before Judge Mackenzie. Dr. A. McTaggart sued John B. Kennedy for $15. $7 being balance on a note and $8 interest on the balance. The note was originally for $22, and was to run for six months. It was dated February, 1886, and contained a proviso that if not paid at the end of the six months Kennedy was to pay 50 cents a month interest thereon. Kennedy paid $15 on the note. The balance, $7, has now been overdue sixteen months, and on this $7 McTaggart asked for his 50 cents a month or about 90 per cent. Judgment was given for the $7 balance on the note and interest at 6 per cent.

The jurymen who failed to respond when their names were called were fined $4 each by Judge Mackenzie.

Carnot's First Dinner.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—President Carnot gave his first diplomatic dinner last night at the Elysee. All the foreign ambassadors and ministers were present. After dinner President and Madame Carnot held their first Presidential reception. The palace was brilliantly illuminated and decorated with plants, pictures and tapestry, which made an admirable setting forth combined with the glittering uniforms and pretty dresses with which the rooms were filled. The President made an excellent impression as a host. Madame Carnot wore a handsome red velvet dress richly trimmed with white lace and flowers and diamonds adorned her head dress. In her hand she carried a red and gold fan. The President intends giving a reception every Thursday.

Kaiser William's Wish.

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—Emperor William, in the course of his New Year's letter to the Berlin magistracy, says: "I trust that under the protection of lasting peace, which may God vouchsafe, and by legislative measures dealing with economic and social matters the welfare of the nation in the future, as it has been in the past, may be materially developed!"

The Unfortunate Reporter.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—There were marks on McNeill's throat showing that he had been strangled. He had in his possession when last seen, coin, Bank of England notes, and a watch, all of which are missing. Several five pound notes, which he was known to have in his possession when he left London, have been cashed at the Bank of England.

Cholera at Valparaiso.

LIMA, Jan. 6.—A private despatch from Valparaiso says cholera has increased at that port to an alarming extent, the number of cases daily reaching 130, of which 80 to 90 prove fatal.

Averse to a Real Fight.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—Smith's backers want Sullivan to give a series of sparring contests with Smith throughout the world, ending in California. Sullivan has refused. Smith's manager is averse to a real fight.

Notices of annual meetings are given by the Kingston and Pembroke Railway Company at Kingston, by the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company at Montreal, and by the Merchants' Bank of Halifax at Halifax, all on Feb. 8.

Eleanora Elizabeth Tudor of Montreal gives notice of application to Parliament for a bill of divorce from her husband, Frederick Lexey Hart, of Montreal, on the ground of cruelty and adultery.

The following notices of application to Parliament are given: By the Esquimault and Nanaimo Railway Company, for power to run a ferry to connect the terminus of the road with the United States railway system at Port Angelo; by the Hereford Branch Railway Company, for amendments to the act of incorporation, increasing the number of directors, increasing the capital stock, decreasing the bonding power per mile, giving power to extend the railway to a point of connection with the Quebec Central Railway in the township of Westbury or Dudswell, and to purchase or lease the railway of the Dominion Lime Company; by Victor Hudon, of Montreal, for a charter to construct and operate a line of railway connecting the different parts of the Island of Montreal between them, and with the city of Montreal, with power to extend its line at any place in the harbor of Montreal; By H. J. Eberts of Winnipeg for an act to incorporate the Ontario, Manitoba and Western Railway Company, to construct and operate a railway from Port Arthur to Winnipeg, crossing the narrows of the Lake of the Woods and south of the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with power to construct, equip and operate extension or branch lines westerly from Winnipeg through the Province of Manitoba to, into and through the Northwest Territories, south of the main line of the said Canadian Pacific Railway, and short lines as feeders thereto, etc. By the York Farmers' Colonization Company, for power to receive paid-up stock of any shareholders, in exchange for land or other property of the company, to reduce the capital stock of the Company.

The Quebec Judges.

There is no truth in the Associated Press despatch from Montreal that Chief Justice Dorion and some half-dozen other Quebec judges are to be superannuated and their places filled by younger men. The fact is that no applications for superannuation have been received from any of the Quebec judges, and even should there be it is not likely that they would be acted on during the absence of the Minister of Justice in Washington. Sometime ago there was a rumor afloat here that Chief Justice Dorion's health was not very good and that he contemplated applying for superannuation, but the application was never made.

It is understood that Judge Miller, County Judge of Waterloo County, has forwarded his resignation to the Government on account of old age and ill-health. It is probable that Junior Judge Lecourse will be promoted.

Ocean Mail Clerks.

It is understood that Messrs. James O'Hara, F. H. Micklebrugh, W. F. Bowes and James Ferguson who were employed as ocean mail clerks up to the time of the abolition of that service, have been placed on the superannuation list, and the other ocean mail clerks have been found other employment in the department. The change has proved highly satisfactory. There is no loss of time or delay in delivery occasioned by the mails not being sorted on shipboard, the distribution being easily made on the train on its way from Halifax, so that the sorting is done before the car is much more than half-way to Quebec.

The Postmaster General's Report.

The Postmaster-General expects to save about $15,000 a year by this change in the service. The annual report of the Postmaster-General will be printed in a few days. It is understood that the net revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30 last will reach $2,603,255 against $2,469,000, or an increase of $134,000; expenditure for the year ending June 30 $3,468,100 and for the previous year $3,380,000, or an increase of $78,000. This shows an excess of receipts of $56,000 as compared with the previous year.

Miscellaneous Matters.

The next session of the Supreme Court will probably open on Feb. 21. The case of Moss v. The Queen will come up for hearing before the Exchequer Court on Monday next.

Advices to the Railway Department state that operations on the eastern section of the Cape Breton Railway lately taken over from the contractors, Messrs. Slater & Sims, are progressing favorably. Mr. Wm. Stewart is managing the contract on behalf of the sureties.

Hon. J. H. Pope, who was too unwell to go home for the Christmas or New Year's holidays, left for Cookshire to-day to enjoy a short rest.

ROOM ENOUGH FOR BOTH.

There is no Party in Canada in Favor of Annexation.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Sir Charles Tupper, after spending a few hours in Chicago en route to Washington, left this afternoon. In speaking of Canadian annexation Sir Charles said:

"There is no party in Canada in favor of annexation to the United States; there may be a few individuals here and there but no person has ever been elected to the House of Commons who declared himself previously in favor of that measure. We believe that there is room enough in North America for the Dominion of Canada as well as the United States of America, and that while it is very desirable that there should be the freest possible intercourse between the two countries, we think it is rather an advantage to both of them to illustrate each to the other Republican Government as shown by the States and the British system as practiced in Canada."

THE FISHERIES COMMISSION.

Postponed Until Monday—A Speedy Agreement Not Looked For.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 6.—Sir Charles Tupper has telegraphed to the State Department from Manitoba that owing to delay in railroad communication resulting from heavy snowstorms he will be unable to attend the meeting of the Fisheries Conference, which was to have been held to-morrow. In view of this fact the meeting will be probably postponed until Monday.

The prospect of a speedy agreement on the fishery matter is said to be not quite so good as when Mr. Chamberlain returned from Canada, at all events, from statements which Mr. Chamberlain has himself recently made, it appears that he does not anticipate an immediate agreement. He was asked this morning if he expected to return to England soon. He replied that his duties would detain him in Washington for another month at least.

The Fisheries Commission to Meet Monday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Owing to the snow blockades on the western roads, Sir Charles Tupper will not arrive here before Saturday evening, and the first meeting of the Fisheries Conference will therefore be held on Monday next. Hon. Mr. Thompson, accompanied by Mr. Chipman and Mr. Stewart, arrived this evening.

A Mexican Loan.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 6.—Berlin advices have been received here to the effect that a loan of $52,000,000 for Mexico will be arranged before the close of this month on terms favorable to this country, and it is also stated that the German Government is favorably disposed to placing German capital here where its citizens have built up a large and lucrative trade.

The Legion of Honor Scandal.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—The tribunal to-day resumed the trial of the case against Gen Thibaudin, M. Herbert and M. Dubreuil, who were concerned in the Legion of Honor scandal. The prosecutor announced that additional evidence had been procured which implicated M. Wilson. The case was again adjourned.

Declines to Extend Their Powers.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—On the resumption of the sitting of the Chambers M. Sairrien, Minister of the Interior, will state the Government's policy toward the Paris Municipal Council, which will be in effect that the Government declines to extend the powers of the council.

THE ELECTION COURT RECORD.

One of the standing professions of the Liberal party has been political purity. Their denunciations of any attempt to improperly influence the electors have been vigorous and often eloquent and proper. But when the records of the election courts are examined a tale is told that must astonish those who credited the professions of the Liberal politicians.

A contemporary points out that of the thirteen protests entered in Ontario against Conservatives in connection with the last Dominion election, three have been withdrawn, five dismissed, two have been allowed to lapse, one stands for judgment and two for trial, while of the thirteen protests entered against Liberal members five have succeeded, five stand for trial, one was withdrawn, one dismissed and one member died. This record certainly tells strongly against the Liberal party.

It is also pointed out that from 1874 down to the present time 34 Conservatives have been unseated and one disqualified, while 55 Liberals have been unseated and seven disqualified. The record for these years is also opposed most strongly to the professions of the party, and they cannot be surprised that, in the face of these facts, the people have not confidence in them.

At the same time the record is not one that Conservatives can glory in. It is true that their opponents have been proven to be worse, but that is not a good consolation. The fact that 21 more Liberals than Conservatives have been found guilty of forbidden practices does not wipe out the other fact that 34 Conservatives were unseated. It is the duty of the leading men in both parties to discountenance wrong-doing in elections and to continue to improve the standard of morality until bribery becomes unknown. The results of the trials held show that in doing this the Conservative party has to a large extent been successful, and having taken the lead in the matter they will without doubt retain their position as the purest party.

The severe punishment meted out by several judges to individuals found guilty of giving bribes will have a wholesome effect. The candidate is frequently not cognizant of the wrong-doing, though he has to suffer for it, and when those who actually commit the act also have to suffer, a check is given to corrupt methods.

The court records point out a lesson to the Liberal leaders that they should learn. The should talk less about corruption on the part of their opponents and turn their attention to purifying their own party. Their professions count for little while bribery and undue influence is shown to have been resorted to so largely by members of their party.

The London Advertiser believes that a man may advocate the annexation of Canada to the United States and yet deserve the support and confidence of the Liberal party. If that is true, the Liberal party has our sincere condolence.

---

The war cloud still looms over Europe and again an expectant world is told to "wait till spring." Waiting till spring for hostilities to commence has become an annual affair, and encourages the hope that the cloud will pass away again without a storm.

POPULAR HISTORY OF THE DOMINION OF CANADA.

This handsomely bound and copiously illustrated volume, by the Rev. W. H. Withrow, D. D., F. R. S. C. contains a complete history of the land in which elive from the discovery of America down to the present time, including a full and accurate account of the late Rebellion in the North-West and of its prompt suppression by the valour of our troops. It contains a narrative of the voyage and discoveries of the early explorers of the New World, especially of the several provinces of the Dominion; an account of the manners and customs of the Indian tribes, of the thrilling adventures of the early settlers, and their conflict with the savages; of the long and heroic strife between the English and the French for the possession of the continent, and of its conquest by the English Revolutionary War, especially as affecting Canada; an account of the U. E. Loyalists, and the settlement and early progress of Upper Canada; a detailed history of the War of 1812-15, with its heroic achevments and hard-fought battles and account of the social development and political constitution of the several provinces; of the strife of parties and growth of the principles of civil liberty; a full account of the Rebellion of 1837-38 in Upper and Lower Canada; of the Confederation of the Provinces and Political Constitution of the Dominion; a narrative of the Fenion invasion of 1866 and of the Red River Rebellion of 1869-70; a full account of public events under the administration of Lord Dufferin, the Marquis of Lorne and Lord Lansdowne; the General Election of 1882, the construction of the Pacific Railwa and development of the North-West down to the suppression of the late revolt in 1885. In fact this work is a thorough and reliable history of the Dominion from its earliest discovery to its present aspect of opulence, culture, and refinement. The author is a native of Canada, and is by education and experience in literary work every way qualified to write a book acceptable to every loyal citizen of his country. This History of Canada has been prescribed for honor reading at Victoria University. The book forms an elegant large octavo volume of 70 pages, illustrated with eight steel engraved portraits, one hundred and sixteen woodcuts, and eight beautifully colored maps. It is handsomely bound in three styles of binding, cloth, library and half-morocco. The impartiality of the work is shown by the fact that both Globe and Mail unite in giving it a very high tribute of praise. The Mail says: "The Rev. Dr. Withrow, of this city, has performed a really patriotic work in the prepartion of his admirable 'History of Canda,' has a real genius for historical research. . Dr. Withrow has performed his work well, and done an important serve to his country. . It deserves to be widely circulated and generally read, especially by the young people of the Dominion. Dr. Withrow's 'History of Canada,' is cordially recommended to the public." The Globe says: "Were this 'History of Canada' placed, as we think it deserves to be placed, on the curriculum at least of every institution of higher education in the country, and made to hold a position of equal honor with works on British and European history, then disgraceful ignorance of the earlier or later history of the Dominion would soon become as much the exception as there are good reasons for fearing is at present too much the prevailing rule. The mechanical workmanship of this book is worthy of its excellent reading matter. It ought to find a place in every Canadian library." We advise our readers to buy this admirable history at the first opportunity. They can, in our opinion, much better afford to dispense with a dozen other books than not possess this. Once begun it will not willingly be laid aside till the last page is finished.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

Owing to their being several narrow escapes from serious injury through coasting the Mayor has issued a notice declaring that the by-law regarding it will be be strictly enforced. Boys found coasting within the corporation are liable to be brought before the Court and fined $20. On Friday a boy who was coasting near the Protestant Home came within a hair's breadth of being killed by a passing train. His sleigh was smashed to atoms and he rolled off the track just in time to save his life.

A Fire.

At a few minutes after twelve o'clock today a fire was discovered in the baggage room at the Canadian Pacific railway station. Mr. Ellis, who was in charge of the station at the time, with commendable presence of mind, ordered the doors to be kept shut and then telephoned for the Fire Brigade. There was a quick response and the blaze was put out in short order. The walls and floor were charred and some small articles burned. The loss, however, will not be more than $25, covered by insurance in the C. P. R. station insurance fund. The fire is supposed to have started from a match thrown among some waste paper by some one.

On Wednesday, Bailiff McIlmoyle, of Lakefield, went out to Ennismore and seized a cow, two horses and a colt, owned by the Bennett family, under a chattel mortgage held by Wm. A. McIlmoyle. The animals were taken across the road and put in Mr. McIlmoyle's barn. On Thursday the cow was let out to get water, but while out she sought the old homestead. Mr. McIlmoyle went over to Mr. Bennett's and demanded the cow, but did not get her. On failing to get the property he hied away for the bailiff, but while he was away the horses also found their way from the barn to Mr. Bennett's. The bailiff arrived on the scene but could do nothing till he got a search warrant. This he did on Friday and started off again. The animals were found, but not without "quite a cotillion," to use Mr. McIlmoyle's words. It was supposed that John Bennett, Fred Bennett and John Coon were the sources of trouble. They were put under arrest on a charge of larceny and brought to town. At the court this morning the Magistrate said he learned that the prisoners did not know that the act was liable to punishment and that they had been wrongly advised. He advised settlement. The prosecution was willing to settle if the prisoners paid the costs. The prisoners paid the costs, $12.55, and were discharged.

WILD PONIES OF THE COAST.

Peculiarities of a Hardy Race of Horses Called "Bankers"—The Corralling.

On the banks or sand bars that divide the Atlantic ocean from Pamlico sound, North Carolina, just inside the lighthouse that marks out to the mariner dreaded Cape Lookout, there is to be found a hardy race of ponies known as "bankers." These ponies have lived there as long as the tradition of the oldest inhabitant dates back. Entirely surrounded by deep water at all seasons, having no communication with the mainland, and being barren of vegetation save a scanty growth of sedge grass and low shrubs, the banks have remained uninhabited except by these ponies, which seem to thrive and multiply in spite of the hardships to which they are exposed. How they first came there, or of what origin, is conjecture, and tradition merely hints the story of a violent storm, with its attendant shipwreck and loss of all on board, save a lot of ponies from some European port, which were cast upon the sands, and surviving the storm became the progenitors of the race of bankers now so numerous.

Having to rely on instinct alone, these animals are a subject of study to the naturalist, as they are a prey not only to the driving sands but to the storms of the cape, that break upon and over the narrow sand bar and change with each recurring hurricane the topography of the country. The ponies, choosing the protected side of the sand hillocks, burrow deep into the yielding sand and stamp out a protected stall, where they take refuge from the storm; and, while many are destroyed, their number has increased. Now the stock is owned and yearly herded by enterprising owners, who brand with a registered mark such old ones as are driven into the pens, and the colts of all, which instinctively follow their dams into the inclosure.

This corralling is the event of the season, and takes place early in June, late in July and early in September of each year. The days selected are gala days, and the inhabitants of the coast, and even visitors from the interior of the state, gather to witness the sight. The herders, separating in squads, take their position far up the banks, and gradually forming by concert a continuous living fence—drawing in its line and forcing each stray pony before them—they approach the pens with shouts and yells that only bank's herders can produce. The excitement is intense as an occasional pony escapes through the surrounding, and then the line must be at once strengthened by reserves, for fear of a general stampede. As the frightened ponies draw near the stockade they become confused and seem to tread each other down, until finally they are safe within the inclosure. Now the expert herders with lassoes, accompanied by helpers shouting and wildly crying, select the animals designated by their owners, soon bringing them into subjection, and while the more refractory youngsters have to be thrown in order to be branded, the majority are held and branded with the initial of their respective dams. This work done, the older ponies are picked out by speculators and individual purchasers, and caught and penned separately until they are sold, and, on flats or sail boats, brought to the mainland to be scattered over the state for use on the farms and as saddle ponies for the young folk.—American Agriculturist.

Servants of an English Household.

At family prayers the servants come in in regular order according to their position, housekeeper and ladies' maids first—the men (in their order) following the maids. The servants' dinners, too, are conducted with much ceremony. The under servants wait on the upper ones, etc. Indeed, the servants are great sticklers for and observers of rules of precedence, and conservers of social dignity and etiquette among themselves. And they expect, and require, nay demand it, to an intensified degree among their masters and mistresses. A gentleman or lady who neglected to observe or follow any of the trivial niceties or ceremonies of high life would lose caste at once in the eyes of their servants, and forfeit, with their respect, all influence with them.

I can fancy the effect on the groom of the chambers or the butler, if any gentleman appeared at a home dinner except in full evening dress. Why, not only would these men consider themselves degraded in the house, but scandalized throughout the neighborhood, through which the tidings would soon spread. The only excuse to be made for a gentleman so wanting in dignity as to dine in a suit of dittoes would be that he was eccentric, and no one cares to be thought that. The ladies' maids, too, could never brook a failure to dress for dinner on the part of their mistresses. And so, for fear of the resentful eye of the house steward or butler, smoking is confined to the smoking room; soup is never indulged in twice; beer not drunk at dinner save in one draught from a silver tankard handed to (and replaced by) the drinker on a silver waiter; and clothes are worn but a short time and "cast" while they are really new. I have often contended, and will contend, that it is the servants who keep up, and through their influence exact, "good form" among the aristocracy. Were it not for them you wouldn't see half so many usages kept up or customs followed.—"Cockaigne" in The Argonaut.

HAVELOCK.

CONCERT AND PRESENTATION.—At a concert held in Havelock on Saturday evening, Dec. 24th, Miss Mark, the efficient teacher of the public school at that place, was presented with a handsome silver butter dish, a beautiful silver pickle cruet, a parlor lamp and a set of vases, by the children of the school. Miss Mark has accepted a situation in the Allandale school, and as the above shows, leaves for her new field of labor with the best wishes of the people of Havelock. The concert was a very successful one, both financially and in point of attendance. The Rev. T. Williams, of Havelock, occupied the chair, and discharged the duties of the position in a highly creditable manner. Mr. Fuller and Miss Renwick, of Norwood, and Mr. Bonnett, of Peterborough, took part in the programme. The singing of Messrs. Fuller and Bonnett is deserving of special mention, and the hearty encores they received from the audience showed them to be favorites. Miss Renwick's and Miss Young's recitations were also well received. Lack of space prevents us from going into details, but we would be neglecting our duty if we did not make mention of the excellent manner in which the children of the school acquitted themselves. They must certainly have received very careful training. The proceeds amounted to $38.00. —Register.

SATURDAY JANUARY 7, 1888.

MRS. BURKE WAS NOT POISONED.

Coroner Duncan's Jury Find that She Died From Natural Causes.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.

Coroner Duncan last night concluded his enquiry into the death of Elizabeth Burke of 309 Wellesley-street, who died on Dec. 11. Deceased was supposed to have died from a poison administered by her daughter Annie, the latter having been in custody ever since. The enquiry was held in Fielder's Hotel at Parliament and Carlton-streets.

Dr. H. Brent and Dr. R. A. Pyne, the physicians who made the autopsy, presented their report and gave evidence. Dr. Brent said that when he was called to attend deceased on Dec. 12 she was almost pulseless and complained, by signs, of burning pains and cramps. The symptoms indicated the presence of some irritant poison, and led to the suspicion of foul play. Witness' suspicions were afterwards confirmed by Nellie Burke's statement: "I placed mother there, and will soon have you beside her." Other threats led witness to suspect some one in connection with the death of Mrs. Burke.

Detective Alf. Cuddy, F. Babington, Dr. W. H. Ellis, analyst, and Nellie Burke were all examined. Dr. Ellis said that he had failed to find any poison that would have produced death in the stomach, its contents or throat. The suspicious packages of powder were simply epsom salts and plaster paris, while the damaging evidence in the shape of a phial containing fluid was completely destroyed by the discovery that the fluid was a weak solution of sulphuric acid.

The jury returned a verdict "that Elizabeth Burke died of inflammation of the stomach, brought on by natural causes." Annie Burke was then released from custody.

The Leading Officers to be Looked After.

HAMILTON, Jan. 6.—The full board of the Northern and of the Hamilton and Northwestern Railways met here to-day to receive General Manager Barker's report of his negotiations with Mr. Hickson at Montreal. They were not long in conclave, so that it may be assumed that all went merry as a wedding bell, and that the transfer of the roads to the Grand Trunk is an accomplished fact. Possession of the Northern's yards and premises at Toronto will be of immense value to Mr. Hickson's road, but the squatter's title under which the Northern has held for many years may be upset, in which case the more valuable it is the more it will cost to retain. It is understood that all the leading officers of the Northern will be looked after.

Nihilists Hanged.

LONDON, Jan. 6.—A telegram from the Russian frontier states that the eight Nihilists, including the Cossack Tschernoff, who were condemned to death for making an attempt upon the life of the Czar during his visit to the Don Cossack country, were hanged at St. Petersburg on Jan. 2.

Bribery Convictions in Prince Edward.

PICTON, Jan. 6.—At the conclusion of the election trial held here on Dec. 13 and 14 last at which Dr. Platt, the sitting member, was unseated and the election voided, a number of too zealous supporters of the Doctor were held for trial on the charges of bribery and such charges were deferred until to-day for further hearing before Judge Patterson. Thomas Coltier was fined $5 with costs and two days in jail. Rodman Ostrander was fined $50 and costs and two days' imprisonment. David Welbanks, who has gained unenviable local notoriety from having prosecuted The Gazette for libel was also fined $50 with costs and sentenced to three weeks' imprisonment.

Bartender Brown Getting Better.

PORT PERRY, Jan. 6.—George Brown, the bartender who was shot twice during the fracas at Myrtle Station on the night of Dec. 14 last, is improving wonderfully. He is now at home with his family here. No trace, however, of the two bullets which entered his chest has been obtained, and it is believed they have become incisted in the tissues, where they may remain for the balance of his life.

Notorious Criminals Arrested.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—John Gallagher, alias "White Wings," Daniel McKay alias "Boston Jack," and John J. Quinlan alias "Jim Ryan," three members of a notorious gang of church and school house thieves, have been arrested. It is said they plundered more than 100 churches in New England alone.

The Irish Scandal.

CORK, Jan. 6.—Capt. Plunkett has informed the magistrate that Canon O'Mahoney refused the police access to the three girls who it is alleged were assaulted by Mr. Roberts, the Governor of the County Jail. The inquiries in the case have therefore been stopped. Mr. Roberts has been advised to prosecute Canon O'Mahoney.

Mr. Dingley's Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Mr. Dingley's resolution, calling upon the President for information relative to alleged discrimination by the Canadian Government against American shipping passing through the Welland Canal, was discussed by the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, but the committee adjourned without action upon the matter. The committee selected Mondays and Saturdays as the regular days of meeting.

The Quebec printers' strike, as regards the French offices, remains unchanged, the men being determined to hold out.

COUNTESS NARONA.

By WILKIE COLLINS.

THE FOURTH PART.

Henry looked at the chambermaid. She had little to tell. The countess had refused to go to bed; and had placed herself at her desk to proceed with her writing. Finding it useless to remonstrate with her, the maid had left the room to speak to the manager. In the shortest possible time the doctor was summoned to the hotel, and found the countess dead on the floor. There was this to tell, and no more.

Looking at the writing table as he went out, Henry saw the sheet of paper on which the countess had traced her last lines of writing. The characters were almost illegible. Henry could just distinguish the words, "First Act," and "Persons of the Drama." The lost wretch had been thinking of her play to the last, and had begun it all over again!

CHAPTER XXVII.

Henry returned to his room.

His first impulse was to throw aside the manuscript, and never to look at it again. The one chance of relieving his mind from the dreadful uncertainty that oppressed it, by obtaining positive evidence of the truth, was a chance annihilated by the countess' death. What good purpose could be served, what relief could be anticipate, if he read more?

He walked up and down the room. After an interval, his thoughts took a new direction; the question of the manuscript presented itself under another point of view. Thus far, his reading had only informed him that the conspiracy had been planned. How did he know that the plan had been put in execution?

The manuscript lay just before him on the floor. He hesitated—then picked it up; and, returning to the table, read on as follows, from the point at which he had let off:

"While the countess is still absorbed in the bold yet simple combination of circumstances which she has discovered, the baron returns. He takes a serious view of the case of the courier; it may be necessary, he thinks, to send for medical advice. No servant is left in the palace; now the English maid has taken her departure. The baron himself must fetch the doctor, if the doctor is really needed.

"'Let us have medical help by all means,' his sister replies. 'But wait and hear something that I have to say to you first.' She then electrifies the baron by communicating her ideas to him. What danger of discovery have they to dread? My lord's life in Venice has been a life of absolute seclusion; nobody but his banker knows him, even by personal appearance. He has presented his letter of credit as a perfect stranger; and he and his banker have never seen each other since that first visit. He has given no parties, and gone to no parties. On the few occasions when he has hired a gondola or taken a walk, he has always been alone. Thanks to the atrocious suspicion which makes him ashamed of being seen with his wife, he has led the very life which makes the proposed enterprise easy of accomplishment.

"The cautious baron listens—but gives no positive opinion as yet. 'See what you can do with the courier,' he says, 'and I will decide when I hear the result. One valuable hint I may give you before you go. Your man is easily tempted by money—if you only offer him enough. The other day I asked him in jest what he would do for £1,000. He answered anything. Bear that in mind, and offer your highest bid without bargaining.'

"The scene changes to the courier's room and shows the poor wretch with a photographic portrait of his wife in his hand, crying. The countess enters.

"She wisely begins by sympathizing with her contemplated accomplice. He is duly grateful; he confides his sorrows to his gracious mistress. Now that he believes himself to be on his deathbed he feels remorse for his neglectful treatment of his wife. He could resign himself to die, but despair overpowers him when he remembers that he has saved no money, and that he will leave his widow without resources, to the mercy of the world.

"On this hint the countess speaks. 'Suppose you were asked to do a perfectly easy thing,' she says; 'and suppose you were rewarded for doing it by a present of £1,000 as a legacy for your widow?'

"The courier raises himself on his pillow, and looks at the countess with an expression of incredulous surprise. She can hardly be cruel enough (he thinks) to joke with a man in his miserable plight. Will she say plainly what this perfectly easy thing is, the doing of which will meet with such a magnificent reward?

"The countess answers that question by confiding her project to the courier, without the slightest reserve.

"Some minutes of silence follow when she has done. The courier is not weak enough yet to speak without stopping to think first. Still keeping his eyes on the countess, he makes a quaintly innocent remark on what he has just heard. 'I have not hitherto been a religious man; but I feel myself on the way to it. Since your ladyship has spoken to me, I believe in the devil.' It is the countess' interest to see the humorous side of this confession of faith. She takes no offense. She only says, 'I will give you half an hour by yourself, to think over my proposal. You are in danger of death. Decide, in your wife's interests, whether you will die worth nothing, or die worth a thousand pounds.'

"Left alone, the courier seriously considers his position—and decides. He rises with difficulty; writes a few lines on a leaf taken from his pocket book; and with slow and faltering steps leaves the room.

"The countess, returning at the expiration of the half hour's interval, finds the room empty While she is wondering the courier opens the door. What has he been doing out of his bed? He answers: 'I have been protecting my own life, my lady, on the bare chance that I may recover from the bronchitis for the third time. If you or the baron attempt to hurry me out of this world or to deprive me of my £1,000 reward I shall tell the doctor where he will find a few lines of writing which describes your ladyship's plot. I may not have strength enough, in the case supposed, to betray you by making a complete confession with my own lips, but I can employ my last breath to speak the half dozen words which will tell the doctor where he is to look. Those words, it is needless to add, will be addressed to your ladyship if I find your engagements toward me faithfully kept.'

"With this audacious preface he proceeds to state the condition on which he will play his part in the conspiracy, and die (if he does die) worth £1 000.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

Dr. J. C. Webster, Chicago, says:—"I consider it valuable in many forms of dyspepsia."

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3 75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ⅓ regular prices.

w don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPAR'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Board of Trade will meet on Jan. 24 for the nomination and on Jan. 31 for the election of officers. It is likely that the annual meeting will be held in the City Council Chamber.

The seduction case of Bass v. Lawrence was concluded in the Assize Court yesterday, when the jury awarded the plaintiff $500 damages.

The Ontario Gazette of to-day will contain these appointments: Wm. Grant, Perth, associate coroner for Lanark; Ed. W. Munn 27 Gracechurch-street, London, Eng., commissioner for taking affidavits in London for use in Ontario courts; Duncan Campbell, township Bentwick, clerk Seventh Division Court of Grey; William Brown, Glenelg, clerk Eighth Division Court of Grey; John Small, Bentwick, bailiff Seventh Division Court of Grey; W. G. Pickell, Glenelg, bailiff Eighth Division Court of Grey.

Letters patent have been issued incorporating the Galt Rink Company (limited) of Galt, capital $5000; the Rideau Skating and Curling Company of Ottawa, capital stock $10,000; the Drumbo Trading Company (limited) of Drumbo, capital stock $15,000.

A by-law has been passed by the Hamilton Iron Forging Company, increasing the capital stock of the company from $35,000, to $100,000.

It is not likely that the firm of W. J. McMaster & Co. will resume. On the contrary everything points to a complete wind up.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

WILES OF THE MUSCOVITE.

RUSSIAN STRATEGISTS UNWILLING TO RISK WAR UNTIL SUMMER.

Peaceful Negotiations are Therefore Prolonged, But Military Operations Continue With Unabated Activity—Attitude of England—The Recent Forgeries.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—A calm, which official and diplomatic circles know to be deceptive, prevails for the moment. The Austrian and Russian Governments have exchanged assurances of peace aspirations, to which nobody attaches the slightest importance. The only actual change in the situation tending toward peace is the active resumption of negotiations between Count Kalnokey, the Austrian Foreign Minister, and Prince Lobanoff, the Russian Ambassador at Vienna, for the settlement of the balance of power in the Balkan Peninsula. This mitigates the crisis and removes the danger of war, at least for the present; but it does not modify any of the essential differences between the two governments. The negotiations are expected by both sides to end in an exact definition of the respective demands, such as heretofore has not existed and from which may be obtained a valid excuse for war.

According to a semi-official despatch received from Vienna, Prince Lobanoff has opened the diplomatic campaign by proposing as the first step toward an entente the removal of Prince Ferdinan from the throne of Bulgaria under a joint mandate from the powers; the election of a new Prince by a new Sobranje, and the reappointment of Russian officers to the Bulgarian army.

In the meantime the Foreign Office here holds aloof from the negotiations, which are recognized as feelers by Russia toward other demands. Russia will next raise a new question on Austrian retention of Bosnia and Herzegovina. These provinces were occupied under a purely temporary title, but are now practically annexed. Austria will be called upon to evacuate them, and it is probable that the question of their future administration will be referred to a conference of the powers. An ostensible casus belli, it is anticipated, will arise over Austria's refusal to divide the Balkans.

The lines of St. Petersburg diplomacy tend to a protracted exchange of views, thus assisting the plans of the Russian strategists, who are unwilling to risk war until the summer.

Meanwhile, war preparations progress on either side. The Warsaw arsenal is working day and night. At Kovn more extensive earthworks are being constructed and the defenses of Ivan-Gorvel are being armed with heavy guns. Cracow papers report that the Russians are erecting a bridge at the junction of the San with the Vistula, and are forming there also a cavalry camp. They also report that 4000 ambulance beds were distributed last week along the stations on the Vistula line; that a military intelligence bureau has been established at Piotrkoff and that the valuables, pictures and art treasures in the Imperial residences in Poland are being removed to the interior of Russia.

Another strong column of troops has been concentrated in the Lubin district. Another division of cavalry has left Kischeneff and a division of grenadiers has gone from Riga. Both divisions are bound for Poland. The total force of Russians in the Warsaw, Wilna and Kieff districts, according to a military estimate, reaches 325,000 men, with 720 guns. The cavalry regiments stationed immediately on the frontier are being supplied with rations on the same scale as during an actual campaign. The cost to the Russian treasury is also equal to the war cost. Everything points to the conclusion that the Czar means to enforce his terms, if not by diplomacy, by war.

The attitude of England in the event of hostilities will be one of friendly neutrality. This fact is known to the Berlin Foreign Office. No overtures have ever been made to the German Government for England's co-operation in the triple alliance. The Cologne Gazette's article urging the advantage to England of joining the alliance was without official inspiration. What official inspiration resulted [illegible] position of England is derived from London and St. Petersburg. The Czar has obtained the assurance that England has not joined the alliance. The Moscow Gazette to-day emphasizes the wisdom of England abstaining from any coalition with the central European powers. It says that she should rather conciliate Russia, in order to remain in peaceful possession of India. A Pan-Slavist organ seeks to show that Lord Salisbury's friendly neutrality is associated with sympathy for Bismarck's policy; and says that the evolution of events may soon convert this sympathy into active co-operation with the alliance.

The Czar continues to insist upon absolute reticence regarding the persons concerned in the recent forgeries. An official denial is published to-night of the statement that the King and Queen of Greece obtained the documents from M. Paul de Rouledo and showed them to the Czar at Copenhagen. Their majesties never saw De Rouledo at Copenhagen or elsewhere. It is certain that the documents were given to the Czar when he was visiting at Fredensborg through a member of the Danish royal family. This makes him unwilling to consent to a complete revelation.

Reserves Dismissed.

VIENNA, Jan. 8.—A despatch to The Presse from Bucharest says that the Russian reserves in the Odessa district have been dismissed.

MR. BLUNT'S APPEAL.

The Conviction and Sentence Confirmed—An Irish M.P. Arrested in Cork.

DUBLIN, Jan. 8.—The hearing at Portnumna of the appeal in the case of Mr. Wilfrid Blunt, who was arrested on a charge of violating the Crimes Act by addressing a meeting at Woodford, Ireland, and was convicted and sentenced there to two months' imprisonment, resulted in the conviction and sentence being confirmed. County Court Judge Henn, before whom Mr. Blunt's appeal was heard, declared that though Mr. Blunt had not acted wisely he had shown no cowardice.

Immediately after the decision in Mr. Blunt's case he was conveyed to the jail. He was followed by a large crowd, whom the police attempted to avoid by a ruse. This proved futile and a conflict occurred between the crowd and the police, during which swords and batons were used. Several persons were injured.

Mr. William John Lane, member of Parliament for the East Division of Cork, has been arrested in Cork on the charge of making a seditious speech at Watergrass Hill on Dec. 4. He was admitted to bail.

K. OF L. AND THE CHURCH.

A Letter From Cardinal Taschereau Read in the Quebec Churches Yesterday.

QUEBEC, Jan. 8.—Certain influence has been brought to bear upon Cardinal Taschereau in regard to the present printers' strike, and as a result the following letter was read in the various Roman Catholic churches to-day:

In my circular of April 5, 1887, I informed you that the Holy See had suspended until further orders the effect of the condemnation of the society of the Knights of Labor. Among other conditions the Holy See exacts: 1. That the Knights of Labor be ready to abandon this society so soon as it shall ordain it. 2. That they sincerely and explicitly promise absolutely to avoid all that may either favor Masonic and other condemned societies, or violate the laws either of justice, charity or of the state. 3. That they abstain from every promise and from every oath by which they would bind themselves either to obey blindly all the orders of the directors of the society or keep absolute secrecy even towards lawful sutho rities. Catholics who fail in one of these condit ions are unworthy of the sacraments of the church.

To those who will consult you (the rectors) you will tell them for me (the Cardinal) that I strongly advise all the Catholics of the archdiocese not to enroll themselves in this society which is, to say the least, dangerous, and if they already belong, to withdraw therefrom as soon as possible.

THE FISHERIES COMMISSION.

Sir Charles and Mr. Angell Delayed En Route—The Voorhees Incident.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Sir Charles and Lady Tupper arrived last evening from Winnipeg via Chicago. Sir Charles was the victim of two delays en route, one at St. Paul and another at Chicago. Mr. Angell, one of the American plenipotentiaries, was also delayed and arrived a few hours earlier than Sir Charles. It has transpired that the postponement of the conference from Saturday to Monday was mutually arranged before the delay occurred, thus relieving the snow-bound diplomats of the responsibility of the slight delay.

There is still considerable comment here regarding the alleged interruption of Senator Voorhees during the delivery of his tariff speech on Wednesday last. It appears that Chamberlain was a guest on the floor of the Senate during the occurrence and the lion tail twisters are attempting to connect his presence with the interruption. The facts appear to be that a number of Senators crowded around Mr. Chamberlain and gave him a warm greeting and, if in doing so any interruption occurred, it seems most unfair to suppose that Mr. Chamberlain could have prevented it. The more respectable element both inside and outside the Senate appear to regard the matter as a tempest in a teapot.

Mr. Weldon, M.P. for St. John, N.B., is here, en route for Cuba, where he is going for the benefit of his health. He expects to return in time to take his seat in Parliament.

Mrs. McAuley Again Arrested.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Ida McAuley, who killed her husband Christmas eve on discovering that he was engaged in an intrigue with her sister-in-law, was rearrested yesterday afternoon. Mrs. McAuley's discharge was recommended by the coroner's jury, and she was set free about a week ago. Yesterday she took out letters of administration for her husband's estate, worth about $0000. To-day the dead man's mother swore out a warrant charging the wife with murder.

Discount Easy in London.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Discount was easy during the past week at 2 and 1⅛. On the Stock Exchange business was inactive, but prices showed a firm tendency. Foreign securities were strong under the more peaceful aspect of the political situation. American railroad securities generally were not changed. There was nothing doing in speculative stocks, but there was steady investing in the better class of stocks, which maintained prices.

HARD ON THE CONFERENCE

A VICIOUS ATTACK MADE ON MR. CHAMBERLAIN.

Senator Ingalls Preparing to Immortalize Himself—The London Daily News on the Question of Arbitration—Conference Dinner Parties.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The London Daily News, commenting on the re-assembling of the Fisheries Commission, presumes that Lord Salisbury will offer no opposition to a reference of the defined points in dispute to regular arbitration as suggested. It says such a reference would be a wise method of ending the dispute.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Senator Evarts has invited Mr. Chamberlain, Sir Charles Tupper and the American plenipotentiaries to dine with him on Thursday next, and Mr. Chamberlain gives the second of his series of dinner parties on Jan. 20.

Senator Ingalls (Republican), the President of the Senate, intends to-day probably to make a vicious attack on Mr. Chamberlain. He claims that on Thursday Mr. Chamberlain was on the floor of the Senate and disturbed the proceedings by indulging in loud conversation with senators. As a matter of fact the guilty men are, the Senators and not Mr. Chamberlain; but Mr. Ingalls sees a fine chance to make political capital, and will make the affair a peg on which to hang a violent speech denouncing the Administration and the entire fishery negotiations.

THE IMPERIAL MINISTRY.

All the Stories of Serious Dissension Pronounced Unfounded.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The Herald's London correspondent cables: There are rumors afloat of serious dissensions in the Ministry, which are said to be likely to lead to one or two resignations. I may, without qualification, pronounce all these stories unfounded. No doubt the Ministerial family party have differed more than once over the new Local Government Bill, some objecting to the very broad and popular lines on which it has been framed, but these differences are gradually softening down rather than becoming aggravated. Mr. Ritchie is managing the bill, and he will, I suspect, get his own way in the end.

TORONTO TOPICS.

It is reported that the Reform Club will have an entire flat of the new building of the Bank of Commerce. It will not be ready for more than a year.

The costs of the day in the Irving-Smith case are to be taxed to-day. If they are not settled by defendant to-morrow, the case goes on the peremptory list and will be heard Wednesday or Thursday. It is said the defendan'ts solicitor will decline to pay and is ready to proceed. Hector Cameron, Q.C., and N. Gordon Bigelow have been retained as counsel for the defence.

"It will be some time before we have another meeting of Central Bank shareholders," said Mayor Howland to a reporter on Saturday afternoon. "The claims are coming in rapidly, and the immense amount of collections to be made necessitate much work. A meeting will not be called until we have something definite to report on. In the meantime liquidation is progressing."

The Halton election trial was concluded at Osgoode Hall Saturday morning before Mr. Justice Rose. Lawyer McGibbon of Milton, who appeared on behalf of the appellant, Mr. Henderson, called Wm. Bullivant of Milton to the stand. Bullivant swore that he was paid $6 by James Bell to come to Toronto on Feb. 23, 1887, the day of election, and not to vote. He did as requested.

This proved bribery by an agent, and the judge declared that the election must be voided and Mr. John Waldie, M.P., unseated. As for the parties shown to have been guilty of corrupt practices, he directed that Bullivant and Bell appear before him at Milton on Feb. 3 to answer to the charge.

The Stories of Starvation False.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Jan. 8.—Several men from Twillingate, Green Bay, Nfld., arrived here yesterday en route to Seattle to engage in the seal fishery. They report the codfish and herring catch this season on the Labrador coast as fairly good. The stories of starvation in that locality they say are false and the people are quite comfortable.

A Dense Fog.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—A dense fog prevails on the Irish coast. The steamer Wisconsin was unable to land the mails at Queenstown. In a collision between the steamers Stoneham and Colstrup, off Dover, the former was sunk and seven persons were drowned.

The Skating Championship of Austria.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—A race for the one-mile skating championship of Austria took place to-day at Vienna. Alex. Von Poulenon, a Russian youth, won easily in 3 min. 36 sec.

AT THE GERMAN CAPITAL.

Emperor William's Cold — The Crown Prince's Case—The Socialist Bill.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—Rumors that Emperor William was seriously ill and had been attacked with fainting fits were current yesterday. The rumors have received an emphatic denial from officials doing business at the palace. Count Herbert Bismarck, on returning to-day from a visit to his brother William at Hanau, had a long audience with Emperor William. Col. Brix presented to the Emperor the first imprint of the army list for 1888, and the Emperor chatted cheerfully during the audience. The Imperial family suffer in common with a host of people from the changeable weather. The Emperor's cold is attended with slight pains in the back and abdomen. His physicians to-day declare that they do not regard them as anything serious, but they insist upon his resting more.

The Crown Prince has recovered from the catarrh. Dr. Schmidt, who is visiting him, is not the Frankfort specialist of that name, but a Swiss doctor, who claims to have discovered a new and successful mode of treatment. Dr. Virchow's paper on the diagnosis and prognosis of cancer does not encourage the view that the Crown Prince's malady is non-cancerous. It rather proves that all his symptoms are consistent with cancer, and that the cicatrizing of the tumors, on which Dr. Mackenzie rests hope, occurs frequently in cancers and does not denote that the tumors are healing.

Prince Bismarck will come to Berlin on Jan. 14 to attend the opening of the Landtag. The Conservatives and National Liberals desire to extend to five years the period of the the Legislature. The Socialist Bill, before being presented in the Reichstag, will undergo important modifications. The Bundesrath has amended the article banishing Socialists by limiting the power of the Federal Government to banishing only those convicted under the law of a second offence, especially as members of secret societies. The Volksblatt declares that if the project is carried in its present form the Socialist members will not contest future elections to the Reichstag.

THE VICTORIA JUBILEE FUND.

An Institution to be Founded for Nurses for the Sick Poor.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The celebration of Queen Victoria's jubilee will result in permanent benefit to the poorer classes. The Queen has instructed a small committee to report the best means of utilizing the surplus woman's jubilee offering. This committee, consisting of the Duke of Westminster, Sir James Paget, and Sir Rutherford Alcock, unanimously advise Her Majesty to apply the money to founding an institution for promoting the education and maintaining of nurses for the sick poor in their own homes. The centre of the institution is to be in London, with branches at Edinburgh and Dublin. The nurses will be classified in two ranks, according to length of service, or skill and devotion. The Queen has always, since the death of her husband, whom she nursed in his illness, taken the deepest interest in nursing the sick. She delights in visiting the homes of her servants and even of the peasantry in the neighborhood of Balmoral in case of sickness, and it was her suggestion that the money should be applied in some such way as now recommended.

Judge O'Hagan's Real Reason.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Judge O'Hagan differed from his brother Land Commissioners, Litton and Wrench, in respect to the famous rent reduction edict, not because he thought it went too far in giving discretionary powers to the Land Commission to make abatements, but not far enough. He thought the act gave greater powers in this respect than his colleagues would use. I believe what the Parnellites complain of is that the reductions are made dependent on the prices of produce. Now prices vary according to scarcity; thus the farmer may get less for the entire produce of the farm when prices are high than when low. The Times to-day gives prominence to a letter from a correspondent, who alleges that he knows a man who will not pay his rent who has £700 in gold under the floor of his cabin. "His cabin," says The Times," is literally paved with gold."

Murder and Suicide.

CAMDEN, N.J., Jan. 8.—Isaac Merrick yesterday afternoon shot his young daughter dead at their home on Central-avenue, and then turned the weapon on himself with fatal effect.

A Concession to Spain.

ROME, Jan. 8.—The Riforma announces that Italy has conceded to Spain for fifteen years territory on the Bay of Assab, suitable for a coaling station, reserving, however, the right to use it herself to the exclusion of others in time of war.

The Italians Advancing.

ROME, Jan. 8.—Advices from Massowah state that Generals Gene and Cagni have advanced their fortified posts to a point near Dogali. Gen. San Marzano, the Commander-in-Chief, is moving his headquarters to Fort Monkucto.

HAVE HAD EXPERIENCE.

An American journal suggests that the opposition to any reform of the tariff comes from an apprehension that if the people discover the benefits of a moderate reduction they will clamor for more. This style of argument would have no effect on this side of the lines. The people of Canada had an experience of a lower tariff arranged on a revenue basis and that experience was not such as to make them hunger for more of it.

It is noticeable that none even of the more ardent advocates of tariff reform in the United States ask for any reduction that would open the door to European manufacturers to compete with home products. Their protective tariff was designed to keep out European goods for the benefit of home production and it is not proposed to interfere with that design. Those United States papers which tell Canadians that free trade between the two countries would retain that protection against European products for the Canadian manufacturers should remember that the National Policy was not intended solely for the purpose of protecting factories of this country from European competition. One of the purposes was to prevent the Canadian marts from continuing to be slaughter markets for United States goods. It is still required to serve the same purpose.

The Philadelphia paper that told its readers that the United States manufacturers required the Canadian market, because they were now obliged to form combinations to break down weak competitors and to sell their unsaleable surplus in foreign countries for what they would bring, may have put forward a good argument in favor of commercial union from a United States point of view, but it also furnished additional evidence of the necessity on the part of Canada for maintaining its policy of protection.

"The Peterborough Review gives an account," says the Toronto Empire, "of the removal of Mr Law's iron bridge works into more extensive premises. The industry which is thus flourishing is the direct result of the National Policy, which enables this and other iron bridge works to be established in Canada and to compete successfully with the bridge makers of the United States. The money that used to be sent abroad is now kept at home to pay for the labor and the supplies needed by the operatives, thence circulating through the community. Yet some Canadians would have us alter all this and make a present of the profits to foreigners."

The Globe has apologized to a clergyman of Bluevale. At the recent timber limit sale in Toronto by the Ontario Government champagne was furnished. The clergyman wrote to the Globe for its opinion as to whether the liquor should have been supplied, and the organ got angry and called him a crank. On discovering who its questioner was it withdrew the epithet.

An election will be held in Carleton. It is an agricultural constituency. Here is another opportunity to test the popularity of commercial union. Carleton is strongly Conservative, but do not the commercial unionists say that the scheme is approved of by all, irrespective of party?

The Fate of Reporter McNeill.

London, Jan. 8.—A post mortem examination has been made of the body of Archie McNeill, who went to France to report the Kilrain-Smith prize fight, and who was found dead on the beach at Boulogne. The doctors agree that he met his death by foul play. The examination revealed the fact that death was not the immediate result of the injuries he received, but that he had been thrown into the water while he was yet alive, though in an unconscious condition.

Medical gentlemen at Boulogne are of the opinion that McNeill was "knuckle-dustered," robbed and then thrown into the water. It has been ascertained that his watch, chain and ring were left at home. The police have received an anonymous letter couched in bad French, enclosing some bank notes belonging to McNeill. His body will arrive in London to-morrow. Relatives of the dead man complain of the apathy on the part of the French police, who ask money to cover the expense of making enquiries.

Poor Collections Cause a Failure.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

Poet Morgan Again.

Mr. J. Dickson Morgan, the "poet," appears to have a fondness for crossing the Atlantic. A card received from him informs the REVIEW that he has again landed in New York and that he is pretty well. The card contains a good many words, but as they are not arranged into rhyme, they are hardly worth printing. Mr. Morgan says he cannot say whether he will come to Peterborough or not. Let us live in the hope—that he will not.

By Mistake.

The new council must meet, according to law, on the third Monday in January. They will meet at eleven o'clock in the clerk's office, file their declarations of office and at noon will hold their first meeting. By some mischance a meeting of the Little Lake Cemetery company is called to meet in the same place at the same hour. As it would not be considered a good omen to have such a meeting in the chamber just when the new council is beginning life it is likely that the cemetery men will be escorted to the policemen's parlor or some other office in the town building.

The Stage.

Harry Webber, the well-known and popular comedian, has purchased the sole American and Canadian right to perform a comedy, entitled "Flint and Steel." Matrimonial Agents, which has achieved immense success through England, Ireland and Scotland, for the past sixteen months. The piece is a roaringly funny, three act "sparkling eccentricity," in three "sparks," and is from the pen of Mr. John F. McArdle, author of "Round the Clock." Mr. Webber will produce his purchase with a good company to support him, and very other auxiliary to a successful production of the great comedy.

A Practical Man.

Those who have watches—and most people carry a time piece—are referred to the advertisement of M. H. Pace, which appears in another column. Mr. Pace is a punctual watchmaker of long experience, trained in London, England, and having spent some eleven years in business at Ottawa. He has opened out on Water Street a conveniently arranged shop where he will do all kinds of repairing and cleaning of the different makes of watches. Mr. Pace is also a clever optican and has had much experience in the manufacture of instruments of scientific purposes. Carrying a full supply of materials and being well skilled, all work entrusted to him will be satisfactorily performed and with promptness.

Twenty-Three Sessions.

During the year 1887 it took just twenty-two sessions of the Town Council to do the people's business, and counting to-night's session the Council for 1887 will have sat in solemn conclave (this may be open to question), twenty-three times, or an average of about two sessions a month. If the Council for 1888 do as well as that—even if they don't lower the record—the reporters hereby make promise to club together next Christmas and give the leading tanner of the burg a contract to issue thirteen gilt edged medals.

On Saturday evening a number of the friends of Mr. George Stevens, despatcher at the Grand Trunk station, assembled at Chamberlain's restaurant to do him honor. A recherche repast, which was prepared according to previous order, was very much enjoyed and the evening passed off very pleasantly. An event was the presentation to Mr. Stevens of a beautiful epergne, a present from his friends as a token of their good will. Mr. Stevens leaves town to-morrow and will be absent for a few days, and when he comes back he will be ranked among the benedicts. The REVIEW joins with his many Peterborough friends, in wishing him and Mrs. Stevens to be, much happiness.

—The last meeting of the Council for 1887 will be held at the usual place this evening.

—Notices have been placed at the principal rendevous within the town of coasting boys, warning them of the penalty they are liable to if the policemen catch them sleighriding.

—The Collegiate Institute and public schools re-opened this morning. There was a good attendance at all of the schools notwithstanding the cold weather.

—Mr. Richard Martin, down town agent or the Water Company, states that not one hydrant in town is frozen. The tallow at the top is a little stiff and this is the reason there was difficulty on Thursday night getting the hydrants to work. A longer lever for use in winter time would be of value to the fire department.

Railway Notes.

—Ten more families moved from Port Hope to Lindsay last week.

—Work on the new engine house at Lindsay is progressing. The large engine and boiler are position. There are 33 large double windows in the building, holding 3,300 panes of glass.

—Freight traffic over the Midland division, says the Lindsay Post, is exceedingly brisk for the time of year, and a large through trade is being done in lumber and grain from Midland City and in wood and other commodities from Haliburton, Kinmount, etc., which is shipped to Toronto. The wood trade alone engages two trains, one coming from Toronto with empties and transferring them at Lindsay to a train which conveys the loaded cars to this point, taking back the loaded ones in the wake of the mail trains. Three or four special trains a day is not unusual, and not light trains either—no, not by any means.

THE WORLD IS BETTER.

ABUSES THE PEOPLE OF OLDEN TIME FOUGHT AGAINST NOW NO MORE.

A Higher Ideal of Right Discovers evil in What our Forefathers Acquiesced in—Forms of Regeneration.

The Rev. Thomas Manning's clear voice was heard again in the George Street Methodist Church on Sunday morning and Sunday evening. He has not preached in this church since he went to Oshawa, but it was evident by the very large congregations which were present at both services, that his plain speaking in the pulpit—his lucid way of presenting the truth, had lost none of its power to attract. The church was filled on Sunday evening—gallery, auditorium and transept—when the Rev. Mr. Manning and the Rev. Mr. Thompson came in and went up to the pulpit. The introductory hymn was given out and the people, led by the organ and choir, sang with much fervor. The Rev. Mr. Manning stood and seemed to draw inspiration from the choral swell of praise from a thousand voices:

Jesus shall reign where'er the sun
Doth his successive journey run,
His Kingdom stretch from shore to shore,
Till suns shall rise to set no more.

The prayer was an earnest petition to the Most High for aid to carry on His work, for continued success in the Sabbath school, for zeal that knew no langor among Christian people in promoting Christian work, for purity of secular government and for prosperity in the land.

The sermon was one which went to show that those who held the world was continually getting worse were somewhat astray in their conclusions. The preacher admitted that appearances would lead one to think that there was more wrong doing now, perhaps, than ever. Some people pointed with a discouraging finger to the fact that we were afflicted with evils which our forefathers were free from. But this was a mistake; our forefathers were afflicted with the same forms of evil. It was the advance of civilization—the clear glare of the enlightenment of the present age that discovered that these peculiar habits were evils. At one time the people thought it no sin to enslave their fellow men. Advancing civilization discovered it was a sin and the people tolerated it no longer. Our forefathers had experienced the delightful sensation of seeing the downfall of evils that generations had been warring against. So we might also see such a day. The reports of Synods, Presbyteries and Conferences were as hopeful as any stock company's. The church was not afraid to cope with the evils of the present day.

"What if I should say that Nihilism, Socialism, Communism and all other organizations which affect rich and poor alike were but indications of good and the forerunners of the emancipation of mankind. This agitation is but a form of progress which is given to us. It may be a fearful form. The powers of the earth may be shaken as they never have been, but in all these fearful, terrible agitations I see the hand of God." "These things are the results of good. No such disturbance was ever heard of in a barbarous state. An ignorant people could not form them. An ignorant people could not conserve them They are the results of civilization and they come to us with promise. They tell us that the world is not the ideal world, and we can look upon them with a degree of satisfacton." "The bondman knows that he is bound and will not rest till he is free: the afflicted man knows that every man is his brother, and will not cease his endeavor till his affliction is removed." "Some part of the truth of Christianity permeates all classes in Europe and America, and it is pressing its way into Asia and Africa."

How unlovely the springtime was. The sun came out and daubed the earth's white robe with mud. When the farmer ceased attending the market and the merchant took stock the exclamation was "How dull!" The child who was caged in the house from the wet and slush sighed that this winter, when he could romp and play, had gone. Was it not better to have winter all the time? God said no. The sun came and it purified, and it made the earth fertile, and green and beautiful. So would the Son of Righteousness come in the glad springtime and these agitations would settle into peace. The great gorges and vast chasms, and the loud plunge of the cataract down a mountain side told that mighty commotions had shaken the earth when its equilibrium was being attained. As in the physical, so in the ideal state. Turmoils and commotions were a necessity. It would be great folly for us to attempt to stem these agitations. Macaulay said, "There is no remedy for the excess of liberty but liberty." It would be a foolish thing to try to prohibit agitation. It would be a foolish thing for all manner and kind of people to try to close up the volcanoes. So long as the earth burned within so long would the volcano belch lava. Better to have a safety valve than explosions.

"I am not glorying in these agitations and I am not advocating lawlessness. But I see in them evidences of coming good."

The amelioration of women's state was pointed to as an advance. At the time of Christ, woman's state in the world was as bondslave to her husband. She was meant to be a helpmate and to tread every path with man that man trod. She had not reached that state yet. "Some men under inspiration of sentiment exalt woman to the highest position and seem to adore her, but in real practical life they are largely barbarous yet." The time would come when a woman who sold $50 worth of dry goods in 24 hours would receive the same salary as the man who sold $50 worth of dry goods in 24 hours, and so in all the walks of life.

Intemperance was one of the evils which was being fought against in the present day. In days gone by it was looked upon as a matter of course. But people were now convinced of its being a curse and like all other evils it was destined to fall. As the people become more and more enlightened its chances for life would grow less and less. In all of these associations for the advancement of society it was noticeable that Christianity was made the groundwork. They all grew out of Christianity, though the founder of Christianity never advocated temperance societies, anti-slavery clubs, prohibition associations, moral reform leagues, or the like. To preach the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ in truth, sincerity, and purity could not help to find a response in the hearts of the sons of men.

SOMEWHAT IRREGULAR.

The Board of Education Holds a Hole and Corner Meeting.

A meeting of the Committee on Appointments in connection with the Board of Education was held in the board room of the Central Canada Loan and Savings Co's office. There were present Messrs. Dumble, Deane, McWilliams, T. Rutherford, A. Rutherford, English, Wrighton and Stratton.

After discussing committee affairs for some time it was moved that the committee resolve itself into an open Board meeting.

Mr. Wrighton protested against such a proceeding. The members were called together as a committee, not as a board.

The motion was put and carried.

Mr. Dumble then read the report of the Committee on Appointments as follows:—

The Committee on Appointments reported that they recommend that Miss Peters be appointed to Miss Sim's room, that Miss Sim be promoted to Miss Richardson's room, that Miss Richardson be promoted to Miss Keele's room.

That inasmuch as during the year this Board has by reason of Mr. Earle's sickness been compelled to employ a teacher for over a month and by reason of Mr. Rowan's sickness were compelled to get another teacher in the middle of a term, thus causing re-arrangement and disturbances of classes as well as extra expense, and as further disarrangement and disturbance would be caused by attempting to get a mathematical teacher in the place of Mr. Bean, this Board respectfully submits its position for the consideration of the Honorable the Minister of Education and asks that it be allowed to retain Mr. Bean as mathematical master until the midsummer vacation, when it will be easier to procure a mathematical master qualified for the position.

That Mr. Walkey be appointed in the place of Mr. Scott resigned, salaries to be in every case that of the room to which the appointments were made.

That Mr. Smith's salary be raised to $850 a year, to be received from 1st January, 1888.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. W. DUMBLE,
Chairman.

Mr. DUMBLE moved, seconded by Mr. McWilliams—That Miss Aldridge be permitted to be absent for the purpose of attending the Model School and that Mrs. Fowler be employed to teach in her stead at the same salary.—Carried.

The Board adjourned.

THE TORONTO AND OTTAWA.

Will the Midland Railway System be Extended Eastward.

The correspondents at Ottawa are discussing the probability of the Midland system of railways being extended to Ottawa, as was intended some years ago, and further to connect with the Vaudreuil and Prescott road. This would give Peterborough another route to the capital and place it on another through route from Toronto to Ottawa.

The Mail's Ottawa correspondent says:—"A proposal is made that the Midland section of the Grand Trunk railway, which is already graded as far as Perth, should be extended to Ottawa, and thence be continued through the Counties of Russell and Prescott to connect with the Vaudreuil and Prescott road. The construction of such a line would give Ottawa additional railway connections east and west, and the line from this city eastward would pass through a thickly settled and prosperous country. The recent regulations of the C.P.R., by which trains only stop at a few of the station on the way from Montreal to Ottawa, have been very unpopular here, as it is claimed that the regulations have been framed in the interests of Montreal, which is represented in Parliament by Sir Donald Smith. Competition, therefore, would be welcomed, and a proposition to bonus a new road would be popular."

LATEST CANADIAN NEWS.

AN OLD WOMAN DIES OF COLD AND STARVATION IN PARKHILL.

Fires in Montreal—Habeas Corpus Refused in Fahey's Case—Appointment of a Commissioner—A Careless Shot—Chatham's Police Department.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—In a small house in the south of Parkhill the relived alone Sarah McPherson, an old maid, poor and industrious, but somewhat eccentric. She went out to do washing and other chores for her neighbors. Last Monday Mrs. Hugh C. Baird needed assistance in household work, and Mr. Baird went to ask Sarah McPherson to help. On knocking at the door there was no response. Fearing something wrong, he opened the door. There a sad sight presented itself. The house was destitute oi every comfort, while on a poor apology for a bed lay the almost inanimate woman, breathing heavily and in a semi-unconscious state, while her arms and the lower extremities of her body protruded from the scant covering of the bed. Medical assistance was at once obtained, but in vain. It was then found that the sufferer's arms were stiffly frozen from the tips of the fingers to the elbows, and she lower extremities from the toes to the knees. An examination showed that the only food in the house was a little flour in a paper bag, and the only fuel about the place were two pieces of wet oak, which were found unburnt in the stove. The neighbors, on learning the distressed condition of the poor woman, came to minister to her wants, but too late. How long she suffered in her helpless condition is not known, but reports say that she was not seen by any of the neighbors for at least a week previous to last Monday.

PROTESTS HIS INNOCENCE.

Detective Fahey's Denials — The Habeas Corpus Application.

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—At noon yesterday Detective Fahey was brought by the High Constable from the jail before Chief Justice Sir A. A. Dorion in the chamber of the Court of Appeal. His Honor informed him that a motion for a writ of habeas corpus in his behalf had been dismissed, and that he would be compelled to remain in prison pending the decision of the full bench in the matter on Jan. 16. It is understood that if the lawyers for the defence are not successful before the full bench they will bring the case before the Supreme Court at Ottawa.

Detective Fahey was seen for a few minutes this morning, and asked about the other charges made against him by Wilson and by the prosecution generally; for instance, the McNamees robbery. He replied that there was as little in these collateral charges as there was in the main charge, that of the Bonaventure depot. "I am not afraid of any charge in connection with the McNamee case; I am just as innocent in that as in all the rest. It will soon become clear who is at the bottom of the whole affair, and my friends will be glad to have discredited any aspersion of my character."

THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

Frank Turner, C.E., Likely to be Appointed Canadian Commissioner.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—It is said that Frank Turner, C.E., of Bracondale is likely to be appointed Canadian Commissioner to the Argentine Republic. Mr. Turner has an intimate acquaintance with the South American republics, having been employed for many years in public works at Buenos Ayres and other places. He is also well informed on all manufactures and products of his Canadian home.

Mayor Stewart and Ald. Roger had an interview yesterday with Hon. Thos. White, Minister of the Interior, with reference to the claim of the Government against the city for rent of certain lots of Government land. The lots in question were used for storing pipe on some years ago when the Waterworks were in course of construction, but have not since that time been used by the corporation. The Government entered action against the city and the case was to come on in due course. Mayor Stewart explained the circumstances of the case and the Minister promised to consider the matter and let the city representatives know the result. In the meantime all proceedings will be stayed.

A CARELESS SHOT.

Which Might Have Caused the Death of a Hamiltonian.

HAMILTON, Jan. 8.—Mr. Wm. Cameron of the Mechanics' Hotel, No. 153 Catherine-street north, was sitting quietly at his home last night when he was startled by the report of a revolver and a ball coming through his window. Upon making an investigation he found that the ball had passed by his head within a very short distance and had smashed a picture on the wall behind him. The probability is that some careless person had discharged a revolver without thinking what he was doing.

A bylaw has been passed by the Hamilton Iron Forging Company increasing the capital stock of the company from $35,000 to $100,000.

The recount in the Dundas mayoralty election will take place before Judge Sinclair next Friday at 10 a.m.

COUNTESS NARONA.

By WILKIE COLLINS.

THE FOURTH PART.

"Either the countess or the baron are to taste the food and drink brought to his bedside, in his presence, and even the medicines which the doctor may prescribe for him. As for the money, it is to be produced in one bank note, folded in a sheet of paper, on which a line is to be written, dictated by the courier. The two inclosures are then to be sealed up in an envelope, addressed to his wife, and stamped ready for the post. This done, the letter is to be placed under his pillow; the baron or the countess being at liberty to satisfy themselves, day by day at their own time, that the letter remains in its place, with the seal unbroken, as long as the doctor has any hope of his patient's recovery. The last stipulation follows. The courier has a conscience; and with a view to keeping it easy, insists that he shall be left in ignorance of that part of the plot which relates to the sequestration of my lord. Not that he cares particularly what becomes of his miserly master—but he does dislike taking other people's responsibilites on his own shoulders.

"These conditions being agreed to, the countess calls in the baron, who has been waiting events in the next room.

"He is informed that the courier has yielded to temptation: but he is still too cautious to make any compromising remarks. Keeping his back turned on the bed, he shows a bottle to the countess. It is labeled 'chloroform.' She understands that my lord is to be removed from his room in a convenient state of insensibility. In what part of the palace is he to be hidden? As they open the door to go out, the countess whispers that question to the baron. The baron whispers back, 'In the vaults!' On those words, the curtain falls."

CHAPTER XXVIII.

So the second act ended.

Turning to the third act Henry looked wearily at the pages as he let them slip through his fingers. Both in mind and body he began to feel the need of repose.

In one important respect the latter portion of the manuscript differed from the pages which he had just been reading. Signs of an overwrought brain showed themselves here and there as the outline of the play approached its end. The handwriting grew worse and worse. Some of the longer sentences were left unfinished. In the exchange of dialogue questions and answers were not always attributed respectively to the right speaker. At certain intervals the writer's failing intelligence seemed to recover itself for awhile, only to relapse again and to lose the thread of the narrative more hopelessly than ever.

After reading one or two of the more coherent passages Henry recoiled from the ever darkening horror of the story. He closed the manuscript, heart sick and exhausted, and threw himself on his bed to rest. The door opened almost at the same moment. Lord Montbarry entered the room.

"We have just returned from the opera," he said, "and we have heard the news of that miserable woman's death. They say you spoke to her in her last moments, and I want to hear how it happened."

"You shall hear how it happened," Henry answered; "and more than that. You are now the head of the family, Stephen; and I feel bound, in the position, which oppresses me, to leave you to decide what ought to be done."

With those introductory words, he told his brother how the countess' play had come into his hands. "Read the first few pages," he said, "I am anxious to know whether the same impression is produced on both of us."

Before Lord Montbarry had got half way through the first act, he stopped, and looked at his brother. "What does she mean by boasting of this as her own invention?" he asked. "Was she too crazy to remember that these things really happened?"

This was enough for Henry; the same impression had been produced on both of them. "You will do as you please," he said. "But if you will be guided by me, spare yourself the reading of those pages to come, which describe our brother's terrible expiation of his heartless marriage."

"Have you read it all, Henry?"

"Not all. I shrunk from reading some of the latter part of it. Neither you nor I saw much of our elder brother after we left school; and for my part, I felt, and never scrupled to express my feeling, that he behaved infamously to Agnes. When I read that unconscious confession of the murderous conspiracy to which he fell a victim, I remembered, with something like remorse, that the same mother bore us. I have felt for him to-night, what I am ashamed to think I never felt for him before."

Lord Montbarry took his brother's hand.

"You are a good fellow, Henry," he said; "but are you quite sure that you have not been needlessly distressing yourself? Because some of this crazy creature's writings accidentally tells what we know to be the truth, does it follow that all the rest is to be relied on to the end?"

"There is no possible doubt of it," Henry replied.

"No possible doubt!" his brother repeated. "I shall go on with my reading, Henry—and see what justification there may be for that confident conclusion of yours."

He read on steadily until he had reached the conclusion of the second act. Then he looked up.

"Do you really believe that the mutilated remains which you discovered this morning are the remains of our brother?" he asked. "And do you believe it on such evidence as this?"

Henry answered silently by a sign in the affirmative.

Lord Montbarry checked himself—evidently on the point of entering an indignant protest.

"You acknowledge that you have not read the later scenes of the piece," he said. "Don't be childish, Henry. If you persist in pinning your faith on such stuff as this the least you can do is to make yourself thoroughly acquainted with it. Will you read the third act? No? Then I shall read it to you."

He turned to the third act, and ran over those fragmentary passages which were clearly enough expressed to be intelligible to the mind of a stranger.

POKING FUN!

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this is how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Seven Fires at Montreal in 24 Hours.

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—At 4.03 yesterday morning the fire alarm sounded for the seventh time in 24 hours. The outbreak this time was at No. 16 St. Sacrament-street, and at first threatened a serious conflagration. It was in a large building belonging to Mr. Joseph, containing numerous offices occupied by stock-brokers. The fire had broken out in the cellar, it is supposed from the furnace. The flames had caught well hold of the flooring when the alarm was given. The housekeeper, Thomas Garvin, and his wife were asleep on the top floor. The latter in running down stairs was overcome by the smoke, and rendered insensible. The offices and contents of Messrs. Meredith & Monk, McCulloch Bros., Thomas Garvin and Mr. Joseph are damaged by smoke and water.

STILL IN DARK SUSPENSE.

CONFLICTING RUMORS REGARDING THE PEACE OF EUROPE.

The Improved Feeling Only Conditional—Russia Quietly Preparing Herself—Austria Strengthening Her Position in Galicia.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The National Zeitung says: "The belief that peace will be maintained is growing, but it is clear that the initiative toward a solution is to proceed from Russia only. Vienna advices are opposed to the peace predictions. Col. Zuleff, the Russian military attache at Vienna, stated that he was permitted to inform the Austrian military authorities that his Government had decided, in furtherance of the measures recently announced in The Invalide Russe, to move two more divisions of troops to the frontier. The announcement is regarded as clear evidence of the seriousness of the position.

The commission of officers appointed by Count Bylandt—Rhaydt, Austrian Minister of War, to examine into and report the condition of the railways and fortifications in Galicia, returned to Vienna Saturday. They state that the new works at Cracow and Przsmyal, the chief fortified centres, are in a satisfactory condition. Troops have been echeloned on the strategic lines leading to Galicia, and ample forces can be sent to the frontier at twenty-four hour's notice.

The National party will join the Conservatives in passing the three years' prolongation measure and will vote also for the banishment clause of the Socialist Bill as modified by the Bundesrath.

THE FISHERIES CONFERENCE.

A Meeting Yesterday—The Commissioners Invited to a Reception at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The first adjourned meeting of the Fisheries Conference was held to-day and only lasted about an hour. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, which seems to indicate that the business of the conference is to be pushed vigorously to some conclusion.

The plenipotentiaries and members of the Canadian party were to-day honored with invitations to a private reception at the White House, to be given on Thursday evening to the diplomatic corps.

Mr. Fisher, M.P. from Brome, is here and called on Sir Charles Tupper to-day.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—In various quarters the report has gained currency that several matters in dispute involved in the general question of the fisheries will be referred to arbitration for settlement. In a special London cable appearing in The Empire to-day, a leading Liberal journal expresses a hope that Lord Salisbury will offer no opposition to regular arbitration as suggested. The Daily News is, however, premature in taking it for granted that arbitration has been proposed, your correspondent being authoritatively informed that no suggestion for such arbitration has as yet reached the Dominion Government.

A FAMILY FIGHT.

Montreal Liberals and Nationalists Pulling Each Other's Hair.

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—The Liberals and Nationalists are hammering away at each other over the appointment of the insurance inspector previously referred to in The Empire. Mr. Rouillard, a prominent Nationalist, takes the Government to task for not giving enough "pap" to its Conservative allies, to which La Patrie replies as follows: "We contend that when the Provincial Government makes a nomination they must know above all what the nominee thinks of the Federal Government, and for the reason that we know what the new appointee thinks of the Federal we opened the columns of La Patrie to the protestations of a friend, the justice of which should have been realized by the Nationalists." What a happy family.

No Mention of Explorer Stanley.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Despatches from the Congo country up to Dec. 10 have been received at Brussels. They make no mention of Stanley.

JUDGE M'MAHON CONGRATULATED.

By the Wentworth Bar—Burglaries and Embezzlement at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Jan. 9.—The winter Assizes opened this morning before Judge McMahon. This was the first assize sitting of His Lordship and many members of the bar were present. On behalf of the Wentworth Bar Mr. S. Martin, Q.C., expressed the pleasure with which they had learned of His Lordship's elevation to the bench and their confidence that the administration of justice would be ably and impartially conducted by him. His Lordship spoke feelingly in reply.

Burglars robbed Wah Sing, a Chinese laundryman, of a wallet containing $317 Sunday evening. The thieves gained entrance through a coal shed at the back of the house.

William Amos of this city, brakeman on the Northern and Northwestern Railway, while coupling cars at Beeton on Saturday was knocked down and the wheels went over his right leg, crushing it so terribly that it had to be amputated below the knee.

A rag peddler named Cohen called at the Police Station last evening and told how he had been away for three weeks working hard, and on returning on Saturday night he found a countryman of his from Chicago comfortably ensconced in the affections and boudoir of his wife, and that she subsequently left the house with him. Later in the evening, however, the grand larcenist of Mrs. Cohen's affections turned up at the station also and told a different story. He alleged that Cohen had got $400 or $500 of his money and was trumping up this story to get rid of him.

The residence of Mrs. Lee, 243 John-street north, was entered by burglars Saturday night, and a large quantity of preserved and pickled fruits and jellies were stolen. Joseph Rickett, a 19-year old tea-store clerk, is missing and so is $25 of his employer's money. Fred Cooper, formerly of Hamilton, who recently got himself disliked by paying unwelcome addresses to a young lady of Trenton and pointing a revolver at her brother-in-law, has been sentenced to two months in the Hastings county jail, at hard labor for pointing the revolver.

Judge Sinclair, the revising officer for the electoral districts of North and South Wentworth, has, with the assistance of his two clerks, F. D. Suter and A. C. Beasley, commenced to revise the Dominion voters' lists for 1888, under the electoral franchise act of 1885.

GLOOM AT ST. CATHARINES.

Death of Collector James Seymour—Rev. Henry Holland Passes Away at Toronto.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 9.—Mr. James Seymour, Collector of Inland Revenue at this port, died at 8 o'clock this morning. He was a native of Limerick, Ireland, where he was born about sixty-four years ago. He came to Canada with his father in 1828, and early in life entered the printing business, and was connected, among other papers, with The Toronto Globe and The Hamilton Spectator. Deceased was a prominent Freemason and was elected Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Canada at the annual communication in 1871. He leaves a widow, sister of Mr. J. W. Murton of Hamilton, one son and seven daughters.

A telegram at noon to-day from Toronto announcing the death of Rev. Henry Holland at his residence, 288 Spadina-avenue, this morning, together with Mr. Seymour's death, has caused a gloom to hang over the city. Mr. Holland was for many years rector of St. George's Church here but was compelled to relinquish his pulpit on account of illness. He had resided in Toronto for the past twelve months.

Death of James Young, Manager of The Toronto Paper Co.

CORNWALL, Jan. 8.—Mr. James Young, manager of the Toronto Paper Company, died suddenly this morning. He was formerly a resident of Georgetown, where he was extensively engaged in business, and was at one time Warden of the united Counties of Wentworth, Halton and Brant. Mr. Taylor was an enthusiastic patron of sports, and was Vice-President of the Cornwall Lacrosse Club. His remains will be interred at Georgetown on Tuesday morning.

The Accident at Mink Trestle.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—Further particulars from the scene of the accident at Mink Trestle, from a passenger who arrived to-night from Winnipeg, are as follows: Conductor Cochrane, in charge of the down special freight train, got orders at Jack Fish from the despatcher at Schrieber to cross Meagher's up special at Stewart. Meagher, who had charge of the up special, having the same orders. Meagher after that seemed to lose time and the despatcher called up Middleton Station and sent the following order: "Cochrane's down special will cross Meagher's up special at Peninsula instead of Stewart," but he did not allow the telegraph operator to repeat it. In the meantime, Meagher making better time, the despatcher decided to allow them to make their original crossing at Stewart. Cochrane coming into Middleton in the meantime took possession of the order, which had been sent previously but which the operator had been instructed to destroy, and without the order being repeated back to the despatcher the operator allowed Cochrane to go and gave him a clearance.

A Man and a Woman Run Down at Chatham.

CHATHAM, Jan. 9.—As No. 55 express on the Grand Trunk was coming into the station here about 9 p.m., she ran into a man and woman who were crossing the track. The woman was instantly killed and the man seriously injured about the head, but may recover. The woman's name is Mrs. Goose, aged about 28; the man's name is Leguie.

Arrested for Negligence.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—A report reached here this morning that Operator Lawson and five Canadian Pacific Railway officials have been arrested and placed in jail at Port Arthur for negligence which resulted in the recent Horseshoe Curve horror near Jack Fish, Lake Superior district.

Laval's Syndicate of Management.

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—The syndicate to manage the financial affairs of Laval University here has just been elected after a warm contest. The members of the syndicate are partly taken from the alumni of Laval and partly from the present faculty.

Trouble Among the Crofters.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Trouble has occurred among the crofters of the Aigash district in Inverneshire, Scotland. The landless crofters to the number of 1000 drove the sheep off the farms and offered a determined resistance to the police and troops who were sent to the scene. Numbers were wounded on both sides.

MEETING OF PARLIAMENT.

THE RUMORS OF FURTHER POSTMENT DISCREDITED.

The Pacific Mail Service Between Victoria, B.C., and San Francisco—Mr. Simeon Jones of St. John, N.B., Appointed Commissioner to Argentine Republic.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—The two evening papers here are amusing themselves, the one by stating that Parliament is likely to be called for the despatch of business earlier than Feb. 23, on account of the cheering prospects of an early settlement of the fisheries question, and the other that Parliament will be still further prorogued on account of the gloomy outlook on the fisheries question. Both are probably wrong. An order-in-council has been passed postponing the meeting of Parliament to Feb. 23. By an oversight the proclamation was omitted from last week's Canada Gazette but will appear next Saturday. The meeting of the Commission had little or nothing to do with the changing of the date except incidentally, the fact being that on account of the absence of Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. Mr. Thompson in Washington, and their labors in preparing the case before they went there, they had had no time to prepare any business of their respective departments for submission to Parliament. It is understood that both gentlemen are devoting a portion of their time in Washington to supervising the business to be submitted to Parliament, and there is very little probability of any further postponement of the meeting of the House.

It is understood that the Government has under consideration the question of maintaining the communication between Victoria, B.C., and San Francisco by water. At the time British Columbia entered the union there was a fortnightly mail between Victoria and San Francisco, and one of the terms of agreement was that this mail service was to be continued. It has been so continued until recently, the Government paying a subsidy of $17,000 to the steamship company for the service. About three months ago, however, the mail service by steamer was discontinued, although the subsidy was still paid, and a daily service between Victoria and San Francisco via Vancouver and Tacoma substituted. Now the Postmaster-General has notified the steamship company that as it has ceased to carry the mails it will cease to carry the subsidy, and there is some dissatisfaction expressed in Victoria, but it is surely unreasonable on the part of the Victorians to grumble because a daily mail service has been substituted for a fortnightly one.

Judge McDougall's certificate that William Young, the Detroit forger, had been committed for extradition on Jan. 5 has been received by the Department of Justice, and if an application for a writ of habeas corpus is not made within fifteen days a warrant for his extradition will be issued.

It is understood that the delay in issuing proclamations fixing dates for voting on the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in the counties of Stanstead and Halton is caused in the first case by reason of the temperance party, through Hon. Mr. Scott, having expressed a wish to state their objections to the petition and a date for such hearing not having been determined on, and in the second case because Rev. Mr. Morrow, a well known temperance worker in Halifax, claims that the public notice required by the act was not properly given by the petitioners.

A deputation from the Quebec Board of Trade will have an interview with the members of the Privy Council at 3 o'clock on Wednesday with reference to the terminus of the ocean mail service.

Although the appointment has not been actually made it is semi-officially understood that Junior Judge Lecouis will be promoted to the County Court Judgeship of Waterloo, made vacant by the resignation of Judge Miller.

The steamer Northern Light is still running between Prince Edward Island and the mainland, but owing to the increasing difficulty of navigating the Straits of Northumberland, it is understood that the usual ice-boat service will be commenced in a few days.

The Marine Department has received the report of the commissioner appointed to enquire into the Oriental disaster, and the matter is now being considered.

Mr. Alexander McGibbon, formerly of Montreal, but now Inspector of Indian Agencies in the Northwest, arrived from Regina to-day on business connected with the Department of Indian Affairs with reference to next year's supplies. Mr. McGibbon says that prosperity prevails in the Northwest. He thinks the Indians are fast losing their love of a nomadic life. They remain on their reserves, and during the past two seasons have made wonderful progress in their agricultural pursuits. The Indians take a special delight in the cattle given to them by the Government. As illustrating the improvement in the condition of the red men, Mr. McGibbon mentioned that the Crooked Lake Indians recently purchased a steam threshing machine, and now have between 7000 and 8000 bushels of grain for sale. Horse stealing is a thing of the past, and the Indians are being greatly benefitted by the industrial schools established by the Government.

The rumor that Mr. Frank Turner of Toronto has been appointed by the Dominion Government a Trade Commissioner to the Argentine Republic is incorrect. Mr. Simeon Jones of St. John, N.B., who was recently appointed Trade Commissioner to the West Indies, having been also appointed to fill the same position with regard to the Argentine Republic.

The Marine Department is issuing in pamphlet form regulations for the Government life saving stations.

Mr. Justice Burbidge heard several appeals in the Exchequer Court this morning from the decision of the official arbitration in the case of Shields v. The Crown on account of lands taken for the purpose of enlarging the Cornwall Canal and in which Shields was not satisfied with the award of the arbitration. The case was taken on deliberation as were the cases of Ryan and Moss, arising out of expropriation by the Government of lands for the Cornwall Canal. The case of Mr. Denis O'Brien of Montreal for the examining warehouse, Quebec, was enlarged until Monday in order to ascertain whether the claim is really pending before the arbitrators.

Mr. Michael of Toronto, Customs Financial Inspector, arrived in the city yesterday morning and will remain in the city for some days transacting official business. Dr. Whitford, who was assistant surgeon of the 90th Battalion during the Northwest rebellion, died in the Protestant Hospital this morning of typhoid fever. He had been ill about five weeks.

PRESIDENT AND POPE.

M. Carnot and His Holiness Exchange Felicitations—Vatican and Quirinal.

ROME, Jan. 9.—Count de Behaine, French Ambassador to the Vatican, yesterday handed to the Pope an autograph letter from M. Carnot, in which the President wished His Holiness long life and prosperity, and expressed the hope that good relations between France and the Pope, on the basis of the Concordat, would long continue. The Pope, in reply, expressed his esteem for President Carnot, Count de Behaine and the French people.

Friction Between the Vatican and Quirinal.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The World's Rome despatch says: The friction between the Vatican and Quirinal is very great. It has been considerably heightened by the peremptory deposition of the Duke of Torlonia from his position as Mayor of Rome.

Troubles of Irish Journalists.

DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—Mr. Timothy Harrington member of Parliament, was placed on trial at Tralee to-day on the charge of publishing in The Kerry Sentinel reports of meetings of suppressed branches of the National League. Mr. Harrington was found guilty and sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment. Notice of an appeal was given. Mr. Corcoran, publisher of The Cork Examiner, was tried to-day and sentenced to two months' imprisonment without hard labor for publishing reports of meetings of suppressed branches of the league. He will also appeal.

The French Cable Company Case.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The Tribunal of Commerce has delivered a judgment ordering the French Cable Company to conform to the conditions of its agreement with the Anglo-American Company, and to pay all costs and ascertain the amount of damage per day for each day's delay in carrying out the agreement. The French company must pay to the cable pool 2000 francs per day from the time of its attempted withdrawal, Jan. 1, 1887, until the date of its return.

Heartless Cruelty.

WATERFORD, Jan. 9.—The inquest in the case of the captain of the American ship, Alfred D. Snow, from San Francisco for Liverpool, which was recently wrecked off this harbor, was adjourned to-day in consequence of the allegation being made that the master of the life boat had refused to go to the rescue of the ship's crew because of the roughness of the sea. A witness stated that the crew of a fishing vessel burst open the boat-house and manned the life boat, but too late to be of any use. The accused have been summoned to give an explanation.

An Englishman in Difficulty.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A young Englishman who is at present held in $500 on a charge of defrauding a servant girl of $10 and forging a check for $18 on a man named A. C. Couch is, if his own account be true, a member of the highest circles of the British aristocracy. His name is Wm. J. Ritchie and he represents himself as the son of the well-known member of Parliament of that name.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 9.—A westbound freight train broke in two on a hill east of West Lebanon and went crashing into a passenger train standing at the station. An unoccupied tenement in Cobourg belonging to Wm. Pomeroy was burned on Sunday, and a building south of it damaged. Incendiarism.

A man called William Blight, of Columbus, is suffering from lock-jaw, the result of a badly cut index finger. Recovery is hardly hoped for.

Mrs. Woodruff and her daughter, living near Pickering, were nearly asphixiated by coal gas one night last week through the lid not being properly placed on the coal stove.

A horse belonging to Wm. Stephens, of Seymour, was taken out of the Methodist Church shed on Monday evening. During the night it walked into the yard of another Seymour farmer.

The Rev. E. Loucks, of Picton, has been appointed Rural Dean of Prince Edward County, and of the townships of Sidney, Rawdon and Marmora in the County of Hastings.

It costs Northumberland and Durham $5,000 a year to maintain its poor. It is thought that by raising $7,000 a year for twenty years a house of refuge could be built and the poor maintained also.

Rev. Austin Smith, who was lately ordained Deacon, by His Lordship the Bishop of Ontario, at Christ's Church, Ottawa, has been appointed to St. John's Church, Madoc.

A fire broke out in John A. Clune's dry goods store, Trenton. The flames were extinguished without much damage to the building, but a complete destruction of the stock, valued at $8,000, and insured for $4,000.

Edward McGowan, an old British soldier living in Ernesttown, was accidently killed on Dec. 27th. A. Amey and McGowan were hauling a heavy stick of timber, McGowan walking along close behind, when the bind chain snapped, letting the reach fly over and giving the unfortunate man a hard blow on the head. He leaves a wife and four children.

GENERAL.

Farming land in Connecticut, except in the vicinity of cities, has not increased in value in the last thirty years.

Headache, Billiousness, Dyspepsia and Indigestion relieved and at once by Dr Carson's Stomach Bitters. Try it. Samples free.

It is all a matter of sentiment, after all. There will be just as much chicory in the coffee, and just as much cotton in the all-wool goods, as if a new year had not been born.

Ruskin says "man should resemble a river." We do not know what he means, but suppose the reason is that in order to amount to much in society he should own a couple of banks.

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all druggists. 50c.

Will some esteemed medium convey to the shade of the lamented Dickens the information that a contest over a seat in the Maryland Legislature is going on between two men who bear the striking names respectively of Scaggs and Sasscer. "Boz" will like to hear of this.

Don't use any more nauseous purgatives such as Pills, Salts, &c., when you can get in Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters a medicine that moves the Bowels gently, cleansing all impurities from the system and rendering the blood pure and cool. Sold by all Druggists.

A Pittsburg mechanical engineer has invented a novel moveable dam, by the use of which, he claims, a boating stage of water may be obtained in shallow rivers at all seasons of the year. The invention has been examined by old river men and pronounced practicable. The inventor is 82 years old.

Actors are often the victims of freaks of memory. Even so thorough and careful an actor as Lawrence Barrett, who has played Richelieu thousands of times, has been known to get thrown off the track in the first interview between the Cardinal and Julie, and to have to go back to his first speech to get it right.

An English Officer's Marriage to an African.

Mr. Justice Stirling, sitting in the Chancery Division yesterday, Dec. 15, had before him an extraordinary and romantic case, arising out of the death of Commander Bethell, who was shot by the Boers in 1884 in an engagement in which Sir Charles Warren also took part. Commander Bethell a few months before his death had become enamored of a native girl belonging to the Baralong tribe, and he married her according to the rites of that tribe, the ceremony consisting of the slaughter of an ox, the head of which was sent to the mother of the bride, while the father was provided with a plough to plough the land.

The name of the bride was Teepoo, and ten days after the death of Commander Bethell she gave birth to a daughter, who was subsequently baptized under the name of "Mabetelle," meaning "Mother of Bethell." In support of these statements, Montsioa, an African king, chief of the Boralaedé Baralopoo made an affidavit to the effect that Teepoo was duly married to Commander Bethell, and that she was not before married. Commander Bethell, by his will, left a certain number of heifers to Teepoo, and directed that if a child were born it should be educated in England after it reached 8 years of age, and if a boy that he should enter the English army, but that Teepoo should forfeit her property if she behaved improperly. Commander Bethell left considerable property in Yorkshire, and the question before the court was whether the marriage was a legal one, and the daughter consequently legitimate and entitled to the property.

Mr. Graham Hastings, Q.C., contended that this was not a polygamous marriage, and was consequently valid. There may have been polygamy in the Baralong tribe, but Commander Bethell lived with Teepoo as his only wife, and had no intention of committing polygamy.

Bicycling as a Punishment.

The Sultan of Morocco has discovered a new use for bicycles. He has found them to be admirably suited for the punishment of retractory wives, and he no doubt feels very much obliged to the French Government, which presented him with a handsome machine a year or two ago, for introducing so useful an invention to his imperial notice. Until quite recently Muley Hassan hardly knew what to do with his present. The ladies of the imperial harem seem to have taken advantage of the recent illness of their lord and master to have a series of quarrels among themselves. When the Sultan recovered, the delinquent wives were brought before him for punishment.

According to their degrees of guilt they were compelled to ride upon the Government bicycle until they had fallen off a given number of times. The old and wrinkled had five-and-twenty falls, while the young and pretty ones escaped with only half a dozen.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"
May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.
Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 2½ years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."
J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

The Conservative Club.

A meeting of the Young Men's Conservative Association will be held in the rooms over Mr. Stethem's shop this evening at 8 o'clock. A discussion of questions of general importance and education will take place. Some prominent speakers will take part. It is hoped there will be a large attendance, especially as the officers will be elected for 1888.

The Collegiate Institute.

The programme made out for commencing work this term at the Collegiate Institute was so complete and satisfactory that the teachers all put on the harness and started work on the opening day—an unusual occurrence. This speaks well as to the Principal's ability to satisfy all parties. The attendance is very large at the Institute and there appears to be good material for the staff to work on. This being the case, coupled with the fact that each department has a competent head, good work for the term may be predicted.

A MAN with a head as long as a churn could not give you a better bargain in boots than KIDD.

J. C. Turnbull.

Is not pretending to sell goods at or below cost, which everybody who uses their judgment will find to be an utter impossibility. As the old adge says, we do not use a sprat to catch a whale, or in other words sell a towel at five cents which is less than cost, and charge a dollar for some thing else (which the people are not such good judges of) that is only worth seventy-five cents, but endeavor to give good value in every parcel. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, Turnbull has had a marvelous turnover of his fall and winter stock, far outreaching his expectations. The bulk of his heavy goods being sold out early in the season, enables him to place on his counters several joblines at less than manufacturers prices. Inspection invited.

IF you want good, REAL good Boots go to KIDD, the boot man.

More Room Yet.

It was rumoured that the Water Company intended to lay another main line of pipes down Geoorge street and to increase the pumping force at the pump house. Mr. Henderson, the Superintendent, being called on contradicted these as follows:—"I have heard nothing about building such a line, and more than that I don't see what use it would be at present. The capacity of the present supply is four million gallons a day."

"And what is the present consumption per day?"

"Only five hundred thousand gallons. As to more pumping force we do not require it. The only time that an extra supply of water was called for was at the fire in the Snowden Hetel sheds last spring. Five streams was put on and then we didn't feel it."

THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE.

The MAYOR announced that frequent violations of the laws were brought to his notice by citizens, and, in fact, they were apparent to anybody. There was a deplorable laxity in the police force which should be corrected in some way. Perhaps a Board of Commissioners could be appointed to control the police force. But, however it was done, there must be a change. Matters could not be allowed to go on as they were going at present.

R. S. DAVIDSON,
Chairman.

January 9th, 1888.

The report was adopted.

A QUESTION OF TAXES.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor DOUGLASS—That the assessment and taxes on the personal property of E. B. Wilson and J. Whyte & Co. in their establishments destroyed by fire last year be treated in the same way as their real estate, and that the same remission of taxes be made on the said personal property as well as in real estate.—Carried.

THE POLICE.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor YELLAND—That it be referred to the Committee on Police Supervision to enquire and report to this Council whether there has occurred any neglect of, or unauthorized absence from duty of any member of the police force, or a want of vigilance in the force in the prosecution of offenders against the law, or non-observance of the rules of this Council, governing the force: and that the Committee submit to this Council any suggestions it may think fit and desirable to make for improving the efficiency of the force.

Councillor MOORE justified his action in moving this motion by asserting that there was a want of vigilance and alertness in the police force that all order loving citizens must deplore. He had no ill feeling against any of the police nor did he know how this apparent lack of watchfulness was caused. He merely wished to have an inquiry made with a view to increasing the usefulness of the police force. He said that horse racing was indulged in at the upper part of George street with impunity, even on the Sabbath day; cooking mains were carried on not two hundred yards from the Council Chamber; the dog by-law was almost a dead letter, and men were allowed to stagger on the streets from drunkenness. If their was an insufficient force it should be supplemented.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON defended the police. He had been around the streets till one two o'clock in the morning for the last few weeks (Laughter) and he had seen no disorder. He thought the police were doing their duty faithfully and well.

Councillor YELLAND said that he did not stay out as late as Councillor McNaughton. He could vouch for much of what Councillor Moore had said and could go further. He had heard that members of the police force went into a certain hotel at two and three o'clock in the morning to gamble and play billiards. Perhaps Councillor McNaughton was with them. (Sensation.) He had heard too that a policeman had gone to a brewery and that a man going down cellar for a drink found him against a barrel so drunk that he could not see. These were matters that should be looked into.

Councillor DOUGLASS—Mr. Mayor, I think Councillor Yelland is as bad as these men himself. If I knew of such a thing I would expose them. Why doesn't he give the names?

Councillor YELLAND—Please put it the way I say it. I said I heard of policemen going into a certain hotel to gamble and I can give the name of the hotel. I can give the name of the policeman that got drunk in the brewery, too.

Councillor DOUGLASS—Who was he?

Councillor YELLAND—Officer McGinty.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON—Excuse me, Mr. Yelland, how long ago was it that you heard this?

Councillor YELLAND—Eh, em—

Councillor MCNAUGHTON—Come, tell us, was it three months ago?

Councillor YELLAND—No, sir; it wasn't a month ago.

Councillor MCNAUGHTON proceeded to give a speech against the Scott Act. He said that the constables had a right to do what they liked when off d[illegible]. He never got drunk, though he always took his glass and would have it "in spite of the Scott Act, Councillor Yelland, the Mayor, or any other man." Mr. Yelland and other drunkards should take a pattern by him.

Councillor CAHILL was always ready to have the force efficient and strict in the performance of their duty. But he did not think that crime was so rampant as some of the Councillors implied.

Councillor YELLAND, in reply to Councillor McNaughton, acknowledged that he had been drunk—and what was more, it was a good thing in the end, perhaps, that he was. More: The fact that he did get drunk showed that he had some brains. A person who had no brains, everyone knew, was very hard to set drunk. Councillor McNaughton took his glass and stayed out until two o'clock in the morning, yet never got drunk.

Councillor MOORE did not intend in moving the motion to stir up such harsh words. Neither did he intend to imply that crime was rampant. He merely desired to have the force placed on a better footing.

The motion was carried.

THE CREEK.

Councillor MOORE moved, seconded by Councillor DOUGLAS.—That the Town Engineer report to this Council as to the condition of Hunter street bridge and what repairs have been made on same during last year and the cost of same. Also report on the Simcoe stree bridge, and as to any obstructions having before or during the past year been placed in the creek in the vicinity of the bridge or elsewhere on the creek, and if such exist, whether danger to the bridge or personal property may be apprehended therefrom during high water and the flow of ice, and that the Town Solicitor be required to advise and report to this council as to the right of private persons to build over or obstruct the said creek.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

Judgment Given.

Judge Weller on Monday in Chambers heard the argument in the long pending case of the Oddfellows vs. McIntyre and Daly. It will be remembered that the case arose out of a subscription promised by the defendants to Mr. E. B. Henderson, Chairman of the Hotel Committee, in connection with the Oddfellows' demonstration held here last August. Afterwards Mr. Henderson was removed from such chairmanship by members of the Committee, and he then notified the defendants not to pay anyone but himself. His successor in office, Mr. Clegg, brought suit for the amount so subscribed. The case was tried at the October sittings of the Court and it was then objected by defendant's counsel that Mr. Clegg had no authority to sue in his own name, and that the action could only be brought by Mr. Henderson or the Committee. The case was adjourned for further argument and came up on Monday before the Judge in the Chambers. Messrs. Dumble and Stratton appeared for the plaintiffs and Mr. O'Meara for the defendants. The Judge gave judgment in favor of the defendants. The defendants, it is understood, now say they will pay Mr. Henderson at any time, when asked, the amount of their donation, but they were determined not to pay a person with whom they had no dealings.

Organ and Trumpet Accompany them—The George Street Church Filled to its Utmost Capacity—A Splendid Programme.

Seldom has a larger audience been gathered inside the walls of George St. Methodist Church than on Monday evening. And well the occasion deserved it. For was it not the anniversary of the Sabbath school, and had not earnest work and patient training been done to prepare the excellent programme which was so creditably carried out. In this respect the officers of the school worked energetically and valuable assistance was given by kind friends, all of which enhanced the ultimate success.

At seven o'clock the doors of the church were opened. Inside of thirty minutes seats were hard to obtain. Fifteen minutes afterwards every available seat was occupied and standing room at a premium. Chairs were brought from the school room and draw seats pulled out. Even with this temporary relief many were compelled to stand during the evening, and the man who came in late enquiring for "my pew" was hailed as one who expected a good deal more consideration than he was likely to receive. Over 1600 tickets were taken at the doors, exclusive of those handed in by children participating in the performance.

The little ones had been kept together in the school room and were presently marched up and seated on the big platform built during the day by Mr. A. Rutherford and assistants. The platform covered the rostrum and several rows of pews, and built up against the gallery, on either side, were twelve seats. On these the children were seated—boys on the right, girls on the left. So high was the structure and so steep that when the topmost boy had climbed to his perch he looked like a junior Christopher Columbus discovering the continent of America. The little girls in gay frocks made a pretty picture, and when the whole corps of little folks stood up and gave the "Chautuqua Salute"—which they did by waving their handkerchiefs—it reminded one of a snow bank in motion. Colored bunting and evergreens was made use of to trim the sides of the temporary gallery. In front of the organ were seated the church choir. Then came a host of scholars from the senior classes. Quite in the foreground—close to the footlights, so to speak—were the pupils the priofmary department. Even with all this accommodation to make use of, the gallery of the church had to be drawn on and a couple of hundred or so of boys were seated adjoining the transepts. All of the little people and a sprinkling of the older ones were decorated each with a golden star that twinkled in the gas light, as the restless wearers moved about. It was a troublesome task for Messrs. Griffin, Emmerson and Scott to arrange the children properly, while Miss Grundy and Miss Butcher were placing the little people from the primary department. On the platform was placed the school piano. Forming the orchestra and of invaluable assistance, were Messrs. F. Miller, J. Fraser, W. Beatty, J. A. Doucet, Chas. James, E. McCabe and Jas. Miller of the Fire Brigade Band. Their capital instrumentation steadied the choruses and joined with the big organ, where Mr. Jacques sat at the key board, carried the hundreds of voices along in uniform time.

A few minutes after eight o'clock Mr. F. Millar stood up and rapped lightly on his silver cornet. The programme—copies of which were distributed among the audience—was to commence. The big organ began to rumble, the children rose as one child, the clear notes from Mr. Millar's cornet came sharply on the ear, and, catching the inspiration of the occasion, the whole chorus sailed into the first verse of "Onward Christian Soldiers." It was simply splendid. The organ, horns and voices blended in a grand volume of music that carried away the audience, and an undercurrent of comment was passed around the church that the thing was a success from the start. As the children sang they gained confidence, and when they reached the chorus the big organ was smothered into a hopeless mediocrity, the brass horns were hardly to be distinguished and only the notes of Mr. Miller's silver cornet cutting through could be heard. Three verses were sung each one stronger than the last, and as the children resumed their seats their flushed and happy faces showed they felt and appreciated their triumph.

Rev. Mr. THOMPSON Assistant Pastor of the Church, followed with a brief prayer, invoking the Divine blessing on the Sunday School and those engaged in the work.

Mr. H. S. GRIFFIN, Superintendent, gave a brief statement of the affairs of the school from a financial and statistical point of view. The school was progressing under favorable auspices and the teachers and officers were earnest and thorough in urging on the work. (Want of space prevents our publishing the report in full.)

The chorus "Fling Wide the Gates," was sung and having in some measure grown accustomed to the novelty of the situation the children acquitted themselves remarkably well.

Kindergarten song "A Wonderful Home have I," by the pupils of the primary department—the smallest of the small—was cleverly given, although the little people missed the assistance of the big organ in keeping to the tune and time.

Miss Grundy led the little folks and the song with its accompanying "motions" was an interesting feature of the programme. Another chorus followed, after which Messrs. W. H. Stevens, R. H. Henderson, H. Jones and W. Dundas gave a quartette, "Come where the Lillies Bloom." The selection was a good one and well rendered, and the quartette were recalled and complied with a repetition of the last movement of the selection. The chorus "Sing for Joy on Christmas Morn," was given with precision and vim, and another kindergarten song, "God is Love," was capitally well rendered.

"Chime on, Shine On," was the gem of the evening—if such a grand, big, wholesouled chorus may be so called. The opening lines were given with moderate power, but the chorus swelled out until the windows rattled and the gas wavered. The time was lively and the movement spirited, and the children sang as if they enjoyed it. A vocal solo, "Nearer My God to Thee," by Mrs. Daly was a beautiful sacred selection admirably rendered. Mrs. Daly sings with great earnestness, and expression, and her clear phrasing and exceptionally fine intonation have seldom been heard to to better advantage. The contrast from the heavy chorus preceeding to the clear calm tones of Mrs. Daly was most marked, and hearty and well deserved applause followed the conclusion of the selection. Mr. Jaques gave the accompaniment on the organ in great good taste and skill. Two choruses followed, in one of which the solo was taken—in recitative, by Mrs. Daly—both of which were admirably well sung. A vocal solo, "Carol, Sweetest Carol," by Miss Ada Miller, delighted the many who heard this young lady make her debut as a vocalist. Her first effort in public, and appearing before such a large audience, any little hesitation evinced may be readily understood. The young lady is the possessor of a clear telling soprano, and her singing showed the results of careful training and study. Then the chorus of 400 stood up and gave "Rejoice to-day with one Accord," and having grown thoroughly at home quite excelled

REV. MR. MANNING, formerly pastor of the church, was called to the platform and delivered a brief address, congratulating the school and its officers and the church as well on the grand success achieved. He went on and in a philosophical way touched on sundry matters and related a number of interesting anecdotes, all of which were designed to point a moral or adorn a tale.

The last selection on the programme, "Mid Pleasures and Palaces," was joined in by the audience, and with "God Save the Queen" the evening came to an end.

The success of the festival is due to those who have interested themselves in the work, and who gave time and attention to the details. To Mr. Griffin, superintendent, Mr. J. T. Emmerson, Secretary, Mr. F. Miliar and Mr. Jaques, with Miss Grundy and Miss Butcher, much praise is due.

The First Carnival.

Peterborough Canton No. 10 have made an arrangement with the Rink Company by which they are to have the management of the carnivals to be held in the Charlotte street rink during the season. The Canton now announces that the first of the series of carnivals will be held on the evening of Friday, January 20th. It is to be an event which will rival in brilliancy any masked festival ever given in the country. Eccentricities have been devised which will astonish, amuse and delight; a corps from the Canton in parade uniforms will perform several movements on skates; special orchestral music will be given; elaborate decorations in unison with the occasion will receive the attention of a special committee of artists. To name the varied features of the projected spectacular entertainment would require more space than the REVIEW can conveniently give to day. The best way for everyone to do is to get their costumes ready at once and be prepared to participate in the carnival on January 20th. d7

ECHOES OF THE STRIKE.

THE READING COMPANY HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING.

The Reading Collieries Entirely Tied Up—Threatened Reduction of Miners' Wages in Johnstown, Pa.—A 4 per cent. Advance Refused.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Geo. W. Childs, who has been suggested by both the strikers and the Reading officials as the proper person to arbitrate the present difficulties, said last evening that so far as he knew the proposition to have him arbitrate the present trouble had not taken any definite shape. He did not hesitate to say that miners should be given the 8 per cent. increase, but he thought they should return to work.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—The first annual meeting of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company under the new reorganization plan was held this afternoon. Mr. Corbin was re-elected president. No action was taken concerning the strike.

READING, Pa., Jan. 9.—Since midnight not a ton of coal has come down the Reading Railroad from the anthracite regions. Yesterday's shipments completely "cleaned out" the stock on hand, and no more can be shipped until it is mined either at individual or Reading collieries. The latter seem to be entirely tied up.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 9.—The Cambria Iron Company, employing 5000 men, has decided to make a reduction in wages of 10 per cent., on Feb. 1, unless business improves within a few weeks.

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., Jan. 9.—Congressman Scott's 800 miners rejected this evening a proposition to resume work at 4 instead of 8 per cent. advance, pending a settlement by the Reading Company with its miners. Work was resumed at Ballmore colliery to-day, the differences having been amicably adjusted.

SHENANDOAH, Jan. 9.—Ever since the strike started the Reading Company has had from twelve to twenty men employed at each colliery repairing breakers and doing other "dead work." The Joint Committee of the Knights of Labor and the Miners' and Laborers' Amalgamated Association issued orders to-day to these men to quit work, and there was a general compliance with the order. The men of Kehley Run Colliery here held a meeting this evening and are said to have decided not to mine coal for non-union railroaders to handle.

READING, Pa., Jan. 9.—Inquiry at the office of the Reading Railroad Company this evening developed the information that not a single coal train had left the coal regions since early last night, and not a single car load of coal passed through this city to-day. This probably never occurred before in the entire history of the company. The fact that no coal came down is taken as evidence that Chairman Lee was correct in his predictions that all the individual collieries would close down to-day The opinion is general that the miners are masters of the situation.

At the meeting of the Reading City Council to-night a committee of five was appointed to wait on President Corbin and urge him to effect a settlement of the troubles by arbitration at the regular meeting of the Board of Trade to-morrow evening. A committee will be appointed to confer with the Philadelphia and Reading officials in Philadelphia relative to a settlement of the differences between the company and the men.

A Conference with Lord Salisbury.

COUNTESS NARONA.

By WILKIE COLLINS.

THE FOURTH PART.

"Here is a scene in the vaults of the palace," he began. "The victim of the conspiracy is sleeping on his miserable bed; and the baron and the countess are considering the position in which they stand. The countess (as well as I can make it out) has raised the money that is wanted by borrowing on the security of her jewels at Frankfort; and the courier up stairs is still declared by the doctor to have a chance of recovery. What are the conspirators to do if the man does recover? The cautious baron suggests setting the prisoner free. If he ventures to appeal to the law it is easy to declare that he is subject to insane delusion and to call his own wife as a witness. On the other hand, if the courier dies, how is the sequestrated and unknown nobleman to be put out of the way? Passively, by letting him starve in his prison? No; the baron is a man of refined tastes; he dislikes needless cruelty. The active policy remains. Say, assassination by the knife of a hired bravo! The baron objects to trusting an accomplice; also to spending money on any one but himself. Shall they drop their prisoner into the canal? The baron declines to trust water—water will show him on the surface. Shall they set his bed on fire? An excellent idea; but the smoke might be seen. No; poisoning is no doubt an easier death than he deserves, but there is really no other safe way out of it than to poison him. Is it possible, Henry, that you believe this consultation really took place?"

Henry made no replay. The succession of questions that had just been read to him exactly followed the succession of the dreams that had terrified Mrs. Norbury on the two nights which she had passed at the hotel. It was useless to point out this coincidence to his brother. He only said, "Go on."

Lord Montbarry turned the pages until he came to the next intelligible passage.

"Here," he proceeded, "is a double scene on the stage, so far as I can understand the sketch of it. The doctor is up stairs, innocently writing the certificate of my lord's decease, by the dead courier's bedside. Down in the vault the baron stands by the corpse of the murdered lord, preparing the strong chemical acids which are to reduce it to a heap of ashes. Surely, it is not worth while to trouble ourselves with deciphering such melodramatic horrors as these. Let us get on! let us get on!"

He turned the leaves again; attempted vainly to discover the meaning of the confused scenes that followed. On the last page but one he found the last intelligible sentences.

"The third act," he said, "seems to be divided into two parts or tableaux. I think I can read the writing at the beginning of the second part. The baron and the countess open the scene. The baron's hands are mysteriously concealed by gloves. He has reduced the body to ashes by his own system of cremation, with the exception of the head"——

Henry interrupted his brother there. "Don't read any more!" he exclaimed.

"Let us do the countess justice," Lord Montbarry persisted. "There are not a half a dozen lines more that I can make out. The accidental breaking of his jar of acid has burned the baron's hands severely. He is still unable to proceed to the destruction of the head, and the countess is woman enough (with all her wickedness) to shrink from attempting to take his place—when the first news is received of the coming arrival of the commission of inquiry dispatched by the insurance offices. The baron feels no alarm. Inquire as the commission may, it is the natural death of the courier (in my lord's character) that they are blindly investigating. The head not being destroyed, the obvious alternative is to hide it—and the baron is equal to the occasion. His studies in the old library have informed him of a safe place of concealment in the palace. The countess may recoil from handling the acids and watching the process of cremation, but she can surely sprinkle a little disinfecting powder"——

"No more!" Henry reiterated. "No more!"

"There is no more that can be read, my dear fellow. The last page looks like sheer delirium. She may well have told you that her invention had failed her!"

"Face the truth honestly, Stephen—and say her memory."

Lord Montbarry rose from the table at which he had been sitting, and looked at his brother with pitying eyes.

"Your nerves are out of order, Henry," he said. "And no wonder, after that frightful discovery under the hearthstone. We won't dispute about it; we will wait a day or two until you are quite yourself again. In the meantime, let us understand each other on one point at least. You leave the question of what is to be done with these pages of writing to me, as the head of the family?"

"I do."

Lord Montbarry quietly took up the manuscript and threw it into the fire. "Let this rubbish be of some use," he said, holding the pages down with the poker. "The room is getting chilly—let the countess play set some of those charred logs flaming again." He waited a little at the fireplace, and returned to his brother. "Now, Henry, I have a last word to say, and then I have done. I am ready to admit that you have stumbled by an unlucky chance on the proof of a crime committed in the old days of the palace, nobody knows how long ago. With that one concession I dispute everything else. Rather than agree in the opinion you have formed, I won't believe anything that has happened. The supernatural influences that some of us felt when we first slept in this hotel—your loss of appetite, our sister's dreadful dreams, the smell that overpowered Francis and the head that appeared to Agnes—I declare them all to be sheer delusions! I believe in nothing, nothing, nothing!" He opened the door to go out, and looked back into the room. "Yes," he resumed, "there is one thing I believe in. My wife has committed a breach of confidence—I believe Agnes will marry you. Good night, Henry. We leave Venice the first thing to-morrow morning."

So Lord Montbarry disposed of the mystery of "The Haunted Hotel."

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and is buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with humpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

Don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

Toronto Typographical Union No. 91 passed this resolution at its regular meeting on Saturday night:

"Whereas in the election of Mr. E. F. Clarke to the high and honorable position of Mayor of the City of Toronto, another member of Toronto Typographical Union has received the reward due to a career of unimpeachable integrity and honesty—in this case certainly a career of which every member of this union may feel justly proud; therefore be it

"Resolved, That Toronto Typographical Union, of which Mr. Clarke has long been an honored active member, heartily congratulate him on his election to the Chief Magistracy of the City of Toronto, and we have every confidence, from our knowledge of his qualities of head and heart, that the important interests of the city could not have been placed in safer or better hands."

The resolution will be engraved and presented to Mr. Clarke.

There is to be no dearth of candidates for the seat at Ottawa made vacant by the Election Court. Mr. Waldie, the Reform member just unseated, is willing to run again. Against him David Henderson, the late Conservative candidate, John Turner and James Beaty are already mentioned as possible men.

The Royal Labor Commissioners re-assembled after the Christmas recess at the Walker House yesterday afternoon for a consultative meeting. In the evening the commissioners left for London, where they sit to-day, and will visit other towns in the West, subsequently returning to Toronto.

PLOT AGAINST THE CZAR

SEVERAL ARMY OFFICERS IMPLICATED IN THE CONSPIRACY.

Change of Arrangements in the Imperia Household—The Court Ball Given Up—

The Conspiracy of Unusual Magnitude.

VIENNA, Jan. 10.—The Allgemeine Zeitung says it has received information from a reliable source in St. Petersburg that a plot against the Czar has been discovered and that numerous persons, including several army officers, have been arrested on a charge of being implicated in it.

The Court Ball Given Up.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 10.—It is officially announced that the New Year's court ball will not be held. The Emperor and Empress will arrive here on Thursday and hold their customary New Year's reception on Friday, after which they will return immediately to Gatschina. This change in the Imperial arrangements is due to the discovery of a plot against the Czar, which was to be carried out during the presence of the Emperor at the capital.

The Conspiracy of Unusual Magnitude.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Private despatches received here from Warsaw say that the conspiracy against the Czar had its centre in St. Petersburg, and that it was of unusual magnitude as regards both the number and the position of the persons implicated.

MRS. BURNS' EXODUS.

A London Stationer Leaves Mourning Creditors—An Oil Works Fire.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Harriet Burns, who kept a stationery and music store on Dundas-street, has decamped for Los Angeles, Cal., leaving trade liabilities and an unpaid rent bill to the amount of $2000. Mrs. Burns was accompanied by her son Robbie, the clever Schottische dancer, and was preceded by her valuable piano. Mrs. Burns' exodus was not unexpected, but, being a married lady, a writ of capias was useless in her case.

William Scott, for several years postmaster at Dorchester, having become financially embarrassed has simplified matters by leaving for other parts. His indebtedness to the department, some $200, will be met by his sureties, Mrs. F. Chattick and John Hunt; other liabilities unknown.

Fire broke out at 2.30 this morning in the Imperial Oil Works at the eastern limits of the city, but was fortunately extinguished before serious damage was done.

The London Presbytery at its session to-day sustained the call of Knox Church, Paisley, Bruce County, extended to Rev. John Johnston, for the past seven years pastor of the Lobo and Caradoc congregations. It was announced to the presbytery that A. Murray of Aylmer had donated a site for a church edifice in that town.

The French Copper Syndicate.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—An agent of the French copper ring is in London. It is reported he is trying to induce the Spanish companies and the Rio Tinto, Tharsis and Mason and Barry companies to agree not to augment the output of copper for four years, the syndicate undertaking to buy the product of all the companies, and guaranteeing that the price shall not go below a certain fixed minimum, say £60 per ton. The proposal is not likely to be accepted.

Ashamed to Live.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Rev. John Lowther, a rector at Bolton, near Wigton, has committed suicide by shooting. Previous to the act he had received a summons to answer a charge of indecent assault upon a servant girl. The deceased was a cousin of Lord Lonsdale and a relative of Right Hon. James Lowther.

Gen. Willoughby Exiled.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Advices from Madagascar say that the Hova Government have exiled Gen. Willoughby, formerly the Malagassy Ambassador at London, who is charged with misappropriating a large sum of money, to a northern outpost pending his acquittal or expulsion.

ANOTHER RAILWAY DISASTER.

Nine Persons Killed and Fifty-two Wounded.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 10.—The Portland express, which left Boston for Portland at 1 o'clock this afternoon, met with a frightful accident near the Haverhill bridge over the Merrimac River. The train consisted of a locomotive and eight cars and was in charge of Conductor Weymouth.

This train does not stop at Bradford and was going at a great speed. As the express rounded the curve two cars left the rails and went crashing into the watertank house demolishing it. In this house a number of section men were eating dinner. Mr. J. O'Brien, a retired merchant of Bradford, was talking with the section hands and was killed, together with Mr. Taylor, one of the laborers. The car that crashed into the tank house knocked the foundation out, letting the heavy tank down upon it, crushing through the roof and doing fearful work within. The next car behind telescoped the one ahead of it, adding to the havoc. The killed and wounded were mostly in those two coaches. The cars behind these two ran down along the Georgetown train which was standing on a track near by, barely escaping a collision with the engine of that train. The people in the smoker had a fearful experience, one of the wheels on the forward truck broke and the cars bumped against the end of the bridge, causing it to careen. It ran upon the bridge for some distance over the sleepers, then careened the other way and leaned against the ironwork of the side of the structure. The passengers, thirty in number, managed to crawl out, none of them being very seriously injured. As soon as they reached the ground, such as were able rushed back to help those who were imprisoned in the wrecked cars.

The fire alarm was sounded immediately and the department responded, but their services were not needed as the cars did not take fire. Physicians were summoned and the wounded and dying were rapidly cared for. The work of clearing the wreck was rapidly pushed forward and at 3.30 no less than seven bodies had been taken from the ruins. Several of them were disfigured beyond recognition. Following is the list of killed:

JOHN O'BRIEN, Bradford.

WILLIAM TAYLOR, section hand, Bradford.

C. P. GOODWIN, wife and child, of Kennebec, Me.

A. S. WALKER, Harrison, Me.

CLARENCE HAZLEWOOD, residence unknown.

CHARLES THURLOW, Newton, N.H.

JOSEPH SHAW, Boston.

Fifty-two passengers were wounded, some badly, and some of them have been taken to the city hospital. Zenas Thompson of Portland, Me., was in the car which was damaged most and was injured about the head and had an arm broken. Hugo A. Slettengren of Brockton was in the smoking car and escaped with a broken leg. A little boy, Bertie Allen, was en route for Exeter and received a terrible wound. Mr. L. A. Rave of Lowell was slightly injured, and Geo. Gardner was badly bruised. In the station the scene was a terrible one. In the ladies' room were five or six injured ladies who were suffering terribly. Many of the injured were taken away by friends, and it is impossible at this time to learn the names of all the injured, but so far as known they are:

Fred. McKeown, Somerville, newsboy, head cut and internal injuries; Rebecca McKay, New Brunswick, leg broken and head cut; Bertie Allen, Exeter, head cut; W. F. Kimball, leg broken; Frank Williams, Boston, head cut; G. C. Wentworth, head cut; Dennis Shannon, both legs broken; George H. Odell, Boston, face cut; Calvin McKenna, Auburn, Me., head cut and injured about body; Miles Dolen, Brockton, head and arm injured; John Madden, Bradford, compound fracture of right leg; Mr. Hart, Portland, Me., bad scalp wound; Dennis Shannon, Bradford, feet and leg badly crushed and scalp wound, probably fatally injured; an unknown woman, apparently about 35 years old, with dark hair and wearing a breast pin marked "J." injured on the head and internally, probably fatally; Mrs. John P. Felt, Wareham, Mass., injuries not serious; Miss Etta Owen, right leg and hand badly bruised; John Kellogg, Boston, slight scalp wounds.

One of the saddest sights was that of Mrs. C. P. Goodwin, husband and child. They were riding on the second passenger car and were killed outright.

The accident occurred between Bradford Station and the bridge and was caused by the rails spreading near a frog on a curve where a turn is made to run to the bridge. The smoking car ran on the bridge and turned over. One coach smashed into the water tank house and the other ran through the sleeper. The crash, was fearful and the cries of the people terrible.

He Is Seventy-four To-day.

TORONTO, Jan. 11.—On the occasion of Sir John's 74th birthday, to-day, The Empire this morning has the following: To the veteran statesman—first in the councils of his country, and first in the affections of his fellow-countrymen—who this morning enters upon his 74th year, The Empire offers its congratulations on the auspicious occasion. To few is it given so long and successfully to wield the destinies of a country, and to fewer still to weather the storms of political life and emerge from each successive wave more firmly fixed in the hearts of the people. May the wisdom which has guided our country through many a critical period, and the warm heart which has endeared him to friends and disarmed foes, long be spared to his country's service; while the people of Canada may for many a year to come have the pleasure of wishing, as we believe they do to-day, without distinction of party, to the Right Honorable Sir John Macdonald "many happy returns of the day."

Bye-Election in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 10.—The Provincial election for Assiniboia took place to-day, the candidates being Mr. McArthur of this city and Mr. Ness. Mr. McArthur was elected by a majority of forty-four. Both are professedly independent, but the former received almost the entire support of the Opposition.

A TALK WITH VANHORNE.

HENRY NORMAN'S LETTER ON THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY.

The Vice-President's Wide Range of Knowledge—His Means of Recreation—Position of the Great Enterprise That Mr. VanHorne Manages.

Mr. Henry Norman has in The Pall Mall Gazette an interview with Mr. VanHorne, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway. It was dated Dec. 10. The following extracts are taken from it:

Mr. VanHorne is between 45 and 50, and weighs about 250 pounds. He smokes all day long, and the variety and the extent and minute accuracy of his knowledge is a never-failing topic of conversation from Montreal to Vancouver. He is also an inveterate card player, and this saves him from the consequences of persistent overwork. "If I didn't play cards I should burst," is Mr. VanHorne's own explanation, and his knowledge of card games is apparently inexhaustable. As for the railway, he literally knows every inch of it as he knows his pocket—principles, figures, values, mechanics and all. He began life as a messenger boy in an office, became a telegraph operator and has passed through every stage of "railroading" up to the head of the most extensive railway in the world. That is how he knows so much about it; but I found the company's officials all along the line half inclined to believe that there is something more than natural in the "old man's" practical erudition and insight. (Mr. VanHorne, I should have said earlier, is a Western American). To-day his railroad is in such a position with Canada at large, with the Government, with the politicians and with the press, that in a violent political attack upon it in The New York Tribune the other day, which the editor described as one of the most trenchant articles that had ever appeared in his columns, all the charges were summed up into an acme of denunciation—"But this is not a railroad, it is a Dominion on wheels." The enemy's phrase was a happy one and deserves a wider currency.

"Well, Mr. VanHorne, what is the present extent of the Canadian Pacific?"

"Including the Sault Ste Marie line which is just completed, the total mileage is 4650. The length of the main line from Montreal to Vancouver is 2906 miles. It is divided into four grand divisions, each under a general superintendent, and each of these is more or less divided into working sections under divisional and assistant superintendents. The main line from Montreal to the Pacific is divided into twenty-three working sections of about 125 miles each. A working section covers the ordinary daily run of a locomotive."

"Then twenty-three different locomotives are required to move a train between Montreal and the Pacific terminus?"

"Yes."

"What number of men are employed in working all of the lines?"

"About 15,000, excluding those employed in the construction of new lines."

"It has remaining about 15,000,000 acres. The lands are all in the prairie country between Winnipeg and the Rocky Mountains."

"How many acres have been sold up to this time, and what average price has been realized?"

"Exclusive of the 6,500,000 acres resold to the Government 3,250,000 acres have been sold at an average of $3 per acre."

"Our facilities for traffic are already far beyond anything we thought of three or four years ago, but they are already found inadequate."

"Is the increase mainly in through or local traffic?"

"In local traffic, chiefly. The gross earnings of the company for 1887 will reach nearly $12,000,000, of which more than 95 per cent. comes from local traffic."

"What is the company's indebtedness to the Government, and what is the nature of the Government's liens upon the property?"

"The company does not owe the Government a penny. It paid all its debts to the Government in full two years ago, and the Government has no claim whatever upon the property."

"What are the fixed charges for the present year?"

"Three million two hundred and forty-nine thousand dollars."

"Do you care to say anything about the recent attacks on the Canadian Pacific in the American press?"

"These attacks are more amusing than annoying. It is something to see our ability to compete with the older lines so fully recognized."

"Undoubtedly an attempt will be made against us at the coming session of Congress, but I don't think it will succeed. But the United States Congress is, I am sure, above that kind of business. It would be difficult to strike the Canadian Pacific without striking the Grand Trunk and the Canada Southern at the same time, and the people of the Western States know too well the value of competition by Canadian lines to permit themselves to be deprived of its benefit and to be left to the tender mercies of American trunk lines."

"Now, as regards Manitoba, what have you to say to the statement that your local rates are excessive?"

"Only that the charge is untrue. Our local rates in Manitoba are much less than those of the lines in Minnesota and Dakota and similar lines elsewhere, in the prices received for produce and paid for the principal articles of consumption."

"What about the Hudson Bay Railroad?"

"I have never believed in the success of that enterprise, but I would not like to express an opinion against it, so many impossible things have been found possible. The worst that has yet been said of it was once said of the Canadian Pacific. The first half of the road lies in a good country where a local traffic could grow up; the other half, I fear, is wholly bad. About forty miles of the line has been made, starting from Winnipeg."

"Finally, Mr. VanHorne, what about the importance of the Canadian Pacific Railway from an Imperial point of view?"

"Well, to say nothing of its importance to the Empire from a commercial point of view, it does not seem to me that there can be any question that, together with its proposed fast steamships on the Pacific, the line will be of inestimable importance to the Empire in case of war."

"As bearing upon this function, in what time could 1000 troops, with their arms and baggage, be transferred across the continent from Halifax to Vancouver?"

"In six days easily. Indeed, it would be no difficult matter to take 5000 troops from Halifax on Monday and land them at Vancouver on the following Monday."

HENRY NORMAN.

A TRAGEDY AVERTED.

Butcher Mathews of the Ambitious City Flies From His Housekeeper's Husband.

HAMILTON, Jan. 10.—The annual meeting of St. George's Benevolent Society was held last night. There was a large turnout of members. The financial statement showed receipts $2629, expenditure $2369, balance $260. These officers were elected: President, W. H. Gillard; First Vice-President, Thomas Mason; Second Vice-President, R. Elliott; Secretary-Treasurer, C. D. Blachford.

Particulars were telegraphed yesterday of a burglary at the residence of Mrs. Lee. The police succeeded in recovering a lot of the preserved, pickled and canned fruit, part of the butter and the pair of shoes in a house on Simcoe street occupied by some colored people. They also made several arrests of colored people in connection with the affair.

Two or three months ago a young man named Charles Mathews started a butcher shop at the corner of Rebecca-street and Ferguson-avenue. He brought an elderly woman with him as housekeeper. The woman at first was supposed to be his wife, but she informed the landlady that she had a husband living in other parts, and that Mathews' real wife was in Quebec somewhere. On New Year's Day Mathews and the woman went from the city to spend a few holidays. While they were away a man who said the woman was his wife made his appearance and swore that he would shoot both of them if he could find them. Upon returning on Tuesday night last they were made aware of the fact that the woman's husband was looking for blood, and the next day they departed and neither of them has been seen since. Several persons, including grocers, dry goods men and dressmakers, have been around in search of Mathews, claiming that he owes them money. The young man came to this city from near Waterdown.

The complimentary dinner of the Wentworth bar to Judge McMahon will be given on Thursday evening at the Hamilton Club.

The value of presents received amounts to 60,000,000 francs, and the money gifts to 14,000,000 francs.

The British Pilgrims Received.

ROME, Jan. 10.—The Pope to-day received the British pilgrims, who were presented by the Duke of Norfolk. The Pope said he felt grateful for the interest Queen Victoria took in her Catholic subjects, and prayed for her prosperity, with that of her nation, whom he loved and admired.

Reporter McNeill's Murder.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Government has requested the French authorities to thoroughly investigate the circumstances surrounding the death of Archibald McNeill, the reporter of The London Sportsman, whose body was recently found on the beach at Boulogne. The police of Boulogne have arrested a man named Vermersh, who was seen with McNeill in a cafe. The procurer of Boulogne has received an anonymous letter naming a certain individual as the murderer of McNeill.

AN INTERESTING JUDGMENT.

JUDGE DEAN, of Victoria County, recently delivered judgement on a question of considerable importance to municipalities. The plaintiff in the suit was driving along the town line between Ops and Fenelon when, owing to a defect in a bridge across a small creek, his buggy was broken and he was himself thrown out and somewhat badly bruised, and he brought an action against the two townships for damages.

The Judge decided that it was the duty of the townships to maintain the road in a good state of repair, that the bridge was badly out of repair and dangerous, that the road was such as would not lead one to expect such a bridge on it, that the fact that there might not have been much travel along it did not justify the municipalities in maintaining it in a state which made travelling upon it dangerous to life and property, that once the road was opened the corporations were bound to see that the bridge was at least safe, that the evidence was that the bridge had been in an unsafe condition for a year and notice might be inferred from the notoriety of the defect and from its continuance for such a length of time as to lead to the presumption that the proper officers of the municipality did in fact know, or with proper vigilance or care might have known, the fact, and that the pathmaster knew the bridge needed repair and notice to him as their officer was notice to the corporation.

On the whole, the Judge said, he could hardly imagine a case where a corporation could be more guilty of negligence. But there remained the question of whether there was contributory negligence.

The plaintiff had crossed the bridge from the other side with some difficulty. He was told that it was in a dangerous state and that he must be careful. The opening was in plain view and he said it looked much worse from that side than it had from the other, yet he remained in the buggy and drove on the bridge, when the horse, refusing to cross the hole and backing up, he struck it with the whip; the horse leaped the hole, the wheels struck the log on the opposite side and the mischief was done. "Would not ordinary and common care and caution," said the Judge "have suggested to him to take the horse by the head and lead him over?" Or another way of escape was open. It was safe to drive through the creek at the end of the bridge, where there were waggon tracks. The plaintiff did not see the tracks, but the Judge held that he should have tried to find another way and then he would have seen the track. The Judge therefore came to the conclusion that from his contributing negligence the plaintiff had disentitled himself to recover.

The doctrine of contributory negligence was laid down as follows:—"No matter how much the other party may be to blame, yet if the party injured has not exercised ordinary and common care and caution in trying to escape the misfortune an action against the wrong-doers." Judgment was given for the defendants without costs.

On the whole this is an important judgment, interesting to municipalities and to the general public. It makes clear the duties of corporations as maintaining bridges and roads and defines what constitutes contributory negligence in such cases.

IF the New York press is well-informed as to the discussions of the Fisheries Commission—though it is not certain that is is—the United States Commissioners have refused to consider the question of reciprocity. The Times says:—"The Canadian Commissioner, Sir Charles Tupper, appears to have insisted upon including the general question of commercial reciprocity in the negotiations. This is a matter entirely apart from the fishery dispute, and any effort to make it a part of the settlement would be likely to result in the failure of the whole case. It is probable that all efforts of the kind will now be abandoned as hopeless.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The costs of the day in the Irving-Smith case, amounting to $95, were paid into court yesterday by the defence, and the trial will now take place before Mr. Justice Falconbridge on Jan. 23. The case promises to be a lively one.

The Young Conservative Club listened to vigorous addresses last night from Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, M.P., Col. Denison, M.P., Mr. H. E. Clarke, M.P.P., and Mr. Frank Arnoldi. The future of Canada and of the Conservative party was the subject of all the speeches, and both were hopefully regarded. Commercial Union came in for a full share of denunciation. The visitors were accorded a vote of thanks. R. M. Grier, W. D. Macpherson and W. J. Nelson were selected to represent the club on the occasion of the forthcoming joint debate with the Young Liberals' Club.

W. A. Foster, Q.C., on behalf of the Central Bank liquidators, had Thomas McConnell, coal dealer, before Mr. Thomas Hodgins, Master-in-Ordinary, at Osgoode Hall yesterday to investigate McConnell's account with the defunct bank. Mr. Laidlaw and Mr. Kappele appeared on behalf of the coal merchant. McConnell is indebted to the bank in several ways to the extent of $27,000. Of this amount some $14,000 was secured by notes, in turn secured by warehouse receipts. The goods (coal) for which these receipts had been given, McConnell claimed to have sold. The proceeds, he said, he handed over to the bank. It was the liquidators' object to discover the truth of these statements. The examination is to be continued to-day. The accounts of other customers of the bank the liquidators intend to have investigated before Mr. Hodgins which may lead up to startling disclosures.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 2½ years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

AROUND THE FESTIVE BOARD.

The Fire Fighters Feast in Company with a few Friends.

The members of the Fire Brigade and a few friends were entertained at an oyster supper at the Hub Restaurant on Tuesday evening by the Chief of the Fire Department, Mr. Thomas Rutherford. The dining room was handsomely decorated and the spread was an admirable one.

After the "removal of the cloth" the toast list was taken up, Chief Rutherford occupying the chair and Assistant Chief J. D. Craig the vice-chair.

"The Queen" was duly honored, followed by the singing of the National Anthem.

The Vice-Chairman then proposed "The Dominion Parliament."

Mr. JAMES STEVENSON, M.P., responded. He remarked that it was an erroneous idea to suppose that the Members of Parliament had an easy time while at the capital. With the sessions of the House, often lasting well into the morning, committee meetings to attend and correspondence to answer there was hard work to be done. He believed that the Dominion Parliament was as honest a body as there was in any country, and he thanked the company for the manner in which they had received the toast.

The Chairman proposed "The Legislature of Ontario."

Mr. J. R. STRATTON, M.P.P., in responding, dwelt on the importance of the Province of Ontario. The Provincial Legislature was an important body, and was, he believed, as representative a one as the Dominion House. He eulogized the fire department for its proficiency.

"The Mayor and Corporation" was the next toast honored.

Mr. JAS. STEVENSON, Mayor, responded, and said that the citizens could rest at night contented and in security, knowing that their property was protected by an efficient fire brigade.

Councillor MCNEIL, in responding, remarked that he received some credit for placing the fire department on its present footing, but he would not have succeeded in doing so had it not been for the way in which he had been seconded by the brigade. He was sure that the firemen did not belong to the brigade for the pecuniary profits connected with it, as, they did not amount to enough to buy them boots, and he eulogized their attention to their voluntarily assumed duties.

Councillor DAVIDSON expressed surprise on account of the proficient state into which the fire department had been brought in such a short time.

Councillor CAHILL made a pleasant and humorous speech. He thought the firemen a much abused body, as like the Councillors, they worked for an unappreciative public and often got more kicks than ha'pence. He complimented the department and brigade on their proficiency.

The health of "The Fire Brigade Band" was toasted.

Mr. F. W. MILLAR and Mr. J. FRASER responded in neat speeches.

"The Chief of the Fire Brigade and the Brigade" was the toast that followed.

Mr. THOMAS RUTHERFORD, Chief, and Mr. J. D. CRAIG, Assistant Chief, returned thanks.

Mr. MCNEIL then proposed a toast which he was sure they would all drink with feeling of regret mingled with pleasure—"The Defeated Candidates in the last Municipal Election."

Mr. J.D. BAPTIE responded and assured the company that it was not his fault that he did not have to respond to the toast of "The Council."

"The Ladies" were honored, and Messrs. W.F. Green, C. Rutherford and W. Greer, responded on their behalf.

Chief RUTHERFORD thanked the guests for their attendance, and after a few songs by members of the brigade and others, the company sang, "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen" and dispersed.

A TRIO OF BURGLARS TRAPPED BY TWO BOOKKEEPERS.

An Attempt Made to Blow Open a Safe in Mr. Hazlitt's Office—The Burglars Escape by the Window—Shots Fired at the Pursuers—Mr. Howden's Horse and Cutter Stolen.

Messrs. John Dinan and John White, the two accountants at Mr. T.G. Hazlitt's office, arranged to go back to the office after tea, on Tuesday night, to do some work. Mr. Dinan expected that Mr. White would be there before him, but when he got down to the office and saw that it was not lighted up, he walked by a short distance. Mr. White then came up and they entered the office together. On going in they heard a shuffling in the inner appartment—Mr. Hazlitt's private office, and the key was turned in the door. Mr. White went up, banged the door, and demanded admittance. No answer. Mr. White wanted to break the door open, but Mr. Dinan thought discretion the better part of valor, and considering that they had no arms of a more effective nature than a kind of handspike with an iron point, and considering that the men on the inside would likely have all "modern improvements," Mr. Dinan advised Mr. White to keep guard on the door till he got enough help to surround the building. Just then one of the inside men opened the door a little and the other said "Give it to him." Mr. White took it to mean that this was a on himself and Mr. White. "If you come out of that room" replied Mr. Dinan "I'll harpoon you with this." The man looked at the pike, retreated, and shut the door.

This was all done in the ghostlike sheen from and electric light down the raceway. The office curtains were up and the light came in sufficient quantity to let the men in the office see what they were doing. It was a highly dramatic affair.

Mr. Dinan in the meantime had handed the spear over to Mr. White and had gone outside the door. He then discovered that the game was preparing to fly from the back of the office. In a twinkling all of the visitors were out and scampering off over the hill. Messrs. White and Dinan followed in pursuit, but the hindmost burglar gave a hint by way of

to the effect that pursuit was not desireable on their part. Messrs. Dinan and White took the hint, and felt not a little relieved to find that none of the three shots had taken effect on either of them. Quite a number of the neighbors were brought together by the sound of the shots. They saw the burglars departing over the hill, but were so interested in the novelty of the affair that they simply stood and looked at the disappearing forms. Messrs. White and Dinan informed the police of the occurrence, and together they and Acting-Chief Adams followed the tracks over the hill, along along Dickson street, behind the gaol, through Mrs. Haultain's garden and to the gas works. No further traces were found.

In the office some rather crude implements for safe-breaking were found. There was two chisels, a little piece of iron and a drill. A white handkerchief with a red border hung on the knob of the safe in the outside office, as though an attempt had been made to twist it. The safe in the inside office has a hole about half an inch deep drilled close to the register.

A HORSE AND RIG STOLEN.

Mr. John J. Howden went to his stable, near the locks, this morning and found that during the night a dark bay mare, valued at $125, had been taken off. Besides the mare, two robes which Mr. Howden paid $45 for, a cutter and a set of harness, were missing. As Mr. Howden's stable was in the direction in which the men were travelling it is quite likely that they visited his stable and provided themselves with a conveyance to help them on their way. The mare must have been taken early in the night, as she had not touched her hay.

Young Men's Conservative Club.

A regular meeting of the Young Men's Conservative Association was held in the rooms of the club on Tuesday evening. The President, Mr. Andrew McNeil, presided. The Secretary, Mr. J. Hampden Burnham, read his report for the past year, which was received and adopted. The election of officers was then proceeded with, the following being elected:—

PRESIDENT.—Andrew McNeil.
SECRETARY.—J. Hampden Burnham.
TREASURER.—W. J. Minore.

The other officers were also all re-elected for the present year. Mr. J. H. Burnham gave an address on commercial union, opposing the scheme, and quoted many facts and figures showing that it would be unwise for Canada to adopt it. A discussion followed, participated in by Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M. P., Mr. Thos. Kelly and others. It was decided to continue the discussion at the next meeting, and members were appointed to re-open it. The Association then adjourned until the first Tuesday in February.

Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, Turnbull has had a marvelous turnover of his fall and winter stock, far out reaching his expectations. ## JUDICIAL OPINIONS.

Judge Dean's Remarks to the Victoria Grand Jury.

The following letter from Judge Dean, of Lindsay, appears in the Post:—SIR,—I have not been fortunate in the report which appeared in last week's Post of my remarks in reply to the presentment of the grand jury, and now that it has been given to the public through your paper, I would like that what I did say upon two or three matters should be properly understood. Referring to Commercial Union, while declining to express an opinion as to which view of the matter is a correct one, I said I was glad the grand jury had thought it their duty to refer to it as they were a non-partisan body composed of men of all shades of politics, and when such a body of intelligent men agreed to discuss the subject in a presentment from which all party politics must be excluded, it was evidence that it was not a party question, and I hoped, from its great importance to this country, that it never would be smothered in the slough of party politics. Referring to the Scott Act I touched upon a point which I have not seen discussed elsewhere, but which I have long thought to be the fundamental principle in the working of any temperance law, and one which if not grasped and acted upon will make its enforcement feeble and the law itself unpopular. I said the officers of the law enforced the Scott Act as well as they enforced any law against crime. It is not the officers of the law that in one case in fifty initiate proceedings against wrong-doers, it is THE INJURED INDIVIDUAL that does it. A man may be assaulted and unless a constable happens to see the breach of the peace committed, the victim may walk the streets with his face all the colors of the rainbow for a week and no action is taken by the authorities, people will ask him why he does not lay an information, but no one thinks of laying it for him. At the present court we have had an illustration of this fact that only the injured individual puts the law in motion. A whole village knew that a man was in possession of what they all recognized as stolen goods and all knew the owner, yet he used them for weeks and no one thought nor would have thought till doomsday of interfering had the facts not happly reached the ears of the owner, when he at once, as the injured individual, put the law in motion. Now, who is the injured individual who is to put the law in motion in case of the unlawful sale of liquor, that is to stir up the energy and the conscience of the officers of the law? In whom is to be incarnated the sense of personal injury, which experience shows is the moving force in nearly all proceedings of a criminal or quasi criminal character?

Unless some one acts this part, reason and experience alike show that the law will be practically a dead letter. It seems to me that the people who thought society injured by the liquor trade to such an extent as to make it their duty to use great exertions to pass the law are bound by every consideration of consistency and sound morality to use equal exertions if necessary to enforce it; that as in them was incarnated the public conscience which compelled the act, so in them should dwell the sense of personal injury which is necessary to put the law in motion. Whether they feel this to rest upon them as a moral obligation or not, this is certain, unless they take it up the act will be a failure.

I said I had no fear but that the Act could be enforced to the fullest extent in this country, that the people were law-abiding and those charged with the enforcement of the law determined that it should be supreme. I did not say that I was satisfied that there was evidence that the Bobcaygeon fire was not set out of revenge, as I am reported. What I did say was that there was no evidence that it was so set. I said I had seen with regret statements and resolutions that men "in sympathy with the Act," should be appointed magistrates to to try offences under it, that such sentiments were a degradation of the magisterial office; that an honest man who tried any cause would decide it according to the evidence and the law no matter what his personal opinions as to the law might be, and that to talk of appointing anyone to a judical office because he would throw his sympathies into one scale or the other when trying the right of any man was to advocate a most pernicious doctrine. That an inspector, however, being an executive officer and having nothing whatever to do with deciding matters, should be in sympathy with the law, that he should do his work con amore.

I said, as reported, that I could not, if I had a vote, cast it for the repeal of the Act, as I feared its repeal would be regarded by many as a sort of license for excess; but I added that neither could I vote against its repeal, as the act is now worked in this country, for though it lessens the amount of drinking to some considerable extent, the fact that people were habitually and ostentatiously living in defiance of the law must, in the long run, produce a most unwholesome effect upon the public mind and that every thoughtful person must see if this state of things were long continued great danger to the body politic. That I believed, however, the Act could be easily enforced if its friends only went the right way about it.

I will add here what I did not say there, that it is only by the Scott Act becoming popular the public can ever be brought to adopt a prohibitory law, and the only thing that will save the Scott Act from repeal in this county, at least, when the time comes to try conclusions on that issue, will be its vigorous enforcement in the meantime. I believe that if it were well enforced it would be practically the unanimous support of the people of this county, in case of an attempt to repeal, but that if it is not better enforced than it is at present it will be better out of sight. I say further if proper steps were taken that within sixty days the sale of liquor could be abolished absolutely in all the houses in which liquors are now known to be sold in the county, and that too without making a "third conviction," or enforcing against hotel-keepers ruinous fines, and also without people generally acting as informers. W. W. DEAN.

STYLE!

A man or boy handsomely dressed is usually regarded with more or less favor wherever he may go.

The unfortunate fellow clad in shabby or ill-fitting garments, unless uncommonly smart and pushing, must take a back seat.

There is no mistake about this. It may be contradicted, but not successfully. Brains or no brains we'd rather take our chances in life set out in neat apparel, well cut and made.

A good deal depends—a mighty deal hangs on the clothes a man wears.

Men have been refused discounts by discriminating bankers because they wore hard looking suits.

Men—young men too—have been crossed in love because their suits were shabby or of ancient cut.

Men have lost elections because their style of pantaloons did not meet with the approbation of voters.

Men have been pushed confounded hard by the tax collec or when it was seen that they were wearing out last years' suits.

Granted then, that good clothes are something worth having, let us understand where they are to be bought to best advantage.

The house that sells first-class goods; sells them at small profits; the house that treats its customers politely and patiently; that guarantees the materials, cut, build and finish of the clothing turned out—that is the house to give your order to.

That house is ours.

DEPARTMENTAL REPORTS.

THAT OF THE MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS COMPLETED.

All the Others Will Be Distributed Before the House Meets—An Extra of The Canada Gazette Issued Calling Parliament Feb. 23—Deerfoot Recaptured.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—Although the meeting of Parliament has been postponed for a month the preparation of the annual reports of the departments is being actively pushed. The Minister of Public Works is the first to have his report completed and ready for distribution. It is now in the binders' hands and a few copies were sent to the distribution office of the House of Commons to-day, whence they will be despatched at once to the press and members of Parliament. Trade and navigation returns are very nearly ready, and public accounts, postoffice, railways and canals, inland revenue and militia are well advanced. In fact considerable progress has been made with the printing of most of the reports, and it is expected that all of them will be distributed before Parliament meets.

An extra of The Canada Gazette was issued to-day, calling Parliament for despatch of business on Feb. 23 instead of Jan. 21.

In the Ottawa County local election case at Aylmer this morning judgment was given dismissing with costs all the preliminary objections raised by Mr. Rochon, the respondent. Judgment was also given in an application for inspection of election papers, whereby the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery for the Province of Quebec was ordered to deposit all the papers in his possession relating to the election with the clerk of the court on Jan. 20.

Comptroller White of the Northwest Mounted Police yesterday received information that Deerfoot, the Indian who got the mounted policemen into trouble by making his escape from custody last summer, has been re-captured near Fort McLeod.

The Marine Department is making preparations for a test of line-throwing apparatus, to be used in the life-saving service of the Dominion. The test will likely be made in Ottawa and will include experiments with English rocket apparatus, the Tyle gun used in the American service and the Line Company patented gun.

The Department of Agriculture has received an offer from Mr. Henry Fisher, who has a farm in a good state of preservation near Regina, to give it up for use as an experimental farm and take other land in exchange.

Hon. Mr. Foster left for Washington this afternoon. It is understood that he took with him all the evidence and statement of claims in the Behring Sea seizure cases.

Mr. Chisholm, M.P. for New Westminster, has arrived for the session. He is the second member who has come to stay, Mr. Welsh having arrived from Prince Edward Island nearly a month ago.

ENGLISH IN FRENCH SCHOOLS.

The Matter Comes Up in the Ottawa Separate School Board.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—At the meeting of the Separate School Board to-night a letter from Inspector White of the Educational Department of Ontario, stating that the board was not complying with the regulations of the department requiring the teaching of English in all French classes, as only in a few higher classes was it taught, and calling the attention of the board to the fact, was read, with the intimation that unless the rule was properly complied with the Government allowance of $1 per head would be stopped. Mr. Canneau said that should the departmental rule require the engaging of special English teachers in all schools it would entail a large expense upon the board, but he thought the matter ought to be referred over for further consideration to the School Management Committee, when the subject could be definitely dealt with. Mr. Dauray, the French inspector, stated to the board that he had spoken to Mr. White on the subject and that he had promised the inspector to so soon as possible comply with his wishes and had already made arrangements for the teaching of English in the four senior classes in each French school, and that arrangements to teach the junior classes were being made. The matter was referred to the Management Committee.

The attendance at the Separate Schools for December was 2018.

THE FRENCH CONGRESS.

Re-assembly of the Chamber of Deputies and Senate—M. Floquet Re-elected.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The Chambers re-assembled to-day. M. Pierre Blancas, senior member, acted as President of the Chamber of Deputies at the opening of the session. In an address he expressed the hope that the session would be fruitful of legislative results. He appealed for a union of the Republican groups in order to effect reforms, and show to foreigners a united France. M. Floquet was re-elected President of the Chamber by a vote of 258 to 38.

In the Senate Mr. Carnot, father of President Carnot, is senior member and accordingly took the President's chair. He said that the Congress of the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies had manifested by its recent choice of a President a desire for peace at home and abroad and respect for the laws. The change of the highest official of the State had been effected so easily that it should inspire confidence in the future of the nation.

COUNTESS NARONA.

By WILKIE COLLINS.

THE FOURTH PART.

POSTSCRIPT.

A last means of deciding the difference of opinion between the two brothers was still in Henry's possession. He had his own idea of the use to which he might put the false teeth, as a means of inquiry, when his fellow travelers returned to England.

The only surviving depository of the domestic history of the family, in past years, was Agnes Lockwood's old nurse. Henry took his first opportunity of trying to revive her personal recollections of the deceased Lord Montbarry. But the nurse had never forgiven the great man of the family for his desertion of Agnes: she flatly refused to consult her memory. "Even the bare sight of my lord, when I last saw him in London," said the old woman, "made my finger nails itch to set their mark on his face. I was sent on an errand by Miss Agnes, and I met him coming out of the dentist's door—and, thank God, that's the last I saw of him."

Thanks to the nurse's quick temper and quaint way of expressing herself, the object of Henry's inquiries was gained already! He ventured on asking if she had noticed the situation of the house. She had noticed, and still remembered the situation—"did Master Henry suppose she had lost the use of her senses, because she had happened to be nigh on 80 years old?" The same day he took the false teeth to the dentist, and set all further doubt (if doubt had still been possible), at rest forever. The teeth had been made for the first Lord Montbarry.

Henry had never revealed the existence of this last link in the chain of discovery to any living creature, his brother Stephen included. He carried his terrible secret with him to the grave.

There was one other event in the memorable past on which he preserved the same compassionate silence. Little Mrs. Ferrari never knew that her husband had been—not, as she supposed, the countess' victim—but the countess' accomplice. She still believed that the late Lord Montbarry had sent her the £1,000 note, and still recoiled from making use of a present, which she persisted in declaring had "the stain of her husband's blood on it."

Agnes, with the widow's entire approval, took the money to the Children's hospital; and spent it in adding to the number of the beds.

In the spring of the new year the marriage took place. At the special request of Agnes, the members of the family were the only persons present at the ceremony; the three children acted as bridesmaids. There was no wedding breakfast—and the honeymoon was spent in the retirement of a cottage on the banks of the Thames.

During the last few days of the residence of the newly married couple by the river side, Lady Montbarry's children were invited to enjoy a day's play in the garden. The eldest girl overheard (and reported to her mother) a little conjugal dialogue which touched on the subject of the Haunted Hotel.

"Henry, I want you to give me a kiss."

"There it is, my dear."

"Now I am your wife, may I speak to you about something?"

"What is it?"

"Something that happened the day before that we left Venice. You saw the countess during the last six hours of her life. Won't you tell me whether she made any confession to you?"

"No conscious confession, Agnes—and therefore no confession that I need distress you by repeating."

"Did she say nothing about what she saw or heard on that dreadful night in my room?"

"Nothing. We only know by the event that her mind never recovered the terror of it."

Agnes was not quite satisfied. The subject troubled her.

Even her own brief intercourse with her miserable rival of other days suggested questions that perplexed her. She remembered the countess' prediction. "You have to bring me to the day of discovery and to the punishment that is my doom." Had the prediction simply failed like other mortal prophecies? Or had it been fulfilled, on the memorable night when she had seen the apparition, and when she had innocently tempted the countess to watch her in her room?

Let it, however, be recorded among the other virtues of Mrs. Henry Westwick, that she never again attempted to persuade her husband into betraying his secrets. Other men's wives, hearing of this extraordinary conduct (and being trained in the modern school of morals and manners) naturally regarded her with compassionate contempt. They always spoke of Agnes, from that time forth, as rather an old fashioned person.

* * * * * *

Is that all?

That is all.

Is there no explanation of the mystery of the Haunted Hotel?

Ask yourself if there is any explanation of the mystery of your own life and death. Farewell.

THE END.

POKING FUN!

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8 75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3 95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3 75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

w don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPAR'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

SHEPPARD

George Street, Peterborough, Town Clock overhead.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

THE CROFTER COLONY BOOM.

The British Government Urged to Assist the Emigration Scheme.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The riots in the Highlands are claiming the earnest attention of the Government and on all hands it is being urged to take prompt steps to suppress the disorder, while affording means for the settlement of the crofters in the colonies. The Times declares that the Government must aid an effectual scheme of colonization. The Government is still awaiting British Columbia's reply. Meanwhile all previous proposals for the settlement of crofters in the Northwest are in abeyance. Highland landowners and the Canadian land companies declare that they are unable to advance funds to promote immigration until the Northwest colony yields a reasonable financial return.

The completion of the Sault line is arousing attention. It is believed in city circles that it will prove of the utmost value as a feeder to the Canadian Pacific and make Montreal a Canadian Chicago. The Statist insists that immediate steps must be taken to improve the harbor of Montreal. It says: "If Montreal is ever to become a great entrepot of Western trade north of the lakes it must assert its claims speedily. It has a chance such as history offers but once in centuries."

The agricultural journals are urging Aberdeen farmers to cease to support the North of Scotland Canadian Cattle Company in importing Canadian stock, and are trying to show that such importations are lowering the status of Aberdeen beef. Such attacks are, however, periodical, and are not likely to prejudice either the farmers or the company.

Ottawa Fire Statistics.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—There were 141 fires in Ottawa last year; being an increase of sixteen over the previous year. The loss was over $88,000, or more than twice as much as in 1886.

CANADA'S PUBLIC WORKS.

SIR HECTOR LANGEVIN'S REPORT FOR THE YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1887.

Two-and-Three-Quarter Million Dollars Expended—An Exhaustive Report of the Year's Work—The Expenditure by Provinces.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—According to a resolution passed at the last session of the Federal Parliament, the annual reports of the departments were not to be held back until the meeting of the House, as has been customary heretofore, but were to be distributed as soon as completed. In compliance with this regulation, Sir Hector Langevin has had his report prepared earlier than usual, and distributed it nearly two months before the opening of Parment, an example which it is hoped will be followed by other Ministers.

The expenditure accounts are closed up on June 30, but some of the descriptions of works done are brought down to the close of the building season in the fall. The report contains an abstract of the general expenditure of the department, showing the total amount available for each service, amounts lapsed and amount expended, together with a description of the works executed, and is accompanied by twenty-nine appendices, giving the annual reports of the Chief Engineer, Chief Architect and other officers of the department, and also a number of tables and other statements containing information pertaining to the department.

The total amount available from all sources was $3,667,958, of which $146,560 lapsed on Sept 30, 1886; the sum of $2,699,761 was spent and the balance remained unexpended at the close of the past year. The following is a statement of the amounts available for each service and the amounts expended.

| | Amount Available. | Amount Expended. |
|---|---|---|
| Public buildings | $1,888,456 80 | $1,485,318 22 |
| Harbors and rivers | 1,212,009 32 | 742,393 02 |
| Dredges and dredging | 153,990 34 | 143,403 42 |
| Slides and booms | 137,778 19 | 125,672 85 |
| Roads and bridges | 48,708 45 | 36,951 09 |
| Telegraph lines | 104,429 71 | 105,496 29 |
| Miscellaneous | 62,461 77 | 60,524 30 |
| | $3,667,958 59 | $2,699,761 17 |

In addition to this expenditure the following amounts were paid under the authority of special acts of Parliament:

| | |
|---|---|
| Ship channel between Quebec and Montreal | $121,000 00 |
| Quebec Harbor improvements | 439,795 22 |
| Levis Graving Dock | 99,000 00 |
| Three Rivers Harbor | 203 60 |
| | $613,998 32 |

The expenditure on public buildings, harbors and rivers, and dredges and dredging, which comprises nearly the whole of the works done, is given by provinces, and the amount available and the amount expended may be thus summarized from the three tables published—the expenditure on slides and booms, roads and bridges, telegraph lines and miscellaneous, amounting altogether to $328,646—is not given by provinces, probably on account of the difficulty of apportioning the expenditure on these works which generally extends through two or more provinces:

| | Amount Available. | Amount Expended. |
|---|---|---|
| Nova Scotia | $ 235,979 36 | $154,845 97 |
| Prince Edward Island | 78,187 17 | 64,154 27 |
| New Brunswick | 328,788 49 | 167,304 87 |
| Quebec | 616,316 25 | 451,787 38 |
| Ontario | 1,052,128 25 | 876,248 60 |
| Manitoba | 183,331 01 | 126,560 34 |
| N.W. Territories | 252,900 62 | 178,709 32 |
| British Columbia | 533,435 46 | 279,974 05 |

RUSSO-CHINESE RAILWAYS.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Russian newspapers state that negotiations are being begun for the construction of three great Russo-Chinese railways, one between Semipatalinsk and Shanghi, another between Chita and Pekin, and the third between Kiatkhta and Pekin.

Stanley Has Reached Emin Bey.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Dr. Schweinfurth, the African explorer, writes from Cairo under date of Dec. 30. He states that the news that Stanley reached Emin Bey arrived at Cairo Dec. 22. More definite advices are expected shortly.

Buried Beneath the Snow.

VIENNA, Jan. 11.—The bodies of fourteen women have been dug out of the snow near Fiume. Many are still missing and it is supposed they are buried beneath the snow.

FALSE IMPRISONMENT.

A Fair Salvation Army Captain Gets a $50 Verdict at London.

LONDON, Jan 11.—At to-day's Assizes the Grand Jury found true bills against Robt. Annett, manslaughter, and Thos. Nicholas, assault with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

The time of the court was largely taken up with the action brought by Emma Rees of the Glencoe Salvation Army, against Squires Simpson and Currie for damages for false imprisonment. It would seem that a gang of roughs in Glencoe habitually annoyed the Salvation Army, and one evening a disturbance took place, at which Capt. Emma Rees was accused of slapping a bystander in the face. For this she was cited before Squires Currie and Simpson, who imposed a fine of $10 and costs. The fair captain gave notice of appeal then and there, and offered bail, which was refused, the justices holding that their decision was final. Emma was imprisoned in the London jail, and after some hours in custody released by order of the County Crown Attorney. She then entered action for false arrest and imprisonment, but a non-suit was entered which the courts at Toronto reversed. At the next court the jury disagreed, the present being the third hearing of the case. The jury after an hour's deliberation found that Miss Rees did not commit the assault, that the magistrates acted through ignorance and not malice, and gave plaintiff $50 damages and costs. The costs will doubtless be heavy.

Miss O'Gorman of Waterloo-street, while going down the London toboggan slide tonight, was thrown off and struck violently against a tree, sustaining severe injury, if not fracture of an arm.

It was stated in this correspondence yesterday that the Great Western Advertising Company secured a verdict of $345 against Bell & Co. of Guelph. This was an error. The judgment was against a firm with a similar name.

CAUTION NECESSARY.

On the Part of Austria Because of Russian Movements.

VIENNA, Jan. 11.—The Politesche Correspondenz publishes a letter from Pesth stating that the recent movement of Russian troops renders the utmost caution on the part of Austria necessary.

Ferdinand Will be Asked to Resign.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Times' Berlin correspondent says the powers have agreed to summon Prince Ferdinand, through Turkey, to resign the Bulgarian throne.

Proclamations Against Ferdinand.

VIENNA, Jan. 11.—It is reported that a conspiracy against the Bulgarian Government has been discovered in a suburb of Sofia. The authorities are said to have seized thousands of proclamations calling upon the populace to take up arms against Prince Ferdinand in favor of Russia.

Concentration of Troops.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—According to The Standard's Vienna correspondent the Russian concentration of troops on the inner Polish lines within the past fortnight, and which is still in full operation, is far more general and active than was the case in December. Both cavalry and grenadiers are being shoved forward from St. Petersburg and Kiev so steadily, according to these reports, that night trains carry no civilian passengers, and railways are blocked with the transit of troops. This makes it probable that a German movement will be soon witnessed.

Barracks and Magazines in Galicia.

PESTH, Jan. 11.—A letter from Russian land owners is published here, stating that the Russian Government has ordered the conscription of all horses, cattle, pigs and sheep to be delivered to the proper authorities within three days after war has been declared, and that a similar order with respect to other articles of food is expected to be issued. The Minister of War has appointed a board of officers, with headquarters at Cracow, to supervise the erection of temporary barracks and magazines in Galicia.

THE KAISER'S CONDITION.

He is Sleepless at Night But Obtains Rest During the Day.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—The Emperor was able to receive verbal reports from General Albedyll and others to-day. His symptoms of catarrh of the stomach are decreasing. Though sleepless in the night time the Emperor manages to obtain rest during the day.

Great Anxiety.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A trustworthy despatch from Berlin says that Emperor William's condition is worse and that intense anxiety prevails.

Ruskin's Wail.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—John Ruskin, in a letter to The Telegraph, says: "During the last thirty years we have ceased to be English. Formerly swindling was not our method in trade, nor was advertising a necessity. Once we imported from America neither meat nor manners, and from France neither art nor religion. Formerly our navy did not use torpedoes, nor did our army make use of rifles behind hedges."

Protection Making Headway in Spain.

MADRID, Jan. 11.—Fearing a split in the ranks of the majority Prime Minister Sagasta has made so weak a defense of the Free Trade policy that the bulk of the Liberals and Democrats are much displeased. They fear that he will make such concessions to the Protectionist party that Ministers Moret and Puigcerver will resign, paving the way to the accession of a Canovas Cabinet with a protective policy.

A $30,000 Blaze at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Jan. 11.—A disastrous fire broke out between 10 and 11 o'clock this morning in Barron's large stone block on McGill-street, between St. James' and Notre Dame streets. The caretaker of the building, who lives on the third flat, saw smoke, and, on opening the door of his room, found the passage full of flames. He took his wife and child by the hand and dashed through the flames to the upper story, reached the roof and escaped to a neighboring building. Following are the losses: Silverstone, wholesale clothier, loss $3000, insurance $1500; Friedman Bros., wholesale clothiers, loss $6000, insurance $5000; M. Myers, jewelry, loss $5000, principally by water; F. H. Carter, manufacturers' agent, loses $600; St. Patrick's Hall was damaged to the extent of $600; D. Mercier, bailiff, Mrs. Knapp and the caretaker also lose smaller amounts. The Carleton Restaurant was damaged by water to a large extent. The total loss is about $30,000; insurance about $20,000.

THE OCEAN MAIL SERVICE.

A QUEBEC CITY DELEGATION INTERVIEWS THE GOVERNMENT.

They Urge the Awarding of the Contract to a Company That Will Employ the Largest and Swiftest Vessels Known—The Ottawa Malarial Fever Epidemic.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—A deputation from the city of Quebec arrived here this morning and had an interview at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Privy Council Chamber with members of the Government with reference to the Ocean Mail contract. The deputation consisted of Hon. J. G. Ross, Hon. John Hearn, Hon. Thomas McGreevy, Hon. F. Langelier, Mayor of Quebec; A. Ledoit, President of the Quebec Harbor Board; H. H. Price, Vice-President of the Quebec Board of Trade; Owen Murphy, R. Turner, John Sharples, Dr. Rinfret, Col. Forsyth and F. H. Andrews, Secretary of the Board of Trade. It is understood that the deputation urged upon the Government the importance of awarding the contract only to a company which would employ the largest and fastest vessels known, capable of making not less than twenty knots an hour, so that Canada should have an ocean mail service at least equal if not superior to that of any other country. It was not claimed that Quebec should be made the terminus in preference to Montreal, but it was strongly urged that large vessels should be used, and as such vessels would draw about thirty feet of water, and there is barely twenty-seven feet depth in the channel between Quebec and Montreal, the service would have to terminate at Quebec. Sir John promised that the representations of the deputation should receive due consideration.

Mr. H. J. Bronskill, for many years employed on The Montreal Gazette, has been appointed to the position in the Government stationery office held by the late Thomas Robertson. Mr. Bronskill is well known and highly esteemed in Ottawa, and from his great practical knowledge of the business will make a most capable and competent officer.

Although the malarial fever from which Ottawa has been suffering for the last three months is gradually dying out and few new cases are reported, there are still a large number of cases in the city. Mr. C. H. McIntosh of The Citizen has had no less than seven of his children down with it, and his eldest daughter is still very ill, although she is now considered out of danger.

The annual report of the Chief of Police shows the total number of arrests in this city last year to have been 927, of which 461 were for drunkenness, or at the rate of about 13 per 1000 of the population.

The annual report of the Inspector of Penitentiaries shows that the total number of criminals confined in the five Dominion penitentiaries on June 30 was 1159, of whom 1131 were males and 28 females. This is a reduction of 27 males and 14 females from the figures of last year. The Inspector of Penitentiaries says:

"In noting the fact that the number of our criminals in proportion to the whole population forms a comparatively small percentage it may not be out of place to remark that the Government and people of Canada have special reason to be thankful to a merciful Providence that crime is not more prevalent in the Dominion. It is not in a boastful or invidious spirit but rather to excite that feeling of gratitude just mentioned that I refer to the alarming increase of the criminal class in the United States."

He then quotes from several authorities to show crime had greatly increased in the United States.

THE FISHERIES CONFERENCE.

A Short Session Yesterday—Arrival of Hon. Mr. Foster.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Fisheries Conference had another short session to-day and will meet again on Saturday. The length of the session is, however, believed to be no index of its importance, as in diplomatic conferences it is quite customary for the interchange of opinions to be given in writing, thus preventing a misunderstanding of the respective views of the matters under consideration.

Hon. Mr. Foster and his secretary arrived to-night and are understood to be the bearers of important data bearing on the question.

State-Aided Emigration.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Earl of Meath, who has always taken a leading part in the movement favoring State-aided emigration, is about to propound to the Government a fresh scheme for emigration on a large scale. This action is taken because of the Government's recognition of the principle of State help in the transference of the Scottish Crofters to British Columbia.

Crown Attorney Dewar of Halton Dead.

MILTON, Jan. 11.—John Dewar, Crown Attorney and Clerk of the Peace for the County of Halton, died here to-day. Deceased was a native of Aberfeldy, Perthshire, Scotland, and was born Aug. 22, 1829.

LORD SALISBURY'S VIEWS.

He Discusses the Irish Question, Fair Trade and Other Topics.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 11.—Lord Salisbury addressed an immense meeting in Hengler's Circus to-night. He was slightly hoarse at the beginning of his speech, but his voice became clearer as he went on.

Discussing the Irish question, he said the Gladstonians had relied upon their conviction that England could not govern Ireland, and had directed their policy toward securing the fulfilment of that figment of the imagination. Mr. Gladstone had prophesied that Conservatives would eventually give Home Rule to Ireland, but never was the principle of national union more sincerely held than now. The Unionists were firmly convinced that Ireland had become thoroughly consolidated with Great Britain under the same legislature and the same laws and enjoying equal liberty. Vacillation had been the great crime of England against Ireland, and no Government would be of any avail unless it showed that it could govern absolutely.

Referring to the movement in favor of Fair Trade Lord Salisbury declared himself to be still a Fair Trader on principle, but experience, he said, had shown that the Free-Trade theory had been carried too far or misapplied, in consequence of which some reaction was probable. The sugar bounties question, he said, was an instance of the hurtfulness of indiscriminate Free Trade. Agriculture was a more difficult question, but it must be admitted that the interests of the producer and consumer in the productions of the English soil were bound by a common interest and must stand or fall together.

In conclusion Lord Salisbury expressed his conviction that those persons who thought the next general election would upset Unionism had utterly misread the sentiments of the English Democracy.

TO CONTEST CARLETON.

Conservative Convention Select Mr. G. Dickinson as Their Standard-Bearer.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—A Conservative convention was held at Bell's Corners to-day to select a candidate to contest the county at the election rendered necessary by the resignation of Sir John A. Macdonald. The names submitted to the convention were Warden Dawson, Johnson Rochester, George Dickinson, Mayor Stewart, Taylor McVeitty and Nicholas Sparks. The rule adopted was that the lowest candidate on each ballot should be dropped. Mr. Sparks dropped on the first ballot and Mayor Stewart and Messrs. McVeitty and Rochester followed in succession, Mr. George Dickinson being finally the choice of the convention by a majority of twelve.

Ex-Sheriff Powell declined to allow his name to be submitted to the convention and announces that he will run under any circumstances unless it should be apparent that his remaining in the field would jeopardize the return of a Conservative. He has a requisition signed by over 600 influential electors, and considers his chances of beating Mr. Dickinson excellent. It is not at all likely that the Opposition will nominate a candidate, as there are barely 600 Liberal votes out of the 5000 in the county.

EARTHQUAKE IN CANADA.

The Shock Felt at Many Places—Prophet Wiggins Slept Through It.

QUIO, Que., Jan. 11.—A heavy shock of earthquake was felt here at 4.20 this morning.

ALMONTE, Ont., Jan. 11.—A shock of earthquake was distinctly felt here between 4 and 5 this morning.

PERTH, Ont., Jan. 11.—Heavy shocks of earthquake were felt here early this morning.

RENFREW, Ont., Jan. 11.—Parties here were awakened this morning by a distinct shock of earthquake.

PEMBROKE, Jan. 11.—Two heavy shocks of earthquake and one slight one were felt here between 4 and 5 this morning.

Wiggins' Diagnosis.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—A sharp shock of earthquake was felt throughout the city this morning shortly before 5 o'clock. The vibration was quite marked, and seemed to be traveling from the west. The shock lasted between five and ten seconds. Crockery was smashed in many places. No other damage is reported. Prof. Wiggins slept through it all. He says he has not been paying particular attention to earthquakes of late, consequently was unable to predict the event. He says it was simply an earth trembling, being the negative or reflex action of an earthquake south of Cape Horn.

A Dynamite Scare.

CORK, Jan. 11.—A dynamite scare was started here this morning by the receipt of information by the police of the existence of a plot to wreck the Government Buildings in this city. The police are closely watching incoming steamers and railway trains for suspicious persons, and the utmost vigilance is being exercised to frustrate any scheme threatening the safety of life and property.

The Revolt Against Christians Denied.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 11.—The Porte has received an official despatch from Jeddah denying the reports of a rising against the Christians.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING.

It is well to have it pointed out, as Mr. Carnegie does in the circular published in another column, that upon the character of the evidence placed before the Canal Commission the prompt prosecution of the work depends. The people of this district understand the importance of the construction of the canal and recognize the necessity for it, and what is needed is to have the facts crystallized into shape and presented to the Commission. It will thus find its way before the Government and Parliament and cannot fail to convince every member of the Cabinet and the House of the need for promptly pressing the work to completion.

Further appropriations are needed to carry on the work. In order that these may be voted by Parliament the House should have such evidence of the usefulness of the work, of the benefit the canal will be to this district and the country generally, as will leave no room for doubt as to the wisdom of appropriating the money for that purpose. The Commission is the channel through which this evidence will reach the House and it depends now upon the people of the district, and especially upon the gentlemen who compose the Executive Committee of the Association, to do their part and see that the evidence is gathered that the Commission is put in possession of it.

There is considerable work to be done It has been announced that the Commission will hold sessions at once to receive evidence, and in order that all the evidence procurable may be collected and presented, prompt and energetic action is necessary. Every member of the Executive Committee should be present at the meeting on January 20th and those who can render the Committee any assistance should hold themselves ready to do so.

The importance of the work is such that the people cannot afford to allow it to be hindered by neglect, and want of action at this time would have an effect in retarding the prosecution and completion of the construction of the waterway. This consideration should, and doubtless will, be sufficient to spur on those who have been especially selected to gather evidence and any others who may be able to render them assistance. It must not be said hereafter that the interests of the canal suffered on account of negligence on the part of the people of the district.

WEATHER NOTES.—Another year has come to a close, during which its mingled joys and sorrows has been felt in every family throughot the earth. From the babe of an hour to those who have seen a century come to an end some have closed their eyes forever on time. The number is beyond our comprehension, and looking forward to the close of the infant year, how many now in the enjoyment of health, with everything bright and blooming, will alas! never see the sun of '89 tinge the eastern horizon. December has indeed been a favoured month, our extremes having been few. Only on three mornings has the thermometer been below zero, on the first 2 degrees below, on the 25th it stood at 4 degrees, on the 30th the coldest being 10 degeees, and at sunset at 4 degrees below. On the morning of the 4th it stood at 36 degrees above, being the highest an sunrise, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 24 degrees. Rain fell on five days to the depth of 2 inches and 6-100 of an inch, the severest storm being on the 3rd, following 1 inch and 2-100 of an inch in 9 hours. Snow fell on 11 days to the depth of 12¼ inches. Both the rain and snow fall are slightly below the average. Auroral lights were seen on 6 evenings, and white fog during ine day. One noteworthy thing in December has been the absence of sunshine. From the 7th to the 15th inclusive the sun was never seen, and from the 18th to the last of the month only once was it seen clear at its setting. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, namely:—North, 4 days; south-west, 5 days; south-east, 5 days; east, 9 days; north-west, 6 days; west, 1 day; north-east, 1 day; and south, 1 day.

No sufferer from any scrofulous disease who will fairly try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, need despair of a cure This remedy purges the blood of all impurities, destroys the germs of scrofula, and infuses new life and vigor throughout the physical organization.

BENSFORT.

Correspondence of the Review.

OUR COUNCIL.—The municipal excitement has all subsided since the election. The Township of South Monaghan is represented by a good Council Board this year, and may they prove themselves worthy of the confidence reposed in them by the electors.

A HORSE belonging to Mr. John Morrison while going to drink, accidently slipped on the ice and fell with such force as to break the leg bone. The break was of such a nature that nothing could be done, so the animal had to be shot.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Zack Hall, of Perth County, has been spending his holidays with his cousin, Mr. Mars McClelland and visiting friends in the neighborhood.... Mr. J. F. Morrisch has gone to Montreal to study civil engineering. Joe is a splendid fellow and will no doubt make his mark.

FEAR WINS.—The Bensfort Literary Society held their regular meeting on Thursday evening last. A very good programme was presented. The subject for debate was, Resolved: that "Love has greater influence than Fear." The speakers for the affirmative were J. Fletcher, R. Stirton, R. Nurse, with Mr. Jos. Wood, J. Kerr and J. Deyell on the negative. The negative appeared to advance the best arguments, and the chairman gave decision in their favor.

TEAMS are now crossing the river at the old bridge. The ice is said to be quite safe. Crossing the river at that point is a great convenience to the farmers in the eastern part of the township, thereby shortening the distance to the town of Peterborough by one half and a drive of from ten to twelve miles in the trip, which is quite an item.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Following are the earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway, not including the South-eastern Railway, for the week ending Jan. 7:

| 1888 | $213,000 |
| 1887 | 156,000 |
| Increase for 1888 | $ 57,000 |

Mr. Isidore Cohnfeld, the New York ostrich feather dealer who came to Toronto two months since to escape a host of creditors, has returned to New York for the purpose of compromising.

Chief Justice Armour received Mr. McCarthy, Mr. Moss and Mr. Aylesworth in his private room at Osgoode Hall yesterday afternoon re the Haldimand election trial. An argument was to take place to set aside a previous order of His Lordship granting leave to serve Dr. Montague by proxy. This service was made while the Doctor was in Manitoba, and the present motion is to declare such service null and void. Mr. McCarthy was not ready to proceed, having just arrived from Hamilton, and the argument was enlarged until Saturday. The trial is fixed for Jan. 24 at Cayuga, but a new order by the Chief Justice might upset all proceedings up to date.

A meeting of the creditors of James Nolan, stove and furniture dealer at No. 62 Jarvis-street, was held yesterday afternoon. The books submitted to the meeting showed liabilities estimated at $80,000 to $100,000, while the assets, in the form of bills payable and stock, amount to but $5000. No offer of settlement was received from Mr. Nolan. Some of the creditors expressed themselves as favoring an assignment, and winding up the business. Among the creditors are Mr. Falk, Mount Forest, $5000; Knechtel Furniture Company, Hanover, $7000; McLary Stove Company, London, $14,000; Gibbet & Son, Napanee, $6000; Mendel & Sons, Elora, $4000; Upper Canada Furniture Company, Bowmanville, $4000, and Abel Hoiser of 48 Wellington street, $10,000.

Superintendent William Whyte of the eastern division of the Canadian Pacific Railway arrived in Toronto yesterday from Winnipeg. He told The World that there were no complaints from points along the main line of the railway in Manitoba relative to the company not supplying sufficient cars for the transportation of the wheat crop. On the Pembina section, owing to the fact that there are no elevators west of Manitou, a difficulty of this kind had arisen. He believed the export crop would reach 12,000,000 bushels, basing his opinion upon the fact that already 5,000,000 bushels had been shipped, and careful enquiry showed probably twice as much remained to be handled.

The examination of Thomas McConnell with regard to his account and dealings with the Central Bank was to have been resumed before the Master-in-Ordinary at Osgoode Hall yesterday afternoon. Neither McConnell nor his solicitor put in an appearance, and the Master granted a peremptory order continuing the examination this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. W. A. Foster, solicitor for the bank's liquidators, in applying for this peremptory order to have Mr. McConnell in court this afternoon, said: "I do this out of no animosity to McConnell, but merely to obtain from the court an expression of its determination at the outset to show that its orders in this matter must be respected. McConnel has treated with contempt the court's order to produce his books. Yesterday he had three flour bags full of books here, and this morning he submitted for Accountant Lyes' consideration only three books."

Though it be crewel work that is to be done there are always willing feminine fingers to do it.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

At the Play'

Peterborough Canton No 10 met in their hall on Wednesday evening and, attired in undress uniform, marched in a body to Bradburn's to attend the performance given by the Amateur Athletic Association. As a military body they took much interest in the sword exercise incidental to the play.

A MAN with a head as long as a churn could not give you a better bargain id boots than KIDD.

The Date Changed.

In compliance with the request of a large number who intend going to the Canton carnival, that think the notice given is too short to enable to get suitable costumes, the management committee have decided to change the date. The carnival will be given on the evening of Friday, January 27th, instead of Friday, January 20th, as announced yesterday. Remember the date, Friday, January 27th.

Curlers Abroad.

Eight Peterborough curlers went forth at 7 a.m., into the cold, cold morning, with the primary object of making it a cold frosty day for the Lindsay men. They took the Grand Trunk train over the link and were engaged during the afternoon in doing battle with the Lindsay's for the first time of the season. The eight curlers are: Messrs. S. Clegg, J. Stanger, C. McGill, T. Rutherford, J. D. Baptie, J. McClelland, T. E. Bradburn and S. Bay.

Mr. Howden's Horse.

Mr. J. J. Howden, who had a horse stolen from his stable on Tuesday night, went to Port Hope on the receipt of a telegram that a horse answering the description of his had been found in the shed of Mrs. Christopher's hotel. He found the horse to be his property, but the buffaloes robes, which were also taken, were not to be found. Chief Douglass received a telegram from Acting Chief Adams to be on the look out for the parties and was on the look out for them, but they succeeded in eluding him.

The Oil Cloth Trade.

Mr. J. J. Turner is doing quite a trade in the oil cloth business. He makes an oil-cloth suitable for halls and dining rooms, of a quality at such a price that it readily sells itself. The fabric is of heavy sail cloth, finished in superior oil, paint and varnish, and is got out in different patterns, all of which are very pretty. The upper flat of Messrs. A. L. Davis & Co's book store is covered with long strips of it in process of manufacture. Those who have given Mr. Turner a contract for oilcloth express satisfaction at its quality and appearance. d9

is not pretending to sell goods at or below cost, which everybody who uses their judgment will find to be an utter impossibility. As the old adge says, we do not use a sprat to catch a whale, or in other words sell a towel at five cents which is less than cost, and charge a dollar for some thing else (which the people are not such good judges of) that is only worth seventy-five cents, but endeavor to give good value in every parcel. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, Turnbull has had a marvelous turnover of his fall and winter stock, far outreaching his expectations. The bulk of his heavy goods being sold out early in the season, enables him to place on his counters several joblines at less than manufacturers prices. Inspection invited.

THE ROSE OF ETTRICK VALE.

Amateur Athletes Entertain in the Role of Amateur Actors.

The Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association entertain the public in winter as well as in summer. On Wednesday evening they presented in Bradburn's Opera House the drama, "The Rose of Ettrick Vale." There was a good attendance, a compact audience filling the reserved seats and the other parts of the house being nearly all occupied. There was not only a large audience, there was a well pleased audience.

The drama is founded on a tale of border romance. Albert, the adopted son of an old man, is about to be married to Lorette, the Rose of the Vale. While the merriment preceeding the nuptials is proceeding shots are heard, and, Albert leading, the peasants rescue a stranger from the hands of robbers. The stranger, who is Red Ronald, a usurper of the castle of the Leonards, in disguise, covets the bride and by this ruse gets into the house. Guy, a bald headed "youth," whose fine nerves cause him to fear danger, and whose ceaseless chatter and ravenous appetite are the sport of the company, hears Ronald plotting with his gang, but when he tells Albert he is laughed at. The plot succeeds and the leader of the mosstroopers carries off the bride. A party pursues, but Guy, by an unnatural exhibition of courage and a combination of circumstances, first gets into the cave where she is taken. He is accompanied by Wandering Steenie, a melancholy musician whose brain is not clear. Guy releases Lorette, but by waiting for Steenie has to take refuge in a large chest. Albert and his supposed father, Old Adam, enter the cave, but are pounced upon and bound. As one of the freebooters, Brand O' the Brae, is about to slay them, Guy shoots him. In his remorse as death approaches, the robber frees his prisoners and they go to search for Lorette. They find her held by Red Ronald, who attempts to slay her, but Steenie appears on the scene bearing the shield of the former Laird of Leonards, who was slain by the usurper, and he kills Ronald. It is discovered that Albert is the heir of Leonards, and all ends well.

The actors need very little of the leniency in criticism always allowed to amateurs. Mr. James Morris filled the part of the courageous Albert very creditably throughout the play. Mr. G. A. Schofield, as Red Ronald, had a difficult role, but he showed himself to be an actor of not a little ability. The character of Wandering Steenie, as portrayed by Mr. A. St. A. Smith, was well conceived and was acted in a manner that displayed considerable histrionic skill. Mr. Mr. W. A. Dixon, as Guy, was inimitable—perfectly at home on the stage, always amusing and continually doing something to cause merriment, he kept the audience in good humor all the time he was on the stage. Mr. Charles Brown was a dignified Old Adam, and Messrs. T. G. Haultain, L. M. Hayes, C. S. Ardagh and C. S. Shaw, though filling minor parts, did so very creditably. Miss T. Hall, as Lorette, the Rose of Ettrick Vale, acted her part gracefully, and in the midst of the merriment and as a prisoner among the freebooters was equally effective—especially in the latter scene, when her struggles and pleading appeared very natural. Miss Archer was a vivacious and pleasant Jessie, and Mrs. H. Stapleton filled the part of the sister bridesmaid, Amy, very acceptably.

A special feature was the smoothness with which the scenery was shifted under the capable management of Mr. R. M. Roy. The imitation of the lightning and the rolling and crashing of the thunder were very vivid and natural. The Peterborough Amateur Orchestra furnished excellent music, which drew forth applause from the audience.

The entertainment was very successful, and the P.A.A.A. are to be congratulated on being able to draw such a large audience to the Opera House and on their ability to entertain them so well.

Cigars and Wine.

Fred Hicks, nightwatchman at the Grand Central Hotel, appeared at the court this morning to answer a charge of larceny, preferred against him by Mr. F. J. Daly. Acting Chief Adams brought up a valise containing the articles alleged to have been stolen, laid it on the table and opening it exposed to the wolfish looks of some of the spectators one quart bottle of Piper-Steidsick wine and four boxes of cigars. The prisoner pleaded not guilty of the charge when it was read to him. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appearing for the prosecution, applied for an adjournment till to-morrow and it was granted. The prisoner was made a prisoner at the C.P.R. restaurant. He had taken the valise down there from the hotel and left it, saying that a man would call for it. The man did'nt call, but in the meantime Acting Chief Adams with the authority of a search warrant, found out what was in the valise, and awaited developments. Hicks came himself to take the valise away and was arrested. The prisoner says that he is innocent of the charge. A man who was staying at the hotel asked him to carry the valise down to the restaurant and leave it there. The articles in the valise are similar to the stock kept in the hotel storeroom.

PETERBOROUGH PRESBYTERY.

Meeting in Port Hope—The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

The usual quarterly meeting of Peterborough Presbytery was held, the Port Hope Times says, in Mill Street Church, Port Hope, on Tuesday. In the absence of the Moderator, the Rev. J. Cameron, of Millbrook, occupied the chair. The attendance of ministers and elders was below the average.

A considerable amount of routine business was transacted. Among the items of more general interest may be enumerated the nomination of Principal Grant as Moderator of the next General Assembly; a vote of thanks to Messrs. Chisholm and Cleland for their action on the Oak Hill church matter, and the granting of the latter $25 per annum as a recognition of his services in the Home Mission work of the Presbytery; the appointment of a committee consisting of the Rev. Messrs. Cooke, Mitchell and McWilliam to consider the Remits on the book of Forms, and Representation at the General Assembly, and the appointment of Messrs. Roxburgh, Henderson, D. Chisholm, R. Dingwall and Sheriff Hall as a committee to visit augmented congregations, as required by the law of the church, and for the purpose of aiding these congregations with their counsel in adopting, where advisable, improved financial methods.

WOMAN'S FOREIGN MISSION SOCIETY.

The Woman's Foreign Mission Society of the Presbytery of Peterborough held its sixth annual meeting in Port Hope on Tuesday, a large attendance of delegates being present from various parts of the Presbytery.

The election of officers and other business connected with the management of the Society being disposed of in the forenoon, a very interesting programme was presented in the afternoon, composed of addresses by Mrs. McCrae, of Cobourg, Miss Mitchell and Mrs. R. E. Scott, of Port Hope, and the President, Mrs. McEwen, of Lakefield.

Mrs. Fountain, also as representative of Methodist Women's Foreign Mission Society, gave a very interesting account of the origin and development of this sister Society.

A missionary duet rendered by Miss Winnie Chisholm and Miss Richardson helped to intensify the missionary spirit that pervaded the meeting. The President, Mrs. Henderson, of Peterborough, and Mrs Kirkpatrick, of Port Hope, took part it the devotional exercises, while the service of praise was led by Miss Holsworth and the Mission Band of the First Presbyterian church. The same young ladies, with the assistance of some representatives of the Mill street Auxiliary, at a later stage in the proceedings of the day, prepared and served tea to the delegates and members of Presbytery.

An evening meeting presided over by the Moderator of Presbytery was held in the Mill street church, at which able and interesting addresses were delivered by the Rev. Mr. Mackenzie, of Grafton, and Mr. McLeod, of Brighton.

The official reports of the Society show 14 Auxiliaries and 3 Mission Bands, with an aggregate membership of 434. The aggregate contributions for 1887 were $1,301.48

TRENT VALLEY NAVIGATION.

A Meeting of the Committee of the Association on January 20th.

The following circular has been issued, calling a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Trent Valley Navigation Association on Friday, January 20th:—

PETERBOROUGH, January 10th, 1888.

DEAR SIR,—I beg to inform you that at a representative meeting held here last month, a Trent Valley Navigation Association was formed for the purpose of (among other things) collecting evidence to be placed before the Commission, recently appointed by the Dominion Government to inquire into this matter, and that an Executive Committee was appointed composed of the Wardens of the Counties of Simcoe, Ontario, Victoria, Peterborough, Hastings and Northumberland and Durham; of the Mayors of Peterborough, Trenton, Belleville, Lindsay, Orillia and Barrie; and Messrs. M. M. Boyd, Bobcaygeon; John Carnegie, Peterborough; W. H. Cross, Barrie; D. D. Murphy, Trenton; R. C. Stricker, Lakefield; Rev. Mr. Logan, Fenelon Falls; J. Dinwoodie, Campbellford; H. Fowlds, Hastings; Col. Deacon, Lindsay; W. B. Northrup, Belleville, and a representative from Orillia and Midland, and that I am instructed to call a meeting of this Committee for Friday, 20th instant, at 2 P.M., in the Council Chamber, Peterborough. As any neglect on our part to do our full duty in support of this undertaking at the present time must prove injurious, if not disastrous, to the prompt prosecution of this important work, I am instructed to urge upon you the importance of a full attendance at this meeting, in order that ample and prompt steps may be taken to collect, and lay before the Commission referred to, all the evidence possible in support of the feasibility and benefits to be derived from the early completion of a work of so much importance to this portion of the Dominion as the Trent Valley Navigation. Yours respectfully,

JOHN CARNEGIE,
Secretary.

The American Standard.

Europeans say that we Americans value everything by a dollar and cent standard. We Americans refute this as a slander. Yet is it not significant that at Gettysburg, of all places in the land, the visitor is told first of all that the battlefield monuments cost such and such a sum? This is not wholly the fault of the particular guide or driver whom you may engage to take you to the scene of the momentous action. Experience has taught your pilot that the average visitor wishes to be told at once the exact cost of everything he sees, as if that were the chief element in its value, or as if it were any element of absolute value. Thus, when we drove to the National cemetery and stopped before the national column which Lincoln dedicated in immortal phrase, our driver began: "This monument cost $50,000." A murmur of approbation ran instantly through the human freightage of our coach. One individual, however, exclaimed: "Humph! Didn't cost within $25,000 as much as our monument at ——, Massachusetts."—Boston Herald.

THE MARKET REPORTS.

REVIEW OFFICE, Jan. 12th, 1888.

Foreign markets are reported as not so steady, with a perceptable decline on the English markets. At Chicago there has been a weaker feeling and prices fell a trifle. At Montreal things are reported as quiet with but little doing.

Live Stock Markets.

The British live stock market is cabled, this week, as very quiet, with a fair demand. A scarcity has occastoned some advance in prices shared in by Canadian cattle offered.

At Montreal cattle market a fair business has been done but to some extent the market is overstocked. The prospects are that there will be a good demand for export cattle but buyers were not anxious as the offerings were large. Good butchers' cattle averaging from 1,000 to 1,100 lbs., sold at 3¼c@3½c; medium, from 800 to 1,000 lbs. 3c@3¼c, and culls at 2c@3c per lb. live weight. There was a fair demand for good sheep and lambs, but the supply was limited. Lambs were scarce. Sheep, however, were decidedly weaker and prices declined ½c@¾c per lb., with sales reported at 3c@3½c per lb. live weight. Calves were scarce and sold at from $5@$10 each as to quality.

NORWOOD.

Correspondence of the Review.

EVANGELISTIC.—The Rev. Messrs. Crossley and Dewey, Methodist evangelists, are holding revival services in the Presbyterian Church. The services are largely attended, and the indications are that much good is being done.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.—A two days' meeting of the East Riding of Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held on Friday and Saturday, and gave great satisfaction to all that attended. Prof. Robertson, of the Guelph Agricultural College, gave very instructive addresses both days, which were well received. Mr. Dryden, M. P. P., also gave a splendid discourse on dranning and other kindred subjects. Other excellent papers were read by members of the institute. The President, Mr. F. Birdsall, and Mr. Robert Burgess, were appointed delegates to the Provincial Farmers' Central Institute. Capt. Birdsall's paper on "Raising Horses" and Mr. W. Birdsall's on "Permanent Pasture" were much appreciated. The next meeting of the Institute will be held at Keene on the first Friday in March.

EARTHQUAKE.—A distinct shock of earthwas felt in the village on Wednesday morning, between three and four o'clock. In several houses the dishes were made to rattle and beds were shaken all over town. Quite an excitement prevailed as it was talked over on the streets during the day.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The ladies of the Church of England here, held an entertainment in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening. It was exceedingly well attended and a pleasant evening was spent by all, especially the children of the Sunday school.

SALVATION ARMY.—The Salvation Army attacked our town in full force on Saturday evening. A number of soldiers with musical instruments attended the opening from Peterborough and Hastings. They made their usual noise and left two ladies, a captain and cadet, to conduct the meetings.—They are both good singers and draw good crowds.

The new "Ragged Edge" calling cards are all the go. They can be had for little money at the REVIEW Stationery. Just the thing to use when making your holiday calls.

Dealing in Tax Titles.

"I deal in nothing but tax titles," said a gentleman recently to a reporter. "The business has reached such a magnitude that it requires all my time. Candidly, if I were out of it I would choose some other calling. There isn't the money in it that people imagine. Yet it is a perfectly honorable business, and in the whole range of my experience there is nothing I have to be ashamed of. I buy up tax titles at every sale, and depend for my profits upon the settlements made with parties directly interested. Frequently I let people of moderate means down without any expense to speak of, and I must say that the men of the most means are the toughest customers I have to deal with. On certain property owned by one of the wealthiest firms in the city, I hold a tax title of twenty-two years' standing. They know it's a cloud on their land, but I can get nothing out of them. They simply say that the matter isn't worrying them so long as they don't want to sell, and then they stop. Most dealers prefe titles on land outside the city. Give me city titles. Settlements are prompter, come easier and pay better.

"There's one thing the average business man does not understand. This is the uncertainty attaching to what even experts may pronounce a perfect title. Some old deed, transfer or bequest, some matter of unpaid taxes or a lost heir comes up after years of quiet possession and either money must be paid or possession forfeited. Look at that big file case full of papers there. Every document is a menace to property now owned in the city or county and liable at any time to pass into new hands. A very rich citizen called on me yesterday and agreed to pay me a handsome fee for simply straightening out the tax records so that he might know exactly how he stood and how much he would have to pay in order that his land might be free from future trouble because of such claims against it. These taxes are calculated to make trouble and the only safe way is to see that they're fully paid before you buy land and then settle regularly yourself."—Detroit News.

Importation of Opium.

Since 1878 there has been a large increase in the importation of opium to this country, and while a portion of the increase has been due to legitimate causes, the main cause is undoubtedly due to its pernicious use in opium joints and by means of the hypodermic syringe. Dr. Hammond, the great New York specialist, advises physicians to make up the medicines they prescribe without letting the patient know what they are composed of, thus preventing them from dosing themselves or trying experiments.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

STYLE!

A man or boy handsomely dressed is usually regarded with more or less favor wherever he may go.

The unfortunate fellow clad in shabby or ill-fitting garments, unless uncommonly smart and pushing, must take a back seat.

There is no mistake about this. It may be contradicted, but not successfully. Brains or no brains we'd rather take our chances in life set out in neat apparel, well cut and made.

A good deal depends—a mighty deal hangs on the clothes a man wears.

Men have been refused discounts by discriminating bankers because they wore hard looking suits.

Men—young men too—have been crossed in love because their suits were shabby or of ancient cut.

Men have lost elections because their style of pantaloons did not meet with the approbation of voters.

Men have been pushed confounded hard by the tax collec or when it was seen that they were wearing out last years' suits.

Granted then, that good clothes are something worth having, let us understand where they are to be bought to best advantage.

The house that sells first-class goods; sells them at small profits; the house that treats its customers politely and patiently; that guarantees the materials, cut, build and finish of the clothing turned out—that is the house to give your order to.

That house is ours.

CANADA'S CREDIT ABROAD

A STEADY ADVANCE IN CANADIAN SECURITIES IN LONDON.

The Upward Movement General—Grand Trunk's Depressed as a Result of Ontario Harvest Returns—An Answer to Opponents of the Canadian Live Stock Trade.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A special to The Empire says there has been a remarkable general and steady advance in Canadian securities such as has not been seen for months past. Dominion, provincial and municipal issues have all risen from 1 to 2 per cent. during the week, and in Canadian railways there has been a long succession of favorable movements, especially in Northern and Windsor and Annapolis. Bank and land shares are also advancing. The only noteworthy exception to the general rule occurs in the case of Grand Trunks, which are depressed on account of the result of the Ontario harvest. The general opinion in the city is that the year opens most hopefully for Canada.

The Canadian Gazette, commenting on the proposed visit of the provincial premiers to London to urge Commercial Union, says: "Unless they are seeking a mere holiday outing, the premiers had better remain at home. If they really desire to influence Imperial opinion they must do so through the medium of Canadian public opinion, brought to bear in regular course upon the Federal Executive."

Some journals are renewing the attacks upon the cattle trade because the average mortality during the past year reaches 1.68 per cent. in cattle shipments and 2.76 per cent. in sheep. It is pointed out in reply that this results from the employment of outside steamers. The regular lines landed 14,000 cattle without a single loss and the remainder of their shipments at an average loss of two-thirds of 1 per cent., admittedly an excellent record.

In connection with the failure of W. J. McMaster & Brother, of Toronto, James McMaster, of the London firm, has retired from the boards of four British concerns.

A DELUGE OF GOOD WISHES.

For the Hon. Sir John Macdonald on His 73d Birthday.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—The veteran premier was fairly deluged with telegrams of congratulation to-day from all parts of Canada, this being his 73d birthday. From the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from distant England, messages came in. Several friends in Ottawa sent floral offerings accompanied by kindly messages. Sir John was at the Council to-day for three hours, and his many friends throughout Canada will be glad to learn that he is in the best of health.

BECOMING RESTLESS.

Railroaders Want an Answer to Their Demand For an Increase.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—The officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have not yet answered the petition of their employes for an advance of wages, and according to the statement of one of the leaders in the movement for higher wages the men are getting restless at the delay. "We are determined to have the increase," said he, "and unless an answer is given to us before next Wednesday a strike extending over the entire system will be inaugurated."

Little Coal Moving.

READING, Jan. 11.—Less than 150 loaded coal cars had passed through here from the coal region since midnight and up to noon today.

Shut Down.

BELVIDERE, N. J., Jan. 11.—The rolling mill and nail works of the Oxford Iron Company, at Oxford, N. J., have shut down, and hundreds of hands are thrown out of employment.

One Colliery in Operation.

SHENANDOAH, Jan. 11.—Only one individual colliery in the entire Shenandoah district is now in operation and that is the Cambria. The William Penn Coal Company was forced to shut down this morning.

The Cigarmakers Go Back to Work.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The difficulty between Mr. Hersch of the Defiance cigar factory and his employes who went on strike, has been settled amicably, and the men returned to work to-day. The employes of Holzmann & Co., who quit work on Monday, also went to work to-day, the firm having decided to continue the old prices.

THE "MINE JUMPER."

The Little Christabel mine in Colorado long ago went through a process vulgarly called "petering out." It is now a mere hole in the ground. The half dozen shanties and cabins near it have long ago fallen into disuse. Their roofs have fallen in, and it is years since the gulch in which their ruins are was the habitation of men. The entire gulch is deserted now, and the Little Christabel is only a memory to those who once shared in the prosperity it once brought to Fairplay gulch.

A long, narrow pile of decaying logs and parts of a clapboard roof mark the spot where the boarding house was. There are still living many of the men who once gathered around the long, rough pine table that ran the full length of the cabin. One of them told me the story of Miss Millicent.

Miss Millicent Hay was the only woman ever seen at the Little Christable mine.

When Harley Vance, the owner of the mine, advertised in a Denver paper for a cook for his boarding house, Miss Millicent Hay answered the advertisement in person.

She came walking up the trail leading to the camp carrying a little hand sachel and a stout walking stick.

"I have been staying down in Camp Crystal," she said to the surprised Mr. Vance, who had advertised for a man cook, "and I thought the place would just suit me. The stage brought me to the mouth of the gulch and I walked the rest of the way. It isn't more than six miles, is it?"

She was a small but resolute looking woman, with keen gray eyes and a mouth indicating great firmness of character. Her thin brown hair was combed plainly back from a brow beginning to show signs of wrinkles, although she was but 40 years old.

"Do you think I couldn't do the work?" she asked. "I am quite strong and I have known nothing but hard work all my life."

She held out her ungloved hands as she spoke. They were rough and wrinkled, with bent fingers and calloused palms.

"You might do the work," said Mr. Vance. "There are only about fifteen boarders and we live in a plain, rough way, and there is a boy to help. But it wouldn't be a pleasant place for a lady to live. There are no women in this gulch."

"I care nothing for that," said Miss Millicent. "Men are sometimes kinder than women," she added, with a tinge of bitterness in her voice.

The end of it all was that Miss Millicent was installed as cook in the boarding house. She had evidently come determined to stay, for the stage coach that went rumbling through the gulch next day brought up a little hair covered trunk with "M. H." on the end of it with brass headed nails.

Before a week the boarders began blessing the good angel that sent them Miss Millicent. Such meals as she served had never been seen before at the Little Christabel; and it was wonderful to see the change she brought about in the dirty little boarding house and its contents. Her energy and strength seemed unfailing. She went stepping briskly about, the neatest and sprightliest of housekeepers, singing at her work and smiling on everbody.

At the end of a fortnight every man in camp knew Miss Millicent and had felt the influence a good woman exerts in every community.

Old hats and caps were doffed to her wherever she went. No oaths or rough words were spoken in her presence, and the man who would have dared to offer her an indignity would have "rid on a rail," as my informant said.

For a year Miss Millicent lived at the Little Christabel, and in that time she had won the sincere regard of every man in camp. There had been a great deal of sickness among the men that winter, and some of them owed their lives to Miss Millicent's careful nursing, good food and general good sense in everything pertaining to the care of the sick.

Her own cheerfulness and good health never failed her.

"I don't believe you ever had a sorrow in your life, did you?" asked one of the men one day.

Miss Millicent was standing in the cabin door at the time. The smile on her face vanished as she made reply; she leaned her head wearily against the door frame; her face paled for a moment and her lips quivered as she said slowly:

"Every heart knoweth its own bitterness;" then she turned and went to her own little room at the end of the cabin, and the man who had asked the question said:

"Some villain of a man at the bottom of it all, I'll bet; I'd like to help stretch his neck!"

It was no secret that one or two of the men in camp had been suitors for Miss Millicent's hand, and it was known that she had received their proposals with a burst of tears, and had begged them never, as they valued their happiness and hers, never to refer to the subject again.

The camp had been singularly free from the brawls and lawlessness that both distinguish and disgrace most mountain mining camps. Mr. Vance would not allow a saloon within the limits of the mine, and had made it obligatory on the men that they refrain from many things common to the ordinary miner.

The presence of Miss Millicent had had much to do with the unusual good behavior of the men and the good name the Little Christabel wore as a mining camp.

But one day there came a bit of news to the camp that changed the men from good natured, easy going, jovial fellows to angry, determined men.

There lived on a claim near the Little Christabel a man known as Capt. Tom, an honest, hard working and thoroughly good man, very popular with all who knew him, and unusually so with the men employed at the Little Christabel.

For two years he had worked hard in poverty and deprivation, developing a claim that was generally believed to be worthless.

But fortune plays strange freaks in mining camps, and Capt. Tom's unpromising mine one day revealed a splendid vein of rich silver ore. He came down to the Little Christabel, jubilant over his good fortune. He returned home to find his claim "jumped" by two or three men, led by a fellow of unsavory reputation known as Doc Grigson.

Grigson and his confederates were in possession of Capt. Tom's two years of labor, and coolly ordered him to "clear out" when he appeared at the door of his own little cabin, the order being emphasized by threats of immediate annihilation if he tarried long on the order of his going.

This "mine jumping" process is one I cannot give in detail here. Suffice it to say that possession is even more than "nine-tenths of the law" when applied to unpatented and unrecorded mining claims.

There was nothing for Capt. Tom to do, alone as he was, but to vacate the premises. This he did, going directly back to the Little Christabel and laying his grievances before his friends there.

Capt. Tom's story of his wrongs created intense excitement at the Little Christabel. A meeting was at once held and a plan of action decided upon.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

After grammarians quarrel, they parse each other without speaking.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8 75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $8 75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

Don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

THE PRINCE'S RESOLVE.

ABDICATION WOULD MEAN BULGARIA'S ASSASSINATION.

Ferdinand Would Rather Leave His Bones on the Field of Battle—The Powers Said to Contemplate a General Blockade if He Refuses to Resign.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 12.—The Sloboda declares that Prince Ferdinand would rather leave his bones on the field of battle than abdicate, which would mean the assassination of Bulgaria.

No Confidence in the Peaceful Outlook.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—The Financial World has no confidence in the peaceful outlook. Six thousand workmen are still employed on the Eastern frontier at high wages. They are engaged in restoring fortresses and casting their walls with a cement which is said to be proof against the new explosives.

Will Repel an Invader.

SOFIA, Jan. 12.—At a war council yesterday it was decided to adopt measures for the defence of Bulgaria against any invader, but not to take part in aggressive action.

A Denial.

VIENNA, Jan. 12.—The statement that the powers would ask the Porte to summon Prince Ferdinand to resign the Bulgarian throne is denied.

What Bulgaria May Expect.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—It is reported that a general blockade of Bulgaria is contemplated by the Powers in the event of Prince Ferdinand's refusal to resign the Bulgarian throne.

Bribing Natives to Rebel.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 12.—The captain and a portion of the crew of the steamer which conveyed the Montenegrin raiders in the recent expedition in Bulgaria have been arrested. Some refugee Montenegrins have also been captured, and will be courtmartialled. It is reported that several Russian officers have been arrested in Roumelia for bribing natives to rise in rebellion.

THE FRENCH LEGISLATURE.

M. Floquet Says Internal Questions Must Occupy the Deputies' Attention.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—M. Floquet, on assuming the Presidency of the Chamber of Deputies to-day, spoke of the robust vitality displayed by that body in accomplishing with invincible firmness a sacrifice necessary, but painful, and achieving the constitutional evolution which the honor of the Republic demanded. He held that it was the duty of the Chambers to maintain upon a solid basis lasting harmony between the public powers. It was also to the interest of the nation that the authority of the legislative powers should not in its turn be shaken just after the prestige of the executive power had been happily established. He concluded by saying that questions touching political procedure had but slight interest for the nation at the present time. It was therefore necessary for the Chamber to occupy itself with questions of finance, industry and commerce, the welfare of the working classes, the military organization and the internal situation.

"Why," he asked, "should we not be able to come to an agreement upon these questions since we all equally desire justice? While in all negotiations regarding external interests we are actuated by loyalty to the people, who love peace but are inaccessible to weakness, strict justice at home and scrupulous loyalty are our essentials of national strength. We must be strong if we wish to be courted as allies and dreaded as foes."

The Chamber proceeding to business, M. Fallieres stated that Magistrate Vigneaux had been removed because his conduct in the decoration scandal case was incompatible with the character of an impartial magistrate.

John Bright's Forecast.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—John Bright, in a long letter picturing some of the results of granting home rule to Ireland, says if the country returns Mr. Gladstone to power he may appoint Parnellites to the highest offices in the state.

GRIT ANNEXATIONISTS.

A Pretty Family Quarrel Over the Queen's Election.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 12.—The campaign in Queen's is growing exciting. Mr. King and his friends are holding meetings, but they have not so far had a word to say against the Government policy on any subject. Nor has Mr. King so much as mentioned Commercial Union. On being faced on nomination day by Mr. Baird and challenged to express himself squarely on the position of Mr. Ellis in the party, Mr. King was in sore trouble. On one side of him was Mr. O'Brien, assistant editor and business partner of Mr. Ellis, M.P., and on the other a representative of the loyal Telegraph. The result was much hesitation, an equivocal utterance, and finally a refusal to say anything more than to affirm his own loyalty.

The good Grit Telegraph to-day declares that Mr. King said, "I will not defend Mr. Ellis," and editorially praises Mr. King for this expression of loyalty. The equally good Grit annexation organ makes Mr. King say, "Mr. Ellis needs no defence from me." Both journals are therefore in a position to keep up the fight and to boom Mr. King. Mr. Baird's meetings appear to be successful everywhere.

At Gagetown last night Mr. Temple, M.P. for York, and Mr. Wilmot, M.P for Sunbury, spoke.

A SUIT FOR $190,000.

The Action of the Owen Sound Steamship Company Against the C. P. R.

TORONTO, Jan. 13.

An important litigation was commenced yesterday afternoon in the Assize Court before Mr. Justice Street. It was the case of the Owen Sound Steamship Company v. the Canadian Pacific and the Ontario and Quebec Railways. The jury was struck out in this case. Some years ago the board of directors of the old Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway entered into an agreement with the Owen Sound Steamship Company steamers, consisting of the Magnet, Spartan and Africa, to run a line in connection with the Toronto, Grey and Bruce, under which agreement the directors of the railway were to do all they could to hand over freight to the vessels of the plaintiffs. In 1883 the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway was leased to the Ontario and Quebec Railway, and a few months subsequently the Ontario and Quebec Railway, together with its branch lines, passed under the control of the Canadian Pacific. During 1883, 1884 and 1885, it is claimed by the plaintiffs, the defendants broke the agreement with the Owen Sound Steamship Company and that they gave their business to the Canadian Pacific steamships. It is also claimed by plaintiffs that the defendants were bound under the agreement between the Owen Sound Steamship Company and the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway to give all the lake freight possible to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs contend that this agreement has been broken by the defendants and they ask for $150,000 damages, and $40,000 for work done. The defendants contend that after the Toronto, Grey and Bruce passed under the control of the Canadian Pacific a notice was given to terminate the agreement between the Toronto, Grey and Bruce and the Owen Sound Steamship Company at the end of a year, and that they are not liable for the agreement mentioned.

These witnesses were examined: Mr. R. W. Elliot, President of the Steamship Company; George Plunkett Magann, the secretary, and Joseph W. Chapman, the anditor.

The court room was filled with Canadian Pacific officials and steamboat men, who have taken a deep interest in the case. The steamers Magnet and Spartan are now running on the Ontario and Richelieu Navigation Company's route between Montreal and Toronto.

The counsel engaged in the case are Mr. Wm. Lount, Q.C., and Mr. George Bell for plaintiffs, and Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., and Mr. G. T. Blackstock for the defendants.

Mr. Lount argued the case at length after the witnesses named had given evidence, and the court rose at 5.50. Mr. Lount and Mr. McCarthy will offer further arguments this morning. Many well-known American and English railway and steamboat authorities are being cited in the case.

ANOTHER QUAKE.

The Earth Rocks Again in South Carolina—No Damage Done.

COLUMBIA, S.C., Jan. 12.—A sharp earthquake shock, the first in many months, startled the citizens of Columbia at 9.55 this morning. Buildings were severely shaken and doors, windows, crockery and glassware were rattled in a lively manner. Many people rushed into the streets. The direction of the wave seemed to be from north to south. The vibrations continued about 10 seconds and were accompanied by loud detonations.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Jan. 12.—There was an earthquake shock at Summerville at 9.55 this morning. The disturbance was also noticed by some persons here, though it was so slight as not to be felt by the majority of people. There was no damage and no alarm. The shock was generally felt throughout the coast country and as far west as Augusta. No damage has been reported at any places.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 12.—A distinct earthquake shock was felt here at 9.23 this morning. The duration of the shock was five seconds. It seemingly passed from west to east.

WILMINGTON, N.C., Jan. 12.—A sharp earthquake shock was felt here this morning about 10 o'clock. No damage was done.

Magnetic Disturbances and Sun Spots.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Jan. 12.—Since noon of Monday, Jan. 9, the magnetic needle has been much disturbed at intervals. There was a marked disturbance Wednesday evening about 8.30. During the forenoon of Thursday there was a rapid motion, and between 11 and 12 there were indications of a severe magnetic storm. The motion of a heavy needle a foot long was 1½°. This extreme agitation followed the earthquake at Columbia, S.C. Mr. H. C. Maine of this city reports the appearance of an extended group of sun spots on Monday and Tuesday by the sun's rotation. It is the group which first appeared in the same way Dec. 13 and 14. Since Jan. 9 there have been very rapid and extreme fluctuations of barometric pressure.

A Prince's Forthcoming Nuptials.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Prince Oscar, second son of King Oscar of Sweden, will be married at Bournemouth shortly to Miss Elba Munck one of his mother's maids of honor.

THE CARLETON CAMPAIGN.

NOMINATION DAY JANUARY 25 AND POLLING FEBRUARY 1.

The Dundee Land Question—Goderich Harbor Improvements—Prince Edward Island Lifeboat Service—11,221 Miles of Railway in Operation in Canada.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—The campaign in Carleton will be but a short one, as the writ was issued to-day. Nomination takes place on Jan. 25 and polling on Feb. 1. Sheriff Sweetland is returning officer.

It is said that the commission appointed to enquire into the Dundee land question will report that although the Indians have a good legal title the settlers have so strong and equitable a claim that they should receive lenient treatment at the hands of the Government. On the other side, however, it is pointed out that the township was strictly held as a reserve for the St. Regis Indians, and the annual rental paid by the settlers is altogether incommensurate with the value of the land, which is in a high state of cultivation. This being the case, the Government will have a delicate task in endeavoring to settle the dispute.

A deputation from Goderich had an interview with Sir Hector Langevin this morning with reference to some further improvement of the harbor. The Minister promised to take the matter under consideration.

The ice-boat service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland has commenced, the Northern Light being unable to complete her last trip on account of the ice.

On Dec. 31 last there were 11,221 miles of railway in operation in Canada and 12,400 miles of track. The total number of miles placed under traffic between June 30, 1886 and Dec. 30 last was 523.

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY ACT.

A Suit in Hamilton Results in Favor of the Employe.

HAMILTON, Jan. 12.—Another suit under the new Employers' Liability Act came up at the Assizes to-day. The case was Cox v. The Hamilton Sewer Pipe Company, in which James Cox sued for damages for the loss of his left hand in 1886, while working at a sewer pipe press in the defendants' factory. The case was tried at the last spring Assizes before Judge Cameron, who non-suited the plaintiff. The plaintiff appealed and a new trial was unanimously granted by the court in term. When the case came up the defendants consented to a verdict for $500 being entered up.

In the Police Court this morning the burglary of Mrs. Lee's store was brought home pretty strongly against Terence Scott, Joseph Parker and Andrew Lewis, all colored. Ellen Richards, a white woman, gave evidence against the prisoners, and was held as a witness.

Ex-Ald. Lillis and Patrick Hennessey, the lock expert, are lying very low. The former has been ailing for some weeks past.

The experts, Messrs. Jones and Worswick, say that the new engine and pump at the Beach are the best they have seen in Canada.

Judge McMahon was entertained at dinner by the Wentworth bar at the Hamilton Club to-night.

THE NORTHERN RAILWAY DEAL.

With the Grand Trunk Said to Contain a Hitch—Off for the Present.

HAMILTON, Jan. 12.—The report that the Grand Trunk had closed for the control of the Northern and Northwestern Railways turns out to be premature. The truth is that the Grand Trunk are willing to accept the terms asked for the Northern proper (they are anxious to get the property on the Toronto Esplanade), but that they object to taking the Hamilton and Northwestern. Consequently at the joint meeting of the two boards here the other day our people objected to any deal being made unless the Hamilton road was included. Things are therefore at a standstill.

Legislation may be asked at the coming session to ease the situation.

Mr. VanHorne's View.

Mr. VanHorne of the C.P.R. said last night that he knew nothing of the matter. His company had been offered the Northern Railway some time ago, but the sum asked for it was considered by the C.P.R. to be more than it was worth to them, and so they declined further negotiations.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

PARIS, Ont., Jan. 12.—Charles Palmer, about 35 years of age, a well-known farmer and pork merchant of this town, met his death this morning. It appears, while cutting a tree to make a pump log, he was caught between a standing tree and the one he was felling. He was so severely injured that he died in a few minutes. He leaves a wife and five children.

A Forger Arrested.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Ringgold Cooper, an American forger, has been arrested in Paris on an extradition warrant for a forgery upon the London and Westminster Bank by which he realized £3600.

A VERDICT FOR THE "STRAIGHTS."

Ten of the Ticket for O.C.P. Councillors Elected—Three Old Members Rejected.

TORONTO, Jan. 13.

Returning Officer G. A. Boomer and Scrutineers A. R. Fraser and I. C. Lewis concluded counting the ballots for the election of the new council of the Ontario College of Pharmacy at 7.45 last evening, having spent 1½ days in the tedious work. Of the 514 ballots sent in, 26 were rejected as being irregularly marked. The number of ballot papers sent out was 504. The "straights" elected ten of their ticket, C. D. Daniel of Toronto and E. A. Jukes of St. Catharines being left out. Of the members of the unseated council who offered for re-election only three succeeded in being returned: J. E. D'Avignon, Windsor; N. C. Polson, Kingston, and W. B. Sanders, Stayner. The old councillors who are defeated are R. W. Elliot, Toronto; Hugh Miller, Toronto; Robt. Wightman, Owen Sound; L. W. Yeomans, Belleville; and J. E. Kennedy, Cobourg.

This new council will hold its first meeting at the college in St. James'-square on Feb. 14, when they will elect a registrar to take the place of George Hodgetts, lately resigned. The election of president, vice-president and secretary will also prove important matters. The salary of the secretary is $600 per annum, with the prospect of an increase.

GLENGARRY ELECTION TRIAL.

The Election Voided on Account of Bribery by an Agent.

CORNWALL, Jan 12.—The trial of the Glengarry Dominion election petition opened this morning before Hon. Justice Rose, Mr. MacMaster, Q.C., and Mr. Tiffany for petitioner, Mr. W. Cassels, Q.C., and Mr. N. B. McLennan, Q.C., for respondent, Patrick Purcell. Mr. Cassels made the usual objection to jurisdiction which was overruled. A number of witnesses were called for petitioner.

The evidence elicited the fact that one Duncan H. Mackenzie had loaned money to voters to induce them to vote for the respondent, and the agency of Mackenzie being admitted, His Lordship declared the election void. The petitioner proceeded further to prove personal bribery to disqualify the respondent, but at the time of adjournment had not proven any charge.

The votes polled for respondent were 2020, and for Mr. McMaster 1814. The court room was crowded all day and the interest taken is intense. The respondent is wealthy and loaned a considerable amount of money during the course of the election campaign and, as some of the witnesses put it, the respondent charged his agents to be careful in every case to take a note.

PRINCE AND KAISER.

Unser Fritz Says He Has a Confident Hope of Recovery.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—The Crown Prince, in a letter thanking the Berlin municipal authorities for the New Year address, says he has a confident, joyful hope of recovery, and would rejoice to learn that a similar feeling prevailed in Berlin.

Best Hopes for Complete Recovery.

SAN REMO, Jan. 12.—The swelling in the Crown Prince's throat is fast disappearing, and the best hopes are entertained for his complete recovery.

His General Health Good.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Count Radolinski, the Crown Prince's Chamberlain who has just returned from San Remo, says the Crown Prince's general health is better than it has been for years.

A Fainting Spell.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—La France announces that the German Embassy in Paris has received a telegram stating that the Crown Prince has had a fainting spell, and was unconscious for several hours.

The Emperor Slept Well.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—The Emperor slept well last night and was free of pain.

The Celtic Fog-Bound.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The fog continues extremely dense and shows no sign of lifting. Forty loaded vessels are fog-bound in the Mersey. Among them is the steamer Celtic, which was to have left for New York yesterday. Service on various packet lines has been suspended. Several vessels have gone ashore on account of the fog. The fog has demoralized the railway service and makes it impossible to run trains on schedule time. Numerous fatalities have occurred.

The Plot Against the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 12.—Among the men arrested in connection with the latest plot against the Czar is an employe on the Baltic Railway, who kept the Nihilists informed of every journey of the Czar to and from Gatschina. Letters were found on the prisoner showing that the plot was ripe for execution on the eve of his arrest.

The Italian Troops Will Advance Soon.

ROME, Jan. 12.—Advices from Massowah say that the Italian troops will begin an advance within a few days. Numerous natives who have been found watching the outposts have been arrested.

The Daily Review.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 13, 1888.

HAS HE THEIR CONFIDENCE?

The London Advertiser protests that the Review cannot find a line in any of its issues which hinted that a man deserved the support of the Liberal party because of his annexation sentiments. Perhaps not, and we never said that such a line could be found.

The circumstances which led to the publication of the paragraph the Advertiser objects to were these: Mr. Ellis, a Liberal M. P., announced that he favored the annexation of Canada to the United States. A New Brunswick Liberal paper thereupon called on him to resign, as, expressing such sentiments, he misrepresented his constituency. The Advertiser, however, undertook to demonstrate that, notwithstanding his advocacy of annexation, Mr. Ellis deserved the support and confidence of the Liberal party.

The Advertiser is an adept at drawing fine lines, but in this case the line is so fine that few will be able to see it. "The Advertiser believes," it says, "that a man might be a bigamist and still have sound views on the tariff; that he might be a murderer and possess a proper conception of the impropriety of boodling by Cabinet Ministers." Yet no one would wish to place his life in the keeping of a murderer, and very few would care to trust a daughter with a man who believed that bigamy was not a crime. Neither should Canadians place in a position of power in the councils of the nation a man who does not believe in the life of the nation and who wishes to make it subservient to a foreign country. The Advertiser's illustrations do not help it out of the difficulty.

The people of this country—that is a large majority of them, Conservatives and Liberals—are loyal to Canada and the British Empire. They believe and firmly hold that to unite this country to the United States would be to seriously injure it, and a man who is elected to represent the political views of the people who expresses annexation sentiments misrepresents them. A member of Parliament is elected to voice the political opinions of his constitutents, and his views should coincide with theirs, especially on important questions.

It will be a surprise to many Liberals to be told by an influential organ of the party that a member of Parliament may be an annexationist and yet deserve their confidence and support. If the Advertiser's statement is correct, as we said before, we are sorry for the party. But we do not believe it is correct, and if the leaders try to force such a doctrine upon the men who have supported them, and endeavor to convince them that an avowed annexationist is worthy of their support, we will be greatly surprised if those leaders do not find themselves out of the confidence of many electors who have always called themselves Reformers or Liberals.

The character and extent of the carrying trade which is done upon the great lakes of North America may be judged, says a contemporary, when we read that during the navigable season of 1886 there was received by water carriage at the port of Buffalo, on Lake Erie, 161,000,000 bushels of grain, from the Western States 365,000,000 feet of lumber from the forests of Michigan and Wisconsin. The movement of the chief articles of commerce has exceeded that of any previous year with one exception. The shipment of coal from Buffalo westward, by lake, amounted to 1,800,000 tons; that of lumber, by canal, eastward, to 55,000,000 feet; that of grain 27,000,000 bushels by rail and 55,000,000 by canal towards the seaboard.

"Music hath charms," but it depends on the kind of music. For instance, the Woodstock Sentinel-Review, a staunch Liberal journal, thus addresses the Toronto organ:—

"If our good friend the Toronto Globe wishes to dance to the music of absolute Free Trade it may do so; but when with strident voice of authority it orders the Liberal ranks to 'face the music' too, we reply that they won't respond to the word of command."

Free Trade music has no charms for the ears of Canadians.

Stop that cough, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral—the best specific for all throat and lung diseases. It will allay inflammation, aid respiration, and strengthen the vocal organs. Ayer's Almanacs are free to all. Ask for one.

When probed to the bottom this talk about injuring Great Britain by adjusting our own trade relations is sheer, downright, misleading rubbish.—Stratford Beacon.

That settles it. But could not our own trade relations be so adjusted as to injure Canada—by commercial union, for instance?

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

ENNISMORE.

Correspondence of the Review.

The Council for 1888.—William Crough for Reeve, was re-elected by acclamation. The councillors elected are as follows:—John Moloney (new), 72; John Donohogue, 66; Daniel Shannahan (new), 63; Jeremiah McCarthy, 63. There was a lively time with the councillors, as there was eight candidates in the field, all in close figures with one another.

School Section.—School section No. 3 was the scene of a lively time on Wednesday, January 11th, as Jeremiah McCarthy and William Curtin were running for trustee. All day long the votes came in at a lively rate, until four o'clock, when the chairman declared that Mr. McCarthy was elected with a majority of 9 votes. Mr. McCarthy is of the opinion that he is like a good tree in the orchard, if the limbs begin to droop with old age they are at once propped up and kept in their place. And that is the way with him; when he is drooping with old age the people are bound to keep him propped up and place him at the head of the poll.

A Visit in Emily.—Rev. Fathers Kelity and Connolly visited on Monday of this week Miss Moreland's school, at Frankhill, Emily. Miss Moreland is a great success as a teacher.

MINDEN.

A New Railway Project.—A public meeting was held in Mr. J. H. Delamere's office on Saturday evening last for the purpose of discussing the question of applying to the next session of the Ontario Legislature for the renewal of the charter of the Victoria Extension railway, and for other purposes. The meeting was largely attended by the leading men of the county. After considerable discussion it was moved by Wm. Gainer, Esq., Warden, seconded by Mr Brown, county treasurer, that "immediate steps be taken to apply for the renewal of the said charter, and that a subscription list be opened at this meeting for the purpose of raising funds to pay the necessary expenses in the movement." The list was opened and a considerable sum subscribed. This movement reflects credit on the parties who are interesting themselves in it, viz: Messrs. Delamere, Gainer and Brown. The object of applying for a renewal of the said charter, is to stand a chance of having Minden on the main line of the Brockville and Sault Ste. Marie railway which has already been built a number of miles from Brockville. Minden is the county seat of the provisional county of Haliburton, and is a thriving village of about five hundred inhabitants. It has been kept considerably in the background for want of railway accommodation; but now that there is an effort being made to secure this, business is booming and the village is going ahead. The county consists of nine municipalities, twenty-three townships, about fifteen of the townships being at present in a flourishing condition. The municipalities are represented in the county council for the present year as follows:—Minden, Wm. Gainer; Anson and Hindon, James Mortimer; Snowdon, James Hamilton: Lutterworth, Wm. Hartle; Dysart, A. Niven; Stanhope, etc., John Dawson; Glamorgan, A. McColl; Monmouth, Wm. Graham; Cardiff, Wm. Ogilvie.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eldson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

The Cobourg World says:—"In the Peterborough municipal election, Mr. Harry C. Winch, brother of our townsman, Mr. R. J. Winch, headed the poll in ward No. 1 with 326 votes. H. C. is a hustler."

The Young Man Hicks.

Fredrick Hicks, whose trial for larceny is to come off on Monday, is at present in gaol. His father came to town this morning and offered bail, but not being known to the Magistrate his surety was refused. It has been arranged by the young man's solicitor, Mr. C. W. Sawers, that proper bail will be given this evening and that he will be liberated till the trial.

Personal.

Mr. John McKee was elected to the Council of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, receiving 233 votes. The highest vote polled was 307 and lowest on the list of elected candidates was 172.

Mr. Thos. Braden left town by the C. P. R. last night, and by this time is rolling over the line on the way to his western home at Calgary.

Their Provincial Convention.

The provincial convention of the Y. M. C. A. will be held in Toronto, in the new building of the association in that city, from February 2nd to February 5th. It is exected that a very large number of delegates will be present, and others interested in the work of the association. Topics of great interest will come up for discussion. It is expected that Peterborough will be well represented and that at least ten or twelve members of the local accociation will attend.

Something Needed.

Some arrangement of a gate is needed at the crossing of the Midland tracks on Charlotte street. It is one of the leading avenues reaching to the country and a large traffic passes along the thoroughfare. When driving westward—owing to the storehouse building—it is almost impossible for the driver of a vehicle to see whether or not a train is about to cross the street from the north. Considerable moving about of cars and shunting is done at this point, and the railway men, although generally careful, do not always make it a point to ring the engine bell. It has been found advisable, and the precaution is a wise one to station a man at the junction of the tracks above Brock street, and some such provision for the safety of the public is urgently needed at Charlotte street crossing.

Obituary.

From the Inverness, Quebec, Review of January 6th, we take the following:—"We regret that it is our duty to chronicle the death of Mr. Robert Hill, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, who departed this life on Thursday morning last at the ripe age of 83 years, and was buried to-day in the Presbyterian cemetery. Mr. Hill was one of the first persons who came to Inverness when it was nothing more than a dense forest, but by steady, honest striving he not only succeeded in obtaining a comfortable living but amassed considerable property and has long been considered one of our solid citizens. In his old age he was often cheered by the success achieved by his numerous sons and daughters who are now scattered over the entire continent. A very large number of friends attended the funeral, and in bespeaking public sympathy for the bereaved widow and children, we express the desire of the entire neighborhood. Rev. Jas. Sutherland conducted the funeral services throughout." The deceased gentleman was the father of Mr. W. H. Hill, insurance agent, of Peterborough.

In reply to the message of congratulation sent by the Young Men's Liberal Conservative Association to Sir John Macdonald, on his attaining his 74th birthday, the following has been received:—

At the Annual Meeting.

It may possibly be a matter of general interest to learn that that at the annual meeting of the Little Lake Cemetery Company to be held on Monday next, Jan. 15th, each holder of a lot in the cemetery is a shareholder and entitled to attend and vote at the meeting. There is no privileged body of shareholders as in ordinary companies, and there are no dividends on stock, all the moneys received being devoted to improving and beautifying the grounds.

Annual Lumber Sale.

The annual lumber sale at the Nassau Mills, took place on Thursday. The attendance of people was not large, but nearly every one there was a buyer. Hamilton, Guelph, Galt, Bowmanville, Whitby, Cobourg, Stirling, Frankford, Ogdensburg, and other places were represented. The sale aggregated over one million feet of lumber. A large bulk will go to Albany, which was bought by an advance bid put in before the sale. Mr. Charles Stapleton, who was the auctioneer, performed his duties with his customary ability.

Plenty of Water.

Notwithstanding the limited quantity of rain that fell during the summer, mill owners report that the available head of water in the river is quite up to the average for many seasons past. Where it all comes from is a matter of conjecture. Pigeon, Chemong and Buckhorn Lakes held—when the ice came on—three feet less of water than during the fall of 1886. As the summer of 1887 was one of great drought perhaps some of our people of a meteorological turn of thought, can suggest some solution of the problem.

Returning Thanks.

As the old adge says, we do not use a sprat to catch a whale, or in other words sell a towel at five cents which is less than cost, and charge a dollar for some thing else (which the people are not such good judges of) that is only worth seventy-five cents, but endeavor to give good value in every parcel. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, Turnbull has had a marvelous turnover of his fall and winter stock, far outreaching his expectations. The bulk of his heavy goods being sold out early in the season, enables him to place on his counters several jobilnes at less than manufacturers prices. Inspection invited.

Scott Act.

The following Scott Act fines were imposed at the Police court this morning.—Wm. Croft, $100 and costs; T. Cavanagh, $100 and costs; J. E. McIntyre, $100 and costs; A. P. Morgan, $100. Mr. Cavanagh asked the Clerk how much he had paid in Scott Act fines. The Magistrate—"Do you want to find out how big a sinner you are." Mr. Cavanagh—"I swant to see what kind of fair play I get." The Clerk—"You have paid $700." Mr. Cavanagh—"I thought it was about a thousand." The Clerk—"Counting this fine and the costs it is about a thousand." The Magistrate—"That's better than high license." Mr. C.—"By Jove! it is."

A Human Express Parcel.

The Port Hope Times says:—"A young man named Frank Surprise, worked a couple of weeks at the Heap's factory, Oshawa, when he took sick with the spinal disease which completely deprived him of the use of his legs. The Mayor discovered that his relations lived in Lindsay, and that he was a resident of that town, he was therefore shipped to that place at Oshawa's expense. What was Oshawa's Mayor's surprise, last Thursday, to have the man delivered to him like an express parcel. The municipal authorities of Lindsay refused to care for him, and shipped him back to Oshawa. On Friday Chief Constable Hanlan committed him to the Ontario county goal as a vagrant. Surprise worked in Port Hope for a time last summer around the British Hotel."

Curling.

The eight men who went to Lindsay yesterday did not succeed in making the thermometer sink perceptibly up there. In fact it was the other way as the following score shows:—

Lindsay wins by 19 shots.

No excuses are made. "It seems," said one of the curlers resignedly, "that they are too many for us on a two rink match." They are as long as they have Flavelle and McMurtry. But see how Peterborough will polish them off in a bonspell.

LOVE OF THE BEAUTIFUL

THE PETERBOROUGH AND ASHBURNHAM HORTICULTURISTS

Meet in Annual Session—Last Year's Record—An Effort to Bring the Public Parks Act into Force.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was held on Thursday afternoon. There were present: Mr. J. H. Roper, President, in the chair, Mr. P. Henry, Secretary, and Messrs. F. J. Lewis, Jno. Burnham, Mayor Stevenson, Councillor McNeil, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw, and W. Giles.

The minutes of the last meeting were considered, read and confirmed.

The President's annual report was read as follows:—

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

To the Members of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society.

GENTLEMEN.—One of the chief aims or objects of this Society is to hold yearly a successful exhibition, and, we can proudly say that this end has been attained for the year 1887, as the amount of money paid for prizes was much larger then it ever was during any previous year, and the number of individual exhibitors was considerably larger than any ever before.

The number of articles exhibited was only one more than in 1886, but some of the leading gardeners failed to enter anything, no doubt owning to the dryness of the summer. This falling off by the market gardeners was more than made up by new members who make numerous entries, chiefly in classes 1 and 4, flowers and fine arts. The exhibition was liberally patronized by the public; the door receipts being almost double that of the previous year, part of which was no doubt owing to the presence of the Fire Brigade Band, who kindly furnished music free on the occasion.

The benefits of the Horticultural Gardens were more noticeable during the past season than ever before. A great many strangers and visitors were among us during the summer on account of the Jubilee and Oddfellow's demonstration and other festivities, and they were all struck with the beauty of the park, the credit of which is certainly due to this Society. Those people when they go home would certainly speak of the taste displayed by the people of Peterborough, and to cultivate this taste is one of the main ends of Horticultural Societies. The grass was killed in several places in the park and sod had to be relaid in the spring. This was caused by allowing the public to walk through it during the previous winter. This fall we took the precautions to put up a wire fence around it as well as printed notices to the effect that traffic was prohibited until spring. Some work has also been done towards the improvement of the Central Park on George street, by having it gradually filled to the level of the surrounding streets. In another year or two we hope to have it laid out tastefully with walks and flower beds and have it a real pleasure spot of recreation for the citizens in general. We have to thank a few of the Directors and Mr. Stevenson in particular for procuring a grant of $300 from the town. This, with the County grant of $75, was expended in beautifying and improving the two parks. We have erected during the year, at the suggestion of the Jubilee Committee, in the Horticultural Gardens, quite an imposing tower 75 feet high, on the top of which are placed six electric lights, kindly furnished free by the Electric Light Company. Cost of the tower was generously paid by the Town and County councils.

Our membership list was not quite as large as it was in 1886. This was partly owing to the absence of Mr. Stevenson in Ottawa during the early part of the season, but we hope to see the public interest revive during the coming year and the list to increase, as it certainly deserves to do.

We commenced the year with a balance on hand of $102.07, but we were indebted to Mr. Stevenson for $350, which we are now pleased to state has been paid. The Treasurer has now (as shown in his statement) a balance on hand of $73.94.

We have also a note standing against us in the Bank of Montreal for $320, as well as a few small outstanding accounts amounting to $62.75. All of which we hope to pay off during the coming year

In conclusion we wish to draw the attention of some of the Directors to the lack of interest especially shown at the time of our annual Exhibition and we trust that they will all unite in encouraging future exhibitions, at least by their presence.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. H. ROPER, President.

P. HENRY, Secretary.

Peterborough, Jan. 12th, 1888.

The report was received and adopted.

THE CENTRAL BANK'S COLLAPSE.

Thomas McConnell's Examination Continued Before Master Hodgins.

TORONTO, Jan. 13.

Mr. W. A. Foster, Q.C., on behalf of the liquidators of the Central Bank, continued his examination of Thomas McConnell, coal and produce dealer, before the Master-in-Ordinary at Osgoode Hall yesterday afternoon. The examination lasted two hours. Mr. George Kappele (Bain, Laidlaw & Kappele) appeared for Mr. McConnell. The latter owes the defunct bank $27,000, partly secured by warehouse receipts given by him as collateral security. McConnell testified that he was not a warehouseman in the sense of storing goods for other dealers, but he admitted having given the receipts as a duly qualified warehouseman under the act. These goods (coal and pressed hay) he said had been sold and the proceeds paid into the Central Bank. This the liquidators claim is not the case, and Mr. Foster is endeavoring to get at the bottom of the transactions. McConnell's books were produced in court, and Mr. Foster and Accountans Lye tried to unearth something intelligible from their pages, with only indifferent results. According to McConnell's balance sheet on Aug. 25, 1887, his assets were $90,895, his liabilities $45,530, and his surplus $43,365. This surplus has entirely disappeared, and, as Mr. Foster put it, there is nothing but the "bare poles" at his former place of business in Sherbourne-street.

McConnell's evidence was taken in shorthand, and on Monday morning a transcription will be submitted to him for signature. This will, it is understood, be in turn submitted to Cashier Allen to say whether the allegations of witness that he paid the proceeds of the sales of the warehoused hay and coal into the bank is correct or not.

When the investigation was concluded Mr. Foster asked the Master to impound the books, but Mr. Hodgins said that was not necessary, as McConnell was merely a witness, and not a litigant. The books however were all marked as exhibits, to be produced when called for.

Mr. Foster then presented a certificate from the liquidators which read as follows:

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE. Chancery Division:

We hereby certify to this honorable court that Edward Strachan Cox is, according to the books of the bank, a debtor to the Central Bank in a sum exceeding $100,000, and that apparently the said sum is unsecured, and we believe that said Cox is capable of giving information concerning the trade, dealings, estate and effects of the bank and has possession of the books, papers, letters and documents relating to said bank affairs, and has in his possession some of the estates and effects of said bank.

W. H. HOWLAND,
WM. GOODERHAM,
ARCH. CAMPBELL.

Toronto, Jan. 12, 1888.

Mr. Foster asked that the Master issue an order for Mr. Cox's appearance in court, and that he bring books and papers which would be of use in his examination.

The Master fixed this afternoon at 2 o'clock for Mr. Cox's examination.

Several reporters and a court officer were scouring the city for Mr. Cox last evening but he could not be found. These examinations, it is understood, are going to be searchingly pushed by the liquidators in the hopes of getting at the bottom of what is now beginning to be known as one of the rottenest bank failures ever perpetrated in Canada.

Criminal proceedings are being freely spoken of as likely to follow.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

TORONTO, Jan. 12.

The grain and produce markets, both here and abroad, are quiet, though grain is firmer, while produce remains steady.

At the Board of Trade to-day 83c was bid for No. 2 fall, January delivery, and 83c for No. 2 red winter. Ten thousand bushels of No. 1 red winter sold at $1 per bushel for delivery during the year.

STYLE!

A man or boy handsomely dressed is usually regarded with more or less favor wherever he may go.

The unfortunate fellow clad in shabby or ill-fitting garments, unless uncommonly smart and pushing, must take a back seat.

There is no mistake about this. It may be contradicted, but not successfully. Brains or no brains we'd rather take our chances in life set out in neat apparel, well cut and made.

A good deal depends—a mighty deal hangs on the clothes a man wears.

Men have been refused discounts by discriminating bankers because they wore hard looking suits.

Men—young men too—have been crossed in love because their suits were shabby or of ancient cut.

Men have lost elections because their style of pantaloons did not meet with the approbation of voters.

Men have been pushed confounded hard by the tax collector when it was seen that they were wearing out last years' suits.

Granted then, that good clothes are something worth having, let us understand where they are to be bought to best advantage.

The house that sells first-class goods; sells them at small profits; the house that treats its customers politely and patiently; that guarantees the materials, cut, build and finish of the clothing turned out—that is the house to give your order to.

That house is ours.

THE MANITOBAN HOUSE.

A CROWD OF SIGHTSEERS JAMS THE CHAMBER.

Mr. Greenway Says the People and the House Have Lost Confidence in the Government—Matters are in a Mixed Condition.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 12.—The Legislature opened to-day and notwithstanding the severe blizzard raging the House was jammed with a crowd of interested sightseers who anticipated lively times, and not a few even expected the defeat of the Government. In this they were mistaken, although on a motion for adjournment till Monday, Mr. Greenway, leader of the Opposition, warned the Government that they only allowed the motion to pass, to fight on more important questions. He said the people and the House had lost confidence in the Government, and to the disappointment of the expectant crowd Premier Harrison made no reply and the House adjourned.

The Speech from the Throne congratulated the province on the bountiful harvest and on the successful efforts made to induce immigration to the province. The only important point is this: The railway legislation disallowed at Ottawa will be re-enacted and a measure passed to provide for expropriation of Dominion lands. The province is in a deplorable financial condition and stringent measures of economy and for getting over the deficiency are necessary, one proposal being to withdraw sufficient from capital account to meet pressing necessities.

The announcement of MacArthur's (Independent) election was received with cheers by both sides of the House.

Matters are in a mixed condition. With the election of Francis in St. Francois Xavier to-day the Opposition will have fifteen solid votes in a House of thirty-five, but the Government supporters are not to be depended upon and some candidly admit they don't know what their course will be. No Government caucus has been held nor is one called yet. In the meantime the Opposition are confident of success and claim they have enough pledged members to defeat Harrison.

Neither side is anxious for an appeal to the country, and one possible solution of the vexed question is that there will be a combination between the leaders of the Opposition and Conservatives not at present in immediate post in the Government to carry on affairs. One report says that Senator Girard may possibly enter the Government as the French representative, but this is hardly probable.

BANKER TAYLOR'S CASE.

Examination of Fraud and Embezzlement Charges Against Him Commenced.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A sitting of interim session was held to-day in the debtors' cell of the County Jail, for the purpose of examining Henry Taylor on charges of fraud and embezzlement in connection with the Ontario Investment Association. Exactly on what authority the court was held in the jail instead of the courtroom County Crown Attorney Hutchinson enquired, but failed to learn. To the non-medical observer the ex-banker looked just as "perv and chipper" as in former times when he rode behind his high-stepping blooded bays, or loaned himself an occasional ten thousand from the funds of the Ontario Investment. However, under Jail Physician Smith's direction the examination was conducted, as stated, in the debtors' cell.

The first charge was the fraudulent taking of $10,000 belonging to the company on Feb. 25, 1882, and the other $5000 on March 17, 1882. Mr. Booker, acting manager of the association, stated that he handed in the $10,000 check signed by Taylor, payable to Chas. Murray (or order), whose endorsation it bore. The check for $5000 he produced was on the Federal Bank, signed by Henry Taylor, payable to Henry Taylor or order. It was endorsed "Henry Taylor, K," in Mr. Kidner's handwriting. He produced the cash book of the association of that date and the mortgage ledger containing the account in which these checks are charged.

Mr. Geo. F. Jewell had made an examination of the books of the association. The $10,000 check was credited to the Federal Bank in the association's books on Feb. 27, 1882, on which date a like amount is charged to Loan No. 180, to Samuel Crawford. There appeared to be no security in the hands of the association for this loan. The $5000 check was credited to the Federal Bank March 14, 1882, upon which date a like amount is charged to Loan No. 187, which is in the name of Samuel Crawford. From this loan on Dec. 31, 1884, the amount is transferred to the former mentioned loan 180. There was no security for that loan that he was aware of. Mr. Jewell put in two documents from the association's paper, being an assignment from S. Crawford to Henry Taylor of certain mortgages as securities for a loan of $10,000. The document was dated Feb. 23, 1882. He could not say what became of the money.

Mr. S. Crawford admitted his signature to the two assignments. He applied for a loan of $10,000 from the Ontario Investment Association and it was passed by the board at one meeting. He did not get the money or any part of it. The next day, or the day after, W. R. Meredith objected to loaning money on Manitoba property, and the loan did not go through. Consequently the assignment was not registered, and the twenty mortgages were returned to witness. The mortgages were never asked for. In regard to ex-President Murray, Mr. Crawford said Mr. Murray was manager of the Federal Bank at that time and took an active part in the Ontario Investment Association management. Witness thought he was in good financial standing, worth $40,000 or $50,000. Had that opinion till he began to repudiate debts and no money was forthcoming. Probably about the beginning of 1883 he began to get suspicious, and had no more to do with him, though friendly relations continued between them till the latter part of 1884.

The case goes on to-morrow.

THE "MINE JUMPER."

Miss Millicent was kept in ignorance of this meeting.

"Women don't want to be mixed up with such things—leswise a woman like her," said one of the men.

Soon after supper that evening the men began leaving the cabin on various pretenses, and in a short time Miss Millicent was alone. This was an unusual proceeding on the part of the men, but Miss Millicent was wholly unsuspicious of its import.

An hour later, while sitting before the fire mending a coat belonging to one of the men, Miss Millicent suddenly threw aside her work and said:

"There! if I haven't entirely forgotten to give Mr. Vance that list of things I want from down in Crystal City, and he's going to start for there before breakfast in the morning and breakfast at the stage office. I'll just run down to the shaft house and hand the list to Tom Dolan and he can give it to Mr. Vance in the morning."

Tom Dolan was the engineer of the Little Christabel. The shaft house was but a short distance from the boarding house. Throwing a shawl over her head Miss Millicent went out hurriedly, stepping lightly down the trail made in the deep snow. The night was cloudless and made wondrous fair by a full moon and thousands of shining stars.

She reached the shaft house door. The engineer and another man, unaware of her approach, were talking. A name they spoke caused her to stop suddenly, with her hand to her heart and a strange look in her face.

"I feel sure it is Silas Hover," the engineer was saying. "He changes his name 'bout ev'ry camp he goes to, and I reckon 'Doc. Grigson' suited him 'bout as well as any other name while he was here."

"Well, he won't change it again very soon," said the other man with a short laugh. "The next time the roll's called he'll answer up to his own name, I'm thinkin."

"Hover may be his real name," the engineer said. "He swore it was when I knowed him two years ago over in Paradise Gulch. But he was a scoundrel there and just got away with his neck. I knowed him soon as I see him down in Crystal City one day last fall. But I never told anybody his name wasn't Grigson. Where did you say the boys intended fixing him?"

"Down the gulch here 'bout two miles, at that place where the big bowlder is that they call 'Hanging Rock.' I reckon they'll make short work of him."

"Oh, sure," said the engineer with a laugh, "they'll hang him, as he deserves, without hardly time for his prayers."

The other man glanced carelessly at his watch and said:

"And it's almost time they went at it. Ten o'clock was the hour agreed on, and it's after nine now."

Neither of them heard the half-suppressed cry of the woman standing just outside of the engine room door. Could they have seen her face in the moonlight they would have seen it drawn and old and ghastly in its terror and agony. Her limbs trembled under her, and her bloodless lips moved in silent prayer.

For a moment she stood so, and then, still praying for courage and strength, she ran silently but with all speed down the trail leading from the camp and toward the gulch. The trail was rough, and she stumbled and fell again and again. She ran with all speed when she could do so, and the fear that she might be too late caused her heart to almost stop its furious beating.

She could see the Hanging Rock ahead of her some moments before she reached it. Dark forms were moving around, going to and from the mighty rock, and the pines a few yards from it.

The light of one or two lanterns flashed in the dark depths of the forest. She heard the shouts of the men as they assembled from all directions, fiendish shouts they seemed to her.

When near enough to make her voice heard it rang out in loud, sharp tones of entreaty and command:

"Wait! wait! wait!"

A moment later she stood in their midst, gasping for breath, white and terrified.

"It is I," she said; "Miss Millicent."

"Yes," said one of the men gravely, "but what do you want here? This is no place for a woman."

Her answer was:

"Where is he—that man?"

"What man?" said one of the men evasively.

"The man whose life you were going to take here to-night!"

A groan from the edge of the pines came in reply to her ears. She ran toward the spot from whence the sound came, the men seeking to detain her. Among a little group of men there stood one, trembling and ghastly, a rope already around his neck and the other end of it thrown over the branches of a tree. The man was moaning and protesting pitifully.

Going close to him she said in a choked and tearful voice:

"Let him go."

There was a murmur of disapproval and refusal among the men

"Come, come, Miss Millicent, this is no place for you," said one of the men. "Let me help you back to the camp."

"No," she said, going close to the trembling culprit, and laying her hand on his arm. He grasped her hand and said hoarsely:

"Save me, woman, whoever you are: save me if you can."

She took a lantern from the ground and held it up to her white face. She threw the shawl back from her head, and said:

"Don't you know me, Silas!"

He lifted his bowed head quickly, gave one glance at her face and covered his own guilty face with his hands, crying out:

"Milly! Millicent!"

The men looked on in amazement; an angry murmur of disapproval was heard when the man spoke Miss Millicent's name in tones that seemed endearing.

She turned toward them and said slowly and distinctly with painful effort:

"Let him go. He is my husband!"

There was dead silence for a moment. Then the leader of the mob stepped softly into the moonlight and started in silence down the gulch in the direction of Little Christabel.

One by one the men followed him in silence. In ten minutes Millicent was alone with her husband. He turned toward her and said in a choked and broken voice:

"Millicent."

"Well, Silas."

She held out one hand toward him. He grasped it in both his own and fell on his knees before her with her trembling hand held to his lips.

An hour later they came forth from the shadows of the forest and walked down the trail in the moonlight, and were seen no more in Fairplay Gulch.

The outgoing stage took up a man and a woman passenger next day, ten miles from Hanging Rock.

"They was mighty sober passengers," said the stage driver afterward. "Both on 'em looked as if they'd cried all night, and they hadn't much to say; but they seemed mightily tuk up with each other. He called her 'Milly,' an' she called him 'Silas.' I think they was bound for Denver, and expected to go farther on west from there."

They were heard of no more at the Little Christabel, but years afterward Harley Vance, while traveling in California, came across a pretty little house hidden away on a ranch in a most beautiful mountain valley. The occupants were a man and woman he had heard of as models of industry and excellence.

"I never opened my head about it to them or to anybody," he said afterward, "but that woman was our Milly and that husband of hers we all thought too worthless to live."—Zenas Dane in Detroit Free Press.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is exp-cting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

TORONTO TOPICS.

W. C. Manning was arrested in Bowmanville yesterday at the instance of Asher & Co. of this city, who allege that he obtained goods from them by false pretences. Manning will be brought back to-day.

The engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway Chicago express, which left Union Station at 11 o'clock Wednesday night, felt a slight jar soon after leaving Parkdale. The crew of the mixed train from Hamilton, which was crossed at Oakville, were notified of the occurrence, and nearly opposite the Bolt Works they found the mangled body of an old woman which they brought to the City Morgue. Esplanade Constable Williams was engaged yesterday in establishing the identity of the victim, who is believed to be a Mrs. Goodwin, a resident of the West End, and Coroner Johnson did not deem an inquest necessary.

A War of Extermination.

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., Jan. 12.—The war of extermination continues between the McCoys of Pike County, Ky., and the Hatfields of Logan County. In a recent battle the Hatfield party were badly worsted and three of their number were killed while none of McCoy's posse were hurt. The authorities are powerless and the war will doubtless be waged until one side or the other is exterminated.

The Russian Universities.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 12.—The order to reopen the universities has been suddenly revoked, and it is now announced that they will not be opened until March 27. The professors are animated by the same incensed feeling that prevails among the students, and it is doubtful if they will appear when the Government does permit the opening of the institutions.

SNOW STORM IN THE WEST.

THE RAILWAY TRAFFIC ENTIRELY SUSPENDED.

The Severest Storm Ever Experienced in the Northwest—A Man Frozen to Death in Dakota—The Storm Still Raging.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 13.—Yesterday's storm was without exception the worst that has ever been experienced in the Northwest. Snow to the depth of two feet on the level, or from five to fifteen feet in the cuts, was sufficient to almost suspend the running of the trains. But added to this the severe wind which blew in some parts, and the blizzard which raged in others, it has suspended railway business entirely. Freight trains were hung up early yesterday, not a wheel moving after noon. Passenger trains, one by one, followed suit, and by 8 o'clock last night there was no attempt at running a train at any point west of St. Paul. The eastern lines, however, tried hard to keep their tracks open, but without success. At 6 o'clock this morning reports from various points along the several roads were discouraging, and it was almost decided to abandon everything. With snow plows and engines trains were sent out and are now stuck on some hill and laying up at some station along the lines. The Northern Pacific, Manitoba and Milwaukee line, on its Minnesota, and Dakota division, made no attempt to start, and will not do so until there is at least a possibility of their getting through. Branch line trains were all abandoned at junctional points last night and there is no prediction when they will be opened. It is thought that some of them will be closed for six weeks and on top of this condition of things it is feared the worst is to come. The wind is blowing hard on almost all lines to-day, and the cuts are being filled in as fast as they are cleared out. The storm of yesterday is now raging in Iowa. Besides that another storm, or the continuation of the present one, is expected to strike Minnesota Sunday, in which case there is no telling what the result will be. It is raging in Idaho to-day, and the thermometer at various points along the Northern Pacific is as low as ten degrees below zero. The Manitoba reports from the Northwest indicate a cold wave, with high wind coming from that direction. In fact things look so dubious to-day that railway men will not venture an opinion when traffic will again be resumed. Each line is putting forth every effort to keep its Chicago communication open, but even that is almost an impossibility. At noon to-day not a train had come in, the Omaha Limited being reported nearer than any other one with the exception of suburban trains and the Sioux City express over the Omaha, which came in at 2 a.m., seven hours late. Not a train has come into St. Paul since last night. All the trains, however, are at points where the passengers can well be cared for. All the trains over the Western divisions have been abandoned, and no efforts will be made to clear the tracks until the storm ceases and the wind falls. The storm was severe all through Montana, Dakota and Minnesota. A Duluth special reports that yesterday afternoon's St. Paul trains got in this morning. Omaha trains due this morning have not been heard from. No Northern Pacific trains have arrived or departed.

A Clear Lake, Minn., special says the north and south-bound Northern Pacific trains are snowed in there, nose to nose.

A Crookston, Minn., special says no trains have arrived for two days. It began blowing yesterday and the snow is piled in heaps eighteen feet high. It is bitter cold.

A Man Frozen to Death.

HURON, Dak., Jan. 13.—It has been ascertained that the child supposed to have been lost during yesterday's storm reached home safely. A man at Virgil was frozen to death. That is the only loss of life reported, but it is expected many must have perished.

A Broker's Suicide.

ELMIRA, N.Y., Jan. 13.—W. H. Johnson, a New York stock broker, committed suicide at the Rathbun House this morning by shooting himself through the heart with a revolver.

UNSEATED AND DISQUALIFIED.

The Glengarry Election Trial Closed—Criminal Prosecutions to Follow.

CORNWALL, Jan. 13.—The trial of the Glengary Dominion election petition was resumed this morning. His Lordship delivered judgment on the personal charges as to which evidence was given yesterday. He found that Purcell gave instructions to Rosseau to lend money to voters, taking notes for it, and to tell his agent Mackenzie to do the same; that pursuant to these instructions Rosseau and Mackenzie jointly worked a scheme by which loans were made to Saucier, Tyo, Vanier and Kennedy, and notes taken. He also found the payment of $100 to Kennedy by Evan, respondent's bookkeeper, was a corrupt practice committed with the knowledge, consent and privity of the respondent.

On these grounds he disqualifies Purcell, Saucier, Tyo, Vanier, Kennedy, Mackenzie and the respondent to be summoned to stand their trial for corrupt practices. Mr. McMaster, in view of the findings, offered no further evidence.

Mr. Cassels applied for a stay of proceedings pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada. It was agreed that if counsel desired the application should be continued and disposed of at Osgoode Hall. His Lordship announced that the costs would follow the event. His Lordship will report to the Speaker of the House of Commons that extensive bribery prevailed.

THE OLDEST AND THE BEST.

A British Tribute to the Veteran Premier of the Dominion.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The occasion of Sir John Macdonald's birthday has directed attention to the fact that though the oldest colonial Premier, Sir John is yet the most prominent, as well as the most considered in Imperial matters. The Pall Mall Gazette publishes an eloquent tribute to the Dominion Premier, emphasizing his firm hostility to movements such as that for Commercial Union, which tend to interfere with Canada's present national position; also his confident belief in the future of Canada as an integral part of the Empire growing.

The growing imports of Canadian and United States apples are increasing in favor here, arousing alarm in farming circles. An active discussion upon the subject is proceeding in the papers. British farmers are blamed for missing their chances to supply the home demand and are urged to improve the quality of British apples unless they desire the imported product to monopolize the market.

Disturbing Reports from the Frontier.

VIENNA, Jan. 13.—A military council was held yesterday to consider disturbing reports from the frontier. The advices were to the effect that Russian troops continue to arrive in Bessarabia, that entrenchments are being made along the Lub line and the Dombrova Railroad, and that large barracks are being built at Suwalki, in Russian Poland, on the Prussian frontier.

Has Not Asked Russia to Explain.

PESTH, Jan. 13.—The Pesther Lloyd says Austria has not asked Russia to explain her armaments and that she could only do so if prepared to send an ultimatum.

CANADIAN MONEY TO BE TAXED.

The U.S. Internal Revenue Collector at Detroit Serves Notice on the Banks.

DETROIT, Jan. 13.—John B. Malony, Internal Revenue Collector for this district, has served notice on the banks that a recent decision of the Commissioner held that a tax of 10 per cent. on certain notes used for circulation and paid out applies in full force to Canadian bank notes circulated within the United States, and continues:

"Under this decision it becomes necessary for all banks in this district to render returns to the Collector and Commissioner of Internal Revenue of the average amount of such notes as have been paid out by them for whatever period such notes have been omitted from the returns made under the provisions of law requiring returns from banks and payment of certain taxes by banks.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The $190,000 suit of the Owen Sound Steamship Company v. the Canadian Pacific Railway was continued in the Assize Court yesterday before Mr. Justice Street, who ordered a reference to Mr. John Winchester, Osgoode Hall, for the taking of an account of the dealings between the parties in 1883 upon the basis of the agreement between the plaintiffs and the Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway Company and the per diem guarantee and an 1884 account of the parties, on the assumption that the agreement ended Jan. 4, 1884. Costs of the suit were awarded to the plaintiff with the exception of the costs of the claim for damages, which claim was dismissed.

The exploring party sent out by the Grand Trunk Railway under Engineer J. C. Bailey to locate the proposed extension to the Soo have after three months' work completed their labors. Whether the extension will have as its starting point Orillia, Burk's Falls or Bracebridge has not been decided, but the line will probably be extended from the last named place, which is 370 miles distant from the Soo. The line would thus run parallel with the Canadian Pacific Railway, crossing the French River at Canton's Island, where all the competing roads will cross. The land, especially in McConkey and Ferry townships, is described as first-class, and there is a plentiful supply of valuable timber. Rich deposits of minerals, including copper, iron and mica, also exist.

John Stuart, President of the Hamilton and Northwestern, was seen yesterday with reference to The World's announcement that the Northern and Grand Trunk deal was off. "There is no truth in the statement," said Mr. Stuart to The Spectator. "At the meeting of the two boards held last Friday the question of the transfer of the Northern and Northwestern Railway to the Grand Trunk was not discussed, and the only reference made to it was by Mr. Barker, who informed the board that a proposal would likely be made shortly by the Grand Trunk." Mr. Stuart admitted the negotiations were going on between the two companies, but denied that the hitch was over the Northwestern Railway.

The World nevertheless still holds to its announcement that there is a hitch in the negotiations and that the Grand Trunk is holding back, not wanting to take the Hamilton and Northwestern.

An Execution in Louisiana.

WEST UNION, La., Jan. 13.—Henry Schmidt was hanged this morning for the murder of Lucretia Peek. He made a statement on the scaffold admitting the murder and charging that Ellison J. Smith instigated it and was present at the time and that Smith killed Abraham Peek.

It is reported that the son of the Comte de Paris and the son of the Duc de Chartres have obtained permission to enter the Russian army.

The London News confirms the announcement that Mexico has negotiated a conversion of £10,000,000 with Bleichroder, the Berlin banker.

THE CARLETON CAMPAIGN

CHANCES SAID TO BE IN FAVOR OF MR. DICKINSON.

Crofter Immigration—Government Anxious to Have the Labor Commission Complete Its Labors in Time to Report Before the Meeting of Parliament.

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—Mr. Alexander Begg, who is interesting himself in the Crofter immigration, is in the city. He has just arrived from England, where he laid plans for the settlement of a large number of Crofters on the Island of Vancouver before the Secretary for Scotland. The latter introduced him to Mr. Goschen and to Mr. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury, and subsequently they agreed to make an advance, as a loan, of $125,000 at 3½ per cent., guaranteed by the British Columbia Government. Mr. Begg is now on his way to British Columbia to get the assistance of the Provincial Government, and if the conditions are accepted some 6000 of these industrious people will settle on the Pacific coast to fish, farm, build boats, or any other kind of work suitable to them. A number of delegates will come over next spring to report on the advantages Vancouver Island possesses for this kind of immigration.

The campaign in Carleton, although likely to be confined to two Conservatives, promises to be lively. Both Mr. Dickinson and Mr. Powell are organizing and each is confident of success, but the chances are strongly in favor of Dickinson. The Orange vote, which is very strong in the county, is likely to be pretty well split, Senator Clemow, who has hitherto been regarded as controlling the vote, supporting Powell, while County Master Clarke is supporting Dickinson. The Liberals are trying to induce G. B. Patte, Ald. Henderson or H. F. Chrysler to run but it is not probable either will consent and the fight will be left to Dickinson and Powell. One of the evening papers states that Sir John and Hon. Mr. White will speak in favor of Mr. Dickinson on nomination day, but this is not at all likely. It was stated when Sir John resigned that if only two Conservatives ran he would not throw his influence on either side, and the probabilities are that he will not.

Mr. Andrew Allan was here to-day and his business is understood to have reference to the ocean mail contract, although enquiry of the Postmaster-General to-night elicited the information that nothing had yet been decided.

Messrs. W. Carson, Jules Hellbranner and Michael Walsh of the Labor Commission are here to consult with the Government with reference to the future action of the commission. It is understood that the Government is anxious that the commission should complete its labors in time to report before the meeting of Parliament, so that any legislation which may be found necessary may be taken at the coming session. The commissioners think this is scarcely possible, as they believe it to be absolutely necessary that they should visit Montreal, where they will probably remain ten days or two weeks, Halifax, St. John and a number of other places before they will be in a position to report. The commissioners who were here had a conference with Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Acting Minister of Finance, to-night and the matter will probably be settled to-morrow as to whether the commission is to bring its labors to a close in time to report to Parliament or not.

The Postmaster-General and the Minister Railways and Canals have made an arrangement by which the mail service with Prince Edward Island will be greatly improved during the winter. A train will be run daily on the Island Railway from Cape Traverse on the arrival of the ice-boat from the mainland and connect at Emerald Junction with the train for Charlottetown.

Mr. R. J. Devlin has purchased the Kently property on the south side of Sparks-street, about midway between Elgin and Metcalfe, for $35,000. The property has a frontage of 66 feet on Sparks by a depth of nearly 200 to Queen, so that the price is over $2.50 per square foot.

Mr. Frank Turner, C.E., of Toronto, one of the Trent Valley Commissioners, was in the city yesterday on business with the Department of Railways and Canals.

FROM THE GAZETTE.

Clerk of the Crown in Chancery Chapleau Signs His First Notice.

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—To-morrow's Canada Gazette will contain notices of the return of Messrs. Laurie for Shelburne, Lovitt for Yarmouth and Chouinard for Dorchester. This is the first notice signed by Mr. Chapleau, the new Clerk of the Crown in Chancery.

An order-in-council has been passed reducing the port of Lacolle to an outport and placing it under the survey of the Collector of Customs at St. John's and creating Arnprior an outport of customs under the survey of Ottawa.

On the recommendation of the Minister of Customs an order-in-council has been passed ordering that veneers of wood, shaved or cut with a knife direct from the log, not planed or otherwise smoothed or manufactured in any way, shall be classed and rated for duty at the rate of 10 per cent. ad valorem.

The Bank of Nova Scotia gives notice of the annual meeting at Halifax on Feb. 15.

The Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway Company gives notice of application to Parliament for an act authorizing that company to convey to Her Majesty the Queen certain portions of their right of way in the City of Toronto and to the Land Securities Company another portion, in each case in exchange for other land and freed from any encumbrance on the land so to be conveyed.

Mr. J. B. Snowball gives notice of application to Parliament for an act to incorporate the Chatham Railway with power to purchase the line of railway running from the Intercolonial Railway at Chatham Junction to the town of Chatham and River Miramichi.

The annual meeting of the Canada Mutual Telegraph Company will be held at Montreal on Feb. 8, and of the London Mutual Fire Insurance Company at London on Feb. 1.

THE CZAR'S PACIFIC MIND.

Attempts to Mislead it Denounced—Movements on the Frontier.

VIENNA, Jan. 13.—The Presse denounces the continued attempts to mislead the "Czar's pacific and upright mind." It declares that a certain Russian diplomat is now trying to impress the Czar with the belief that Austria is urging the Sultan to recognize Prince Ferdinand as Prince of Bulgaria and says that the Czar's entourage will probably encourage the diplomat as they did the authors of the forgeries which were intended to deceive the Czar regarding Germany's policy. "In the interests of peace," continues the paper, "it is necessary to unmask and draw attention to this new intrigue."

DEAD AGAINST COMMERCIAL UNION.

The United States Representatives Canvassed in Reference to the Fad.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—A correspondent writes to The Empire as follows: "I have made a very careful and thorough canvass of the House and Senate and have talked with the leading men of both parties in regard to Commercial Union and unrestricted reciprocity. With the exception of Congressman Butterworth of Ohio and Townsend of Illinois, the sentiment is dead against it. The consensus of opinion is that America does not want Commercial Union in any form, and that any measure looking in that direction, if one should be introduced with the serious intention of its becoming a law, is bound to fail. The Democratic members of the House would like to see the American tariff reduced so that Canada could send to this country articles which the United States would gladly buy, knowing full well that such an arrangement would be mutually beneficial. To that extent they are willing to go, but Commercial Union would have to be so thoroughly explained to their constituents and might give rise to such awkward questions that no one would care to touch it. Of course the Republicans oppose anything that would break down protection."

THE CENTRAL BANK LIQUIDATION.

Broker E. S. Cox Summoned to Give Evidence.

TORONTO, Jan. 14.

At 1.50 yesterday afternoon an attache of the Sheriff's office served Broker E. S. Cox with an order to appear before the Master-in-Ordinary at Osgoode Hall at 2 o'clock to be examined, in accordance with the application made by Mr. W. A. Foster the day previous, in connection with his (Cox's) dealings with the Central Bank. The Sheriff's man was busily engaged hunting Mr. Cox all morning, but it was after lunch before he managed to run across the broker in his Toronto-street office. On Thursday evening a clerk from Mr. Foster's office was busily engaged trying to meet Mr. Cox with the service paper but he did not succeed in his search, although the broker was comfortably quartered at his club.

Mr. Cox went directly to the Hall after being served, and was quietly promenading in the corridors outside the Master's office at 2 o'clock, the hour set down for the hearing. His solicitor, Mr. John Bain, Q.C., was telephoned for, but the lawyer was not overtaken, as he was engaged elsewhere. Before going to the Hall Mr. Cox had not had an opportunity of consulting Mr. Bain, although he had seen him before the service of the notice to appear.

In the meantime the Master's room, on the ground floor of the west wing, was rapidly filling up, and by 2.30 it was almost crowded. Inside the railing sat Mr. Foster and assistant Lye. Outside were Liquidator Wyld, Gooderham of the Central Bank, Henry Gooderham, Dr. James Carlyle, James French, Wm. Thompson, W. B. Hamilton, Wm. Robins and others.

It was 2.40 when the Master, Thomas Hodgins, Q.C., took his seat. Mr. Kappele, one of Mr. Bain's law partners, rushed into court about fifteen minutes afterwards and said to the Master that they had just been served and were not prepared to go on with the examination. He asked that an adjournment be made till Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. Foster said he had no objection, but would like to have Mr. Cox's books, his ledger, cash-book, check-books, etc., for 1887 brought into court.

Mr. Keppele said they could have every access to Mr. Cox's books, and it was arranged that Mr. Foster and Mr. Lye would go to the broker's office at 1 o'clock to-day and examine them.

The Master then adjourned the hearing until Monday afternoon at 2.

While the court was waiting for Mr. Cox's counsel to arrive, Mr. Foster arranged some matters in connection with the bank with the Master. It was decided to appear before the court at noon to-day to devise a scheme for reuning the office, the employment of clerks, their number and the salaries to be allowed.

SACRED SUBJECTS ON THE STAGE.

ATTEMPTS have been made to place upon the stage dramas representing scenes taken from sacred history, even the crucifixion being dramatized for that purpose. The public have not of late years taken kindly to such productions, the Passion play, if we remember rightly, not being allowed to be presented.

It is now said that Miss Evelyn Foster is addressing herself to the work of producing a play based on Christian history and the salient indicents of the Apostolic age. A contemporary, referring to this, says that as pictures impress the mind through the medium of the eye more fully than mere narrative, whether printed or written, so realistic incidents as portrayed by living actors on the stage effect the judgment and imagination to a far greater degree than pictures do, and adds that if it be a matter of concern to impress Bible truth and scriptural history upon the minds of young and old, it might seem to attempt that duty in a manner the most complete and thorough is in the right direction. It is not probable, however, that such a view of the subject will lead the public to approve.

The incidents of sacred history are held too sacred to be acted in public as they would be on the stage. There is a great difference in a minister impressing the truths of the Bible upon his hearers, and actors undertaking the same work. Even though the actors, or some of them, should feel that they were engaged in a good work and should be in earnest in it, the spectacle of men imitating, for instance, the performance of miracles the Lord's Supper, the scene in Gethsemane, or the great event on Calvary, would shock many even who are not professedly religious.

It is bad enough for a company of United States actors to, as has been done, wave the British flag and shout for the Queen of England—not to speak of the incongruity witnessed at one entertainment of the artists singing "Marching through Georgia" while carrying the Union Jack—but the acting of scenes so fondly cherished in the hearts of thousands as those recorded in the Bible would scarcely be countenanced. It would be looked upon as profanity.

The stage is frequently the teacher of good moral lessons, and is well adapted for that purpose; but religious instruction can be imparted in more suitable ways than by means of a theatrical performance.

ABUSE NOT ARGUMENT.

ON the anniversary of Sir John Macdonald's birth the Hamilton Times published a vulgar attack upon him, descending to the lowest form of abuse. Not many Liberal journals republished it, but a few of them did, including a local contemporary. Such abuse will not injure Sir John, whose forty-four years spent in the service of his country speak for themselves. Political discussion is not assisted by such attacks, and abuse in such a form will not benefit those who make use of it or the party in whose interest it is used, while it will do no harm to the man slandered. Many yarns have been spun about the veteran statesman, among the most famous or infamous being the Globe's alleged special despatch from Ottawa about a year ago that he had become insane, but he has lived down them all and the electors have again and again expressed confidence in him despite the abuse. He can afford to smile at the envy that prompts such attacks.

Don't use any more nauseous purgatives such as Pills, Salts, &c., when you can get in Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters a medicine that moves the Bowels gently, cleansing all impurities from the system and rendering the blood pure and cool. Sold by all Druggists.

LAKEFIELD.

Correspondence of the Review.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Henry Masters has sold his beautiful home to Mr. Baker, of Smith, who will soon become a happy citizen of Lakefield.

Dr. Caldwell has sold his practice to Dr. Fraser. Dr. Caldwell leaves for his new home and field of labor in the beautiful town of Peterborough at the end of this week. We wish him every success in his new home. The doctor will be very much missed by the villagers.

Reeve Strickland, who has served the village so well for the last eight years, retires, to the regret of his many admirers. Reeve Strickland was a good man for the position. The villagers are deeply indebted to him for his services. Your correspondent wishes him and the family all the good things of life.

Miss McEwen leaves for Toronto on Saturday to spend a few days with her many friends.

Miss Clara McEwen leaves for Peterborough soon to attend the Collegiate Institute; Miss Clara prefers Peterborough to Toronto; she is wise.

Mr. James Graham leaves for Toronto this week to resume his studies. We wish James success.

THE CRUISER.—Mr. A. I. Wright has enlarged and refitted his steamer Cruiser, making her as good as new. He is putting on a good strong upper deck, so passengers can gain a better view of the beautiful scenery of Stoney Lake. He has also procured the services of that most obliging of captains, Mr. Charles Grylls, Jr. We bespeake for Mr. Wright a fair amount of patronage.

NEW STEAMER.—Capt. Eden has built a snug little steamer to ply on the waters of Stoney Lake. We wish him success in his new enterprise.

CONCERT.—The ladies of the Presbyterian church gave a concert in P.C.A. Hall Tuesday night, in aid of Manse fund. The programme was well carried out. The audience was small, owing to the stormy weather.

A QUIET HINT.—Reeve Casement will occupy the civic chair for the first time on Monday next. Our new Reeve is much in need of a helpmate.

NEW WHARF.—A new wharf 300 feet long is being built by the council for the accomodation of the travelling public, and the steamboat owners, Ex-Reeve Strickland being the prime mover.

C. P. R. AGENCY.—Mr. S. Henderson was appointed C.P.R. ticket agent some time ago. He reports having done a good business for the company, and thinks a branch line to Lakefield would pay the company well.

LIGHT WANTED.—Hope our new council will have enterprise enough to light our streets on the dark nights. It would be a boon to the villagers. Electric light, if you please.

A NEED.—And still the village is without any fire protection. It will be the old story over again, "the barn door locked after the horse has been stolen."

Queen's Endowment.

KINGSTON, Jan. 13.—Practically the required endowment for Queen's University has been raised. It may lack a few thousands, but the balance will be easily raised. Principal Grant, who has recovered his health sufficiently to resume lectures in theology, is enthusiastic over the success of the scheme. "I hope," he said, "that people have only begun to be liberal, for we will need more than the amount stipulated in the circular as the minimum sum, for many people have given to objects other than those for which the $250,000 was designated. The total amount has been subscribed by about 700 persons. Queen's at its next session will, with a greatly increased staff, be ready to cope with any sister institution in Canada. The students have supported the scheme loyally, for besides giving $5500 themselves, they have collected $3000 from friends during the vacation."

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days as reported to Dun, Wiman & Co., number for the United States 258 and for Canada 30, or a total of 288 as against a total of 279 last week and 263 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of 1887 the figures were 323, being 294 in the United States and 29 in Canada.

"Grandma" Garfield Sinking.

PAINESVILLE, Ohio, Jan. 13.—"Grandma" Garfield is slowly but surely sinking. She sleeps most of the time, and it is necessary for some one to be constantly in attendance upon her. She still takes a good deal of interest in matters of the world, and especially if they relate in a complimentary manner to the late President.

Many officers and students have been arrested on the charge of being implicated in the plot against the Czar.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

A New Serial.

He has offered Mr. Geo. A. Cox $30,000 for the property he now occupies, but the latter has held out for $35,000. If Mr. Cavanagh's offer is accepted he will either occupy the present building or divide it up into stores. He will not rent it as a hotel.

J. C. Turnbull.

is not pretending to sell goods at or below cost, which everybody who uses their judgment will find to be an utter impossibility. As the old adge says, we do not use a sprat to catch a whale, or in other words sell a towel at five cents which is less than cost, and charge a dollar for some thing else (which the people are not such good judges of) that is only worth seventy-five cents, but endeavor to give good value in every parcel. Notwithstanding the scarcity of money, Turnbull has had a marvelous turnover of his fall and winter stock, far outreaching his expectations. The bulk of his heavy goods being sold out early in the season, enables him to place on his counters several joblines at less than manufacturers prices. Inspection invited.

A Win for Lakefield.

A one rink curling match was played with the Lakefield's at the Charlotte street rink on Friday afternoon. The score is as follows:—

In the evening another game was played with the following result:—

Want Positions.

Councillor Moore is in the receipt of applications for positions on the police force sent from Toronto. The applicants say that they hear that the members of the force here are to be dismissed and that they would like to be put on. Councillor Moore has replied that he has no connection with the Police Supervision Committee. He has referred the applicants to the Mayor.

Mr. Cochrane's Resolution.

Inspector Cochrane protests against building fires where he is not required to do so. At the session of the court held in Ashburnham he had first to ransack the village before he could get the key to get into the hall, and when he did get in he had to buckle to and put on a fire. He says that if proper accommodation is not provided in the future he will bring the cases into the town.

Court of Revision.

A session of the Court of Revision was held at the Town Buildings on Friday evening. Several petitions were considered, among which was one from Mayor Stevenson, complaining against the wrongful assessment of his property at present used as the Salvation Army barracks. The statute expressly states that all places of worship shall be exempted from taxation and this being the case the assessment had to be cancelled.

The Coming Lecture and Concert.

On Friday evening, the 20th inst., the Irish National League and the Catholic Literary Society have arranged to hold a lecture and concert in the Opera House. Complimentary Dinner.

About twenty-five of Mr. F. G. Cox's friends assembled at the Hub Restaurant on Friday evening to do him honor on the eve of his departure for Toronto. The chair was occupied by Dr. Kincaid, who graced the head of the table in his usual happy style. After the usual loyal toasts had been proposed and received, the chairman proposed the toast "The Guest of the Evening. He regretted that they had not longer notice of Mr. Cox's departure. While this hurried spread might serve as a memento of their esteem he was sorry that they had not had a few days notice so as to show their respect in a more fitting manner. He had known Fred from his boyhood and could vouch for his being generous and good natured to everybody. He was very much pleased that he was here to show how much he respected the guest of the evening. He would ask the company to drink Fred's health in cold water. Mr. Cox replied, thanking the chairman for his kindly sentiments and the company for receiving the toast in such a cordial manner. It was with much regret that he left Peterborough, but duty compelled him to do so. He could not find words to express his appreciation of the honor done him, but if they visited Toronto he would try to reciprocate. He again thanked the company for the hearty way they received the toast. Other toasts were proposed, which were replied to by Messrs. H. Lebrun, G. W. Rubidge, A. Elliott, Harry Phelan, M. Tierney, R. H. Fortye, H. C. Stapleton, and A. Mercer, each taking the opportunity while on their feet of speaking in complimentary terms of the guest of the eveuing. The proceedings terminated with the singing of the National Anthem.

An Unconsidered Factor.

A town business man received a statement of account from another firm with which he had dealings, showing that the firm owed him a few dollars. By mistake he thought that he owed the firm the amount and sent his cheque for it, which was returned with the following unique reply:—

"DEAR SIR,—We have to acknowledge the receipt of your kind favor of the 10th inst., inclosing cheque in settlement of what we owe you. The man who pays debts when asked is entitled to respect, the man who pays on principle and without being asked sets a worth example to a generally dilatory business community, but the man who pays his neighbor's debt is yet an unconsidered factor in the moral economy of the trading Christian.

"We appreciate the spirit of great generosity which characterizes your remittance, but, seriously doubting the wisdom of such strange divergence from the common principle, we take the liberty of returning your cheque and will send you ours on settling day."

Personal.

Mr. Joseph McClelland, formerly of town, is "on the road" for a jewelery firm. He is in town to-day.

Mr. John McLelland has been elected a director of the Ontario Poultry Association.

Mr. Luke Fisher, formerly of town, now of Toronto, is here to-day.

The Marmora correspondent of the News-Argus says:—"The friends of Rev. S. J. Thompson, who preached here for three or four months last spring, will be pleased to learn that he has been chosen by the Conference to supply the place of Rev. Prof. Wallace in the George St. Church, Peterborough."

A farewell supper, the Echo says, was tendered Mr. J. Edgar Croly, M. A., by the citizens of Minden, on the eve of his departure from the village to take the position of teacher in the Stratford high school. Dr. Curry occupied the chair, and speeches were made by the Warden and others, who expressed regret on account of the departure of the guest. Mr. Croly is a brother of Mr. T. M. D. Croly, of Peterborough.

The Lindsay Post has the following reference to the Rev. F. McAmmond, formerly pastor of the Ashburnham Methodist Church:—"Rev. Mr. McAmmond of Fenelon Falls preached able and eloquent sermons in the Methodist Church Sunday morning and evening to large congregations. Mr. McAmmond is a preacher of far above the average ability and is looked upon as one of the rising young men of the church. His discourses in Lindsay, as in other places, as well as at home, have produced a most favorable impression."

A Church Opening.

Some months ago the Rev. W. H. French, of Coldwater, was in Peterborough soliciting aid to build a new church at his parish. The Orillia Packet gives the following account of the opening of the church:—"On Thursday, 29th Decbmber, the new English church at Coldwater was opened for public worship. The weather unfortunately was most unpropitious, a strong blizzard blowing all day, rendering travelling most unpleasant. The services were continued on Sunday, 1st January, when crowded congregations attested the interest felt by all in the success of the undertaking. The entire proceeds of the service, and a tea meeting held on Monday, 2nd January, was $76. The new church is exceedingly handsome, externailly and internally, and is undoubtedly the finest public building in Coldwater, the windows being of stained glass and the walls and roof finished with V joint lumber, oiled and varnished, have a very pretty effect. The church is completely furnished with everything required for Divine worship, including organ, stone font, and bell weighing 250 pounds, and is warmed by hot air. The dimensions of the edifice are as follows: The body, 26x48; chancel, 16x16; vestry, 12x16; the height of walls 16 feet, the roof, which is V shaped, adding another 16 feet. The seats are arranged with books rests and kneeling rails to comfortably accommodate 250 persons. The new building is the result of years of constant prayer, anxious thought and patient labour on the part of the Incumbent, and the need of a new church was so sadly felt by the congregation in Coldwater, that Mr. French was reluctantly compelled to open it for public worship before the building was thoroughly finished, the painting having yet to be done. There will therefore be a more formal opening during the coming spring. The Rev. W. H. French earnestly solicits the aid of fellow churchmen towards reducing the burden of debt (some $600) which will remain when all the promises have been gathered in."

Brevities.

—The attendance at the Charlotte street rink last night was large. The curlers were interested in seeing how Lakefield pulled itself together.

—The young man Hicks is not yet liberated, on account of the proper surety not being forthcoming. His trial will come off on Monday.

—One of the men charged with "chicken fighting" it seems was wrongfully charged. The case was withdrawn.

—Geo. Fuljames is charged with having presided over a cocking main on the night of January fourth. The case will be tried on Wednesday. The defendant says he rented his rooms on Simcoe street that night to some parties and that that they used it. He says he went home.

—The tools used in the recent attempted burglary at the office of the Dickson company are said to have been stolen from Mr. Baptie's planing mill.

—A boy hit Mr. E. C. Hill's horse with a snow ball yesterday afternoon while Mr. Hill was driving down street. The animal responded so promptly that Mr. Hill, who was on the open sleigh, had no time to rein up, and the horse sped away. No damage worth speaking of was done, but Mr. Hill was somewhat inconvenienced as he was about to post some bills. He pronounces the boy who threw the snow ball, and others with like wicked dispositions, an unmitigated nuisance.

—There was sudden changes in the weather these last two days. On Thursday night the thermometer was at 20 degrees below zero. On Friday night it stood at 40 above. Last night it sank pretty low and to-day it is again quite mild.

MISS LIZZIE EVANS,

GREAT SUCCESS IN HER NEW PLAY, "OUR ANGEL."

Havlin's Theatre is Auspiciously Opened—A Splendid Bill—Great Enthusiasm—The Star Scores Another Triumph.

From the Cincinnati Times-Star, Aug. 22, '87

A theatre could not have opened with brighter prospects of success or with more public encouragement than did Havlin's last Saturday night. Larger, better in every way, gaily decorated and refurnished from top to bottom, it was a beautiful picture. Then there was an audience to delight the heart of a manager, for not only was every seat filled, but the standing room was all occupied.

Lizzie Evans, Cincinnati's favorite, was the attraction in her new play "Our Angel." It was a great success. Time and again the audience cheered enthusiastically, and what better proof is there of the merits of a play than the way it is received?

"Our Angel" is a Western play. It is not a blood and thunder border drama by any means, and, though its scene is located in a Californian mining camp, a pistol or gun is not once fired. Neither is there any killing or fighting on the stage. In this respect the play is remarkable. A sweet and tender love story forms the back ground, while a series of incidents and stirring adventures enliven and give it color. "Our Angel," or "Blossom Jennings," is a wildflower, a girl who is lovely and bright, but only knows what the mining camp can teach her. "Jack Kenyon," her father's friend, is a miner and as loyal and true a man as ever lived. When "Jennings," who is a drunken fellow, is killed he gives "Blossom" a home, brings a governess from the East to teach her and fits up his cabin like a palace so that she will be pleased. This kind, big-hearted "Jack Kenyon" loves "Blossom" though he hardly knows how to tell her. An English swell, who is irresistibly funny, appears upon the scene, as does a young gentleman from the East. Of course, there is the customary villain, and he and the Eastern young gentlemen plan to get "Blossom's" fortune. The Easterner is to marry her, and he pays assidious court, making her believe that "Jack" is in love with the governess. The story is here sad and pathetic. "Blossom" believes that "Jack" is going to wed the governess, and "Jack" thinks that "Blossom" cares for him only as a father, and is in love with the polished though bad hearted Eastern gentleman. But at last after an exciting series of adventures in which "Blossom," to escape her misery and leave "Jack" alone with his imagined love, flees to the mountains, all is made clear.

The grand finale is pretty and the whole play is effective. The songs that are occasionally introduced, give lightness and pleasantly break in upon the flow of events. Miss Evans charmed by her singing, while Mr. Steve Corey as "Teddy," seated the honors in this respect with her. "Zachariah Peabody," Mr. Fred. L. Kent, was a capital Territorial Legislator, and his "Well, I don't cackle," was convulsing. There is one thing about Miss Evans that particularly charms, and that is her sweet voice and unaffected ways. There is nothing "stagey" about her. But the whole play and the acting was admirable and well deserved of the applause and approbation lavished upon them.

KEENE.

Correspondence of the Review.

BIG TIMBER.—Mr. E. Thompson has taken out some splendid timber of the land owned by Mr. J. Maher, near Keene. Many of the sticks measured from 75ft to 85ft long and several are 2ft in diameter. A number of fine sticks of oak are among the the lot, all splendid timber.

THEY HAVE A SURPLUS.—The Township agricultural society held their annual meeting at Keene on Thursday last. The reports showed a successful year's business and for the first time in the history of the society a surplus after paying all expenses. This is encouraging, and reflects credit on the members who have the details in hand and who do a lot of work to make things a success.

NEW SHOP.—We have a Peterborough man among us, who has just come in to start in the tinsmithing and stove line. I haven't learned his name, but he is no doubt an active and pushing man and will work up a good trade.

CARNIVAL.—The first carnival of this season will be held in the curling rink on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 25th. Prizes are offered for the costumes and curling matches will take place for a medal.

CURLING.—Talk about your winter sports. Curling knocks the sox off them all. A splendid exercise and something a man can show his skill at. The rink is doing well this season and the curlers are having a splendid time. Skip R. B. McIntyre's rink has won the medal, the first played for in the rink. Four rinks were in the first draw, Skip McIntyre defeating Skip Dixon by a score of 14 to 11 shots, while Skip Millar got the better of Skip Campbell to the tune of 19 to 7 shots. The final draw has played off between the rinks of Skips Campbell and McIntyre, the latter rink carrying off the honors and the medal with a score of 17 to 10 shots.—The club have on the slate a match with Lakefield Club to be played at Peterborough at an early date. Two rinks are down to go to Bellaville for a whack at the city club and to play Campbellford Club on their way back.

STYLE!

A man or boy handsomely dressed is usually regarded with more or less favor wherever he may go.

The unfortunate fellow clad in shabby or ill-fitting garments, unless uncommonly smart and pushing, must take a back seat.

There is no mistake about this. It may be contradicted, but not successfully. Brains or no brains we'd rather take our chances in life set out in neat apparel, well cut and made.

A good deal depends—a mighty deal hangs on the clothes a man wears.

Men have been refused discounts by discriminating bankers because they wore hard looking suits.

Men—young men too—have been crossed in love because their suits were shabby or of ancient cut.

Men have lost elections because their style of pantaloons did not meet with the approbation of voters.

Men have been pushed confounded hard by the tax collector when it was seen that they were wearing last years' suits.

Granted then, that good clothes are something worth having, let us understand where they are to be bought to best advantage.

The house that sells first-class goods; sells them at small profits; the house that treats its customers politely and patiently; that guarantees the materials cut, build and finish of the clothing turned out—that is the house to give your order to.

That house is ours.

THE FALL OF THE GOVERNMENT GENERALLY CONCEDED.

Uncertainty as to the Ultimate Outcome—

Mr. Greenway "Won't Count His Chickens Before They're Hatched"—Francis.

Majority 86—Some Cabinet Forecasts.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 13.—While it is generally conceded that the Harrison Government will fall, it is not certain what the ultimate result will be. Leading Opposition members decline to say anything except that besides their own fifteen solid votes they have enough promises to ensure Harrison's defeat. Mr. Greenway would doubtless be called upon to form a cabinet, but whether he would form a combination with lesser lights among his opponents or not he refused to reveal to the press representatives to-day. "I won't count my chickens before they're hatched" is all he would say.

Burke's overwhelming defeat places the Government in a bad fix, even if it could exist by the casting vote of the Speaker. Under the circumstances it is unlikely that the Lieutenant-Governor would permit it to go ahead with only three ministers, and it is pretty certain that Harrison would not open another constituency just now and take the chances of another defeat. The Harrison Government seems to have been unfortunate since its formation, there being many combinations against it. One great factor in the defeat of the Provincial Secretary was the opposition of the very Conservatives who have been trying to oust Mr. Norquay for years. When that is accomplished they turn about and use that as an argument why his successors should be defeated. Norquay and Lariviere loyally supported Burke, but could not carry their friends with them. Francis' majority is 86, he obtaining a majority at every polling place.

One statement which has been made for a prospective Cabinet is: Greenway, Premier; Prendergast, Secretary; Mayor Jones, Public Works, and Isaac Campbell, Attorney-General. The two latter are not in the House. A more probable one is: Greenway, Prendergast, MacArthur and Joseph Martin. Prendergast formerly supported the Government, and MacArthur is Independent. It is settled that if defeated Harrison will not appeal to the country, but will simply resign. A Conservative caucus was held to-night.

SENT FOR TRIAL.

The Examination of the Criminal Charges Against Banker Taylor Concluded.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The examination of the criminal charges against Henry Taylor was resumed in the County Jail this morning, Mayor Cowan presiding. Mr. H. E. Nelles, who is acting for Mr. Taylor's assignee, identified Taylor's books. He said in regard to the $10,000 and $5000 checks referred to in yesterday's evidence, that so far as he could ascertain Mr. Taylor had not received any benefit from either of these checks. The first was to Mr. Murray's credit and the second, which could not be found, to Mrs. Taylor's.

The principal point brought out to-day was that Mr. Charles Murray, on March 13, while in Winnipeg, made a draft on Henry Taylor through the Federal Bank for $5000, and that the next day the $5000 taken from Taylor's account was replaced by a check for that amount on the Ontario Investment Association. The money was telegraphed to Mr. Murray. Taylor's bookkeeper, Mr. Kidner, through whom the transaction was conducted, could not or would not tell whether the money transmitted to Winnipeg was Ontario Investment funds or not, nor could he reconcile his alleged ignorance in this respect with his previous statement that Taylor derived no benefit from the transaction.

In summing up, County Crown Attorney Hutchinson argued that Taylor and Murray were acting in business together, and the natural inference was that one benefitted by money obtained by the other. Mr. Magee, counsel for prisoner, claimed that the crown had failed to make out a prima facie case. Mayor Cowan decided to send Taylor for trial, and he was formally committed. The case will probably go to the grand jury the first thing to-morrow morning.

The principal case before the assizes to-day was the charge of manslaughter against Robert Annett. The prisoner, a young fellow of 19, had quarreled with Robert Blackwell, who was a Missouri farmer and an old man. In the fight which resulted Blackwell was kicked in the stomach and died from his injuries. The evidence as to which was the aggressor was contradictory and Annett was acquitted.

THE NEW G.T.R. DIVIDEND.

A Subject of Speculation in London Stock Market Circles.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The next Grand Trunk dividend is the subject of considerable speculation in stock market circles. Early in the autumn a hopeful feeling prevailed that a substantial dividend would be paid on the second preference stock, but it is thought possible that, the recent revenue statements and traffic receipts being less favorable, the dividend estimates will be consequently affected. The Financial News, discussing the prospects, says there is no longer any possibility of a dividend on the second preference, but in several quarters a more sanguine view is taken. The full payment of the first preference dividend is confidently expected.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

CHAPTER I.

"I don't see why I shouldn't put in a month there very comfortably," says Geoffrey, indolently, pulling the ears of a pretty, saucy little fat terrier that sits blinking at him, with brown eyes full of love, on a chair close by. "And it will be something new to go to Ireland at all events. It is rather out of the running these times, so probably will prove interesting; and at least there is a chance that one won't meet every town acquaintance round every corner. That's the worry of going abroad, and I'm heartily sick of the whole thing."

"You will get murdered," says his mother, quite as indolently, half opening her eyes, which are gray as Geoffrey's own. "They always kill people, with things they call pikes, or burn them out of house and home, over there, without either rhyme or reason."

"They certainly must be a lively lot, if all one hears is true," says Geoffrey, with a suppressed yawn.

"You are not really going there, Geoff?"

"Yes, really."

"To what part of Ireland?"

"Somewhere beyond Bantry; you have heard of Bantry Bay?"

"Oh, I dare say! I am not sure," says Lady Rodney, pettishly, who is rather annoyed at the idea of his going to Ireland, having other plans in view for him.

"Ever heard of Botany Bay?" asks he, idly; but, this question being distinctly frivolous, she takes no notice of it. "Well, it's in Ireland," he goes on, after a slight but dignified pause. "You have heard of the Emerald Isle, I suppose? It's the country where they grow potatoes, and say 'bedad;' and Bantry is somewhere south, I think. I'm never very sure about anything; that's one of my charms."

"A very doubtful charm."

"The name of the place I mean to stay at—my own actual property—is called Coolnagurtheen," goes on Geoffrey, heedless of her censure.

"Eh?" says Lady Rodney.

"Coolnagurtheen."

"I always said you were clever," says his mother, languidly; "now I believe it. I don't think if I lived forever I should be able to pronounce such a sad word as that. Do—do the natives speak like that?"

"I'll tell you when I come back" says Geoffrey,—"if I ever do!"

"So stupid of your uncle to leave you a property in such a country!" says Lady Rodney, discontentedly. "But very like him, certainly. He was never happy unless he was buying land in some uninhabitable place. There was that farm in Wallachia—your cousin Jane nearly died of chagrin when she found it was left to her, and the lawyers told her she should take it, whether she liked it or not. Wallachia! I don't know where it is, but I am sure it is close to the Bulgarian atrocities! I wish you would come with me to the Nugents."

"My dear mother, there is hardly anything I wouldn't do for you; but the Nugent scheme wouldn't suit at all. That girl of the Cheviots is sure to be there,—you know how fond Bessie Nugent is of her?—and I know she is bent on marrying me."

"Nonsense! Would you have me believe you are afraid of her?"

"I am afraid of her; I never was so afraid of anyone before. I have made it the business of my life to avoid her ever since last New Year's-day, when some kind fellow told me it was leap-year. You know I never yet said 'No' to any one, and I shouldn't dare begin by saying it to Miss Cheviot. She has such a stony glare, and such a profusion of nose!"

"And a profusion of gold, too," says Lady Rodney, with a sigh.

"I hope she has, poor soul; she will want it," says Geoffrey, feelingly; and then he falls to whistling the "Two Obadiahs" softly, yet with a relish, beneath his breath.

"How long do you intend to banish yourself from civilized life?"

"A month, I dare say. Longer, if I like it; shorter, if I don't. By the bye, you told me the other day it was the dream of your life to see me in Parliament, now that 'Old Nick' has decided on leading a sedentary existence—a very stupid decision on his part, by the way, so clever as he is."

"He is not strong, you see; a little thing knocks him up, and he is too impressionable for a public career. But you are different. Well, don't go to Dublin—it's wretched form. I dare say when you come back you will be more Irish than the Irish."

"I shouldn't wonder, and as I am determined, you would advise me to study the people, would you not?"

"By all means, study them, if you are bent on this tiresome journey. It may do you good. You will at least be more ready to take my advice at another time."

"What a dismal view you take of my trip! Perhaps, in spite of your forebodings, I shall enjoy myself down to the ground, and weep copiously on leaving Irish soil."

"Perhaps. I hope you won't get into a mess there, and make me more unhappy than I am. We are uncomfortable enough without that. You know you are always doing something bizarre—something rash and uncommon!"

"How nice!" says Geoffrey, with a careless smile. "Your 'faint praise' fails 'to damn!' Why, one is nothing nowadays if not eccentric. Well," moving towards the door, with the fox-terrier at his heels, "I shall start on Monday. That will get me down in time for the 12th." Shall I send you up any birds?"

"Thanks, dear; you are always good," murmured Lady Rodney, who has ever an eye to the main chance.

"If there are any," says Geoffrey, with a twinkle in his eye.

"If there are any," repeats she, unmoved.

Stop that cough, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral—the best specific for all throat and lung diseases. It will allay inflammation, aid respiration, and strengthen the vocal organs. Ayer's Almanacs are free to all. Ask for one.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

w don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPAR'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

MR. GLADSTONE AND THE POPE.

Probably the G.O.M. Will Not Visit His Holiness.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The Tribune's London correspondent says: "The question whether Mr. Gladstone shall visit the Pope is still agitated, but is now likely, say his friends, to be settled in the negative. He has been strongly advised from home not to enter the Vatican. His going would be criticized as an act of homage to the Pope, and would give deep offence to some of the less liberal among the Non-Conformist supporters of the Liberal leader. The Tories would be divided as to whether he had resolved to enter the Romish Church or was trying to convert Leo XIII. to the plan of campaign."

A FISHERMAN'S COMPLAINT.

$20,000 Damages for Alleged Violation of Fishing Privileges.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Representative Chipman of Michigan has laid before Secretary Bayard the complaint of S. F. Tolsma, a citizen of that state, alleging that his nets have been seized and that he has been unlawfully deprived by the Canadian authorities of the right to fish in the St. Mary's River. The trouble arises out of a dispute as to the boundary line between the two countries. The Canadian officials contend that Tolsma was fishing on the Canadian side of the river, while the latter asserts that he was in waters where he had a perfect right to go. Tolsma places his damages at $20,000.

Complaint is also made that the Canadian Government does everything in its power to annoy American fishermen on the great lakes and to embarrass them in the pursuit of their industry.

THE SILENCE OF THE CZAR

NO POLITICAL UTTERANCE AT HIS NEW YEAR'S RECEPTION.

An Intimation that the War Party Triumphs—Russian Cavalry Movements Continue—Active Passage of Troops from Posen to the Silesian Frontier.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—A semi-official statement is issued from St. Petersburg to-night with reference to the failure of the Czar to make a speech at his New Year reception. The assertion is made that the Czar has not been in the habit of making any political statement on that occasion. This is only partly true.

Yesterday evening the Czar pointedly refrained from conversing with Gen. von Schweinitz, the German Ambassador, and Count von Wolkenestein-Frostburg, the Austrian representative. At one period of the reception the Russian Generals and Ministers grouped themselves around the Czar expecting an important utterance. His Majesty, after whispering a few minutes with M. de Giers, turned to the others and formally offered the congratulations of the season. The incident is considered an intimation that the war party triumphs. Among the list of honors conferred, Pan-Slavists alone are honored.

The frontier movements continue to be accelerated. Division after division of cavalry pours westward into Volhynia. Trains loaded with artillery and munitions occupy the railroads and ordinary traffic is suspended. At Kieff, Odessa and elsewhere the authorities are buying up provisions and forage and along the line of the Vistula between Dendy and Drombave, a host of laborers are engaged in constructing redoubts. The Warsaw police have issued orders that all Austrians who have not permits to reside in Poland must quit Russian territory to-day. All Polish officers are being removed from the frontier regiments and sent to take commands in the interior.

On the German and Austrian sides the movements are kept a profound secret, but it is impossible to conceal the fact that there is an active passage of troops from Posen to the Silesian frontier.

The Prussian Diet was opened to-day. The Imperial speech contains no mention of foreign or military affairs. It declared there was hop that the progress of the Crown Prince toward recovery would be maintained. The condition of the finances of the Empire is favorable beyond expectation.

BLUNT'S BLANKET'S.

He Wraps the Drapery of His Couch About Him and Faces His Cell.

DUBLIN, Jan. 15.—Eleven persons have been arrested in Galway on the charge of intimidation. It is stated that the District Inspector holds a warrant for William O'Brien and will arrest him as soon as he is released from prison. The Galway correspondent of The Evening Telegraph sends the following to his paper:

Last evening Mr. Wilfrid Blunt was deprived of his overcoat by the prison officials. Thereupon, flinging his prison garb aside, he demanded his own suit, and on being refused, gathered his blankets around him, and thus attired, paced up and down his cell the remainder of the evening. To-day he staid in his bed. Mr. Blunt told the visiting justices, that Mr. Balfour in a recent interview, declared to him his intention of imprisoning six of the physically weakest of the Parnellites who would be unable to survive six months. The justices refused to receive a written declaration but advised that the prisoner be removed to a better room, that his overcoat be restored and that he be supplied with writing materials.

His Overcoat Returned.

GALWAY, Jan. 15.—Mr. Wilfrid Blunt has been moved to a warmer cell in prison and his overcoat has been returned to him. To-day a band tried to serenade him but was prevented by the police. The people are excited and a row is feared.

Fears a Worse Prison.

DUBLIN, Jan. 15.—According to an article in The Freeman Mr. Wilfrid Blunt declares that he is being personally persecuted, and, fearing that he will be removed to a worse prison, feels bound to state the grounds of his fears. He was staying, he says, at a country house in the south of England last September, where he met Mr. Balfour, who then made to him the statement he has already uttered with reference to the Secretary's intention to imprison men who could not endure the hardships of prison life. Mr. Balfour added, Mr. Blunt says:

"I shall be sorry for Mr. Dillon, as he has some good about him. He will be sentenced for six months, and as he is in bad health he will die in prison." After the Mitchellstown riot, Mr. Blunt continues, I went to Ireland and warned Mr. Dillon and Mr. O'Brien of what Mr. Balfour had said. Mr. Balfour became aware that I had given such warning, and to this fact I attribute his virulence in the Portumna case. I feel that I am not safe in Mr. Balfour's hands, and unless I am protected by those responsible for the direction of prison discipline I should incur the risk of ill treatment or perhaps worse.

LAST WEEK'S BLIZZARD.

Fearful Loss of Life from Cold and Exposure—Railroads Blocked by the Snow.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 15.—The loss of life by the great blizzard on Thursday is shown to have been very great, by far the largest number of casualties being reported from Dakota points. The Despatch has the following summary of the dead (thirty-six in all), but as will be seen by special despatches received by The Pioneer Press yesterday and last night, the list will be largely augmented when the returns are all in:

At Adrian, Minn., John Baring; Hitchcock, Dak., Emil Gilbertson; Nutshell, Dak., George Allen, jr., Joseph Anderson; Minot, Dak., James Smith and two sons; Raymond, Dak., William Drivers, two sons, Charles Heath; Omaha, Neb., Fred Eller, cigarmaker, a young lady, name not reported, Wexwell Beck, aged 8 years; Foster, Neb., George W. Post; David City, Neb., child of John Denlinger; Sioux City, Ia., unknown man; Belgrade, Mont., Wm. Overlan; Maryville, Mont., Patrick Hanley; Huron, Dak.; Thos. E. Gilkeson, Rowland Chambers; Luerone, Minn., John Loy; Inwood, Ia., Mr. Fitzgerald's two children; Aberdeen, Dak., Wm. Love, Judson Westgate; Roscoe, Dak., Peter Terhune; Virgil, Dak., Frank Nirison, William Nirison, Joseph Wilson; Iroquois, Dak., Mrs. Devine, Adam Gerner, J. W. Goselo.

A Brookings, Dak., special says: A young man started from here to go into the country Thursday and cannot be found. It is feared he perished. Several others had narrow escapes.

A Clarmont, Dak., despatch says: Reports have been received here of four persons lost in the blizzard, but without particulars except in the case of Miss Stineberner of Amherst, who was out all night and can hardly recover.

A Grafton, Dak., despatch says: The Northern Pacific train from Grand Forks left here for Pembina last night and three miles north of here was thrown from the track by a huge drift. The passengers were shaken up, but none were hurt.

A Watertown, Dak., despatch says: Thursday forenoon, just before the blizzard struck, a party of seven farmers living twenty-five miles northwest of here started for their homes. The bodies of four of them have been found. Searching parties are looking for the others.

The mercury was about 20° below zero last night. All railroads to Chicago got their trains through yesterday except the Albert Lea and Minnesota and Northwestern roads, which are still blocked. The St. Paul and Duluth is open, but the roads northwest are still having trouble, the Omaha and Sioux City line and the Manitoba being still blockaded.

Specials giving additional loss of life in the great blizzard are as follows: Gary, Dak.—Charles Stoltzenberg of Altamont started to procure a coffin for his dead son, and has not been since heard from. Two children of Joseph Hutchinson, living west of here, perished while going home from school. Minot, Dak.—Mr. Davis and his 15-year-old son were found by searching parties two miles from town frozen to death. Several others are missing. Sioux Falls, Dak.—Five victims of the blizzard have been found in this section: a lady teacher named Jacobson and a pupil named Gindo G. Grunstrom, a farmer and two others, names unknown. Lesterville—Jacob Krutz died and his wife badly frozen. Frederick Milberger may die from exposure. A man, name unknown, was frozen. Three deaths are reported from Tindall and two girls near Wakenda. A lady schoolteacher near Flandreau was frozen to death. Miller, Dak.—J. W. Gaasloe, a wealthy farmer, perished in the blizzard. Faulkton, Dak.—Emma Lamar, a schoolteacher southwest of here, and Carrie Anman, a pupil, were frozen to death Wednesday night. Doland, Dak.—W. C. Gartswate, a farmer's son, got lost in the blizzard Thursday going from his father's house to the barn and was found dead in the snow yesterday. Ramond, Willie and Harry Driver were frozen to death.

Reports of fatalities are still coming in. At Adrian, Minn., Mrs. Knutzson of Rushmore was found frozen to death within forty feet of her own door. Her husband was absent and she started to look for him. A special from Canton, Dak., says: "The following deaths have been reported, but it is thought there will be others: Two men at Pumghar, Iowa; two school children at Inwood, Ia.; two men between Marion Junction and Bridgewater; one man near White Lake; two boys and ninety-five head of cattle near Larchwood, Ia.; four school children near Lennox, Dak. One of the last named, a boy, was alive when found, after being in the snow for thirty-six hours, but soon died.

The Manitoba and Northern Pacific roads sent out their regular trains on their main lines to-night. Manitoba officials report their line clear to the boundary, and the Northern Pacific is open beyond the Missouri River. The Minnesota and Northwestern train from Chicago arrived here to-day after being four days on the road.

CONTINENTAL BOERSES.

Paris Weak—Depression at Berlin and Frankfort, Culminating Saturday.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Since last Monday prices on the Bourse have been weak. Operators are acting with great reserve pending the receipt of more definite news regarding the critical political situation in other European countries.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Business on the Boerse was fairly good till toward the end of the week when, owing to persistent war rumors, considerable depression prevailed which culminated yesterday, the closing prices being the lowest of the week.

FRANKFORT, Jan. 15.—Prices on the Boerse have been weak since Monday and especially was this the case yesterday when, in sympathy with the depression prevailing in other stock markets, there was a general fall of 1½ per cent.

Discount in London.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—There was no demand for discount during the past week. Business on the Stock Exchange during the week was moderately active. American railroad securities were neglected excepting bond issues in which the stream of investment continues. In shares, especially those of non-dividend paying companies, there is stagnation, neither the public nor speculators touching them.

Wounded While Hunting.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—While hunting at Rambaillet, yesterday, Gen. Brigere was severely wounded in the hip by the accidental discharge of a keeper's gun. President Carnot was one of the party.

THE LABOR COMMISSION

TO REPORT IN TIME FOR ACTION AT THE COMING SESSION.

The Reformers' Choice for Glengarry—Examinations for Admission to the Royal Military College—First Report on Production of Minerals in Canada.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—The three members of the Labor Commission who were here left for Hamilton last night. It is understood that it has been decided that the Commission must complete its labors as speedily as possible so as to report in time for action to be taken at the coming session of Parliament. The Commission will go from Hamilton to Montreal, Quebec, Halifax and St. John, and may visit a few other places. Probably a week or ten days will be spent in Montreal.

Hon. W. W. Lynch and Judge Burbidge will have an interview with Hon. Thomas White, Minister of the Interior, on Tuesday afternoon with reference to the Dundee Indian Land Commission.

Mr. Simon Jones, the newly-appointed commercial agent to the West Indies and the Argentine Republic, is here to consult with the Acting Minister of Finance before leaving for the scene of his labors.

It is rumored here that the Liberal choice for an opponent to Mr. McMaster in Glengarry will be either Mr. Rayside, M.P.P., if he can be induced to risk certainty for an uncertainty, or Mr. A. F. McIntyre of Ottawa.

There was a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday afternoon. It is understood there will not be another Cabinet meeting until Wednesday.

It has not yet been decided whether the Mounted Police Riding School at Regina, recently destroyed by fire, will be rebuilt immediately.

The next annual examinations of applications for admission to cadetship in the Royal Military College will commence on June 11 next at the district staff office at the headquarters of the several military districts in which candidates may present themselves.

The first statistical report on the production, value, exports and imports of minerals in Canada during the year 1886 and previous years has been published. Its author, Mr. C. Coste, mining engineer to the Geological Survey of Canada, explains the unavoidable circumstances under which the delay in getting out the report occurred and promises the early appearance of the report for 1887. The total value of the mineral productions of the Dominion for 1886 was $10,529,361. The largest item in the list is coal, $5,017,225; the next gold $1,330,442, petroleum $439,797, copper $354,000, phosphates $304,338. The value of the mineral exported from Canada was $3,630,821, of which $1,720,939 was from British Columbia, $1,010,240 from Nova Scotia, $809,661 from Quebec, $186,574 from Ontario and $101,349 from the Maritime Provinces. The United States was the largest importer, the value being $3,115,696, and the next largest, Great Britain, $589,832. The report is a very valuable one and appears to have been prepared with much care.

THE CENTRAL PRISON AFFRAY.

Guard Rutledge Dies from His Wounds at the Hands of Convict Neil.

TORONTO, Jan. 16.—Guard John Rutledge died at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the effects of the stabs inflicted upon him by Convict Robert Neil, who will probably be hanged for his terrible crime.

It was 2.30 Saturday morning before Prison Physician T. W. Aikins, Dr. Wilberforce Aiknis and Drs. Woods and McCulloch finished the operation of opening Rutledge's stomach and removing a basinful of clotted blood. A medical student attended him for the rest of the night and on Saturday Dr. Aikins and Dr. Woods visited the wounded man. Dr. Wilberforce Aikins and Dr. Woods were at the prison yesterday looking after the case, but medical skill was of no avail except to prolong life for a few hours by the operation. Rutledge passed Saturday and Sunday easily. He was conscious up to 2 hours before death, and at times thought he would recover.

On Friday he made an ante-mortem statement, and on Saturday afternoon he made his will, and this appeared to relieve him. Despatches were sent to his sister, Mrs. Griffin, who lives in New York; to his two brothers, in California and Michigan, and to cousins who reside in Peel County.

Up till noon yesterday he was rational, and was able to converse. He then began to grow weak and doubtful of his recovery. To Guard Hunt, who was almost in constant attendance upon him, he said he feared they would never go out together again as they used to do. At 1 o'clock he spoke to Mr. Campbell, the prison bookkeeper, and shook hands with him. An hour later he grew delirious and was unconscious till his death, which occured at 4 o'clock. Inflammation of the bowels was the immediate cause of death.

Ever since the stabbing Neil has been confined in his cell and closely watched. It was feared that if he got an opportunity he might do injury to himself or to some of the guards. Up to last night he had not been informed by the officials of the fact that Rutledge was dead, but it is presumed that he is aware of it, as he might learn it by hearing other prisoners talking to each other. On Saturday he asked one of the guards how Rutledge was doing, and on being told that he was very low and that an operation had been performed, he said with tears in his eyes: "Well, what'll become of me? I guess I'll swing for it if he dies." The guard said: "I've often told you to behave yourself or you would get into trouble," and Neil replied: "Yes, and I wish I had taken your advice." If the coroner's jury returns a verdict of wilful murder, as they probably will, Neil will be handed over to the Sheriff, and Warden Massie will be glad to get rid of him.

Warden Massie and the officials under him are greatly grieved at the death of Rutledge, who bore the reputation of being a quiet, unassuming young man without a single bad habit. His parents are in Ireland, where he was born, and the only relatives he had in America were those mentioned above.

SIR JOHN ON C.U.

An Interview Published in the English Newspapers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The World's London correspondent cables: Sir John Macdonald, the Canadian Premier, in an interview printed here to-day says that the Canadian Parliament will reject the project of a Commercial Union with the United States soon after its next meeting by over 200 votes. He adds: "I think a Commercial Union would be disastrous at present to what we call our National Policy. Our quasi-protective system has only existed since 1879, and of course the protection offered to certain manufactures did not create them at once. They are growing steadily, but still no great capital has been invested or generated, and they would be at once swamped by the wealth and long-trained skill of Americans. We are in a state of grizzle yet and the Americans understand that so well that they would make any great sacrifice for a market at first, simply to kill off ultimately all our manufacturers. The time will come when we can meet them on even terms. But that is not the case now. Very few could fight the Americans, in fact, only a very small minority.

UNSEATED AND DISQUALIFIED.

The evidence of bribery taken at the trial of the petition in the Russell County case, when the Liberal member of Parliament was unseated, showed that deliberate plans had been made to buy the seat for the Liberal party. The amount of money spent in this way was, as the member, Mr. Edwards, said himself, disgusting, but there was one redeeming feature—the evidence did not show that the candidate was aware that money was being improperly used.

In Glengarry, however, large sums were spent influencing the voters, and it was furnished by the Liberal candidate, Mr P. Purcell. As very few of the witnesses subpœnaed were examined, the first few witnesses called giving sufficient evidence to unseat and disqualify Mr. Purcell, it is not known to what extent bribery prevailed; but so much was shown that the member was unseated and disqualified and the judge will report that bribery prevailed extensively.

Mr. Purcell admitted in conversation, so it was stated in evidence, that the election cost him $36,000. That was a high price to pay for one session as a member, followed by disqualification, and the costs of the election trial and prosecution for bribery are to be met besides. The plan adopted was worthy of the great mind that decided to purchase a seat in the House. Sums of money, sometimes $100 and $200, were given to voters, but in order to make it "legal" notes for the amounts were taken. Mr. Purcell fondly believed that, although the understanding was that the vote of the man receiving the "loan" was secured for himself, the taking of the notes would save him from the consequences of the act. And to still further protect himself, he furnished others the money to loan, but all this availed him nothing and he has been disqualified. At no time did the Liberals denounce bribery with more vigor than during the last election campaign, but money was spent by their friends as freely as ever.

ITEMS FROM TORONTO.

Sir John Macdonald left Ottawa last midnight on the Canadian Pacific express and will arrive in Toronto this morning. It is understood the Old Man will be quartered in the Red Parlor at the Queen's during his stay in the city. In addition to receiving the faithful at the parlor and discussing political matters, his other engagements are: This afternoon at 2 o'clock he will attend the first meeting of the shareholders of The Empire Newspaper Company at the Board of Trade rooms. To-morrow at 11 he will preside at the meeting of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company. After the meeting the officers and agents of the company will present Sir John with an elegant half life size oil painting of himself by Mr. Dickson Patterson.

What will probably be shown to be a most brutal case occurred in the West End on Saturday night, resulting in the arrest of Joseph Richardson, aged 56, of the firm of Richardson & Boyle, foundrymen, of 453 Queen-street west, on the charge of criminality with a 12-year-old girl named Lizzie Dunning, the daughter of a stonemason, who lives near the White Bridge in St. Mark's Ward.

For some time past it was expected that Richardson was not all right, and it was decided to watch him. It was known that the child had visited the foundry before, and so Precinct Detective Johnston was not surprised when, between 8 and 9 Saturday night, he saw the girl enter a lane leading to the foundry. A few minutes later he got in and caught Richardson, who had promised the girl a quarter, committing the offence charged. He removed the prisoner to St. Andrew's Market Police Station. Richardson has been boarding at 117 Denison-avenue. His wife is in the Insane Asylum and the girl's mother is a patient in the Hospital. He will be proceeded against under the Charlton Act.

Fred Greenfield, James McFadden and Frank Gleason were arrested by Detectives Reburn and Davis yesterday upon suspicion of being the parties who last week burglarized a store in Peterboro and who fired at the constable who sought to apprehend them. The Peterboro authorities have been requested to send an officer to identify the prisoners.

Milligan's grocery store, at 231 Queen-street west, was broken into Friday night. A quantity of tobacco and two coats were stolen. Detectives Alf Cuddy and Black succeeded in recovering the stolen property on Saturday, it having been placed by the thieves under the C.P.R., freight shed at the Waterworks Wharf, and arrested Harry Shine and Charles Russell, who are charged with the burglary.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Mr. McLane, the United States Minister, in a letter to Marquis Rochambeau regretting his inability to attend the banquet in celebration of the battle of Yorktown, says that the celebration recalls for the French their glorious past and for the Marquis the remembrance of the soldier whose name he bears and the debt of gratitude America owes his comrades: He continues:

"It is to the ancient association of French and American soldiers on battlefields in the new world that is due the strong current of sympathy which has never ceased to draw France and America together. I greet it in the French soldiers present at the banquet, the representative of the French army and the President of the French Republic, a toast to whom I desire you to propose in my name."

The milk was given (not sold) as skimmed milk and he is not a dealer. The other percentages are good.

ORGANIZED FOR 1888.

The Initial Meeting of this Year's Town Council.

The people chosen to do the town's business this year organized themselves into the council for 1888 at eleven o'clock this forenoon.

Mayor STEVENSON took the chair and the following gentlemen filled nine of the cane seats. James Kendry, William Langford, John Douglass, William H. Moore, William Yelland, Adam Hall, Andrew McNeil, Henry C. Winch, and Robert S. Davidson.

The CLERK reported that the Mayor and Councillors elected had filed their declarations of office except Councillors Cahill, Kelly and Hartley. He then read the minutes of the last meeting held, which were received and adopted.

Councillors Kelly and Hartley entered the chamber and filed their declarations.

The MAYOR announced that the only business to be taken up would be the usual formal business.

THE COMMITTEES.

Councillor DAVIDSON moved, seconded by Councillor MOORE, that Councillors Kendry, Douglass, Moore, Yelland, McNeil, Cahill, the Mayor, and the mover, be a committee to strike the standing committees for 1888.—Carried.

THE AUDITORS.

The MAYOR nominated Mr. John J. Hall as one of the auditors for 1888.

Councillor KENDRY moved, seconded by Councillor KELLY,—That Jas. Stratton be the other auditor.—Carried.

Councillor YELLAND objected to Mr. Hall as auditor.

The MAYOR said such objection would be in order at the reading of the by-law.

A by-law was introduced to confirm the nominations made. It was given its first and second readings.

The salary was fixed at $75 each.

Councillor YELLAND, on the third reading, raised an objection to Mr. Hall as auditor. Some time ago Mr. Hall came to his house and asked for a pint of milk. Mrs. Yelland told him that she had nothing but skimmed milk. She thought that Mr. Hall was going to take it down to his office to drink so she gave it to him. Now it seemed that Mr. Hall was sending samples of milk to Ottawa to get tested and the report comes out that Yelland is selling poor milk. He never sold milk at all and he thought that a man who was mean enough to do a thing like that should not be auditor for this town. He made this explanation merely so that it would get into the papers.

Councillor DAVILSON said that the whole thing was a mistake and Mr. Hall was ready to give Mr. Yelland any apology he would demand.

Councillor CAHILL smilingly condoled with councillor Yelland. It was too bad that such a thing was done, but he assured the injured councillor that it was all a mistake.

Councillor YELLAND said that he had been challenged two or three times to-day about it.

The by-law was finally given its third reading and the Council adjourned until this evening.

The following officers were next elected by the Directors, at a meeting after the other:—

PRESIDENT—James Stevenson, M. P.
SECRETARY-TREASURER—Jas. Edwards.
MANAGING COMMITTEE—W. J. Lundy, Jas. Stevenson, M. P., Henry Denne and Chas. Stapleton.

The meeting then adjourned.

Shirley, until lately one of the leading merchants of the town, took place to-day, being the largest in Oshawa for some time. The remains of deceased were taken to the Roman Catholic Church, which was heavily draped in mourning, where an impressive funeral discourse was delivered by the parish priest. The casket bore many floral offerings. Among the pallbearers were some of the leading people of the town."

The late T. M. Shirley was at one time a partner of Mr. John Hackett in the dry goods trade here. Mr. Hackett returned to town at noon from Oshawa where he went for the purpose of attending the funeral.

CEMETERY COMPANY.

PROCEEDINGS AT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE LOT OWNERS.

Text of the Reports from the Directors and Superintendent — Satisfactory Financial Statement — Election of Officers and General Business.

The annual meeting of the Directors and lot owners of the Little Lake Cemetery Company was held at the Council Chamber at noon to-day.

President James Stevenson, M.P., occupied the chair and the others present were Messrs. Jas. Edwards, Sec'y-Treas.; J. J. Lundy, Hon. R. Hamilton, Rev. V. Clementi, R. Kingan, E.B. Edwards, Jas. G. Macdonald, H. Denne, W. Cummings and John Kelly, Superintendent.

The minutes of the last meeting on motion were taken as read.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The President submitted and read the following report from the Directors:—

Report of the Directors of the Little Lake Cemetery Company.

GENTLEMEN,—Your Directors beg to submit the following report for the information of the stockholders:—

During the present year your Directors have completed the improvements on the property recently purchased from Mr. Burnham, and have planted it with ornamental trees. Considerable improvements have been made in the other parts of the cemetery. The caretaker's house was found to be in a dangerous condition owing to a defective foundation. Alterations and repairs were effected in this matter at a cost of about three hundred dollars.

The well in the caretaker's yard being in an exceedingly foul condition, we considered it necessary to have a new one sunk. This has been accomplished by boring to a depth of sixty-five feet at an outlay of about one hundred and thirty dollars.

A considerable addition has been made to our water works system by the laying of more than 2,000 feet of new mains, the expense being about $140.

A proper map of the grounds, inclusive of the new portion has been made. We think the improvements made have added very considerably to the beauty of your already beautiful cemetery.

In the building of their new railway the Grand Trunk took a small portion of our ground and in view of this have agreed to convey to your company a portion of land adjoining which your Directors believe to be of equal value.

We are in hope that during the present year steps will be taken by the town to secure the road-way leading to the cemetery from further invasions by the lake.

Our receipts for the present year have amounted to more than $3,0 and our expenditure to $2,700, which leaves a considerable balance in favor of the company.

Full details will be given in the report of your very efficient caretaker and your Treasurer, both of which will be laid before you.

Number of interments 156.

In presenting my annual report I might mention some of the improvements that have been made during the year. That section of ground described on the map as section "R," better known as the portion of ground about one and one-half acres where the McGowan shanty stood.

This place was all cleared of stones and stumps, graded and seeded, which required quite an amount of labor and expense, and now it is one of the prettiest spots in the cemetery.

Section "V." was also cut down one foot and re-graded. All the new ground that was done in 1886 had to be cultivated and re-seeded on account of the dry season.

There were several hundred trees planted in the spring which also required quite an amount of care and watering. A cedar hedge was gathered and planted from the main entrance up to the slope of the hill, on both sides of the road, which hedge in a few years will be a grand improvement.

The trees and shrubs that were planted last spring have done fairly well, taking into consideration the dryness of the weather.

The boulevard all along Haggart street was finished and seeded and will in a year or two make a nice green sward, which will add to the beauty of the cemetery.

There were a lot of small stone scattered about the cemetery, which were of no use for building purposes. Those stones I caused to be made into gutters or water courses. Some 2780 feet of those water courses have been made which will save the roads from washing away, as the water flows down the inclines in spring and when rains occur. Those gutters are ornamental as well as useful. The building of them was a very tedious job and took considerable time.

This season there have been 2000 feet of trenches dug and pipes laid for watering purposes through the new grounds. This will complete the system for watering the grounds for some time to come and has proved very satisfactory when the supply of water was sufficient.

The pumping power we have now in use is not adequate to furnish water enough for the requirements of the cemetery in dry seasons, such as the past, and scarcely sufficient for ordinary years. The clearing and cutting away of the trees on the improved parts causes greater evaporation and the ground therefore requires more irrigation.

I would therefore recommend that an additional pump or mill be placed to connect with the present system, as it would, I believe, be more efficient than one pump, even if more powerful, as in case if one getting out of repair, the lawns and terraces might suffer while waiting repairs. If there were two mills one would partially supply water while the other was being repaired.

The lower part of the cemetery, usually called the flat, which is yet covered with trees,—this place needed some improvements. Last fall it was all underbrushed and dead trees and limbs removed, thereby giving a picturesque appearance to all the surrounding parts of the ground.

The necessary repairs done to the house, during the past season, caused some extra labor, in sealing the mechanics, etc., for which there were no monetary returns, as well as several other works that were done during the season.

I would again call the attention of the Directors to the necessity of urging upon the Town Council, to lose no time in building a crib work along Crescent street, as the water is wearing the roadway so fast, that there will soon be no roadway left. As I see it every day, I am in a position to know what damage has been done in the last few years, that can never be made up, except at a large expense. I have known it to wash away a width of four feet in a single night, during high water with a northerly wind blowing.

A sidewalk along this street is much required for the accommodation of the large number of townspeople who visit the cemetery in summer.

I am gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
JOHN KELLY,
Superintendent.

Peterborough, Jan. 16th, 1888.

—Received and adopted.

HOUR OF MEETING.

Mr. Kingan found fault with 12 o'clock as an hour of meeting, and suggested that in the future, it be called for a later hour.

After several gentlemen had spoken to the same effect, it was decided that in future the meeting will be called for 3 o'clock p. m.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.

Messrs. R. Kingan and Wm. Cumming, the scrutineers, reported that the following Directors were elected for the ensuing year:—

Messrs. Rev. V. Clementi, James Stevenson, M. P., Hon. R. Hamilton, Ex-Judge Dennistoun, G. M. Roger, Henry Deane, John Burnham, J. J. Lundy and Chas. Stapleton.

The meeting then adjourned.

Attempted Burglary.

An attempt was made to break into the Custom House office last night. The lock was so badly broken that it could not be unlocked this morning, and the officials had to get in by a side door. The door fastening proved too strong for those who tried to get in, and no further injury was done than making the lock useless.

STYLE!

A man or boy handsomely dressed is usually regarded with more or less favor wherever he may go.

The unfortunate fellow clad in shabby or ill-fitting garments, unless uncommonly smart and pushing, must take a back seat.

There is no mistake about this. It may be contradicted, but not successfully. Brains or no brains we'd rather take our chances in life set out in neat apparel, well cut and made.

A good deal depends—a mighty deal hangs on the clothes a man wears.

Men have been refused discounts by discriminating bankers because they wore hard looking suits.

Men—young men too—have been crossed in love because their suits were shabby or of ancient cut.

Men have lost elections because their style of pantaloons did not meet with the approbation of voters.

Men have been pushed confounded hard by the tax collector when it was seen that they were wearing out last years' suits.

Granted then, that good clothes are something worth having, let us understand where they are to be bought to best advantage.

The house that sells first-class goods; sells them at small profits; the house that treats its customers politely and patiently; that guarantees the materials, cut, build and finish of the clothing turned out—that is the house to give your order to.

That house is ours.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

FEDERAL BANK CHANGES.

H. C. HAMMOND AND WM. HENDRIE PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT.

Mr. Nordheimer to Remain on the Board—A Rise in the Value of the Shares Expected—A Determined Effort to Be Made to Increase Business.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.

Reports of a want of harmony in the administration of the Federal Bank, along with the fact that the Central failure caused a considerable withdrawal of deposits from the Federal and other banks, had the effect of depreciating the value of the shares of the Federal both on the Montreal and Toronto stock exchanges. The directorate have had this situation under consideration for some days past, and a change in the administration was decided on so as to secure the smoothest possible working.

On Saturday President Nordheimer and Vice-President J. S. Playfair placed their resignations in the hands of their fellow directors. After considerable consultation and negotiation throughout Saturday it was decided to elect Mr. H. C. Hammond President and Mr. William Hendrie of Hamilton Vice-President. Mr. Nordheimer will remain on the Board, and probably Mr. Playfair. Which two of the directors are to retire is not yet settled. The Board now includes:

| | |
|---|---|
| H. C. HAMMOND. | WM. HENDRIE. |
| S. NORDHEIMER. | J. S. PLAYFAIR. |
| WM. GALBRAITH. | H. E. CLARKE. |
| S. C. WOOD. | JOHN HOSKIN. |

Mr. Nordheimer, it is understood, entirely concurs in the changes.

Mr. Hammond, the new President, has had twenty years' experience as a banker, and was for ten years the successful cashier of the Bank of Hamilton. He is a stock broker, and has powerful alliances. Mr. Hendrie is a wealthy Hamiltonian, who is successful in everything he touches.

It is expected that these changes will have the effect of at once raising the value of the shares and restoring confidence. The new administration will pursue a conservative policy, but do its best to increase business.

It is believed that the Federal has been doing a safe and good business for the past three years, that its assets are in good shape, and that it is worthy of the confidence of the public. It could liquidate to-morrow and pay dollar for dollar, even to its shareholders.

Central Bank Matters.

Accountant Lye made an investigation Saturday afternoon of Broker E. S. Cox's books, in accordance with the arrangement made at Osgoode Hall, Friday. Mr. Foster, Q.C., was represented by his managing clerk, while Mr. Kappele looked after Mr. Cox's interests. Mr. Lye was asked by The World what the result of his investigation was, but he declined to give any information. Mr. Cox's examination will take place before the Master-in-Ordinary at Osgoode Hall this afternoon.

Mr. Lye was appointed by the Master on Saturday to take charge of the working staff at the bank in the employ of the liquidators.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little suffer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button. It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

CHAPTER II.

It is early morn. "The first low breath of waking day stirs the wide air." On bush and tree and opening flower the dew lies heavily, like diamonds glistening in the light of the round sun. Thin clouds of pearly haze float slowly o'er the sky to meet its rays; and

Envious streaks
Do lace the severing clouds in yonder east.

Geoffrey, with his gun upon his shoulder, trudges steadily onward, rejoicing in the freshness of the morning air. His good dog is at his heels; a boy—procured from some neighboring cabin, and warranted not to wear out, however long the journey to be undertaken or how many the miles to travel—carries his bag beside him. Game as yet is not exactly plentiful; there is, indeed, a settled uncertainty as to whether one may or may not have a good day's sport. And yet this very uncertainty gives an additional excitement to the game.

Here and there a pack is discovered, so unexpectedly as to be doubly welcome. And sometimes a friendly native will tell him of some quiet corner where "his honor" will surely find some birds, "an' be able in the evenin' to show raison for his blazin'." It is a somewhat wild life, but a pleasant one, and perhaps, on the whole, Mr. Rodney finds Ireland an agreeable take-in, and the inhabitants of it by no means as eccentric or as blood-thirsty as he has been led to believe. He has read innumerable works on the Irish peasantry, calculated to raise laughter in the breasts of those who claim the Emerald Isle as their own—works written by people who have never seen Ireland, or, having seen it, thought it a pity to destroy the glamour time has thrown over it, and so reduce it to commonplaceness.

He is, for instance, surprised, and indeed somewhat relieved, when he discovers that the drivers of the jaunting-cars that take him on his shooting expeditions are not all modern Joe Millers, and do not let off witty remarks, like bomb-shells, every two minutes.

He is perhaps disappointed in that every Irish cloak does not conceal a face beautiful as an houri's. And he learns by degrees that only one in ten says "bedad," and that "och, murther!" is an expression almost extinct.

Altogether, things are very disappointing; though perhaps there is comfort in the thought that no one is waiting round a corner, or lying perdu in a ditch, ready to smash the first comer with a blackthorn stick, or reduce him to submission with a pike, irrespective of cause or reason.

Rodney, with the boy at his side, is covering ground in a state of blissful uncertainty. He may be a mile from home, or ten miles for all he knows, and the boy seems none the wiser.

"Where are we now?" says Geoffrey, stopping suddenly and facing the boy.

"I don't know, sir."

"But you said you knew the entire locality—couldn't be puzzled within a radius of thirty miles. How far are we from home?"

"I don't know, sir. I never was abroad before, an' I'm dead bate now, and the bag's like lead."

"You're a nice boy, you are!" says Mr. Rodney. "Here, give me the bag! Perhaps you would like me to carry you too; but I shan't, so you needn't ask me. Are you hungry?"

"No," says the boy valiantly; but he looks hungry, and Geoffrey's heart smites him, the more in that he is starving likewise.

"Come a little farther," he says, gently, slinging the heavy bag across his own shoulders. "There must be a farm-house somewhere."

There is. In the distance, imbedded in trees, lies an extensive farmstead, larger and more home-like than any he has yet seen.

"Now, then, cheer up, Paddy!" he says to the boy; "yonder lies an oasis in our howling wilderness."

Whereat the boy smiles and grins consumedly, as though charmed with his companion's metaphor, though in reality he understands it not at all.

As they draw still nearer Geoffrey becomes aware that the farm-yard before him is rich with life. Cocks are crowing, geese are cackling, and in the midst of all this life stands a girl with her back turned to the weary travelers.

"Wait here," says Geoffrey to his squire, and, going forward, rests the bag upon a wall, and waits until the girl in question shall turn her head. When she does move he is still silent, for, behold, she has turned his head!

She is country bred, and clothed in country garments, yet her beauty is too great to be deniable. She is not "divinely tall," but rather of medium height, with an oval face, and eyes of "heaven's own blue." She is clad in a snowy gown of simple cotton, that sits loosely to her lissom figure yet fails to disguise the beauty of it. A white kerchief lies softly on her neck. She has pulled up her sleeves, so that her arms are bare—her soft, round, naked arms that in themselves are a perfect picture. She is standing with her head well thrown back, and her hands—full of corn—lifted high in the air, as she cries aloud, "Cooee! Cooee!" in a clear, musical voice.

Presently her cry is answered. A thick cloud of pigeons—brown and white and bronze and gray—come wheeling into sight from behind the old house, and tumble down upon her in a reckless fashion. They perch upon her head, her shoulders, her white soft arms, even her hands, and one, more adventurous than the rest, has even tried to find a slippery resting-place upon her bosom.

"What greedy little things!" cries she aloud, with the merriest laugh in the world. "Sure, you can't eat more than enough, can you? an' do your best! Oh, Brownie," reproachfully, "what a selfish bird you are!"

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed and sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates and vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2 00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ⅓ regular prices.

Don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver a misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents

THE CRISIS IN MANITOBA.

The Harrison Government Will Resign To-day and Mr. Greenway Will be Sent for.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 15.—The Harrison Government will resign to-morrow and Mr. Greenway be sent for. He will undertake the task of forming a cabinet if guaranteed adjournment of the House for a month in order to form a new ministry secure of re-election. If not, probably he will decline the premiership. Parties in the House are pretty evenly divided, the Conservatives claiming sixteen to sixteen, with three Independents, and the Reformers eighteen to fifteen, with two Independents.

Greenway's cabinet will probably consist of himself as Premier; Jos. Martin, Attorney-General; Mayor Jones, Public Works; A. F. Martin, Provincial Secretary, although some members of the party are opposed to calling in outside assistance, Jones not being a member at present. Both sides agree there should be no coalition, although it is not improbable that Mr. Prendergast, a supporter of the Norquay Government, may be selected to represent the French element instead of A. F. Martin. A redistribution bill will be introduced, and if not passed, Mr. Greenway will ask for dissolution, which must be granted, but if passed no appeal will be made to the country for some time.

Mr. McCarter, Independent, will be introduced to the House to-morrow by Mr. Luxton, Reformer, and Mr. Drewery, Conservative, but it is estimated he will give the new Government a fair support. Several others who are not Reformers, while prepared to stand by the old Government, are not likely to give Greenway any opposition.

Mr. Norquay was unanimously elected leader of the Opposition and the Conservatives claim that with good party management they can defeat Greenway at the proper time and resume rule of the provinces.

A Spinners' Strike Probable.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 15.—The mill owners here have ignored the spinners' demand for an increase of wages. A strike will probably be ordered.

THE NEWS FROM EUROPE.

MR. PARNELL STATES HIS VIEWS TO A REPORTER.

Another Anti-Socialist Bill to be Submitted to the Reichstag—The German Budget—M. Tirard's Financial Scheme Rejected—Russia Will Not Disarm.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—In reply to Prince Lobanoff, the Russian ambassador to Vienna, who had spoken of the movements of the Russian troops, Count Kalnoky said that he had taken note thereof. Austria had peaceful intentions also, but the situation created by the advance of troops would be judged by military councils. It is curreutly reported that the second Caucasian army corps has received orders to proceed to the Austro-Roumanian frontier. Large reiuforcements of Hungarian troops will be sent by the Government to Transylvania. It is announced in The Warsaw Journal (semi-official) that eighty barracks will be built at Suvalki, Kalvaria and Maryampo, on the Russian frontier.

Advices from St. Petersburg to the Porte deny the rumors of an actual or intended disarmament in connection with the Bulgarian question. The military arrangements of Russia will not be subordinated to those of any other nation.

Several Italian staff officers are in Berlin, consulting with the German military authorities. Their mission is supposed to be in connection with Italy's undertaking to send 150,000 troops to Galicia in the event of war.

The financial scheme of M. Tirard, Prime Minister and Minister of Finance, has been virtually rejected by the Budget Committee of the French Chamber of Deputies. The committee also refused to agree to an immediate surtax on sugar, applicable to the stock now in the hands of the refiners. The tax should commence in September next, the beet season. M. Tirard made vain efforts to convince the committee that the 75,000,000 francs yearly pocketed by the refiners was the sole cause of the deficit in the budget.

In a late interview the Pope exhorted several Irish bishops and priests to use their influnce to restore quietness and respect for the law in Ireland, and told them that nothing could be gained by the Irish through violence.

In an interview granted to a reporter of The Freeman's Journal, Mr. Parnell said he believes it cannot be doubted that there are grave dissensions in the Cabinet, and that a crisis may occur at any moment next session over some English question. He advises the Parnellites and Radicals to facilitate Government business, so as to avoid the charge of obstruction. The Liberal-Unionists, he says, will certainly separate on English matters. The recent reductions of rent by the Land Commission are not half what the Irish tenants are entitled to, and the party should take such action as will oblige the sub-commissioners to reopen the whole question. In his opinion the Nationalists will gain three seats in Ulster at the next parliamentary election.

Ras Aloula and other Abyssinian chiefs have been summoned to a council at Adowah by King John, to arrange for a forward movement when the main body joins Ras Aloula's forces at Asmara.

The Reichstag will have to consider another anti-Socialist bill, calling for more stringent measures towards Socialists than those heretofore offered. Expatriation or total loss of citizenship is provided in certain cases. The reason for this excuse is that those who have been expelled resume their agitation in new places of abode and in places not previously affected by Socialist propaganda.

The charges that the municipal authorities of Paris had been found guilty of organizing a revolt during the late crisis were refuted by M. Sarrien, Minister of the Interior, in the French Chamber of Deputies to-day. The Minister intimated that he would promote a special bill installing the Prefect of the Seine in the Hotel de Ville, and would move urgency for the same. An order of the day implying confidence in the Government was carried by 265 to 178.

The German Minister of Finance submitted his estimates to-day for the fiscal year, 1888-89. The receipts and expenditures, which balance, are placed at 1,410,728,921 marks. The revenue is increased 121,693,708 marks against an increase in expenditure of 81,235,952 marks. The estimates of railway receipts show an improvement of 2,225,000 marks, and the taxes on brandy and sugar are expected to yield 71,000,000 marks. A new item of 20,000,000 marks is inserted in the estimates as a contribution to the requirements of communal schools. The Budget for 1886-87 showed a surplus of 16,000,000 marks, while the Budget for 1887-88 left an available surplus of 28,000,000 marks.

The steamer Mula at Tarragona reports that in lat. 40° north, long 9°, 45 mins west, on Jan. 3, she met an American-built bark, painted brown. The bark signalled that she was leaking, and asked assistance, which, owing to the state of the weather, the Mula was unable to render.

Professor Galbraith of Dublin has received a letter from Archbishop Knox, stating that membership in the National League is not compatible with his membership of the Finance Committee of the church. In reply the Professor says he joined the league to protest against the action of the British Government in Irish matters. If his resignation is publicly requested he will retire, but he will do so with sorrow and regret.

The freedom of the city has been conferred by the Dublin corporation upon Lord Ripon and John Morley. As Mr. O'Brien's health forbids him attending open air receptions the demonstration proposed to be held in his honor in London will be limited to a banquet. The doctors advised Mr. O'Brien to go to a warm climate.

Senor Purgoerver, Spanish Minister of Finance, announced in the Chamber of Deputies to-day that the Bank of Spain will convert the floating debt into a loan of $33,000,000 at a maximum rate of interest of 3 per cent. during five years.

The report is denied by the police that Mr. Fyne, M.P., has escaped from Lisfinny Castle, where he has defied the authorities for some time past.

M. Flourens, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, is trying to establish an entente between France, Russia and England.

The Portuguese Minister of Finance, Senor Cyrillo de Carvalho, presented the Budget in the Cortes to-day. The Minister anticipated a surplus of 1285 contos of reis, and is of opinion that no foreign loan or increase of taxation will be necessary. He recommends the adoption of an extraordinary Budget for 1888-89, to include 1160 contos for the colonies.

The Credit Lyonnais invites applications for 4 per cent. bonds of the Province of Quebec amounting to £722,000 sterling, repayable in 1928. The price of issue is placed at par.

THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.

Tenders for the Militia Supplies—Shipwrecked Mariners in Distress—The Exchequer Court.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—The Militia Department has awarded the contract for next year's supplies for the Canadian Militia. The total amount will be about $100,000. It is noticeable that not a single contract goes to Toronto.

The Marine department has received an appeal from two of the crew of the schooner Hattie F. Rich, shipwrecked at Souris, P.E.I., on Dec. 29, for assistance to enable them to reach their homes at Shelburne, as they are in a destitute condition. The captain, it appears, refused to afford the men any aid whatever, but the Marine Department has authorized the granting of an allowance to them.

The statement that April 15 has been fixed for voting on the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in Renfrew is incorrect. No date has been fixed. As stated in this correspondence some three weeks ago the three years since the coming into force of the act in Renfrew, Simcoe, Huron and several other counties where repeal has been applied for, does not expire until May 1, and consequently under the last order-in-council passed on the subject, polling on the repeal cannot take place earlier than two weeks before that date, but it does not follow that it must be on April 15, and, as a matter of fact, no dates have been fixed in any county where theact has not been in force the full three years.

In the Exchequer Court this morning the adjourned case of O'Brien v. The Queen, which is a claim in respect of the building of an examining warehouse in the City of Quebec, again came on for hearing. It was ordered that the documents which are before the arbitrators shall form part of the case, also that the petition in evocation and the petition that the claim avail as a petition of right be taken as the statement of claim in this case. The statement of defence was likewise ordered to be produced within forty days from this date.

ALL FOR THE PUBLIC WEAL

IS WHY BROKER COX OBJECTS TO AN OPEN EXAMINATION.

The Disappointed Throng That Filed out of the Master-in-Ordinary's Court Room—The Hearing Sent to a Special Examiner—An Interesting Argument.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.

A large and disappointed throng of spectators and reporters slowly filed out of the Master-in-Ordinary's court room in Osgoode Hall at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Why were they disappointed?

Because Broker E. S. Cox's examination in re Central Bank affairs did not take place.

Something startling was expected as the result of Mr. Cox being put through the examination process by Mr. W. A. Foster.

The Master took his seat at 2.30 and he looked at Mr. Foster and then towards Mr. Bain. Mr. Foster said he was ready to proceed with the examination of Mr. Cox.

This brought Mr. Bain to his feet at once. He said: "I must ask that the public be excluded from the courtroom while this examination is in progress. It is merely an examination, to secure information, and not a trial. An examination before the Master has been held to be of a private nature in England. The same ruling holds good in this case. The proposed examination was for the purpose of discovering something relating to the assets of the bank. It was not a suit to which Mr. Cox was a party, but simply an examination which Mr. Cox had a right to ask through counsel should be private. Otherwise it might act injuriously to the interests of Mr. Cox's business. He had this right according to the statute."

Mr. Bain read the statute and continued: "As a private examination all the facts could be elicited, but the public would not be present. Nothing was to be gained by a public examination, but indirectly injustice might be done to Mr. Cox. Their only object was to give information, and this might be done equally satisfactorily and in the interests of all concerned by a private examination."

Mr. Foster, counsel for the liquidators, said it was immaterial to him whether the examinations were public or private. It was a matter for the courts to decide. The witness had been summoned before a public court, and he saw no reason why the examination should be private. The court should not decide this without some evidence that it would be against Mr. Cox's interest to be publicly examined.

Mr. Bain said it was not usual to have affidavits in such a case, but to accept statements of counsel as to matters of fact. At the same time he was prepared to put in an affidavit by Mr. Cox in support of the contention that the examination should be private on the ground that it might injure his private business. He was willing to give full and free information.

Mr. Foster wished to know how Mr. Cox's business could be in any way injured through these proceedings being public. A mere statement of the fact was manifestly insufficient.

Mr. Bain said an affidavit would be sufficient. What motive was there for the public being present?

The Master: "I have no right, without some good grounds, to exclude the public from this examination. This is my opinion, but I will adjourn the court for a short time to confer with some of the learned judges before giving a definitive decision. If I think it right to exclude the public or otherwise, there would be the right of appeal."

The Master then left the court for conference, and on his return said that his opinion and those with whom he had conferred was that his was a public court, and he had no authority, except in certain cases, to exclude the public. Both of the judges with whom he had conferred had had considerable experience in such cases, and they agreed that the only precedents for excluding the public from court rooms were: 1. Where the parties in attendance were unruly or verged on contempt of court; 2. Where it was in the interests of the public morality that the evidence should not be disclosed. Neither of those objections was advanced in the present case.

Mr. Bain said he considered the order made exceedingly vexatious to his client, and he consequently would put in his affidavit to that effect.

Mr. Foster: "I call for the examination of Mr. Cox."

Mr. Bain: "I have the right to appeal. To proceed with the examination now would simply be to deprive me of my right of appeal."

Mr. Foster: "I would rather have the examination go on in private than defer the examination."

The Master said that the only way the examination could be privately conducted was by a reference to one of the special examiners. In that case none of the rules of his court would apply to the examination. He was sitting there as a presiding officer of a public court and in a public court room, and he knew of no authority that he possessed to exclude the public other than the grounds he had named.

Mr. Foster then suggested that they go to the Master's private office or to the Central Bank building. In the latter case he would guarantee that the public would be excluded. He was decidedly opposed to any delay; so were the liquidators.

The Master said he was in favor of expediting the matter. Sometimes slow justice was injustice. He suggested Tuesday next for the examination, which would give Mr. Bain an opportunity of appealing against his (the Master's) decision that the examination should be public.

Mr. Foster thought this adjournment an unusually large one.

Mr. Bain said he could not possibly go on with his appeal before the regular day, which would be next Monday.

The Master: "I am desirous to accord a full measure of fairness to both sides. I will enlarge the hearing until Jan. 24 at 2 p.m."

Mr. Foster said: "I cannot acquiesce in this decision, and sooner than delay Mr. Cox's examination for a week I will consent to a special examiner hearing the case. This I very much regret, as you, sir, have heard all the proceedings so far, and are quite familiar with the case. We will accept the reference in preference to delay."

The Master: "Very well."

The counsel in the case and the liquidators then adjourned to the Master's private office, and after talking over the matter the name of Mr. George M. Evans was decided upon as the examiner.

Mr. Evans will be asked to appoint an hour for the hearing this afternoon.

This is evidently a exemplification of Bill Vanderbilt's answer to the New York reporter: "The public be damned."

MEREDITH V. TAYLOR.

Justice Galt Gives a Heavy Judgment Against the London Financier.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—At the Assizes to-day Chief Justice Galt (without a jury) heard the civil case of R. M. Meredith v. Henry Taylor, to recover $15,337 which plaintiff claims Taylor agreed to pay him for 315 shares of Ontario Investment stock. It was on the capias in this action that Taylor was incarcerated on Sep. 2. Plaintiff produced the agreement in the case, which bore the signature of Taylor and himself. Plaintiff had purchased the stock in Toronto in 1882, on the representation of Taylor that the Ontario Investment Association was a sound concern. Plaintiff supposed that the shares were owned by Toronto parties but found out they had in reality been "palmed off" on him by Taylor. The first agreement set out the actual consideration of the sale, but Taylor had objected to this for fear it might give others a clue and involve more claims, so it was changed to read that Taylor agreed to buy this stock back "for $1 and divers other considerations." Plaintiff stated that he only sued for the par value of the stock, though he paid 133 for it. Henry Taylor was called in defence, and denied having anything to do with the transfer of the stock to plaintiff, that Meredith had called on him several times in regard to rumors about members of the board and wanted to see the association's books, which he (Taylor) refused to show. Subsequently he got a letter from plaintiff which he considered in the nature of a threat; he (Taylor) offered to take the stock back at par, plaintiff wanted 33 premium, though the stock was then selling at 8 to 85. Meredith took till next day to consider, and then presented a memorandum to the effect that in consideration of not taking criminal proceedings against witness he (Taylor) agreed to buy the shares. Witness refused to sign this, and suggested it should read "in consideration of $1." In this form the agreement was signed. He (witness) had nothing to do with selling Meredith the stock; he only agreed to take it back on account of Meredith's threats of criminal proceedings. The books were produced which showed that the stock sold to Meredith was Taylor's and was not held in trust. To Mr. Osler Taylor stated his only reason for fearing prosecution was the injury it would do the companies with which he was connected.

Justice Galt gave judgment in favor of plaintiff, with costs, saying: "I find the defendant himself proposed to the plaintiff to give him the bond, and that if he was apprehensive of personal criminal proceedings it was not through plaintiff's threats."

POLICE STATISTICS.

The Annual Report of the Work Done by the Guardians of the Peace.

The following report was presented at the Council meeting last night:—

To the Mayor and Town Council:

GENTLEMEN,—I herewith beg to submit a report of the cases tried at the Police Court during the year 1887.

The total number was 468, as compared with 357 in 1886, showing an increase of 111 cases, mainly made by an increase of 72 in the number of Scott Act cases. It must be remembered also that last year a large number of County Scott Act cases were tried at the Police Court, while this year the number of such has been very small, owing to the appointment early in the year of a County Police Magistrate in the person of Mr. Geo. Edmiston. Although the main part of the work in connection with these cases was done by County officers, they go to swell the total.

The statement on the whole I consider a most satisfactory one, showing as it does that our large and rapidly growing town is almost entirely free from crime of a serious nature.

During the year the number of tramps who applied for shelter was below that of any other year since a record has been kept.

The cash receipts far exceed those of any other year, on account of the many and heavy fines imposed in Scott Act cases. In some instances considerable difficulty has been experienced in collecting these penalties and six persons were committed to gaol in default of payment. Three of these afterwards paid their fines in gaol and three served periods of two months each. Several others left this section to avoid payment and are still away.

As the town grows larger complaints regarding the by-law governing cabmen increase. The police are appealed to very frequently by strangers who desire to know how much per hour the drivers can charge for the use of their vehicles. As there is no by-law regulating the amount we are unable to tell them, and each driver charges as he likes. I would suggest that the by-law be amended by adding to it a proper schedule. On the other hand the cabmen are without proper protection and if a fare refuses to pay, they have no speedy way of recovering their money. This matter also requires attention.

Regarding the stand at present used by the carters, complaints have rather increased than decreased, and now that the new Post Office is about to be occupied, some other place must be found. The schedule of rates changeable by carters also needs revision, as each man now apparently has a different tariff.

It will be noticed that while the work has largely increased it has been done by three men, instead of five as in 1886. In addition to police duties, a large amount of work has been done on the market, as building inspectors and last but not by any means least, as Sanitary Inspectors.

Appended is a list of the cases disposed of at the Police Court, compared with the year 1886.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. H. ADAMS,
Acting Chief Constable.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

REPORT OF ENGINEERS ON THE COST OF CONSTRUCTION.

Mr. Rubidge's Detailed Estimates Supplemented by Figures by Mr. Page—A Comparison of Distances.

In his report to the government on the Trent Valley Canal, dated Nov. 15th, 1867, Mr. Tom S. Rubidge, the engineer says:—

"In the first place I beg to report that the distance between Trenton, at the mouth of the River Trent (a point 73 miles from Kingston by the Bay of Quinte route), and Wa..beshene, on Matchedash Bay, is 197 miles following the main line of navigation as finally located, and that the total lockage required, in ascending and descending to and from the summit is 859.5 feet.

"That of this distance 109 miles are already a good natural navigation, requiring but little improvement, and that it is quite practicable to improve the remaining 88 miles so as to convert the whole distance into a navigable channel for river tugs and barges.

"Secondly, the limit of the scale of navigation which can be attained, and which I would commend as the best adapted to the capabilities of this route, is calculated for barges of not exceeding 250 tons, i.e. for locks 134 feet long by 33 feet wide by 5 feet depth on the mitre sills. Prism of canal 50 feet wide on bottom and six feet in depth.

"Thirdly, a close estimate of the cost of construction, the details of which will appear hereafter, exclusive of land damages and claims for riprarian rights, the completion of existing isolated works, with the partially improved intermediate reaches, including also all recently constructed works under the head of Trent Navigation, none of which I have the means of ascertaining, will not exceed the sum of $8,684,650.

"The above estimate is exclusive of—1. The works recently constructed under the head of Trent Navigation.

"TOM. S. RUBIDGE.
"Engineer in charge."

Mr. Rubidge also reports that the quality of the various structures is proposed to be similar to the standard of the St. Lawrence canals, and they are designed to be as substantial as possible and fully equal to the class of work described in the specifications for the Trent navigation. In arranging the locks it has not been necessary to place more than two in communication. Materials required in consteuction are found abundantly in all parts of the route. There are no points where greater difficulties occur than have been successfully overcome in the execution of the new works on the Back Lakes division. The locks are intended to be built of limestone, laid in hydraulic cement, with bouchareed face cut to quarter inch joints. The rock foundation is generally assumed to be sound, but a light timber foundation, laid in concrete, is provided for in the recesses. The bridge masonry generally is intended to be of similar character to that of the locks. The cost of the execution of the work will much depend on the nature of rock found on the route (which so far as ascertained is limestone), its hardness in excavating and its suitableness for purposes of construction.

Mr. Rubidge also refers to excessive claims for damages by owners of alleged riprarian rights, and says that throughout this chain of waters the inhabitants, for whose benefit the improvements were designed, now complain of the injury they have caused and seek redress therefor. It appears to him that it should readily be conceded that the bed and waters of the rivers and intermediate lakes traversed by the main line are public property and belong to the state, and that therefore private persons have no right to encroach upon them. He, therefore, urges a thorough investigation of the whole subject of riparian rights be made in order that the ultimate position of the Government may be defined.

The following statement of the mileage, locks and lockage required are given;—

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO, Jan. 16.

Business picked up a little on the local stock market to-day. Montreal was placed at 216 and 214½ to-d..y, as against 213 and 212½ yesterday. Ontario was quoted at 113 and 110 to-day, as against 112 and 110 yesterday. Toronto was rated at 192½ and 187, while yesterday the quotation was 192 and 185. Federal stock took a stride with a sale for 15 shares at 85; the quotations to-day were 87 and 84½ as against 73 and 68½ yesterday.

Monday was especially blue about St. Lawrence Market to-day. What produce there was offered brought good prices, but the quantities were small. Potatoes that sold readily on Saturday at $1.20 were bought this morning for $1.05. Meats remained unchanged. Barley was wanted at 74c and 75c, but no sale was made lower than 76c. Lard dropped from 12c to 10c. One sale of 300 bushels of barley was made at 77½c, 200 bushels of fall wheat went at 83c to 84c, one load of oats was sold at 50c.

We quote the following prices: Beef, hindquarters, per lb, 5c to 11c; beef, forequarters, per lb, 3c to 7c; mutton, per carcase, 6c to 10c; lamb, per carcase, 7½c to 8½c; veal, 6c to 9c; pork, $6.90 to $7.10; chickens, per pair, 40c to 55c; ducks, per pair, 80c to $1; geese, per lb, 8c to 9c; turkeys, per lb, 8½c to 10½c; wheat, fall, per bush, 83c to 84c; wheat, spring, per bush, 78c to 83c; wheat, goose, per bush, 73c to 74c; barley, 76c to 81c; oats, per bush, 50c to 51c; peas, 66c to 68c; timothy, $11 to $15; clover, $11 to $13; straw, $11; butter, pound rolls, 24c to 25c; butter, tub, 20c to 22c; cheese, per lb, 12c to 13c.

The Carnival.

Yes, how about the carnival. We are going to have a carnival, doncher know. We must gyrate o'er the slippery, to the rythmic cadence of sweet music. Of course we must. Certainly. And how does Friday evening, the 27th, strike you. That will give time to look up costumes and borrow the necessary trappings. The Canton expects us all there. They have prepared a superior list of prizes, and are bound to make it a grand affair. Don't forget the date, the, 27th.

Crossfiring.

A woman entered the Police Station at an early hour this morning and complained to the officers on duty that her husband had kicked over the stove and done other damage. The husband soon filed an appearance also and entered a cross complaint against his wife. Then was seen the whole cause of the trouble. The woman's tongue was apparently wound up for twenty four hours or more and she poured out such a torrent of abuse on her spouse that the officers could not stand it any longer and informed the virago that she must either cease her talk or pass the night in a cell.

The Alleged Burglars.

Contrary to expectation Officer Adams did not go up to Toronto last night to bring down the three men arrested there on Saturday night, on suspicion of being the persons who attempted to burglarize the safe of the Dickson Company. The Toronto authorities sent down a minute description of the men and after it had been shown to the persons who saw the men here, it was decided to let the suspects go, as no person could identify any of them. If the men had been brought here they would have been discharged at once as no evidence whatever as to their identity would be forthcoming.

A Bid for the Provincial Convention.

The regular session of the W. C. T. U. was held in their Hall on Monday, Jan. 16th, at 4 p.m. The President, Mrs. Rutherford, being ill, the ex-President took charge of the meeting. Twenty minutes was profitably spent in devotional exercises. After some discussion it was decided to invite the Provincial Convention to meet in Peterborough next October. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:—"We the members of the W. C. T. U. respectfully pray that 'Scientific Temperance Instruction' be placed on the programme of studies in our Public Schools in the Town and County of Peterborough as prescribed by the Department of Education, and that the Inspectors insist that a copy of the Temperance text-book be in the hands of all children from the second form up" The Secretary is advised to forward a copy of this resolution to each of the inspectors.

INCENDIARISM AT LINDSAY.

Attempted Burning of Residence and Store—The Coal Oil Fiend at Work.

On Tuesday morning the people of Lindsay were startled to learn that during the night previous a dastardly attempt had been made to set fire to and destroy the residence of Mr. Wm. Flavelle, and to fire the store of Dundas & Flavelle Bros., and in which business Mr. Flavelle is a partner.

Mr. Flavelle lives in Cambridge street. The house is a handsome one with large roomy verandah. A look at the place on Tuesday morning showed that coal oil had been liberally poured over the floor of the verandah and against the sides of a storm porch. Fortunately before the fire had made serious headway it was seen by the people in the house adjoining and an alarm was given. By throwing on snow and water the flames were put out. The porch was destroyed and a part of the wood-work of the verandah.

The store fronts on Kent street with a side entrance on York street. The step of the door and wood work about it were saturated with coal oil and a quantity poured under the doot on the floor inside. The flames attracted notice and the fire was put out before much damage was done.

Mr. Flavelle has always been an active worker in the temperance cause, and was for some time the Secretary of the County Scott Association.

Feasted by His Worship.

After the adjournment of the Town Council last evening, upon invitation of His Worship, Mayor Stevenson, the members repaired to the Hub Restaurant, to partake of the hospitality of the presiding officer of the council. His Worship presided and those present were Councillors Cahill, Davidson, Winch, Kelly, McNeil, Hall, Douglas, Moore, Kendry, Hartley and Langford, Street Inspector Pope, Market Clerk Doherty, Jas. G. Macdonald and C. H. Allison. Mine Host had prepared a feast fit for aldermen and as may be imagined full justice was done to the excellent spread. After the edibles had disappeared Councillor Cahill as the oldest member of the board proposed the health of Mayor Stevenson, and in doing so he took occasion to refer in highly complimentary terms to the many services His Worship had rendered to the town, not only as Mayor, but in many other capacities. In reply Mr. Stevenson returned thanks for the many kind wishes. During his remarks he took occasion to state that he would retire from office as Mayor at the end of the present term and would not again seek election. However, if the people desired it, he would represent No. 2 Ward as a councillor, and in that capacity he would always endeavor to advance the best interests of the town, where all he has is and where he has passed the best time of his life and where he expects to die. He proposed at some future time to something for the people of the town, but just what it was the future only would bring forth. Each of the gentlemen around the board made short speeches all full of praise for the Mayor, on account of his many generous acts and his disinterested actions in promoting the welfare of the town. The gathering broke up shortly before midnight after spending a pleasant evening.

R. S. DAVIDSON,
Chairman.

Peterborough, Jan. 16th, 1888.

The report as above was adopted, after the original had been slightly amended.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

Moved by Councillor HARTLEY, seconded by Councillor KENDRY,—That Messrs. D. W. Dumble and Robt. Weir, be re-appointed High School Trustees for the coming term.—Carried.

NOT YET.

Moved by Councillor KELLY, seconded by Councillor HALL,—That Messrs. McGrath and Aldridge be appointed assessors for 1888, and that the Town Solicitor prepare a by-law in accordance with this resolution—Referred to Committee on Appointments.

LOOKING AFTER $700.

Moved by Councillor CAHILL, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That the sum of $700, in the hands of the Town Trust Commissioners, the proceeds of the sale of a lot in Number One Ward, be demanded from the Commissioners and paid over to the Town Treasurer, and that it be appropriated for building a bridge on Townsend street, across Spaulding's Bay, and that the Street and Bridge Committee have control of the expenditure of the money and report to the Council.—Received and referred to the Street and Bridge Committee to give an estimate of the probable cost.

Considerable crossfiring took place over the motion, and a motion to appropriate the money for the general uses of the town, was, after some discussion, withdrawn. Nearly every member of the council had something to say and Spaulding Bay came in frequently and after the original motion had been hedged around as it is given above it was allowed to pass unanimously. Coun. Hartley suggested that a floating bridge would be the proper thing amid much laughter, while Coun. Moore was perfectly willing to vote the $700 provided no more was asked.

SEWERAGE.

Moved by Councillor MCNEIL, seconded by Councillor HALL,—That a special committee consisting of Councillors Moore, Kelly, Winch, Davidson and the mover and seconder be appointed to take into consideration the question of sewerage, to obtain information as to the best system to be adopted to meet the requirements of this town and report to this council.—Carried.

Councillor MCNEIL in speaking to the motion said that the time had now arrived when the people must face the matter of providing proper sewerage. He did not look for anything tangible for a few years, but in the meantime the question could be fully considered and data secured upon which to work. Information regarding the best systems might be obtained, and if necessary, prizes might be offered for the best plans.

Councillor MOORE thought this a most important question and one that should be taken up at once. He had been spoken to by a large number of ratepayers, not only from the centre of the town, but also from the outskirts, and he had been surprised at the unanimity that prevailed as to the necessity of of a proper system of sewerage.

Councillor DOUGLAS thought that the best plan to adopt was to employ a competent engineer, even if it did cost a few hundred dollars, and let him make a report as to the probable cost.

Councillor CAHILL said he had not met any of the gentlemen who were crying for sewers and who had called on Councillor Moore. He estimated the cost of sewers at from $150,000 to $200,000. He thought the centre of the town would derive the greatest benefit and he advocated the adoption of the frontage tax system, so that those who got the benefit should pay for it. If the large amount spoken of was expended, the people would be hunted out of town by high taxes. A few weeks ago the members of the Council were before the ratepayers and all professed the greatest economy and now they brought forth the most gigantic schemes. He thought that matters on the surface should be dealt with first, for instance Spaulding's Bay should be attended to.

Councillor KELLY said that a difference of opinion prevailed in this matter and he was glad to see that the people were waking up. Two or three years ago he moved a motion similar to the one now before the council, but nothing further had come of it. Now, however, he was satisfied that Councillor McNeil would keep the matter before the council and the people. An epidemic might start here at any time and cost the town many lives and a large amount of money. He thought that sewers are as much required here as in Toronto or elsewhere. The outlet should not be at Spaulding's Bay, but away down the river, below the locks. Sewers must come some time and the sooner the better.

Mayor STEVENSON said that some three years ago he had consulted Mr. Lumsden, an engineer of the C. P. R., on this matter, and that gentleman had made an estimate of the probable cost of a system of sewerage for the town. The figures were so large that they frightened him and he had kept the matter to himself. The estimated cost, covering the main portion of the town, with an outlet below the locks, was $150,000. He hesitated while a heavy debt was hanging over us, but in 1891 the municipal loan fund indebtedness would be paid off and then the question might be taken up in earnest.

Councillor YELLAND said it would cost a lot of money and the ratepayers might not now be willing to incur the expense. No doubt something was radically wrong in the centre of the town, but he thought that if one-tenth of the probable yearly cost of sewers, was expended by the George street merchants and others in cleaning out their back yards and premises, our town would be a great deal more healthy than it is.

Councillor MCNEIL said the motion was not regarding the probable cost, but simply provided for a committee to obtain the fullest possible information regarding the cost of a proper system of sewerage and submit the information thus obtained to the Council, who might in turn submit it to a public meeting for the information of the ratepayers. He did not expect that the work would be done in one, two, or even three years, but in the meantime statistics could be procured and a proper commencement made.

TOO MUCH DOG.

Councillor MOORE said he had seen Mr. Hope, London street, who was too ill to attend the council and who had requested him to state that hundreds of dogs were in the habit of congregating in his neighborhood and making such a noise that sleep was almost impossible. Very few, if any of the dogs wore tags and Mr. Hope wanted the Mayor to try and induce the constables to enforce the dog by-law.

His WORSHIP said he would do the best he could do, but he had not much hope of success.

CHARITY WOOD.

Moved by Councillor HALL, seconded by Councillor KELLY—That the clerk advertise for tenders for 100 cords of mixed wood for charity purposes.—Carried.

SUPPLIES.

Moved by Councillor CAHILL, seconded by Councillor MCNEIL,—That the Street and Bridge Committee advertise for supplies for the current year.—Carried.

A BUILDING INSPECTOR.

Moved by Councillor MCNEIL, seconded by Councillor HALL—That the Clerk prepare a by-law to appoint a Building Inspector, and that Robt. Pope act in that capacity in the meantime.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned for two weeks.

POLICE COURT NEWS.

Cases Disposed of at This Morning's Sitting by the P. M.

The Police Magistrate had a somewhat varied calendar to dispose of this morning, and the room was well filled with idlers.

DRUNK.

Wm. Anderson, Mulatto, who was liberated from gaol on Monday afternoon after serving a three months' term for larceny, got drunk and walked into the Police Station, where he laid down and went to sleep in one of the cells. Officer Adams came along and locked him up. He was charged with being drunk and was sent to gaol for twenty days in default of paying a $3 fine.

LARCENY.

John Anderson, a boy of about 15 years of age, was arrested on Monday night by Officer McGinty, on a charge of stealing $3 from Alex. Cope. The parties live in the same house and it was alleged that the prisoner helped himself to Cope's change. As the Magistrate was under the impression that the prisoner was half-witted, the case was enlarged for a week, to make further inquiries.

A SCOTT ACT CASE.

P. J. Donohoe, who kept a barber shop on Simcoe street, was charged with a breach of the Scott Act, by Inspector Cochrane. The defendant did not answer to his name and Officer Adams proved service of a summons and subpœna and said that the defendant had moved his his goods away on Saturday night and could not be found. A witness named Con. Ryan was sworn and proved the purchase of both whiskey and beer on the premises. The usual penalty of $50 and costs was imposed.

VAGRANCY.

A young girl named Annie Irvine or Trotter, aged about 15 years, was charged by Officer Adams with vagrancy. The girls grandmother was in the Court and said that Annie was lazy and would not work and was too fond of gadding the streets until all hours. The magistrate gave her a lecture and committed her to gaol for a period of two months and requested the grandmother to try and secure a place for her before her term expired.

Another Warning.

Shortly after the noon hour to day a boy named Draper or Raper, aged about five years, had a narrow escape from serious injury, if not death. The youngster attempted to get on a passing wood sleigh, on George street, near Edinburgh. He was about the centre of the sleigh, when one of his feet was caught by the hind bob. His moccasin and stocking were torn off, but fortunately the lad escaped without serious injury. The practice of "hanging on" sleighs is altogether too pervalent in Peterborough and parents should see that their children do not persist in the pernicious practice or fatal accidents are sure to follow.

While correspondents will be allowed space to discuss questions of public interest, the Review does not hold itself responsible for the opinions expressed.

Not Answered.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—The question I have twice asked Mr. Burnham is still unanswered. Now, if Mr. Burnham refers to me he should be honest and say so. If he believes his statement to be correct he should have no difficulty in answering the question, and if he don't choose to do so, then, in justice to myself, I shall consider that I am at liberty to lay before the public a statement detailing the proceedings with reference to the water during the winter of 1886-8 from which any intelligent, thinking man can judge for himself whether Mr. Burnham's statement is or is not correct.

Yours respectfully,

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

POLITICS IN MANITOBA.

MR. T. GREENWAY FORMALLY INSTALLED AS PREMIER.

The New Cabinet—Parliament House Again Crowded—The New Members Introduced—The House Adjourned Until Thursday.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 16.—The Government formally resigned at 11 o'clock to-day. His Honor Governor Aikens immediately sent for Mr. Thos. Greenway, leader of the Opposition, who repaired to the Government House and was called upon to take hold of the reins of government.

There was a large crowd in attendance at the reassembling of the Legislature. Owing to the absence of Mr. Greenway at Government House the House did not meet until 3.45.

Hon. Mr. Hamilton introduced an act to amend the Election Act of 1886.

Mr. MacArthur, member-elect, Assiniboia, was introduced by Messrs. Luxton and Drewry, and took his seat on the Ministerial side of the House. This caused considerable laughter, but the Liberals shouted out that it had been done only to save time. Mr. Frances, member-elect for St. Francois Xavier, was introduced by Martin and Greenway, and took his seat for the time on the same side as Mr. McArthur amid great applause.

From good authority it is learned that the Greenway Cabinet, which will be announced to the Legislature on Thursday, will be composed about as follows: Thomas Greenway (Mountain), President of the Council and Provincial Treasurer; Mayor L. M. Jones, Provincial Secretary; Joseph Martin (Portage la Prairie), Attorney-General; James A. Smart (East Brandon), Minister of Public Works; J. A. Prendergast (La Verandrye), Minister of Agriculture. The Liberals have not committed themselves to a reduction of the number of Cabinet Ministers, and think it is necessary the Cabinet should retain five members. All the abovementioned who are at present in the Legislature are certain of re-election. Several rural constituencies have been placed at the disposal of Mayor Jones. The Legislature will adjourn for four weeks on Thursday to allow the new Ministers to appeal to their constituents.

RUTLEDGE WILFULLY MURDERED,

So Says a Coroner's Jury at the Central Prison Yesterday.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Central Prison Coroner Johnson opened an inquest on the body of the Central Prison guard John Rutledge, who was fatally stabbed by Convict Robert Neil, alias Thompson, alias "Scotty," on Friday morning. Mrs. Griffin of New York, the deceased's sister, was present, and so was Neil. Police Court Clerk Meyerfey produced this copy of Rutledge's ante mortem statement, made before Hugh Miller, J.P., on Friday:

"About 8.20 o'clock this morning I carried a bucket to cell 230, occupied by Neil, in the first gallery on the east side of the south wing. I put the bucket down outside the door, and then opened the door so that he could take it in. He walked out and bent down as if to grasp the handle, but suddenly raised himself again and grabbed me. I felt the knife cutting me. Neil swore as he plunged the knife into me. I turned to run down the stairs, and looked behind as I ran. I saw Neil following, also rushing. I shouted, when he wheeled around and went back to his cell. Neil and I never had any cross words nor differences in any way. I can give no reason why he stabbed me. I did not see the knife. I walked to the Warden's office, holding my hands over the wound. After reporting the attack to Mr. Massie I swooned. I believe that I am in a dangerous condition."

Deputy Warden Logan, several of the guards, and some prisoners who had worked with Neil in the broom shop, testified to his bad temper and habits and to attempts he had made to assault other guards.

Drs. Aikins, McCulloch and Woods, who had been in attendance upon Rutledge and who had made the post mortem examination, gave evidence to the effect that death had been caused by inflammation of the bowels, brought on by a knife wound.

It was a foregone conclusion that the jury would return a verdict of wilful murder on the part of Neil, which they did without much delay. The coroner committed Neil for trial and the convict is still confined in the prison. Rutledge's body will be taken to

MONA SCULLY;

—OR—

The Bride of an Englishman.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

Geoffrey comes forward quietly, and lifts his hat to her with all the air of a man who is doing homage to a princess. It has occurred to him that perhaps this peerless being in the cotton gown will feel some natural chagrin on being discovered by one of the opposite sex with her sleeves tucked up. But in this instance his knowledge of human nature receives a severe shock.

Far from being disconcerted, this farm-yard goddess is not even ashamed (as indeed how could she be?) of her naked arms, and, coming up to him, rests them upon the upper rung of the entrance gate and surveys him calmly, if kindly.

"What can I do for you?" she asks, gently.

"I think," says Geoffrey, slightly disconcerted by the sweet leisure of her gaze, "I have lost my way. I have been walking since sunrise, and I want you to tell me where I am."

"You are at Mangle Farm," returns she. "That doesn't seem to help you much, does it?"

"I confess it doesn't help me at all," he says. "Mangle Farm, I am sure, is the most attractive spot on earth, but it tells me nothing about latitude and longitude. Give me some further help."

"Then tell me where you come from, and perhaps I may be able." She speaks softly, but quickly, as do all the Irish, and with a brogue musical but unmistakable.

"I am staying at a shooting-lodge called Coolnagurtheen. Do you know where that is?"

"Oh, of course," returns she, with a sudden accession of animation. "I have often seen it. That is where the young English gentleman is staying for the shooting."

"Quite right. And I am the young English gentleman," says Geoffrey, lifting his hat again by way of introduction.

"Indeed, are you?" asks she, raising her pretty brows. "I might have guessed it," she says, after a minute's survey of the tall gray-coated young man before her. "You are not like the others down here."

"Am I not?" says he, humbly. "Tell me my fault."

"I will—when I find it," returns she, with an irrepressible glance, full of native but innocent coquetry, from her beautiful eyes.

At this moment one of the pigeons—a small, pretty thing, bronze-tinged—flies to her, and, resting on her shoulder, makes a tender cooing sound, and picks at her cheek reproachfully, as though imploring more corn.

"Would you bite me?" murmurs she, fondly, as the bird flies off again alarmed at the presence of the tall stranger. "Every morning they torment me like this," she says, turning to Geoffrey, with a little pleasant, confidential nod.

"He looked as if he wanted to eat you; and I'm sure I don't wonder at it," says Geoffrey, making the addition to his speech in a lower key.

"And have you walked from Coolnagurtheen this morning? Why, it is eight miles from this," says she, taking no notice of his last speech. "You could have had no breakfast."

"Not yet; but I suppose there must be a village near here, and an inn, and I want you to direct me how to get to it. I am giving you a great deal of trouble," remorsefully, "but my boy knows nothing."

"The village is two miles farther on. I think you had better come in and breakfast here. Uncle will be very glad to see you," she says, hospitably. "And you must be tired."

He hesitates. He is tired, and hungry, too; there is no denying it. Even as he hesitates, a girl coming out to the door-steps puts her hand over her eyes, and shouts pleasantly from afar to her mistress:

"Miss Mona, come in; the tay will be cold, an' the rashers all spoiled, an' the masther's callin' for ye."

"Come, hurry," says Mona, turning to Geoffrey, with a light laugh that seems to spring from her very heart. "Would you have the 'tay' get cold while you are making up your mind? I at least must go."

"Then, thank you, and I shall go with you, if you will allow me," says Geoffrey, hurriedly, as he sees her disappearing.

"Tell your boy to go to the kitchen," says Mona, thoughtfully, and, Paddy being disposed of, she and Geoffrey go on to the house.

"I have no card; but my name is Geoffrey Rodney," says the young man, turning to his companion.

"And mine is Mona Scully," returns she, with the smile that seems part of her lips, and which already has engraven itself on Mr. Rodney's heart. "Now, I suppose, we know each other." They walk up two steps, and enter a small hall, and then he follows her into a room opening off it, in which breakfast lies prepared.

An old man, rugged but kindly-featured, rises on his entrance, and gazes at him expectantly. Mona, going up to him, rests her hand upon his arm, and, indicating Geoffrey by a gesture, says, in a low tone:

"He has lost his way. He is tired, and I have asked him in to have some breakfast. He is the English gentleman who is living at Coolnagurtheen."

"You're kindly welcome, sir," says the old man, bowing with the slow and heavy movement that belongs to the aged. There is dignity and warmth, however, in the salute, and Geoffrey accepts with pleasure the toil-worn hand his host presents to him a moment later. The breakfast is good, and, though composed of only country fare, is delicious to the young man, who has been walking since dawn, and whose appetite just now would have astonished those dwelling in crowded towns and living only on their excitements.

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed and sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates and vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amused. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3 75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

w don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPAR'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver a misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents

Roman Catholics in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Jan. 16.—Le Courrier du Canada gives the following statistics with regard to the Roman Catholic Church in this province. There are 1,485,000 Roman Catholics, directed by 1 cardinal, 2 archbishops, 1 apostolic prefect and 1546 priests and religieux. They have 957 churches, 28 seminaries and colleges, 232 convents and 69 hospitals. The different ecclesiastical provinces into which the province is divided are peopled as follows by Catholics: Quebec, 729,000; Montreal, 619,000; Ottawa, 137,000. In the Diocese of Quebec there are 666 priests, 411 churches and 108 convents, 10 seminaries and colleges, 25 hospitals and 1927 schools.

Coasting Accidents at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Jan. 16.—There were a number of coasting accidents here last week. Miss McLeod of Duke-street had her collar bone broken at one of the toboggan slides on Friday evening. Maggie Semmens, daughter of Thomas Semmens, had her right leg broken while coasting. Nelson Gain, the 6-year-old son of Thomas Gain, had his thigh broken while coasting on Saturday. The 13-year-old son of James McCleary, freight agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, had his leg very badly fractured while coasting on Saturday afternoon. John Glassco fractured his hand while coasting on Saturday.

Not in the Milk Business.

PETERBORO, Jan. 16.—An odd occurrence took place here a few days ago. Mr. John J. Hall, Inland Revenue Inspector, received instructions to get several specimens of milk for testing for use in a Government report. In order to get a full complement of specimens he dropped into Councillor Yelland's residence, a few doors from his office, and asked for a pint of milk. Thinking that he wanted it to drink, the milk was handed to him. But it was skimmed milk. It now comes out in the report that Mr. Yelland sells poor milk, and orders have been issued that he shall be prosecuted. Councillor Yelland is highly indignant that he should be charged with having sold milk, far less skimmed milk.

VACANT CONSTITUENCIES.

EIGHT EMPTY SEATS IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mischievous and False Statements Denied—The Ocean Mail Matter Undecided as Yet—Award of Contracts for Public Buildings.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—Mischievous and interested parties continue to spread the false information that trouble is being caused by Canadian Customs officers refusing to allow Manitoba grain sent through the States a free entry into Canada. The Minister of Customs has received considerable correspondence on the subject, owing to the publication of erroneous statements in the press, and it may be of interest to give the views of Assistant Commissioner Parmalee on the subject. He says:

"There is of course no truth in the statement, but just so long as it suits the interests of certain parties to keep the falsehood rolling, so long will they do so, notwithstanding the unqualified contradictions that have been published. The Northern Pacific Railway and its connections are treated in precisely the same way as any other road, and cars shipped in transit from Canada over it are served just as any other of their kind."

It is understood that the report of the Minister of Marine will contain the results of tidal observations on the Atlantic coast conducted last season by Commander Gordon. The observations were taken upon the representations of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

There are now eight constituencies unrepresented in the House of Commons: Queen's, N.B.; Carleton, Ont.; Victoria, B.C.; Kent, Prince Edward, Russell, Halton and Glengarry. The first three were represented last session by Conservatives, all of whom have resigned. The last five were represented by Liberals, all of whom have been unseated on account of corrupt practices.

Writs have been issued for new elections for the first three, and writs will probably be issued for all the others so that the elections may be held before the meeting of Parliament, except, perhaps, Glengarry, if Mr. Purcell carries out the intention attributed to him of appealing to the Supreme Court against the decision unseating and disqualifying him, on the ground that the case was not tried within the six months prescribed by the act.

The announcement is made of the death of Earl Cavan, father of the Hon. Octavius Lothbert of the Department of the Interior. The new peer, Lord Kilcoursie, who is member of Parliament for South Somerset, has ever since he sat in the House of Commons been a warm supporter of Mr. Gladstone.

Seven of the crew of the schooner Volant, wrecked at Souris, P.E.I., who were reported to be in a destitute condition, have been assisted by the Marine Department to reach their homes in Newfoundland. The Volant was registered at Montreal.

The ocean mail contract is understood to be still undecided, but the impression gains ground that arrangements will be made with the Allan and Dominion lines for a new contract for an improved service. Rumors having been afloat that the two great railway companies had been asked to contribute towards the increased subsidy which a faster service must involve, Postmaster-General McLelan was questioned on the subject, and said:

"The idea has been expressed that the great railway corporations, such as the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railway Companies, who will benefit, so largely, by the proposed improvement in the service, should contribute a portion of the increased expenditure, that the change will necessarily involve. There has, however, been no materialisation."

The Public Works Department has let the contract for the proposed public building at Coaticook, P. Q., to Mr. Thos. T. Shurtliff, of that place, and the contract for the public building at St. Jerome, P. Q., to Mr. J. Fitzgerald, of St. Alphonse-DeKildair. Both were the lowest tenderers.

Orders-in-council have been passed, making the following Customs appointments: Messrs. Joseph B. Pinsonneault, to be a sub-collector in Her Majesty's Customs at the outport of Lacolle, under the survey of the port of St. Johns, Que., vice P. Dozoir, superannuated; Gray Farmer, to be a preventive officer at the outpost of Campbello, under the port of St. Andrew's, N.B.; Chas. B. O'Reilly, to be a sub-collector at the outpost of Front River, under the port of Dundee, vice McGibbon, deceased.

The Treasury Board recently considered the question of gratuities to the widows and other representatives of deceased officials and decided that the order-in-council confirming such gratuities to an amount equal to two months' salary of permanent clerks only must be adhered to, and that if it was deemed desirable to grant a gratuity to the representatives of any employe not on the permanent list the money must first be voted by Parliament.

To Avert a Unionist Split.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Cabinet, after a two hours' session to-day, decided upon concessions which are calculated to avert a Unionist bolt on the Local Government Bill.

THE FOLLOWERS OF MR. GREENWAY

Kick Against the Personnel of His Administration.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17.—Mr. Greenway's troubles are commencing in real earnest. Although the personnel of the Cabinet actually was decided upon, there was such a kick amongst the faithful that another caucus was called for to-night at The Free Press office. It is admitted that Joseph Martin should be Attorney-General and Mr. Greenway Premier, but the disposition of the other portfolios created much dissatisfaction. Mr. Smart's selection is not only opposed, but still greater objection is taken to Mayor Jones, who is bitterly opposed, on the ground not only that he is not a member of the Legislature, but that he is not entitled to a portfolio either by ability or past party services. In fact, it is stated that all but three of the Reform members believe they are entitled to a portfolio in preference to an outsider, but Mr. Greenway insisted upon Mr. Jones' selection, and finally the English members were accepted, Greenway, Jones, Smart and Martin.

A. F. Martin presented his claims too, but nothing definite was decided upon, the choice being between him and Mr. Pendergast. So great is the difference of opinion that an adjournment was made without a decision as to who should be the French representative being reached, and another caucus will be held. Mayor Jones is absent, en route for the East, but wired this morning that he would accept office.

The Conservatives have not yet determined whether they shall oppose all the Ministers, but Mr. Rogers, who nearly defeated Mr. Greenway at the last election, is busily canvassing, and his friends say he will defeat the new Premier. Mr. Pendergast will be opposed if he accepts office, as will Mr. Jones if he runs in South Winnipeg.

LAPRAIRIE ELECTION CASE.

Charges of Corruption Against a Quebec Grit Minister.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—Hon. James McShane will appear before the court to-morrow to answer an accusation of having attempted to bribe one Edmond Day, before the local election in Laprairie. It is alleged also that the Minister of Public Works also threatened a number of voters with the loss of their places on the Grank Trunk if they did not vote for Goyette, the Mercier candidate. Hon. Mr. Taillon said to-night that he believed Jimmie was in a tight place, not only with reference to the Laprairie illegalities but also to certain big pushes to elevate the standard in Ottawa County. Mr. Taillon states that Mr. Cormier will certainly refuse all overtures from Mr. Rochon, and that corruption a la Glengarry will soon come to light.

Locomotive Engineers Ask an Advance.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 17.—A committee, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, of the Pennsylvania Company's lines, called upon Manager Baldwin at his office in this city, and presented a petition for an advance in wages. This, together with the conductors', brakesmen's and yardsmen's petitions, now in the hands of the officials for an increase in wages, shows that the movement is a general one.

TORONTO TOPICS.

After spending two busy days in the city Sir John Macdonald left last night for Ottawa.

The examination of Broker E. S. Cox lasted nearly four hours yesterday, before Special Examiner Evans. What was elicited is not known, as there were present only Mr. Foster, counsel for the liquidators, Mr. Bain, counsel for Mr. Cox, and Mr. Sye, the accountant.

J. & F. G. Sinclair's grocery store, 102 Front-street east, was burglarized on Monday night, the thieves carrying off a quantity of liquor and tobacco.

The funeral service over Guard Rutledge's remains was held yesterday afternoon at the Central Prison Chapel, which was filled with friends and acquaintances of the dead guard and by citizens. The body was afterwards taken by train to Charleston.

From all that can be learned it does not appear that the creditors of the Central Bank will get more than 40 cents on the dollar, even after the double liability has been paid.

FORCES ON THE FRONTIER

GERMAN ESTIMATE OF THEIR COMPARATIVE STRENGTH.

It is Claimed That Russia is Maintaining the Largest Peace Effectives—Gen. Von Caprivi, Minister of Marine, Says the German Navy Need Fear no Foe.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—In the Reichstag to-day, during the codrse of debate on the Naval Estimates, Herr Rickert referred to a recent statement in The Cologne Gazette to the effect that the chief importance of the German navy lay in its strength for coast protection, it being a weapon of defence rather than of offence. If this were true, he asked, why continue to lavish money on the navy which was already sufficient for all defensive purposes?

Gen. Von Caprivi, the Minister of Marine, replied that the German navy was equal to other purposes than coast defence. The Admiralty, he said, would adhere to its plans for strengthening the navy. In its present condition, however, the navy had no reason to fear meeting any foe.

The Militar Wochenblatt publishes with authority a reply to The Invalide Russe's late comparisons of the frontier forces. It says that authentic estimates of the peace effectives stationed in the frontier provinces of Austria, Germany and Russia show that Russia has 315,500 men with 689 field guns; Austria 38,000 men with 160 field guns, and Germany 98,200 men and 338 field guns. The Wochenblatt next compares the military situation on the Russian side of the frontier with that on the German side, taking the forces within territories of about equal area, and shows that the Russians within 119,311 square kilometres have 123,275 men, 24,198 horses and 2711 guns of all kinds, while the Germans within 119,456 square kilometres have only 81,714 men, 14,520 horses and 238 guns.

The garrison of Warsaw, consisting of 20,000 men, 3600 horses, and 50 field guns, is contrasted with the garrison of Koenigsberg, consisting of 7700 men, 1400 horses and 50 field guns, and the garrison of Breslau, with 5000 men, 1160 horses and 32 field guns.

Referring to The Invalide Russe's assertion that 4850 kilometres of railway have been constructed in Eastern Germany since 1878, The Wochenblatt states that the railway extension since 1878 amounts to only 1865 kilometres.

M. Fleurens' Reported Efforts.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—Diplomatic circles are discussing the reported efforts of M. Fleurens, the French Foreign Minister, to bring about an understanding between France, Russia and England, and are incredulous of his success.

Will Russia Fight?

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A Times London special says the papers to-day literally swarm with reports of Russian movements of troops. It seems to be undoubted that the Second Army Corps is now under marching orders from the Caucasus to the Roumanian frontier, while the bulk of the Eleventh Corps is being moved forward, one cavalry division and one rifle brigade to the Roumanian border, and one cavalry division and two infantry divisions toward the Galician frontier apparently. Russia is going again to propose Prince Karageorgevics for the Bulgarian throne, and is massing troops to give effect to her proposition. It is practically certain that he will be rejected by the powers. Then the question is, will Russia fight?

A special train has arrived at Warsaw with a large quantity of explosives, half of which will be deposited in the citadel and the other half distributed at various stations on the railway lines leading to Austria and Germany.

THE QUEBEC LOAN.

Put on the Market Yesterday—Said to Have Been Taken at Par.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Invitations were issued yesterday here and in Paris by the Credit Lyonnais for £722,000 4 per cent. bonds of the province of Quebec. Nominally the bonds are issued at par, but as the interest runs from Jan. 1, and as the whole money will not be called up till March 10, the real price is a few shillings under par. The provincial bonds now stand at 107 and 103 respectively.

Floated at Par.

QUEBEC, Jan. 17.—It is stated that the provincial loan was floated in London, Eng., this morning. The amount of bonds issued is set down at £722,000 sterling, repayable in 1928. They are placed at par with the Credit Lyonnais.

Ontario Creamery Association.

GUELPH, Jan. 17.—The annual convention of the Ontario Creamery Association was held in the City Hall here to-day. There was a good attendance. Mr. John Sprague of Amelisburg read a paper on "Ensilage and the Silo"; Mr. Henry Goff, Elmira, one on "How to Feed Calves"; Prof. Robertson one on "The Outlook for Creamerics," and Mr. Valancey E. Fuller one on "The Most Important Factors in Making Butter Industries Profitable."

WHAT IS FAIR TRADE?

E. B. Beddoe to the English Press—Explaining its Meaning.

Mr. Chamberlain asked before sailing for Canada, Lord Randolph Churchill recently asked, and, just before the end of last year, the Premier wished concisely to know: what is Fair Trade? It is rates and taxes on foreign commodities. Every British-grown bushel of wheat pays 3 pence in local and Imperial taxation, all fleeces of wool, every boll of flax pay to the state. Each beast of £20 value pays 20 shillings to the revenue. All sacks of English flour pay. Iron, steel, brass, tin, wood, unwrought, pay 3 to 4 per cent., when manufactured, at least 10 per cent. Cloth and linen materials pay. Fine goods and jewelry pay, on their high value, 8 to 10 per cent. in rates and taxes. Can it be just, equal or fair that any of these when foreign should pay no dues to the English nation, which consummates their value by purchase? English Cobdenites, most falsely called Free Traders, say Yes. All other nations under the sun answer No. The example of England for the last forty-five years has failed to teach them otherwise. Fair Trade, from the evidence of all foreign powers, consists in giving employment to its own people; keeping its money and commerce by all fair means within its own nation. At great cost of blood and treasure we fight battles to extend our commerce, then, like idiots, give up to the foreign our own home trade.

A sixpenny loaf in place of the fourpence halfpenny one would lead to the cultivation of the 1,000,000 acres which, during the last ten years, have gone to briars and brambles, would find work for 250,000 of unemployed agriculturists, supply wages for 10,000 artisans, business for 1000 tradesmen, and rent for 100 landlords. Think of the further advantages to the community. Using a ton of English rails, instead of those from Belgium, would proportionately benefit our commerce, wages, rates and taxes, and so also in like manner will all manufactures of the Mother Country. Low-priced foreign goods are an advantage only to commission agents and those with fixed incomes, but a bane to all workers and proprietors of your country.

Not to till our own land is against the edicts of Providence, and must lead to disruption and ruin. The phrase of Free Trade is a delusion and a snare. Partial free imports in our present fiscal system, with all the costs of the coast guard and the custom house, because not all free. Foreign goods ought fairly to pay their share of the established charges of the English house in which they are sold.

British Trade With Canada.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—At the Associated Chambers of Commerce meeting, from Feb. 21 to 23, Commercial Union will be discussed upon a resolution requesting the council to vigilantly watch the movement and communicate to the Colonial office the great interest the chambers take in the question. The meeting is also to discuss means to increase trade between Britain and the colonies.

The Crofters' Riots.

EDINBURGH, Jan. 17.—The police on the Island of Lewis attempted to arrest a number of crofters for destroying fences of sheep farms. The crofters resisted and charged the police, finally routing them. Troops are hastening to the assistance of the police. A number of crofters who were arrested on the Island of Lewis charged with engaging in the riots have just been tried. The jury acquitted them.

An Echo From the Rochester Explosion.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 17.—The Common Council adopted a resolution at its meeting to-night authorizing the attorneys for the city to commence action against the Vacuum Oil and the Municipal Gas Light Company in the name of the Attorney-General, as being nuisances. The case is brought about by the recent naphtha explosions in this city.

Jack Davis After Them All.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Jack Davis has challenged Kilrain, Sullivan or Smith to fight for £500 a side.

BIG FIRE AT MONTREAL.

Several Stores Gutted—A Terrific Explosion—Losses and Insurance.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—Shortly after 5 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the premises of J. S. Thompson & Co., auctioneers, 243 St. James-street. When the firemen opened the door a terrific explosion occurred, smashing the extensive plate glass windows in the adjoining stores and making huge rents in the walls. The fire spread to Barrett & Co.'s "Ichi Ban," both stores being gutted. The building was owned by the estate of the late F. M. W. Larocque, and is valued at $35,000. It is nearly a total wreck; insured for $10,600 in the Ætna and $3300 in the Hartford. The other losses and insurances are: J. S. Thompson, loss $15,000, insurance $5000; P. Z. Chouinard, loss $200; Oddfellows' Hall and Sons of England rooms destroyed, insurance $800; Peacock's athletic apparatus factory, loss $1000; Ichi Ban, loss $10,000, insurance $15,000. Hart & Son, job printers; J. K. Harper, jeweler, and H. Michaels, cigar dealer, also sustained slight losses.

MR. RUBIDGE'S REPORT.

MR. RUBIDGE'S report on the Trent Valley Canal is a document of considerable length, but the extended summary of it which we publish will give a good idea of its contents. The important parts are given in the extracts and summary, including his detailed estimate of the whole work and the particulars of his estimate for the section between Peterborough and Lakefield.

The Committee of the Canal Association, which meets here on Friday, will have their hands full in collecting the necessary information, and one part of their duty will be to carefully examine the figures furnished by Mr. Rubidge and Mr. Page and to supply information necessary to form a just conclusion as to the desirability of building the canal which the engineers have omitted, on account, apparently, of not being instructed to enquire into other than engineering questions.

There is no danger of anyone reading the reports falling into the error of believing that the officials of the department are biased in favor of the Trent Valley Canal. There is this reason for satisfaction, however—the promoters of this waterway have now before them the most formidable weapons of opposition that government engineers will supply, and they can form a better idea of the nature of the facts bearing on this phase of the question that they will have to lay before the Commission.

It will be noticed that one important subject for enquiry is not touched upon in the report. A comparison of distances and time is made between the Trent Valley and the Welland routes, but, important though the consideration is, there is nothing said as to the question of the cost of carriage. This and other fields of investigation are open to the Committee and those interested in the completion of the Trent Valley Canal, and they are not fields that can be easily covered.

Those who collect the evidence in proper shape to present to the Commission will need to expend time, energy and money. There should be a large attendance at the meeting of the Committee in order that proper arrangements may be made to leave nothing undone. The question of whether the canal will be promptly completed is practically in the hands of the people of the district and it their bounden duty, as matters now stand, to take the work up with vigor.

The Commission is not hampered by restrictions, their mission being to receive all the facts obtainable that will throw light on the subject, and in fixing dates for holding sessions they will consider the convenience of those who are gathering or will offer evidence. The Committee should, therefore, while pushing forward their arrangements as much as possible, confer with the Commission as to the dates.

The importance of a representative gathering at this Committee meeting, of prompt measures being taken to collect evidence and of the work being prosecuted promptly and vigorously, can scarcely be too strongly urged, and all those who can be present and assist should not fail to attend.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

REPORT OF ENGINEERS ON THE COST OF CONSTRUCTION.

The route recommended is as follows:—Beginning at Trenton by a canal on the west side of the river to Frankford, by improved navigation to Chisholm's rapids, by improved navigation to Hoard's creek or Percy Beach, by canal on east side of river to Middle Falls at outlet of Crow Bay, by improved navigation to Forks, Crow Bay, by canal to summit of Healey's Falls, by improved navigation to Hastings, by improved navigation to Whitlaw's rapids (Peterborough), by improved navigation to Ashburnham, by canal to Lakefield, by improved navigation to Young's Point, Burleigh Falls, Lovesick rapids, Buckhorn rapids, Bobcaygeon rapids, Fenelon Falls, Balsam rapids, to Victoria Road, Balsam Lake, by a canal in valley of Talbot river to Gamebridge, Lake Simcoe, by natural navigation to "The Narrows" and to Sand Point, Lake Couchiching, by canal descending to the mouth of North River on Matchedash Bay, and by natural navigation to Waubeshene.

Improvements are reported as required at various points—new dams, swing bridges, channels cleaned out, etc. The details are given of the cost of the sections of canal to be constructed, the total cost being:—Trenton division, $1,107,944.60, and with 10 per cent. allowed for contingencies, $1,218,739. Hoard's creek to Healey's Falls, $1,889,602.70; with contingencies, $2,078,563. Peterborough to Lakefield, $1,307,103.85; with contingencies, $1,437,814. Balsam Lake to Lake Simcoe, $1,879,312.65; with contingencies, $2,067,134. Georgian Bay division, $1,711,273; with contingencies, $1,882,400.

Mr. Rubidge says that as the present and prospective need of such improvements and its effect, if constructed, on the course western trade, and its relative merits over other routes now existing, formed no part of his instructions, they need not be discussed. He recommends, however, that whatever new work may hereafter be constructed may not be of less dimensions than those he has stated as necessary for a through line of navigation, even should the undertaking be looked upon simply as of local importance.

Mr. Rubidge adds the following comparison between the Welland and Trent Valley routes:—

From the Sault Ste. Marie or the Straits of Mackinaw, points common to both routes, Waubaushene, on Georgian Bay, and Sarnia, on Lake Huron, are lake ports equidistant therefrom, and are therefore selected in making a comparison in time or distance between those places and Kingston, viz.:—

MR. PAGE'S FIGURES.

In transmitting Mr. Rubidge's report to the Secretary of the Department, Mr. John Page, Chief Engineer, adds the following:—

|---|---|
| Mr. Rubidge's estimate for the works to be done to form a line of navigation adapted to the passage of vessels carrying 250 tons burden amounts to the sum of | $3,684,500 00 |
| Isolated works, consisting of partial improvements of intermediate reaches are not included in the above, may reasonably be placed at | 200,000 00 |
| Land damages and claims for riparian rights, flooding of lands, etc., are also not included. These it is presumed, from the demands that have already been made, with other unforeseen expenses, may be set down at | 450,000 00 |
| Work in progress under the head of "Trent Navigation," surveys, etc., when settled for in full, will probably cost | 650,000 00 |
| Grand total | $5,984,500 00 |

With reference to the comparative statement of distance, time in making the respective voyages, etc., between the Welland and Trent routes, Mr. Page adds a note that it should be borne in mind that a vessel by the former route can take a cargo from six to seven times greater than could be done by a vessel using the line of navigation represented as suited to the Trent Valley route.

THE PETERBOROUGH SECTION.

Of this section Mr. Rubidge says that, in order to avoid interference and conflict with owners of mills and other valuable property (who also claim riparian rights in the bed of the stream) two lines were examined, both commencing at the Little Lake in the village of Ashburnham and running towards Nassau, where they unite. Of these lines, the eastern and most direct was selected for the canal. Commencing at the Little Lake, opposite the lock at Whitlaw's rapids, the line at once crosses the Grand Junction and Ontario and Quebec railways. Thence skirting the village, it passes in rear of Armour's hill and pursues a direct course to Nassau. From Nassau the line is generally parallel to the river, and also closely follows the Lakefield branch of the Midland railway to, and through, the village of Lakefield, entering Lake Katchiwannoe about half a mile above the new regulating dam. The railway for a distance of 5,000 feet will require to be diverted to avoid a crossing. The section will be 9.61 miles in length, with thirteen locks. The total fall in the river from Lake Katchiwannoe is 149.5 feet. The estimated cost of this section is $1,437,814, as follows:—

Trent Valley and Welland.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—In looking over Mr. Rubidge's statement of the cost of the Trent Valley Canal I find he makes a comparison between it and the Welland route, much to the advantage of the latter. He states that the time occupied between Sarnia and Kingston, on lakes and rivers is 53 hours, through Welland Canal 19 hours, making 72 between these two points. The time I would give for the Welland route is, lakes and rivers 53 hours, canal 20 hours, total 108 hours, and even that time can only be made in very fine weather, so that instead of eight hours less it would take thirty-one hours longer by way of the Welland, and in the fall of of the year it might occupy twenty to thirty hours longer than that even. I have been over the route too many times not to know.

Yours, etc.,
J. H. PECK.

The Smallest Rate.

There is but one efficient way
To publish "WANTS" from day to day,
And that is through the REVIEW indeed,
That finds for every want and need
A prompt return and quick reply,
That never fails to satisfy.
And what is more it will to state
At very far from largest rate.

On Rollers.

In order to facilitate the work of getting the fire apparatus out of the hall, wooden rollers have been placed under the runners of the hose wagon and hook and ladder truck. Without their aid it would be almost impossible to move the heavy machines.

Extension of Time Granted.

An extension of time has been granted until the 28th instant, by the British Empire Mutual Life Assurance Co., to those desirous of sharing in the profits, which are to be divided on the 11th April, proximo. Application should be made immediately to E. E. Henderson, General Agent, Peterborough. 2d14-1w3

A Tramp Out.

On Tuesday night the Y. M. C. A. Snowshoe Club met in the rooms in full tramping equipment. They repaired to the Central Park and formed up in line. An hour's run was had over the country beyond McDonnel Street west, after which the club called at the residence of Mr. Jas. Campbell, Weller Street, where they were entertained, and coffee and cake disposed of. After a pleasant hour spent with music and singing the club tramped to the rooms and dispersed.

The Chemong Road.

The Grand Trunk engineers are now at work surveying to locate a line to connect the main line of the G.T.R., Lakefield branch, and the track of the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora railway, which is now under the control of the big corporation. One plan is to curve off about Smith street and by running through the gardens west of the present track, strike the Chemong road at or near the place known as the "cut." There appears to be no doubt whatever, if the local officials are to be relied on, that the Grand Trunk intend opening up and equipping the road that cost so much money, but never was used.

Incorrect.

Rumors have gained currency about town that diphtheria is raging. Such is not by any means the case, as there are not more than half a dozen persons suffering from it. Of late the doctors appear to have got the upper hand of the disease.

Police Court News.

At the Police Court this morning Messrs. M. Halpin and John Clancy pleaded guilty to a second offence against the provisions of the Scott Act and were fined $100 and costs each. The case against George Fuljames, charged with keeping a cockpit on his premises, was enlarged for a week.

Curling.

Six rinks of the Peterborough club go to Toronto to-night to play the Caledonians on Thursday morning, a friendly match. In the afternoon the local rinks will have a rustle with the Granites for the Caledonian medal. The Peterborough skips are Judge Weller, W. G. Ferguson, T. P. Attrill, T. Rutherford, S. Ray and Geo. Brown.

The Coming Carnival.

It is the people's event. Fashion forbids the sporting of knee breeches and lace and ruffles in this time of the world. The garb of an Oriental or Afghan would be out of place among the rigors of a Canadian winter. The flowing robes of a Turk, or the brief costume of a Zulu are not adjuncts of our present civilization, but at the carnival all these will be presented. Studies of garb and fashion of foreign lands will be seen amidst the glittering glim of the electric light.

Lecture and Concert.

The programme prepared for the entertainment at the Opera House on Friday night is one that should attract a very large attendance. Mr. Philip Thompson, of Toronto, will give an address on "The Cause of Ireland," and among the musicians and vocalists who will take part are Mrs. McIntyre, Miss L. Begley, Miss A. McDonald, Misses McIlmoyle, Miss A. Dunn, Mr. T. Dunn, Mr. M. Tierney and Mr. M. Dunn, the Harmony Club and the orchestra. Such an array of talent, oratorical and musical, should fill the Opera House to overflowing. 1d14

An Exciting Runaway.

On Tuesday evening at about eight o'clock a horse driven by Miss Morris, of Whitby, who is visiting in Peterborough, became frightened north of the post office and ran away. It sped down George Street, and at the corner of Hunter Street cut across the sidewalk. The cutter struck a post there and Miss Morris, who had held to the lines bravely, was thrown out by the vehicle being upset. The horse ran to Water Street, where it fell and was caught. The young lady was fortunately uninjured, though she had a narrow escape. The cutter was badly broken.

Personal.

Dr. Caldwell is another addition to the ranks of the medical practitioners of the town, having removed here from Lakefield, where he has been practicing for the last eleven years. His residence and office are on George Street, near Dublin Street. Dr. Caldwell, during his residence in Lakefield, had a large and remunerative practice, and he gained and retains the confidence and respect of all classes of people in that village and the district surrounding. A skilful physician and a good citizen, his departure from Lakefield was regretted, and he will be welcomed to Peterborough.

"Our Angel."

"Our Angel" was produced at the Opera House last night, by the Lizzie Evans Company. The audience did not by any means crowd the building, but those who were present appeared well satisfied. The scene of the play is at a mining camp in a western state, but, wonderful to relate, revolvers and bowie knives are altogether absent. Lizzie Evans, who appeared a few years ago in "Fogg's Ferry," is the star and by her acting, singing and dancing, she fairly captivated the audience. The company is an evenly balanced one, does not contain a "stick" and each member is brought prominently before the audience throughout the play. All the characters were well taken.

Frankie Kemble as "Sybil."

The New York News has the following about the new star in a new play who appears here Monday, Jan. 23rd:—"Last Monday a new play, by Clay M. Green, was given at this house. It is called 'Sybil,' especially written to give Frankie Kemble an opportunity to show off her versatile talents, and in this respect it fulfills all the requirements. Miss Kemble is one of the brightest and prettiest soubrettes on the stage, and is possessed of real artistic talent as opposed to to the usual boisterous 'getting around' of the average singing comedienne. She first came to the public notice as a Yum Yum, since when she has steadily gained ground. Many of her audience were fairly surprised at her powers. The support was all sufficient, and an audience that filled every seat in the house thoroughly enjoyed the performance, which is of the liveliest description. Meanwhile 'Sybil' scored an unmistakable success in the metropolis." 1d14

A Fire.

When the alarm was sounded about 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon the firemen had the apparatus out promptly, but were misled by the man who rang the bell pointing north and saying the fire was "up that street across the railway track." The firemen were therefore told by the policeman who received this information to go to the North Ward, and did so. In the meantime the fire, which was in a small rough-cast house, on Stewart street, occupied by a Mrs. True and owned by Mr. C. W. Sawers, was burning away merrily. Messrs. Brundrett and Roy, of the Grand Trunk, gathered the officials and sectionmen and took up a few hundred feet of the company's hose. There is a hydrant within a hundred feet of the fire and in a few minutes the blaze was under control. The firemen, who had gone as far north as Argyle street, did not reach the scene until fully three-quarters of an hour after the alarm was given, but when they got to work a few minutes sufficed to remove all traces of fire. A defective flue probably accounts for the fire. Mrs. True lost considerable furniture. Her loss is covered by an insurance of $350. Mr. Sawer's loss on the building is also fully covered by insurance.

THE ANNUAL MEETING

OF THE WEST RIDING AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION.

The Reports From the Secretary, the Treasurer and the Branch Societies—Election of Officers and General Business.

The annual meeting of the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society was held at the old Music Hall, this afternoon.

President Rutherford occupied the chair, and among the others present were Messrs. Jos. Redmond, Wm. Fair, Jos. Barnard, J. B. McWilliams, Jos. Tully, G. M. Roger, J. J. Hartley, John Moore, Wm. Collins, Jas. Davidson, G. W. Fitzgerald, Hugh Davidson and John Garbutt.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Secretary Galletly read his annual report practically as follows:—

To the members of the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society.

GENTLEMEN,—In reviewing the history of our Society for the past year, I may state at the outset, that in giving you a detailed account of the business, however minute, of the Agricultural Association, the necessary routine observed in transacting such business year after year, resemble one another so much that very little new can be said.

We started this year with a balance due Treasurer, after paying outstanding prizes, of $955.64.

The Directors appointed to conduct the Society's business tarough the Jubilee year, most of whom were men of long experience in Agricultural Exhibition work, with the veteran Ex- M.P.P. Mr. Carnegie, as President, who had taken an active interest in everything appertaining to the welfare of agriculture for the last quarter of a century at least, alternately filling during that period the honorable positions of President, Director or Secretary of Agricultural Associations. With such a strong Directorate and an experienced veteran at the helm, much progress was anticipated.

The spring show of stallions and bulls was held in the Town of Peterborough, on the Agricultural show grounds, on the afternoon of April 30th, 1887. The number of entries was as follows:—Stallions 27, bulls 10.

The gate receipts amounted to $57.70. Prizes awarded to stallions $66, to bulls $42. Judge of horses, Robert Miller, of Brougham; Judge of bulls, James Campbell of Woodville.

At the spring show of 1886, the entries of stallions numbered 32 and of bulls 12, showing a decrease in 1887 of 5 stallions and 2 bulls. In 1887 the prizes offered for stallions amounted to $100 and for bulls $52 showing a decrease in 1887 of $34 for stallions and $10 for bulls. However, the gate receipts in 1886 only amounted to $54.90, while in 1887 the receipts were $57.70, a net gain over 1886 of $3.40.

About this time your Secretary received a circular from the Ontario Central Agricultural and Live Stock Association, of Port Perry, bearing upon an important matter in connection with central fairs.

The circular was a lengthy one and asked the co-operation of the Peterborough Society to secure further aid for central fairs from the Government, and suggested that our association appoint delegates to attend a convention to be held in Toronto early in 1887.

After some discussion on the matter our President, Mr. Carnegie, drafted the following resolution, which was moved by Mr. Fair, and seconded by Mr. Collins:—

"That with reference to the communication of the Ontario Central Agricultural and Live Stock Association of Port Perry, it be resolved, that while this Society sympathizes with the objects set forth in the circular it is of opinion that it is now only too late to obtain any practical results during the present session of the Ontario Legislature, but that the whole matter requires to be fully considered, before submission to the government. Under these circumstances this Board is of opinion that instead of the proposed meeting of delegates in Toronto, it would be better to arrange for a like meeting to be held at some convenient point and time, during the ensuing summer, to consider the whole matter of government grants for exhibition purposes, with a view to having the results of their deliberation acted upon by the Legislature at its next session."—Carried.

A copy of the resolution was forwarded and subsequently Messrs. Rutherford and Vance attended a meeting at Toronto. There was nothing of importance done at the meeting, further than appointing a secretary, who was instructed to call another meeting in January this year, when it was hoped to see a large turn out of representatives. So far no word has been received of the proposed meeting.

The resignations of President Carnegie and Director McNeil caused much regret, the former for his well known administrative ability and experience in connection with agricultural exhibitions, and much good was expected to the Society from the reputation of the latter as a successful organizer and and caterer for public entertainments. As neither of them could be prevailed upon to withdraw their resignations, having the interests of the Society at heart, but not the time at their disposal to do justice to those interests, with much reluctance the Board accepted the resignations.

Mr. Wm. Rutherford, 1st Vice-President, was unanimously elected President of the Society and Mr. McClelland likewise as 1st Vice-President. Two Directors being required to complete the numbers of the board, Messrs. Hugh Davidson and Joseph Forster were on motion appointed Directors of the Society.

This being the Jubilee year of our Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria an extra effort was made by the Directors to have our fall exhibition worthy of the event. From June till October many meeting were held for the purpose of revising and enlarging the prize list and soliciting subscriptions from prominent townsmen so that the liberality, intrinsic value and number of prizes would not fail to attract and bring large crowds to the exhibition. Manufacturers, merchants, hotel keepers and other gentlemen in town responded nobly. Needful articles amounting in value to $388 and in cash $208 were obtained. The contributions of farmers in the district amounted to $64, nearly two-thirds of that amount coming from one subscriber, viz., Wm. Fair, Esq., one of the directors. Surely such indifference as manifested by the farmers generally in not contributing towards the support of an exhibition devoted to their interests, merely needs to be mentioned in order to expand their sympathies and incite them to give a more liberal support, individually and also collectively through the County Council. Before proceeding further with the report I think I can not do better than follow out the plan I adopted last year and, while thanking in the name of the directors those gentlemen who so liberally contributed of their means towards the support of the Peterborough Central Exhibition, give them the greatest publicity in our power by inserting their names in this report and publishing it as the "honor roll" of gentlemen having the interest of Peterborough Central Exhibition at heart, as follows:—

Membership last year 230, including the 140 prize winners in 1886, from whom $1 was deducted. This year we start with 156 paid members and it is to be hoped that the Directors of 1888 will succeed in rolling up the list to 300 at least.

And now a word in closing about the exhibition. Entries for 1885, 925; for 1886, 1,506; and 1887, 1,877; more than double the number of 1885, showing a marked progress and enlarged interest manifested by exhibitors. To keep a firm hold of this interest is the primary duty of the Directors. They should, therefore, make the attractions during the exhibition as interesting and entertaining as possible, so that the gate receipts will show as much progress from year to year as the above entries do. True, last year we had, unfortunately, the elements against us. There was too much time lost in the speeding in the ring attractions between the heats. Very many complaints were heard in this respect. Some said, "Why did you not get the Highland dancers to fill up the time?" They gave great satisfaction last year. I have heard some gentlemen call the Toronto Industrial Exhibition a circus. Well, even so, it draws the crowd. Gate receipts roll up, thereby enabling the Directors to award larger prizes to the agricultural and all the other departments of the so-called circus. It is much better, I think, for the money to be in the coffers of the Industrial Exhibition than in the capacious pockets of either Barnum or Forepaugh. I trow, therefore, that the best course our directors for 1888 should follow is to run a little in the line of the Industrial Exhibition held in Toronto.

D. D. GALLETLY,
Secretary

LINES — ANENT THE SALVATION ARMY.

When first we did hear of this noble band
; Our wish was, the Lord would them bless,
That they through the length and breadth of the land
Would openly God's Word profess,

Obedient to the Lord's command,
Spreading gospel tidings round,
Taking the outcast in love by the hand,
The dead in sin wherever found.

Proclaiming to all Salvation is free
As the heir of Heaven we breathe,
And welcome to come, and pardoned may be
Who truly in Jesus believe.

The Spirit and the Bride say come,
Be heirs of the Kingdom above;
In Heaven, through Christ, for all there is room
Who in heart the Saviour love.

For Jesus is ever ready to save
All who to Him willingly come;
Who died for all, rose again from the grave,
And gone to prepare us a home.

Be careful, all who to scoff are inclined,
Accounting the Army's rules odd,
What seems odd to you, is only designed
To gather the outcast to God.

From highways and hedges Jesus designed
His people, when He went away,
They'd seek the outcast, the lame and the blind
Who in byways had gone astray;

And bring them to paths of light and of love
Where passports would them be given,
Making them heirs of the Kingdom Above,
Joint heirs with Jesus in Heaven.

Footpads Relieve a Hamiltonian of $200—The Pumping Engine Breakdown.

HAMILTON, Jan 17.—Mr. John McInnis had an ugly experience on Sunday night last on Cherry-street. He was followed by a trio of roughs, one of whom struck him with a sandbag on the head, knocking him insensible, while the other two went through his pockets, relieving him of nearly $200 in cash. The affair has been kept a secret by the young man and his friends. What makes matters the worse for McInnis is that he was to have been married to-day. Detective McKenzie has the case in hand.

Whatever was the cause of the breakdown in the new pumping engine on Saturday morning, the effect was more serious than was at first supposed. Examination shows that the piston head in the high-pressure cylinder is broken. It will take a week to replace it, and meanwhile the experts have gone to their respective homes.

Now, gentlemen, let us proceed to business. Business, gentlemen, is the chief end of man.—that is if he happens to be in the dry goods and clothing trade.

This is identically where we are, and consequently it is our business to push business.

A new winter suit may be an absolute necessity. A neat warm overcoat may be the one thing needful for comfort. Besides, appearances gentlemen, are not to be sneezed at.

Our winter styles have been ready for some time. They have been examined and selected from. They will bear further examination and additional selections. Bear it well, gentlemen. Bear it to our mutual satisfaction.

Allow us to mention the matter of Gentlemen's Furnishings. These things form no small port on of man's attire. A clean shirt is said to be woman's best gift to man. In this connection, you get the shirts from us. Our stock is full, and of sizes such as cover an assorted crowd of all mankind.

The present winter promises to be a memorable one. Intense cold has been predicted and it behoves the people of this district to be well prepared. To these preparations a good supply of clothing is absolutely necessary.

Attired in one of our winter tweed suits a man may pursue the even tenor of his way without exciting particular remark and without fear of being taken for either a pickpocket or a member of the Privy Council.

Our prices. Shall we say the're low: Really low: We'd certainly be telling the truth if we did. But would it have the same effect as if you said it. Not precisely. Then we'd ask you to see our stock. Learn our figures. Examine our work.

That an acknowledgment of our low prices will follow we are sure. And your order be secured.

ADVERTISE IN THE REVIEW

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

EAST SIMCOE PETITION.

TRIAL OF THE CASE AGAINST MR. COOKE COMMENCED.

Evidence for the Petitioner—A Witness Says "There was Hoodle Going"—"Pretty Hot Limejuice"—Mr. Henderson Renominated in Halton.

ORILLIA, Jan. 17.—The East Simcoe Dominion election trial, commenced to-day before Hon. Justice Rose. Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., and Mr. Corbould appeared for petitioner, and Mr. J. J. McLaren, Q.C., for the respondent, Henry H. Cook.

Mr McLaren made objection to the case proceeding, six months having expired, but His Lordship overruled him.

Mr. McCarthy called William Harvey, the Secretary of the Reform Association, who testified that he handled no money during the election campaign. He received a letter a few days ago from Mr. McLaren's firm to see some parties who were named in specific charges, and he saw them.

Alex. W. Ambrose, the financial agent of the respondent, was called, and said he received $1,011.85 from Mr. Cook, spent $744.64, returned $200, and kept the balance to pay himself. He told Mr. Cook, who said it was all right, that he intended to give him something.

Joseph Owens, called on specific charges 15 and 18, was a voter at last election, received $5 from James Patten at the Russell House the day before election. Cleland, the bartender there, said boodle was going, and that witness could get it from Patten. He got it from Patten, who said, "Don't change it in the house."

Christopher Cleland, the bartender, swore that he (Owens) asked him the day before election if he thought he could get any money, and he said he ought to, and that it would be safe to take it.

James Patten testified that he was clerk of the works at the new Asylum, Orillia, in the employ of the Ontario Government. He sent Owens $5 the day before the election. He did not give it for election purposes. He never expected to get it back, as he is not worth anything. He never asked for it. He never saw Mr. Lees before. He sent Arthur Young, a laborer, $2 after the election; he sent no one else money.

Patrick Finn testified: My wife is proprietor of the Russell House. Mr. Owens asked me if there was money going and I told him I thought not; did not offer Lees any money. Don't think I showed people upstairs to Mr. Patten the day before the election. Did not take a great part in the election.

Thomas Lees testified that Finn told him that they were offering $10 for a vote. Finn asked witness to have a drink and witness took what was called lime juice and it was pretty hot juice.

At the time of adjournment Mr. McCarthy had not concluded his evidence on the question of agency. There are a great number of witnesses subpœnaed and the court was crowded all day.

Mr. Henderson Re-nominated in Halton.

MILTON, Jan. 17.—The Conservatives of Halton held a large and enthusiastic meeting here to-day to select a standard-bearer in the forthcoming election for the House of Commons, made vacant by the unseating of Mr. John Waldie, the Reform member. Mr. David Henderson, Mr. Waldie's late opponent, was unanimously chosen as the candidate. Mr. Waldie's majority over Mr. Henderson was 9. There was plenty of speech-making, among the orators being Senator McKindly, Col. Kearns and Col. Murray.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

MONA SCULLY;

—OR—

The Bride of an Englishman.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

Mona pours out the tea—which is excellent—and puts in the cream—which is a thing to dream of—with a liberal hand. She smiles at Geoffrey across the sugar-bowl, and chatters to him over the big bowl of flowers that lies in the centre of the table.

His host going to the window when breakfast is at an end, Geoffrey follows him; and both look out upon the little garden before them that is so carefully and lovingly tended.

"It is all her doing," says the old man—"Mona's, I mean. She loves those flowers more than anything on earth, I think. Her mother was the same; but she wasn't half the lass that Mona is. Never a mornin' in the cowld winter but she goes out there to see if the frost hasn't killed some of 'em the night before."

"There is hardly any taste so charming or so engrossing as that for flowers," says Geoffrey. "My mother and cousin do a great deal of that sort of thing when at home."

"Ay, it looks pretty and gives the child something to do." There is a regretful ring in his tone that induces Geoffrey to ask the next question.

"Does she—does Miss Scully find country life unsatisfying? Has she not lived here always?"

"Law, no, sir," says the old man, with a loud and hearty laugh. "I think if ye could see the counthry girls round here, an' compare 'em with my Mona, you'd see that for yerself. She's as fine as the queen to them. Her mother, you see, was the parson's daughter down here; tip top she was, and purty as a fairy, but mighty delicate; looked as if a March wind would blow her into heaven. Dan—he was a brother of mine, an'a solicitor in Dublin. You've been there, belike?"

"Yes, I stopped there for two or three days on my way down here. Well, and your brother?" He cannot, to himself explain the interest he feels in this story.

"Dan? He was a fine man, surely; six feet in his stockin', he was, an' eyes like a woman's. He come down here an' met her, an' she married him.—Nothing would stop her, though the parson was fit to be tied about it. An' of course he was no match for her—father bein' only a bricklayer when he began life—but still I will say Dan was a fine man, an' one to think about; an' no two ways in him, an' that soft about the heart. He worshipped the ground she walked on; an' four years after their marriage she told me herself she never had an ache in her heart since she married him. That was fine tellin', sir, wasn't it? Four years, mind ye.—Why, when Mary was alive (my wife, sir,) we had a shindy twice a week, reg'lar as clock-work. We wouldn't have known ourselves without it; but, however, that's naythen here nor there," says Mr. Scully, pulling himself up short. "An' I ask yer pardon, sir, for pushing private matters on ye like this."

"But you have interested me," says Geoffrey, seating himself on the broad sill of the window, as though preparing for a long dissertation on matters still unknown. "Pray tell me how your brother and his lovely wife—who evidently was as wise and true as she was lovely—got on."

Mr. Rodney's face being of that rare kind that is as tender as it is manly, and by right of its beauty demands confidence, the old man (who dearly loves his own voice) is encouraged to proceed.

"They didn't get on for long," he says, mournfully—and what voice is so full of melancholy as the Irish voice when it sinks into sadness? "When the little one—Mona—was barely five years old, they went to ground; Mount Jerome got them. Fever it was; and it carried 'em both off just while ye'd have time to look round ye. Poor souls, they went to the blessed land together. Perhaps the Holy Virgin knew they would have got on badly without each other anywhere."

"And the child—Miss Mona?" asks Geoffrey.

"She went to live in Anthrim with her mother's sister. Later she got to Dublin, to her aunt there—another of the parson's daughters, who married the Provost in Thrinty; a proud sort he was, an' awful tiresome with his Greeks an' his Romans, an' not the height of yer thumb," says Mr. Scully, with ineffable contempt. "I went to Dublin one day about cattle, and called to see me niece; an' she took to me, bless her, an' I brought her down here with me for change of air, for her cheeks were whiter than a fleece of wool, an' she has staid ever since. Dear soul! I hope she'll stay forever. She is welcome."

"She must be a great comfort to you," says Geoffrey, from his heart.

"She is that. More than I can say.—An' keeps things together, too. She is clever like her father, an' he was on the fair way to make a fortune. Ay, I always say it, law is the thing that pays in Ireland. A good sound fight sets them up. But I'm keeping you, sir, an' your gun is waitin' for ye. If you haven't had enough of me company by this time," with another jolly laugh, "I'll take ye down to a field hard by, an' show ye where I saw a fine young covey only yesternight."

"I—I should like to say good-bye to Miss Mona, and thank her for all her goodness to me, before going," says the young man, rising somewhat slowly.

"Nay, you can say all that on your way back, an' get a half-shot into the bargain," says old Scully, heartily.—"You'll hardly beat the potheen I can give ye." He winks knowingly, pats Rodney on the shoulder, and leads the way out of the house. Yet I think Geoffrey would willingly have bartered potheen, partridge, and a good deal more, for just one last glance at Mona's beautiful face before parting. Cheered, however, by the prospect that he may see her before night falls, he follows the farmer into the open air.

POKING FUN!

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realising a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3 75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $6.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ⅓ regular prices.

Don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver a misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents

NEW CANADIAN PACIFIC BONDS.

Algoma Branch First Mortgage Offered and Applied for Four Times Over.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Baring Brothers to-day invited applications for £750,000 Canadian Pacific Algoma branch 5 per cent. first mortgage bonds in denominations of £1000, £500 and £100 each, to mature July 1, 1937. The issue price is 98½ per cent. Sir Charles Tupper and Lord Revelstoke are trustees for the bondholders. A good augury for the new issue is that Canadian Pacific shares and bonds have been steadily rising recently, and stand to-day at 63½ and 104½ respectively.

Applied for Four Times Over.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—The Canadian Pacific Railway authorities to-day received a cablegram stating that the loan for the Algoma branch had been applied for four times over.

Dissensions Among the Parnellites.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Dissension exists among the Parnellites in regard to Mr. Parnell's proposed tactics during the coming session of Parliament. Mr. Parnell is in favor of abstaining from obstruction in order to accelerate a rupture between the Unionists and the Conservatives on the English local government measure. The two Healys and Mr. Dillon oppose such a program. Mr. Parnell will convoke a meeting of the party early in February.

Burned at Sea.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The American ship John T. Berry, which sailed from Philadelphia Oct. 3 for Hioqo, was burned on Jan. 9. Fourteen of the crew were landed at Namtucora Heads. A boat with eleven others is missing.

A Niagara Man's Challenge.

Frank Bishop, the athletic billiard parlor proprietor, is out with a challenge to fight any lightweight in this country, Queensberry rules, to a finish, for $250 a side. He has left a deposit of $25 in the hands of Mr. Hugh Hutchinson, at Long's Hotel, to show that he means business. If he gets on a match and beats his man, he will challenge any lightweight in Canada, Harry Gilmore of Toronto preferred.

THAT ALLEGED REUNION

BETWEEN SIR JOHN, SIR ALEXANDER AND MR. MOWAT.

The Story Sent an Ottawa Paper by Its Toronto Correspondent—Comparison Between United States and Canadian Routes From Yokohama to Liverpool.

OTTAWA, Jan. 18.—An evening paper here publishes a despatch from Toronto giving a touching account of what is called a "reunion" between Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Alex. Campbell and Hon. Oliver Mowat, who, it would appear from the despatch, have not been on friendly terms since the "chubby-faced, ruddy youth," as Mr. Mowat is called, studied law with Sir John and Sir Alexander in Kingston forty-five years ago, for the despatch says: "Never since the office in Kingston was broken up have the three had a private conversation." It may seem unkind to spoil the pretty story of three old men enjoying a "reunion," after a forty five years' quarrel, but the truth of the matter is there was no quarrel to make up and the three gentlemen named have met very frequently since "the office in Kingston was broken up." The correspondent appears to have forgotten, or perhaps he never knew, that the three gentlemen were all members of the Quebec Conference in 1864 and were in the same ministry for several months, until the election of Mr. Mowat to the bench on the recommendation of Sir John A. Macdonald, who was then Attorney-General for Canada West. They have differed in politics, but I am not aware of there ever having been any personal quarrel. Instead of the meeting being for the purpose of "making it up," it is said that it was held for the purpose of talking over in a friendly and informal way the question of the unsettled portion of the boundary between the Dominion and the Province of Ontario, and that there is strong probability that the informal chat may lead to legislation which will settle the last part of this long standing difficulty.

Mr. Baillairge, Deputy Minister of Public Works, will shortly issue a supplement to the annual report of his department, dealing principally with the inland navigation of Canada, ocean routes to foreign countries, Canadian land routes to the seaboard, and a reference to the Panama and Suez Canals.

A comparative statement of the distances from Liverpool, Eng., to Yokohama, Japan, via Canadian and United States routes, illustrates the favorable position which the Dominion occupies, for it is shown that the longest Canadian route is very much shorter than the shortest United States route. The distance by the shortest American route, via Boston, Chicago and San Francisco, is 11,221 statute miles, while by the shortest Canadian, via Straits of Belle Isle, Quebec and the Canadian Pacific Railway, it is only 11,148 miles, or a shortening of the distance during the season of navigation of 773 miles.

The Free Press to-night says: "Mr. Alex. Robillard, M.P.P. for Russell, has been waited upon by deputations from the townships of Russell and Clarence, asking him to to use his influence in the Provincial Legislature to have a grant made for colonization roads and drainage in the county. Mr. Robillard expressed his intention of doing so and feels quite confident that he will be successful.

A breach of international law has come up for the consideration of the Department of Justice. It appears that a man named Nixon was arrested at the American Sault charged with arson, and subsequently escaped from the authorities. Two officers followed him across the river to the Canadian Sault, rearrested him and brought him back to the place from whence he came. Nixon's solicitors have submitted the facts to the Department of Justice, who will be asked to determine whether or not the expedition was a kidnapping one.

The Vigilant of the fishery protection service has gone into winter quarters at St. John, N.B. There is but one vessel now in commission and she is cruising in the Bay of Fundy.

CANADIAN STOCK BOOMING.

Mr. Mercier's Loan Covered by London Subscriptions Alone.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A special to The Empire says the subscription list for £722,000 of the new Quebec Province bonds at par opened this morning in London and Paris. The Credit Lyonnais agents here inform me that the issue was entirely covered at noon by London applications alone, and bonds are quoted at 1¼ premium. The amount subscribed in Paris will be known to-morrow.

The remarkable success of the Canadian Pacific new issue is the subject of talk on 'Change to-day. The bonds are at 1¼ to 2 premium, and even The Standard declares that the issue is a flaming market success. The fact that the proportion of allotments must be small is expected to affect favorably other Canadian Pacific issues, which have lately receded, and realizations of speculative purchases made during the recent unfounded rumors of a Government assumption of the railway.

It is stated on the market that the next report of the Canada Northwest Land Company will show a large number of shares exchanged for land, and a clear sheet as regards former balances. The shares are rising.

A MYSTERIOUS MURDER AT LUCAN.

Robert Orme, a Farmer of London Township, Found Dead on the Road.

LUCAN, Jan. 18.—Robert Orme, a farmer residing on the 16th concession of the Township of London, attended a cheese factory meeting here yesterday. At 10 o'clock last evening he left the village on his return home. About three miles from the village, when nearing his own residence, he was met by some party, evidently only one person, who must have got into Orme's cutter, as every appearance indicates a severe struggle between the murdered man and his assailant.

The horse and cutter arrived home without the driver and robes. When the man's son, who had been awaiting his father's return, found the horse he immediately got into the cutter and retraced the road, supposing that the horse had run away and left the driver on the road. One mile and three-quarters from his residence he found the dead body of his father and the robes on the side of the sleigh-track. He deposited it in the cutter and drove home. He then came back to Lucan and gave the news to his friends.

Several of the villagers proceeded to the scene of the tragedy, and upon a close inspection found the man's cap, a trail of blood for a short distance, and also the revolver with which the deed had been committed.

The man's overcoat and other garments were open, which evidences the fact that robbery was the object. It is supposed that there was not much money on his person, as no money was paid out at the meeting of the cheese manufacturers, and on examination of his pockets a $2 bill was found in one of his pants pockets. He had no weapons of any kind on his person. He owned a revolver, but it was at his house with all the chambers empty. Neither was there any ammunition in the house.

Apparently nothing was disturbed on the murdered man's person. Only the overcoat and undercoat were unbuttoned. A memorandum book in the breast pocket of his overcoat was not disturbed. The revolver found was a first-class one, thirty-two calibre, with silver mounted pearl handls. Four chambers were empty.

THE MURDERED MAN.

Little Light Thrown on the Tragedy at the Inquest.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Robert B. Orme, the victim of last night's tragedy on the town line between Biddulph and London, was about 45 years old, born on the eleventh concession of London and had been a life-long resident of the neighborhood. He was a member of the Methodist Church, as were also the rest of the family, and was a well-to-do farmer. Rev. James H. Orme, the Methodist minister at Wardsville, and J. W. Orme, proprietor of The Lucan Enterprise, are brothers of deceased.

The inquest held to-day by Dr. Hossack of Lucan failed to throw much new light on the tragic event. Whitfield Orme, 17, eldest son of deceased, testified that when his father left for Lucan yesterday to attend the cheese factory meeting he was apparently in good health and spirits. Whitfield described the return of the horse and cutter last night about 10 o'clock without a driver. The horse was not heated. Witness and his brother found their father lying beside the road about a mile from home. The robe and horse blanket were partly under him. The body was still warm, but showed no signs of life. When the boys got their father home they found the bullet hole in his head.

John H. McConnell of Lucan testified that blood was traced for over 100 paces toward Lucan from the place where Orme's body was found, and here his cap lay in the snow with blood on the front of it. Near the cap a revolver was found and the side of the cutter was covered with blood.

Ernest Orme, a younger son of the victim, corroborated his brother's evidence and the inquest was adjourned for a week.

The post mortem made by Dr. Sutton of Clandeboye showed that the bullet, a 32-calibre one, had entered the right side of the skull and lodged in the lower part of the brain on the left side. The weapon was a new self-cocking six-chambered revolver, 32-calibre. Four chambers had been loaded. One was charged when found. There were three empty shells in the pistol, one shell being an old one and slightly rusty while the other two had been recently exploded.

A few days ago Orme drew $150, his share of profits in a cheese factory. He spent $50 or $60 of this money in London, but the balance is not accounted for.

In the absence of any clue to the murderer there is talk of suicide, but no plausible reason can be assigned why Mr. Orme should have taken his own life.

FRANCE AND ITALY.

The Irritation Increases—M. Flourens' Warlike Message to Signor Crispi.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—The strained relations with Italy depressed commercial and financial business to-day. The Bourse was heavy. Several evening papers violently attack Italy, and La France alludes to Premier Crispi as "Bismarck's valet." The French consul at Florence has received instructions as to the course to pursue in case the incident is prolonged.

It is semi-officially announced that Count de Mouy, the French Ambassador at Rome, having informed M. Flourens that the Proctor of Florence had intimated his intention to remove on Friday the seals affixed by the French Consulate to the documents relating to the Hussein successor, M. Flourens has requested Count de Mouy to inform Signor Crispi that if such an act of violence is committed the French Government will hold Italy responsible.

The Paris urges the Government to demand complete satisfaction from Italy for the indignity offered to the French Consulate at Florence, and, in the event of a failure by Italy to comply, to sever the relations between France and Italy and expel all Italians from France.

M. Flourens, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Count Menebrea, the Italian Ambassador, had a friendly interview this evening. An early settlement of the dispute over the Florence incident is now certain.

Will Postpone Removing the Seals.

ROME, Jan. 18.—The Riforma announces that the Government will postpone the removal of the seals placed on the Hussein documents by the French Consulate at Florence but declines to be responsible for the acts of the judicial authorities there.

At the German consulate, in London, yesterday, Samuel Fuchs swore that Prince Gustav of Says-Wittgenstein received 60,000 marks from him as a loan. The Prince asserted that he won the money at cards. The jury decided against the Prince.

MR. COOK LOSES HIS SEAT.

BRIBERY BY AN AGENT CLEARLY ESTABLISHED.

Patton, the Briber, and Owen, the Bribed, to be Tried for Corrupt Practices—Other Charges Not Gone Into—Mr. Cook Will Not Seek Re-election.

ORILLIA, Jan. 18.—The East Simcoe election trial was continued this morning before His Lordship Justice Rose. Mr. McCarthy, for petitioner, called John J. Baskerville on the Owen charge. Witness worked at the asylum, Orillia. Patton did not talk to him about his vote. He asked witness to work on election day as the engineers were coming. Witness voted.

William Jackson, a livery stable man, was next sworn. He took no part in the election; posted some bills; attended at Reform committee rooms occasionally and saw Patton there.

William Vick, painter at new Asylum, Orillia, stated he voted in Orillia. Was a voter at Penetanguishene but was appointed Cook's agent; got certificate of agency through Patton. Patton took it for granted witness would vote for Cook. Patton had a voters' list for the town. Witness does not work for the Ontario Government but for the contractor, McCausland.

Andrew Clark served a subpœna on Arthur Young, and Young not attending, a bench warrant was ordered to be issued against him.

James Gunnigal, a livery stable keeper, testified that Patton asked him for a team on election day, which witness furnished to Isaac Sanders, but has not been paid. Witness furnished Patton with a bill. Patton also hired two single rigs for that day which were got by other men.

Isaac Sanders stated that Patton, in the committee room a few days before the election, asked him to drive to North Orillia on election day and go to Gunnigal and get the rig, which he did. Witness was not to be paid.

John Reardon said he also got a rig from Gunnigal's and took out two Reform votes to Artrey, but didn't know who asked him to drive the rig.

This is all the evidence Mr. McCarthy offered on Patton's agency and Mr. McLaren, for the respondent, called Dr. John McLean, the President of the Reform Association, who said he did not recognize Patton as an agent. He saw Patton at the committee rooms but did not see him doing anything. He did not remember that Patton was present when the friends were asked to turn out with their teams.

William Harvey, the secretary, said he did not hear anything said by Patton to Sanders about driving a team on election day.

James Patton said that he asked the protection of the court; that he hired the team from Gunnigal himself.

Argument was then heard, after which His Lordship held that Patton was guilty of a corrupt practice in given Owen $5 for the purpose of inducing him to vote at the election, that Patton was an agent, the corrupt acts that he did being of such a nature as the committee must have been cognizant of. The court further stated that, though Patton asked the protection of the court, when he was recalled his evidence was not given in such a candid or satisfactory manner as to induce him to extend it to him as to his former evidence.

Mr. McCarthy said, in view of His Lordship's decision, he would not press the further charges.

Mr. McLaren reiterated his intention to appeal, especially as to the point as to the time having elapsed in which the trial could take place.

His Lordship then appointed Feb. 1, at Barrie, for the trial of Patton and Owen for corrupt practices.

Mr. Cook Not to Run Again.

Mr. Cook stated to his friends not long ago that if he was unseated in this trial he would not run again, as the bother over election trials was greater than the game was worth. He was tired of fighting elections, and then of fighting his opponents in the courts.

THE FISHERIES CONFERENCE.

A Protracted Session Held Yesterday—Adjourned Until Saturday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The Fisheries Conference met this afternoon, and after a lengthy session adjourned until Saturday.

There are as yet no intimations from the plenipotentiaries regarding the progress of the negotiations, or the result likely to be arrived at.

The Trafalgar-Square Riots Trials.

LONDON, Jan. 18—The trial of Cunningham Graham, M.P. for Lanarkshire, and Mr. Burns, the Socialist leader, for participation in the riots near Trafalgar-square on Nov. 13, was concluded to-day. The prisoners were declared not guilty of the charges of rioting and of assault, but guilty of the charge of taking part in an unlawful assembly. They were sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment.

MR. GREENWAY'S CABINET

Formed After No End of Trouble—And Still More in Store.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 18.—According to The Evening Sun Mr. Greenway is asking for the commiseration of his friends and not their congratulations. His task in forming a Cabinet is evidently not an enviable one. Reformer after Reformer has kicked and kicked vigorously against Mayor Jones being taken into the Cabinet, until the Premier is tired. So far he has succeeded in getting a majority of the caucus to swallow him, although the majority favors Winrow. Mr. A. F. Martin's efforts to secure a portfolio have been apparently unsuccessful, and Mr. Pendergast will be chosen. The disposition of portfolios will be as follows: Thomas Greenway, Premier and Provincial Treasurer; Joseph Martin, Attorney-General and Railway Commissioner; James A. Smart, Minister of Public Works; L. M. Jones, Provincial Secretary; James A. Pendergast, Minister of Agriculture.

It is learned that so strong is the opposition to Mayor Jones that he has wired declining a seat in the Greenway Cabinet.

THE CENTRAL BANK LIQUIDATION.

Affairs in a Sorry Plight—The Niagara Central Notes.

TORONTO, Jan. 19.—The announcement made yesterday that not over 40 cents on the dollar would be paid to the depositors has depressed North Toronto and Guelph, where many of the depositors reside. The information that could be gathered yesterday may be briefly summed up as follows: That 40 cents on the dollar will hardly be realized in instalments, and after much delay.

The shareholders are also in uncomfortable plight. The proceedings before the Master-in-Ordinary at Osgoode Hall yesterday were to the end to let no shareholder escape under guise of transfer or otherwise.

Mr. Foster asked leave to sue certain parties, and asked also for an order endorsing certain actions taken by the liquidators on Jan. 6, on their own authority. The orders were made, and the liquidators were directed to take proceedings in other cases, according to their own judgment, provided there was reasonable security for costs, and that no action should be brought to trial without an order from the Master.

Mr. Foster asked, in reference to the still which was to be prepared of contributories liable as shareholders, whether the names of those who had transferred their shares within the month prior to the suspension should be included, or only those to whom the shares had been transferred. After reciting the provisions of the Winding-up Act, which are more general than those of the Bank Act, in that they direct that not only all persons by law liable, but all persons who are not explicitly freed by law from liability shall be brought in, the Master directed that the liquidators should use their own discretion and bring before him on Saturday next, Jan. 21, as full a list as possible, when the whole matter will be discussed.

The Master directed Mr. Campbell to give him an account on Saturday next of his action as interim liquidator.

In the afternoon Mr. James Maclennan, Q.C., appeared before the Master on behalf of the Niagara Central Railway. It seems that that company borrowed $100,000 from the bank, giving as security notes endorsed personally by the directors and others interested in the road, said notes extending over eighteen months, and an agreement was also made that when the notes matured debentures of the City of St. Catharines were to be substituted for them. Instead of keeping these notes in the safe of the bank the management rediscounted them with other banks in order to raise money to carry it over the difficulties that beset the path of the Central. The Dominion Bank got one of these notes for $25,000 and the Imperial one for $34,500. Mr. Maclennan moved that under the agreement made not to dispose of the notes, the liquidators should be ordered to take them up out of the moneys in their hands. This was opposed by Mr. O'Brien for the liquidators. The Master, however, ordered that the $25,000, which is due to-day, should be taken up by the liquidators, and notice given by advertisement to the shareholders when the other note matures.

The Central Bank in Guelph.

The failure of the Central Bank is felt more in Guelph than in any other community in the country. A branch of the bank was established in Guelph under the management of a gentleman who was popular with the business people of the Royal City. The result was that a large proportion of the businessmen of the place withdrew their accounts from the older banks and placed them in the Central. Many men of means were induced to become stockholders in the new concern, and a considerable proportion of the whole stock of the bank was held in Guelph. The crash came and Guelph is in sackcloth and ashes. The failure of the bank made such a clean sweep of the available money of the Guelph people that it is now almost impossible to collect accounts in that city. Business of every kind, except the larger manufactories, is hampered, and the whole city is plunged into such a condition for lack of money that it will be marvelous if some of the business concerns will be able to pull through.

LAKEFIELD.

Correspondence of the Review.

COUNCIL MEETING.—A regular meeting of the Council was held on Jan. 16th. Present, the Reeve in the chair, Councillors Moore, Henderson, Nelson and Hull. All took the required declaration. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and confirmed. It was moved by Councillor Henderson, and seconded by Councillor Moore,—That this Council do now adjourn to meet at 7 p.m.—Carried. The Council resumed business pursuant to ajournment at 7 p.m. It was moved by Councillor Henderson, and seconded by Councillor Nelson, —That the applications of Geo. Rowe and Thos. Dunford for the position of Roadmaster be received.—Carried. Moved by Councillor Hull and seconded by Councillor Henderson,—That the consideration of the "Rules of Order" be laid over until next regular meeting of the Council.—Carried. A by-law to appoint auditors received its several readings, was signed and sealed. Messrs. Wm. M. Graham and J. S. Madill were appointed auditors for the year 1888. A by-law to appoint a Roadmaster received its several readings, was signed and sealed, appointing Isaac Watson, sr., Roadmaster for 1888. A by-law to appoint Jonathan Griffin and Abel Hendren, Assessors, received its several readings, was signed and sealed. Mr. Thos. Gordon was appointed to act as Arbitrator. A by-law to appoint a Board of Health received its several readings, appointing Messrs. R. C. Strickland, Robt. Graham, sr., and Thos. J. Cox. It was moved by Councilor Moore and seconded by Councillor Nelson,—That Councillors Nelson and Henderson be a Road and Bridge Committee for the year 1888.—Carried. It was moved by Councillor Henderson and seconded by Councillor Nelson,—That Councillors Hull and Moore be a Committee on Finance for 1888.—Carried. It was moved by Councillor Moore and seconded by Councillor Hull,—That the Street and Bridge Committee take charge of the work on the other side of river with Councillor Moore.—Carried. It was moved by Councillor Nelson and seconded by Councillor Henderson,—That this Council do now adjourn to meet at the call of the Reeve.—Carried.

THE COUNCIL'S HEAD.—It was said that Reeve Casement would "look well in print," but Reeve Casement, I think, looks even better in the civic chair.

SAD ACCIDENT.—Mr. Rolie Griffin was unfortunate enough to have his hand caught in a circular saw, in his father's planing mill, thereby losing a first finger entirely and badly injuring a third finger. Drs. Bell and Fraser dressed the injured members. We tender him our sincere sympathy.

NEW FACTORY.—Messrs. R. & G. Strickland are building a large frame building on their raceway, to be occupied by Mr. Walter Strickland and Mr. Booth in the manufacturing of fine flannels. The factory in full running capacity will employ about sixty hands. The factory will be a boon to Lakefield. A few more enterprising men like the above firm in our midst, and Lakefield will be a town.

A FAST TEAM.—Mr. Lister has purchased from Mr. Lockerty, a very fast driving team, with which he expects to throw the dust in the faces of all our local bloods. Bring out your horses, boys, and give him a brush.

AT THE LAND SALE.—Mr. Wm. Graham went to Peterborough on Tuesday to try and buy some cheap property at Julien's Landing, which was to be sold for taxes, but Wes. was too sharp for him, and Willie came home minus.

SERENADING.—The Foresters Band were out Tuesday evening, serenading Mr. and Mrs. Peter Baptie, also Mr. and Mrs. Eastland. Our boys of the band are liberal with their music and frequently enliven our streets with the sweet strains of their instruments.

METHODIST MISSIONS.—Missionary sermons were preached in the Methodist Church on Sunday, both morning and evening. In the morning the Rev. I. Tovell, of Peterborough, gave us a very interesting discourse. Text, 17th chapter St. John's gospel, 4th verse. Mrs. Nelly, organist, played a beautiful voluntary during the collection. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Keene, preached, taking for his text, "Lord, what will though have me to do?" Acts 9th chapter, part of 6th verse. During collection, Miss White and Mr. Henderson sang a duet.

FIRE PROTECTION.—No village in Ontario is better situated that Lakefield for fire protection, and yet how careless the ratepayers are concerning it. We will wake up some fine morning, with our village made desolate by fire. It will serve the villagers right, as they love not their homes enough to protect them. "Remember Gravenhurst."

BAPTISM.—At the morning service in St. John's Church on Sunday last two, little children were brought forward for the rite of baptism, when the son of Mr. R. C Strickland received the name of George Roper, and the Rev. J. Farncomb's daughter was called Helen Dorothea. Mr. G. W. R Strickland, Mr. Barlee and Miss Bloomfield stood as sponsors for the former infant.

HAVELOCK.

Correspondence of the Review.

GENERAL.—The fine sleighing which is common in our vicinity at present makes everything lively. The vicinity immediately surrounding the station is the principle centre of attraction.

CONUNDRUM.—If the extremities of finite lines are points, what will be the result of two young men loving the same girl?

THEY KICKED.—Heretofore the Havelock branch of the Independant Order of Good Templars has met in the school house, but we now understand the trustees have some conscientious scruples against meeting there anymore. It is to be hoped the report is without foundation, as that place we should think was the most suitable place.

ENTERPRISE.—The cold weather does not seem to stop the growth of our town. Houses are still going up rapidly.

HASTINGS.

UPSET BY THE WIND.—The high wind upset Simpson's bus while waiting at the station last Friday afternoon.

ARM BROKEN.—Last Thursday forenoon one of the men (an Italian) who was assisting in unloading the large stone at the river siding got his right arm broken between the wrist and elbow, by a blow from the windlass crank. Dr. Coughlin set the fracture, and the man left for his home at Foxburg on the evening train.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the united Townships of Dummer and Douro Agricultural Society was held in the Agricultural Hall, Warsaw, on Thursday, Jan. 12th, and was well attended as usual. The Directors are to be congratulated on their labors for the past year. There is one grand thing that has been done by this old and reliable society, viz., that of bringing in pure bred stock bulls, Durhams, Ayrshires and Holsteins to this neighbourhood for the use of its members. There is a marked improvement in stock of late years in these parts. Only one thing has to be done, viz., to join the society and receive its benefits. The society at the present time can boast of its forty members with a balance sheet in the treasurer's hands of nearly $300. The legislative grant for the last year was over $100. The society held their fall show in October last, which was well attended and was a success, where the marked improvement in stock could be readily seen. The Directors with President Smith as leader work with energy and good will and feel satisfied that the old society is still the A No. 1 in the County of Peterborough or Province of Ontario. All communications addressed to Wm. Snelgrove, Secretary, Warsaw.

M'CLURE.

SCHOOL EXAMINATION AND ENTERTAINMENT.—The teacher, Miss Lillian Britton, of Peterborough, who has taught on S. S. No. 2, McClure, the last two years, gave notice of an intended entertainment for the amusement of the scholars to be held on Friday evening, Dec. 16th, and sent a cordial invitation for everybody to be present. For an hour previous to the stipulated time teams with their loaded sleighs came rushing up. The passengers mingling with the children and their parents found the house well provided with seats and decorated with evergreen boughs, and they soon made themselves (though somewhat crowded) quite comfortable. Very soon the teacher, with that elastic and ladylike bearing so natural to her, entered, exhibiting a long sheet of paper on which was written a well arranged programme, consisting of recitations, readings, dialogues, songs, exercises in grammar, history and other branches of education taught in the school, in which all the scholars from the smallest to the largest took part. Under the the guidance of Miss Britton the programme was carried out with such precision and good order as to make it apparent that there must have been some time spent in training the scholars, as well as expense in preparing suitable disguises for the occasion. There was excellent order kept and not a ruffle disturbed the audience the whole evening. Every face was lit up with admiration throughout the whole performance and at the end of every piece a burst of applause would break forth, and now and then, "encore, encore," would be called. At the request of the teacher one of the ladies present sang a song in which the words "ha, ha" were frequently repeated, which brought to notice in the audience a small boy, not old enough to talk, but who is certainly highly gifted in observing what is passing, as at intervals he gave vent to the exclamation "ha, ha, ha!" which added to the general amusement of the evening. The programme was ended by singing the National Anthem. Several of the pupils, and in fact the whole school, gave remarkable evidence of the superior faculty of their teacher of imparting to the scholars a knowledge of the different branches taught in the public schools. The superior qualities of Miss Britton have endeared her to her scholars, and they as well as their parents sincerely regret that she is going to leave the school and go elsewhere.—Madoc Review.

THE MILITARY BILL.

Disposed of by the Reichstag Committee—Russian Anti-German Measures.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—The Committee of the Reichstag to-day disposed of the Landwehr clauses of the Military Bill and adopted an amendment relating to the period of service, the effect of which will be to enable men entering the active army before their twentieth year to leave the Landwehr earlier. In the course of the sitting General Von Schellendorf, the Minister of War, stated that the measure would give the army in time of war an addition of nearly 700,000 trained men. The committee approved the bill without further amendment. The cost is estimated at between 80,000,000 and 100,000,000 marks.

The Russian Government has renewed its anti-German measures in the Baltic provinces. Forty Lutheran clergymen in Livonia have been deprived of their benefices without a moment's notice because they used only the German language. The Czar revives the post of Governor of the Three Provinces and holds that official specially responsible for Russianizing measures.

The Polish Circle in Vienna has received an accession of strength in the persons of the exiled nobles hitherto residing in France and Italy. They have learned from Warsaw that secretly printed proclamations, unauthorized by the Polish Nationalists, bearing the arms of Poland and Austria, are being circulated in Warsaw. These proclamations call upon the Poles to rise in view of the impending war. The directors of Polish journals in Galicia held a conference in Lemberg and decided to maintain the greatest reserve and to warn Russian Poles against the men who are trying to incite a rising.

Death of an Old Resident of Oshawa.

OSHAWA, Jan. 18.—Flags were at half mast here to-day on account of the death at Brooklyn, N.Y., yesterday of Mrs. Harriet Hall Glen, wife of T. W. Glen, ex-M P. for South Ontario. Mrs. Glen was a resident of Oshawa for over twenty-five years. She was a generous and charitable Christian woman, and her philanthropy was widely extended to the needy and poor.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Board of Trustees of McMaster University have decided to call a meeting of the Baptist Convention at Guelph on March 27 to discuss and decide the question as to whether McMaster University shall remain independent or federate with Toronto University. The location of the institution will also be decided.

A boy named John Sullivan made an attempt to get on a train of Ontario and Quebec empty cars while they were passing Peter-street at noon yesterday, and in his effort to scramble on he fell and the train passed over his left leg, severing it above the knee. The ambulance was called and the boy was taken to 151 Dundas-street, where his parents live.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.

The grain and produce markets were rather quiet at home, while abroad they showed more activity.

LOCAL STREET MARKET.

The receipts of grain on the street to-day were fair and prices firm. About 300 bushels of wheat offered and sold at 83c to 83½c for fall, 77c to 82c for spring, and 73c to 74c for goose. Barley steady, with sales of 1500 bushels at 65c to 81c. Oats firm, with sales of 500 bushels at 48c to 50c. Peas sold at 66c to 67c. Hay in limited supply and prices steady; 20 loads sold at $10 to $12 for clover, and $13 to $15 for timothy. Straw quiet and prices steady, with sales at $10 to $11. Dressed hogs firm at $7 to $7.30. Beef, $3 to $5 for forequarters, and $5 to $7.50 for hindquarters. Mutton $6 to $7.50; lamb at $7.50 to $9; veal $6.50 to $8.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Transactions on St. Lawrence market this morning were below the ordinary. The supply was more than equal to the demand, but prices did not weaken. Beef and pork were offered in large quantities, but there were very small sales. Yesterday's prices ruled. Business in dairy products and eggs was especially flat, and hucksters only offered poultry.

OSWEGO BARLEY MARKET.

Oswego reports barley firm to-day at the following prices: No. 1 Can. 92½c, No. 2 extra Can. 89c, No. 1 bright 95c. Sales 10,000 bushels No. 1 Can at 92½c. No. 1 Can on private terms. Shipments 20,000 bush.

Perilous Ride on a Cowcatcher.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—Word was received here to-day that a farmer's sleigh was struck by a Canadian Pacific Railway train last night in the vicinity of Woodstock. The sleigh was smashed to fragments, and Wm. Hutchinson of the fifteenth concession. East Zorra, and Thos. Dell, a laborer of Woodstock, both sustained severe injuries, one of them being carried seven-eighths of a mile on the cowcatcher. They were taken to Woodstock and cared for.

A Disturbance in Rouen Cathedral.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—A priest in the Rouen Cathedral personated God in a dialog with the Devil. The congregation became incensed and hissed and sang the "Marseillaise" and "Revenant De La Revue." The police were called upon to quell the disorder. They made several arrests, but failed to clear the cathedral.

Shot His Wife and Killed Himself.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Jan. 18.—Frank Foucker, a young Austrian, this afternoon shot his wife Addie three times in the head, inflicting wounds which will probably prove fatal, and then shot and instantly killed himself. The couple were only married Sept. 7 last, and after living together some three months separated on account of Fouckner's jealousy.

It is currently reported about town that it is the intention of Mr. Thomas Bradburn to erect a commodious Opera House, during the coming summer. The site named is the lot at the corner of George and King streets, where the old "Gibson" blacksmith shop now stands. Such a building is now almost a necessity and the general impression is that the speculation will be a paying one.

More Men.

Mr. Ted. Cavanagh returned from Trenton on the Grand Junction train last night. He was there hiring men for Mr. Mossom Boyd and secured forty-five, seven of whom were from Belleville and the rest from Trenton. The wages run from $18 to $20 per month. The men left for the neighborhood of Kinmount on the 10.30 train this morning. It is said that there are about three thousand men engaged in lumbering operations in the vicinity of Kinmount.

This Evening.

A public meeting, under the auspices of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, will be held at the Opera House at 7.30 o'clock this evening. Mr. J. Stevenson, M. P., will preside. The programme includes an address by Prof. Mills, of the Guelph Agricultural College, on "High and Public Schools, what they are doing and what they should do," and by Mr. Drury, M.P.P. on "Agricultural as a Profession." The admission is free and the public are cordially invited to attend.

The Lindsay Fire.

The Lindsay town council at a meeting held Tuesday night passed a resolution offering $1,000 reward for information as to who set fire to the residence of Mr. W. Flavelle and store of Dundas & Flavelle Bros., on the night of Monday previous. A letter was submitted to the council and signed by eight of the local hotel keepers disclaiming any imputation that that fire had been been set with their connivance and urging strong measures to discover the perpetrators. The hotel keepers have arranged to supplement the above amount with a further sum of $800.

After the Doctors.

It having come to the knowledge of the authorities at Toronto that some of our local physicians are not paying much attention to the law which requires them to report all cases of infectious diseases, met with in their practices, to the Medical Health Officer or Secretary of the Board of Health, instructions have been sent to see that the law is fully carried out. As the penalty for neglecting to report cases of infectious diseases is a severe one, those interested had better govern themselves accordingly. The necessary blanks will be furnished free of charge by the Secretary of the local Board of Health.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The Inaugural Meeting at the Court House.

The first meeting of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held at the Court House, this morning.

The chair was occupied by Mr. James Stevenson M. P., and the attendance was small. Among those present were Messrs. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., W. Drury, M. P. P. East Simcoe, Prof. Mills, Agricultural College, Guelph, T. M. Willan, A. R. Kidd, Dr. Crevier, D. Kennedy, T. E. Bell, F. J. Bell, J. Bennett and Wm. Collins.

The meeting was advertised to take place at 10.30 o'clock, but it was not until an hour after that time that a sufficient number were present to commence, and even then, overcoats were in great demand on account of the cold.

Mr. Stevenson, M.P., as Chairman, opened the meeting by making a few appropriate remarks and reading the programme. He concluded by calling on Prof. Mills.

Prof. MILLS, of the Guelph Agricultural College, was glad of the opportunity of meeting even a limited number of farmers of the County of Peterborough. This is the fourth year that he had been attending Institutes and he did not know of anything else doing so much good for such a small expenditure of money. At his suggestion the Government had lengthened the winter vacation of the college from January 1st to 23rd and the whole of the time was devoted to attending Institutes and probably fifty would be attended this season. He did not come to conduct the Institute, but simply to assist. He did not pretend to teach farmers, many could probably teach him, but by meeting together and comparing notes, all could learn. When he visited a section where a farmers' club existed he found the farmers thoroughly posted, alive to all the modern improvements and having the faculty of expressing their views in a lucid manner. The Farmers' Institutes are a grand institution and are come to stay. He was of the opinion that the farmers were falling behind in the matter of cultivating the soil The English delegates who visited us some few months ago were well pleased with everything they saw, except that the farms were enclosed by broken down fences and were covered with weeds. All farms must be cleaned and unless the model farm was soon cleaned he would sell it. He had spent many years on the farm and had started at the bottom of the ladder and he knew what he was talking about. Fields must be cleaned or we must stop farming. It does not pay to cultivate weeds, as there is little enough plant food in the soil for the crops. When you see a dirty farm you may conclude that the man is either cultivating too much land, he is lazy, or he does not know his business. The first aim in cultivating land is a seed bed, the 2nd the loosening of the soil, and the third essential is a tilling to hold water. The more soil is cultivated the more ammonia is absorbed and the soil enriched. At all times only about one per cent. of the minerals are available for plant food, and soil must be opened to admit the air so that the mineral ingredients are properly dissolved. The stirring of the soil enables it to withstand drought, because it is porous and the air by circulating through it deposits the moisture. Soil cannot be cultivated too much, and if the soil about potatoes or turnips is well stirred during a dry season, it is almost as good as a rain. Farmers often make a mistake by waiting until the weeds come before commencing work. All stubble ground should be plowed twice after harvest. Run the gang plough and cultivator as soon as the crop is harvested. Plow once in July or August and it is as good as two ploughings in the spring to check weeds and open up the soil. He advocated turning down a clover sod to get a large supply of nitrogen on the land.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON, M.P.P., said that the attendance was fully up to what he had expected at the first meeting. It was understood that commercial union was not to be discussed at any of these meetings, when Professors from the Agricultural College were present, and he hoped all would govern themselves accordingly. Mr. Drury, M.P. P., was present and would speak on farming topics and to-morrow Prof. Robertson, of the Agricultural College, and Mr. Dryden, M.P.P., would be present.

The meeting then adjourned until 2 p.m.

OLD Highprice fell in a swoon on the sidewalk in front of KIDD'S boot & shoe store. The low prices nearly killed the old chap.

Matrimonial.

The Port Hope Times says:—"We have much pleasure in recording the marriage of Mr. G. R. Stephens, of the G. T. Ry., Peterborough, to Miss Jennie Foster, of Toronto. The interesting ceremony took place at St. John's Church, Toronto, the Rev. A. Williams officiating. Miss Stephenson, of Lindsay, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Bunton, of Peterborough, seconded the groom. After the nuptials had been solemnized the wedding guests, numbering over fifty, proceeded to the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. Jas. Young, and partook of a luxuriant 'dejeuner,' after which the bridal couple left on the 6 p. m. train for the west. After escorting the happy couple to the station the guests returned to the residence of Mr. Young and spent a very pleasant evening tripping the light fantastic until the wee sma' hours in honor of the occasion. The bride, whose many sterling qualities and charming manners has endeared her to a large circle of friends, was made the recipient of a large number of beautiful and costly presents. Amongst the presents a handsome French mantle clock and a beautiful epergne, the former of which was presented to Mr. Stephens by his fellow employees of the Midland Division of the G. T. Ry, and the latter by his Peterborough friends. Both the bride and bridegroom are old residents of Port Hope and are widely and favorably known and we in common with their many friends have much pleasure in extending to them our hearty congratulations and wish them a long, happy and prosperous life." We extend our congratulations.

MANUFACTURERS' LIFE.

The First Annual Meeting of Shareholders in Toronto.

The first annual meeting of the Manufacturer's Life Insurance Company was held in the council chamber of the Board of Trade rooms, Toronto, on Tuesday forenoon, with agents, general agents, inspectors and officials from different parts of Dominion in attendance. The Right Honorable Sir John A. Macdonald was voted to the chair.

The first important business done was reading of the first annual report, which summed up the events of the brilliant career of the company since its inception only five months ago. The amount of business done to date is over $3,000,000. One clause in the report will be of interest to Peterborough people. It is: "We have been called on to pay one claim of $7,000 under a policy on the life of our first agent, the late Andrew Wilson, in whom the company has lost one of its most efficient workers, and whose place it will be difficult to fill."

After the reading of the report several speeches were made. Two noteworthy facts were brought out. One was that during the five months life of the company as much business had been done as was done by other companies for the first several years of their life. The other fact was that while the expenses of other companies for every $100 of income reached from $50 to $90 the expense per $100 of income for the Manufacturers' Life was only $28. These two facts stand as monuments to testify the zeal of the agents and economy of management.

A number of motions of thanks were passed, including one to the agents. Mr. Patterson proposed it in a droll and mirth provoking manner. He viewed the insurance agent as a much maligned individual, seeing that he spent his whole effort for the benefit of the race. The amount of good, in in alleviating distress and providing ample funds for second husbands, which the insurance man did, was incalculable, and considering that it was not on account of a desire for gain, but a pure solicitude for humanity—(laughter)—that induced him to go through all these trials, he did not understand why an insurance man should not be placed on the highest pedestal of esteem.

Mr. L. A. Morrison, brother of Mr. Geo. A Morrison, of this town, responded in behalf of the policy holders, speaking of the modes of operation adopted by the company as being entirely satisfactory, the prospects of the Company as being cheering, and the work done already as being phenomenal.

Among the General Agents present was Mr. Geo. A. Morrison, Manager for Eastern Ontario, whose agents have contributed the largest amount of business to the head office of any in the Dominion. Those who are under Mr. Morrison's supervision present at the meeting were Messrs. Jas. Galon, Lindsay; T. Will Gibbs, W. A. King, J. Thompson and J. Robertson, Peterborough; A. C. Maycock, Bailliieboro; A. A. Hudgin, Picton, and J. N. G. Lodge, Port Hope.

A fuller report of the financial standing of the Company will be given in the REVIEW in a few days.

Sunday School Entertainment.

On Wednesday evening the scholars of the Mission Sunday School of St. John's Church parish were entertained at a tea in the Mission School House from half past six to half past seven, when a very nice programme was presented of vocal and instrumental music, and recitations by the following:—Vocal solo by Miss Maggie Watt and chorus, "Music of Heaven;" recitation, "Baby in Church," by Miss Mabel Roy; violin solo by Miss Yokome, who in response to a hearty encore played "Home, Sweet Home" with variations very sweetly; recitation by Master Richard Watt; song Miss Watt; recitation, Miss May Martin; recitatation Master Percy Waghern; song, "The Gleaners," by Miss Ellie Martin; recitation, Alice Barlow; recitation, Miss Birdie Martin; violin solo, Mr. Young; recitation, Miss Phennie Hillier; recitation, Miss Lucy Sabine; recitation, Miss Lilly Rush; song, "Bambury Cross," Mrs. Seward; recitation, Master Harold Hillier; recitation, Miss MacFarlane. Mr. Young, superintendent of the school, then called the several classes to the platform and presented them with bags filled with candies, nuts and raisins, when, having a number left, he called the former superintendant, Mr. Yokome, and teachers to the front and presented them each with the same, much to the enjoyment of the audience. The entertainment closed with the singing of the National Anthem. The thanks of the promoters are due to Mr. Seward for his services as accompanist.

Brevities.

—Six rinks of curlers and some of their friends left for Toronto by the C. P. R. last night. They play two games to-day.

—Keene and Belleville curlers, two rinks aside, played at the latter place on Wednesday. Belleville won by 24 shots.

—Two of the men brought up from Trenton, last night, engaged in a fisticuff encounter shortly after they reached town. Friends separated them before either were hurt.

—A case of simple assault was on the Police Court docket this morning. The parties, however, met and agreed to bury the hatchet, so the charge was withdrawn.

—An unusually large number of sawlogs are being brought into town this year by farmers. They are being cut into lumber at the custom mills.

—The dates definitely fixed for the West Peterborough Agricultural Society's show are Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 25th, 26th and 27th. It is rather a long look ahead, but affords ample time to work up a successful exhibition.

—Town Clerk Macdonald received a letter the other day from the secretary of the C. P. R. addressed to the Clerk of the "Township" of Peterborough. He has frequently been addressed as city clerk, but this is the first time that Township has been used.

—Several of the large red notices posted by the police, forbidding coasting on the hills of the town, have been torn down. The boys must remember that the police are bound to prosecute all offenders, notices or no notices.

—The cash receipts at the Police Court last year were over $8,000, the largest in the history of the town. This does not show a lower state of morality, but the increase is due to the Scott Act penalties. The fines imposed for other offences do not reach as large an amount as usual.

—Cobourg owes the Ontario Government $90,000 and an agreement has been made to settle for $25,000. Is such a deal fair to Peterborough and a few other places who are compelled to pay up the last cent, on account of the Municipal Loan fund debt?

—"Is there a Trenton man in the lock up? asked a lumberman at the police station last night. He was given a negative answer and asked for further information. He replied, "We just got up from Trenton to-night, and on the train one of our men said he was going to lick a policeman as soon as he reached town. As soon as we had tea the man who was seeking trouble started off and we have not seen him since; so I thought perhaps he had attempted to carry out his threat and had been pulled in."

Chine cloths are new. These have dark colored grounds, with indistinct designs in two or more harmonizing colors.

A new principle has been devised for cutting dresses of checkered materials, thereby minimizing the number of seams.

Wide fichu collars of plush, that cover the shoulders and are pointed in front, are used upon short cloth cloaks with pleasing effect.

When passementerie is used upon black dresses, apple green, cherry red or white silk is often inserted beneath the gimp, with excellent effect.

Some new black jackets of English manufacture have heavy cord epaulettes, and show a narrow waistcoat of red cloth, bordered with gold buttons.

A new braid is silk soutache, edged with gold or silver. A charming dress of gray striped woolen was decorated with gray braid, edged with silver, laid upon gray poult de soie.

Novel boas are made of ice wool in beige and gray, the former resembling otter, the latter blue fox. Made of light blue, pink or cream they are a pretty and inexpensive wrap for the throat in the evening.

A tailor made costume of fine red serge had the entire bodice, from the throat to the edge of the basque, covered with inch wide black braid, tapering at the waist—a very effective and becoming arrangement.

Peau de soie is receiving the attention of ladies who are purchasing silks. It is firm and strong, and adapts itself perfectly to the lines of the figure when fitted. It is also very effective when combined with woolens.

Dressy black costumes have the skirts composed of lengthwise rows of cord passementerie and black velvet sash ribbon. The ribbon, which is seven or eight inches wide, has inch wide stripes of velvet and repped silk.

New cloths having a border woven on one edge are used for long cloaks, the border being placed in two rows upon the front and the back. These borders are of contrasting colors, sometimes showing cashmere designs.

A handsome wrap recently noted was of green plush, with shoulder pieces which lengthen into hanging sleeves made of green cloth, heavily braided. The garment was fitted closely at the back, and was long enough to cover the entire dress.

Braiding is, as every one knows, very fashionable, in both wide and narrow braids, and in every conceivable design. A novelty in this line was worked in intricate patterns with smooth rat-tail chenille, like that so popular in fringe two or three seasons ago.

Now that plain skirts are preferred to all others, much depends upon the perfection with which they are hung and the arrangement of their draperies. The highest skill of the dressmaker is often taxed to make the skirt of a heavy cloth costume stand out stylishly at the back without visible support from beneath.

THE GOVERNOR'S BIG BALL

TWELVE HUNDRED GAY REVELERS AT THE GUBERNATORIAL HOUSE.

A Crowded Scene of Gayety, Music and Flowers—A Bevy of Charming Debutantes—The Social Event of 1888—Many Merry Men and Women.

TORONTO, Jan. 19.

COLD AND CLEAR shone the stars above Government House and its ample grounds last night. Blue and red lamps lighted the way to prancing steeds with jingling bells up the drive to the canopied King-street entrance. Sleigh load after sleigh load of maidenly and matronly beauty found an ingress through this door. Gallants in conventional evening dress and officers of the Garrison, with bespurred boots and clanking swords, accompanied these fair ones.

Twelve hundred people at a ball! And about two-thirds of them ready for the dance. That would lead the reader to believe that it was a pretty robust party indeed. It was just so large that every room in the building was brought into requisition, if for nothing more in some instances than a breathing space. Over fifteen hundred invitations were sent out, with twelve hundred acceptances.

The brilliantly-lighted parlors, the reception-rooms, the libraries, the conservatory, the broad hallways, the ante-rooms, overflowed with social Toronto. It was agreeably noticeable, to the masculine eye at least, that the ladies had the call as to numbers. They were there in the proportion of four to three. The throng was too dense to enable even a critical spectator to properly estimate the richness and beauty of the hundreds of feminine costumes. The delicate shades of blue, white, gold, cardinal and pink were too closely bunched for harmonious effect.

Sir Alexander and Miss Marjorie spent over an hour in receiving their guests when they began to arrive. The Governor was sans uniform, and not a few of the inquisitive wondered thereat. They expected to see Sir Alexander bedecked in a cocked hat, plumes, yards of gold lace and a sword. They will probably have to wait till the Legislature opens next Thursday for this display of governmental tinsel. Miss Marjorie looked lovely in white tulle as she assisted in the early reception. She was the admired of the many and the happiness of all.

Hon. O. Mowat, Hon. A. S. Hardy and Hon. G. W. Ross did the honors for Sir Alexander's constitutional advisers, and as is usual with these astute politicians, they did it well. The Attorney-General was frequently quizzed about his meeting with Sir John and the Governor on Tuesday, but he was too deeply concerned in the gay scenes around him to talk about such trivial matters. By the way, the gentleman from Brantford who presides over the State Department is really an attraction to the ladies on such occasions.

An hour after midnight the guests began to depart and by 2.30 this morning the halls of Government House were pretty well deserted, with naught else left but the fragrance of the flowers and exotics, the still brightly illuminated apartments and the lingering vestiges of a gay feast. This, the first ball at Government House under the present regime, which may be designated as on a large scale will be remembered by those that attended as Toronto's great social event for 1888.

THE NEXT MORNING.

Because the ladies all enjoyed themselves thoroughly is no reason why our artist should have suppressed the accompanying sketch as representing a belle the morning after the ball.

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed and sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates and vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

MONA SCULLY;

—OR—

The Bride of an Englishman.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

CHAPTER III.

It is ten days later. The air is growing brisker, the flowers bear no new buds. More leaves are falling on the woodland paths, and the trees are throwing out their last bright autumn tints of red and brown and richest orange, that tell all too plainly of the death that lies before them.

It is mid-day, and Geoffrey, gun in hand, is idly stalking through the sloping wood that rises behind Mangle Farm. The shooting he has had since his arrival in Ireland, though desultory—perhaps because of it—has proved delightful in his sight. Here coveys come upon one unawares, rising out of fields when least expected, and therefore when discovered possess all the novelty of a gigantic surprise. Now and then he receives kindly warning of birds seen "over-night" in some particular corner, and an offer to escort him to the scene of action without beat of drum.

As for instance, in the morning his man assails him with the news that Mickey Brian or Dinny Collins (he has grown quite familiar with the gentry round) "is without and would like to spake wid him. Need I remark that he has wisely hired his own particular attendant from among the gay and festive youths of Bantry?

Whereupon he goes "without," which means to his own hall-door that always stands wide open, and there acknowledges the presence of Mickey or Dinny, as the case may be, with a gracious nod. Mickey instantly removes his caubeen and tells "his honor" (regardless of the fact that his honor can tell this for himself) that "it is a gran' fine day," which as a rule is the first thing an Irish person will always say on greeting you, as though full of thankfulness to the powers above, in that sweet weather has been given.

Ill-luck has attended his efforts to-day, or else his thoughts have been wandering in the land where love holds sway, because he is empty handed. The bonnie brown bird has escaped him, and no gift is near to lay at Mona's shrine.

As he reaches the broad stream that divides him from the land he would reach, he pauses and tries to think of any decent excuse that may enable him to walk with a bold front up to the cottage door. But no such excuse presents itself. Memory proves false. It refuses to assist him. He is almost in despair.

He tries to persuade himself that there is nothing strange or uncommon in calling upon Wednesday to inquire with anxious solicitude about the health of a young woman whom he had seen happy and robust on Tuesday. But the trial is not successful, and he is almost on the point of flinging up the argument and going home again, when his eye lights upon a fern, small but rare, and very beautiful, that, growing on a high rock far above him, overhangs the stream.

It is a fern for which Mona has long been wishing. Oh! happy thought! She has expressed for it the keenest admiration. Oh! blissful remembrance! She has not one like it in all her collection. Oh! certainly full of rapture!

Now will he seize this blessed opportunity, and, laden with the spoils of war, approach her dwelling (already she is "she,") and triumphantly, albeit humbly, lay the fern at her feet, and so perchance gain the right to bask for a few minutes in the sunshine of her presence.

A branch of a tree overspreading the water catches his attention. It is not strong, but it suggests itself as a means to the desired end. It is indeed slim to a fault, and unsatisfactory to an alarming degree, but it must do, and Geoffrey swings himself up to it, tries it first, and then standing boldly upon it, leans over towards the spot where the fern can be seen.

It is rather beyond his reach, but he is determined not to be outdone. Of course, by stepping into the water, and climbing the slimy rock that holds the desired treasure, it can be gained, but with a lazy desire to keep his boots dry, he clings to his present position, regardless of the fact that bruised flesh (if nothing worse) would probably be the result of his daring.

He has stooped over very much indeed. His hand is on the fern; he has safely, carefully extracted it, roots and all (one would think I was speaking of a tooth! but this is by the way), from its native home, when cr-r-k goes something; the branch on which he rests betrays him, and smashing hurls him head downwards into the swift but shallow stream below.

A very charming vision clad in Oxford shirting, and with a great white hat tied beneath her rounded chin with blue ribbons—something in the style of a Sir Joshua Reynolds—emerges from among the low-lying firs at this moment. Having watched the (seemingly) light catastrophe from afar, and being apparently amused by it, she now gives way to unmistakable mirth and laughs aloud. When Mona laughs, she does it with all her heart, the correct method of suppressing all emotion, be it of joy or sorrow—regarding it as a recreation permitted only to the vulgar—being as yet unlearned by her. Therefore her expression of merriment rings gayly and unchecked through the old wood.

But presently, seeing the author of her mirth does not rise from his watery resting-place, her smile fades, a little frightened look creeps into her eyes, and, hastening forward, she reaches the bank of the stream and gazes into it. Rodney is lying face downwards in the water, his head having come with some force against the sharp edge of a stone against which it is now resting.

Mona turns deadly pale, and then instinctively loosening the strings of her hat flings it from her. A touch of determination settles upon her lips, so prone to laughter at other times. Sitting on the bank, she draws off her shoes and stockings, and with the help of an alder that droops to the river's brim, lowers herself into the water.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3 75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2 00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

w don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPAR'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver a misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

THE CHURCH AND THE LEAGUE.

Prof. Galbraith's Choice—Father Ryan Released—Mr. Balfour in Danger.

DUBLIN, Jan. 18.—The Conference of the Church of Ireland, in session here, has sustained the view taken by the primate of the church, that the position of Prof. Galbraith as a member of the Finance Committee of the church is incompatible with his membership of the National League. Prof. Galbraith has, in consequence, intimated that he will resign from the church committee.

Crowds Greet Father Ryan.

DUBLIN, Jan. 18.—Father Matthew Ryan, who was imprisoned at Limerick for a month for inciting the people to illegal acts in connection with the plan of campaign, was released to-day. Ten thousand persons were collected around the prison, and he was received with loud cheers. The Mayor, Sheriff, Municipal Council and many clergymen congratulated him upon his release.

The crowd escorted Father Ryan fourteen miles to his parish at Herbertstown. The police followed the whole distance but were delayed when half way to Herbertstown by a car which had been drawn across the road. Father Ryan was thus enabled on his arrival home to address the people without interference. He advised the tenants to adopt the plan of campaign, which he said was moral and just, notwithstanding everything that lords, both spiritual and temporal, said to the contrary. A Nationalist meeting announced to be held at Ballygawley, County Tyrone, tomorrow has been proclaimed.

Mr. Balfour's Peril.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The Tribune's London despatch says: Official anxiety about Mr. Balfour has much increased. The police authorities say he is in greater danger of assassination than ever Mr. Forster was, whose repeated escapes were nothing short of miraculous. Plot after plot to murder the Chief Secretary has been formed and frustrated. The Vice-Regal lodge, where the Chief Secretary lives, and Phœnix Park, in which the lodge stands, swarm with detectives, and he is never allowed to take a step alone.

THE BULGARIAN QUESTION

NEGOTIATIONS FOR A SETTLEMENT TO BE RESUMED.

Advices From the Galician Frontier—Typhus Fever Invading the Russian Camp—Deaths From Frost and Privation—The Austrians Also Suffering.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The Military Bill as amended passed its first reading before the Reichstag committee to-day. The committee reserved the right to formulate several proposals on the second reading of the bill.

After the return to Berlin of Count Schouvaloff, the Russian Ambassador, negotiations will be resumed for a settlement of the Bulgarian question. It is reported that Prince Bismarck and Count Kalnoky agree to oppose the despatch of a Russian commission to Sofia and that they rather support the nomination of a regency under which the election of a new prince could be effected. The Emperor of Austria's desire to depose Prince Ferdinand has been increased by the speech made by Ferdinand to his officers on New Year's day, in which he defied the efforts to dislodge him.

M. Stourdza, a member of the Roumanian Cabinet, has come to Berlin to obtain an insight into Prince Bismarck's views on the political and military contingencies involving the interests of Roumania.

Advices from the frontier report further arrivals of Russian troops. One infantry division has arrived at Doubno and another at Ravno. The work of fortifying Doubno goes on without cessation.

The condition of the Russian troops on the Galician frontier is growing worse. Typhus fever is raging, especially at Camp Cseutochan. The shelter is so miserable that there have been many deaths from frost and general privation. The Warsaw commissariat is hastily forwarding provisions. A special sanitary corps started yesterday for Cseutochan. The sufferings of the troops are so great that in the opinion of Berlin military circles it will be impossible for them to remain encamped two months. Their condition, it is believed, must hasten the decision of the Czar, as the troops must either be given active work or be withdrawn from the frontier.

The Austrians also suffer, being badly housed, but their commissariat is good and the medical staff vigilant. In view of the hardships suffered by the Austrian troops and the sickness prevailing among the Russians, the Vienna war office has decided not to increase the forces on the frontier at present.

Still Arming.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Times' London correspondent says the news from Poland is still of the arrival of fresh troops, the building of temporary barracks and the gathering of supplies and munitions of war.

They Bocor at the Czar's Message.

VIENNA, Jan. 19.—The papers here all receive the Czar's Moscow message hoping for peace with omens. With one accord they point out that Russia has most obvious reasons for desiring to paint things rose colored until she has succeeded in raising a loan somewhere. It is said that every big banking house in Paris has refused to listen to propositions for negotiating a Russian loan, giving the war rumors as a reason.

Hurrying the Defences of Adrianople.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 19.—An Imperal decree just issued enjoins the War Ministry to use the greatest despatch in completing the military defences in and around Adrianople.

For Strategic Reasons.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 19.—For strategic reasons connected with the massing of Russian troops in Bessarabia the headquarters of the third Roumanian corps has been removed from Jalatz to Buzeo, and the headquarters of the fourth corps and seventh infantry division from Jassy to Roman.

A Contradiction.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The report that Prince Bismarck had said Germany would enjoy peace for the next three years is semi-officially contradicted.

RUSSIAN FESTIVITIES.

The Czar to Remain at the Capital Until After the Carnival.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 19.—The Czar has decided to remain in St. Petersburg until after the carnival. Social circles have received the announcement of this arrangement with satisfaction, and the local tradespeople are also elated at the prospect of the Czar making a prolonged stay in the capital. The season promises to be a brilliant one. It opens with the court ball in the winter palace on Jan. 26, which will be followed by a succession of balls at the Anitchkoff Palace and the Hermitage till March 3.

General Gresser, Prefect of the Police, states that the police are convinced that there has been no organized plot against the Czar's life recently, but no police in the world, he says, can prevent attempts of individual desperadoes to kill the Czar.

The Crown Prince's Rapid Progress.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Lancet has authoritative information that the German Crown Prince progresses so rapidly toward recovery that he looks forward to returning to Potsdam in the spring.

MR. BALFOUR HOOTED.

A Dublin Crowd Greets the Chief Secretary With Yells and Jeers.

DUBLIN, Jan. 19.—Mr. Balfour, the Chief Secretary, attended the judges' luncheon in this city to-day. He was hooted on entering the building by a crowd which had gathered outside and which waited for his reappearance so that they could hoot him again. When the Chief Secretary finally emerged from the building he was greeted with fierce yells and jeers and cries of "Balfour the liar," which were continued until he was out of sight.

Mr. Blunt's Cheerless Cell.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The Tribune's London correspondent says Mr. Balfour has not yet allowed the Prisons Board to act on the recommendations of the visiting justices who ordered that Mr. Blunt should be moved to a better cell and have a fire, a Bible and writing materials. He still shivers in a fireless cell. The assistant chaplain has been refused admission to him, and although he has intimated his willingness to supplement his statement about Mr. Balfour, every effort is made to keep his mouth shut.

Justin McCarthy's Statement.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—With reference to Sir Henry Drummond Wolff's letter to The Times, contradicting Mr. Shaw-Lefevre's statement that Wolff had negotiated with Justin McCarthy touching the Home Rule question, Mr. McCarthy himself writes that he made no such statement, but merely said that the Nationalists were trying to get a pledge against coercion. The Home Rule negotiations, he says, were those carried on with Lord Carnarvon.

The Pope Won't Interfere.

ROME, Jan. 19.—The Opinione says it is not probable the Pope seriously intends to interfere in the settlement of the Irish question in the interest of the present British Government. If the Duke of Norfolk really has an official mission there is nothing to justify the hope that it will be successful. The Pope, it says, cannot go beyond advising the Irish bishops to follow a policy of prudence and moderation, the Irish question being an economic and national one and not of a religious nature. The Opinione extols Gladstone's policy as the most likely to pacify Ireland.

Compelled To Wear the Prison Garb.

CORK, Jan. 19.—Mr. Lane, M.P., upon being lodged in jail was stripped by the warders and compelled to put on the prison garb. He complains that he cannot eat the prison food and that he has to sleep on a plank, with scanty covering.

A Strong Assertion.

DUBLIN, Jan. 19.—United Ireland alleges that the Government had arranged for the arrest of Canon O'Mahony, who charged Major Roberts, the Governor of Cork County Jail, with corrupting young girls, and Canon Keeler, but had been deterred from enforcing the measure by an intimation that every Catholic constable in Cork ordered to take part in making the arrest would throw down his arms.

The Berlin Carnival.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The coure carnival fetes, which are usually held at the royal castle, will be held at the Imperial palace this year. There will be no levee. Presentations to the Emperor and Empress will be made during the fetes at the palace. General Von Schweinitz, the German Ambassador to Russia, and Prince Bismarck will come to Berlin to attend the carnival.

The U.S. Duty on Fish.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Representative Belmont (N.Y.), chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, said to-day that he did not believe fish would be put on the free list in any tariff bill to be introduced at the present session of Congress, and that certainly any proposition to admit fish free or to reduce the duty upon it would be unfavorably regarded by the Foreign Affairs Committee.

The Saxe-Coburg Memoirs.

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—It is reported that the publication of the second and third volumes of the Saxe-Coburg memoirs has been postponed indefinitely in deference to eminent persons who are still living. It is still supposed Prince Bismarck is one of the persons alluded to.

An Insane Seaman.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Italian bark Zio Battista, from Pensacola, which arrived at Cardiff, reports that a seaman went mad on the voyage and tried to kill the captain, whom he wounded. The crew were compelled to shoot the man dead.

Lord Beresford's Successor.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The resignation of Lord Charles Beresford as Junior Lord of the Admiralty has been accepted. Admiral Sir George Tyron will succeed Lord Charles Beresford as Junior Lord of the Admiralty.

A Suicidal Mania.

VIENNA, Jan. 19.—The suicidal mania has become epidemic here. The victims reported yesterday were a naval captain named Deschauer, a military paymaster named Fitchs, and six persons of minor note.

Seven Soudanese Leaders Killed.

SUAKIM, Jan. 19.—The Soudanese have abandoned Handoub and returned to Torkar. Seven of their leaders were killed in the fighting on Tuesday with tribes friendly to the English.

THE HOLY CROSS.

Celebrating the Feast of the Epiphany on the Banks of the Neva.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 19.—Yesterday at noon the Czar, bareheaded and attended by a brilliant suite, crossed over the quay from the winter palace to the pavilion erected over the edge of the Neva to witness the dipping of the Holy Cross by the Metropolitan Archbishop into the river through a hole cut in the ice in celebration of the feast of the Epiphany. This act of blessing the waters was accompanied by the usual salute of artillery. The colors of all the troops were then sprinkled with consecrated water. The Empress, the diplomatic body and Lord and Lady Randolph Churchill witnessed the scene from the windows of the palace.

He Might Ask Mr. Wiman.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 19.—During W. K. Vanderbilt's recent visit here the Sultan strongly urged him to construct a system of Asiatic railways. Mr. Vanderbilt pleaded that his visit was merely for pleasure, and that he has had no chance to study the suggested scheme. The Sultan has forwarded to Mr. Vanderbilt, who is in Egypt, all the papers bearing on the question, and he expresses the hope that if Mr. Vanderbilt is not disposed to accept the task Jay Gould will undertake it.

FROM "SOO" TO SEABOARD.

BROCKVILLE, WESTPORT AND SAULT ST. MARIE RAILWAY.

The Distance Shortened 100 Miles—Forty Miles Will be Open Feb. 1 and Regular Trains Running—Notes From the Capital.

OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—Mr. Labatt, on behalf of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery of Montreal, had an interview to-day with Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Customs, with reference to the cancellation of the bond given by the company for sugar which was in warehouse at the time the refinery was burnt last summer. The Minister promised that the bond should be cancelled on production of proper evidence that the sugar had been destroyed by fire.

Judge Burbidge will open a sitting of the Exchequer Court on Wednesday at Cornwall to hear further evidence in the Cornwall Canal expropriation case of Moss, Ryan & Shields against the Dominion Government.

Lord Frederick Hamilton, brother of Lady Lansdowne, will shortly pay another visit to the capital. Hon. Mr. Chapleau has recovered from his recent attack of bronchitis.

The annual dinner of the ex-cadets of Kingston Military College will be held at the Russell House on Saturday. The dinner is held in the principal cities in turn.

Mr. Wood, M.P. for Brockville, was in the city to-day. He said that by Feb. 7 forty miles of the Brockville, Westport and Sault Ste. Marie Railway will be open from Brockville to Westport and regular trains running. He is very hopeful of the success of the road and said:

"It will be the shortest route between the 'Soo' and the seaboard inasmuch as it is an air line, and by bridging the St. Lawrence at Brockville a connection will be formed at Morristown with a complete system of American railways. The local traffic will also be good, for the road so far runs through the eastern garden of the province and there are thirteen towns and villages along the line. The Canadian Pacific Railway will not be able to handle the freight of the Northwestern States, and our road, which shortens the distance to the seaboard by at least 100 miles, cannot fail to control a large share of the through freight."

TUESDAY'S TRAGEDY.

The Theory That Robert Orme Took His Own Life Gaining Ground.

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The theory held by a number of persons that Tuesday night's tragedy on the London town line was simply a case of suicide is, in some measure, strengthened by to-day's developments. It appears that on Friday a man answering the description of Robert Orme purchased in a Dundas-street gun shop a 32-calibre self-cocking revolver, similar to the one with which Orme was shot. The purchaser quickly made his selection and, without any comments, promptly paid the price asked and left the store.

The proprietor of the establishment and the clerk who sold the weapon believe, from the published description, that their customer was Robert Orme, and state that they can identify the pistol when it is produced.

Deceased's life was insured for $5000.

Another Railway Scheme.

OTTAWA, Jan. 19.—The New York, St. Lawrence and Ottawa Railway Company are petitioning the Parliament of Canada to construct a line of railway from a point in or near the town of Brockville, to a point in or near the city of Ottawa, with power to amalgamate with any other compahies in order to reach Montreal and other cities in this province.

The Nova Scotian Loan Floated.

HALIFAX, Jan. 19.—The time for the reception of tenders for the loan of $100,000 asked for by the Nova Scotia Government closed yesterday. Tenders amounting to several times the amount required were received, and the loan was effected at a satisfactory premium.

NO SUBSTANCE FOR SHADOW.

Opinion on Both Sides of the Ocean—The Boom in Canadian Stocks.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—A cable to The Empire says Mr. Norman's interview with Hon. Mr. White, on the subject of Commercial Union, which is published to-day, seems to accord with the general British opinion. It is quite understood here that Canada will act in these commercial matters just as she feels necessary for her own future, though it is equally recognized that Canadians see how false to their own interests would be such a commercial political surrender to the United States as Mr. White clearly shows Commercial Union would involve.

The Credit Lyonnais states that the Quebec Loan was well covered both in Paris and in London—there, as here, at 1½ premium. They say, however, that they do not know the total amount of applications.

An active business is being done in C. P. R. Algoma branch bound, purchases being even made at 3 premium.

The secretary of the Lake Superior Company declares that the statements cabled from Montreal that the fee in the Manaires property is still vested in the Quebec and Lake Superior Mining Company, or that the shareholders of the latter company have any rights to the property, are entirely without foundation.

MONTREAL, Jan. 19.—Mr. Beaucleil, Premier Mercier's law partner, was seen this evening and stated that provincial debentures to the amount of $3,500,000 had all been sold in Paris at the rate of 99. This is the second loan effected in the French capital, the first having been made by Mr. Chapleau in 1880.

UNITED STATES CROPS.

Summary of the Situation—The Wheat Reserves Small—Good Prices for Corn.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Jan. 19.—The American Rural Home of this city, from its correspondence from all sections of the country, summarizes the present crop situation as follows:

Farmers throughout the spring wheat belt are in very hopeful condition, although the movement in spring wheat is very light. The belt is generally covered with a heavy fall of snow, which is regarded as a favorable omen for next season's crop. In spite of favorable reports by the Agricultural Department it is generally believed that the acreage of winter wheat is considerably below last season and that the reserve of wheat is practically small. This will be an important element in determining next season's price.

January shows very small movement in corn and excellent prices for home consumption. Farmers who generally burn their surplus corn now find no difficulty in disposing of it at from 35 to 40 cents per bushel. This has put a large amount of money in circulation.

Hay commands a much larger price than usual throughout large sections of the country, but the advance has not been as large as anticipated. Dakota is furnishing a large supply, which makes good the deficiency.

The shortage of hogs still continues, amounting down to Jan. 14 to 500,000 head, with the probability of running much higher.

The high price of corn and the low price of beef have greatly restricted the number of cattle fed for beef this winter.

YESTERDAY'S COLLISIONS.

An Engineer Fatally Injured—A Fireman Loses His Life.

OPELIKA, Ala., Jan. 19.—In a collision between a freight and an accommodation train last night on the Columbus and Western Railroad, between Syllacauga and Goodwater, Engineer Davidson was fatally injured.

Caught in the Wreck.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Jan. 19.—By a collision of freight trains at Rolston on the Northern Central Railroad last evening, Alvin T. Spencer, fireman, and Engineer Rowan were caught in the wreck and badly injured, the former dying to-day of his injuries.

The Shortest Prize Fight on Record.

NORTH JUDSON, Ind., Jan. 19.—Harry Gilmore of St. Paul and Billy Myers fought for the middle-weight championship of the Northwest and $1000 at 3 o'clock this morning. Before the mill commenced bets were offered and freely taken at 2 to 1 on Myers. Frank Glover acted as referee. Billy Bradshaw and Jim Shaw were Gilmore's seconds, while Messrs. Hope and Brannock held the same office for Myers. The fun was fast and furious from the first, both going at it in dead earnest. Gilmore forced his opponent from the start, but his reach was always a trifle short. Then Myers got in a terrific smash on Harry's left eye which sent him staggering back against the ropes, but pluckily recovering he came to the front again with a will, only to receive a sledge-hammer blow on the neck which lifted him fairly off his feet and landed him in a heap on the floor. He strove to rise, but it was no go. Harry was completely knocked out, and that, too, in less than a minute and a half—the shortest prize fight on record.

Drowning Accident in Texas.

ENNIS, Tex., Jan. 19.—Seven persons were drowned in Sand Lake, ten miles east of here, yesterday. Two young ladies, the daughters of Wm. Williams, a farmer, and a young man named Babbitt, were skating on the lake, when the ice gave way and they sank in 40 feet of water. Miss Babbitt and two little girls, aged 8 and 14 years, also daughters of Wm. Williams, who were on shore watching the sport, were drowned in attempting to rescue their friends. A small child of Wm. Williams also fell through the ice, but was saved by one of the drowning young ladies catching and throwing it out on the ice. Young Williams, a brother of the young ladies drowned, was about a quarter of a mile distant, at his home, when he saw the accident and ran to the assistance of the unfortunates, but he was soon overpowered by their struggles and no one was drowned. Mrs. Williams his mother, made a desperate effort to save them all, and narrowly escaped the fate of her children. Her two little daughters, aged 10 and 12 years, threw her a rope and succeeded in pulling her ashore. All the bodies were found together.

FOREIGN COMMERCE.

A METHOD adopted, especially by one Toronto journal, to try to discredit the opposition to commercial union, is to represent its opponents as desiring that Canada should have no trade with other countries. This, of course, is very unfair. There are many reasons why commercial union would be an unwise policy for Canada, but we have not heard it argued that the people of this country should build a Chinese wall around the Dominion and have no intercourse with foreign countries.

There are those, however, who do not wish to encourage foreign commerce at the expense of home trade. They cannot see wherein Canada will be benefitted by purchasing goods from other countries that can be as well, and are, manufactured at home. There are products which the people in this country require and that can only be procured through importation, and there are many products of Canada that other countries want but cannot produce. With such nations trade would be mutually profitable and should be encouraged.

A country's wealth is in proportion to the value of its resources; its prosperity will increase as these resources are developed and used or sold to purchase requirements that it cannot produce. Labor expended on raw products—such as iron, wool, wood, grain, etc.—increases its value, and when the raw product is manufactured into the form in which it is used before it is exported, it is worth more and the country is benefitted through its enhanced value and the employment given in the work put upon it. No farmer thinks of selling his grain in the straw. He threshes and cleans it before taking it to the market, and if all our ores and woods were similarly dealt with, or brought even to a nearer approach to the state they need to be in before they are used, the country would be better off.

A farmer who would purchase, or allow his family to purchase, that which might be grown on waste land on the farm—or that which was on the farm in abundance but not gathered—would lose an opportunity for making money, and the family would not be as well off as they might have been. And a country should not import goods which could as well be made at home, retaining the profits of the labor for its people. To be prosperous in proportion to its opportunities a country should develop its resources, turn its products into manufactured goods, and not import that which it could produce for itself.

The policy of a wise government should, therefore, be framed with a view to encourage home production and manufacture, even if to do so foreign trade to a certain extent should be discouraged. This is the aim of the present fiscal policy of Canada—not to prevent commerce with other nations, but to promote the development of the resources of the Dominion and to lead to the needs of the people being supplied by themselves as much as possible.

Raddon) that the council had started well by raising the salaries of the clerk and collector. The council adjourned to the 23rd Jan.

RE CONSTRUCTION.—A meeting of those interested in the band was held in the town hall on the evening of the 17th Jan. It is expected that the organization during next season will be composed of members which have seen some years of service, thereby making the band more effective and dispensing with a large amount of practice.

SMITH.

Correspondence of the Review.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The Council of the Township of Smith for 1888 meet at the Town Hall on Jan. 16th and organized. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. A resolution was passed requiring the County Treasurer to refund to Mrs. Savoy the sum of $7.27 paid him as taxes on 1 acre of Lot 38, Con. 12, said tax being charged in error, as the lot was assessed on resident and non-resident rolls. Councillors McIlmoyle and Garbutt were appointed a committee to examine the timber on the road allowance between Lots 42 and 43 in the 18th con., with power to dispose of the same. A petition from S. Purser and others asking to have broken lots 26 and 27, con. 18, detached from S.S. No. 10, of Smith, and attached to S. S. No. 5, of Harvey, forming a Union School Section, was received and the clerk was instructed to notify all parties concerned that the application will be considered at the next meeting of the Council, to be held on the thirtieth instant. The Treasurer was instructed to pay R. Grant the sum of $12 for work performed on his road divisions and to pay for the several polling booths used at the last Provincial election the sum of $2 each. The following officers for 1888 were then appointed, viz:—R. Waram, Assessor and Collector; John Black and Andrew Young, Auditors. The Council then adjourned till Monday, Jan. 30th.

YOUNG'S POINT.

Correspondence of the Review.

LOGS.—Mr. Geo. J. Chalmers is lining the canal banks with a large number of logs.

IMROVED.—Mr. C. Young has made some needed improvements in the Young's Point mills. The work was performed by Mr. Wm. McGregor.

ENTERPRISE.—The ratepayers with commendable enterprise have taken advantage of the good sleighing and hauled the brick necessary for completing the school. The manner in which the trustees and ratepayers have worked hand in hand will result in S. S. No. 8 possessing one of the finest schools in the country.

REPAIRS TO THE LOCK.—Mr. Thos. Walters, superintendent of these works for the Ontario Government, and Mr. Alex. Ross, of Lindsay, were here looking about procuring a quantity of timber with which to build a coffer-dam at the head of the lock. When this is done the water will be let out and some pointing and repairs which are much needed will be performed.

BALL AND SUPPER.—Over one hundred invited guests assembled at Mr. D. Costello's hotel on Wednesday evening of last week and "tripped the light fantastic toe" until "the wee sma' hours ayant the twal." The music was furnished by Mr. George Scrimgeour, and it is needless to say was all that could be desired. The supper was such as to delight an epicure. Mrs. Costello spared neither time nor trouble, and the result must have highly gratified that lady, as it certainly did the guests. Mine host, "Dan," was ubiquitous, and untiring in his efforts to make his guests comfortable. All the arrangements were perfect and the universal verdict was —"the best time I ever had."

KEENE.

Correspondence of the Review.

BIG TIMBER.—Mr. E. Thompson has taken out some splendid timber of the land owned by Mr. J. Maher, near Keene. Many of the sticks measured from 75ft to 85ft long and several are 2ft in diameter. A number of fine sticks of oak are among the lot, all splendid timber.

THEY HAVE A SURPLUS.—The Township agricultural society held their annual meeting at Keene on Thursday last. The reports showed a successful year's business and for the first time in the history of the society a surplus after paying all expenses. This is encouraging, and reflects credit on the members who have the details in hand and who do a lot of work to make things a success.

NEW SHOP.—We have a Peterborough man among us, who has just come in to start in the tinsmithing and stove line. I haven't learned his name, but he is no doubt an active and pushing man and will work up a good trade.

CARNIVAL.—The first carnival of this season will be held in the curling rink on the evening of Wednesday, Jan. 25th. Prizes are offered for the costumes and curling matches will take place for a medal.

COUNCIL MEETING.—The first regular meeting of the Otonabee Council was held on Monday last. Andrew J. Mather was elected Assessor; Wm. Drummond, Collector; Jas. McNeil and D. P. McFarlane, Auditors; and Jas. Drummond, Clerk and Treasurer. Our liberal representatives (as a whole) decided not to lower the license of $150 on pool tables.

CARNIVAL.—The first carnival of the season comes off on Wednesday evening next, in the rink here. A valuable collection of prizes to be given are on exhibition in Robert English's store window here. The race prizes will be decided on later. The curling match promises to be very interesting. The prospects are very favorable for a grand carnival.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Mr. Butler preached a very eloquent sermon in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening last. ....Pay-Master Major Howard, of the Hastings Star, paid a visit to Keene on Monday..... Mr. Crouter, our new tinsmith, is getting things into shape.

CURLING.—Talk about your winter sports Curling knocks the sox off them all. A splendid exercise and something a man can show his skill at. The rink is doing well this season and the curlers are having a splendid time. Skip R. B. McIntyre's rink has won the medal, the first played for in the rink. Four rinks were in the first draw, Skip McIntyre defeating Skip Dixon by a score of 14 to 11 shots, while Skip Millar got the better of Skip Campbell to the tune of 19 to 7 shots. The final draw has played off between the rinks of Skips Campbell and McIntyre, the latter rink carrying off the honors and the medal with a score of 17 to 13 shots.—The club have on the slate a match with Lakefield Club to be played at Peterborough at an early date. Two rinks are down to go to Belleville for a whack at the city club and to play Campbellford Club on their way back.

DUNDAS NOMINATIONS.

To Take Place on January 24 and Polling on January 31.

MORRISBURG, Jan. 19.—The nominations for candidates to represent Dundas in the Local Legislature will take place on Jan. 24 and the polling on Jan. 31. The Hon. G. W. Ross will be at Iroquois to address the electors tomorrow evening. Both he and Hon. A. S. Hardy will be present at the nomination.

A SAD DEATH.

In Attending Her Son Mrs. Barrett of Hamilton Contracts Blood Poisoning.

HAMILTON, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Barrett, wife of Wm. Barrett, a prominent temperance worker, died on Wednesday under circumstances particularly sad. One of her sons has suffered for many months from a painful abscess, and he was devotedly nursed and attended by his mother, and is now progressing towards recovery. The other day, however, in handling some of the bandages used on the wound, Mrs. Barrett got some of the poisonous matter into a wound on her hand, blood poisoning set in, and the arm had to be amputated at the shoulder, but the poison had permeated her system, and, owing to the debilitated state in which she had been left by long watching at the bedside of her son, she only survived for a few days. She was 39 years of age, and leaves a husband and seven children.

Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Mary's Cathedral this morning by Vicar-General Heenan for the repose of the soul of the late Bishop Carbery. Archbishop Lynch of Toronto was present. The congregation was large, and a very impressive sermon was preached.

In the Assizes this morning a verdict by consent for 25 cents was entered in the breach of promise case of Melissa St. John against Frank Williamson, both of Saltfleet. Each party will have the pleasure of paying its own costs.

The court room was crowded with doctors, lawyers and spectators when the case of Routh v. Leslie was called. The action is brought by Mrs. Jane Routh against Dr. Leslie of this city. The particulars briefly are as follows: Prior to his death Edward Routh, the husband of the plaintiff, had suffered extremely from hemorrhoids, and about May 22 last he consulted Dr. R. Wallace regarding his trouble. It was decided that an operation should be performed, and the services of Dr. Leslie were procured for this purpose. The operation was performed on May 25. The chloroform was administered by Dr. Leslie, and Routh died under the operation from the effects of the anæsthetic. Mrs. Routh avers that the defendant was guilty of negligent and unskilful administration of chloroform and claims $5000 damages.

Last evening when Samuel McNair, jr., went up to Lynden to serve summonses in a non-payment of wages case against John Baker, hotel-keeper, Baker refused to let Mc. Nair into the dining-room, and a crowd of sympathizers, armed with spokes and sticks, threatened to demolish McNair. The latter ran to the railway station and locked himself in, and McNair was compelled to promise that he would forego prosecuting the parties who throttled him.

The annual dinner given by the non-commissioned officers and men of "F" Company, Thirteenth Battalion, was held last night at the Franklin House.

The directors of the North and South Westworth and the Hamilton Agricultural societies will meet on Saturday, Jan. 28, at 1 p.m. for the purpose of amalgamation and other business.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

TORONTO, Jan. 19.

The grain and produce markets to-day were featureless, both home and abroad they were quiet with the exception of Chicago, which was fairly active.

The car lots received at Chicago to-day were: Winter wheat 4, spring wheat 6, corn 112, oats 43 and barley 21.

The report of receipts from the Chicago stock yards to-day is: Estimated receipts 23,000, official yesterday 24,671; shipments 9174, left over about 13,000; cattle receipts 10,000. Market quiet.

LOCAL STREET MARKET.

The receipts of grain on the local market to-day were moderate and prices steady. About 500 bushels of wheat offered and sold at 82c to 84c for fall, 77c to 82c for spring, and 73c to 74c for goose. Barley firm, with sales of 2000 bushels at 70c to 81½c. Oats easier, 500 bushels selling at 47c to 49c. Peas nominal at 66c to 67c. Hay in limited supply and prices steady; 30 loads sold at $10 to $12 for clover, and $13 to $15 for timothy. Straw quiet and prices steady, with sales at $10 to $11. Dressed hogs firm at $7 to $7.25. Beef, $3 to $5 for forequarters, and $5 to $7.50 for hindquarters. Mutton $6 to $7.50; lamb at $7.50 to $9; veal $6.50 to $8.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

The retail market this morning was quiet and prices show little change. Beef, 12c to 14c; sirloin steak at 13c to 14c; steak 10c to 11c. Mutton, legs and chops, 12c to 13c; round inferior cuts 8c to 10c. Lamb, 7c to 9c for front, and 11c to 12c for hindquarters. Veal, best joints, 12c to 13c; inferior cuts 6c to 8c. Pork, chops and roasts 10c. Venison, carcase $4 to $5; haunches $8 to $10. Butter, lb. rolls, 22c to 25c; large rolls, 20c to 22c; inferior 16c to 18c. Lard, tubs 9c to 10c. Cheese 14c to 16c. Bacon 10c to 12c. Eggs 21c to 23c. Turkeys 11c to 12½c per lb. Chickens, per pair, 40c to 50c. Geese 9c to 10c per lb; box lots 8½c to 9c per lb. Ducks 50c to 80c. Partridges 70c to 85c. Potatoes, per bag, 90c to $1. Apples, per barrel, $1.50 to $2.50. Beets, per bush, 60c to 75c. Onions, bushel, $1.50 to $1.80. Celery 75c to $1 a dozen. Turnips, bag, 40c to 50c. Carrots, bag 50c to 60c.

OSWEGO BARLEY MARKET.

Oswego reports barley quiet and unchanged at the following prices: No. 2 ex. Can. 89c, No. 1 Can. 92½c, No. 1 bright 95c.

---

The receipts of grain at the local have been light during the week. Fall wheat is in good demand while spring wheat is not much wanted. Barley has advanced a trifle in price consequent on the rise in the American markets. The outlook for the sale of wheat through this district is not encouraging. Millers are using a deal of Manitoba head wheat and with the exception of an occasional load are not buying spring wheat. Fall wheat is looked for and finds ready sale. The feeling among buyers is that if the spring wheat now in the hands of farmers is disposed of at all that it will bring only such prices as at which it can be exported.

In produce there is an active demand which is very fairly met.

The Montreal Cattle Market.

The Gazette of Tuesday says:—At Point St. Charles cattle yards during the past week business has been more active, as the supply of cattle was not so large and there was a better enquiry from local buyers, consequently mostly all the offerings were taken and the market was fairly active at firm prices. In export stock business was quiet, although the offerings were fair, but the demand was slow, and we do not hear of any further sales being made. There were about 200 head offered this morning, which met with a good demand, and an active business was done, there being few left over. The receipts for the past week by the Grand Trunk were 377 head. Good export cattle, averaging from 1,200 to 1,400, were quoted at 4c@4½c, medium do, at 3½c@4c, and fair and fat cows at 3½c per lb. live weight. There has been a firmer feeling in butchers' cattle, for which the demand was good, and the bulk of the supply was taken at higher prices. Good butchers' cattle, averaging 1,000@1,100 pounds, sold at 3½c@4½c; medium, averaging 800@1,000 pounds, at 3c@3½c, and culls at 2c@3c per pound, live weight. The receipts of sheep and lambs for the past week were 282 head, the demand for which was good, and an active business was done, there being a better feeling and prices were firmer, with sales made freely at 3½c@4½c per pound, live weight. There were 33 live hogs offered, which sold at 5¼c@ 5¾c per pound. The demand for calves was fair, which sold at from $5@$10 each.

The British Live Stock Markets.

The Gazette's cable of Tuesday reports the British live stock trade practically unchanged. There has been a fair demand at steady prices, which was amply sufficient to effect a satisfactory clearance. Receipts from Canada, the United States and the continent were light and the markets today closed steady. In Liverpool best steers were at 12c, good to choice at 11½c, poor to medium at 10½c, and inferior and bulls at 8c@9½c.

Personal.

We observe that Mr. Frank N. Kennin, lately with Cox & Co., brokers, Toronto, has resigned, and is now on the staff of the Empire, as legal reporter at Osgoode Hall for that paper. We congratulate him on what is probably a very desirable and advantageous change, and being a lawyer will, no doubt, prove to be one more congenial to his tastes and give a scope for his legal attainments.

Police Court Receipts.

During the year 1887 the Town Treasurer received $9,236.07 as the town's share of fines and fees collected in the Police Court. In addition to that amount about $300 was paid to witnesses, etc., and over $1,000 is still uncollected. A portion of the latter amount will be paid it, but some of it will never be received. In 1886, the receipts were $5,516.96; in 1885, $752.55 and in 1884 $847.27. Of course the Scott Act fines account for the large increase in the last two years.

OLD Highprice fell in a swoon on the sidewalk in front of KIDD's boot & shoe store. The low prices nearly killed the old chap.

Earlier than Expected.

The new Encampment of Oddfellows to be instituted at Peterborough, will be formally opened next week. This is sooner than was expected, owing to the Grand Scribe, Col. M. D. Dawson, of the military school, London, having to proceed to Ottawa, in a few days on military matters connected with the Infantry school, and as Col. Dawson is desirous of making one trip do both, the date is hastened. The Grand Scribe nearly always accompanies the Grand Patriarch, Mr. John Sinclair, Petrolia, when instituting new Encampments. These gentlemen are prominent Masons as well. We trust that such distinguished visitors will receive a cordial welcome to our town and that they may go away with a higher opinion than ever of our prosperous city. It is expected the visitors will arrive here at 11.31 a.m., C. P. R., Thursday next, the 26th inst. The Oddfellows will, no doubt, turn out in large numbers to meet such prominent men on their arrival.

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all druggists. 50c.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

INTERESTING PAPERS READ BY LEADING FARMERS.

A Good Attendance and Considerable Discussion—Messrs. D. Kennedy and A. R. Kidd have the Floor—The Evening Meeting at the Opera House.

The second session of the Farmers' Institute was held at the Court House, on Thursday afternoon. The attendance was a good deal larger than in the morning. President Fitzgerald occupied the chair.

Prof. Mills exhibited a sample of wild oats which were closely examined.

"MIXED FARMING."

Mr. DAWSON KENNEDY read an address on the above topic. The farming interests are rapidly claiming public attention and the situation is becoming serious, and should stimulate the farmers to greater energy and greater skill. It is advocated that farmers divide up as specialists. One man prefers to grow the principal grains, another the coarser grains and others hay and roots, and with grain so with stock. One class should take up the dairy business, and another the breeding and feeding of beef cattle, and another the raising of horses for export. He thought that sheep raising and fruit growing would prove profitable. Mixed farming is undoubtedly the true policy for the average farmer. If the seasons were reliable special farming might pay. When a certain class of farming is a success in one year, there is always a rush on that class the following year, but not always with success. He advised sowing some fall wheat every year. Each year some leading crops are above the average and some below the average. Too much mixing should be avoided. When there are too many crops, a farmer has not time to look after them all properly, but he should have enough to employ all his time. It has been shown that it costs $16.47 to raise an acre of wheat and that the average product is 19 bushels per acre, showing at present prices a loss of 50 cents per acre. If farms were to be made pay, quality must be considered to make up what is lost in price. More land must be put under hay and pasture. Put the tillage of 20 acres on 10. The subsoil of this country is capable of raising double the quantity of grain, grass and roots now taken from it. If by properly running our farms we can grow 30 bushels of wheat to the acre instead of 19, instead of a loss we would have a profit of $10 per acre. The proportion of land to be devoted to the different crops rests altogether with the nature and location of the farm. The prudent farmer, regardless of what his neighbors do, will sow only such crops as are suited to the soil. In order to have success with all crops clover must be grown every year.

Some discussion ensued, in which Prof. Mills and Messrs. Kennedy, Drury, Kidd, Davidson and others took part. The question of burning straw and stubble and spreading the ashes over the ground for manuring purposes occasioned the most of the talk and the decision was that the ashes were an excellent fertiliser.

Mr. KENNEDY said that to smother quack grass he sowed two bushels of buckwheat to the acre and good-bye to the weeds such as quack grass and mustard.

Mr. KIDD said that fact was well worth knowing.

Mr. KENNEDY said to plow in the buckwheat and plow in again, the second crop would do it.

Mr. LEARMOUTH had quack grass but by close plowing and planting with potatoes he killed it in two years.

Mr. WILLAN said all manure must be soluble before being of any use. Barnyard manure must not be heated. He advocated growing turnips and feeding them to the cattle in order to secure ammonia in the manure. Manure should be kept in the barnyard, in a pond of water as it were, in order to obtain the best results. He advocated top dressing after plowing in the fall.

MANURING.

Mr. A. R. KIDD, of Dummer, read a paper on "The Best Method of Manuring and Preparing the Soil." This subject he said had probably received more practical attention than any other matter connected with farming. The idea was to procure the necessary elements of vegetable nutrition. The best, speediest and cheapest way to bring up a run down farm is by green manuring. If the land is too poor for clover put in peas, rye or buckwheat. Animal manure could not be relied on alone. Barn and stable floors must be cemented to save the liquid manure, nearly all of which is now lost on the ordinary farm. Summer fallowing and root culture must be attended to until foxtail and other noxious weeds cease to rob the growing grain of the elements of fertility. Manure must be saved, kept from burning, kept moist and carted early to the field and applied to root crops only. To grow roots successfully take a summer fallow, or a pea stubble, after the sod had been thoroughly cultivated the previous fall. He carted his manure in the spring and drilling covered it completely. Roll firmly and top dress with Peruvian guano, phosphates or land plaster. Under favorable circumstances, the ravages of the turnip fly or any other fly, the turnips should be thinned when three inches high and keep the cultivator going and keep the soil well pulverized. By adopting this system we are right on the line of successful dairying and stock raising, which he regarded as the chief dependence of the farmers of this country in the near future.

Prof. MILLS inquired as to whether it paid to grow turnips and apply artificial manures.

Mr. KIDD thought it did and related his experience.

Mr. DRURY, M.P.P., said it paid to grow turnips and he always sowed on or about the 18th of June. The excess of animal manure on his farm he applied to barley land. He grew clover largely, and sowed about 8 to 12 lbs. with about 5 lbs. of timothy per acre.

Mr. KIDD said that young cattle could be raised successfully on turnips and he thought that as the dairying interests are rapidly coming to the front, a larger percentage of land must be sown to roots.

Mr. GARBUTT sowed turnips, broad cast before drilling and he used salt and plaster with good effect. He used 150 lbs. plaster to 400 of salt. That would sow about two acres.

Mr. H. DAVIDSON always draws out his manure in the winter, thus saving time and cutting up the ground.

Mr. MILLBURN had top dressed the side of a hill in the winter, but did not see much improvement until the second crop.

Mr. Jos. TENNUM had come to the conclusion that a winter top dressing was the best, after trying that plan and plowing in.

Mr. KENNEDY always allowed the manure to heat, as it killed the seeds of weeds. He had never hauled out in the winter, but looked at that plan in a favorable light. He had no faith in summer fallowing, but was a firm believer in clover fallowing.

Mr. DRURY found that in his section he could get two good crops of clover in succession and he then plowed under. He plowed manure in and sowed to barley. He summer fallowed every year to kill Canada thistles.

SUMMER FALLOWING.

Mr. DRURY, M.P.P., gave his experience in summer fallowing. Thistles were the only weeds on his farm. He believed in summer fallowing and in his section of the country he had never seen a successful farmer who did not. Formerly, in summer fallowing he depended altogether on gang ploughs and the ordinary ploughs, but he found that system too expensive, so he invented and had made a "this le exterminator." His object was to get an implement that cultivated three inches deep, left the broad leaf on the surface and the harrow covered the top and kept the thistle from springing up again. The thistle machine is a wide shear cultivator, with arms about five feet wide, and teeth ten inches wide, some in front and some behind. It costs $32. After fallowing he always sows wheat without manure.

SCIENTIFIC.

PROF. MILLS, by means of the blackboard demonstrated that the great essentials for plant food and nitrogen, potassium and phosphorus. The three great constituents of land are clay, sand and humus or organic matter. The first two are not necessary for growth, but the last named is the great essential. All cannot afford to keep manure covered, but care should be taken that the liquid manure is saved, as one pint of the black liquid is as good as a whole load of solid manure. Plowing turnip tops in was a good plan for keeping up the supply of plant food or the tops might be fed on the fields. The rain fall on one acre will bring down from 7 to 10 lbs. of nitrogen per year, about one fifth of the amount required to grow a crop.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE EVENING MEETING.

Mayor Stevenson, M. P., presided at a public meeting held at the Opera House, in the evening. There was a fair attendance, two ladies being among the audience.

After a few preliminary remarks, the Chairman called upon Mr. Drury, M. P. P.

FARMING AS AN OCCUPATION.

Mr. DRURY took the above topic and handled it in a masterly manner. He was sorry on account of the small number present, but he felt that those in the hall represented the most intelligent farmers in the district. He was surprised that so few townspeople were present as their prosperity mainly depended on the prosperity of the farmers. He did not chose an occupation until after he was 21 years old and had lived in both town and country. He made the choice deliberately and he had never regretted that he had chosen the life of a farmer, the men who were making the country great and who were the most independent and useful on the face of the earth. A few years ago farming was generally regarded as a somewhat low calling, but now farmers were taking their proper place. In England the farmers are the aristocracy and are men of great importance in the community. Just now farming is depressed and large numbers of young men are leaving the farms for the cities and towns, but a brighter time is coming. He compared life in cities and country greatly to the disadvantage of the former. The farmer he regarded as independent, a man of leisure, who enjoyed good pure air and water, good health and one who could easily obtain a competency. He deprecated the want of pride some farmers had as to their personal appearance, thereby gaining the nicknames of "hayseeds" and "clod hoppers," and he saw no reason why a farmer should not dress just as comfortably and as tastefully as a resident of a town. All farmers should keep well read up on the current literature of the day and should place papers and magazines within easy reach of their families. He noticed a great lack of taste about farmers' homes and said that as a general thing they were not places of comfort. He believed in liberal education and thought all farmers' sons should receive a liberal education. Too often it is the case that the eldest son is well educated and then leaves the farm while the other sons are neglected in order to keep them on the farm. He considered the vocation of a farmer the highest, noblest and most independent on earth and thought that if taste and comfort were more considered about farmer's homes, such a large number of young men would not seek the cities.

PROF. MILLS introduced Prof. Fletcher, of the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa, and in doing so he said that the Dominion Government had selected as the head of that farm, the most competent man in Canada, for the position, Dr. Saunders.

THE CENTRAL FARM.

PROF. FLETCHER said he was only here by accident, but he was much pleased to be present and he thought that the Governments were doing much to advance the interests of agriculture in Canada. The project of the Dominion Government was only a new one and embraced a central farm at Ottawa with branch farms in Manitoba, the North-west and British Columbia. At Ottawa they had 465 acres, 400 hundred of which were devoted to farming alone and the other portion to other purposes. They tested all seeds, as to germinating properties sent to them and returned reports. All packages can be sent free of postage and any person can send. Among other things accomplished, they had secured a wheat from Siberia, that would take the place of the red fyfe wheat of Manitoba, as it would ripen from 10 to 15 days earlier and was not affected by the August frosts. The work was divided into agricultural, horticultural, chemistry and botany and entomology, with a head for each department. He had charge of the last and looked after the bugs and leaves. Already trees imported from Russia had been planted and apricots and different varieties of apples hitherto unknown here were now successfully grown. He considered his department of some use as he had to look after the bugs and plants that were beneficial and injurious to agriculture. It was estimated that 10 per cent of the crops were destroyed each year by insects. Some times the figures reached 25 or 50 per cent and even whole crops had been destroyed. In the United States in 1864, the chinch bug destroyed wheat and corn worth $76,000,000, and in Canada in 1857 the loss by the wheat midge was $6,000,000. It was estimated that the total loss every year, by insects, in the United States reached the enormous total of $300,000,000. His business was to seek remedies that must be effectual, simple and economical and much good work has already been accomplished. In botanical work, they had introduced economic plants from other countries and now they had a new fodder plant of the same family as the clover. They had also demonstrated that the black walnut can be successfully grown in Northern Ontario.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.

PROF. MILLS said he was in favor of giving the education imported at our public schools a more practical bearing. He thought the work performed of the utmost importance and said good, capable teachers should be procured, no matter what the cost was, as no other class of people had so much to do with the happiness of homes and the destiny of the country as the public school teacher. A good equipped teacher will make a good school anywhere. The master makes the school and trustees should bear that fact in mind. He referred to the thrift of the Scotch and attributed it to their system of education. His idea was that instead of a mere smattering of a dozen or more subjects, the pupils should be well grounded in reading, writing, geography, arithmetic and English composition, so as to make them all good readers, writers, spellers and correct, if not elegant composers. As a great many of our boys and girls receive all their education in our public schools, this question occurred to him. Is the training sufficient for them to make an honest living and assume the duties of citizenship? For farmers boys he would add to the programme of studies, the subject of agriculture. The present tendency of the text books is towards literary pursuits and if a boy is educated thoroughly without reference to agriculture he develops a distaste to it, and is "not worth his salt" on a farm. It is a bad principle to teach that manual labor is degrading and it has caused much trouble in Europe and, some of the people here who are shouting the loudest about it, had not 30 years ago a pair of stockings to their name. It was said that if agriculture was taught other trades should also be taught. If other trades were taught we would have better mechanics, but if farmers were benefitted all other classes would share in their prosperity. Rather than study things of no earthly use he would teach subjects that would be of use in after life. He thought too much attention was paid to mathematics and not enough to the common and useful English branches, especially so far as girls were concerned. Through his efforts a text book on agricultural had been authorized, but the subject was made optional, which meant that it would not be used. The minister said he would place it on the list of regular studies as soon as the farmers asked for it. Agricultural libraries had also been established at Ottawa and Toronto, and all pupils at the normal schools were required to attend a series of lectures on the subject He proposed following Sweden and establishing agricultural High Schools in each of the 18 districts of Ontario. By means of a drawing of an ox, with the different parts numbered and lettered, the Professor, demonstrated how he would give object lessons. In conclusion he urged the need of proper education if the young men are to take a leading place.

A vote of thanks to the speakers was moved by Mr. D. W. Dumble, seconded by Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald, supported by Mr. Jas. Stratton and acknowledged by Prof. Mills.

BURGLARY.

Minore's Biscuit Factory Entered—Cigars and Stamps Stolen.

Sometime during Thursday night or this morning Mr. W. J. Minore's confectionary establishment was entered by burglars. The tracks showed that they first tried to open a large sliding window on the east side, but failed. They then broke a pane of glass in a smaller window near it, reached through and removed the fastener and entered. The door leading into the stock room in the front of the building was opened by the lock being taken off, a knife lying on a table being used for the purpose. The thieves then selected a stock of cigars and tied the boxes together with cord cut from the window blind.

Mr. Minore's office was also entered and the drawers rifled. Postage stamps to the value of four dollars were taken from a drawer. The safe shows no signs of having been interfered with.

There was 7,000 or 8,000 cigars taken, made up as nearly as can be ascertained of 3000 of the Mrs. Langtry brand and 1,000 each of the My Own, Cupids and Ramblers and a quantity of Creme de la Creme, Jersey Beauties and Flor de Beatrice. Several boxes of confectionery were opened, as if to see what they contained. A gas jet was lit and left burning.

Mr. Minore's loss altogether is over $150, not an insignificent loss for a young man not long started in business. Men were seen in that vicinity late at night and it is to be hoped the burglars will be traced.

A Painful Accident.

On Thursday evening Mrs. R. Carton, who was in Mr. G. W. Powell's with Miss Elliott, a friend, met with a painful accident. She was looking at the sewing machine with a lamp in her hand, when the bowl came off the heavy stand and rolled into her lap. It fell on the floor, broke, and her dress took fire. The flames encircled her and leaped upwards. She tried to smother them, and not succeeding endeavored to tear the skirt off. Miss Elliott ran to her assistance, but she shoved her back lest she might be injured. Mrs. Powell was outside, but Mr. Powell, who was in his office, heard the noise and ran into the room. He and a boy seized a tub of water, but just as they threw the water Mrs. Carton succeeded in loosening the skirt at the waist and it fell off, freeing her from the fire. Her hands were severely burned and her arms up above the elbows, and she was slightly burned on one cheek and eyebrow Dr. Fife dressed her injuries, and although they were severe and she was much exhausted, they were fortunately not dangerous. The oil burned on the carpet on the floor, but was easily extinguished. The table cloth was also ignited and the fire was travelling towards a small child sitting on a chair when it was put out.

THE MANITOBA CABINET.

FOUR MEMBERS OF THE MINISTRY SWORN IN YESTERDAY.

All the Ministers Will Likely be Opposed—

The One-Man-One-Vote Bill Passed—

Thirteen Members in the Opposition Benches.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 19.—Four members of the new Cabinet were sworn in to-day:

Thomas Greenway, Premier and Minister of Agriculture.

Joseph Martin, Attorney-General and Railway Commissioner.

James A. Smart, Minister of Public Works.

James E. P. Pendergast, Provincial Secretary.

It was announced in the House that Mayor Jones would be Treasurer but there is reason to believe that after all he will not be chosen owing to the determined kick against him by Reformers.

It is probable all the Ministers will be opposed. Mr. Wm. P. Smith of Portage has been nominated against the new Attorney-General. Mr. Pendergast will likely be beaten, but Mr. Smith is pretty sure of election.

The bill to give Winnipeg three representatives was withdrawn owing to hot opposition.

An act to put in force the one-man-one-vote principle passed with modification.

The House adjourned till to-morrow, when the Governor-General will give his assent to the bill.

Mr. Norquay moved to refer the charges made against him regarding the handing over of provincial bonds to Hudson Bay Railway contractors to one of the judges for investigation.

The House will probably adjourn for a month.

Thirteen members got in the Opposition benches to-day, Smith, Brown and MacArthur retaining their old seats, but they claim they are thoroughly independent.

The Britannia Safe.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—The steamer Britannia is all right. She had a rough passage but sustained no damage.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Irving-Smith case will be called in the Assize Court on Monday.

A portion of the Baldwin estate, at the head of Avenue-road, was deeded to Her Majesty yesterday for the site of Upper Canada College.

Jacob B. Huber, a farmer and drover of Lancaster, Pa., was arrested here to-day on a charge of forgery. He had swindled a number of persons at that place some months ago by forging endorsations of wealthy people to notes and checks, aggregating $3000. The prisoner has agreed to return to Pennsylvania without fighting extradition proceedings.

At the opening lecture of the present session of the Normal School yesterday Hon. G. W. Ross said that there were 7000 school teachers in Ontario, that 1000 new ones were required every year, and that 1500 passed the examinations last year.

When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed and sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates and vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

MONA SCULLY;

—OR—

The Bride of an Englishman.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

The stream, though insignificant, is swift. Placing her strong young arms, that are rounded and fair as those of any court dame, beneath Rodney, she lifts him, and, by a supreme effort, and by right of her fresh youth and perfect health, draws him and herself to land.

In a minute or two the whole affair proves itself a very small thing indeed, with little that can be termed tragical about it. Geoffrey comes slowly back to life, and in the coming breathes her name. Once again he is trying to reach the distant fern; once again it eludes his grasp. He has it: no, he hasn't; yes, he has it. Then at last he wakes to the fact that he has indeed got it in earnest, and that the blood is flowing from a slight wound in the back of his head, which is being stanched by tender fingers, and that he himself is lying in Mona's arms.

He sighs, and looks straight into the lovely frightened eyes bending over him. Then the color comes with a sudden rush back into his cheeks as he tells himself she will look upon him as nothing less than a "poor creature" to lose consciousness and behave like a silly girl for so slight a cause. And something he feels. Above and beyond everything is a sense of utter happiness, such as he has never known before, a thrill of rapture that has in it something of peace, and that comes from the touch of the little brown hand that rests so lightly on his head.

"Do not stir. Your head is badly cut, an' it bleeds still," says Mona, with a shudder. "I can't stop it. Oh, what shall I do?"

"Who got me out of the water?" asks he, lazily, pretending (hypocrite that he is) to be still overcome with weakness. "And when did you come?"

"Just now," returns she, with some hesitation, and a rich accession of coloring, that renders her even prettier than she was a moment since. Because

"From every blush that kindles in her cheeks,
Ten thousand little loves and graces spring."

Her confusion, however, and the fact that no one else is near, betrays the secret she fain would hide.

"Was it you," asks he, raising himself on his elbow to regard her earnestly, though very loth to quit the spot where late he has been tenant. "You? Oh, Mona!"

"Yes, it was I," she says. "And why shouldn't I? Is it to see you drown, I would? I—I didn't want you to find it out; but,"—quickly—"I would do the same for any one at any time. You know that."

"I am sure you would," says Geoffrey, who has risen to his feet and has taken her hand. "Nevertheless, though, as you say, I am but one in the crowd, and, of course, nothing to you, I am very glad you did it for me."

With a little touch of willfulness, perhaps pride, she withdraws her hand.

"I dare say," she says, carelessly, purposely mistaking his meaning, "it must have been cold lying there."

"There are things that chill one more than water," returns he, slightly offended by her tone.

"You are all wet. Do go home and change your clothes," says Mona, who is still sitting on the grass with her gown spread carefully around her. "Or perhaps"—reluctantly—"it will be better for you to go to the farm, where Bridget will look after you."

"Thank you; so I shall, if you will come with me."

"Don't mind me," says Miss Scully, hastily. "I shall follow you by and by."

"By and by will suit me down to the ground," declares he, easily. "The day is fortunately warm; damp clothes are an advantage rather than otherwise."

Silence. Mona taps the mound beside her with impatient fingers, her mind being evidently great with thought.

"I really wish," she says, presently, "you would do what I say. Go to the farm, and—stay there."

"Well, come with me, and I'll stay till you turn me out."

"I can't," faintly.

"Why not?" in a surprised tone.

"Because—I prefer staying here."

"Oh! if you mean by that you want to get rid of me, you might have said so long ago, without all this hinting," says Mr. Rodney, huffily, preparing to beat an indignant retreat.

"I didn't mean that, and I never hint," exclaims Mona, angrily; "and if you insist on the truth, if I must explain to you what I particularly desire to keep secret, you——"

"You are hurt!" interrupts he, with passionate remorse. "I see it all now. Stepping into that hateful stream to save me, you injured yourself severely. You are in pain—you suffer; whilst I——"

"I am in no pain," says Mona, crimson with shame and mortification. "You mistake everything. I have not even a scratch on me; and—I have no shoes or stockings on me either, if you must know all!"

She turns from him wrathfully; and Geoffrey, disgusted with himself, steps back and makes no reply.

"There, do go away!" says this woodland goddess. "I am sick of you and your stupidity."

"I am sure I don't wonder," says Geoffrey, very humbly. "I beg your pardon a thousand times; and—good-bye, Miss Mona."

She turns involuntarily, through the innate courtesy that belongs to her race, to return his parting salutation, and, looking at him, sees a tiny spot of blood trickling down his forehead from the wound received awhile since.

On the instant all is forgotten—chagrin, shame, shoes and stockings, everything! Springing to her little naked feet, she goes to him, and, raising her hand, presses her handkerchief against the ugly stain.

"It has broken out again," she says, nervously. "I am sure—I am certain—it is a worse wound than you imagine. Ah! do go home, and get it dressed."

"But I shouldn't like any one to touch it except you," says Mr. Rodney, truthfully. "Even now, as your fingers press it, I feel relief."

"Do you?" asks Mona, earnestly.

"Honestly, I do."

"Then just turn your back for one moment," says Mona, simply, "and when my shoes and stockings are on I'll go home with you an' bathe it. Now, don't look round, for your life!"

"Is thy servant a dog, that he should do this thing?" quotes Mr. Rodney, and Mona, having got into her shoes, she tells him he is at liberty to follow her across the rustic bridge lower down that leads from the wood into Mangle Farm.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also 'Boys' Overcoats running up to men's size, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Man's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

Don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—The Rolling Mill Association has decided upon a general reduction of wages in the mills represented in its organization from a basis of 2.2 cents per bar to 2 cents per bar. ## THE NORTHERN TRANSFER.

SHAREHOLDERS WILL SEEK THEIR RIGHTS IF THE G.T. GETS THE ROAD.

A Meeting Discusses the Situation in a Friendly Spirit—Hon. J. B. Robinson Makes a Statement of the Case—Resolutions Passed and a Committee Appointed.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.

A meeting of the private shareholders of the Northern Railway, adjourned from Thursday, was held at the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon to discuss the question of what their rights were as shareholders and whether the bondholders could make a transfer of the road without consulting them.

These gentlemen were present: Mayor Clarke, Hon. J. B. Robinson, H. L. Hime, Barlow Cumberland, Col. Fred. Denison, M.P., Frank Arnoldi, Thos. H. Lee, Chas. Hooper, Wm. Wakefield, Geo. P. Dickson and J. S. McMurray. Ex-Gov. Robinson presided.

The chairman explained why they were together. "We have met here," said he, "in our own interests as shareholders of the Northern Railway. And here I take the first opportunity of saying that we assemble here in no unfriendly spirit towards anyone connected with the Northern Railway or the Hamilton and Northwestern. We have no hostility against anybody." He then produced the last annual report of the Northern, and submitted some statistics to show that 5 per cent. interest was due to the stockholders. The gross earnings for 1886 were $1,369,016 and the working expenses $816,504, leaving a net revenue of $553,012 to be distributed according to the fixed proportions. He understood, too, that the road had earned $150,000 or $200,000 over and above last year's gross earnings, while the running expenses were but 60 per cent. of the working expenses of 1886. This would leave about $80,000 more to be added to the $153,000 which, if properly distributed, would give them a very considerable dividend. He believed it was a fact that there were shareholders in England holding a considerable amount of stock all told who had not received a dividend for two of three years.

The fact was that the joint debt in 1885, taking bonds and stocks, including the Northern road and Hamilton and Northwestern, was $11,446,000, $7,432,000 on the Northern and $4,014,000 on the Hamilton and Northwestern. He was not aware that any act of Parliament since had permitted an increase in the debt of one dollar. If such an act had been passed the shareholders had not been apprised of the fact. The gross revenue of $553,000 distributed on the total debt of $11,000,000 for both roads would pay just about 5 per cent. The time had come for them to look after their interests. He saw by the Mayor's able address that he was prepared to act for the city. In his first message he referred to the matter in these words:

It is a very strange anomaly that the affairs of this road should still be under the control of its bondholders, when it is manifest from the past reports that its earning power, with careful management and prudent economy, would have placed the company where it should now be, in the hands of the shareholders, and the stock, of which the city is a large holder, rendered of some marketable value. Should the rumored changes take place in the management of the road there is no doubt that, with increased facilities and enlarged connections, the citizens may hope for some return for that large amount contributed by them towards its construction.

And they were justified in thinking also that it was a strange anomaly—so strange that he believed that there was never a road in existence where, when the bondholders recived their interest, they still managed the road. The bondholders had been receiving their interest for the last twenty or twenty-five years steadily, and now he thought that the shareholders should receive a fair dividend on their investment. There was no road with a more promising future than the Northern. Besides increased ordinary traffic a large business was being developed in taking pleasure-seekers to and from Muskoka in the summer. One newspaper estimated that there were 25,000 visitors to the Muskoka lakes last summer. Each of these people would contribute at least $7 to the railway.

There was every reason to believe that Muskoka would become even more popular as a summer resort. The Northern and Pacific Junction Railway would feed both the Northern and the Hamilton and Northwestern, and the immense traffic which was sure to come over the new international bridge at the Sault would accrue largely to their benefit. These considerations were of considerable importance, and should lead them to look after their interests. It might be said that they were premature and that they did not know what the rumored changes were to be; but when the Mayor spoke for the city, which held $300,000 worth of stock, surely it was not out of place for them to take counsel. It might be said that they were showing hostility towards the Grand Trunk, or it might be it was the C.P.R. which the directors were treating with. But he thought they could not be properly charged with that feeling.

Toronto or Hamilton might not want to see an independent road absorbed by either of the great corporations—it might be of importance to the citizens of either city. But as a citizen he would be the last to say aught against the Grand Trunk. He considered that two-thirds of the prosperity of the country during the past twenty-five or thirty years was due to the workings of the Grand Trunk. In fact that railway entered Canada when it was a forest and developed it into a condition not experienced before. The Grand Trunk had been wisely managed, and he recognized the present able management under Mr. Hickson.

Perhaps the absorption of the Northern by the Grand Trunk would be to their advantage, and this alone was what they were to consider. It was understood that the directorate were about to make some transfer, and they had a right to know how it would affect them before a final bargain was made. He hoped the gentlemen present would show that they knew their interests and were determined to guard them, without hostility or unfriendly feeling to anyone. They had a right to be properly protected. He would add that there were three Boards, one in Toronto, one in Hamilton and one in London, the maintenance of which cost $50,000 annually. That was an expense which was not attached to any other railroad 300 miles in length, and the stockholders could justly demand relief from it.

Mr. Hime: "In the event of a transfer of the road to the Grand Trunk could the bondholders carry it out without consulting us?"

The chairman called on Mr. Arnoldi to reply to the question.

Mr. Arnoldi said that it was a very large question. He could not say that he had not looked into it, for he had done so on being requested to fix a value on some stock. He found the stock to be of no marketable value, though it had intrinsic value. But to arrive at an idea of what it is worth involved a large question. As to the question asked he could say that anyone acquainted with legislation knew that a transfer could not take place under such circumstances. A transfer could not be consummated without the customary legislation. It might be well for them not to appear as obstructionists until they found exactly what the arrangement was to be. It might be beneficial. In order, too, to appreciate fully the effect of any change, they must consider where the original stock stood in comparison with the other stock and bonds. The first preference bonds were first in priority, the perpetual debenture stock next, and be second and third preference bonds next. These all stood before the common stock. In this mixed up condition the courts only could decide upon what the value of the stock was.

Mr. Wakefield: "What became of the $150,000 or $200,000 extra earnings for 1887 of which you spoke, Mr. Chairman?"

The Chairman explained that he believed the earnings were larger during the last year than during the year before, though they had no means of knowing exactly.

Mr. Wakefield then moved, seconded by Mr. Hooper, "That a special committee consisting of Hon. J. B. Robinson, Barlow Cumberland, H. L. Hime, Col. Fred. Denison, M.P., with power to add to their number, be appointed to act with the representatives of the City Council and our director on the board to protect us, as shareholders, in the Northern Railway." This was carried.

Mr. Hooper: "We have been called discontented shareholders by one of the papers. I do not wish to say anything against the paper, but I think 'patient shareholders' would be a more appropriate term. I think a person who has had $800 invested for thirty or forty years, and who has never received a cent in dividends, can be called patient. I do not reprove anybody, but I think 'patient' was the word that was meant."

Mayor Clarke was called on to say whether a committee would be appointed, but he declined to say anything. Anything said should come from the city representative on the board. Any resolution they choose to pass, however, he would be pleased to lay before the Council.

Mr. Arnoldi asked the Mayor to bear in mind that their case and the city's case were somewhat different. The city's chief trouble was the water front business. He asked the Mayor to have two committees appointed.

Col. Denison moved, seconded by Mr. Arnoldi, "That Mr. C. J. Campbell, who is the representative of the shareholders upon the board, be requested not to assent to any agreement binding on the shareholders to dispose of the Northern Railway until he has first consulted with the committee of the shareholders to-day appointed." Carried.

It was ordered that the resolutions be sent to the Warden of the County of Simcoe which county is also a shareholder.

THE FRENCH AMNESTY BILL.

An Unfortunate Report—Permanent Cabinet Positions—The Panama Canal.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—The committee of the Chamber of Deputies which has had the matter in charge has reported against considering the Amnesty Bill.

The proposal to make the positions of Minister of War and Minister of Marine permanent ones, not to be affected by Cabinet changes, has passed the first reading in committee.

The committee on Municipal Law has approved of the bill for the establishment of the official residence of the Prefect of the Seine in the Hotel de Villa.

The Journal des Debates states that the ministers came to a unanimous decision at to-day's council to refuse the application of M. de Lesseps for authority to issue lottery loans for aiding in the construction of the Panama Canal. As a consequence Panama Canal shares toward the close of business on the Bourse fell 25 francs.

British Opinion of C. U. Agitation.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Henry Norman's interview with Hon. Thomas White on Commercial Union is published in The Pall Mall Gazette to-day, and seems to accord with the general British opinion. It is quite understood here that Canada will act in these commercial matters just as she feels necessary for her own future, though it is equally recognized that Canadians see how false to their own interests would be such a commercial and political surrender to the United States as Hon. Mr. White clearly shows Commercial Union would involve.

The Landwehr Bill.

BERLIN, Jan. 20.—According to The Post's report of the Emperor's remarks to the President of the Landtag, His Majesty concluded with an expression of regret that the Landwehr Bill in the Reichstag made considerable financial demands, but these, he said, were absolutely necessary in view of the increasing armaments of the neighbors of Germany.

An Interesting Case to Hotel-Keepers.

MONTREAL, Jan. 20.—The Superior Court was occupied yesterday with the case of C. S. Morton of London, England, who claims that his room in the Windsor Hotel was entered and his watch and chain and some money stolen, on the occasion of a visit here in May, 1887. The hotel is defending on the ground that Morton did not bolt his door, and that they had used every means in their power to protect the property of their guests.

CANADIANS IN WASHINGTON.

A Delegation From St. Johns—The Fisheries Conference—Mr. Chamberlain Entertains.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A delegation from St. Johns, Quebec, are here urging the repayment of duties on pressed hay. They allege that under a misconstruction of the law the United States customs officers at St. Albans for several years illegally collected duty on all pressed hay shipped from St. Johns across the frontier. By a subsequent ruling of the authorities here this practice was abolished and the shippers now claim repayment of the duties paid previous to that date. They state that they are receiving every possible assistance from the Canadian Ministers who are at present in Washington, and appear quite hopeful of success.

The manager of one of the Toronto papers arrived here a few days since and subsequently there appeared in his paper what purported to be a history of the Fisheries Conference. The oft-repeated misstatement of disagreement between Sir. Charles Tupper and Mr. Chamberlain is the only one calculated to do much injury, and even it has so often been denied by those in a position to know that it should be rather harmless. It may be as well, however, to state that the description of the alleged position of affairs is wholly the production of imagination.

Mr. Cockburn, M. P., and Mrs. Cockburn are at present in Washington.

Among the other Canadians in the city are Mr. Ketchum, of the Chignecto ship railway scheme, and Mr. Chipman, Q. C., of Kentville.

Mr. Chamberlain gave a large dinner party at the Arlington to-night.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Rev. John Smith died from apoplexy at his residence, 240 Victoria-street, early yesterday morning. The reverend gentleman had attended a missionary meeting the night before and returned home about 10.30. Shortly afterwards he was seized with dizziness and vomiting. Dr. Carson was summoned; he pronounced it a case of apoplexy. Death occurred at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Smith and Rev. R. P. McKay of Parkdale, son-in-law of deceased, were at the deathbed. Mr. Smith was born in Armagh, Ireland, nearly sixty-four years ago, and had been in the ministry since 1851, his first charge being at Bowmanville, where he remained twenty-four years. In 1875 he came to Toronto as pastor of the Bay-street Presbyterian congregation, who subsequently built Erskine Church at the head of Simcoe-street. In Mr. Smith's time the congregation has grown largely and is now one of the most flourishing Presbyterian churches in the city. He will be mourned by his family, his flock, his fellow-Presbyterians and the public at large—for all the good he did.

Jacob B. Huber, who is wanted at Lancaster, Pa., for a series of forgeries, was taken before Judge McDougall yesterday on extradition proceedings. He was remanded for ten days without any evidence being taken.

Mr. Morson (Bigelow & Morson) made an application to Mr. Justice Proudfoot yesterday to restrain the Imperial Bank or Detective Inspector Stark from paying any of the money found on the person of or deposited in the bank by Norman P. Hatch, under arrest for embezzling $5000 from the United States Express Company. Hatch was one of the company's agents and skipped out with $5000. The application was made on behalf of the American Surety Company, who were Hatch's bondsmen. Mr. Justice Proudfoot granted an interim injunction lasting till Tuesday next.

The Ontario Gazette of this week contains these appointments: Joseph Patullo, Orangeville, Clerk of the Ninth Division Court of Wellington; Fred. W. Thistlewaite, Van Vlack Hill, local master pro tem of the H. C. J. for Prescott and Russell; W. J. Mellican, Galt, and J. W. Elliott, Milton, notaries public.

Letters have been issued incorporating the R. Forbes Company (limited) of Hespeler with a capital stock of $300,000; increasing the powers of The Toronto Real Estate Investment Company so as to admit of borrowing money on mortgage on resolution of the board of directors.

The Board of Examiners of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario concluded a two days' sitting at the Board of Trade rooms last evening. The examiners present were: H. W. Eddis, J. T. Thorne, W. H. Cross, Wm. Powis and J. W. Johnston of Belleville. Five candidates were up for examination. The subjects covered a wide and sweeping range. J. H. Menzies of Toronto and F. S. Sharpe of St. John, N.B., were granted degrees of F.C.A., G. A. Savage of London obtained a certificate of competency and Arthur C. Neff of Toronto a first-class certificate.

The Ontario Government has called in the commission of Police Magistrate John E. Partridge of the County of Simcoe. The serious charges of malfeasance in office in connection with Scott Act cases made against Partridge, and which have been published in The World, were found to be true, as contained in the report submitted by Mr. John Winchester to the Government. It is said his successor will be appointed from another county.

The event in club circles at present is the posting of Sir John A. Macdonald for membership in the National. The Old Man's proposers are Mr. S. F. McKinnon and Mr. Alex. A. Allan, both good and life-long Liberals. The National being eminently a non-political club the membership of Sir John will be hailed with delight.

The Russian Universities.

MOSCOW, Jan. 20.—The police have learned of a new movement among the students. This discovery has led to indefinite postponement of the opening of the universities.

THE CLOSING SESSION OF THE CONVENTION.

Veterinary Science—Cattle Feeding—Dairy Subjects Discussed—Poultry Raising—The Extermination of Weeds—Farming in England—The Wheat Plant.

FRIDAY MORNING.

President Fitzgerald presided this morning. There was a large attendance.

A VETERINARY PAPER.

Mr. E. Crevier, Veterinary Surgeon, read a paper as follows:—

PARTURIENT APOPLEXY AND PARTURITION FEVER.—The symptoms of Parturition Fever often delare themselves from the very first hours after parturition, oftener after three days, but seldom after six or eight days. Heise saw it on the fourteenth day, but Galreau, Carsten-Harms and Allemani saw it before parturition, also after an abortion. It comes on just as well after a prompt and easy parturition as after a laborious one. The animal will have chills, lameness, stiffness and spasmodic contraction of the legs. Does not ruminate or chew her cud and she has an expression of anxiety, she changes place often, keeps moving her tail, will lie down often to get right up, thus manifesting abdominal pains, due to metritis. The chills will last about a quarter of an hour and they are not followed with heat of the skin, as in other fevers. Sometimes you will see her insternal decubitus. She will at times sit like a dog, but oftener stretched out on the right side, with her head leaning on the left side of the chest, which if forced back to its normal position, it will go back to the left side as if drawn by a spring. She will look at her abdomen, there is torpor and dullness, she is sleepy—will let herself move like a mass. If it was not for the moanings you would think the animal dead. This state, that Favre has, with reason, called the collapsus of parturition, that is general loss of strength. You could draw the animal out of the stable and she would not move. If exceptionally the animal stands up there is an exaggerated sensibility of the vertebral column, over the kidneys, the back is arched up, the tail is hanging without movement, the eye is dull, dry and gone back in the orbit, with the pupil very much dilated. Often the globe of the eye can be toucued, without the cow making any movement. The ears hang down, the extremities are cold, with the temperature several degrees below the normal. She will moan, grind her teeth and the saliva will be abundant and stringy, (like linseed tea). The tongue coated and viscuous; the apparent membranes are pale, but the genital organs are injected, if there is peritonitis they are tumefied, the vagina is dry, very little urine, obstinate constipation, the bladder full, and the abdimuial viscerae are paralyzed. There is an absence of peristaltic movements. There is a little bloating, the secretion of milk is diminished, if diarrhœa, it is a bad omen, the heart beats hard, almost audible. The respiration is calm but circulation is accelerated. The pulse is firm 70, 80 and even 90 to the minute, the regular pulse in health being from 35 to 50. She is insensible to the whip or the voice of the master. There is a chronic muscular contraction towards the end and very often it complicates with loss of sight. As complications there are metritis, metro-peritoulties, often on the mare, of pneumouia and pyohemia. The march of the the disease is fast. It may ast three days and death sometimes comes on after 24 hours.

LAMPERS.—These are very simple and due to dentition. Cut straw and chop should be fed. Until the animal is through teething nothing can be done and after that nature does the rest. Never burn the roof of the mouth, but slight bleeding is beneficial.

WOLF TEETH.—The small supernumerary teeth generally called wolf teeth, do not in the least interfere with the horses well being, except they should happen to deviate from their normal position, where they may interfere with mastication, but this very rarely occurs. They are not in any way connected with the eyes of the animal. Horses will get blind with or without wolf teeth. The barbarous and utterly useless practice of removing these teeth, a practice only indulged in by quacks and ignorant men, should be denounced.

FILING TEETH.—Horses teeth should be filed or they will bolt their food. Any person can tell by feeling when it is necessary to file them. Dyspepsia will result if food is not chewed properly. Sometimes a glutton horse, just the same as a human glutton, will bolt his food, and for such cases he recommended that stones be placed in the feed box.

The remainder of the report is held over.

Give them a Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Meeting of the Executive Committee of the Association.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Trent Navigation Association was held in the council chamber on Friday afternoon. Among those present were Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., Mayor of Peterborough; Mr. M. B. Morrison, Mayor of Trenton; Mr. J. B. Thompson, Reeve of Orillia; Mr. W. Bennett, Reeve of Midland: the Rev. Wm. Logan of Fenelon Falls; Mr. M. Boyd, of Bobcaygeon; Mr. D. R. Murphy, of Trenton, and Messrs. G. Hilliard and John Carnegie, of Peterborough.

Mr. James Stevenson, M. P., Chairman of the committee, presided.

Mr. CARNEGIE, Secretary, read a number of letters of regret, one being from Mr. B C. Strickland pointing out that by the Trent route grain would reach the sea board without touching United States territory and with less danger than by other routes.

Mr. CARNEGIE remarked that the gentlemen appointed on the Executive Committee were understood to act as chairmen of sub-committees in their districts.

A resolution of the Fenelon Council, adopted on Jan. 16th, was read, pointing out that the canal would give the farmers along the route the same price for grain as is paid in the front.

The Rev. WM. LOGAN, Fenelon Falls, said that he always thought that the building of the canal would equalize the value of land. Land north which raised better crops than other land nearer the front would not sell for half as much. For the last thirty years, although railways had been built, the tariff for carrying grain remained the same. The canal would give them a better frontier than Lake Ontario, as storms would not interfere with shipping.

Mr. M. BOYD, Bobcaygeon, said that they all recognized the importance of the canal, and they should devise a system for obtaining evidence. If Mr. Carnegie would give his services it would be a boon. He thought there would be no difficulty in securing funds for expenses from the municipalities. The municipality where he lived would do its part and he felt so strongly that he would willingly give a subscription himself. They wanted someone to take hold of the work, and he hoped Mr. Carnegie would do it. If he would, he should be paid a salary and provided with funds to secure clerical assistance and an office where they could work and where he could be consulted.

Mr. CARNEGIE said he felt gratified with the expression of opinion. If he took hold of the work he would like to so with a reasonable opportunity of making it a success, and have a definite understanding as to expenses. He would also wish to know that time would be given by the Commission. He gave an outline of the work that would have to be done. As they did not know what the Government would do, the municipalities should appropriate a maximum amount for expenses.

Mr. HILLIARD said that it was necessary to lay all the information possible before the Commission and he would like to see it ready for their first session.

Mr. D. R. Murphy and Mr. Thompson, Mayor of Orillia, said they were sure their municipalities would do their part as to the expenses.

Mr. HILLIARD said that grain was carried down the Hudson for 10 cents a ton and this route would be similar with the exception of the few locks. The barges that would be used on this route would be less expensive in construction and for manning than vessels on the lake routes and they would escape the dangers of navigation—the loss of life and property that occurred on the lakes route Besides, should there be difficulty between Canada and the United States, and the Welland closed, they would still have this route open. The matter was of such importance that he thought no municipality would hesitate to assist.

Mr. D. R. MURPHY said he had seen two steamers towing about sixty grain barges down the Hudson. The railways only carried to New York half the quantity of grain that was taken by the water routes. He believed the grain was benefitted by being carried by water. He had thought that if the Dominion Government was going to expend eight or ten million dollars in Ontario, although it was a Dominion work and for the general benefit, that in view of the immediate benefit of the expenditure the Ontario Government should make an appropriation in aid of it. In addition to the grain and lumber grade, it should be borne in mind that the water power on these rivers was unexcelled and that, were the canal opened, the factories would supply a large trade in shipping goods and bringing in material. Montreal was largely interested in the canal, as the canal barges would go through to that city. There were people living now along the Trent who bought their land on a distinct promise that the canal would be built. Mr. Baird speaks in his report of a grant being made by the Home Government towards building the canal, and that matter should be looked into.

Mr. BENNETT suggested that the County Councils be asked to make an appropriation to furnish evidence from their sections, and that the question of a general fund be left to the separate municipalities.

Mr. MORRISON recommended appointing three men, one from each end and one from the centre, to gather the evidence.

The CHAIRMAN said that he thought it would be better to employ one man, who would devote his whole time to the work. He believed the municipalities would willingly make the grants, for if they did not they need not ask the Government to do any more. He also believed the Government would meet a portion of the expense of gathering evidence.

After further discussion, Mr. D. R. MURPHY moved, seconded by Mr. J. B. THOMPSON,—Whereas, in order to collect and lay before the Commission appointed by the Dominion Government, all the evidence possible in support of the early completion of the Trent Valley Navigation, considerable expense will have to be incurred; Be it resolved, that the following municipalities be requested to make the appropriations hereinafter mentioned for defraying such expenses, such appropriations to be called for from time to time as required and to be paid to the treasurer of this committee in the following proportions, viz., County of Peterborough (including the town) one-third, Victoria one-third, Simcoe one sixth, and Hastings, Northumberland and Durham (including Trenton) one-sixth the aggregate expenditure not to exceed $3,000, that a copy of this resolution be sent to the several municipalities interested.—Carried.

The meeting adjourned till Wednesday, Feb. 8th, to meet again in Peterborough.

"THE CAUSE OF IRELAND."

Successful Lecture and Concert at the Opera House.

A lecture and concert under the auspices of the Peterborough Branch of the Irish National League and the Literary Society, was held at the Opera House last night. There was a good attendance and the entertainment was a most successful one in every respect.

Dr. Kincaid occupied the chair and the following gentlemen occupied seats on the stage. Messrs. Rev. Fathers Conway and McEvay, James Stevenson, M. P., Jas. Stratton, D. W. Dumble, Thos. Dolan, Thos. Cahill, Jos. Griffin, John O'Meara, Dr. Brennan, J. W. Fitzgerald and J. D. Mollmoyle.

THE CHAIRMAN in opening the meeting said he was in sympathy with the movement to give the same laws to Ireland that we, in Canada, enjoy and he felt confident that the day was near at hand when Ireland would get her rights. Home Rule is not a question of religion or politics and the granting of it does not mean dismemberment of the Empire. It is one of humanity and it would be found that no portion of the Empire would be more loyal than Ireland, as soon as she gets her rights. He paid an eloquent tribute to the worth of Irishmen and said that they occupied leading positions in ever country except their own. In conclusion, he introduced the lecturer of the evening, Mr. Phillips Thompson, of Toronto.

THE LECTURE.

MR. THOMPSON on rising to speak was greeted with loud applause. In opening he said the Irish question was such a one-sided one that it was difficult to discuss. The cause of Ireland, he called the cause of universal humanity. Frequently it was asked, why intrude the Irish question in Canada? In reply he would say that an injury to one is the concern of all. Oppression will re-act and cause injury elsewhere, often on innocent people. He instanced the time of the Fenian raid, when a band of misguided men goaded to desperation by the oppression in Ireland, had sought to wreak vengeance by inflict-injury upon Canada. The laws and institutions of the old country drive people here and our interests are sympathetic and material. The Irish, in their days of trouble, have shown wonderful self control and patience, which, with proper organization will effect much more than violence. Coercion is effecting England as well as Ireland and the imprisonment of Englishmen, for exercising the boasted right of free speech, is opening the eyes of the people of England and Scotland. The English Radicals will bring the matter before the people as all true liberals love justice, right and freedom. Municipal government, as we understand it is altogether unknown in Ireland. Local taxes are levied and spent without any reference to the people who pay them. On account of evictions, once populous districts are now mere pastures and the people are either in the workhouses or in America. It was frequently said that the Irish were not capable of governing themselves. If such was the fact, it was their own concern and for his part he would rather see the country governed badly by the Irish, than well by the English. It was often said that there are two Irelands Celtic and Saxon, but in the matter of Home Rule, they were united and stand shoulder to shoulder, a blending of the orange and green. Protestants always lead in the agitation for Home Rule, as instanced in the cases of Wolf Tone, Emmet, Lord Edward Fitzgerald, Butt and Parnell. If not two Irelands there are two Englands, a just England, as represented by Gladstone and his party and an unjust England as represented by Salisbury, Balfour & Co. These latter were making the name of England a bye word and a reproach throughout the world by their tyranny and oppression in Ireland. The Irish question is rapidly becoming an English one as evidenced by the movements of the crofters and the angry mobs of London, who were suffering from the same evils as the Irish. The system of landlordism is a bad one in any country and in one year the evictions in New York city alone, outnumbered those of the whole of Ireland. This question is becoming a general one through out the world, and the evil should be stamped out in America at once. The Irish had experienced much injustice and spoliation and people now subjected to the same laws, in two generations would develop into first-class rebels. The unjust laws, the religious institutions, the robbery of labor and the refusal to grant the right of self government, as in Ireland, are a disgrace to human nature. For many years no attention was paid to Ireland's appeal to secure redress for her wrongs, but since Parnell started his vigorous campaign and was joined by other loyal and competent men, much good had been accomplished and Parnell's career might be termed a triumphal success. The movement was not confined to party, class or creed and this fact is full of significance, as men are letting party go and standing by principle There can be no peace, no order, no security without justice. The darkest hour is just before the dawn and the outlook for the future is most hopeful and encouraging. Irishmen all over the world are united. There must be no shrinking, no falling back and with proper efforts Ireland will take her proper place among the nations of the earth. (Applause).

EDOM SYMPATHIZERS.

At the conclusion of the address, Mr. J. D. McIlmoyle, Secretary, read letters of regret at not being able to be present, from His Lordship Bishop Dowling and Dr. King. The former enclosed a cheque for $20 towards the funds of the League and expressed sympathy with its aims and objects.

A RESOLUTION.

Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald moved and Mr. James Stratton seconded, in short addresses, the following resolution:

"That as Irishmen and descendants of Irishmen enjoying the blessings of Home Rule in Canada, we sincerely sympathise with our fellow countrymen in the old land, who are now suffering in prison cells because of their constitutional efforts to obtain justice for Ireland, and that we express our strongest approval of, and faith in, Mr. Chas. Stewart Parnell, the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, and the brave band of English, Scotch and Welsh members of Parliament who are now striving to obtain Home Rule for Ireland, and thus put an end to oppression and wrong, and establish, instead, freedom and concord between the people of Great Britain and Ireland."

THE SECOND.

Dr. Brennan moved and Mr. John O'Meara seconded the following:—

"That we declare that the imprisonment of Mr. Wm. O'Brien, M.P., the Right Hon. T. D. Sullivan, M.P., Lord Mayor of Dublin, Wilfred Blunt, and other prominent National and Liberal speakers and journalists, is contrary to the principles of justice and fair play.

"We regret that in this century of enlightenment and advanced civilization unjust and tyrannical coercion laws should be applied for the prevention of individual freedom of speech and the suppression of the liberty of the press, and we extend to these gentlemen and their fellow prisoners in Tullamore and other jails in Ireland our sympathy for their patient endurance of the indignities of prison life in the interests of suffering humanity and the vindication of the right of constitutional agitation by voice and pen.

"We trust that the day is not far distant when their self-sacrificing efforts will be crowned with the success they so ardently hope for."

NUMBER THREE.

Mr. D. W. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. T. Cahill, the following:—

"That this meeting tender its hearty thanks to the representative men of Canadian political parties who, on the floors of the dominion and Provincial Legislatures and elsewhere, have given voice and expression to their own and their constituents' feelings that the people of Ireland should be governed by laws made by themselves, through representatives elected by themselves to and Irish Parliament, and that we earnestly ask them to continue to assist the Irish cause with their powerful support, as we feel confident that until these results are attained peace and harmony cannot possibly exist in Ireland."

The resolutions were all carried unanimously, amid much enthusiasm, the movers and seconders all making short and sharp speeches.

On motion votes of thanks were tendered to Mr. Thompson and Dr. Kincaid, chairman.

THE CONCERT.

The concert was opened by a selection "Echoes from Ireland" by the Peterborough Orchestra. Later on these fine musicians were heard in "Click, Click," an "Irish Medley" and the "Nellie Waltz." Mrs. J. E. McIntyre gave "Terence's Farewell to Kathleen" and had to respond to an encore. Among the local talent Mrs. McIntyre stands in the front rank and the great cause for regret is that she is not more frequently heard in public. Mr. Thos. Dunn was in fine voice and his "Gay Hussar" was loudly encored. "Alla Stella Confidenta" by Miss A. Dunn was greatly appreciated. The duet "Good Night," by the Misses McIlmoyle, with violin and flute obligato, was one of the gems of the evening. A pianoforte solo "Rondo Caprisioso," by Miss A McDonald, was given in good taste and showed the layd's capabilities as a pianiste. "Am I Remembered in Erin," was sung by Miss L. Begley, an old favorite, who has lost none of her popularity as evidenced by the fact that she received a recall. Mr. R. Burdick followed with a mouth organ solo, which was so cleverly executed that the audience was fairly taken by storm. Mr. M. Dunn sang "Waiting," the last number on the programme, and so well did he do it than an encore was demanded. Miss Delaney and Miss McDonald played the accompaniments. "God Save the Queen" brought the proceedings to a close.

Brevities.

—The Police Magistrate had no cases to dispose of this morning.

—The Auditors for Ashburnham this year are Messrs. John T. Wright and J. J. Rooney.

—Since the first of January this year only three tramps have been sheltered at the Police Station.

—Horse owners are now fitting up their nags for the ice trotting races and the season promises to be a lively one.

—Norwood boasts of a boy eight years of age, Master Willie Birt, who passed the entrance examination.

—The Lindsay races on the ice will be held on February 7th and 8th, and the Fenelon Falls races on January 27th and 28th.

—People from other places state that our sidewalks are kept in a cleaner state than those of any other place they know of. The corporation snow ploughs are responsible.

—Mr. Fred. Cox, Toronto, has purchased the fine driving mare lately owned by Mr. H. W. Kent. The price is private, but a handsome figure is named.

—Mrs. Williams, of Port Hope, mother of the late Col. Williams, died on Wednesday evening after a short illness. She was the second daughter of the late Thos. Ward, and was born in Port Hope in 1807.

—The council should appoint Assessors at once, in order that they may complete their work in time. It is generally understood that only two will be appointed this year the experiment of having three not panning out.

—If the manager of the Opera House would see that the place is properly warmed, he would confer a great favor on the public who patronage public entertainments. Many complaints regarding the cold were heard last night.

—Referring to an indignant person sent from Oshawa to Lindsay and returned, the Post says "he must belong to Peterborough." Must, eh? Lindsay is good at making such presents, but Peterborough is not bound always to accept them.

—Mayor Walters has presented the Lindsay Curling Club with a handsome silver medal. Lindsay's Mayor is larger than Peterborough's, but as his heart is no larger, should the Peterborough club expect too much if it looked for a similar gift?

—The Ontario argues that the Belleville exhibition last fall was better than Peterborough's because the gate receipts were larger. The attendance at the Peterborough fair was interferred with by wet weather.

—One of the supposed would-be-burglars arrested at Toronto, has been identified as a young man who was committed to Kingston from Peterborough some three years ago, on a charge of burglary.

—Mr. Thos. Beall, of Lindsay, has succeeded in winning the prize offered by the Farmer's Advocate of London, Ont., for the best essay on farming. Mr. Beall is a gentleman of wide knowledge in the various departments of fruit and flower culture and has a thorough grasp of what is essential to success in practical farming.

—Several sleighing parties enjoyed the trip to Lakefield and Bridgenorth last night. "I'll take good care of her," said the jealous young man, as he helped his best girl into the sleigh. As the rig passed the electric light it was seen from the position of the young man's arm that he was doing his best to fill the contract.

—The Post:—"Peterborough is respectfully assured that whilst Lindsay is justly proud of the achievement of these players named, it possesses at least a dozen others able and willing to uphold the superiority of the club against all comers, Peterborough preferred. There!" The Post says nothing about four or five rink matches. Bye-election victories are all very well, but it is a general election scoop that counts.

THE ARREST OF GAMBLE.

THE ALLEGED MURDERER OF LIZZIE BRAY CAUGHT IN ROCHESTER.

He is Held in That City at the Disposal of the Canadian Authorities—Extradition Proceedings to be Instituted Forthwith.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—John R. Gamble, the young piano polisher and alleged betrayer of the girl Lizzie Bray, who died at her boarding house, No. 69 Walton-street, in this city, on the 19th of December last, from the effects of an abortion, was arrested in Rochester, N. Y., at an early hour yesterday morning. The peculiarly suspicious circumstances under which Miss Bray died, it will be remembered, resulted in a coroner's inquest being held. Detective John Cuddy worked up the case, and brought before the jury evidence that convinced them of Gamble's responsibility for the crime that caused her death. Consequently a verdict of wilful murder was returned against Gamble by the jury. In the meantime he had decamped, fearing, no doubt, that the truth of his criminal relations with the unfortunate young woman must necessarily be exposed by the enquiry. He was first traced to Bowmanville, but before the machinery of the law could be set in motion to secure his apprehension he managed to get away from that town, covering his tracks so shrewdly that all efforts to discover his whereabouts proved futile.

Thursday night about 11 o'clock his hiding place was revealed to the authorities here in a despatch from Detroit, the address given being "505 St. Paul-street, Rochester, N.Y." Immediately instructions were wired to the Rochester authorities to arrest him, which they did promptly. A despatch containing the news of his apprehension reached here about 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

Detective Cuddy started for Rochester at 12.20 yesterday afternoon for the prisoner. Extradition proceedings will be instituted immediately.

Gamble's whereabouts were discovered through the agency of a letter written by him from Detroit to an acquaintance residing here. In that epistle he protested his innocence declaring that the young girl died from the effects of an operation performed on her to hide disgrace by a relative. The detectives had a reply penned, and in the same mail communicated with the authorities in Detroit, requesting them to shadow the postoffice and arrest the person calling for the letter addressed to Gamble. Late Thursday evening a young man inquired at the delivery wicket at the Detroit postoffice for the letter. He was arrested, but instead of being the right person it was discovered to be the fugitive's brother Edward, who subsequently disclosed his hiding place. This information they immediately wired to Toronto with the result that Gamble was arrested as already stated.

MANITOBA POLITICS.

It Is Stated That There Will Be an Immediate Dissolution.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 20.—In view of the opposition to Cabinet Ministers it is stated there will be a dissolution of the House at once.

In the Legislature to-day Mr. Norquay rose to a question of privilege and stated that the Government, although only forty-eight hours in office, were attempting to go contrary to the statutes in notifying enumerators not to proceed with the revision of voters' lists as required by law.

Mr. Luxton replied that it was done in the interests of economy and with a view to fair redistribution of the seats.

The petition to make Mr. Norquay a lawyer was presented.

His Honor assented to the bill enforcing the one-man-one-vote principle and the House adjourned till Thursday.

MONA SCULLY;

—OR—

The Bride of an Englishman.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

"You have spoiled your gown on my account," says Geoffrey, surveying her remorsefully; "and such a pretty gown, too. I don't think I ever saw you looking sweeter than you look to-day. And now your dress is ruined, and it is all my fault."

"How dare you find a defect in my appearance?" says Mona, with her old gay laugh. "You compel me to retaliate. Just look at yourself. Did you ever see such a regular pickle as you are?"

In truth he is. So when he has acknowledged the fact, they both laugh, with the happy enjoyment of youth, at their own discomfiture, and go back to the cottage good friends once more. On the middle of the rustic bridge before mentioned he stops her, to say unexpectedly:

"Do you know by what name I shall always call you in my thoughts?"

To which she answers, "No. How should I? But tell me."

"'Bonnie Lesley;' the poet says of her what I think of you."

"And what do you think of me?" She has grown a little pale, but her eyes have not left his.

"To see her is to love her,
And love but her forever;
For nature made her what she is,
And ne'er made sic anither."

quotes Geoffrey, in a low tone, that has something in it almost startling, so full is it of deep and earnest feeling.

Mona is the first to recover herself.

"That is a pretty verse," she says, quietly. "But I do not know the poem. I should like to read it."

Her tone, gentle but dignified, steadies him.

"I have the book that contains it at Coolnagurtheen," he says, somewhat subdued. "Shall I bring it to you?"

"Yes. You may bring it to me—to-morrow," returns she, with the faintest hesitation, which but enhances the value of the permission, whereon his heart once more knows hope and content.

CHAPTER IV.

But when to-morrow comes it brings to him a very different Mona from the one he saw yesterday. A pale girl, with great large sombrous eyes and compressed lips, meets him, and places her hand in his without a word.

"What is it?" asks he, quick to notice any change in her.

"Oh! haven't you heard?" cries she. "Sure, the country is ringing with it. Don't you know that they tried to shoot Mr. Moore last night?"

Mr. Moore is her landlord, and the owner of the lovely wood behind Mangle Farm where Geoffrey came to grief yesterday.

"Yes, of course; but I heard, too, how he escaped his would-be assassin."

"He did, yes; but poor Tim Maloney, the driver of the car on which he was, he was shot through the heart, instead of him! Oh, Mr. Rodney," cries the girl, passionate emotion both in her face and voice, "what can be said of those men who come down to quiet places such as this was, to inflame the minds of poor ignorant wretches, until they are driven to bring down murder on their souls! It is cruel. It is unjust. And there seems no help for us. But surely, in the land where justice reigns supreme, retribution will fall upon the right heads."

"I quite forgot about the driver," says Geoffrey, beneath his breath. This remark is unfortunate. Mona turns upon him wrathfully.

"No doubt," she says, scornfully.—"The gentleman escaped, the man doesn't count! Perhaps, indeed he has fulfilled his mission now he has shed his ignoble blood for his superior! Do you know it is partly such thoughts as these that have driven our people to desperation? One law for the poor, another for the rich! Friendship for the great, contempt for the needy!"

She pauses, catching her breath with a little sob.

"Who is uttering seditious language now?" asks he, reproachfully. "No, you wrong me. I had, indeed, for the moment forgotten all about that unfortunate driver. You must remember I am a stranger here. The peasants are unknown to me. I cannot be expected to feel a keen interest in each one individually. In fact, had Mr. Moore been killed instead of poor Maloney, I should not have felt it a bit the more, though he was the master and the other the man. I can only suffer with those I know and love."

The "poor Maloney" has done it. She forgives him; partly because—sweet soul—harshness is always far from her.

"It is true," she says, sadly. "I spoke in haste because my heart is sore for my country, and I fear for what we may yet live to see. But of course I could not expect you to feel with me."

This cuts him to the heart.

"I do feel with you," he says, hastily. "Do not believe otherwise." Then, as if impelled to it, he says in a low tone, though very distinctly, "I would gladly make your griefs mine, if you would make my joys yours."

This is a handsome offer, all things considered, but Mona turns a deaf ear to it. She is standing on her door-step at this moment, and now descends until she reaches the tiny graveled path.

"Where are you going?" asks Rodney, afraid lest his last speech has offended her. She has her hat on—a big Gainesborough hat, round which soft Indian muslin is clinging, and in which she looks nothing less than adorable.

"To see poor Kitty Maloney, his widow. Last year she was my servant. This year she married; and now—here is the end of everything—for her."

"May I go with you?" asks he, anxiously. "These are lawless times, and I dare say Maloney's cabin will be full of roughs. You will feel happier with some man beside you whom you can trust."

"Come, then," she says, slowly, "if you will. Though I am not afraid. Why should I be? Do you forget that I am one of themselves? My father and I belong to the people."

They walk on silently, scarcely exchanging a syllable one with the other, until they come within sight of a small thatched cottage, built at the side of the road. It has a manure-heap just in front of it, and a filthy pool to its left, in which an ancient sow is wallowing, whilst grunting harmoniously.

Two people, a man and a woman, are standing together some yards from the cabin, whispering, and gesticulating violently, as is "their nature to."

The man, seeing Mona, breaks from the woman, and comes on to her.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots: that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 98 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

Don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents

THE WAR SCARE ABATED.

BUT THERE IS A STRONG BELIEF IN ULTIMATE HOSTILITIES.

Official Circles Confident that an Open Rupture of the Central European Powers with Russia Cannot Long be Avoided—Roumania's Attitude.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The war scare in Vienna and Berlin is slightly abated just at present, but official circles remain confident that an open rupture of the Central European powers with Russia cannot long be avoided. The attitude of Roumania creates a suspicion in Vienna that her intention really is, while pretending to maintain a position of neutrality between the prospective combatants, to assist Russia in her schemes in the Balkans at the proper moment. The Roumanian Minister of Public Instruction and Arts, M. D. Stourdza, is now in Berlin, whither he is gone to offer explanations to the German Government of the attitude of Roumania, as betrayed by her recent actions. In the meantime the movements of the Roumanian troops up to date are all in favor of the Czar's convenience in case of active war. At the Austrian Foreign Office the action of Roumania is considered to be a concerted plan with the Russian campaign, and the result is anything but confidence in the professions of neutrality, which the Roumanian Ministers do not cease to make. It is believed that Roumania has accepted Russia's terms for an alliance, and in pursuing this course is fulfilment of a formal agreement.

GERMAN OPINION.

War Has Been Delayed But Not Averted—Austria and Germany Waiting.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—Since the official organ of the German army, The Military Wochenblatt, gave its luminous comparison of the strength of the frontier forces of Germany and Russia, the discussion of the situation has elicited nothing more definite than the semi-official statement in several papers yesterday that despite the arrival of additional Russian troops on the frontier the German Government for the present will not order the corresponding movement necessary to equalize the strength of the two forces. This is one of several indications that the Government believes that war has been delayed. The reports reaching the War Office touching the breaking down of the Russian transport service, the waste of munitions, the defective commissariat, and starvation and disease in the Russian army, enable the announcement to be made that Germany maintains a waiting attitude. On the Russian side the discovery that it would be impossible to open effectively an early campaign has caused the war party to modify its tone.

The Moscow Gazette yesterday indicated the pacific policy of Russia. It declared that peace was assured unless Russia should be provoked by aggressive acts of her neighbors. The Novoe Vremya protests that the Russian armaments are purely defensive. The Post disputes The Wochenblatt's figures, and tries to prove that Germany can concentrate 1,000,000 men on the frontier of Poland within ten days, while Russia's huge areas of territory and imperfect means of transportation render difficult the work of mobilization. The postponement of the rupture is not in accordance with the strategy of the Berlin office, nor within the wishes of the Viennese, but continues due to the irresolution of the Austrian Government. Although convinced that war is inevitable and thus it would be preferable for Austria sooner or later, Count Kalnoky persists in waiting Russia's time. Public sentiment in Vienna and Pesth displays irritation over the position. The Hungarian papers charge Kalnoky with too great subservience to Bismarck, and urge that action be taken without waiting for an order from Berlin. The truth of the position, however, is that Prince Bismarck has already fully possessed Count Kalnoky of the fact that a German initiative to war is impossible, leaving the Austrian Government free to open hostilities when it deems the time ripe.

Another version is semi-officially issued in Vienna to-night of the Russian Military Attache Zujef's recent statement that two new divisions of Russian troops had arrived at the Galician frontier. The first version of this statement, which was also semi-officially given, was distinctly menacing. It is now stated that M. Zujef, while conversing with Austrian officials, only stated that a displacement of divisions would be effected gradually in the course of the present year. He further expressed the hope that no advance would be made, as such a movement would be weakening to Russia's defensive position and would compel her to take large measures. This interpretation is obviously issued to allay the impatience of the military and political circles of Austria-Hungary, where Count Kalnoky is becoming distrusted and plans are maturing to substitute a more energetic Minister. Count Andrassy will supplant Kalnoky ere long if a powerful section of active politicians succeed in their plans.

The Polish group in Vienna rely on Count Andrassy to assist in the revival of a Polish Kingdom, consisting of Russian and Austrian Poland under an Austrian Prince. The expectancy of the Poles rapidly increases. Their organs in Cracow and Lemberg, while preaching prudence, declare that the people of Poland will go solid for Austria if assured of some form of restored independence. Bishop Dunajewski of Cracow, who is recognized by the Poles as their ecclesiastical leader, has been entreated to assist in the developments of a national movement by making a public declaration, but he responds by advising the greatest reserve until events justify action.

Russian Influence in Bulgaria.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 22.—M. Hitrovo, Russian Minister to Roumania, in an interview with a high government official, declared it was certain that Russia would soon regain her influence in Bulgaria, and that the people of the country would again appeal to Russia and sue her to deliver them from the slavery and terrorism to which they are at present subjected.

FROM THE POLITICAL SEAT OF WAR.

The Government as Yet Undecided as to Dissolution—Getting in Line.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 22.—It is improbable that the Government will definitely decide whether to ask for dissolution or not for several days. The writs have not yet issued for the election of the new Ministers, but the Opposition is organizing in different constituencies. The Conservatives claim that they can defeat at least two of them.

A member of the new Government says they have discovered gross irregularities in the affairs of the Norquay administration, but the latter says it is a mere election cry.

THE FISHERIES COMMISSION.

A Session Saturday—To Meet Again To-day—A Congressman's Opinion of C.U.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The fishery negotiators were in session yesterday afternoon and meet again to-morrow.

Speaking of Commercial Union, a prominent Congressman expressed the opinion yesterday that it was the most unsuccessful fad ever placed before the American public. He stated that although it had been boomed most systematically and energetically, it has fallen flat on the public ear, and, so far as Congress is concerned, the scheme might possibly find a mover and seconder, but they would represent its full strength.

The Senate's Program.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The Senate has no program of work for the coming week beyond the consideration and, if possible, the passage of the Deficiency Bill and the Educational Bill. The regular order will probably give way to-morrow for a speech from Senator Frye, and later in the week for speeches from Senators Palmer and Ingalls. Senator Frye's subject is not certainly known, but it is assumed that he will speak upon the question of the fisheries.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT MONTREAL.

A $300,000 Blaze on Saturday—A Fireman Injured—The Insurances.

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—Early Saturday morning a disastrous fire broke out in the large five-story building on St. James-street running from No. 65 to 83. The city fire brigades were promptly on hand, but notwithstanding the fact that twenty-four streams of water poured through the windows the flames roared till noon yesterday. The block was occupied by Messrs. A. J. White, medicines; H. S. & A. S. Ewing, spices; H. J. Elliott, lithographer; M. P. Goullin, medicines; W. O. N. Parker, clothing; Alex. Wills, manufacturers' agent; M. Sabiston, lithographer; Bourgeois & Herron, coffee; A. Lavigne, furniture; J. B. Menard, hat and cap blocks; W. Moquin, confectioner; Lamarre & Co., publishers; J. J. Duffy & Co., spices; W. Akerman, printer; Tetu, Circe & Co., manufacturers' agents; Little & Lane, engravers, and E. L. Furniss & Co., wines.

At 2 o'clock the roof caved and fell with a terrific crash. Two firemen, W. Smith and H. Berriot, jumped from one of the windows to the ground to save themselves from being roasted by the showers of sparks. Smith was found to be already badly burned, but Berriot escaped unhurt.

The fire was confined to the block where it broke out and subsided in the afternoon.

Those insured are: Bourgeois & Herron, in the North British $15,000, Phœnix $4000, Western and Quebec $1000, Queen's $4000, and Guardian $3000; S. H. & A. S. Ewing, in the Phœnix $4000, Queen's $5000, Guardian $5000, and Royal Canadian $2500; J. J. Duffy & Co., in the Phœnix $4000, Queen's $2000, and Guardian $3000; Prain's estate, in the Citizens' $3000, and Fire Insurance Association $3000; E. L. Furniss, in the Fire Insurance Association $3000; Tetu & Co., in the Royal Canadian $4500; Alex. Wills, in the Royal Canadian $2000; Cheesebrough Manufacturing Company, in the Guardian $2000, Sabiston & Trenholme, in the Citizens' $6000; A. Lavigne, in the Citizens' and other companies $10,000. The building, without the stock, was valued at $67,000. The total loss is estimated at $300,000.

PARCEL POST.

The Convention Between Canada and the United States About Completed.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—The Postmaster-General states that the convention for the parcel post service between Canada and the United States had been signed by himself and Postmaster-General Vilas, and only requires the signature of President Cleveland to make it legal. The terms agreed upon were satisfactory to both Governments, and it had been arranged for the service to be inaugurated March 1.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The parcel post convention between the United States and Canada, mentioned in a despatch received by the Associated Press from Ottawa to-day, was signed by Postmaster-General Vilas a few days before he left the department. It was then sent to Canada for Postmaster-General McLelan's signature and it is expected that it will be returned to Washington Monday, when the present Postmaster-General will present it to the President for his signature.

Mr. Nicholas M. Bell, Superintendent of Foreign Mails, said last night that the provisions of this convention are in every respect the same as the provisions of the parcel post convention now in force between the United States and Mexico. It provides that articles of every kind or nature which are admitted to the domestic mails of either country shall be admitted to the mails exchanged between the United States and Canada, at domestic rates and classifications. No accounts will be kept between the two countries, but each government will retain all its own postal receipts. Mr. Bell said that this convention will make one postal territory of the United States, Mexico and Canada.

THE MASTER'S BUSY DAY.

A BATCH OF MOTIONS RE CENTRAL BANK AFFAIRS.

A Distress for Rent Warrant—The Hypothecated St. Catharines Bonds and the Niagara Central Notes—Cashier A. A. Allen on the Stand—A Mountain of Exhibits.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.

The Master-in-Ordinary's court room at Osgoode Hall was kept going from 11 o'clock Saturday morning until after 4 o'clock, with two short intermissions, disposing of Central Bank affairs, which came up in a variety of forms. There was a rent dispute, the Niagara Central Railway directors were in court, Cashier Allan was put on the stand and other important proceedings took place.

There was a large collection of counsel and interested persons. Among those in the room were Capt. S. Neelon of St. Catharines and John Carroll, directors of the Niagara Central; Liquidators Campbell, Howland and Gooderham; Lyman Dwight, director of the defunct bank; John Bell, Grand Trunk solicitor; Henry O'Brien, the Central's solicitor, Cashier Allen sat in a back seat and looked perplexed.

The first matter that the Master was asked to adjudicate upon was an appeal from Mr. G. H. Watson, who appeared for Foster & McCabe, wholesale milliners. This firm are subtenants in the Central Bank building, on whom Col. Gzowski, the owner of the property, had threatened to distrain for the rent of the whole building for the quarter past, amounting to $600. Bailiff Ted Gegg was to descend on his clients at 12 o'clock Saturday, and Mr. Watson sought to ward off the distress. After argument the matter was referred to Chancellor Boyd, who directed that Foster & McCabe pay direct to the landlord the $250 rent due by them as sub-tenants.

Then the court rose for an hour to give an opportunity to hear the next motion. Before leaving his seat Mr. Hoskins said:

"I hold in my hand the duly certified return made by the Central Bank, under date Nov. 6, 1887, six days before the suspension, in which it is reported to the Government that on Oct. 31 there was not only a surplus of $600,000 actually over and above all liabilities, but sufficient securities on current loans, etc., to cover all liabilities. I must take this statement as true, and the directors and officials of the bank shall be required to give an account of what disposition of this large surplus they made between Oct. 31 and Nov. 15, when the bank suspended. The law calls on them, as custodians of the trust placed in their hands, for which they are responsible to the beneficiaries, who in this case are the shareholders primarily, to give a rigid account to the last cent.

"The criminal law holds them accountable if the returns are fictitious. Under the provisions of the Windingup Act, not only shareholders, but any creditor, has the right to examine minutely all directors and officials, and to scrutinize their dealings. If false returns are made, the officials making such returns are criminally liable; they may be imprisoned and compelled to pay all such amounts, with interest. Presidents and directors and officials of banks must know, and the sooner they realize their responsibility the more will it be to their advantage, that they cannot shelter themselves behind a mere pretence.

"The returns they make must be true in figure and in fact—the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. With the large judicial powers vested in this tribunal by the act, I shall call upon the liquidators to make the most minutely searching investigation. This tribunal possesses large inquisitorial powers; they shall be exercised to the full, and everything probed. It is a duty to the law, to the court, to public justice, and to those whose property and means of livelihood have been imperilled. In the interest of those vitally interested, as well as of our other institutions every other previous fact and circumstance leading to the suspension must be laid bare."

Mr. W. A. Foster, who as usual represented the liquidators, replied to the Master that they were impressed with a due sense of their liability and would perform every duty.

At 1 o'clock the Master again faced the lawyers. Mr. James Maclennan, Q.C., on behalf of the Niagara Central Railway directors, made application for an order similar to the one already made in respect of one note, directing the liquidators to retire the following notes, as they mature, out of the funds of the Central Bank in liquidation: A note for $29,000, maturing Saturday, held by the Imperial Bank; one for $10,000, due Feb. 1, by the Dominion Bank, and one for $5500, on March 5, by the Imperial Bank.

Mr. John Bain, Q.C., who appeared for a petitioning creditor, Robert Green, objected that these would be preferential payments. Mr. J. H. Letcoy, who assisted Mr. Foster on behalf of the liquidators, spoke at length on the motion.

Then Mr. Maclennan replied that the Dominion Bank was not a creditor in the case. The bank could not compel the Niagara Central directors to pay these notes. The Central Bank had detached certain bonds of the City of St. Catharines given the directors of the Niagara Central from a written agreement and re-hypothecated them with the Dominion and Imperial Banks. This was a fraudulent transaction. The Central Bank had loaned the Niagara Central road $100,000, and was given as security the bonds of the City of St. Catharines. These bonds were to be taken up on June 1 next and other securities given. The Central Bank ignored the written agreement, detached the bonds and borrowed money on them, for which they had given notes. The liquidators were now responsible for these notes.

A number of affidavits were read and filed, there was considerable more argument by counsel, and the Master made the order applied for by Mr. Maclennan. Then Capt. Neelon and Mr. Carroll left the court room.

Mr. Foster next took the floor. It was now 2.30. He first handed up to the Master a bulky looking document, composed of many pages, which were securely tied together. This was the list of shareholders which the Master had previously ordered to be produced. "I merely put this in now," said Mr. Foster, "to see, sir, if you approve of the form. If it is all right I will file it as a sworn affidavit on Monday."

"What does it show?" asked the Master.

"It is prepared according to the clause of the act," replied Mr. Foster. "The names of all the present shareholders are given, also the transfers made within thirty days preceding the bank's suspension, which was on Nov. 15 last. It has been prepared at great expense and trouble."

"Are the transferees and the persons making the transfers given?"

"Yes," said Mr. Foster.

"What about the statement of the bank's assets?" the Master next asked.

Liquidator Campbell stood up and said he had been working hard on the statement and hoped to have it ready by Wednesday.

"He will require more assistance in its preparation," said Mr. Foster.

The Master: "He can have any necessary assistance, but the statement should be manned in as soon as possible. The rule followed in England is for the liquidators to make their first duties the preparation of the assets of a defunct institution, so that the creditors may know just what they amount to. There is no recognized practice in this country in such cases, but I am sure the creditors are all anxious to learn the extent and nature of the bank's assets."

"I think I will have it ready by Wednesday," said Mr. Campbell.

"I would now like to call Cashier Allan," put in Mr. Foster.

"We will adjourn for half an hour," said the Master "and then examine Mr. Allan."

At 4.20 Mr. Almer Abbot Allan was sworn. Over an hour was taken up in filing a number of exhibits, consisting of correspondence, checks and telegrams and various other documents. Mr. Allan also handed in a great square parcel of documents, which he said were all connected with Central Bank matters but were his personal property. He had no books or papers in his possession the property of the bank.

A number of the exhibits put in by Mr. Foster had also been exhibited at the private examination of Mr. E. S. Cox before Mr. G. S. Evans. They and the additional ones produced Saturday made up a formidable array and completely covered the Master's desk. None of them were read, however. They embraced three or four $10,000 checks drawn on the Central Bank with Mr. E. S. Cox's name attached, a mass of correspondence between James Baxter & Co. of Montreal and Cox and Co., Cox & Co.'s "cypher code," letters of various kinds, telegrams, etc. Mr. Allan identified the hand-writing of Mr. Cox on many of them, and also explained the cypher on several telegrams which passed between Mr. Cox while in Montreal and his Toronto office. One cypher message which seemed a mystery to Mr. Foster was signed "Peter." It was something about an $8000 check.

Mr. Foster said to the Master that he did not intend to proceed further with Mr. Allan at present. He merely wanted to arrange the exhibits, and asked for an adjournment till to-morrow at 2 p.m., which was granted.

Mr. Foster then gathered up all the papers and placed them carefully away in his well-known leather satchel—that satchel of small appearance but of great capacity.

To the reporters he said he could not at present give them access to these papers. There was nothing that he wanted to hide, but he desired to thoroughly examine their contents before they were filed as affidavits.

"You will get the whole business on Tuesday," said Mr. Foster.

Discount in London.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Discount during the past week was quoted at 1½ for three months and 1 for short. There was no demand. On the Stock Exchange business was limited. There was a tendency toward a rise, but changes were unimportant. American railroad securities continue to attract little attention. Speculation was torpid, prices being sustained by the slow but steady investing in the best stocks. The decision of the Stock Exchange not to recognize certificates issued by an American and English shareholders' association to represent shares deposited with such associations tends to limit facilities for dealing.

THE LIBERAL ELECTOR'S DILEMMA.

The results of the election trials and bye-elections are making the Liberal press very angry, and they are charging the people with being "debased" and otherwise very wicked. It is true that there are some voters who are more or less debased, else the Liberal bribers would not have found men willing to receive their bribes; but when the election of Conservative candidates is attributed to "the complete debasement of public sentiment in the country," the cause of the Conservative victories are misunderstood. It is not necessary to defend the people of the country from such a charge, serious though it be, for it is obviously untrue.

The party press should consider the dilemma in which the Liberal voters are placed when an election is held. They would naturally, no doubt, like to vote for the party's candidate, on account of old associations, but if they do so, how are they to know what policy they are endorsing? They have not only to consider what section of the party the candidates adheres to, but also which faction will ultimately control the party and shape its policy. Besides, it should be remembered that many who formerly voted Liberal do not agree with any of the somewhat numerous and contradictory policies now advocated in the party.

Mr. J. D. Edgar, M.P., and the Hon. Peter Mitchell argue in favor of unrestricted reciprocity, the Globe calls on the party to fall in line behind the banner of free trade, Sir Richard Cartwright advocates commercial union, and Mr. Ellis, M. P., pronounces in favor of annexation. None of these gentlemen is leader of the party, though they are prominent members of it, and seem to be leading groups, but the nominal leader, Mr. Laurier, is silent regarding these questions. While the discordant elements of the party are pulling in different directions and the "rank and file" might be expected to be listening for guidance from the leader, his voice is not heard.

On the other hand the Conservative party has a clearly defined policy in regard to the tariff and trade relations with the United States—the National Policy and a judicious measure of reciprocity that would not be unjust to the Mother Land and that would not imperil Canadian interests. This is not only an easily understood policy; it is one devised in the interest of Canada and under which the country is fairly prosperous and progressive.

Votes given for Liberal candidates at the present time are simply blank cheques which they may fill up at will, with unrestricted reciprocity, commercial union, free trade and direct taxation, or tariff for revenue only and the old jug-handled state of things that existed prior to 1878. Under these circumstances the success of Conservative candidates indicates caution and clear-headedness on the part of the people, and not "debasement."

VACANCIES IN THE HOUSE.

NOMINATIONS IN HALTON ON JAN 31 AND POLLING ON FEB. 7.

Five Unrepresented Constituencies in Ontario for Which Writs Have Not Been Issued—Sir John Endorses Mr. Dickinson in Carleton—The Bank Circulation.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—The writ for Halton has been issued: nomination takes place on Jan. 31 and polling on Feb. 7.

There are still five vacancies from Ontario: Kent, Prince Edward, Russell, Glengarry and East Simcoe, for which writs have not been issued.

In Kent it is understood that the judge declared his intention of reporting that corrupt practices prevailed generally at the last election and if he has done so the writ cannot be issued until ordered by Parliament, as the constituency may be disenfranchised for a number of years as a punishment for its corruption. This has been done in England but never in Canada, which fact, however, is no bar to its being done as it is provided for in the act.

In Prince Edward, Russell, Glengarry and East Simcoe notices of appeal to the Supreme Court were given, and no writ can consequently issue until after the decision of that court, which meets on Feb. 15.

In the case of Russell it was understood when the election was voided that the appeal to the Supreme Court would be withdrawn, but this has not yet been done. Meanwhile Mr. Edwards is said to be hard at work canvassing and the friends of Mr. Mackintosh are understood to be also stirring themselves. In case of another run between these two the contest is expected to be much closer than last time, with the chances in favor of Mackintosh.

Sir John Macdonald has not only written a letter to Mr. Dickinson endorsing his candidature in Carleton as the choice of the convention, but he will attend the nomination at Bell's Corners on Wednesday and speak in favor of that gentleman. The chances of Mr. Powell, never very bright, have become seriously impaired by that gentleman's illness. The severe work of the past ten days, traveling through stormy weather and addressing one or two meetings every day has proved too much for a man at his time of life. Yesterday he was confined to his bed, and it is doubtful whether he will be sufficiently recovered to attend nomination.

Mr. W. S. Lonegan, Secretary of the Railway Commission, yesterday presented to the Government the report of the commission. The report is very voluminous and sealed with all the questions submitted for consideration. The commissioners were unanimous in their recommendation which will, no doubt, be submitted to Parliament at an early date for consideration.

When asked yesterday whether it was true, as stated in some of the newspapers, that the Government was considering the question of retiring the bank circulation and substituting Dominion notes therefor, Sir John A. Macdonald shook his head and said that the matter had not even been discussed in Council.

It is understood that the fifteen days required by law having expired without any application for a writ of habeas corpus having been applied for in the case of J. W. Young, the Detroit forger now in jail in Toronto, the Department of Justice yesterday issued a warrant for his extradition, and he will at once be handed over to the American authorities.

The statement that Mr. Kamper's modified proposition, on behalf of French capitalists, to develop the mining industry in Nova Scotia has been accepted by the Government, is without foundation.

There is no truth whatever in the statement made by several newspapers, that on account of Mr. Dingley's charges in Congress of discrimination against American traffic on the Welland Canal, the Government had decided not to pass the usual order-in-council reducing the tolls on east bound freights on the Canadian canals. Sir John A. Macdonald stated to your correspondent yesterday that the matter had not been discussed in Council at all, and gave no intimation that there was any intention on the part of the Government to change the policy adopted during the last three years of reducing the tolls to a mere nominal figure.

The Secretary of State has rented a building on St. Patrick-street, opposite the new printing office, and will have it fitted up as a temporary office for the purpose of printing the revised voters' list under the Franchise Act, the whole of which work will in future be done in Ottawa instead of in the various constituencies. The new printing office will not be completed for about a year. It is understood that the presses will probably be purchased in the States, they being the best for the purpose, but the type and other plant will be obtained from Toronto and Montreal firms.

On the Continental Bourses.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—Prices on the Bourse were steady during the past week, but dealings were limited. The increases of the week include 3 per cent. rentes 30c, Credit Foncier 3½f. and Suez Canal 14f. Panama Canal shares declined 7½f. yesterday, making the fall for the week 35f.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—The Bourse was quiet during the week, with a firm tendency.

An Untimely Thought.

Though on the snow the moonlight lies,
A lovelier light in Fanny's eyes

And, as she nestles close beside Him, fondly gives his future bride

The music of the jingling bells,
Unheard by them, their rapture tells,
And when their steed—
May be to hear the lovers talk—
Drops down into a lazy walk,
They take no heed.

They jingle on, in perfect bliss,
Exchanging now and then a kiss,
As lovers will,
Till Edward starts in sad dismay,
And wonders how he'll ever pay
The stable bill.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Charles Wilde, of Selby, brother of James and Thomas Wilde (iron and wood workers) of this place, has been visiting his brothers here and sold a valuable two year old stallion to Mr. John Longmuir (ex-liveryman of this place) for $175. This colt was sired by the famous blood horse "War Cry."

A FAVORED PEOPLE.—Our public school here was the recipient of two visits from the Inspector, James Coyle Brown, Esq., of Peterborough, during the past week. It is evident the inspector is deeply interested in the youth of this place.

WHAT IS GOING ON?—Messrs. Coulter and Tarkworth, of Toronto, and Meharry, of Port Perry, are getting out a vast amount of cedar and wood. At the rate the cedar is going out now there will not be any to be bought in this part of the country in a very short time.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Fallis, wife of the esteemed pastor of this mission, returned home from Omemee on Thursday last, where she has been visiting at her father's.

CHURCH MATTERS.—Service was held in Mr. Mathison's hall last Sunday evening under the direction of the English Church clergyman of Norwood. Revival services are being held in Mr. Mathison's hall by the Rev. J. McArthur, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of this place. We believe several have already made a start in the Christian life through the influence of these meetings. May the Lord strengthen brother McArthur in this his special effort, and through his instrumentality may many be brought to a saving knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ. Rev. J. Fallis, Superintendent of the Blairton Mission, delivered an excellent discourse last Sabbath evening to his congregation here. He took for his text John 21st, and part of the 22nd verse: "What is that to thee, follow thou Me." The congregation as usual was very large. The Church is not large enough to accommodate all that come.

The lightsome passage of joy was not that which now usurps the name; that trivial, vanishing, superficial thing that only gilds the apprehensions and plays upon the surface of the soul.—South.

Irresolution is a worse vice than rashness. He that shoots best may sometimes miss the mark, but he that shoots not at all can never hit it. Irresolution loosens all the joints of a state; like an ague, it shakes not this nor that limb, but all the body is at once in a fit. ## THE CITY AND SUBURBS

At the Rink.

Skaters, attention. Band at the rink every Friday night. d161—tf.

Frozen Over.

Some portions of the river and lake that have not been frozen over for many years are now covered with an icy coating. This fact shows that the weather has been somewhat chilly, to use a mild word.

Lost and Found.

On Sunday afternoon a farmer walked into the police station and stated that he had lost a watch in one of the hotel yards. While he was giving a description of his watch another gentleman walked in with the watch in his hand. He had picked it up in the gateway of the hotel premises. Moral. It pays to advertise.

57th Battalion.

By order of the commanding officer all non-commissioned officers and men who intend undergoing examination for promotion in the spring, are requested to meet in the Cadet School room over Craig's store, George Street, on Tuesday evening, January 24th, at 7.30 o'clock, sharp. 2d18.

Frost Bites.

Frost bites have been exceedingly fashionable during the last few days, and the citizens who cannot produce a "touched" toe, ear or nose is not counted among the select. In some instances the physicians have been called on, but in the majority of cases a vigorous rubbing with snow and the application of sweet oil have effected cures or allayed the soreness.

By Jury.

The young man Hicks, committed for trial by the Police Magistrate, on a charge of stealing cigars and wine from the Grand Central Hotel, upon being brought before Judge Weller, elected for trial by a jury. He will have to wait until the Spring assizes. Efforts are being made to secure his release on bail, the amount of which was fixed at $1,000, by the Police Magistrate.

A Pertinent Point.

At Kingston an interesting case in connection with the Scott Act was tried the other day. A bartender sued for a balance of wages at Tamworth and his employer resisted on the ground that the Scott Act was in force in the county, that the business of the bartender was illegal and that he could not force payment of his grievance. The judge held that the point was well taken and non-suited the plaintiff.

Matched Race.

At the Hastings races on Friday, in the open trot, "Mayflower," owned by Mr. W. McCrea, of Beaverton, beat Mr. H. Winch's "Sleepy Dan." There were a large number of Peterborough sports present and they were not at all satisfied with the result. They have great confidence in "Dan's" ability as a flier and they endeavored to get up a matched race between the two. The Beaverton people, however, could not see the point and no race will take place, although the horses may come together in another race before the season closes.

Electric Light.

The question of lighting cities, towns and villages by electricity is just now receiving much attention throughout Canada, Ontario more particularly. There are but few places of any importance that are not either partly or wholly lighted by this means or have the matter under consideration. There is no doubt that our system is one of the best, but as regards price, we appear to be pretty well up. For instance the city of Stratford proposes to purchase a "Royal" plant, the kind used here, for the sum of $10,000, to run fifty lamps of the same kind and candle power as ours. The estimated cost of fifty all night lamps including interest on plant, etc., is $2,885 per year, or an average of $56.70 per lamp. It may be remarked that we pay $75 per year for each lamp, burning only until midnight. Evidently the matter is one well worth inquiring into.

An at Home.

The young ladies of the Geo. St. Methodist Church intend giving an at Home on the 9th day of Feb.

Shanty Supplies.

A large lot of of Dried Apples and Beans just received at Elliott & Tierney's. All shanty supplies sold at the lowest rate.

Frankie Kemble To-night.

Full Orchestra at the Opera House. Come and see the Drama, "Sybil." 1d18

A. O. U. W.

Mr. Robert Ferguson, of Orono, D.D.G.M. for this district, will pay an official visit to Peterborough Lodge No 135 to-morrow evening and install the officers for the current year.

A Capital Entertainment.

The Burns anniversary concert, St. Luke's School Room, this evening. Never mind the weather. Rap up and come. A full and interesting programme, both literary and musical. 1d18

A Night wi' Burns.

Come to Burns' Anniversary concert at St. Luke's School room, Monday, January 23rd, 8 p. m. Songs, duets, &c., an essay on the poet's life and writings. Admission 10 cents. 6d18

Suspended.

The firm of Cox & Co., brokers, etc., of Toronto, who have an agency in Peterborough, have suspended payment. The failure of the central bank is assigned as the cause. It is said that a satisfactory settlement will be made with the creditors.

Keep off the Park.

It has been noticed that a number of young people, old enough to know better, are in the habit of running over the terraces at the Horticultural Gardens. The police request us to state that they will vigorously prosecute all offenders in the future.

The New Post Office.

The heating apparatus at the new post office, where the hot water system is in use, is not yet in good working order, but it is improving day by day. Nearly all the inside work has been finished and the building is now about ready for occupation.

The Market By-law.

There are many serious defects in our present market by-law, and as the time is rapidly approaching when the tolls must be let for another year, and as we have an excellent market committee this year, the chairman should see that a new by-law is prepared with the necessary changes.

Charity Matters.

A meeting of the new Charity Committee with Mr. Adam Hall as chairman, was held on Saturday night, to organize. New books of forms and orders have been supplied to each member and, henceforth a report will be made to the Council at the end of each month, giving the names of the recipients and the amounts given. Henceforth charity matters will be carried on in a more systematic manner than ever before.

Personal.

Mr. J. W. Flavelle, of Toronto, was in town on Saturday. He has entirely recovered from the effects of his recent serious illness and is pushing business as strongly as ever.

Many friends will regret to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. A. Rutherford, who has been confined to the house for some time.

In a Flutter.

There is a great flutter among the young people, regarding the skating carnival, at the Charlotte street rink on Friday night next and from all appearances it promises to be one of the events of the season. In addition to the usual programme of races, etc., to the winners of which handsome prizes will be awarded, a unique feature will be an exhibition drill, by the members of the canton, in full uniform. Remember the date, Friday next.

Dead.

On the 22nd January, Mr. Samuel Jayes died at his residence, Niagara Falls, aged 63 years. Mr. Jayes resided here for upwards of 30 years and was one of our best known citizens. He conducted a bakery and confectionery business on Simcoe street, and afterwards on George street, between McDonnel and London streets. He left here for Niagara about 10 or 12 years ago. Mr. John Jayes, of the Morgan House, is a son of the deceased. His many friends will learn with regret of his death.

Obituary.

Kingston News: "After being ill but a few days, Mr. Alexander Cicolari passed over to the great majority, at the ripe age of 63 years. Deceased was one of Kingston's oldest and most esteemed residents, having lived here for nearly half a century and been upright and honest in all his dealings. For several years past he lived a retired life. He leaves two sons and two daughters behind. The former are Rev. G. A. Cicolari, of Erinsville, formerly of Peterborough, and Mr. F. Cicolari, of the Freeman, and the daughters are Mrs Deroche and Mrs. F. Conway. Mr. Cicolari will always be remembered by the citizens of Kingston with much respect."

A Fire Alarm.

On Saturday night the town clock struck seven, at or about the proper hour. A few minutes afterwards the same bell struck one hundred and seven, more or less. The mechanism of the town clock was not responsible for this, however, but Councillor Harry Winch was at the end of the rope and his muscle performed the trick. The firemen were out in short order, but fortunately their services were not required. It occurred thus. Mr. Winch, as is well known, is erecting a large hotel, just opposite the south end of the market. The plasterers in order to dry their work use coke burning stoves. At the hour named a man with a lantern was passing through the rooms attending to the stoves. Councillor Winch saw the light, came at once to the conclusion that a fire was in progress and promptly gave the alarm.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

THE CLOSING SESSION OF THE CONVENTION.

Veterinary Science — Cattle Feeding — Dairy Subjects Discussed — Poultry Raising — The Extermination of Weeds — Farming in England — The Wheat Plant.

CATTLE FEEDING.

Mr. WM. COLLINS read a paper on "Feeding and Marketing Cattle." He fed in the stable and fed a mixed chop of peas, oats, barley and rye, in equal quantities, with cut feed and sometimes he used bran or pollards. He also fed about a bushel of turnips to each animal, per day, making it into two or three messes. The turnips should be pulped. The stable should be warm and well ventilated. He commenced to feed when the cattle were rising three years old and for profit he would choose good Grades, Shorthorns, Polled Angus or Hereford crosses. He would not feed native stock in the stable, as there is no profit in them. In order to induce buyers to come here he favored holding monthly fairs.

In reply to questions Mr. Collins said he fed three time s day and gave salt twice a week in addition to salting the hay. He mixed the rich grains and cut feed and had found that if it was not profitable to feed rich food it was not profitable to keep the animals.

BUTTER MAKING.

Prof. ROBERTSON proposed to talk on butter making and would give hints as to how the quality of butter might be greatly improved. With reference to salting cows he had proved by experiment that the want of salting reduced the milk supply and the milk became sour 24 hours earlier than that from cows who were regularly supplied with salt. He advised allowing cows to have access to granulated coarse barrel salt at all times. Four ounces a day was the average consumption of each cow. In Ontario there is a great loss every year, on account of bad butter. Each year 30,000,000 pounds of butter are made in Ontario, requiring the milk of 350,000 cows, while cheese only takes the milk of 275,000 cows. Good butter will bring 5 cents per pound at least more than an inferior article, so that the farmers of Ontario who make 30,000,000 pounds of butter yearly, lose $1,500,000 by not making a gilt edged article. With regard to gathering cream he said that if milk is placed in the ordinary uncovered flat pans and placed in a cellar with roots, pastry, etc., the cream gathered the oders. He preferred a covered can 18 inches deep and 8 inches in diameter. Milk should be placed in the can at from 90 to 98 degrees and then plunged into cold water, when the cream will rise in about 12 hours. The cream should all be mixed 24 hours before churning and should be soured by mixing a cup full of sour to a pail full of sweet. Thermometers are indispensible for dairying. In spring cream should be churned at 57 and in fall at 64 degrees.

"LITTLE THUNDER."

HON. A. S. HARDY said that he was passing through the town and dropped in. He was glad to see an Institute established here and wondered that one had not been established here long ago. He regarded these Institutes as the best possible schools for farmers and attending them was perhaps the most important work the Professors of the Guelph College had to attend. He hoped to see the building crowded at the next meeting.

The meeting then adjourned until 1.30 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

President Fitzgerald again presided at the afternoon session.

HOW TO MAKE A HENNERY.

SECRETARY BELL read a paper by Mr. J. Baptie on the above subject. The building should have a foundation to drain away all soakage and keep the inside perfectly dry. He ventilated by means of tile pipes at top and bottom. A plain scantling frame, low at the north side and high at the south, was the best. Common lumber would do, if tarred paper was placed under the boards. The windows should be opened in summer and warm days in winter. A two by four scantling set on edge by with shaved edges made the best roosts. He also used a platform to catch the droppings.

Mr. T. E. BELL said the poultry interest was one of the greatest in Canada and it would pay farmers to develop it.

DARLING.

PROF. ROBERTSON said he proposed to speak on "The best kind of cow to keep and how to keep her." He presented a drawing of a "business" cow and said that the dairy cow in Ontario had done more for the farmer than any thing else and more money was made out of her. He estimated that during the last year, less than one fourth of the farmers had made money out of supplying milk to cheese factories. He pointed out that a good dairy cow must have good breathing power, circulation and digestion. She should have abundance of of nervous power, gently and quiet when well used. She should have a broad head between the horns, long from the horns to the eyes, big staring eyes, a wide mouth, and a broad nostril. The head should be well set on, a strong back bone with slightly arched back, a tapering neck, rough over the hips and not too fat. A cow with flat udder is always an easy milker. Anything that interferes with a cow's comfort interferes with her milk giving powers. She must not be excited or abused, and in breeding and feeding the central thought should be, she is a nervous machine. He would breed from the best stock and thought Feburary the proper time for calving, as it costs a good deal more in winter to make milk than it does in the summer. He wanted an early calf, for the milk of the mother and for the calf. The early calf is fed on sweet, skim milk and fattens, while the late calf is fed on slops and sour milk and grows "pot bellied" and large in the hair. Calves should have warm feed, as one gallon of milk and one gallon of warm water are better than two gallons of cold milk. All milk should be fed as warm as blood. The same applies to young pigs. He would rather feed raw meal than porridge. After a cow calves she should be forced at once to give all the milk she can. It never pays to feed rich stuff apart from coarse food, as it hinders digestion. He would feed hay and straw, not ripe straw. Ripe timothy hay is not as good as green straw. He considered cornstalks well saved in a silo about four times as cheap as either timothy or clover hay. For milk he would feed bran, oats, barley and peas, chopped in the order named, and would sprinkle the chop on the cut hay or straw. Mangolds are also good, even better than turnips. The chopped stuff and hay might be damped and kept for several days before feeding. It pays to cut all hay and straw and he would prevent waste by not giving the animal too much at a time. He thought two meals a day sufficient. A well bred cow will fill herself and digest, while a scrub will eat all the time. One man, he knew of had followed this plan for the last 25 years and made an average of $100 per year from each cow. With regard to treatment he said that the stable should be well ventilated, warm and comfortable or the milk will decrease in quantity and quality. Cows should never be chilled. With four boards and a few nails a shaft can be made from the ceiling of the stable through the roof. He would absorb the liquid manure by straw, muck or sawdust, and would save the ammonia by sprinkling gypsum in the gutters. The stable floor should be tight and the cows should be watered in the stable. After a cow is full grown, she does not need any exercise. Such is the practice in Denmark, where the temperature is about the same as in Canada, and in 25 years his cows were never given exercise except one month in a year. Pure spring water should be used, as the milk will follow the water. Milk from a cow chased home by a dog will sour easily and sometimes it becomes putrid, before it sours.

In answer to questions the Professor said that if he was feeding turnips he would feed them just after milking, so that the taste would not be noticed. He thought that it did not pay to boil food.

The SECRETARY read a letter from Mr. John McClelland, who was to read a paper on "Poultry Raising," stating that owing to another engagement, he was unable to be present, but would be willing to take part in any meeting at a future date.

NOXIOUS WEEDS.

Mr. T. M. WILLAN, South Monaghan, was the next speaker. He took for his subject "Noxious Weeds." When growing wild oats had long horns and were taller and greener than the other oats and they should be pulled at once. They were peculiar and would crawl about and unless they are tightly tied they will get out of a bag. Wild peas are like vetches, only they are round and they will smother out any other crop. Mustard, quack grass and blueburrs are other noxious weeds. In dealing with these defferent treatmen. was required. He advocated early summer fallowing, ploughing down and rolling well. Weeds that grow from roots should be treated after the ground is dry. Then plough and use a spring tooth harrow after the roots are dry and dead and afterwards seed to clover. Threshing machines are great factors in spreading the seeds of perulicious weeds. As a usual thing summer fallowing generally consists of ploughing in ridges, harrowed over and cross ploughed. He ploughed 10 or 12 inches deep, set his ridges 8 feet wide and lifted the dead furrow. Let it stand before harrowing and when about to plough again split your ridges, lifting the dead furrows as before. You then have two deep furrows, 4 feet apart. Then harrow and again split the ridges as before when ploughing. This plan he considered superior to any he knew of.

ENGLISH FARMING.

Mr. R. R. EDWARDS read a paper on "What I saw of English farming," giving the result of his observations during his recent visit to England. He was surprised at the high prices of produce. For instance eggs were sold for 5 cents each and asparagus at $1 a bunch. The farmers grumbled greatly at the inroads of the Canadian and Yankee farmers. Everything is done through middlemen and they make the profit. High rents were also a great drawback and the English farmers are woefully behind the age, in regard to the use of modern implements. He found the roads excellent. With regard to Canadian produce, he found that English beef was sold for 4 pence a pound more than the Canadian article. Our cheese stands high and white is preferred to colored. He saw no Canadian butter, but he was convinced that the English article is far superior to ours. Canadian apples are in demand, but suffer much from being confounded with the Yankee article. After all he had concluded that Canada is the best place to live in.

THE WHEAT PLANT.

Mr. T. M. WILLAN read an interesting paper on "The Influence of the Wheat Plant on Civilization." It traced the planting of the grain on the American Continent, from the earliest day and shows what a great influence the plant had on the inventive genius of the people and how large a capital is invested in handling the grain and bringing it to market, and what a great loss it would be to the civilized world if the growth of it was stopped.

The meeting closed after a vote of thanks had been tendered to Prof. Robertson and the other speakers.

THE NICHOLLS HOSPITAL.

The New Building to be Erected for the Institution in the North Ward.

Mr Blackwell has prepared the plans for the new Nicholls Hospital and it may be of interest to our readers to give a short description of the new building.

The main building will face the east and will be 104x49½ feet, with wings extending north and south 43 feet. The rear annex will be the full width of the main building and 47 feet deep. From this a building will extend north 56 feet and will be used as a summer kitchen, wood sheds, disinfecting room etc.

The cellar will be the full size of the building and will contain the heating apparatus, steam will be used.

The first floor will contain a parlor, a waiting room, two public wards, having six beds each, the matron's office, the patients' dining room, the dispensary and two bath rooms, closets, etc. In the rear will be located the culinary department.

The second floor will have two public wards with six beds each, four private wards with one bed each, four bath rooms, the operating room, the maternity ward, closets, etc.

The third floor will have five bedrooms, storerooms, pantrys, closets, etc.

On each floor are spacious corridors, reached by wide hallways.

The building will be three storeys high, built of red brick, with stone and iron trimmings and will have an ordinary hip or cottage roof in front and flat behind.

The ceiling of the basement will be 8 feet 6 inches, the first and second flats 13 feet each and the third flat 10 feet.

There will be verandahs on the north, east and south sides and on the north and south sides, enclosed court yards for the use of the patients.

The systems of ventilation and sewerage are after the most modern methods and the Provincial authorities highly commend the plans and after the hospital is in full working order there is no doubt that the government will grant the usual yearly allowance, made to such institutions, throughout the province.

Although the contract has not yet been finally awarded, it is generally understood that Mr. Arthur Rutherford will receive it. The matter will be definitely settled by the Trustees at an early date.

Home Knowledge Association.

An Association which is doing excellent work in promoting education is the HOME KNOWLEDGE ASSOCIATION. It is an association of publishers and book manufacturers duly incorporated, with a capital stock of $250,000 fully paid, which guarantees to supply to its members any books, magazines, music, etc., at net wholesale rates, so saving from twenty-five to fifty per cent. and sometimes even more. Thus every member becomes at once, by virtue of his membership, a wholesale dealer in books, entitled to trade discount and all other priviledges of that class. Whether he buys one book or fifty it is all the same; he deals directly with the manufacturer or publisher and avoids all expenses and profits of middlemen. The association delivers to each member a catalogue of standard and miscellaneous book, giving the net wholesale prices at which the books may be purchased by members. It also furnishes, to those interested in that class of publications, a catalogue of all school and text books published with the net wholesale prices. A catalogue of sheet and book music is also provided. Special rates are secured for all leading magazines and periodicals; and the association undertakes to obtain for members any work published at the lowest obtainable prices. Special arrangements are made for obtaining rare or expensive works not usually handled by the bookstores. The Home Knowledge Association has now enrolled among its members many of the leading men in the Dominion and is adding to its now large list every day. 3d

Press and Periodicals.

—On Thursday of last week the Lindsay Watchman made its first appearance, a neatly printed four page paper published by Mr. Jos. Cooper. The paper contains a fair supply of county and local news and displays considerable ability in its editorial columns. The new journal states that an independent course will be taken regarding political matters and that criticism will be fearlessly indulged in regarding the acts of either political party. We wish the Watchman every success and hope that it will have no difficulty whatever in "living up to its blue china."

—A magazine of great interest and one that presents many valuable features is the Canadian Architect and Builder, a new candidate for favor. It is published at Toronto by Mr. C. H. Several handsome engravings accompany the January number.

Testimonials.

These testimonials have been handed me unsolicited from the owners of watches which were made for time-keeping.

"I became acquainted with Mr. Pace one month ago, who informed me it was not necessary for me to put my watch aside as I intended doing; that he could repair it in such a manner that its performance would be equal as when new. This work has been done and I am satisfied after having tried it for two weeks that the contract is filled.

"My watch, which formerly proved a good time-keeper, has not given me satisfaction for some years. I left it with Mr. Pace for repairs, who informed me he would make it perform its duty as when new. This has been done to my entire satisfaction. I, therefore, cheerfully recommend him to our townsmen as a competent and skilful workman.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The nasal remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Cott, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 64 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

E. S. COX & CO. SUSPEND.

The Well-Known Toronto-street Brokers Put up Their Shutters.

TORONTO, Jan. 23.

Owing to circumstances we temporarily suspend. Close all trades at closing prices and statement showing amount due each creditor. Agents will please remain at their offices until all trades are checked. We hope to settle shortly. COX & Co.

Toronto, Jan. 21.

The above despatch was sent to the forty-five branch house of Cox & Co., the Toronto-street stock brokers, in Ontario and Montreal Saturday afternoon just before the close of business. Shortly afterwards the news became known on the "street" and created a sensation. Is being Saturday afternoon the news was not so rapidly spread as if it had come on a "long" day, but by nightfall the suspension was the gossip of the hotels and clubs. Mr. E. S. Cox being one of the best known men in the city. Coupled with the proceedings at Osgoode Hall re Central Bank affairs, the town was considerably worked up after business hours and yesterday. Notwithstanding all the street talk the reporters of the evening papers are wondering what struck them; they all went to press without even the slightest reference to the suspension, although it was known on the street as early as 2.45.

The suspension of Cox & Co. will cause considerable excitement throughout the province, as the firm had some forty-five branches doing business in all the principal cities and towns of Ontario. There were also branches in Montreal. Mr. Cox left the city on Wednesday last and presided over a special meeting of the International Baseball Association, of which he is chairman, at Buffalo on Thursday. He has not been in Toronto since. His examination in connection with the Central Bank is still in progress before Special Examiner Evans, and it cannot be proceeded with until he returns, which, his friends say, will be in a day or two. The circular wired to the branches on Saturday was despatched by Mr. C. K. Humphries, one of the firm's clerks. Mr. Humphries received his instructions from Mr. Cox from Buffalo, where he is now said to be. Mr. R. G. Cox of St. Catharines, brother of E. S., arrived in the city last evening and will take charge of the suspended firm's affairs until the return of Mr. Cox. In some quarters it was said the crash was a gigantic one, while in others it was not looked upon as being heavy.

Very little outside information is obtainable in the absence of Mr. Cox, but Mr. C. K. Humphries made this statement of the suspension to a reporter: "The cause of the suspension is chiefly due to the extravagant reports circulated about Mr. Cox in connection with the Central Bank, which almost stopped trading at the branch offices and which also embarrassed our business operations in Toronto. Our customers will be paid in full. The amounts due them are small, but cannot be correctly estimated until we make up a statement. In the city the balances due customers, I think, will not exceed $2500. As to the branches I think it will amount to about $15,000. Mr. Cox has been for some time urged by his friends to go out of the branch (the speculative) of business, and restrict himself to ordinary brokerage. He has decided to do so. He will return to town as soon as he has completed certain arrangements in New York, and I look for him at any time."

Of course there is a good deal of speculation as to what brought about the suspension, but it is generally ascribed to the rumors which have been circulated connecting Mr. Cox's name with the Central Bank failure. As Mr. Cox's examination before Mr. Evans was in private, the public has no means at present of knowing what his connections with the defunct institution are. The firm has been in existence for seven or eight years, the former name being Cox and Worts. Cox & Co. employed a large force of clerks and telegraph operators in their Toronto office and its branches. About twenty were in the head office. The firm received reports from the leading exchanges of the world by an extensive system of private wires, and the office of Cox & Co. from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m. was one of the busiest in the city during these hours. The click of their numerous telegraph instruments was a familiar sound to hundreds of people who hurried through Toronto-street daily.

MONA SCULLY;

—OR—

The Bride of an Englishman.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

"Go back again, miss," he says, with much excitement. "They've brought him home, an' he's bad to look at. I've seed him, an' it's given me a turn I won't forget in a hurry. Go home, I tell ye. 'Tis a sight not fit for the eyes of the likes of you."

A little foam has gathered round his lips, and his eyes are wild. Geoffrey, by a slight movement, puts himself between Mona and this man, who is evidently beside himself with some inward fear and horror.

"What are ye talkin' about? Get out, ye spalpeen," says the woman, with an outward show of anger, but a warning frown meant for the man alone. "Let her do as she likes. Is it spaking of fear ye are to Dan Scully's daughter?"

"Come home, Mona; be advised by me," says Geoffrey, gently, as the man skulks away, walking in a shambling, uncertain fashion, and with a curious trick of looking every now and then over his shoulder, as though expecting to see an unwelcome follower.

"No, no; this is not a time to forsake one in trouble," says Mona, faithfully, but with a long, shivering sigh. "I need see nothing, but I must speak to Kitty."

She walks deliberately forward and enters the cabin, Geoffrey closely following her.

A strange scene presents itself to their expectant gaze. Before them is a large room (if so it can be called), possessed of no flooring but the bare brown earth that Mother Nature has supplied. To their right is a huge fire-place, where, upon the hearth-stone, turf lies burning dimly, emitting the strong aromatic perfume that belongs to it. Opposite to her is a pig, sitting quite erect, and staring at her blankly, without the slightest regard to etiquette or nice feeling. He is plainly full of anxiety, yet without power to express it, except in so far as his tail may aid him, which is limp and prostrate, its very curl being a thing of the past. If any man has impugned the sagacity of pigs, that man has erred.

In the background, partly hidden by the gathering gloom, some fifteen men and one or two women, are all huddled together, whispering eagerly, with their faces almost touching. The women, though in a great minority, are plainly having the best of it.

But Mona's eyes see nothing but one object only.

On the right side of the fire-place, lying along the wall is a rude stretcher—or what appears to be such—on which, shrouded decently in a white cloth, lies something that chills with mortal fear the heart, as it reminds it of that to which we all must come some day! Beneath the shroud the murdered man lies calmly sleeping, his face smitten into the marble smile of death.

Quite near to the poor corpse a woman sits, young, apparently, and with a handsome figure, though now it is bent and bowed with grief. She is dressed in the ordinary garb of the Irish peasant, with a short gown well tucked up, naked feet, and the sleeves of her dress pushed upwards until they almost reached the shoulder, showing the shapely arm and the small hand that, as a rule, belong to the daughters of Erin and betray the existence of the Spanish blood that in days gone by mingled with theirs.

Her face is hidden; it is lying on her arms, and they are cast, in the utter recklessness and abandonment of her grief, across the feet of him who, only yesterday, had been her "man"—her pride and her delight.

"Kitty, can I do anything for you?" asks Mona, in a gentle whisper, bending over her and taking the hand that lies in her lap between both her own, with a pressure full of gentle sympathy. "I know there is nothing I can say, but can I do nothing to comfort you?"

"Thank ye, miss. Ye mane it kindly, I know," says the woman wearily. "But the big world is too small to hold one dhrop of comfort for me. He's dead, ye see!"

The inference is full of saddest meaning. Even Geoffrey feels the tears rise unbidden to his eyes.

"Poor soul! poor soul!" says Mona, brokenly; then she drops her hand, and the poor woman, turning again to the lifeless body, as though in the poor cold clay lies her only solace, lets her head fall forward upon it, and, turning sorrowfully away, she drops some silver into the poor widow's lap; whereon, Geoffrey, who has been standing close to her all the time, covers it with two sovereigns.

"Send down to the Farm, and I will give you some brandy," says Mona to a woman standing by, after a lengthened gaze at the prostrate form of Kitty, who makes no sign of life. "She wants it." Laying her hand on Kitty's shoulder, she shakes her gently. "Rouse yourself," she says kindly, yet with energy. "Try to think of something—anything except your cruel misfortune."

"I have only one thought," says the woman, sullenly. "I can't betther it. An' that is, that it was a bitther day when I first saw the light."

Mona, not attempting to reason with her again, shakes her head despondingly, and leaves the cabin with Geoffrey at her side.

For a little while they are silent. He is thinking of Mona; she is wrapt in remembrance of all that has just passed. Presently, looking at her, he discovers that she is crying—bitterly, though quietly. The reaction has set in, and the tears are running quickly down her cheeks.

"Mona, it has all been too much for you," exclaims he, with deep concern.

"Yes, yes; that poor, poor woman! I cannot get her face out of my head. How forlorn! how hopeless! She has lost all she cared for; there is nothing to fall back upon. She loved him; and to have him so cruelly murdered for no crime, and to know that he will never again come in the door, or sit by her hearth, or light his pipe by her fire—oh, it is horrible! It is enough to kill her!" says Mona, somewhat disconnectedly.

"Time will soften her grief," says Rodney, with an attempt at soothing. "And she is young, she will marry again, and form new ties."

"Indeed she will not," says Mona, indignantly. "Irish peasants very seldom do that. She will, I am sure, be faithful forever to the memory of the man she loved."

"Is that the fashion here? If—if you loved a man, would you be faithful to him forever?"

"But how could I help it?" says Mona, simply. "Oh, what a wretched state this country is in! turmoil and strife from morning till night. And yet to talk to those very people, to mix with them, they seem such courteous, honest, loveable creatures!"

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is exp-cting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to man's size, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—Xmas Goods, Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

We don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPARD'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents.

Hamilton Board of Trade Will Memorialize the Government for a Reduction.

HAMILTON, Jan. 22.—A fine screw steamer, 120 feet in length, is being constructed by Mr. M. Simpson at Zealand's yard, foot of McNab-street. It is understood that she is to run as a pleasure steamer between Toronto and the Humber. The new boat for the Hamilton Steamboat Company, which is being built in the Old Country, and which will be for the Beach-Hamilton-Toronto service, will be completed in April and will be here early in May. She will take from seventeen days to three weeks to come across the ocean and up to Hamilton.

Simeon Jones of St. John, N.B., the commissioner appointed by the Dominion Government to enter into negotiations with the Argentine Republic and the West Indies with the object of establishing trade relations between those countries and the Dominion, spent a busy day in town yesterday visiting the principal manufacturing institutions of the city. He left Hamilton last evening for Montreal.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Board of Trade was held yesterday afternoon. In pursuance of the recommendation of the council for a reduction of the postal rate it was voted that W. F. Findlay, M. Leggat and T. H. Macpherson be a committee to draft a memorial to the Government urging upon them its consideration of the reduction of the postal rate on letters from 3 to 2 cents, in harmony with the United States.

The Canadian Pacific Railway exhibition car, containing a large and varied collection of products of the Northwest, was at the siding near the Northern freight sheds yesterday morning.

Some new black jackets of English manufacture have heavy cord epaulettes, and show a narrow waistcoat of red cloth, bordered with gold buttons.

THE COTTAGE BY THE LAKE

A STORY OF SOCIAL INIQUITY AT OLD NIAGARA TOWN.

Opening of the Irving-Smith Crim. Con Case—Nurse Stoughton's Tale of a Wife's Perfidity—Watchman Rayner's Kindly Care Over Lone Women—What a "Peeping Tom" Saw and Heard From the Top of a Verandah—The Plaintiff's Side of the Action Closed.

TORONTO, Jan. 24.

On Aug. 31, 1885, plaintiff was duly and legally married to Maria Louise Irving, at St. James' Cathedral Toronto, by Rev. Mr. Greene, and since said date she has been and was at the time of the committal of the wrongful acts hereafter referred to, and still is, the lawful wife of the said plaintiff.

The only issue of the marriage is one child, born on Oct. 29, 1886, which child is still living.

On or about July 1 last the plaintiff, with the object of benefitting the health of his wife and child, rented and furnished a cottage in the Town of Niagara for occupancy during the summer months, and thence forward until the first week in October last the plaintiff, wife and child resided there, and were visited by the plaintiff weekly, or as often as his employment in the city permitted.

While the said Maria Louise Irving resided in the said cottage the defendant, Harold G. Smith, wrongfully intending to injure the plaintiff and deprive the plaintiff of her affections and assistance, did, at the Town of Niagara, and on divers days and times in the months of July, August, September and October, in the year 1887, and before the commencement of this action, wrongfully assault and debauch her, he, the said defendant, being well aware that she was the lawful wife of the plaintiff.

The plaintiff did not become aware of the wrongful acts of the defendant until immediately before the commencement of this action.

By reason of the said wrongful acts of the defendant the plaintiff has lost the society and service of his wife, and has otherwise suffered anguish of mind, disgrace and loss, and been put to expense, and is prosecuting his application to the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada for a bill of divorce from his wife, notice of which has been given.

The plaintiff claims $20,000 damages, the cost of the action and such other relief as the court may be pleased to grant.

The defendant admits the allegations contained in the first paragraph of the plaintiff's statement of claim, but denies that he intended to, or did, injure the plaintiff, and especially him of the affections and assistance of the said Maria Louise Irving. He also denies that he did wrongfully assault and debauch her as alleged, and says he is not guilty of the allegations made against him.

The above were the pleadings filed in the Assize Court in the now celebrated case of Andrew Maxwell Irving against Harold G. Smith, which was begun yesterday before Mr. Justice Falcon bridge and a jury, and which was not closed when the court rose at 6.30 last evening. The case was in progress from 11.10 a.m. until the above hour, with the exception of about two hours while His Lordship was engaged in opening the Criminal Court. Throughout the day the corridors of the Court House were besieged with men, young and old, all anxious to get into the room where the trial was in progress. Not a quarter of them, however, who were around succeeded in convincing the officers at the door that they had legitimate business inside, and so they hung around till after nightfall gathering bits of gossip from persons who left the court room.

The case was punctually started. The court opened at 11 o'clock and by 11.20 Clerk Nicoll had a jury sworn in. There was but one challenge, a Mr. Secord. The jury chosen was:

Charles Peters, farmer, Etobicoke.
William Boyne, fruiterer, Toronto.
Thomas Gates, farmer, Georgina.
William Tabor, farmer, York.
William Spence, coal dealer, Toronto.
Richard Easley, tanner, Markham.
William Turnbull, shoemaker, Toronto.
James Leighton, builder, Toronto.
John Taylor, tanner, Georgina.
Francis Lockwood, plasterer, Toronto.
John A. Bull, carriage maker, York.
Charles J. Mayes, stair builder, Toronto.

Mr. Osler stepped over to the front of the jury box, and opened his case with this statement:

This case is of a somewhat unusual character. It is brought by Andrew Maxwell Irving, who is a gentleman associated in connection with the Toronto News Company, and he also served as lieutenant in the Royal Grenadiers. The action is brought against Harold G. Smith to recover damages for betraying the wife of the plaintiff—the betrayal being accomplished under circumstances of peculiar atrocity as far as the rights of the plaintiff were concerned.

The plaintiff is a young man about 27 years of age, and some time ago was married to a Miss Gretton, who was living with her mother at the time of marriage. She was a young lady, 22 years old, and after an engagement of six or seven months the couple were married in August, 1885. The plaintiff, having a fair and reasonable income able to suitably maintain his wife and family, hired and furnished a house on Adelaide street, and lived on happy terms with his wife. In October, 1886, a child was born. In July, 1887, the plaintiff, for the sake of giving his wife a holiday and also for the benefit of the child, took a cottage at Niagara, where the wife and child went to stay some months in 1887, the plaintiff frequently visiting them, coming over on the boat on Saturday and returning to business on Monday morning.

Up to that time we have no knowledge of the plaintiff having any intimation of the familiarity existing between his wife and the defendant. After the cottage was taken, Harold G. Smith, who formerly lived in Brantford, and who is now supposed to reside in England, and who is said to be a man of wealth and leisure, and somewhere about 30 years of age, commenced visiting Mrs. Irving during the absence of the husband. As the result of his visits and his wives there is evidence to show that one or more acts of adultery were committed between these parties. Mr. Irving having every confidence in his wife, this man Smith takes advantage of the husband's absence and of her position, and succeeds in his object for which he evidently commenced his visits.

The evidence, as far as I can see, is conclusive in establishing adultery. If that is so, it rests with you, gentlemen, to establish the amount of damages due the plaintiff. The facts will speak louder and stronger than any words I can utter. If this case is clearly made out it is difficult for you to learn where to stay your hands in the matter of damages. The happiness of a home has been blighted, his wife, who was and is a beautiful woman, and his child are lost to his affections.

This man utterly destroys the plaintiff's happiness and disperses all the prospects of their lifetime, and brings disgrace upon the husband, the wife and the child! This man, who, having large means at his disposal, having leisure that these means gave him, comes and makes use of that leisure and these means for the purpose of destroying the plaintiff's happiness. I need not further delay you, gentlemen, in the matter.

His Lordship then said he would adjourn the court until 1.15 and he cautioned the jury not to talk about the case to anyone during the recess. The court re-assembled at 1.20, and Mr. Osler first called ex-Ald. Richard Tinning. Mr. Tinning's evidence was merely formal and the evident idea of calling him was to prove the marriage between the slain, tiff and Marie Louise Skelton, familiarly known in Toronto as Marie Louise Wall previous to her marriage with Mr. Irving.

Witness further stated that he had never spoken to plaintiff in any way about Mrs. Irving's alleged misconduct after it became a matter of common rumor.

Rev. Canon Dumoulin was called and produced the register of St. James' Cathedral. In it was recorded the marriage of Andrew Maxwell Irving and Marie Louise Skelton on Aug. 5, 1885.

Margaret Stoughton, a woman apparently 25 years of age, was the next witness. She was on the stand for about two hours. Miss Stoughton was the plaintiff's chief witness, and she told a story which the crowded court-room listened to with wrapt attention. Mr. Osler examined her first as follows:

Q—Did you go with Mrs. Irving and her child to Niagara? A—Yes.

Q—Where did you and Mrs. Irving and the child live? A—In a small frame cottage, with a large verandah on it.

Q—How long did you continue to live with Mrs. Irving? A—Till Oct. 1 last.

Q—Did Mr. Irving go to Niagara from time to time? A—Yes; he came on Saturdays and stayed till Monday morning.

Q—Were you the only one living in the house? A—Yes, besides Mrs. Irving and the child.

Q—Now, do you know a man named H. G. Smith? A—Yes.

Q—Did he go visiting to the cottage? A—Yes, he did.

Q—When did he first put in his appearance? A—Shortly after we moved to Niagara; I do not remember the date.

Q—Then after he first came, how often did he come? A—He came frequently.

Q—Did he come when Mr. Irving was there? A—No, sir.

Q—He came while Mr. Irving was away? A—Yes.

Q—Do you know of anything between himself and Mrs. Irving? Do you know what terms they were on after he had been going there? A—They were friends.

Q—Anything more? A—Yes, they were more than friends.

Q—Just relate anything you know about the relations of Mrs. Irving with the defendant Smith. Well, describe him. A—He was a tall, dark man about 28 or 30.

Q—Describe to me anything you have seen between them. A—I have not seen very much, but I know they were more than friends.

Q—Tell us how you know. A—Because he was so much there.

Q—How late did he stay? A—He stayed all day and all night till morning.

Q—What have you seen done in the mornings? A—I have not seen anything done.

Q—Do you know where he stayed? A—Yes.

Q—How do you know? A—I heard him speaking.

Q—Which room did he stay in? A—He stayed downstairs.

Q—Whose bedroom? A—In Mrs. Irving's.

Q—How long after this did he next get there? A—I think it was in August.

Q—Now, Mrs. Irving's bedroom was on the ground floor, was it not? A—Yes.

Q—And where was yours? A—Upstairs, at the head of the stairs.

Q—Now tell me how you know he stayed in her bedroom that night? A—Because when I came down in the morning I heard him talking.

Q—What did he say? A—I don't know, but I heard him speaking quite often.

Q—Do you know what room he was speaking in? A—Yes; it was Mrs. Irving's.

Q—Do you know if Mrs. Irving stayed there? A—Yes.

Q—Did you see him that evening? A—Yes.

Q—What time did he come in? A—I think between 7 and 8.

Q—Where did he stay when he came in? A—In the drawing-room.

Q—Do you know what time they retired? A—No.

Q—How do you not know that he did not come early the next morning? A—Because I know he was there.

Q—And how do you know? A—I heard him during the night.

Q—What were the partitions in the house, lath and plaster? A—Yes.

Q—Do you remember any occasion when Mrs. Irving took him his breakfast? A—Yes.

Q—Where was he? A—In her bedroom.

Q—Was that the same occasion as that on his spending the night there? A—I think so.

Q—Was that the only occasion of his spending the night there? A—No, sir; there was more than one.

Q—How many times did the defendant spend the night there? A—I don't know, sir.

Q—About how many times? A—About twice a week.

John Rayner, a sailor-looking chap of about 45, with black moustache and iron-grey hair, was next put in the box, where he was kept for 1½ hours under examination and rigid cross-firing by Mr. Bigelow. His evidence was in part unfit for publication. Among other things he testified in answer to Mr. Osler's questions:

I was employed as nightwatchman at Niagara-on-the-Lake during last summer. I know Mrs. Irving's cottage at Gates and Perdue-streets. It is owned by Widow Burke. I saw the man called H. G. Smith at the cottage several times during July, August and September. I have seen him there as often as three times a week. The first time I saw Smith at the cottage he was sitting on the verandah, making love, as I thought, with Mrs. Irving. This was about 11 o'clock at night. At 2.30 a.m. when I passed the house again they were still sitting there. Then I saw them go into a bedroom just to the left of the hall door and remain there ten or fifteen minutes.

Q—How long were you a nightwatchman in Niagara? A—From July 12 to Oct. 12, 1887.

Q—Were you employed to watch Mrs. Irving's cottage or to look after burglars? A—I was not employed particularly to watch the cottage, but Councillor Wilkinson, who is a friend of Mr. Irving, I believe, told me to keep an eye on it, as there was a lonely woman down there and several valuable articles. All that Mr. Wilkinson asked me to do was to keep an eye over "the lone woman."

Q—Were you told to look after other lone women? A—I was not. I told Mr. Wilkinson about what I saw at the cottage between Mrs. Irving and Smith. I was first spoken to about the evidence I would give at the trial shortly after the Chicora stopped running. It was after the cottage was broken up. I received a telegram from Mr. H. S. Irving about it.

Lyman Dwight of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company was next sworn, and asked to produce certain telegrams sent forth in a subpœna served on him.

Mr. Dwight said he had copies of the telegrams in question, but he refused to produce them unless so ordered by the court.

Mr. Osler—Oh, you don't want to pay $100 and go to jail, do you?

"Lymie" remembered the fate of his father, who was fined $100 for refusing to produce telegrams in court, and said no.

His Lordship—I make the order for production.

A bundle of copies of telegrams were then handed Mr. Osler.

Herbert Walsh, a youthful-looking operator who was stationed at Niagara last summer, was sworn, and he identified the telegrams as having been sent and received by him. Mrs. Irving had given him some of the telegrams herself, and he had delivered some of them received at his office to her.

Mr. Edward W. Gardner ("Teddy" of the Palace) was called after Watchman Rayner had been put on the stand again without saying anything new. Mr. Gardner knew H. G. Smith, but he did not know if he had any address in Toronto in July and August last. I was once in partnership with Smith in the livery and sales business. I remember the tally-ho coach well. Smith took it to Niagara last summer. Smith was not the sole owner of it. It was let out for hire and not for pleasure.

With a view of identifying Smith with the address, "No. 77½ King-street west," to which number the telegrams referred to were sent,

Mr. Osler questioned Mr. Gardner particularly about this. Mr. Gardner said he was only at No. 77½ once. There were six or seven offices there. He went there with Smith for a few minutes and saw Col. Hale there. He knew the "Kentucky Stables" in rear of Score's tailor shop. On the sign was, "H. G. Smith, Kentucky Stables."

To Mr. Bigelow—I am not aware that Smith is now in the country. I came here for the express purpose of finding out if he were.

His Lordship said he would allow the copies of telegrams which had been produced to be read. They were seven in number and were all handed in at the Niagara office by Mrs. Irving, according to Operator Walsh's statement, and were addressed to "Harold G. Smith, 77½ King-street west, Toronto." They were signed "Wilkins." Their dates and contents are as follows:

Sept. 26, 1887.—To meet me, where? Are you referring to Thursday? If so, that is for you to say. WILKINS.

Sept. 28, 1887.—Why have I not heard from you? Come over by the Empress to-day, as I leave for Buffalo to-morrow. Answer. WILKINS.

Sept. 19.—I will expect you at 4.30. Impossible for me to go. WILKINS.

Sept. 20.—Leave at 11 on Chicora. Meet me at 2.30. Be prepared to return with me at 3. Will be at Niagara to-night. WILKINS.

Sept. 12.—Leave on the 11 o'clock boat. Will telephone soon as possible. WILKINS.

Sept. 19.—Come over this afternoon without fail. I must see you. Answer immediately. WILKINS.

Sept. 20.—Leave on the 11 o'clock boat. Will telephone as soon as I arrive. WILKINS.

Albert Davies, who described himself as a clerk and a member of the Provincial Police Force for three months every summer, with his home at Niagara, was next sworn. Davies' evidence, which was principally unpublishable, seemed to cause a great deal of amusement for the court-room. His story was to the effect that he and a young man named Thos. C. Blain, also of Niagara, had heard certain rumors about Mrs. Irving and Smith, and on Thursday night, Sept. 29, 1887, they determined to go to the cottage and play the "Peeping Tom" role. Arriving at the cottage fence late at night they could hear or see nothing from this vantage ground, and they climbed over into the garden. Blain got tired waiting and left, as he (Blain) was afraid his old man would "get on to him." Davies then clambered up on the varandah, but could see nothing through the blinds. He heard Smith talking inside, because he knew his voice. He described certain noises, and repeated a vulgarism which he declared he heard Mrs. Irving address to her alleged paramour. Witness then rubbed a stick up and down the window shutter and decamped.

In cross-examination by Mr. Biglow he said he didn't know of there being any more people like himself in Niagara.

Q—What did you get up on the verandah for; were you interested in Mrs. Irving or Smith? A—No I merely went there to satisfy my own curosity.

Q—And you a member of the Provincial Police. A—Yes.

Q—Did you dot down what you heard? A—I did.

Thomas C. Blain was sworn and said he saw Mrs. Irving and Smith come off the Chicora on the night of Sept. 29. He did not know if they come off together.

To Mr. Bigelow—I didn't think I was doing anything very mean in going to the cottage.

Mr. Bigelow—Oh, you don't, eh? Is that the kind of a town Niagara is?

Mr. Osler then said: "That's the case, your Lordship."

Mr. Bigelow then announced that he had eight or nine witnesses to call for the defence, and said he would be ready to go on at 9.30 this morning.

Capt. F. F. Manley will be the first witness called this morning. J. T. Dunn has been subpœned. It is said that Harold G. Smith will also be in court to-day, as he arrived in Buffalo yesterday afternoon.

DEPARTMENTAL CHANGES.

SEVERAL BRANCHES OF THE P.O. SERVICE TO BE CONSOLIDATED.

Receipts and Disbursements of the Department for the Past Fiscal Year Nearly $40,000,000—Mortuary Record of Canadian Cities.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—It is understood that the Postmaster General has decided to make some important changes in the organization of his department with a view to consolidating several branches of somewhat similar service, thereby securing greater efficiency, and at the same time effecting a considerable saving in working expenses. The most important of these changes will be the consolidation of the Postoffice Saving Bank and money order branch with the offices dealing with revenue and expenditure, thus creating one branch which will be under the control of Mr. J. Cunningham Stewart, who will have the title of Comptroller of Postal Finances. The magnitude of the business which is involved in the conducting of the Postoffice Department can be realized when it is known that the receipts and disbursements for the past fiscal year reached nearly $40,000,000, a larger amount in point of fact than it takes to administer the affairs of the nation. Mr. Stewart has been twenty years in the service and is an excellent officer, in every way qualified for the more extended usefulness of his new position; his recent tour of inspection of the postal systems of England, France, and the United States will enable him to introduce any desirable features in the systems of those countries which have not yet been adopted by Canada, if there are any such features. The new arrangement will probably necessitate the superannuation of the cashier of the department, Mr. John Ashworth, and several other old employes who have served their country long and faithfully, but it is understood that these superannuations will not take place until May.

Monthly Mortuary Statement.

The Department of Agriculture has published the usual monthly statement of the number of deaths in the various cities of the Dominion for the month of December last. The total number of deaths in this city from stric ly typhoid is 17. The following is the record: Montreal 511, Toronto 182, Quebec 108, Hamilton 59, Halifax 63, Ottawa 30, St. John, N.B., 50, London 49, Winnipeg 33, Kingston 21, Charlottetown 22, Brantford 11, Hull 46, Guelph 20, Belleville 11, St. Thomas 8, Three Rivers 10, Chatham 4, Sherbrooke 19, Peterboro 23.

The Sault Ste. Marie Abduction.

The Department of Justice to-day received some further particulars with regard to the recent international outrage at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. The particulars are in the shape of affidavits, from which it appears that the man Nixon, who had escaped from the Michigan authorities and was followed across the ice by the American officers, was assaulted by them on Canadian territory, knocked down, beaten and forcibly abducted to the American side. It is understood that the Government is having a statement of the case prepared for presentation to the United States Government through the British Minister at Washington.

Railways and Lighthouses.

Mr. William Wainwright, Assistant General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, who was in the city to-day, said with reference to the projected Ottawa and Vaudreuil Railway, that it was one of a number of local railway schemes which were under consideration by the Grand Trunk, and that no decision had yet been arrived at regarding it.

The contract for a block to carry a light-house on Cole's Shoal, Addington County, has been awarded by the Maritime Department to Mr. Geo. Wilson. A contract for supplying 100 toise of stone for Jack Straw Light-house, Gananoque, has also been awarded by the department, but is not yet signed.

Counterfeit Dominion Notes.

The Department of Justice received a communication this morning from the United States District Attorney for the Southern District of Michigan, asking for certain information with regard to the issue of Dominion notes to be used in connection with a charge made against Geo. Linden, arrested for passing counterfeit $2 Dominion notes of what is known as the "Dufferin" issue, which will shortly come up before the grand jury at Detroit. The prosecution is made under the Act of Congress of 1884. The counterfeit is represented as being an exceedingly dangerous one, being very difficult of detection. The department has been in telegraphic communication with the District Attorney and will render all the assistance in its power, sending, if necessary, an agent to Detroit to give evidence.

Mr. Gladstone's Return.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Mr. Gladstone will return to England on Feb. 6. On Wednesday next the party chiefs will issue circulars requesting the early presence of members of Parliament.

THE INSTITUTE CONVENTION.

The first convention of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute was a successful one, the amount of valuable information brought out amply repaying those who attended. Several branches of the wide subject of farming were dealt with, by members of the Institute and by professors of the Agricultural College. The papers read and the addresses were replete with suggestions, but the advantages of the convention were by no means confined to these. The discussion following the introduction of a subject frequently brought out points as valuable at those the papers contained, and the interchange of ideas, and the results of the experiences of the practical men present which were made known, were well worth hearing. The papers and the discussions were creditable to the farmers of the county, showing that they carefully studied the work they had to do and applied to it thought as well as strength.

The attendance at the sessions was not as large as it should have been. Perhaps the character of the Institute was not thoroughly understood and a larger attendance may be expected at future conventions. It is surely of advantage to the agriculturists to know the best ways of obtaining the largest yield from his land, for everything done to improve the land and increase the yield, or to increase the quantity and improve the quality of the products of his dairy or stock farm, will put money in his pocket. It is not only the owners of large farms or of land already brought to a high state of cultivation who should attend. All who are engaged in any branch of agriculture may be benefitted by hearing and taking part in the discussions.

The question of holding regular cattle fairs, mentioned by Mr. Wm. Collins in his paper on cattle raising, is one that those interested in stock raising should consider. The cheese board has been of advantage to the dairymen, and, although a cattle fair or market might not be conducted on exactly the same lines, it appears reasonable to suppose that the bringing of cattle to one point on certain days, where the breeders would be met by the buyers, would result in advantage to both—the seller profiting by being in a better position to ascertain the current market values and very probably by competition between buyers, and the buyers by not being compelled to go to so much trouble to look up the owners of saleable stock. This is a question that it would not be amiss for the County Council to consider.

CAVAN.

TERRIBLE RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last Mr. Martin Pethick, of the fourth concession of Cavan, had a horse killed, under the following circumstances: Mr. Pethick had been to Port Britain for a load of chop, and when about two miles from Millbrook as what is known as Kendy's hills, about half way up, a runaway team belonging to Mr. R. Gibson, Cavan, collided with his (Mr. P.'s) team, the tongue of the sleigh of the runaway team struck one of Mr. Pethick's horses running clean through the poor beast and piercing the dashboard of the sleigh. Mr. Pethick had to leave the horses and run to a neighbor's house to get a gun to put the injured horse out of misery. The horse killed was a valuable animal, worth $150.—Guide.

GENERAL.

A bass viol—The one into which the drug clerk put the wrong medicine.

The City of Washington is said to have the largest underground main sewer in the world—twenty-two feet in diameter.

Right now is the time to use a good Blood Purifying Medicine. Lose no time in getting a bottle of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It will do you good. Sold by all druggists. 50c.

Rev. J. P. Moore, a missionary, writes from Japan that if missionaries attempt to be economical they can have very little influence. If they do not live in good style the people despise them.

The Emir of Afghanistan has fallen in love with bagpipes and has ordered 900 of them for Caoul. The Shah of Persia has also ordered a brass band. Thus music soothes the savage breast.

Don't use any more nauseous purgatives such as Pills, Salts, &c., when you can get in Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters a medicine that moves the Bowels gently, cleansing all impurities from the system and rendering the blood pure and cool. Sold by all Druggists.

Mr. Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, has quietly solved the problem of cheap homes for his workingmen. For $3.25 a week they get board, lodging, washing of a dozen pieces and the use of bath room, reception and dancing rooms, and bowling alleys.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

Dr. B. A. CABLE, Auphin, Pa., says: "I find it invaluable in all cases for which it is recommended, and I cheerfully attest my appreciation of its excellence."

THE FISHERIES CONFERENCE.

A Short Session Yesterday—No Intimation as to Its Deliberations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The Fisheries Conference, after a short session to-day, adjourned until to-morrow.

It is thought that the increasing frequency of the sessions is an indication that the conference is shortly to dissolve, but no intimation can be had from any reliable source as to how its deliberations are progressing, or are likely to terminate.

Ben Butterworth's Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—In the House to-day Mr. Butterworth (Ohio) introduced a resolution expressive of the sense of the House that the United States should, in the interest of peace and amity between the nations, and in response to the demand of manufacturers, merchants and producers, for the extension of the trade and commerce of the country, use all proper means to secure an honorable, speedy and permanent adjustment of all differences and controversies in regard to the fisheries, provided that in such settlement the claim that vessels of the United States shall have and enjoy the same rights in Canadian ports as are accorded to Canadian vessels in the ports of the United States, shall be maintained.

AS SEEN IN ANOTHER LIGHT.

The Directors of the Central Bank as Defendents in a Suit for Wages.

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—A case will be heard before Mr. Justice Falconbridge this week in the progress of which the stokholders of the defunct Central Bank will have a good chance to see some of their directors acquit themselves as defendants in a non-payment of wages case.

When Jacob Herr opened a piano manufactory Mr. W. A. Andrews, now of 266 Adelaide street west, was engaged as foreman and general manager at a salary of $1000 a year and 5 per cent. commission on sales.

The company prospered and, according to Mr. Andrews' statement, Messrs. A. A. Allen, cashier of the Central, David Blain and D. Mitchell McDonald were taken in as partners—the latter gentlemen are well known directors of the Central—and these three bank officials, with Jacob Herr, constituted the Herr manufacturing firm, limited. Some time ago they wished to cut down expenses, and expressed themselves as being disappointed with Mr. Andrews' service and offered him $100 to resign, which offer met with refusal. According to Mr. Andrews, the firm boycotted his sales and finally refused to pay him any salary until the agreement between him and the firm was cancelled, and subsequently they dismissed him. For this treatment Mr. Andrews claims $2100, and has issued a writ for that amount. The case is not yet on the peremptory list, but will be heard this week when some interesting developments are expected.

A Tramp's Terrible Death.

ST. THOMAS, Jan 23.—About 10 o'clock last night a fire alarm was sounded. It was soon discovered that Police Station No. 1 was in flames, and the report was spread that a tramp who had applied for a night's lodging was locked in the cells. All attempts to rescue him proved unavailing. He was one of three tramps hailing from Tilsonburg, and had given his name as Fred Hughes. The brigade succeeded in confining the flames to the portion of the building where they were first discovered. The premises of James Paddon, butcher, were considerably damaged by smoke and water. The fire originated from the box stove situated in the hall of the Police Station becoming overheated and setting fire to the adjoining woodwork. The loss will be from $800 to $1000, insured in the British American and Liverpool, London and Globe. An inquest was held to-day, but nothing new was elicited.

BOBCAYGEON.

Correspondence of the Review.

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday, Jan. 14th, while Joseph Robinson, a boy of about 12 years old, and son of J. T. Robinson of this place, was driving home some ice from the lake, he slipped and the sleigh passed over one of his legs, inflicting an ugly wound in the fleshy part below the knee. We are pleased to be able to state that he is doing nicely and will soon be at his regular work again.

VILLAGE BELL.—A new bell is being put up here, which is to be rung at regular intervals for the benefit of the corporation.

CARNIVAL.—Those who are connected with the rink here are making great preparations for a carnival which is to be held on Jan. 31st. A grand time is anticipated.

BOUND FOR THE SHANTIES.—Ever since the sleighing has become good a number of teams may daily be seen making their way to the shanties.

SCHOOLS.—The schools opened here on Jan. 9th, with Mr. W. Hickson as Head Master, Miss K. Moody in Room 2, and Miss Moore in the junior division in Bobcaygeon. The attendance is very large in all the rooms.

THE BAND.—There has been some talk of re-organizing the brass band here. It is to be hoped that the good intentions will be carried out, and that ere long we will have a good band here.

THE VILLAGE COUNCIL.—The Council have decided to erect a fire bell, near the hall. The bell will be erected 20 feet high, $40 is to be spent on this necessary equipment. BE CAREFUL.—MR. J. W. JOHNSTON, gueryman, has exposed in several papers in this district, the transactions of a certain agent who has been travelling about in this neighborhood and elsewhere selling trees at $1 00 each, representing them as Russian apricots. After the exposure of this fellow in these columns on the 15th December, he made a sudden exit and is likely engaged in the same business elsewhere. Foreign agents for all manner of goods will continue to fleece the farmers so long as they give ear to their oily talk to entertain them.

HALIBURTON.

RACES.—Given good weather for the purpose and we propose to have a fine series of races. There are a lot of spanking fine horses about here just eating their heads off with anxiety to get out on the ice and show a fine time of speed. The date will be announced further on.

COBOURG.

GRAIN ROBBERY.—A man known as Sam Smith was arrested on Saturday last by Constable Orr on a charge of having stolen 100 bushels of grain from the barns of Mr. R. L. Holdsworth, lot 22, con. 2, Township of Hamilton. From information furnished the constable he felt justified in searching Smith's premises, which resulted in the grain being discovered there. He was brought before the Police Magistrate, who remanded him for eight days, as it is believed others had a finger in the pie.—Sentinel Star.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa whether arising from teething or other causes. 25 cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

One Mile.

The sporting men have been at work and laid out a full mile track on the Little Lake. This is a departure from the ordinary half mile that trotters have had to speed over for many years.

Manufacturers' Life.

As this company has a large number of stock holders in town and also over quarter of a million of life insurance in force in this county, we draw general attention to a full report in to-morrow's daily of the annual meeting of the company.

Easter.

This year Easter will fall on the 1st of April—nine days earlier than last year. The earliest possible day for Easter is the 22nd of March, and it fell on that day in 1818—for the last time in about two hundred years. In 1913 Easter will fall on the 22nd of March, as it did in 1845 and 1856. The latest Easter occurred in 1886, the 25th of April, and it will not fall on that date again until 1943.

Cutting Ice.

The ice plough used by Mr. Robert Wainwright, on the Little Lake, is something new as far as Peterborough is concerned. It does a large amount of work with one horse and the ice is cut just about as smoothly as when a saw is used. The blocks at present being cut are about 19 inches thick and "as clear as crystal." The ice cutting industry is becoming an important one here and gives employment to quite a number of men, who would otherwise be idle. It is difficult to get at the amount of ice stored away each winter, but the total number of blocks must reach a high figure.

"A Nicht wi' Burns."

A short time ago the members of St. Luke's Church Sunday School had an "evening with Thomas Moore." Last night they held an entertainment consisting of songs, duets and choruses taken from the writings of Robert Burns. These were illustrated in a novel manner by an essay on Burns' life and writings, each song being carefully introduced and some particulars mentioned regarding its composition. The entertainment was unusually interesting to all, particularly to Scotchmen, who were well represented in the audience. The solos and duets were taken by Mrs. Orde, Mrs. Bowman, Miss Strickland and Messrs. Galletly, Hill and Jacques. The last named played all the accompaniments in his usual excellent manner. There was a good attendance and the auld songs of Scotia were heartily received and everybody encored. The entertainment closed appropriately by all singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Parlor Social.

A grand parlor social Thursday, Feb 2nd, at Mrs. A. L. Davis home. Public cordially invited. Refreshments will be served. Excellent programme. 1d18

Personal.

Mr. George Walton, an old Peterborough boy, now of the Southern Manitoba Times, Emmerson, is in town. George is one of the boys who has made his mark in the North-West.

Judges for the Carnival.

The judges for the several contests and competitions to come off at the carnival on Friday night, have, at the request of the committee, consented to act. They are the Hon. Robt Hamilton, Mrs. Hamilton, Lieut.-Col. H. C. Rogers, Mrs. Halliday.

Hand in your Cards.

Those who attend the carnival on Friday night must hand in cards, with their names and character assumed, to the doorkeeper if they wish their names to appear in the newspapers. It is not much trouble to do it and saves a great deal of bother afterwards.

From Away Down.

A gentleman from Trenton walked into Mr. Wm. English's shop to-day and deposited an ordinary buck saw. He deposited it with emphasis and remarked that Mr. English was the only man in Canada who knew how to sharpen a saw.

Almost a Flowing Well.

Messrs. J. Leary & Co. have just finished boring an artesian well at Calcutt's brewery. At a deposit of 108 feet the work was stopped. The water rises within 6 feet of the ground. The water is of first class quality, bright and clear. The boring was through 46 feet of clay and 62 feet of limestone rock.

They Lead Us.

Reeve Burnham, at the meeting of the Ashburnham council last night, referred to the fact that plank at $9 per thousand is pretty dear for laying down in the shape of sidewalks. He advocated the use of well burned bricks, laid on their edges, and said that such sidewalks had given great satisfaction throughout the United States.

That Cock Fight.

The Police Court room was well filled this morning. The reason was that the much talked of cock fighting cases were on the docket. After hearing, or rather attempting to hear, the evidence, among the many legal objections that Mr. O'Meara raised, the Magistrate adjourned the case until 4 o'clock this afternoon, when the cases were all dismissed.

Will do Him Good.

A young boy named John Sanders, aged about 16 years, was before the P. M. this morning. The charge against him was larceny. Alexis Cope proved the larceny of $3, and two sisters of the boy, with the assistance of his father, proved that the youth was incorrigible. For the next two years, or perhaps five, Saunders will have a chance to learn a trade at Penetanguishene.

Horse Killed.

The Dickson Company had a valuable mare killed in Ashburnham the other day. A team was engaged in drawing poles for the electric light company and after the poles had been deposited on the ground, the horses were tied to a neighboring fence, on Stewart street. The noise made by the men in placing the pole in an upright position frightened the animals and a runaway was the result. While crossing a sidewalk the two horses fell one on the other, with the result that a leg was broken. The animal was shot to relieve her of her misery. She was valued at $150.

A Fire.

About 6.30 last evening an alarm was sent in from box 4, at George and Antrim streets. The hose wagon and truck with a full compliment of men soon responded. Upon reaching London street the scene of the fire was discovered, but it was found that the well directed efforts of some of the neighbors had subdued the flames. The roof of a house, near the chimney, occupied by Mr. C. J. Leonard and Mrs. McDonald, had caught fire, probably from some defect in the flue. A small hole was burned in the roof. Mr. J. D. Baptie is the owner of the house and the small loss caused is fully covered by insurance.

Transient Traders.

Singer Bros., the "devastators," opened out in a store in Port Hope, and they were brought before the Police Magistrate for violating the Transient Traders' by-law. The Magistrate, however, held that as the evidence showed a tenancy for a year the prosecution must fail. He added:—"I am also of the opinion that until the council for the year 1888 adopts the assessment made in the autumn of 1887 as the basis upon which the rate for the year 1888 should be struck, there is no assessment roll for the current year, and hence on this point also the case for the prosecution is not made out." The Times argues that the law should be changed.

Across the River.

—In 1886 Ashburnham collected $46 on dog taxes and in 1887 the sum fell to $33.

—Ashburnham officials are honest. The Auditors' report shows $5 too much for dog tags.

—The long table at which the councillors sit has been recovered, and, as a sporting member remarked, it resembles Mike McDonald's table at Chicago.

—At the meetings of the council the attendance is small. Last night but one free and independent citizen favored the gathering with his presence.

—The Chief Constable of Ashburnham is a regular "Poo Bah." He is constable, health officer, pound keeper, street inspector, building inspector, fire warden, market inspector and several other things.

At the Opera House.

Frankie Kemble and company appeared at the Opera House on Monday night in the comedy drama "Sybil." There was a fair attendance. Miss Kemble in the title role of "Sybil" was pleasing, her acting and singing being warmly applauded. Mr. Harry B. Bell as "Brown Madder," the artist, shared the honors with the star. He is an accomplished comedian. Mr. Wm. McCready successfully personated "Wrecken Ben," as did Mr. Fred C. Cooke the character of the attorney "Dart." Mr. Bart Wallace filled the minor but difficult part of "Crooked Mike" acceptably. Mr. Howard Kyle was not so successful as "Horace Paxton." Little Josie Lloyd, a mere child, was surprisingly effective as little "Bessie." Miss Margaret Hatch and Miss Annie Lockhart gave very good support in the parts of "Rachel" and "Grace Pendleton."

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

OPENING OF THE JANUARY SESSION OF REEVES AND DEPUTIES.

Mr. John Walsh, Reeve of Asphodel, Elected Warden for this Year—List of the Representatives.

The January session of the County Council commenced this afternoon shortly after two o'clock.

The following members filed their certificates:—

ASHBURNHAM.—John Burnham, Reeve.
ASPHODEL.—John Walsh, Reeve, and James Moore, Deputy-Reeve.
BELMONT AND METHUEN—John Brown, Reeve, and James Wilde, Deputy-Reeve.
BURLEIGH, ETC.—F. Elmhirst, Reeve.
DOURO—John Moloney, Reeve, and Patrick Moher, Deputy-Reeve.
DUMMER—A. B. Kidd, Reeve, and Richard Crowe, Deputy-Reeve.
ENNISMORE—Wm. Crough, Reeve.
GALWAY—M. Mansfield, Reeve.
HARVEY—James Hicks, Reeve.
LAKEFIELD—W. H. Casement, Reeve.
NORTH MONAGHAN—Joseph Forster, Reeve.
NORWOOD—John Finlay, Reeve.
OTONABEE—George Stewart, Reeve, and Wm. Anderson, Deputy-Reeve.
SMITH—M. Sanderson, Reeve, and T. E. Fitzgerald, Deputy-Reeve.

The Clerk called the Council to order and asked for nominations for Warden.

Mr. KIDD moved, seconded by Mr. FINLAY,—That Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald, Deputy Reeve of Smith, be Warden for the current year.

Mr. MOLONEY moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. HICKS,—That Mr. John Walsh, Reeve of Asphodel, be Warden.

The vote resulted as follows:—

FOR FITZGERALD—Casement, Finlay, Moore, Kidd, Mansfield, Forster, Stewart, Sanderson and Fitzgerald—9.

FOR WALSH—Burnham, Walsh, Brown, Wilde, Elmhirst, Moloney, Moher, Hicks, Crough, Crowe and Anderson—11.

Mr. Walsh was declared elected, and having taken the declaration of office, was escorted to his seat by Messrs. Moloney and Hicks.

Mr. WALSH, on taking the chair, briefly thanked the Council for the honor conferred upon him. He had not expected the office for himself, but thought his township was entitled to it. He was the oldest Reeve in the Council, and for this reason was entitled to the office. He thanked them again for the honor.

Mr FITZGERALD, having taken some remarks of the Warden as a reflection on himself, said that he had not sought the office in opposition to Mr. Walsh.

Mr. WALSH explained that what he said was merely that he had been longer in the Council than Mr. Fitzgerald. There were men in the Council who could fill the office better, but he claimed the office on account of his township.

The minutes of the last session were read and confirmed.

On motion, Mr. John J. Hall was appointed Auditor, and the Warden named Mr. F. J. Bell as the other Auditor.

Mr. KIDD moved, seconded by Mr. FINLAY,—That Messrs Sanderson, Moloney, Stewart, Burnham and Brown and the mover and seconder be a committee to strike the standing committees for the year.—Carried.

Mr. W. A. Stratton was appointed Sessional Clerk.

The Council adjourned until ten o'clock on Wednesday morning.

ASHBURNHAM COUNCIL.

Regular Meeting of the Civic Fathers of the Adjacent Village.

Press and Publications.

—The American reprint of the London Illustrated News continues to grow in favor. It re-produces all the attractive features of the English edition and at much less expense. Typographically it is fully up to the standard of the best illustrated publications and a copious supply of interesting descriptive matter accompanies the engravings. We learn that the periodical has a wide circulation in the Dominion, which it well deserves.

—Harper's Weekly retains its place in the front rank of the illustrated weeklies. The engravings are timely and well executed, while the letterpress is varied with interesting and popular topics. A clever tale,—now in its third installment—is "The Strange Manuscript found on a Copper Cylinder." It deals with wierd and strange features of the antartic circle and of the priviations of a couple of castaways. The tone of the Weekly is clear, the editorial ability displayed of the highest order.

—Harper's Bazaar is the leading household journal for the record of fashion. It is peculiarly well adapted to the wants of the average household, and affords suggestions for practical use in the way of dress-making that are invaluable to the wives and mothers of the land. Clever stories are included, while "The Strange Adventures of a House Boat," by William Black, details in fascinating style the thread of a love story along the Thames. The Bazaar needs no commendation. Its work speaks its worth.

Home Knowledge Association.

An Association which is doing excellent work in promoting education is the HOME KNOWLEDGE ASSOCIATION. It is an association of publishers and book manufacturers duly incorporated, with a capital stock of $250,000 fully paid, which guarantees to supply to its members any books, magazines, music, etc., at net wholesale rates, so saving from twenty-five to fifty per cent. and sometimes even more. Thus every member becomes at once, by virtue of his membership, a wholesale dealer in books, entitled to trade discount and all other privileges of that class. Whether he buys one book or fifty it is all the same; he deals directly with the manufacturer or publisher and avoids all expenses and profits of middlemen. The association delivers to each member a catalogue of standard and miscellaneous book, giving the net wholesale prices at which the books may be purchased by members. It also furnishes, to those interested in that class of publications, a catalogue of all school and text books published with the net wholesale prices. A catalogue of sheet and book music is also provided. Special rates are secured for all leading magazines and periodicals; and the association undertakes to obtain for members any work published at the lowest obtainable prices. Special arrangements are made for obtaining rare or expensive works not usually handled by the bookstores. The Home Knowledge Association has now enrolled among its members many of the leading men in the Dominion and is adding to its now large list every day. 3d

—The ice bridge at present existing down the river is the cause of many South Monaghan farmers coming here with their produce. It would pay the town, we are confident, to aid in the erection of a proper bridge to allow our southern neighbors to get up here.

—The Canadian Manufacturer copies a paragraph of puns on the names of the Toronto papers and says the Manufacturer should not have been forgotten. It should not, as it is a good trade paper; but, although the paragraph was first published in the REVIEW, we will not apologize, as it is evident that even the Manufacturer can make a mistake—it credits the paragraph to another paper.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

Mr. Frye Takes it for a Text in the United States Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Mr. Frye (Me.) addressed the Senate to-day on the President's message. That document and its endorsation by prominent Senators, representatives and party leaders of the same political faith as the President, convinced the speaker that the Democratic party faith was Free Trade. The President's message had been received with unbounded joy in Great Britain. The British press had at once proceeded to self-congratulation. These congratulations would have continued if a voice of warning had not been heard. The warning was that such English expression of opinion had to be curbed or the full fruition of English hopes would never be enjoyed. The Free Trade papers of Great Britain had then dropped their self-congratulations and had proceeded to congratulate the United States and to prophesy unbounded prosperity for this country.

He declared that England had never in one single instance evinced any sympathy for this country and that she never had permitted an opportunity to injure this country to pass unimproved.

One of the leading Free Trade speakers in England had declared years ago that the greatest triumph of Great Britain would be the subjugation of the markets of the United States. In the promise of the President's message they could see that subjugation nigh at hand. Great Britain to-day had her markets open to the world, while other countries had their markets partially closed to her. She found now within her borders the fiercest kind of competition and her industries were falling off. But England heard the President of the United States declare in his annual message that the tariff (the only obstacle to English possession of the American market) was vicious, illogical, inequitable, and what wonder that the English people deafened American ears with their cries of Hear! hear! They saw him adopt as the slogan of the Democratic party for the presidential battle of 1888 the old fundamental doctrine of Free Trade, that "duty is a tax paid by the consumer." What wonder that they hailed Mr. Cleveland as their champion! They saw him promise to open to them participation in the American market, and they knew that that participation would start their halting looms and feed their hungry unemployed men and women. What wonder that the approval of the President's message went ringing over the world?

Mr. Hoar (Massachusets) introduced a joint resolution to-day declaring that in order to encourage ocean ship building and promote commerce with foreign nations it is necessary to relieve the merchant marine from all oppressive tolls, customs and duties. With a view to forwarding this object the President is requested to open negotiations with the Government of Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada for the purpose of having the Welland Canal made free to the merchant ships of the United States and also for the construction and opening of a free ship canal from the Bay of Fundy to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, at the joint expense of both nations.

An Exhortation by the Pope.

ROME, Jan. 23.—The Pope to-day received a deputation of Austrian nuns. His Holiness exhorted Austrian Catholics to be in readiness to help all other Catholics to ameliorate his present intolerable position, and to enable him to regain temporal power, which he said was essential to the prosperity of the church.

Removed to Tullamore Jail.

DUBLIN, Jan. 23.—Mr. W. J. Lane, M.P. who was recently sentenced to a month's imprisonment under the Crimes Act, has been removed to Tullamore Prison.

The Porte's Mining Policy Resented.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 23.—The French and Russian Ambassadors here resent the decision of the Porte to employ Germans to assist the governors of the provinces in developing agriculture and mining. It is expected that they will make a formal complaint.

MONA SCULLY;

—OR—

The Bride of an Englishman.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

The tears are still lingering on her lashes; her mouth is sad. Yet at this instant, even as Geoffrey is gazing at her and wondering how he shall help dispel the cloud of sorrow that sits upon her brow, her whole expression changes. A merry gleam comes into her wet eyes, her lips widen and lose their lachrymose look, and then suddenly she throws up her head and breaks into a gay little laugh.

"Did you see the pig," she says, "sitting up by the fire-place? All through I couldn't take my eyes off him. He struck me as so comical. There he sat blinking his small eyes and trying to look sympathetic. I am convinced he knew all about it. I never saw so solemn a pig."

She laughs again with fresh delight at her own thought. The pig in the cabin had come back to her, filling her with amusement. Geoffrey regards her with puzzled eyes. What a strange temperament is this, where smiles and tears can mingle!

"What a curious child you are!" he says, at length. "You are never the same for two minutes together."

"Perhaps that is what makes me so nice," retorts Miss Mona, saucily, the sense of fun still full upon her, making him a small grimace, and bestowing upon him a bewitching glance from under her long dark lashes, that lie like shadows on her cheeks.

"Yes, it certainly is a charm," says Geoffrey, slowly, "but it puzzles me. I cannot be gay one moment and sad the next. Tell me how you manage it."

"I can't because I don't know myself. It is my nature. However depressed I may feel at one instant, the next a passing thought may change my tears into a laugh. Perhaps that is why we are called fickle; yet it has nothing to do with it; it is a mere peculiarity of temperament, and a rather merciful gift, for which we should be grateful, because, though we return again to our troubles, still the moment or two of forgetfulness soothes us and nerves us for the conflict. I speak, of course, of only minor sorrows; such a grief as poor Kitty's admits of no alleviation. It will last for her life-time."

"Will it?" says Geoffrey, oddly.

"Yes. One can understand that," replies she, gravely, not heeding the closeness of his regard. "Many things affect me curiously," she goes on, dreamily—"sad pictures and poetry, and the sound of sweet music."

"Do you sing?" asks he, through mere force of habit, as she pauses.

"Yes."

The answer is so downright, so unlike the usual "a little," or "oh, nothing to signify," or "just when there is nobody else," and so on, that Geoffrey is rather taken aback.

"I am not a musician," she goes on evenly, "but some people admire my singing very much. In Dublin they liked to hear me, when I was with Aunt Anastasia; and you know a Dublin audience is very critical."

"But you have no piano?"

"Yes, I have; aunty gave me hers when I was leaving town. It was no use to her, and I loved it. I was in school at Portarlington for nearly three years, and when I came back from it I didn't care for Anastasia's friends, and found my only comfort in my music. I am telling you everything, am I not," with a wistful smile, "and perhaps I weary you?"

"Weary me! no, indeed. That is one of the very few unkind things you have ever said to me. How could I weary of your voice? Go on; tell me where you keep this magical piano."

"In my own room. You have not seen that yet. But it belongs to myself alone, and I call it my den, because in it I keep everything that I hold most precious. Some time I will show it to you."

"Show it to me to-day," says he, with interest.

"Very well, if you wish."

"And you will sing me something?"

"If you like. Are you fond of singing?"

"Very. But for myself I have no voice worth hearing. I sing, you know, a little, which is my misfortune, not my fault; don't you think so?"

"Oh, no; because if you can sing at all—that is, correctly, and without false notes—you must feel music and love it."

"Well, for my part I hate people who sing a little. I always wish it was even less. I hold that they are a social nuisance, and ought to be put down by law. My eldest brother, Nick, sings really very well—a charming tenor, you know, good enough to coax the birds off the bushes. He does all that sort of dilettante business—paints, and reads tremendously about things dead and gone, that can't possibly advantage anybody. Understands old China as well as most people (which isn't saying much), and I think—but as yet this statement is unsupported—I think he writes poetry."

"Does he really?" asks Mona, with eyes wide open. "I am sure if ever I meet your brother Nick I shall be dreadfully afraid of him."

"Don't betray me, at all events. He is a touchy sort of a fellow, and might not like to think I knew that about him. Jack, my second brother, sings too. He is coming home from India directly, and is an awfully good sort, though I think I should rather have old Nick after all."

"You have two brothers older than you?" asks Mona, meditatively.

"Yes; I am that most despicable of all things, a third son."

"I have heard of it. A third son would be poor—and worldly people would not think so much of him as of others. Is that so?"

She pauses, but for the absurdity of the thing, Mr. Rodney would swear there is hope in her tone.

"Your description is graphic," he answers, lightly, "if faintly unkind; but when is the truth civil? You are right. Younger sons, as a rule, are not run after. Mammas do not hanker after them, or give them their reserve smiles, or puh their skirts aside to make room for them on small ottomans."

"That betrays the meanness of the world," says Mona, slowly and with indignation. Has not Geoffrey just declared himself to be a younger son?

"Does it? I was bred in a different belief. In my world the mighty do no wrong; and a third son is nowhere. He is shunted; handed on; if possible, scotched. The sun is not made for him, or the first waltz, or caviare, or the 'sweet shady side' of anything. In fact, he is 'the man of no account' with a vengeance!"

"What a shame!" says Mona, angrily. Then she changes her note, and says, with a soft, low, mocking laugh, "How I pity you."

To be Continued.

The Difficulty Experienced

In taking Cod Liver Oil is entirely overcome in Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites. It is as palatable as Milk, and the most valuable remedy that has ever been produced for the cure of Consumption, Scrofula and Wasting Diseases. Do not fail to try it. Put up in 50c. and $1 size.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment, somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8.75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3.75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—'Xmas Goods. Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all 'Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents

A BUCKET-SHOP CASE.

Tried at Hamilton—Reunion of Scottish Rite Masons—Wedding Bells.

HAMILTON, Jan. 23.—In the Assizes to-day the case of Knowles v. Hanrahan occupied the attention of the court. The plaintiff claims that she instructed the defendant to invest money for her in 5000 barrels of oil at 60 cents a barrel. She paid $50, being 1 cent on each barrel, so as to secure the broker. Oil fell to 59 cents and she paid another $50. Then oil went up to 68 cents, and she instructed the broker to close, thinking she would receive 8 cents on each of her 5000 barrels, or $400. She was then told that the broker had closed her stock when it was at 59 cents, and that she had lost her $100. The jury brought in a verdict for plaintiff for the full amount claimed.

The eighth annual reunion of the members of the Valley of Hamilton Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite Masons, will open here on Wednesday for the investiture of candidates.

Harry J. McIntyre, clerk of the Royal Hotel, was married at St. Mary's Cathedral this morning to Miss Minnie Commerford.

These officers were elected: President, Peter Christie; Vice-Presidents, D. C. Downey, W. J. Cowan, John Miller, N. F. Paterson; Secretary Treasurer, S. M. Newton; Corresponding Secretary, John Carswell.

Resolutions were adopted expressive of approval of Sir John and his Government and in opposition to Commercial Union. Several speeches and addresses were delivered, and the best of unanimity existed.

THE MASTER'S FIELD DAY.

PETITION FOR THE REMOVAL OF LIQUIDATOR CAMPBELL.

Joseph H. Mead Examined Before the Master-in-Ordinary — Summoning Mr. Baxter, a Montreal Broker—Cox's Head Clerk—Letters and Papers that Cannot be Found.

TORONTO, Jan. 25.—The Master-in-Ordinary heard the testimony of Joseph H. Mead yesterday morning. The witness deposed that he never had a deposit in the Central Bank, but that he had got the privilege of negotiating a receipt for $10,000; he was allowed the chance of buying for 65 cents and getting 75 cents. A lady, who was a friend of his, had made a deposit in the bank on advice from him, and after the suspension he endeavored to do the best for her. He spoke to Mr. Walmsley, who offered 50 cents up to $10,000. Witness was told by Mr. Kappelle that one depositor was selling at 60 cents. The name was Hill or Hall, not Cox. That was before any damaging reports had come out. He had heard that fictitious deposit receipts had been deposited.

Mr. Foster stated that he had received a letter from Mr. Baxter, the broker of Montreal, who had been summoned, and who wrote that he would attend as soon as possible.

After half an hour's session the court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

The proceedings were resumed at 2.30.

Mr. W. A. Foster, Q.C., counsel for the liquidators, who was assisted by Mr. J. H. Coyne, asked that an order be made under which James Baxter of Montreal be made liable for contempt of court, not having attended on being summoned to appear. The order was made.

The examination of C. K. Humphries, head clerk of Cox & Co.'s office, was resumed. He deposed that he had made a thorough search without having found any letters or papers relating to the Central Bank. Mr. Cox kept a private letter book, separate from the firm's. He had searched for that book, but had searched in vain. The witness was in charge of the office. The last he saw of Cox's private letter book was on Tuesday evening last after the examination before Mr. Geo Evans. He had placed the book on a chair in Mr. Cox's private room and had not seen it since. There were two safes in the office, witness could open neither. He did not know who had torn up papers in the office The bailiff was in charge since the suspension and remained late in the evening. There were duplicate sets of keys; the witness possessed one. He did not know who had been in the office late in the last few evenings. He did not know of any deliberate and systematic destruction of papers. He had had the two safes opened yesterday and found nothing in either relating to the Central Bank. Witness had discharged all the clerks except two on Saturday; he acted under the power of attorney from Cox. He had not seen Cox since he received the telegram on Friday last.

Mr. Humphries was closely and sharply questioned by Mr. Foster, but nothing of great importance was brought out. His examination ended at 5 o'clock, when Mr. Carlyle, the late head operator in Cox's office was called to the stand.

Mr. George E. Carlyle, chief telegraph operator in Mr. Cox's office, was the next witness. He gave evidence as to the cypher telegrams which have been referred to. Mr. Baxter of Montreal was known as "Banner" sometimes he signed "plain B.," and at other "Baxter." "California" was the Bank of Commerce. Witness translated to the court a cypher telegram dated Nov. 5, 1887, "Exhibit No. 5, Humphries," which said: "Take this to Central Bank. Ask them to pay you $4000." Witness explained others.

Witness then deposed that nothing was kept in the small safe of a private nature. Its contents related to the business of the office. He did not know what had become of the letter-book. He had that morning seen the large safe opened. There was nothing important in it or in the safe vault.

Mr. J. H. Mead, of the law firm of Roaf & Roaf, was examined by Mr. Foster.

His testimony was mainly in relation to Barnett's transaction with the Central. The latter had a letter of introduction from Baxter, a Montreal broker, and the object of the introduction at the Bank was to get a draft on Mr. Baxter cashed.

Mr. Foster questioned Mr. Roaf for some time to ascertain Mr. Barnett's financial standing at different times. Mr. Roaf again called "Privilege."

Mr. Roaf—My client can answer these questions himself.

Mr. Foster—I would be happy to examine him if you will produce him.

The court, which was appealed to, decided that Mr. Roaf was entitled to reserve anything he chose which he got in confidence from his client, remarking, in passing, how anomalous a thing it was that the law granted such privilege to clients, while confidential clerks might always be examined.

Mr. Foster—Here is a letter which reads:

TORONTO, Feb. 8, 1887.

A. A. Allen, Esq.—DEAR SIR: We have received yours of this date and we regret that we have, as it might be said by some parties that our letters were sent to you with a view of annoying you. This is not so, and we feel that you know this on account of the offer you made of leaving the securities in our hands to copy. We think that you in this are doing all that can be asked about the clipping of the securities, and if our client wants the copies we don't think he can do better than accept the offer. He represents to us the idea of blackmail, and we would not knowingly wish to do him in any matter which was simply one of annoyance to you. As he gives the matter to us, he says you have a large number of securities held against his account that you have given him to pass book showing the balance against him (we are glad to see that the balance is far less than we would have inferred from his verbal statements), but he has no list of the securities, and what has been done about them and he thought should. This is the statement he desires, and with it we understand he hopes he can arrange his financial matters in some shape. If this is all, the matter looks reasonable, and we do not see how it can annoy you to give it, nor how he can use it for any "wrong purpose," and we will admit that his financial ability and resources are beyond our limited experience. ROAF & ROAF.

Q—Now what do you mean by this! Did you hear of anything like blackmail? A—The letter is for answer to one from Mr. Allen. If I had it here I could explain how that was. We sent to Mr. Allen for the statement and he replied to it.

Q—For what purpose did you want the statement? A—For legitimate business purposes. There was no attempt at blackmail, and our reference to it is simply to repudiate any such thing.

Q—Did Barnett deposit any securities in your office? A—What do you mean?

Q—Did he leave any securities in your office after borrowing from the Central Bank? A—He has left a package of papers there and got them again.

Q—When was that? A—Nearly a year ago.

Q—What about Davis; was any papers stolen out of your office? A—I don't know; I heard so.

Q—Do you know what the package contained? A—I understood they were valuable papers and letters. Mr. Davis brought in a package in October or November last.

Q—What did it look like? A—It looked like letters.

Q—What endorsement were on them? A—No endorsement that I know of.

Q—How long were they in your possession A—I had them several days.

Q—Did he tell you what they were? A—I do not think he did. He told me that they were letters.

Q—Do you know what they contained? A—No.

Q—Did you read them? A—Some.

Q—Did you have anything to do with Barnett's leaving town? A—No.

Q—Who went to the bank with him? A—Himself.

Q—For what purpose? A—To get a new line of credit, I understand.

Q—A new line of credit? A—Yes. [Laughter.]

Q—Did he want the whole bank? A—He would take it if he could get it. [Laughter.]

Mr. Foster went into the reasons of Mr. Barnett's sudden departure. The witness stated that, as solicitor, he had been asked by Mr. Barnett to give advice on a criminal matter. He did not concede, by this, that any crime had been committed. He advised Mr. Barnett, and he left town at midnight the same night. This had nothing whatever to do with the Central Bank.

Q—What became of the package? A—Mr Davis took it away in October.

Cashier Allen Again on the Stand.

Mr. A. A. Allen was next called. From until 4.30 Mr. Foster was busy in getting papers and letters identified. Then Cashier Allen's examination proceeded for nearly an hour.

These letters were then put in and read:

Mr. Foster—We won't press you just now. Here is a letter-book containing a letter addressed to Archibald Campbell, Montreal, written by you and sent to Mr. Campbell? A—Yes.

MONTREAL, May 28, 1885.

Mr. A. A. Allen, Cashier Central Bank, Toronto:

DEAR SIR—We are this morning in receipt by telegram sent by you in which you speak of two of Mr. Barnett's drafts and a written memorandum in reply we presume you refer to the draft on Mr. Barnett, sent and accepted by the Central Bank of Canada. If so we have to say we had nothing to do with Mr. Barnett in this matter, and have no knowledge of any agreement between him and you. A Mr. H. M. Pave negotiated these drafts with us last week, and the whole matter has been closed up and he has gone to New York.

We regret to see by your telegram that you have not received the money before accepting the drafts, but presume you are well secured or you would not have accepted. If we can be of any service to you at any time command us. JAS. BAXTER & CO.

MONTREAL, July 25, 1885.

A. A. Allen, Cashier Central Bank, Toronto:

DEAR SIR—The holder of your acceptances of $500 due on Aug. 10, and payable in New York, would sooner hold it paid here or in Toronto. Perhaps that would suit you better also. If you can send to pay it in Toronto or here it would relieve us to draw on you later than the 5th. Please let me know how we can arrange to suit you. ASST. CAMPBELL.

TORONTO, Aug. 6, 1885.

Mr. A. Campbell, Montreal:

DEAR SIR,—Upon my return to town I found your letter of the 5th inst. with reference to the acceptances you mention and another for the same amount. I beg to call your attention to the following which is an exact copy of the official statement of the deposit. These acceptances were handed to him as our trustee. We have other papers in our hands also bearing on this matter. We have never received any money or value, nor has anything been deposited from these two bills in any shape, directly or indirectly, on account. We notified Mr. Baxter as soon as I learned he was the holder of these, to that effect, and warned him against negotiating the same. A. A. ALLEN.

The receipt in question reads:

TORONTO, May 5, 1885.

Received of A. A. Allen, two acceptances of $500 each, ninety days' sight, for the purpose of getting the same negotiated, the proceeds to be paid for in the Imperial and Traders' Bank of New York City to the credit of the Central Bank at Toronto. ROLAND I. G. BARNETT

MONTREAL, Aug. 5, 1885.

A. A. Allen, Cashier Central Bank, Toronto.

DEAR SIR,—I have your favor of the 5th instant and copy of Mr. Barnett's receipt for two acceptances of yours for $500 each, given to you on May 5, 1885. The terms disclosed thereby I never heard of before reading that paper, and it is too late to set them up now as any objection to accept the acceptances, as they were sent to you about a third innocent party, being the holder. There is no condition in the acceptances itself. There is therefore but one course open to you now, namely, to pay acceptances promptly at maturity, and look to Barnett to fulfil his part of the contract by compensating in some way for the default. The acceptance is now in New York and will be presented in ordinary course on Monday next. If it is any convenience to you to pay it there instead of here you can still do so by instructing your agents to-morrow, when I will have it recalled, so it can even be recalled on Monday by wire, at a small additional cost to you. ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL.

Mr. Allen handed in a package of papers which, he said, were all in his possession which related to the Central Bank.

Mr. Foster said he would examine Mr Allen further next Tuesday.

Mr. Foster spoke of these examinations merely as "preliminary canters." He expects to go more fully into Mr. Roaf's and Mr. Allen's examination.

A PROTRACTED SESSION.

The Fisheries Commissioners Energetically Pushing the Negotiations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A lengthy session of the Fisheries Conference was held to-day. Another meeting will take place to-morrow.

It is not probable that any further postponement of the sessions of the Canadian Parliament will be necessary, even if such were feasible, as the energetic manner in which negotiations are now being carried on by daily sittings indicates an early decision of some kind.

An Unnecessary Measure.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Senator Call (Fla.) introduced a bill in the Senate to-day to prevent subjects of foreign governments from catching fish within three marine leagues of the coast or within any of the bays or inlands of the United States.

TRADE AND NAVIGATION.

THE VOLUME OF TRADE FOR THE LAST FISCAL YEAR.

A Total of Over $220,000,000 Reached—March 1 Fixed For Polling on the Repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in Halton.

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—The next meeting of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council will be held on Feb. 2, when it is understood that decisions will be given in all the outstanding disputes which have recently been argued before it. The committee will also take up the dispute between the Canadian Pacific and Quebec and Lake St. John Railway with reference to the latter crossing the track of the former in the City of Quebec.

The Department of Marine to-day received a telegram from the Collector of Customs at Digby stating that the latter had sent a ship-wrecked crew on to St. John, N.B. The Sub-Collector of Customs at Freeport, N.S., had a visit from a party of four sailors belonging to Prince Edward Island, who stated that their vessel had been wrecked, and they were entirely destitute, having lost everything they possessed. In the latter case the Marine Department has granted pecuniary assistance to the men to enable them to reach their homes.

The survey of the route of the Sault Ste. Marie Canal is progressing favorably. The cross-section work is well advanced, and will soon be completed, when tenders for the work will be at once called for.

The objections to the regularity of the petition for the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act in Halton, raised by friends of the Act, have been considered by the Privy Council, and a decision arrived at that the notice is sufficient. The next issue of The Canadian Gazette will, therefore, contain a proclamation fixing Thursday, March 1, as the day for polling on the repeal of the act.

Mr. H. G. G. Keefer, the projector of the Chignecto Marine Railway, which the Dominion Government has agreed to subsidize under certain conditions, is in the city, and states that work will be commenced in the spring. He expects that Cumberland County will provide the right of way for the track.

Trade and navigation returns for the last fiscal year are very nearly completed, and will probably be published in a day or two. The volume of trade, as shown by the total imports and exports, exceeds $220,000,000, which is the largest amount ever reached.

The Government to-day received information of the election by acclamation of Mr. Prior of Victoria, B.C. Mr. Prior resigned his seat in the Local Legislature of the province to accept the Federal nomination, and is said by those who know him to be a man of ability and character. He takes the place of Mr. Shakespeare, now Postmaster of Victoria.

The people of Smith's Falls are urging the Dominion Government to build a new iron bridge over the Rideau River and Canal at that place. It is proposed that the new structure shall be twenty-five feet wide with a passageway on both sides.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES.

Against Norquay's Administration—Said to be an Election Dodge.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 24.—A sensation was caused this morning by the publication in The Free Press of charges that not only was there a deficit of $500,000 discovered by Mr. Greenway, but that the cash book had not been written up for sixteen months between September, 1885, and January, 1887. Other debts also existed, the exact amount of which was unknown. The cash deficit was $315,000, and unpaid bonds are out for $100,000.

The Free Press also says that examination shows that the $250,000 subsidy received early this month has all been expended except $4000, and generally accuses the late Government of corruption and theft.

It is the intention of the Government to prosecute the audit and ascertain the exact situation of affairs.

Mr. Norquay is absent from the city, but Mr. Lariviere, ex-Provincial Treasurer, says the whole thing is a perversion of the truth and that while there is a deficit it was known some time ago. He explains some items and says the whole thing is a mere election dodge.

It is stated there will be no dissolution for some time.

Mayor Jones returned to-night.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

Memorial Presented to the United States House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—In the House to-day Mr. Belmont (N.Y.) presented a memorial, signed by David Dudley Field, Andrew Carnegie, Abram Hewitt and others, asking for the passage of a joint resolution requesting the President to propose to the Government of Great Britain the making of a treaty between the two nations, for a limited period at least, providing:

In case a difference should arise between Great Britain and the United States requiring the intervention of any treaty or any claim of either under the established law of nations, or respecting the boundary of their respective possessions or any wrong alleged to have been committed by either nation upon the other, it shall be the earnest endeavor of both the contracting parties to accommodate the difference by conciliatory negotiations, and that in no event shall either nation begin a war against the other without first offering to submit the difference between them to arbitration.

A BIG COMMITTEE.

To Receive Mr. Morley and the Marquis of Ripon—O'Brien's Health.

DUBLIN, Jan. 24.—The committee which is being organized to receive John Morley and the Marquis of Ripon on their arrival in Dublin already numbers 30,000 persons and includes three peers, nineteen bishops and 200 magistrates.

Mr. O'Brien's Health.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The Tribune's Dublin correspondent had a talk yesterday with Dr. Joseph Kenny regarding Wm. O'Brien's health. He stated that Mr. O'Brien suffered terribly by his imprisonment, and nothing but his indomitable spirit could sustain him in his present enfeebled condition. His nervous system has been completely unstrung, and his nervous force has reached a very low ebb.

A Row at Galway.

DUBLIN, Jan. 24.—A row occurred at the railway station at Galway to-day, between a crowd which was awaiting the arrival of Fathers Burke and Francis, and the police. The latter charged the people, using their batons freely, while the crowd retaliated by throwing stones and bottles. Several persons were injured.

MURDER CASES IN COURT.

The Trial of Convict Robert Neil Fixed for To-Morrow—"Squib" Mitchell Discharged.

TORONTO, Jan. 25.

The Grand Jury yesterday returned a true bill against the unfortunate woman Elizabeth A. Fellowes, who, a few weeks ago, while insane, cut off her babe's head and arm, and after boiling the latter, served it for her husband's dinner. She was arraigned before Mr. Justice Falconbridge, but had failed so much that she seemed perfectly helpless and childish. She said "Guilty" when the indictment was read to her, but His Lordship entered a plea of "not guilty," and requested Mr. W. G. Murdock to act for her to-morrow, when her case will be taken up.

In the case of Bernard McKenna, the keeper of an Adelaide-street west eating house, who is charged with the murder of young Torrance by stabbing him in a row in front of the place, a true bill was returned, but as McKenna fled the city at the time and has not yet been arrested the case will have to stand over till the next assizes. John Downs, charged with complicity in the murder, was discharged, the jury finding no bill.

Robert Neil, alias Robert Thompson, the convict who fatally stabbed Guard Rutledge at the Central Prison, had a true bill returned against him. When arraigned he pleaded not guilty, and asked for an adjournment till next assizes so that he might write to his father in the States. His Lordship could not assent to this but requested Mr. N. G. Bigelow to act as counsel for Neil, whom he told that he might in the meantime procure depositions from the United States if he needed them. The trial was fixed for to-morrow.

William Mitchell was arraigned on the charge of criminal assault upon a girl named Eliza A. Griffiths at "Paddy Rat's" dive on Adelaide-street west, but the girl had disappeared and the Crown having no evidence to offer requested his discharge, which was granted.

The case of Henry Prax, charged with bigamy, has been fixed for to-day. Owing to the press of criminal work His Lordship has adjourned the civil assizes till Tuesday, Feb. 7.

BADLY FROZEN.

Sad Case of Destitution at Hamilton—Cousting Accident—The Assizes.

HAMILTON, Jan. 24.—An old lady named Mrs. Burgess, residing on Catharine-street south, near Young-street, had her feet badly frozen during the very cold weather of a few days ago. The poor old lady was in sad need, and the Mayor quickly granted her relief. Mrs. Burgess has been the mother of fifteen children, some of whom are in apparently good circumstances in this city.

Last evening W. H. Thompson, formerly parlor car conductor on the Toronto branch, was coasting on a hill on Bay-street north when an accident occurred which threw him off and rendered him insensible for some time. When he recovered he found that he had been robbed of a watch and a gold pen.

The crim. con. case of Gibbons v. Forster was in progress at the Assizes to-day. Plaintiff, Charles Gibbons, jr., laborer of Lynden, avers that defendant, Dr. M. Forster of the same place, took advantage of his position as Mrs. Gibbons' medical adviser. The case was not concluded when the court rose.

Dempsey Dies from a Shock.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Jan. 24.—The Coroner's jury investigating the case of "Bill" Dempsey who died in the ring on Saturday night has returned a verdict to-night that death was caused by a shock. Bewer was discharged.

THE MANUFACTURERS' LIFE.

The annual report of the Directors of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, shows an exceedingly prosperous though brief history of this company. Organized five months before the close of the year, such was the energy displayed by the officers and agents, and the confidence which the management inspired in the people, that the Directors were able to report a large amount of business done.

The amount of capital stock subscribed, $521,000, of which $126,800 was paid up, showed confidence in the enterprise on the part of investors; and the five months' business exceeded the most sanguine expectations. In that time the agents succeeded in writing $2,564,500 of insurance, upon which $62,000 was paid in premiums. The cost of management of the business was low, and judging from the commencement made the Manufacturers' Life can look forward to a prosperous future.

In giving advise to young men, the Globe says:—"Eschew association with the teachers of despair. Old men who moan out fears that national suicide is the one course to national salvation may be excused by consideration of their senility, but young men who echo their doleful refrain can never seem otherwise than contemptible." The Globe has evidently seen how foolish it looks to cry down the country, since its one-time great opponent entered on that busines. May the Liberal organ remember the lesson.

It should be remembered that every argumen put forward in defence of the maintenance of the customs line between the United States and Canada is an argument in favor of re-erecting the old wall between Ontario and Quebec.—Ottawa Free Press.

Not unless you consider the United States and Canada as much one country as are Ontario and Quebec.

The Toronto Mail has taken upon itself the role of impatient waiting for Sir John Macdonald's "disappearance from the scene." The Premier cannot live forever, but few will join the Mail in hoping for his early demise. Great is the fall of the once respected journal when it descends to expressions of that character.

The Ontario Legislature meets this week. Will the promised manhood suffrage measure be submitted, and if so, is it being prepared by the member of the Cabinet who vigorously opposed and denounced manhood suffrage?

MANUFACTURERS' LIFE INS. CO'Y.

The first annual general meeting of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company was held in the council chamber, Board of Trade Rooms, Toronto, on Tuesday, 17th January current.

The President, Right Hon. Sir John A. Macdonald, occupied the chair, and Mr. J. B. Carlile, managing director, acted as secretary.

At the request of the chairman the report was read to the meeting by Mr. J. F. Ellis, one of the directors. It is as follows:—

REPORT.

"The directors have pleasure in announcing at this their first annual meeting, that the operations of the company during the five months of its history, have been of a most satisfactory character, having far exceeded in importance their most sanguine expectations.

"A year ago our company was not in existence. About that time our indefatigable managing director, Mr. Carlile, was beginning to think that there was room for another life insurance company in Canada, and with him, to think was to act, so that during the year just past, obstacles that seemed almost insurmountable have been overcome, and results accomplished which are usually only reached by years of steady application.

"Since then the charter has been obtained from the Dominion Parliament. Capital stock to the amount of $631,000 has been subscribed; $126,800 of which has been paid up. All the intricate forms incident to the organization and carrying on of the business of a life insurance company have been prepared; its plans have been in the main part devised; its table of rates have been calculated, and among its schemes we find some hitherto adopted by no other company, but all bearing the endorsement of some of the ablest actuaries on the continent. Its agency department has been so far organized that it forms a complete network over the whole Dominion, only needing a slight revision to make it equal, in all respects, to the organizations which it has taken other companies years to build up. So rapidly, and so quietly has this all been accomplished, that the statements which are made here to-day are almost incredible. The company issued its first policy on the 19th day of August, 1887, leaving less than five months for active operations in procuring business.

"The best efforts of our valued staff of agents have been put forth in the meantime with results never before approached in the history of life insurance.

"On the 29th day of December the business aggregated the handsome sum of $2,564,500, on which the annual premium is $62,000. In closing our books on the date mentioned, we had in view the requirements of the insurance department, as we could have readily put on our books—had we chosen to keep them open until now—over $3,000,000.

"Indeed, we can say that the insurances already written exceed that amount. We preferred, however, to close our books promptly, believing that nothing is gained by issuing policies up to the first of March in any one year, and crediting the business to the previous year.

"We have been called upon to pay one claim for $7,000 under a policy on the life of our first agent, the late Andrew Wilson, in whom the company has lost one of its most efficient workers, and whose place it will be difficult to fill.

"Although it is an unusual course for new companies to pursue, we decided to submit our policies for valuation to an independent actuary, a gentleman of high character and undoubted ability, and his report is before you to-day in the company's general report, showing that a handsome surplus still remains, after providing for all our liabilities, including the statutory reserve on the policies, and in addition thereto a contingent fund. Of the large item for promoting the company, but $3,855.73 remains unprovided for, which is a most satisfactory state of things, when it would not have been unprecedented had our capital stock been impaired at the end of the first year. We therefore congratulate the stockholders on the very satisfactory state of their account.

"The company received 1,035 applications for insurances, amounting to $2,878,000, there were 915 for $2,564,500, with annual premium amounting to $62,000, which were accepted and issued, others amounting to $119,500, upon 81 lives, have been declined, and applications for $115,000 were in course of completion at the date of the report.

"The report would be incomplete did we not tender our thanks to the agents of the company, everywhere, for their extraordinary efforts on behalf of the company, and also to the office staff, for whom no hours seemed to be too long, no work too heavy. All have borne their fair share in bringing about this most satisfactory state of things.

"All the directors retire, but are eligible for re-election.

"JOHN A. MACDONALD, "President,
"GEO. GOODERHAM, } Vice-Presidents."
"WILLIAM BELL, }

NEW POSTAL REGULATIONS.

Governing Parcel Post—Liberal Concessions—No Likelihood of a 2-cent Letter Rate.

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—The subjoined circular has been issued by the Postmaster-General. It will be observed that while the old parcel post rate of 6 cents per 4 oz. is still maintained as regards closed parcels, anything so sent as to permit of inspection will, after Feb. 1, be mailable at the reduced rate of 1 cent per ounce. This will cover all blank forms, headed stationery and the matter recently ruled out from book post privileges. While the deficit in the department totals up to nearly $1,000,000 per annuin the Hamilton people's memorial in favor of a 2-cent rate is not likely to meet with much favor. One-third more correspondence would not take place, so that the deficit would only be fearfully increased. It is said that a project is under consideration for utilizing the unemployed time of railway mail clerks as sorters in the city offices. This would ultimately effect a great saving in the salary account, and is so reasonable a reform that it is difficult to see why it has remained for Mr. McLelan to introduce it. The Postmaster-General, who goes to Toronto to-morrow, is bringing sound business judgment and experience to bear upon the conduct of matters within his jurisdiction, and all the reforms which he institutes are practical and conceived in the interests of the public. Meantime the awful waste of money in the frequent conveyance of letters to distant and sparsely populated parts of the Dominion must be continued, or such a general howl would ascend as has lately sounded simultaneously in Prince Edward Island and British Columbia, though in both instances the Postmaster-General was only bent on saving a perfectly unnecessary expense.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT, OTTAWA.

In order to simplify the classification of matter passing by mail between places within the Dominion, and also the regulations relating thereto, and further to provide for including therein such articles of merchandise and other miscellaneous matter not hitherto admitted to pass by mail in Canada in open packets, all matter so passing by mail between places within the Dominion will be divided into five classes as follows:

FIRST CLASS.—Will include letters and post cards.

SECOND CLASS.—Newspapers and periodicals, printed and published in Canada, and posted under the prescribed conditions entitling them to pass free to regular subscribers.

THIRD CLASS.—Other newspapers and periodicals not entitled to free transmission, books and printed matter generally, printed circulars, also bona fide patterns and samples, packages of seeds and other matter now authorized to pass at the prepaid postage rate of 1 cent per 4 oz. of weight.

FOURTH CLASS.—Closed parcels at parcel post prepaid rate of 6 cents per 4 oz. of weight.

No alteration is made in the postage rates or regulations now applicable to matter included in the above four classes, but a fifth class is created to provide for the additional articles hereby to be admitted to pass by mail between places within the Dominion.

FIFTH CLASS.—Will include miscellaneous matters of all descriptions not belonging to either of the above classes, and not excluded from the mails by the general prohibitory regulation with respect to objectionable matter. Fifth-class matter must be so put up as to be fit for conveyance in the mail bags, and yet admit of ready and full examination by the officers of the postoffice. The postage on fifth class matter must be prepaid by postage stamps securely affixed thereto, at the rate of 1 cent per ounce weight or fraction of one ounce. The limit of weight for fifth-class matter will be 4 pounds for any single package, and as respects dimensions, the ordinary limit of 2 feet in length by 1 foot in width or depth. Transmissions of the fifth class will be subject to the general prohibitory regulation excluding from the mails all matter liable to destroy, deface or otherwise damage the other contents of the mail bags or injure the person of any officer or servant of the postoffice, as well as all obscene or immoral matter. A packet of fifth class matter may be posted for registration on prepayment, by 5 cent registration stamp, or 5 cents in addition to the postage charge, and it will be the duty of a postmaster to give the person posting a registration certificate for the same.

This regulation will go into operation on and from Feb. 1 next.

Deputy Postmaster-General.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

At the Rink.

Skaters, attention. Band at the rink every Friday night. d151—tf.

At Fenelon.

Mr. John Newall is at Fenelon Falls with his trotter "Gladstone." Johnny expects to win something. The races take place to-day and to-morrow.

Kitchen Garden.

Will the ladies interested kindly take notice that the meeting arranged for Thursday evening, the 26th, is postponed until the following (Friday) evening at the same hour.

The Market.

The cold weather this morning militated against a large attendance at the market. Beef, wood and hay were the principal commodities offered. Prices remained firm, without any changes worth mentioning.

Sleighing Parties.

There were two sleighing parties last night from Peterborough to Bridgenorth. A large number of young people participated and enjoyed a few pleasant hours at Mr. Louis Fobert's hostlery.

Sale of Periodicals.

The sale of periodicals in connection with the reading room of the Y.M.C.A., for the year ending 1888, will be held on Thursday evening, Jan. 26th, at 7.30 o'clock. A large number of magazines, illustrated periodicals and religious and other papers will be disposed of. 1d

Coming Races.

We understand that Mr. Harry Winch intends to start "Sleepy Dan" in the races at Ottawa, next week. At the Lindsay races on the 8th and 9th of February, it is probable that Peterborough will be represented by "Sleepy Dan," "Gladstone," "Royal Jim" and Mr. F. J. Daly's pacer.

Firemen's Salaries.

A joint meeting of the Finance and Fire, Water and Light Committees of the Town Council will take place to-morrow night, for the purpose of considering the question of increasing the salaries of the Fire Brigade. At present the men receive $25 each per year and they ask for $50. The men certainly work hard and they deserve generous treatment at the hands of the Town Council.

The New Line.

The proposed new line of the Canadian Pacific railway, running from the Central Iron Works along the river bank and up Mill street, past the factories, mills, etc., has been staked out. It runs directly west of the woollen mill formerly occupied by Mr. E. B. Wilson and follows the line of the proposed Midland road, surveyed and graded many years ago. An embankment will have to be made all along the river, south of Hunter street, and property owners on the Ashburnham side are on the alert to see that no damage is done to their properties.

A. O. U. W.

At the meeting of Peterborough Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, held on Tuesday evening, the officers for the current term were installed by Bro. R. Ferguson, D. D. G. M., of Orono, assisted by Bro. W. B. Ferguson, as P. G. M., and Bro. C. W. Sawers, as G. Guide. The offices were filled as follows:—

| | |
|---|---|
| Bro. A. Clegg | P. M. W. |
| " F. J. Jamieson | M. W. |
| " P. H. Green | Foreman |
| " H. Charman | Overseer |
| " T. M. D. Croly | Recorder |
| " J. Gellispie | Financier |
| " D. D. Galletly | Receiver |
| " J. Armour | Guide |
| " W. Barrie | I. W. |
| " W. M. Robinson | O. W. |
| " Adam Hall | Trustee |
| " Dr. King | Physicians |
| " Dr. Fife | |

After the close of the Lodge the members and the visiting brethren adjourned to Mr. Long's, where an excellent oyster supper was partaken of, and an enjoyable hour was spent together.

The Queen of Perfumes—"Lotus of the Nile."

The Sleighing.

The streets were fairly alive with cutters and sleighs last night. The sleighing is splendid and those fortunate enough to own horses are enjoying themselves immensely

A Tramp out.

The Landsdowne Snow Shoe Club meet to-night at the rooms over Stethem store for a tramp out. Capt. Chas. Shaw will block out the route and lead off with a stride that will take wind and muscle to follow. 7.30 is the time for meeting.

A Rarity.

We understand the Town Treasurer will not hold any sale of lands for taxes this year, as there are no properties in arrears. This is a somewhat rare occurrence in any municipality, and certainly shows a good state of affairs.

Not Yet.

It was expected that a meeting of the trustees of the Nicholls Hospital would have been held last night to finally decide the matter of letting the contract for the erection of the new building, but nothing was done in the matter.

Snow Shoeing.

The Y. M. C. A. snow shoers had a tramp last night, going up McDonnel Street past the quarry and around to Charlotte Street. At the residence of Mr. Aaron Cox the members were hospitably entertained The tramp was largely attended and most enjoyable.

A Liberal Donation.

President Fitzgerald, of the Irish National League, Lincoln, Neb., has received a draft for $1,000 from Mr. P. B. Hayes, of Ottawa, who resided for a time in Peterborough. This is the first money received in response to the president's appeal, asking one thousand Irishmen to subscribe $1,000 each.

The Races.

The meeting of horsemen called for last evening to make arrangements for a race meeting here, at an early date, did not take place, but the few sports who came together decided to make efforts to hold a three days' meeting, on the Little Lake. It is probable that the three days following the Ottawa meeting will be chosen.

Train Delayed.

The 11.31 a.m. train on the Canadian Pacific was over three hours late to-day. The cause was a snow blockade between Toronto and Peterborough, in the neighborhood of Burketon. The storms which have occurred in many other portions of the country have so far given us the go by, but it is probable that we will get our share before the grass turns green again.

For Bigamy.

Henry Prax, late cook at the Oriental, arrested some time ago on a charge of bigamy, alleged to have been committed by the prisoner marrying Mrs. Wm. Van Allen, also employed at the Oriental, at the time, was docketed for trial at the Toronto assizes. The issuer of marriage licenses and a Methodist minister from Lakefield, important witnesses in the case, went up to Toronto this morning.

A Runaway Girl.

A gentleman from an eastern village on the Canadian Pacific Railway, was in town Wednesday evening looking for his daughter, eleven years old, who ran away from home Wednesday morning and came to Peterborough by one of the early trains. The precocious youngster went straight to a hotel upon reaching town and secured a position as nurse girl with a farmer's wife residing near Peterborough. The father soon found out the particulars and took his daughter home in the evening. No reason is given as to why the girl left her home.

At Belleville.

Manager Henderson of our Water Company was present at the public test of the Belleville waterworks system. He thinks their works are very good and in case of a serious fire, their value will be great. The various tests made were all satisfactory but any of the results obtained can be beaten here. The pipes feeding the hydrants are only four inches in diameter, while here five inch pipes are used. From its situation better results can be obtained from the pumping machinery at Belleville, than in Peterborough.

Personal.

Mr. Jas. R. Stratton, M. P. P., and Mr. Thos. Blezzard, M. P. P., left for Toronto on the early C. P. R. train this morning. Mr. Stratton will move the address in reply to the speech from the throne and Dr. McKay, of Woodstock, will second it.

Dr. J. Earle Jenner, Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, England, will take up his residence in Peterborough in the first week in February, and will practic his profession here. Dr. Jenner's office will be in his residence, Albyn Villa, McDonnel street, lately occupied by Miss Veals.

Royal Templars.

At the regular meeting on Tuesday night of Peterborough Council No. 97, Royal Templars of Temperance, the officers for the current half year were installed. The officers are:—

| | |
|---|---|
| Sister Jessie Munro | S.C. |
| Bro. Thomas Yorke | V.C. |
| Sister Sanderson | R.S. |
| Bro. J. A. Fife, M.D. | Treasurer |
| Bro. Martin | Chaplain |
| Sister Laura Branch | Herald |
| Bro. N. Munro | Guard |
| Bro. Wm. Smith | Sentinel |

Bro. James Stratton and Sister Sanderson were elected representatives to the Grand Council of Ontario, which meets in Toronto on February 14th. This Council meets every Tuesday evening in the W. C. T. U. hall.

Curling.

The Keene and Lakefield curling clubs played a match on Tuesday afternoon, on the Charlotte street rink, for a Caledonian medal. This time Keene won. Last year Lakefield defeated Keene by some twenty shots. The losers complain that some of their players in this game appeared on the ice for the first time this season. The following is the score:—

| Keene. | Lakefield. |
|---|---|
| Rink No. 1. | |
| H. J. English | J. P. Strickland |

The Council resumed pursuant to adjournment.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

The report was received and adopted.

The Council then adjourned until 10 o'clock on Thursday morning.

WARDEN WALSH.

Mr. John Walsh, Reeve of Asphodel, who was elected Warden of the County on Tuesday, is a native of the township of which he is Reeve. His father, the late Richard Walsh, came to Canada from County Cork, Ireland, in 1825, being one of the early settlers who came in what was known as the "Robinson immigration." He took up a Government grant of land in the 11th concession of Asphodel, upon which he lived until the time of his death in 1857. At the death of his father, Mr. John Walsh inherited the homestead, then consisting of 100 acres, to which he has since made considerable addition and now owns an extensive farm of 700 acres altogether. The Warden is the youngest son of a family of ten children. In 1871 he married Miss Catherine Cleary, of Otonabee, who died in 1874, and four years later he married Miss Anna Elmhirst, of Asphodel, his present wife. Mr. Walsh was elected a member of the Asphodel Township Council in 1863, when he was about 21 years of age, and has been a member of it ever since. He was Deputy Reeve from 1878 to 1882 and has been Reeve since the latter date. He has not had the advantage of much educational training, and his prominence in municipal affairs is more due to his natural shrewdness and determination of character.

MANUFACTURERS' LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

The following is taken from the Monetary Times, of Jan. 20th. "When the announcement was made that a life assurance company was being formed under the above title, with the Premier of the Dominion as its president, and influential manufacturers and capitalists as its vice presidents and directors, it was natural to expect that considering the esprit de corps of our manufacturers and the bonds which hold them together: considering, too, the prestige of the names at its head, a liberal support would be accorded the new company and a large business would be done.

"The result of some five months' business of this company shows even greater success in securing business than the most sanguine of its friends deemed likely. In that period no less than $2,564,000 of insurance has been written, the premiums on which amount to $62,000. The amount of stock subscribed reaches $621,000, and of this $126,000 has been paid up. It is clear that extraordinary energy has been put into the work of securing business, and the result justifies the effort. The agencies of the company are spread over all Canada and the volume of business secured surpasses anything done, to our knowledge, by a Canadian company under like conditions. The low ratio of cost of which the Manufacturers can point is in part accounted for by the large proportion—one-fifth—done at the head office, which either came unsolicited or was secured under circumstances which lessened its cost to the Company. Offered such a volume of risks for approval, it is of the gravest importance that the actuarial and medical departments of a new company shall be adequate to their task. It was made evident at the annual meeting that care and discrimination have been shown by the medical men and it is testimony to the reasonableness of the company's plans that they are approved by Mr. Stenden, a New York actuary. The Manufactures has had what is known in the States as "a good send-off," it does not lack for enthusiastic workers and able directors, and it has great reason to look for continued success."

Local Legislation.

Among the private bills to be introduced at this session of the Ontario Legislature are the following:—An Act to confirm by-law No. 20, of the Town of Peterborough, re construction of bridges, etc.; an Act to give power to convey the present "Nicholls Hospital Trust" property and to receive other property in lieu thereof; an Act to amend the Act of incorporation of the Peterborough Protestant Poor Trust re representation on the board, and an Act for the incorporation of the Peterborough and Chemong Lake Railway. The Town of Lindsay gives notice of an Act to confirm a certain agreement between the town and the Midland and Grand Trunk Railways.

Home Knowledge Association.

An Association which is doing excellent work in promoting education is the HOME KNOWLEDGE ASSOCIATION. It is an association of publishers and book manufacturers duly incorporated, with a capital stock of $250,000 fully paid, which guarantees to supply to its members any books, magazines, music, etc., at net wholesale rates, so saving from twenty-five to fifty per cent. and sometimes even more. Thus every member becomes at once, by virtue of his membership, a wholesale dealer in books, entitled to trade discount and all other priviledges of that class. Whether he buys one book or fifty it is all the same; he deals directly with the manufacturer or publisher and avoids all expenses and profits of middlemen. The association delivers to each member a catalogue of standard and miscellaneous book, giving the net wholesale prices at which the books may be purchased by members. It also furnishes, to those interested in that class of publications, a catalogue of all school and text books published with the net wholesale prices. A catalogue of sheet and book music is also provided. Special rates are secured for all leading magazines and periodicals; and the association undertakes to obtain for members any work published at the lowest obtainable prices. Special arrangements are made for obtaining rare or expensive works not usually handled by the bookstores. The Home Knowledge Association has now enrolled among its members many of the leading men in the Dominion and is adding to its now large list every day. 3d

A Driving Accident.

On Tuesday night an accident occurred on Hunter street east that might have had a fatal termination, but fortunately the results were not very serious. A party of five persons, including two daughters of Mr. W. Hooper, of Otonabee, were enjoying a sleigh ride, when a cutter driven in a reckless manner by a young man collided with their sleigh. A spill was the result and one of the ladies was struck on the back of the neck by the end of the shaft. She was stunned for a time but soon recovered. Although all were thrown out, the others escaped without injury. The man who was the cause of the accident claims that the horse got beyond his control, but some who saw the occurrence attribute it to careless driving.

—Preparations for building during the coming summer are already being made. Mr. James Clotworthy has commenced to lay down bricks and a large pile are being placed in front of the Stewart House.

—An old man who looked like a cross between Santa Claus and Old Father Time, was an applicant for charity this morning. He claimed to be 92 years old and wanted assistance to reach Smith's Falls, where he resides. He was assisted.

—The Guelph Sun is responsible for the latest slander of a good man—from a Scott Act town, too:—"Councillor Moyer, of Berlin, will introduce a by-law to close the meetings of the Council with a doxology instead of with a keg of lager, as has been the practice there. Mr. Moyer will make a good town out of that yet."

—"Perhaps I'd better take the Warden's chair," jocularly remarked the Reeve of Belmont on Tuesday, as he surveyed the chamber and saw no vacant seat. It is some years since Belmont's Reeve was Warden, and the Council may seriously and favorably consider Reeve Brown's remark at another election.

Farmers, Beware.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I see in your last issue an account of Mr. George Walton, of Smith, being fined $5 for cutting a boy's head with a hayfork, while Mr. Walton swears positively he did not. The facts of the case are these:—Mr. Walton was going down street with a load of hay; three boys got on his load from behind and broke his binding pole. When the load was off the boys were getting on again, Mr. Walton was a little angry and ordered them off and struck at them with the fork, the boys being on the hind end of the sleigh. When the fork was raised the horses started and the rack being a light one the hind end went down and one of the boys fell with his head on the corner of the rack. The boy lodged a complaint with the Police Magistrate and Mr. Walton was fined $5 and costs. I would like to ask the Police Magistrate, or any other legal gentleman, if the owner of a sleigh is not warranted in putting boys off his sleigh, even if he does use a hay-fork. I never see any boys on Mr. Dumble's, Mr. Wood's, Mr. Roger's or any of the town sleighs, yet farmers must let every one on that pleases and not lift either tongue or fork for fear of being sued or fined. I think, Mr. Editor, it is time farmers should claim their rights.

Another case in point. Either the day before or after, young Mr. Barnard also sold a load of hay to Mr. Howden On his way up street five men or boys jumped on one side of the rack and upset the sleigh with Mr. Barnard under the horses, which ran away and he was badly bruised, and it took the price of the hay to repair the sleigh and harness. And he received no redress. If this state of affairs goes on much longer farmers will not be safe to drive on the streets at all. I am obliged to you for the space in your valuable paper, and hope the next boy who gets hurt will take it as a warning to keep away.

I may have to trouble you again.

Yours, etc.,

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

THE HALDIMAND ELECTION

TRIAL OF THE PETITION COMMENCED YESTERDAY AT CAYUGA.

Great Interest Taken in the Case—Several Charges against Dr. Montague Tried and Dismissed—The Trial Likely to Last All Week.

CAYUGA, Jan. 24.—The Haldimand election trial commenced here this morning, Mr. Justice Street presiding. Mr. Aylesworth, Mr. Colter and Mr. Goodman appeared for the petitioner; Mr. McCarthy, Q.C., and Mr. Snider for the respondent, Dr. Montague. Great interest is taken in the case, the court-room being crowded during the whole of the day.

Mr. McCarthy applied to have the evidence of James Adams of Jarvis taken under commission, he being ill. The application was granted. Adams is to give evidence upon a charge made against Mr. Colter.

John McFarlane stated he had been offered by a Mr. Glennie $16 for two pigs, and that Glennie said he would let him have the $16 and he could keep the pigs if he (McFarlane) would vote for the Conservative party. Witness said he was offered by a man named Windecker an envelope said to contain $50. He refused it.

Mr. Windecker was called and denied the story.

Dr. Montague was called and denied the agency of Glennie.

His Lordship dismissed the charge.

Charges 5, 6, 7 and 8 were tried and dismissed. In none of them was any evidence given of an important character.

Samuel Tyler, residing in Seneca Township, stated that one George Elliott offered him $10 if he would spoil his ballot. He refused at first, but eventually he told him if he gave him the money it would be all right. Elliott told him he had got something for himself, but could not get anything for others until after the election was over. Witness was told he would find $10 upon his plow. Accordingly the next morning he found a $10 bill in an envelope in the field upon his plow. Witness produced the envelope containing it, but could not identify the writing. He had also taken the number of the bill. Getting hard up he used the money. On cross-examination the witness was pretty badly shaken up.

George Elliott, a material witness on this charge, was absent, though he had been subpœnaed. Upon the application of Mr. Aylesworth a bench warrant has been issued for his arrest. Evidence upon the charge was not concluded when court adjourned.

There are some fifty charges on each side to be gone into. At the present rate the case will last until the end of the week.

INCENDIARY FIRES.

The Renfrew Mercury Office Destroyed—A Blaze at Kemptville.

RENFREW, Jan. 24.—Shortly after 5 o'clock this morning The Renfrew Mercury office was entirely destroyed by fire. The building, owned by the proprietor, was insured, as was also The Pioneer Press. The insurance on other material was only $750, a fourth of the loss. The universal opinion is that the fire was of incendiary origin, in fact, a Scott Act outrage.

Fire Fiends at Kemptville.

KEMPTVILLE, Jan. 24.—Shortly before 4 o'clock this morning a fire was discovered in a large pile of hemlock bark, situated within a few feet of Mason Blair's tannery. A part of it had just been rebuilt, having been destroyed by fire not long since. This is supposed to be another case of incendiarism. Notwithstanding the extreme cold the fire engine did excellent service for about five hours. The firemen present, together with others, worked like heroes, and long before they had the devouring elements fully under control, their clothing was frozen solid. Loss about $300.

MONA SCULLY;

—OR—

The Bride of an Englishman.

A STORY OF THESE TIMES.

"Nanags. I shall try to believe you, though your mirth is somewhat out of place, and has a tendency towards heartlessness." (He is laughing too.) "Yet there have been instances," goes on Mr. Rodney, still smiling, while watching her intently, "when maiden aunts have taken a fancy to third sons, and have died leaving them lots of tin."

"Eh?" says Mona.

"Tin—money," explains he.

"Oh, I dare say. Yes, sometimes; but——" she hesitates, and this time the expression of her face cannot be misunderstood; dejection betrays itself in every line—"but it is not so with you, is it? No aunt has left you anything?"

"No—no aunt," returns Rodney, speaking the solemn truth, yet conveying a lie. "I have not been blessed with maiden aunts wallowing in coin."

"So I thought," exclaims Mona, with a cheerful nod, that under other circumstances, should be aggravating, so full of content it is. "At first I fear—I thought you were rich, but afterwards I guessed it was your brothers' ground you were shooting over. And Bridget told me, too. She said you could not be well off, you had so many brothers. But I like you all the better for that," says Mona, in a tone that actually savors of protection, slipping her little brown hand through his arm in a kindly, friendly, lovable fashion.

"Do you?" says Rodney. He is strangely moved; he speaks quietly, but his heart is beating quickly, and Cupid's dart sinks deeper in its wound.

"Is your brother, Mr. Rodney, like you?" asks Mona, presently.

He has never told her that his eldest brother is a baronet. Why he hardly knows, yet now he does not contradict her when she alludes to him as Mr. Rodney. Some inward feeling prevents him. Perhaps he understands instinctively that such knowledge will but widen the breach that already exists between him and the girl who now walks beside him with a happy smile upon her flower-like face.

"No; he is not like me," he says, abruptly; "he is a much better fellow. He is, besides, tall and rather lanky, with dark eyes and hair. He is like my father, they tell me. I am like my mother."

At this Mona turns her gaze secretly upon him. She studies his hair, his gray eyes, his irregular nose—that ought to have known better—and his handsome mouth, so resolute, yet so tender, that his fair moustache only half conceals.

"I think I should like your mother," she says naïvely and very sweetly, lifting her eyes steadily to his. "She is handsome, of course, and she is as good as she is beautiful?"

"My mother is a real good sort when you know her," he says, evasively; "but she's rather rough on strangers. However, she is always all there, you know, so far as manners go, and that."

Miss Mona looks puzzled.

"I don't think I understand you," she says, at length, gravely. "Where would the rest of her be if she wasn't all in the same place?"

She says this in such perfect good faith that Mr. Rodney roars with laughter.

"Perhaps you may not know it," says he, "but you are simply perfection."

"So Mr. Moore says," returns she, smiling.

He drops her arm, and looks as though he is prepared to drop her acquaintance also, at a moment's notice.

"What has Mr. Moore to do with you?" he asks, haughtily. "Who is he, that he should so speak to you?"

"He is our landlord," says Mona, calmly, but with uplifted brows, stopping short in the middle of the road to regard him with astonishment.

"And thinks you perfection?" in an impossible tone, losing both his head and his temper completely. "He is rich, I suppose; why don't you marry him?"

"To ask the question is a rudeness," she says, steadily, though her heart is cold and hurt. "Yet I will answer you. In our country, and in our class," with an amount of inborn pride impossible to translate, "we do not marry a man because he is 'rich,' or in other words, sell ourselves for gold."

Having said this, she turns her back upon him contemptuously, and walks towards her home.

He follows her, full of remorse and contrition. Her glance, even more than her words, has covered him with shame, and cured him of his want of generosity.

"Forgive me, Mona," he says, with deep entreaty. "I confess my fault. How could I speak to you as I did! I implore your pardon. Great a sinner as I am, surely I shall not knock for forgiveness at your sweet heart in vain!"

"Do not ever speak to me like that again," says Mona, turning upon him eyes humid with disappointment, yet free from wrath of any kind. "As for Mr. Moore," with a curl of her short upper lip that it does him good to see, and a quick frown, "why he is as old as the hills, and as fat as Tenberme, and he hasn't got a single hair on his head."

But that Mr. Rodney is still oppressed with the fear that he has mortally offended her, he could have laughed out aloud at this childish speech; but anxiety helps him to restrain his mirth.—Nevertheless he feels an unholy joy as he thinks on Mr. Moore's bald pate, his "too, too solid flesh," and his "many days."

"Yet he dares to admire you?" is what he does say, after a decided pause.

"Sure they all admire me," says Miss Mona, with an exasperating smile, meant to wither.

But Mr. Rodney is determined "to have it out with her," as he himself would say, before consenting to fade away out of her sight.

"But he wants to marry you. I know he does. Tell me the truth about that," he says, with flattering vehemence.

"Certainly I shall not. It would be very mean, and I wonder at you to ask the question," says Mona, with a great show of virtuous indignation. "Besides," mischievously, "if you know there is no necessity to tell you anything."

"Yet answer me," persists he, very earnestly.

"I can't," says Mona; "it would be very unfair; and besides," petulantly, "it is all too absurd. Why, if Mr. Moore were to ask me to marry him ten thousand times again, I should never say anything but 'no.'"

Unconsciously she has betrayed herself. He hears the word "again" with a strange sinking of the heart. Others, then, are desirous of claiming this wild flower for their own.

"Oh, Mona, do you mean that?" he says. But Mona, who is very justly incensed, declines to answer him with civility.

POKING FUN!

The Public are at the moment somewhat amazed. They say the Tactics some business men are pursuing would lead one to believe that the General Community are taken for idiots; that they have only to make a statement, it matters not how grossly untrue it is, the Public, lamb-like, will take it all in and believe any word of it. Now, to place it mildly, this is expecting altogether too much. However, it is quite true that the public don't care a button how much a man lies about his actual purchases, or about his actual sales, they are after the best value, or in other words they want to find the House giving them the most for their money—all things being equal.

33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS! 33⅓ CENTS!

Now these are the figures representing the actual average SHEPPARD paid for his last purchase. The Goods were bought at Auction for Cash and comprises largely, just such Goods as are in actual demand at this season of the year, and in buying them to-day you will positively save DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR. Don't be misled, don't be hoodwinked with trumpery in the way of presents. All the stuff given away only represents about 10 per cent on the actual purchases, when SHEPPARD is giving you about 50 per cent off.

QUAKING, SHAKING, CRASHING, SLASHING,

But SHEPPARD cannot help this. If merchants pay too much for their Goods and then have to sell at less than cost to compete with SHEPPARD'S prices on which he is realizing a profit, who is to blame? Surely not Peterborough's Great Cheapside. SHEPPARD'S MISSION is to sell Goods as Cheap as the Cheapest man living, and a little cheaper if possible, and this it how he will do it.

LOT ONE.—Piles of Men's Overcoats, regular price $8 75, this is an all wool coat, well made and SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $3.95. This knocks the bottom clear out of anything ever shown before. Also Boys' Overcoats running up to men's sizes, regular price $6.50, SHEPPARD'S price to-day is $2.95. Won't this shatter the prospects of the man who is after the earth.

LOT TWO.—Men's Suits $3 75 and a pure wool Canadian Tweed Suits in Men's all sizes $4.95, would be as cheap as dirt at $8.95. Boys' Suits really nice and lot of them $1.95, and an overcoat to match $1.95. Think of this, no trashy, shoddy goods, SHEPPARD is not in that business.

LOT THREE.—Xmas Goods. Plush Albums, regular price $2.00, SHEPPARD'S price 99 cents. Children's China Tea Sets complete in Gold and Cardinal, regular price $1.50, SHEPPARD'S price 50 cents. Satchels cheap—in fact all Xmas Goods at ½ regular prices.

Don't be humbugged or cajoled out of your hard earned money, but go straight to SHEPPAR'S, where you will save DOLLAR for DOLLAR. This is a Monster Sale of Cheap Goods.

In Brief and to the Point.

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existance. It is easily put out of order. Greasy food, tough food, sloppy food, bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

But Green's August Flower has done a wonderful work in reforming this sad business and making the American people so healthy that they can enjoy their meals and be happy.

Remember:—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. Seventy-five cents

IN HIS HONOR'S QUIET WAY

THE ASSEMBLY OPENED WITHOUT CANNON OR TRUMP.

Sir Alexander Campbell Goes Down to the House Sans Ceremonie et Sans Pompe and Meets the People—Hundreds of Ladies Grace the Proceedings.

TORONTO, Jan. 25.

There was a great crowd of people down at the Parliament Buildings yesterday afternoon to see the new Lieutenant-Governor. Sir Alexander Campbell, perform his first official act in public by opening the second session of the sixth Legislature. A heavy snowstorm prevailed during the afternoon, but this did not deter any who had received invitations for the "floor of the House" from accepting them. There must have been nearly 500 ladies present.

The only martial display visible to the naked eye was a strong guard of honor from the Infantry School under command of Major Vidal. They were drawn up in front of the Speaker's entrance to the buildings and saluted His Honor as he passed within. There was no roaring of cannon, little or no music, and no mounted and sabred escort from Government House. The gay cavaliers who have taken part in former opening ceremonies might just as well have turned their swords into plowshares, for all the need of them yesterday.

The band of the Infantry School has gone to pieces, and Col. Otter and the other officers allowed the band of the Royal Grenadiers to play the pipes for the boys from the New Fort, but there was very little in the way of music.

At exactly 3.05 His Honor, preceded by Col. C. T. Gillmor and followed by Speaker Baxter and the rest of the gentlemen named, filed out into the eastern lobby and entered the chamber. The great audience received the party quietly and there was little or no attempt at an ovation or applause.

His Honor lost no time in taking his seat on the "throne." He glanced hurriedly around the chamber, and then his eyes dropped on the document which had been placed in his hand.

The reading of the speech took about twenty minutes. It was as follows:

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

I have much pleasure in welcoming you to your annual duties as representatives of the people, for the first time since my appointment as Lieutenant-Governor. I should like to believe that my long experience in Canadian public life may give me some special advantages for rendering in my new position useful service to the province which has long been my home, and in whose progress and prosperity I take the deepest interest.

THE PROVINCE'S CLAIM TO CROWN LANDS MAINTAINED.

Since your last session the Supreme Court of Canada has affirmed the judgments of the High Court and Court of Appeal in favor of the provincial claim to crown lands to which the so-called Indian title had not been extinguished until after confederation. The defendants have appealed from all these decisions to Her Majesty's Privy Council, and the appeal will probably be heard and decided during the present year. Meanwhile, in reliance on the decisions already obtained, patents have been issued by the province to claimants who have applied to my Government for patents, and have shown their right to receive them on like grounds and proofs as are recognised and acted on with respect to other provincial lands. There has been some correspondence with the Federal Government on the subject which will be laid before you.

FEDERAL AND INTERPROVINCIAL RELATIONS.

I am happy to inform you that the Federal Government has recently intimated to me its intention of concurring in the steps necessary for obtaining at the next session of the Imperial Parliament an act confirming the western boundary of the province, agreeably to the order of Her Majesty-in-Council made in August, 1884. Negotiations have commenced respecting our northern boundary also, so far as the same has not already been determined.

I regret that no substantial progress has been made towards the settlement of the long pending accounts, and other questions, between the Dominion and the Province. The correspondence on these subjects will be submitted to you.

As respects the unsettled matters between Ontario and Quebec, in which the Dominion has no interest, including the claim of this Province on behalf of the municipalities to the Land Improvement Fund in respect of collections from Crown Lands before Confederation, an agreement has been arrived at between the two Provincial Governments for settling these matters by a friendly arbitration, in case the proposal shall receive your approval.

The resolutions respecting provincial matters adopted unanimously at the recent Inter-provincial Conference at Quebec, will be submitted for your consideration; and bills are in preparation for carrying into effect such of the resolutions as require present legislation on the part of this Province.

A NEW CABINET PORTFOLIO.

I regret exceedingly that the Province has experienced a considerable amount of agricultural depression by reason of the great drouth of last year, and its unprecedented duration. On the other hand, I am glad to say that there has been more than the usual activity in the settlement of our crown lands and in mining enterprise; and that the revenue from crown lands (exclusive of timber sales) has been greater than for several years previously.

The Legislature has always given special attention to the development of the agricultural resources of the Province and to the improvement of the condition of those who follow agricultural pursuits. To further promote these objects, and in view of the increasing work of all the government departments from year to year, I recommend for your consideration the appointment of a minister to whose special attention all matters relating to agriculture and kindred subjects may be transferred. A bill for this purpose will be laid before you.

OUR ADVANCING TIMBER LANDS.

The value of our timber limits having greatly increased of late years, it was recently thought that the time had come for making such advances in ground rents and timber dues as should bring to the provincial revenue a substantial increase without being unfair or oppressive to persons engaged in the lumber trade. Certain increases were accordingly made; and that they were not unreasonable or inopportune has been shown by the large prices obtained for limits at the timber sale which was afterwards held.

CONFIRMING THE REVISED STATUTES.

I was glad to have it in my power to issue the necessary proclamation for bringing into force at the close of the year the newly Revised Statutes of the Province, embodying once more in two convenient volumes its whole public statute law. The report of the commissioners (which will be laid before you) recommends the passing of a Confirmatory Act, as was done in the case of the revision in 1877, and I commend their suggestion to your attention.

In connection with the revision of our public statutes, all statutory provisions affecting practice or procedure, and all the rules and orders issued by the various courts during the last thirty years, have been consolidated and revised under the superintendence and direction of the Judges of the Ontario Supreme Court, with the view of completing the fusion of the courts contemplated by the Judicature Act, and of promoting uniformity, certainty and simplicity in legal proceedings. The consolidated orders have been adopted under the authority given to the judge for this purpose by statute; but they recommend that their work as executed should receive legislative confirmation; and to this recommendation I also invite your attention.

THE PROVINCIAL UNIVERSITY AND U.C.C.

I regret that I have not had occasion to call into force by proclamation the act of last session providing for the confederation of other universities with the Provincial University but I hope to have the pleasure of doing so before the close of the present year. Meanwhile, an efficient medical faculty has been added to the Provincial University, and is now in successful operation. Negotiations have taken place for the establishment of a faculty of law also; and I hope that the legal profession, in common with all other learned professions, will soon share in the advantages to be derived from closer relations with the Provincial University.

A site has been procured for Upper Canada College outside of the city, and yet within convenient distance. Plans of the new buildings have been prepared, and will be laid before you, with a view to the erection of the building s now being commenced during the present year.

THE NEW LEGISLATIVE BUILDINGS AND ASYLUMS.

I have the pleasure of informing you that very gratifying progress has been made during the past season in the erection of the new departmental and parliament buildings, and that equally satisfactory progress is confidently expected to be made during the present year.

Much needed additions have been made to the accommodation for the insane and idiotic by the opening at the Hamilton Asylum of the north wing of the new building there, affording room for 130 patients; and by the opening of Orillia of the two new cottages for which appropriations were granted in the last two sessions of the Legislature, and which will accommodate 200 patients. The south wing of the new building at Hamilton, which has the same capacity as the north wing, will, it is confidently hoped, be completed and ready for occupation during the coming summer.

It has for some time been evident that it would not be practicable to continue accepting for the uses of the Toronto Asylum the large tract of land within the city heretofore used for farm purposes in connection with the institution. The growth of the city and the value of property within its limits rendered it desirable to limit the future occupation to as small an area as may be consistent with the positive necessities of the institution, and to dispose of the remainder for asylum purposes. I therefore commend to your attention the expediency of making immediate provision for the erection of asylum cottages on land of the province at Mimico, with a view to the removal thereto of patients who may derive benefit from farm work, and of others whose removal to the same locality may be expedient; the management to be in connection with the Toronto Asylum, and by its officers.

OUR OVERWORKED YOUNG GIRLS.

You will, I doubt not, concur with me in the opinion that the hours of daily labor for children and young girls in ordinary retail shops should not be so prolonged or exhausting as to be injurious to health; and that the time has come when some provisions of law may be made to limit the number of hours during which in any week young persons can be employed in these shops. A bill for this purpose and to promote also the early closing of retail stores in cities, towns and villages at such periods of the year as, in the judgment of the municipal authorities, the circumstances of the respective municipalities may make desirable, will be submitted to your consideration.

NEW MEASURES AND REPORTS.

Amongst other measures intended to be laid before you are, a bill respecting the franchise; a bill respecting friendly societies; a bill respecting alimony; and a bill for the separation of Parry Sound and Muskoka from the adjoining counties for certain purposes.

In consequence of representations as to the necessity of important amendments in the Municipal Law affecting cities specially but not exclusively, I issued a commission during the recess to collect the experience of other countries, states and provinces, as well as our own, in regard to the matters referred to, with the object of putting you in possession of materials which may be of service in this department of legislative duty. I hope to receive in a few days the first report of the commissioners. This report, when received, and all departmental and other usual reports, will be laid before you for your information.

THE ESTIMATES WILL BE ECONOMICAL.

The estimates for the current year will, at an early date, be submitted for your approval. They will be found to have been prepared with all the economy consistent with the efficiency of the public service.

I am glad to feel assured that your legislative labors during the present session will be characterised by the same earnest care and thoughtful attention which have heretofore marked the work of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario.

His Honor did not remain a minute after he had finished reading. He and his Secretary and Col. Gzowski filed out just as unostentatiously as they came and were driven back to Government House behind the aforesaid spanking team. By the way these self-same chestnuts are of worthy descent. One is a son of Milgeian, out of a Messenger Matron, and the other is a near relative of the famous Bonnie Dake.

At 3.45 the House went into session and sat till 4 o'clock. After prayers by the Speaker, the reports of the judges on the controverted election trials were read, and Mr. Mowat made the usual formal motions respecting the standing committees, etc. The House will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

MANITOBA'S CABINET.

Mayor Jones Sworn in as Treasurer—Dissolution Not Yet Decided Upon.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 25.—Mayor Jones was sworn in as Treasurer this afternoon.

The Cabinet held a long session and discussed the question whether immediate dissolution should take place or not. No result was reached at a late hour.

A requisition signed by a number of influential Reformers was presented to W. W. Watson, the old war horse, asking him to oppose Mayor Jones in Winnipeg South should he run there. Mr. Watson placed himself in the hands of his friends, and it is probable the new Treasurer will seek a seat elsewhere and Winnipeg South not be opened.

Mr. Greenway's old opponent was unanimously nominated by the Conservatives to oppose the Premier at the convention to-day.

There Will Be No Dissolution.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 25.—There will be no dissolution. Election for Ministers takes place Feb. 9 and 16.

THE NANAIMO EXPLOSION.

Ninety Lives Believed To Have Been Lost—Twenty Bodies Recovered.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 25.—It is now believed that nearly ninety lives were lost in the Wellington Colliery explosion. The bodies of twenty white miners were taken from the mines last night, and there are about seventy more men still in the mine and there is no reason for believing that any of them are alive. Three-fourths of the men still in the mine are Chinamen.

BEFORE THE CHANCELLOR.

The Petition for Mr. Campbell's Removal Presented in Court.

TORONTO, Jan. 25.

Shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. W. A. Foster, Q.C., Mr. John Bain, Q.C., Mr. Howland and Mr. William Gooderham repaired to Chancellor Boyd's private room, in reference to the petition of two of the liquidators against Mr. Archibald Campbell, their colleague.

Mr. Bain read the following affidavit:

I, Archibald Campbell, one of the liquidators appointed in this matter, make oath and say as follows:

That the petition was only served upon me yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

That I require further time to meet the charges made against me in the said petition, and that I am satisfied, if time is given me for that purpose, I can satisfactorily refute all the charges therein contained.

That the said petition contains charges against me which are wholly untrue, and which it is of the utmost importance to me should be fully and openly met and refuted, and this I am confident I can satisfactorily do if an opportunity is given me to do so.

With regard to the tenth paragraph of the said petition I say that I furnished security in the amount required in the order under which I was appointed to the satisfaction of the Registrar of this court. On Saturday last I was shown a letter by the Master, Mr. Hodgins, purporting to be from the agent of the London Guarantee and Accident Company, whose bond had been accepted as my security, in which it was stated that the company withdrew the security which had been so furnished. I had also received a letter from the said agent on the previous day to the same effect, and this was the first notification that I received of any intention to withdraw the security.

That on Saturday night I proceeded to Montreal, and on Monday last made arrangements with the manager of the North American Guarantee Company to provide the necessary security to the satisfaction of the court. I only returned to Toronto yesterday morning, and I am ready as soon as the bonds can be prepared and executed to furnish security which will be satisfactory to the court.

Sworn before me at Toronto on Jan. 25, 1888.

ALFRED HOSKIN
ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL.

Later in the day Mr. James R. Roaf, solicitor, who gave evidence on Tuesday, entered the witness box and deposed to the removal of the package of letters to which special reference was made in witness' examination on Tuesday. He deposed that when Magnus Davis left the letters he said they were papers connected with Mr. Barnett. Afterwards Davis called for the letters whilst witness was attending a meeting at the Walker House. Deponent had by referring to his diary ascertained that the date was either Oct. 12 or 13. Davis said the package was his, and it was given him from witness's safe.

The resumed examination of Mr. Roaf will take place to-morrow at 11 o'clock, and that of Cashier Allen on Tuesday next.

Mr. Roaf stated in court on Tuesday that his physician had advised him to seek a change of air for the benefit of his health, and that he wanted to get through his examination as speedily as possible.

FRANCE AND ITALY.

ROME, Jan. 25.—Count de Mouy, the French Ambassador, to-day received fresh instructions from his Government and asked Premier Crispi to renew the negotiations for a treaty of commerce. The Premier assented.

CARLETON NOMINATIONS.

TWO CONSERVATIVES HAVE THE FIELD TO THEMSELVES.

Sir John Speaks in Favor of Mr. Dickinson—Counterfeit $10 Dominion Bank Bills—New Straw Burning Stove—Dinner at Government House.

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—The nomination for Carleton took place at Bell's Corners to-day, the only nominations being Messrs. G. T. Dickinson and W. F. Powell, both Conservative. Sir John was present and spoke in favor of Mr. Dickinson, who was the choice of the Conservative Convention, and whose election is considered certain.

Le Canada says a young man has been arrested at Calumet, near Grenville, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, for making and putting into circulation $10 Dominion Bank bills. Twenty counterfeit notes of this denomination were found in his possession. The clue was gained from a letter from the young man found in the possession of a woman of questionable character lately arrested in Montreal.

No official confirmation can be obtained of the rumor telegraphed from Halifax that Recorder Sedgwick has been appointed Deputy Minister of Justice.

The Government has been notified of the invention of a straw burning stove, adapted for use in Manitoba and the Northwest, by Mr. Wm. Stephenson, manager of the Lowe farm near Morris, Man. Straw burning stoves, it appears, have been in use among the Mennonites for several years past.

The following ladies and gentlemen were amongst those who were invited to dinner at Government House last evening:

Hon. J. A. and Mrs. Chapleau, Sir George Stephen, United States Consul Hotchkiss and Mrs. Hotchkiss, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Morgan, Capt. and Mrs. Toller, Mr. and Mrs. Trudeau.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE.

The New Rules to be Proposed by the British Government.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The Tribune's London despatch says the the Local Government Bill will be brought in at the beginning of the session. It will be democratic in its character, and will be heartily supported by every member of the Government. Lord Hartington has seen the bill and approves it.

Following American precedents, closure by a bare majority will be proposed. Furthermore, a new and efficient means of checking obstruction will be called into existence under the name of automatic closure. At midnight debates will be suspended without a motion being made, and the Speaker will put either the main question, or if called upon will without debate take the sense of the house as to whether the main question shall or shall not be put.

A bill for the Government of London has been drafted, and will probably be brought in at once. The attempt to organize this huge city into a single municipality has been abandoned, and the present scheme provides for four separate municipalities.

IMPERIAL DEFENCES.

The Duke of Cambridge and Baron Brassey Think Them Inadequate.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Baron Brassey delivered a lecture before the Chamber of Commerce to-day on the inadequate defences of coaling stations.

When he had finished the Duke of Cambridge endorsed his views and said that the existence of the Empire depended upon its power to keep commerce free from alarm. He was unable to understand why the commercial community could not see that the preparation for contingencies was the truest economy. Lord Charles Beresford explained that the resigned the office of a Junior Lord of the Admiralty because the interests of the military and naval services had been subordinated to political exigencies.

ONTREAL'S REVENUE.

An Increase Over the Previous Year—Decision in an Injunction Case.

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—In the case of MacIver v. the Montreal Stock Exchange, in which the petitioner, MacIver, asked for an injunction restraining the sale of his seat at the board, which defendant proposed to make on account of his insolvency, Mr. Justice Davidson gave judgment yesterday against the petitioner.

The amount received by the city during the last year for water taxes was $506,933, making, with $35,168 arrears, a total of $542,101, against $520,110 the previous year. The amount of business taxes collected was $202,277, against $186,671 the previous year.

MR. COLLING'S PROPOSED BILL.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Mr. Jesse Collings, in a speech at Birmingham to-night, announced his intention of introducing in Parliament a bill providing for the teaching of the principles of agriculture in rural schools and the establishment of school gardens for purposes of illustration.

LAKEFIELD.

Correspondence of the Review.

A CLOSE CALL.—Mr. C. J. Blomfield on Thursday night, Jan. 19th, was nearly burned out. Fire caught the mantle drape, burned it and destroyed a good many ornaments on the top of mantle piece. Mr. Blomfield felt thankful to come off so well.

A BUILDING BOOM.—Mr. J. C. Sherin is having delivered a quantity of white brick and stone for his new residence, which is to be built this spring....Mr. Lillicrap is talking of building a handsome brick residence this spring on his lot next to Mr. C. J. Blomfield's....Mr. Wellington McDonald is building a fine brick home for himself, near the public school....Mr. James Moore is building a good brick house for Mrs. Stubbs. She expects to occupy it this spring.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Sheldrake went to Toronto on Saturday last to spend a few days with her friends.

FIRE PROTECTION.—The Chronicle takes your correspondent to task, regarding fire protection. I admit we have a fire brigade, composed of the best men in the village. But what can the most skilful firemen do, when they have nothing to work with, or at least next to nothing? We have three small hand engines, (or better named squirt guns) to throw water with. Our water supply consists of the different private wells throughout the village. Water has to be pumped into pails and carried to these small engines. When the well runs dry, why, then we have to go on a hunting expedition to find a new well. The Chronicle says our men have not been called upon to display their skill in extinguishing a fire. I think if a fire got started in any block on Front street, and had gained any headway, our firemen would be powerless to stay its progress. I well remember when Mr. Donald McLean's flour mill was burned, how we had to stand and look at the mill burn down, unable to do anything, except to throw a small stream of water on adjoining buildings. Now, what I think we require is a good system of water works, or a first class steam engine, with plenty of water.

AT THE RINK.—Friday night last was a big time at the rink. Our boys of the band were there, and made the skating very enjoyable with their lively music. A large number of skaters were on the ice. During the evening a barrel and a three legged race took place, both races being exciting and amusing. The large turn out made Mr. Pilkey, the manager, smile.

PERSONAL—Mr. Lister's sister arrived in this country a few days ago from England. I believe she is to make Lakefield her future home. We bid her welcome....The Rev. Mr. McFarlane and Mr. Samuel Sherin left for Toronto on Monday last, to give evidence in the case Queen versus Prax, Prax being charged with bigamy. The two gentlemen have already gone to Toronto three times on this case. I suppose they would not object to another free trip....Mr. Wright went to Toronto on Thursday, 19th inst., to spend a few days. Mr. Wright has leased his place for three years to Mr. Lister....Mrs. J. L. Madill is spending a few weeks in her former home, Kingston. Mr. J. L. looks lonely....One of our young and enterprising dry goods merchants, Mr. Joe. Madill, has been appointed usher in the Methodist church. It speaks well for a young man to be taking an interest in church matters....Mr. T. J. Bird has engaged a new assistant. Your correspondent has not yet learned his name. We bid him welcome to our fair village....Mr. John R. Rodgers is lying dangerously ill.

LEAP YEAR'S DANGERS.—The only unmarried man of the City Father's is their daddy, the Reeve. I have a word of warning for our young and handsome Reeve. Silk dresses come expensive, and I believe there is a compact among our fair maidens to make Mr. Reeve take unto himself one of them, or give each and every maiden in the village a beautiful silk dress. "Leap year, you know."

STRAWS SHOW, ETC.—Our young M. D. seems to have serious intentions in a certain line. Has been buying home cook books, etc.

TOBOGGANING.—The Lakefield "Tobogganing Club" seems to have died a natural death. The girls and boys no more are seen arm in arm, wending their way to the chute. Why thusly?

CURLIANA.—Two rinks of our curlers went to Peterborough, Tuesday, for a friendly game. Our players came home very quietly. They were nine points behind.

VILLAGE COUNCIL.—A special meeting of the Council was held on Monday night last, the Reeve in the chair. All the Councillors were present. The minutes of the last regular meeting was read and adopted. It was moved by Councillor Henderson and seconded by Councillor Hull,—That the following accounts be paid, and the Reeve do issue his order for the same:—

| | |
|---|---|
| Hugh Fitzgerald, running snowplough | $10 75 |
| James Charlton, drawing stone | 34 87 |
| Hugh Fitzgerald | 13 12 |
| Robt Johnston | 6 25 |
| Robt Allords | 18 44 |
| R Q Dench | 10 94 |
| Isaac Watson, wages | 9 45 |
| L Godfrey | 1 00 |
| A Moorey | 1 00 |
| Gerald Fitzgerald, wood | 3 50 |
| Total | $108 83 |

It was moved by Councillor Hull and seconded by Councillor Moore,—That the Street and Bridge Committee take charge of building the platform in the Council chamber.—Carried. A by-law to amend by-law No. 121 received its several readings, and was sealed and signed by the Reeve and Clerk. A by-law to adopt rules of order received its several readings, and was sealed and signed by the Reeve and Clerk. It was moved by Councillor Henderson and seconded by Councillor Moore,—That this council do now adjourn to meet at the call of the Reeve.—Carried.

FATAL ILLNESS.—Since your correspondent mailed his budget of news he is sorry to have to report that Mr. John R. Rodgers has died. We extend our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Rodgers and family in their trouble. Mr. J. R. Rodgers was a Forester, a member of Court Lakefield.

Ayer's Pills cure constipation, improve the appetite, promote digestion, restore healthy action, and regulate every function. This medicine is pleasant to take and gentle in its operation. See article in Ayer's Almanac.

THE DINGLEY RESOLUTION.

A Report Sent to the United States House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—In answer to the Dingley resolution the Secretary of the Treasury to-day sent to the House an extract from the report of the Commissioner of Navigation and several communications from customs officers and mercantile firms bearing upon the subject.

Collector Poucher of Oswego, N.Y., states that an enquiry made by him discloses the fact that a cargo of 24,000 bushels of corn passing through the Welland Canal destined for Oswego pays a toll of $134.40 more than the same cargo destined for Kingston. All of the correspondents agree, says the Collector, that there is no discrimination against United States vessels, that the toll and tax on each is 20 cents per ton of grain and 2½ cents per registered ton of vessels, but that United States ports and water routes are discriminated against.

Encyclical on the Working Classes.

VIENNA, Jan. 25.—The Rome correspondent of The Political Correspondence says that the encyclical on the social condition of the working classes, on which the Pope has been engaged for a year past, will advocate the principle of State intervention in favor of artisans and will exhort Catholics to support their Governments in efforts to bring about social reforms and to ameliorate the condition of the working classes.

Anniversary of the Crown Prince's Marriage.

SAN REMO, Jan. 25.—The municipal authorities of San Remo waited upon the Crown Prince and Princess to-day and presented them with handsome bouquets, the occasion being the anniversary of the marriage of Their Imperial Highnesses. The Crown Princess subsequently opened the charity bazar and was again presented with bouquets, the gift of the British and American residents of San Remo.

A Clerical Swindler.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—A clerical impostor giving his name as Joseph Eben and claiming to be a professor of theology of Chicago, has been arrested at Dantzic for illegally performing mass and drawing a priest's stipend. He is believed to be the man who, under the name of the Rev. Theodore Heating, victimized some of the leading clergymen of the Protestant Church in Dublin in the summer of 1886.

Northwest Immigration.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Applications from desirable emigrants are pouring in on Sir John Lister Kaye, who is actively promoting a Northwest settlement scheme. He intends to take out in the spring between 200 and 300 farm laborers. The church and children's emigration societies are showing marked activity.

French Surtax on Foreign Liquors Proposed.

PARIS, Jan. 25.—During the sitting of the Customs Committee the Minister of Agriculture declared in favor of placing a surtax of 40 francs on foreign alcohol and liquors.

An Idyl.

She stood by the carriage waiting
In the sunshine's gentle caresses,
And the white horse, just behind her,
Was warming his nose in her tresses.
—Washington Critic.

Why She Detained Him.

Brother Claude—Waiting to see Ethel? Young Somerby—Yes; I sent up my card some time ago.

"Well, she ain't in."

"Why am I kept waiting then?"

"I heard mamma say she expected the new minister every minute, and you looked so well with the rest of the things in the parlor she wanted to keep you.—Boston Transcript.

METHUEN.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Monday morning, while two men, named Narcisse Fournier and Joseph Leclaire, were engaged felling trees in Gilmour's limits, township of Methuen, the tree they were felling struck a dry one close by, which caused part of it to fall in an opposite direction, instantly killing Fournier and badly injuring Leclaire.

MINDEN.

FELL THROUGH.—A man named Deyman, who has been blacksmithing in Mr. T. Oak's shanty, north of here, met with an accident that may yet prove fatal, by falling through a hay-mow, on Monday last, falling head-first, he struck his head with full force on the floor below. The unfortunate man is in a critical condition. He was brought from the shanty on Tuesday and started for his home on Wednesday.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. John M. Robinson, of the Robinson settlement, Minden township, met with a severe accident on Saturday last. It appears he was engaged hewing ties in the woods with his son, they were both working on the one stick, when Mr. Robinson lost his footing and to save himself from falling, he threw out one of his feet, which, unfortunately, was in the wrong direction as his son was just giving a blow with the axe which caught the father's foot, cutting a deep gash near the heel. This will necessitate quietness on Mr. Robinson's part for some time, although we hope he will soon be able to take hold of the axe again.—Echo.

THE CITY AND SUBURBS

At the Rink.

Skaters, attention. Band at the rink every Friday night. d151—tf.

An Eclipse.

On Saturday night next a total eclipse of the moon will take place. It will commence at 5.30 p.m., becoming total at 8.09 and ending an hour later, at 9.09. If the weather is clear it will be worth seeing.

Knocked Down.

Hastings Star:—"At the races on Thursday evening a man named Morgan, from Peterborough, while crossing the track was run into and knocked down by one of the racers. A severe scalp wound was the result of the collision."

At Other Places.

A skating carnival took place at Keene last night and a number of young people drove down from Peterborough and took part. Another takes place at Millbrook this evening and a couple of sleigh loads of merry masquers propose to take it in.

Those Appeal Cases.

It is said, in what is presumably good authority, that Messrs. Winslow & Ambrose, the Port Hope brewers, fined here a couple of months ago for breaches of the Scott Act, and who at once entered appeals in both cases, have decided to withdraw the appeals and pay the fines.

Keep in Mind the Date.

Trotting races over the ice course, Little Lake, on Thursday and Friday, next week, February, 2nd and 3rd. It is expected there will be a good attendance and some lively sport. Look out for further announcements. 1d21

Bible Society Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Branch of the Bible Society will be held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening, the 26th inst., at eight o'clock. The meeting will be addressed by the Rev Dr. Thomas, of Toronto. All interested in the Bible are requested to attend. 3d17eod

From Souris, Manitoba.

Mr. George Kerr, writing from Souris, Manitoba, to renew his subscription to the REVIEW, say:—"I have prospered very well since I came here and I would advise all who are on rented farms in Ontario to come here and take up land. I value my farm at $2,500. I have been here seven years in the spring. I had no capital when I came, though I had a trade, that of carpentering. I think this the most healthy country under the sun * * Our crops were good this year. I think the largest yield in this vicinity was 39 bushels per acre for 120 acres. Of course, some went over 45 bushels, but only for a few acres. This was wheat." Mr. Kerr is Councillor for Ward No. One in the municipality of Glenwood. He adds:—"I renew my subscription with pleasure and send me the Family Physician."

The Gannon's Narrow's Bridge.

A deputation from Harvey and Ennismore, consisting of Mr. G. Galvin, of Ennismore, and Councillor Andrew G. Shearer and Mr. W. P. Chase, of Harvey, waited on the Committee on Roads and Bridges at the County Council Chamber this morning, in reference to the proposed bridge over Gannon's Narrows. The County Council agreed last year to appropriate $5,000 to build the bridge, if the township or people interested would guarantee any excess of that amount that would be needed. The deputation asked the County to asked for tenders for a structure on the Gannon site, to ascertain the sum that would have to be guaranteed. Mr. W. B. Keily also appeared before the committee. He wished the bridge built across to Crowley's Island and he would construct and maintain for ten years a floating bridge over the blind channel. A motion by Mr. Hicks that tenders be advertised for for the construction of the bridge on the Gannon site was adopted by the committee, which will report to the Council in accordance with the motion.

Curling.

Six rinks of the Granite Curling Club, of Toronto, will arrive in Peterborough on the 11.30 a. m. train to-morrow. After being entertained by the local curlers, a match will take place.

No Debate.

The meeting of the Roman Catholic Literary society on Wednesday night was only of an informal character. Through some mistake the gentlemen expected to take part in the debate were not informed of the subject and consequently none took place.

Telephonic.

The cold weather effects telephones, as it does almost everything else, and the employees here are kept on the jump putting the phones of subscribers in proper working order. Very little is required, but that little must be done just so to secure the proper results.

The Reason.

We stated yesterday that a snow blockade accounted for the lateness of the regular "noon" C.P.R. train. Such was only partly correct however. A freight train was derailed by the deep snow and the express had to wait until matters were righted, before coming through to Peterborough.

On Tramp.

A numbe of the member's of the Lansdowne Snow Shoe club, had their first tramp, since organization last night. They went up the northern route and had a big time generally. The natty and gorgeous costumes of Captain Shaw and private Stevenson were the admiration of all beholders.

Personal.

Mr. D. D. Gallelly has launched out into the insurance business and has been appointed agent for several companies. Mr. Gallelly is a good business man and well known to the business community, and will doubtless secure secure a fair share of patronage.

Fine Work.

A number of members of the Catholic Mutual Benevolent Association have had made fine gold pins with the emblems of the Association—a heart, a cross and an anchor—engraved upon them. The work was neatly executed by Mr. Lafleur of Peterborough.

The New G.T.R. Bridge.

The new Grand Trunk bridge, across the river, just above the locks is being rapidly finished. It is a substantial looking structure, of the same design as the C.P.R. bridge, and the builders have not the least doubt that it will stand all the necessary tests, with something to spare.

That Kid.

And now kid the boot man is going to take stock and he is going to reduce his prices like this. Ladies overshoes $1, Men's felt overshoes $1.05, Ladies felt slippers 19 cents—but he must stop quoting prices or people will suspect him of selling below cost!!

Bad Boys.

The other evening some bad boys placed a quantity of cayenne pepper on a stove in one of the dressing rooms, at the Charlotte street rink. The smell was so pungent that every person had to leave the room until, by opening the windows, the odor was got rid of. A rawhiding would do the perpetrators good.

All Ready.

The Charlotte Street rink is closed to-day and the elaborate decorations for the carnival will be completed to-night. The scene to-morrow night is expected to be a magnificent one, as a great many persons are preparing costumes for the occasion. The ice will be in first-class condition and the best of sport may be had for the going after. The presence of the Canton will be an attraction.

The Building By-Law.

The appointment of a competent Building Inspector is a matter that is being urged upon the council. There is no doubt that our building by-law is a good one, if it is properly carried out, but it is a well known fact that the enforcement of it, for some years, has been a mere farce. For this state of things the councillors are in a large measure to blame, as they have interfered too often with the officers, when they were endeavoring to carry out the law. If a special officer is appointed it should be distinctly understood that he is not to be interfered with in the discharge of his duties.

Surveying.

The Burk's Falls Arrow says:—"Last week Mr. J. C. Bailey, Chief Engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, arrived at Burk's Falls with a party of assistants, having surveyed for a line of railway from the Company's present Midland line, via Parry Sound to the mouth of the French River, and from thence via. Maganettawan to this point. * * The Grand Trunk would do well to conclude an arrangement with the Brockville, Westport & Sault Company and connect with the Grand Junction and Midland Division, striking off at Peterborough for Haliburton, North Victoria, skirting the Nippising District, and taking Burk's Falls in the line. We believe it would pay them to inspect the country for a route through Haliburton and Victoria North and the Nippising District. Parry Sound District wants railway facilities to open up the country and the Nippising District also needs opening up, and it can be done only through our railways."

"Flint and Steel."

Harry Webber's company appeared at the Opera House last night in "the roaring absurdity," per programme, "Flint and Steel." The audience was a small one, probably on account of the stormy weather. The play is much after the same style as "N and Tuck" and details the absurd laughable experiences of two matrimonial agents, Messrs. Webber and Durel, as the two partners, Flint and Steel, kept the audience in roars of laughter from the time the curtain went up until it fell at the close. The get up of Eva Webber, as a superannuated old maid, was good. Carrie Webber, aged 7 years, as the office boy, undoubtedly is the best child actress that we have ever seen on the boards here. The other characters had not much to do and did it fairly well. The play has no plot worth speaking of and was evidently written to give full scope to the antics and comicalities of Messrs. Webber and Durel. The performance opened with a very pretty little one act drama: "Bessie's Burglar," which shows little Carrie's capabilities as a finished actress in a marked degree.

THE BAND SUPPER.

The Fire Brigade Band Musicians Enjoy A Spread and Speeches.

Twenty-two members of the Fire Brigade Band sat down to table at the annual supper at Morgan's Hotel, on Wednesday night. Then there were a few ex-members—people who have quit blowing brass and confine their exertions to the exercise of their lungs in the acceleration of business. Mayor Stevenson was there and Major Bell—who holds the envable position of honorary member,—and Quarter-master W. Millar, Sergt. Major Rundle and a few others not forgetting the gentlemen of the press, for the band is hospitable as well as musical. Major Bell filled the chair, with Mayor Stevenson in the place of honor as guest of the evening. Bandmaster Finch Millar sat in the vice-chair and occasionally gave the proceedings a gentle shove to keep things in lively motion.

There was oysters, trimmings, fruit and cake and a hearty supper was partaken of, and the spread was laid out and served to the credit of the hotel and mine host Morgan.

The programme of toasts was proposed by the Chairman and Vice-Chairman in eloquent periods and with much jocular reference to local events with which the band is connected. Mayor Stevenson was in good voice and entertained the company with a descriptive account of the House, and as to how the members were not such bad fellows after all, and how the dreadful Tories and the awful Grits fraternized just like everyday people away from home. The Mayor promised the band his personal and financial support, whereat there was much applause in recognition, especially of the latter sentiment.

Letters of regret at being unable to attend were read from Col. J. Z. Rogers, Mr. J. R. Stratton and Mr. W. A. Sanderson, and the general belief existing seemed to be that those who were not there could only know what they had missed by ascertaining.

MAJOR BELL replied to several of the toasts and made much fun in the course of his remarks. Quarter-master Miller made his apology for not being a speaker and then sailed in and talked a clever string of good sense and anecdote for fifteen minutes. For the corporation Mayor Stevenson undertook to promise to keep a fatherly eye on the band and to see that such a deserving public institution received some public support.

SERGT. MAJOR RUNDLE'S speech was largely descriptive of army life and he modestly referred to his time ervice and gave interesting details of how the flag that's waved a thousand years had been carried around the world and stuck up on top of the biggest mountains by the bravery of British troops. Messrs. W. H. Robertson and C.H. Allison, made neat speeches in reply to such matters as fell under their jurisdiction and several other people, more or less distinguished, stood up and protested that unaccustomed as they were to public speaking they were able to do justice to the sentiment before the company.

On the whole the evening was a very pleasant one and most agreeably spent.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Proceedings at the Annual Congregational Meeting on Wednesday.

The annual congregational meeting of the above church was held in the school room on Wednesday evening.

Despite the unfavorable weather there was a fair representation of the congregation present.

After partaking of a sumptuous tea provided by the ladies, the pastor opened the meeting with devotional exercises. Mr. P. Hamilton, Chairman of the Board of Managers, took charge of the business.

Satisfactory and encouraging reports were presented from the Session, Sabbath School, Church Missionary, Women's Foreign Missionary, Mission Band and Ladies' Aid Societies, all the reports showing improvement during the year.

The report of the Session showed an increase in the membership of the congregation during the year of 30. There being now 320 families and 660 members connected with the church.

The sum of $1,605.83 was collected for missionary purposes during the year and for all purposes the sum of $9,413.75. The statement of the Board of Managers showed that the debt of the church had been reduced during the year by $856.56, the floating debt at the close of the year being $2042.56, and in order to have this debt wiped out during the present year Mr. Walsh intimated that he would be one of ten to give $100 each. Requests by the Chairman met with a response from Messrs. W. Paterson, Jr., R. Hall, P. Hamilton, R. Innes and W. Hamilton, making six of the ten required and doubtless the remaining four will be forthcoming from among the other members of the congregation.

The congregation is to be congratulated on the substantial progress which the reports show has been made during the year.

Home Knowledge Association.

An Association which is doing excellent work in promoting education is the HOME KNOWLEDGE ASSOCIATION. It is an association of publishers and book manufacturers duly incorporated, with a capital stock of $250,000 fully paid, which guarantees to supply to its members any books, magazines, music, etc., at net wholesale rates, so saving from twenty-five to fifty per cent. and sometimes even more. Thus every member becomes at once, by virtue of his membership, a wholesale dealer in books, entitled to trade discount and all other privileges of that class. Whether he buys one book or fifty it is all the same; he deals directly with the manufacturer or publisher and avoids all expenses and profits of middlemen. The association delivers to each member a catalogue of standard and miscellaneous book, giving the net wholesale prices at which the books may be purchased by members. It also furnishes, to those interested in that class of publications, a catalogue of all school and text books published with the net wholesale prices. A catalogue of sheet and book music is also provided. Special rates are secured for all leading magazines and periodicals; and the association undertakes to obtain for members any work published at the lowest obtainable prices. Special arrangements are made for obtaining rare or expensive works not usually handled by the bookstores. The Home Knowledge Association has now enrolled among its members many of the leading men in the Dominion and is adding to its now large list every day. 3d

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."
